

The Sabbath Recorder

A Journal

Published by GEORGE B. UTTER. THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD. TERMS: ... VOLUME XXI.—NO. 42. WESTERLY, R. I., FIFTH-DAY, OCTOBER 19, 1866. WHOLE NO. 1082.

The Sabbath Recorder. IF WE KNEW. If we knew the outer and inner...

THE EDUCATION SOCIETY. TENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD. The Trustees of Alfred University...

ARE WE ABLE? We are able to give our educational institutions...

THE GREAT LEGACY OF THE PRESENT TO THE FUTURE. The great legacies of the present to the future are the children...

Home culture is preparatory and fundamental to all special training. It is laying the foundations of character...

financially self-supporting, according to the laws of economics prevailing among the physical wants.

As with parents, so with churches, denominations. The hope of the church is with the young, and here likewise her greatest influence and power...

Fast by the portals of the land of life and of promise, ever against each other, upon the Ebals and Gerzims of cursings and of blessings...

Education, then, being a benevolence, permit us to adduce some considerations why our ability should be taxed so largely for the education of our youth...

From homes consecrated to truth and religion. True, the good may in after life be changed to the bad, or the bad to the good...

And though their names to me sealed letters have a speech that never is denied To hearts that simply love.

It follows from these tendencies, and from the costliness of educational appliances, that if educational institutions were obliged to declare cash dividends...

With these admonitory thoughts, suggesting circumspection, comprehensive measure, and persevering industry, we reply, Yes, we are able...

greatness as its natural destiny, its inheritance. Having been educated in all nobleness and goodness at home, then are the young fitted for the farther culture of the schools.

There is no time like the old time, when you and I were born, When the buds of April bloomed, and the birds of spring sang!

NAMES OF FLOWERS. As I must through the garden walk I go, Amid a blaze of flowers (which we call earth's names).

NATURE AND DESTINY OF MAN. Dear Bro. Hull.—You think it dangerous in me to designate your doctrine as Spiritualism. I did not intend to class you with that odious brood...

From the Atlantic Monthly for October. NO TIME LIKE THE OLD TIME. There is no time like the old time, when you and I were born...

There is no love like the old love that we courted in our pride; Though our hearts were falling, falling, and we're fading side by side...

And though their names to me sealed letters have a speech that never is denied To hearts that simply love.

And still further we agree, "that the rewards promised, and the punishments threatened," are not awarded until after the resurrection. And here we find ourselves in company with the ancient Preacher...

Concerning the authorities you have quoted on the meaning of sheol and hades, I have only to recommend a careful examination of them, as, altogether favoring the faith I contend for.

Concerning the authorities you have quoted on the meaning of sheol and hades, I have only to recommend a careful examination of them, as, altogether favoring the faith I contend for.

Concerning the authorities you have quoted on the meaning of sheol and hades, I have only to recommend a careful examination of them, as, altogether favoring the faith I contend for.

Concerning the authorities you have quoted on the meaning of sheol and hades, I have only to recommend a careful examination of them, as, altogether favoring the faith I contend for.

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

Those passages which relate to the active employment to be dwelt in the under-world are the dwellers of poetic license, and the context always shows.

But I must not anticipate too far. I wait your lead.

Very truly yours, H. F. CORRELL.

LEIGHTON'S SERENITY. It was not merely the loss of money that he could bear with such calmness and tranquility—he could face death with equal composure.

EDUCATE YOUR DAUGHTERS.—When I lived among the Choctaw Indians, (says a traveler) I held consultation with one of their chiefs respecting the stages of their progress...

A YEAR'S TROUBLE.—Sometimes I compare the troubles we have to undergo in the course of a year...

John Newton

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.—John 3: 14, 15. The object of lifting up the brazen serpent in the wilderness was not to relieve the pain and give ease and comfort to those who had been bitten...

A DUTCH COLONY IN MICHIGAN. TEN YEARS EXPERIENCE OF A COMPANY OF AMERICANIZED DUTCHMEN.

There is in Michigan a prosperous Dutch colony, whose members are cultivating the soil of the State, and educating their children in English, and who, with the Quakers, are the only people in the West who wear the Dutch cap and the Dutch shoes, while the rest of the population is dressed in the American style.

THE SETTLEMENT. The settlement commenced in 1846, under the direction of Rev. A. O. Raulte, who, with several hundred people from the Netherlands, arrived that year.

MAKING THE WILDERNESS DESERT. The land was to a considerable extent "preempted," and I am not aware that any of it cost the settlers more than the government price—$1 25 per acre.

THE FARMS. The farms of the Dutch settlers are mostly small—a large proportion of them not over eighty acres in extent, while few, if any, exceed a hundred and sixty and many are only forty acres.

IMPLEMENTS. The cultivation pursued by these people is generally equal to that of the American settlers in the neighborhood, though it may be carried on with a somewhat larger expenditure of hand labor instead of machinery.

and important lessons. All public instruction is given in the English language, so that with this and other influences in constant operation, the population is becoming rapidly Americanized.

and important lessons. All public instruction is given in the English language, so that with this and other influences in constant operation, the population is becoming rapidly Americanized.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS. The New York Independent contains an interesting chapter in the life of Alexander H. Stephens, now in Fort Warren. The writer says: In the year 1825, thirty-nine years ago, I became a member of the faculty of the University of Georgia, located at Athens, where I continued some five years, and at length returned to my native State.

Among the delegates I had the unexpected pleasure to meet with Rev. Alonzo Church, D. D., formerly when I was there, President of the University of Georgia.

As to the momentous question which now threatens the stability of our institutions, what is to be the result? He alone knows who holds the destiny of nations in his hands.

