The Sabbath Recorder

A HYMN OF YOUTH

Tune: Finlandia

(Written for Seventh Day Baptist young people, and sung at the Retreat at Lewis Camp, 1947, and at the General Conference in Westerly, R. I.)

Glad Sabbath peace fills all the holy hour,
Our God is near—our souls are satisfied;
He guides our lives, and fills with love and power,
He holds us fast, whatever may betide.
We feel His presence in this holy place,
Accept His love, His free redeeming grace.

He led our fathers in the fruitful past
Who labored here, and kept sweet Sabbath rest;
Who built the Church where'er their lot was cast
By which their sturdy lives were richly blest.
We take the standard now at their behest,
And pledge to them our consecrated best.

Take now our youth, O Saviour, Friend, and Guide,
We seek Thy presence for the forward way;
Be our companion, ever by our side
Throughout life's full and faith-renewing day.
Thy living purpose find in us release—
Our crowning joy, Eternal Sabbath Peace.

RURAL CHURCH SEMINAR AT SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

By Rev. Albert N. Rogers

Meeting the demands of the pastorate under rural conditions was the subject of the Rural Church Seminar session held January 9 at the Alfred School of Theology. The seminar is sponsored by the New York State Council of Churches through Dr. Ralph Williamson of Ithaca, director of the Rural Church Institute.

Rev. Oral Fisher who led the discussion pointed out ways in which he finds his time taken up in driving long distances to get medical, dental, department store, and banking services, as well as in doing Conference (Methodist) work. Rev. Stanley Skinner of the Rural Church Institute told how other men plan their schedules and share parish responsibilities. In some Churches, he said, neighborhood leaders are appointed to call in the homes and report special needs to the pastor.

The seminar meets once in two or three months to consider problems unique to the rural Church. H. Ira Blixt, Allegany County Farm Bureau agent, spoke in October on the moral degeneration of the present day, the relation of the farmer to government agencies, and the problem of who will operate the farms twenty years from now.

Following the January meeting, the group ate together at the Industrial Society dinner in the Second Alfred Church. Dr. Ben R. Crandall and Rev. Albert N. Rogers represent the School of Theology in planning the seminar program.

DENVER INFORMATION AVAILABLE

The Convention List for 1952, put out by the Hospitality Center of Denver, Colo., includes "Seventh Day Baptist Churches," August 19-24, and estimates an attendance of 400. This list was sent recently to Pastor C. Harmon Dickinson with the note that they of the Convention and Visitors Bureau were looking forward to working with him in every way possible towards making the meeting a success.

If any would like to write for information about Denver, the address is Denver Convention and Visitors Bureau, 225 West Colfax Avenue, Denver, Colo. — Publicity Committee.

TRACT SOCIETY ITEMS

The Seventh Day Baptist Building, Plainfield, N. J., was the scene of an important bimonthly meeting of the Tract Board on Sunday afternoon, January 13. There were seventeen members, one visitor, and the business manager of the publishing house present. Franklin A. Langworthy presided. Frederik J. Bakker recorded the minutes of the meeting. Some of the matters of business considered and actions taken, follow.

From the Corresponding Secretary

Corresponding Secretary Frank R. Kellogg reported that during November and December, between 4 and 5 thousand tracts were "sent to Churches and individuals, many of them with an accompanying letter." Fresh supplies of tracts have come recently from the press.

He stated that the audio-visual aids program is getting under way. The Tract Society has 22 filmstrips, a projector, and a screen. Some of the filmstrips have been used two or three times inasmuch as 28 requests have been filled.

The corresponding secretary further informed the board that "quite often I receive requests from individuals asking to be remembered in our prayers for success in their Christian activities and for themselves personally." He refers these requests, with some details, to several of our pastors for their interest and co-operation.

