EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8, 1874. Our journey from home to Cleveland had nothing in it of special interest...

From Cleveland, our journey was simply "common place" until we came into the southern part of the State which we found of uneven surface...

On going to the depot, to resume our journey, we met Bro. A. W. Cooch, delegate from the Central to the South-Eastern Association...

On returning from the gardens to our hotel, we called by the way for a few minutes on Mrs. Travis, who we found in good health...

At our hotel we were met by a generous friend, Mr. B. F. Gilbert, formerly of Wirt, in our country...

Our stay in Washington has been too short to afford other than a meager opportunity for making observations...

The business of the Association was conducted with dispatch and accuracy, and in every department of Christian toil some enterprise was shown...

On the morning of June 1st, at an early hour, we left this dear people for this city; by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad...

Our "hills" for hours was through a mountainous and wholly unpopulated region, generally covered with timber.

Ferry, where a sight we had long desired to behold, rashed upon our view with dark thoughts of war...

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8, 1874. The day we have spent in Washington has been of full interest.

Our previous visit was in the earlier days of the late war, when the city was filled with soldiers, and their tents and barracks were spread over all the surrounding country.

On going to the Capitol, I fortunately fell in with Capt. Travis, of our town, who in a few minutes succeeded in finding the excellent member from our district, the Hon. H. B. Smith...

simply what we can spare as well as not, but even to self-denial, then may we look for that spirit of consecration that brings success.

MILLIERS' INSURANCE.—The Millers' National Convention, at St. Louis, appointed a committee to confer with the National Board of Underwriters and leading insurance companies outside of their board to ascertain what relief can be obtained from the present high rates of insurance, and if none can be afforded, to report a plan for the immediate organization of a National Millers' Insurance Company.

SAD FRUITS OF INSANITY.—Mrs. Michael Devire, an insane woman living with her husband and three children in Brooklyn, N. Y., struck her husband a violent blow on the head with a cooper's adz, on the morning of June 2d, and while he was gone for help, dispatched her three children with a flat-iron. On being asked why she had murdered her children, she said she was going to heaven, and wanted her children to go before her. The flat-iron was fractured, and his injuries will probably prove fatal. He has been on a strike for a week past, and thinks that has led to his wife's derangement.

ALCOHOL DID IT.—A dispatch from Nicholasville, Kentucky, says that on the morning of June 3d, Harding H. Masters, a merchant of Nicholasville, went to all the saloons keeps in town and requested them not to sell liquor to his sister's husband. All consented except G. H. Soper, who used opprobrious terms and assaulted Masters. N. H. Soper, a brother of the saloon keeper, interfered and a friend of Masters interposed, when a melee ensued, in which W. H. Soper, a son of the saloon keeper, was killed. Masters in the back, the ball going through his right lung, and killing him almost instantly.

THE PITTSBURGH CREW.—A dispatch dated May 28th says that the case of the crew arrested last week, came up in the Common Pleas Court, that morning. Judge Stowe gave a decision reversing the judgment of the acting Mayor, and ordered that the fines be refunded. The men were released over their victory, and held a meeting to decide upon a future plan of action.

FRUITS OF RUM.—On the evening of June 6th, John McDermott, a saloon keeper of Jeffersonville, Ind., while intoxicated, shot at his wife while she was nursing her baby. The ball passed through the baby's head and neck, and the mother, who breast, inflicting a fatal wound. He then blew his own brains out. His wife had agreed to return and live with him.

MEXICAN ROBBER HANGED.—A dispatch from Los Angeles states that the Mexican named El Gordo, who a few days since robbed and attempted the murder of Mr. Turner and wife near that city, was wounded and captured. He acknowledged his guilt and showed where the money was buried. He was taken from the officers by a party of armed men and hanged at a tree.