A ROMANTIC STORY. The National prints the following romance of the pleasant old town of Stratford in Connecticut: That town as Stratford can afford anything in the way of romantic personal histories, was hardly to be expected; but the unjoined story is authentic as well as interesting.

Waterloo was the scene of a battle which has become a household name. It was the day when the British army, under the command of the Duke of Wellington, defeated the French army, led by Napoleon Bonaparte.

NEW AND INGENUOUS APPARATUS. A new and ingenious apparatus has been contrived for exhibiting the mechanism of the human eye, and is called the "automatic eyeball."

HOW THE ROTHSCHILDS MANAGED. When Napoleon returned from the Isle of Elba, the anxiety of Nathan Rothschild knew no bounds, and during the hundred days he went to Belgium, following in the wake of Wellington's army.

DESICCATION OF DEAD BODIES. A late sitting of the Royal Academy of Science at Turin, a highly interesting paper was read on the subject of an embalming process invented by Professor Gorini, who had submitted various dead bodies to the examination of a commission appointed by the Academy for that purpose.

HEADING CABBAGES IN WINTER. Select a suitable spot in a garden or field, six feet in width, of any desired length, free from standing water; run a furrow the proposed length of your bed, and throw a back furrow upon it.

CONJUGAL AFFECTION. In one of the western departments of France, a man of the name of Le Fort, accused of conspiring against the Republic, was seized and committed to prison.

GREAT NATIONAL CURIOSITY. The Jacksonville (Oregon) Sentinel of Aug. 18th says: Several of our citizens returned last week from a visit to the Great Snake Lake, situated in the Cascade Mountains, about 75 miles north-east from Jacksonville.

of a lady eyeball, the movements of which were regulated by springs attached to keys, which were worked like the keys of a pianoforte.

ODDS AND ENDS. A seaman, rather badly equipped, applied to an officer of one our gunboats to be entered on the ship's books. The lieutenant, observing his ragged appearance, remarked carelessly, that he would not do it.

A young lady was accidentally locked up in a church in Brooklyn, on a recent Sunday, and it was three days before she was discovered, when she was in an exhausted state.

A dispatch from Salt Lake, Oct. 8th, says: Louis McLane, Superintendent of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, arrived here to day from San Francisco, having made the trip in three days, seventeen hours, and thirty minutes.

Remember, that self-interest is more likely to warp your judgment than all other circumstances combined; therefore look well to your duty when your own interest is concerned.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS JUST PASSED TO THE CREDIT OF HAD DEBTS $170,947 67, due from Isaac O. Fowler, late postmaster in New York.

ABOUT 1,600 National banks have thus far been organized, with a total capital of $399,679,301.

NEW MUSIC BOOKS FOR CHOIRS AND SCHOOLS. NEW SACRED SONGS, OR, CHOIR COLLECTION FOR CHOIR MUSIC. For the use of Choirs, Singing Schools, Conventions, Musical Associations, &c.

NEW SKIRTS FOR 1865-6. THE GREAT INVENTION OF THE AGE IN HOOP SKIRTS. J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON VIA NEW LONDON, NEWARK AND WORCESTER DAILY. (Sundays excepted.)

AMERICAN BIBLE UNION. 320 BROOME-ST., NEW YORK. Its object is to procure and circulate the most faithful versions of the Sacred Scriptures in all languages throughout the world.

PRINCIPAL RAILWAY.—TRAINS LEAVE DEPOT foot of Chambers-st., New York, via Pavilion Ferry.

PENDLETON'S PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY. No. 5 CATHAM SQUARE. Between East Broadway and Division Street.

CARTER DE VISITE. LARGE SIZE PHOTOGRAPHS. Also to the ENGLISH SYSTEM. Having increased facilities for producing First Class Work, I challenge competition in regard to Finish and Durability.

NEW MUSIC BOOKS FOR CHOIRS AND SCHOOLS. NEW SACRED SONGS, OR, CHOIR COLLECTION FOR CHOIR MUSIC. For the use of Choirs, Singing Schools, Conventions, Musical Associations, &c.

NEW SKIRTS FOR 1865-6. THE GREAT INVENTION OF THE AGE IN HOOP SKIRTS. J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON VIA NEW LONDON, NEWARK AND WORCESTER DAILY. (Sundays excepted.)

AMERICAN BIBLE UNION. 320 BROOME-ST., NEW YORK. Its object is to procure and circulate the most faithful versions of the Sacred Scriptures in all languages throughout the world.

PRINCIPAL RAILWAY.—TRAINS LEAVE DEPOT foot of Chambers-st., New York, via Pavilion Ferry.

PENDLETON'S PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY. No. 5 CATHAM SQUARE. Between East Broadway and Division Street.

CARTER DE VISITE. LARGE SIZE PHOTOGRAPHS. Also to the ENGLISH SYSTEM. Having increased facilities for producing First Class Work, I challenge competition in regard to Finish and Durability.

THE SABATH RECORDER. PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY GEORGE E. TUTTAR.

Advertisements, of a character not inconsistent with the objects of the paper, will be inserted at the rate of five cents per line for the first insertion, and three cents per line for each subsequent insertion.

LOCAL AGENTS FOR THE SABATH RECORDER. NEW YORK: Adams—Dr. C. D. Potter. Alfred—Charles D. Langworthy.

NEW YORK AND BOSTON VIA NEW LONDON, NEWARK AND WORCESTER DAILY. (Sundays excepted.)

AMERICAN BIBLE UNION. 320 BROOME-ST., NEW YORK. Its object is to procure and circulate the most faithful versions of the Sacred Scriptures in all languages throughout the world.

PRINCIPAL RAILWAY.—TRAINS LEAVE DEPOT foot of Chambers-st., New York, via Pavilion Ferry.

PENDLETON'S PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY. No. 5 CATHAM SQUARE. Between East Broadway and Division Street.