The Sabbath Recorder

The Sabbath Recorder is having rather rough sledding in discontinuing subscriptions "six months after date to which payment is made unless renewed." We ask you, Was it fair to subscribers who pay their subscriptions promptly to continue sending the paper to those who seldom made payment and who apparently gave no attention to our letters? Was it good business? Besides, it was contrary to postal regulations. We say again that the Sabbath Recorder Fund is available to anyone who would like to receive our Church paper who is not in position to subscribe for it.

The temporary loss of some subscriptions under the new plan may be symptomatic and a part of the winnowing process.

Growing concern is being expressed over the thinness of the eight-page or alternate issues. In the main, however, those who have written about the matter feel that the space is being put to good use.

Treasurer's Report

Treasurer Paul A. Whitford presented his report, duly audited, for the quarter ending December 31, 1951, which showed the finances of the society to be in good condition.

Advisory Committee

Charles H. North, chairman, reported that "the Advisory Committee has taken the following action on items referred to it by the society: (1) It was voted that the Tract Society, having been impressed that it should yield field work as such to the Missionary Society, should contribute $50 to the Washington Evangelical Church for advertising a series of evangelical services in Baltimore, sample copies of such advertising to be sent to the Tract Society for its files. (2) It was voted that the corresponding secretary attend the January meeting of the Missionary Society at West-terly, R. I."

Supervisory Committee

Reporting for the Supervisory Committee, Business Manager L. Harrison North stated that "the publishing house reports having given a 5% cost-of-living increase to all employees on a weekly basis, as of January 3, 1952. It is hoped to cover this extra cost through increased production since prices to most of our customers are controlled by competition and at the moment cannot absorb the increase."

Committee on Publications

Rev. C. Rex Burdick, chairman, presented the report of the Committee on Publications as follows: "... Your committee would recommend the publication of the study course entitled 'God's Holy Day' by Rev. Lester G. Osborn to the number of 2,000 at an estimated cost of $280. This series of 7 studies on the Sabbath is adapted from a similar series written by Pastor Osborn and published in the Sabbath Recorder about two years ago." The recommendation was adopted.

Upon recommendation of a special committee consisting of Mrs. Herbert C. Van Horn, E. Wendell Stephan, Bert B. Sheppard, Charles F. Harris (David Sheppard met with the committee on January 13 in the place of Mr. Harris who was ill), and Hurley S. Warren, the following plan was adopted for the purpose of helping to relieve the burden of travel expense of members in attending board meetings.

"1. Two cents per mile per member allowance.

"2. A maximum of six cents per mile per car.

"3. A maximum allowance of $12 for the entire trip in New Jersey and from Pennsylvania, and up to a maximum of $14 for those coming from Rhode Island and Berlin, N. Y.

"4. Bill to be submitted to the president of the society for approval.

"5. President of the society to place the bill in the hands of the treasurer.

"6. No reimbursement unless requested by the operator of the car or member making the trip."

Job Analyses

In keeping with the suggestion of the Commission that boards and agencies make job analyses of the work of their secretaries, "it was voted to hand to the Advisory Committee the responsibility of a job analysis of the work of the editor of the Sabbath Recorder and that of the corresponding secretary."

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Robert P. Lippincott and closed with prayer by Rev. C. Rex Burdick.

PRESIDENT K. DUANE HURLEY NOW IN CLARKSBURG HOSPITAL

Salem College President K. Duane Hurley was moved last weekend from the Charleston General Hospital to the Union Protestant Hospital in Clarksburg, W. Va., where he will remain for a short period before returning to his home in Salem.

Injured in an automobile accident in Charleston on December 10, President Hurley has been confined to the hospital since, recovering from a pelvic fracture. He is now able to sit in a chair and is reported by his physician to be progressing satisfactorily. . . . — The Salem Herald, Salem, W. Va.

Conference President's Corner

CO-ORDINATED EFFORT BEGINS

While the Commission has not discovered who our executive secretary will be, it is beginning to find words that will describe him and has made a temporary outline, in conjunction with the Planning Committee, of the areas in which he will begin to operate, as evidenced in the Sabbath Recorder of January 7.

