S. S. GRISWOLD. LINES Written by Madame Guyon, while in prison, 168 A little bird I am, Shut from the fields of air And in my cage I sit and sing To Him who placed me there, Well pleased a prisoner to be, Because, my God, it pleases Thee Naught have I else to do. I sing the whole day long; And He whom most I love to please, must not allow our boys in blue to them. That glorious opportunity-Doth listen to my song. He caught and bound my wandering wing But still He bends to hear me sing. Thou hast an ear to hear, A heart to love and bless, And though my notes were e'er so rude, Thou wouldst not hear the less ; Because thou knowest as they fall, That love, sweet love, inspired them all My cage confines me round, Abroad I cannot fly,

But though my wing is closely bound, My heart 's at liberty. My prison walls cannot control The flight, the freedom, of the soul Oh ! it is good to soar These bolts and bars above, To Him, whose purpose I adore, Whose providence I love, condemned, and exposed to eternal misery; Christ a divine, able, and willing Saviour ; the renewal of our moral nature by the Spirit of God, called the new birth, and a new creation in Christ Jesus, an indispensible necessity; and a holy life as the only evidence of such a moral change. The great fact of the future, a happy or a miserable existence, presented to man as his certain destiny, is clearly written, both in God's Word and on man's inmost soul proving to a demonstration his immortality. The day of judgment, when Jesus Christ shall come, without a sin-offering, to judge the world in righteousness; and the fixed eternal condition of man; comprise the leading articles of the religion of the Bible:

And in Thy mighty will to find The joys, the freedom of the mind.

The requirements of religion are few. Repent and believe the gospel, and obey the precepts of God's Word, sums up the whole of practical religion.

Attempts are made to modernize r ligion. The old paths are out of fashion; we want new things, new ministerial talent and manners, new kinds of preaching, and all to suit the times. Men speculate, get up new theories, philosophize, and reason, make some particular dogma their hobby, ride on the celestial railroad to heaven, and have a time at vanity fair on the way.

We want the truth: That makes the way of salvation clear to every man. That strikes a deadly blow at all the abominations of the | times. That poor and oppressed, vindicates God's claims on mankind and the church, to do justice, love mercy, and walk humbly before God.

RECLAIMING CONSCIENCE MONEY. The Secretary of the Treasury, : short time ago, received from an unknown source the sum of five thousand dollars, which the anonymous writer [stated rightfully belonged to the government. Since the letter inclosing the money was received, another communication has been sent to the Secretary from another party, who claims to have lost that amount, and asks if there is any possibility of the amount deposited being identical with the money lost by him.
