der the following arrangement : I.—Tract Distribution.

Believing that the wide-spread excitement consequent upon the inauguration of our struggle for national existence and the perpetuity of free institutions, had, in the progress of events, given way to a more thoughtful and consequently a more favorable state of mind for the reception of the truth respecting God's claims, and his right to be respected in the modes of human action, your Board of Directors resolved to renew their efforts to send abroad the light of truth respecting the Sabbath commended to the respect of men by the sanctions of Divine Law. Accordingly. conformable to the instructions of the Society, at its last annual meet-charge of its publications and other property, and to receive and supply calls for tracts," Bro. Geo. B. Utter was appointed, and consented to serve the Society in that capacity.

Brethren and others desirous to aid in the work of promoting the faithful observance of the Sabbath of the Bible, were requested, through the SABBATH RECORDER, to supply themselves from the Society's depository with its publications, and co-operate with it in the good work of bringing men to revere and keep the commandments of God. The result has been quite a large increase of voluntary laborers, as the report of Bro. Utter has already shown, as compared with the amount of reading matter sent

When it was known that brethren Thomas E. Babcock and Alfred B. Burdick had accepted appointments as missionaries to Kansas and to Minnesota, the Board of the Sabbath Tract Society opened correspondence with them, in order to secure, so far as compatible with the interests and duties of their mission, their co operation, as agents for the supply and distribution of tracts on these fields of labor. This they readily consent

The forecast and watchful vigilance evinced by the leading spirits of that Convention, to shut out from its consideration all questions pertaining to the divinely established mode of obeying the Sabhath law. and the apparent sensitiveness and feeling of depression caused by the success of our brethren in bringing before a large portion of its members the truth respecting the duty of men to obey the law of God by keeping his Sabbath, should serve to remind us, that error, though sustained by the prestige of intelligence and social position, is weak and powerless, when measured by the might of truth. and we should be admonished of our duty to proclaim and defend the truth of God's word, when endangered by the professed friends or foes of the Christian religion. If men will essay to speak for God, and yet refuse to speak according to his Word, we must do duty, and serve God, by compelling these to listen to the law and the testimony, as well as in warning sinners to repent.

SEPTEMBER. BY R. F. FULLER.

Fair the infancy and childhood Of the gentle autumn seem, When her soft smiles gild the wild wood Over hill and valley gleam, Golden.corn and meadow lawn Lighting with a lovely beam !-

Rocked in branches richly glowing, Gemmed with every jewel bright, Fanned by zephyrs softly flowing, Swathed in sunshine, lapped in light Soft caresses twine her tresses, Purple grapes in clusters dight!

Gentle June now we remember, Early autumn's counterpart ; Like as sisters, sweet September, Yet how different thou art! From beginning both are winning : Both with beauty move the heart.

Mildly musing, one subduing, Kindles thought and passion calms; But the other, gently wooing, Leads us captive in her charms; Life-delighting, love-inciting, And alluring to her arms.

Gay songs singing, fragrance finging, Dewy sparkling, wreathed with rose, In her path fresh impulse bringing, Always laughing as she goes, With gay dances and love glances, June for all her philtre throws.

Yet, her roses, we remember, Sometimes left a thorn behind ; But thy pleasures past, September Lingered sweetly in the mind ! Sheafs of reason, sober season, In thy golden hour we bind! -Bosion Traveler