May I solicit your patience, prayerful consideration, and co-operation in all matters of denominational advance, as the Commission, without an executive secretary, cautiously blazes the trail in the project of reorganization and co-ordination of our total energy and resources.

The first outstanding job of co-ordination which commanded the attention of the Commission and which covered the pattern of scope the Commission had visioned: from the laity, through the pastor's advisory council, the pastor, the board or agency to the Commission and back to the Church through the local pastor, was presented to the recent session of the Commission in the well-planned program of Church visitation by the executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education. While there was some evidence of unwillingness on the part of a few Churches to accept the service offered by the Board of Christian Education, the Commission gave its wholehearted approval and support to the program outlined.

Just recently it has come to my attention that a Church which has accepted the service of the Board of Christian Education is planning to sponsor a Bible training school for the Bible school personnel of all the Churches within its local district. I wish to commend that sort of vision and outreach and am sure that that phase of evangelism expressed by INFLUENCE will make indelible, upon the minds of the people touched by that co-operative effort, the worth of Seventh Day Baptists in that community.

I would like to encourage every pastor to use his influence in the support of the

ONE MILLION YOUNG PEOPLE

"United! Committed! In Christ!"

Thousands of Churches of 38 Protestant denominations across the United States are preparing to celebrate Youth Week, January 27 - February 3, with the enrollment of one million young people in a Call to United Christian Youth Action. In addition to volunteering for service in their home communities, each of the million will donate one dollar for state, national, and international Christian youth work.

The Call is being launched by the United Christian Youth Movement, representing 38 denominations, co-operative youth work in 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, and national youth organizations such as Boy and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, YMCA, and YWCA. In charge of administration is Rev. A. Wilson Cheek, director of youth work of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

For Christian Citizenship

The groundwork is being laid by a field staff of 33 young persons between the ages of 18 and 25, who since September 1 have worked for expenses only, many of them postponing a semester of their college courses. They are helping ministers and other Church leaders throughout the nation complete plans for the Youth Week observance centering about the theme, "United! Committed! In Christ!"

The high point is to be reached in com-

work of every board or agency whose plan of co-ordinated effort has been approved by the Commission. May no Church community close its doors against Seventh Day Baptist personnel or project, for consecrated souls who have given unstintingly of their energy in planning, believe that herein lies an approach to new light, fuller vision, personal Christian growth and "Experience with God." Though we cannot see all of the possibilities proclaimed for a project outlined, may we take courage in the thought that "it is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness."

O. B. Bond,
Conference President.

munity worship services on Sunday, February 3, at which time the million will dedicate their efforts and their dollars to Christian citizenship.

Following Youth Week the volunteers from the various Churches will develop their program of community action together. This program has three phases:

1. A one-week evangelistic mission to reach unchurched youth.

2. A survey of social welfare needs in the community followed by a weekend work camp for some such purpose as painting a Church, cleaning an alley, planting a garden for an old people's home, or turning a littered lot into a playground.

3. A study of world responsibilities, ending in a one-day rally dramatizing the drawing up of a charter of Christian world order.

Dollars for Overseas

"Our money goes where we can't go" is the idea back of the proposed million dollars, according to Don Shriver, 23, national chairman of the United Christian Youth Movement. It will be used for such projects as a national radio program for and by Christian youth, ministry to youth in armed services, the undergirding of national programs of Christian youth work overseas, and the interchange of ideas at world youth conferences.

Overseas needs to be filled include the establishment of leadership training centers, the distribution of books, films, and Church school lesson materials, and assistance to refugee youth in western Germany.

"Treat All Men as Brothers"

As part of the dedication service on February 3, those answering The Call to United Christian Youth Action will join in reading a "covenant with God," written by young people:

"Believing that God's power is my strength, because of my faith in Jesus Christ, I join with other youth in a united effort to demonstrate the significance and the power of the Christian fellowship.

"For us there is no alternative but to serve God in every moment of our lives; to treat all men as brothers; to work toward the day when suffering and strife
