This is in many respècts the most able argument yet published. The author was ducated in the observance of Sunday and was for several years a highly esteemed VAY minister in the Baptist denomination. The book is a careful review of the arguments in favor of Sunday, and especially of the work of James Gilfillan, of Scotland which has been widely circulated among oom - and Il Modern a without falo, Niag Rochester and New between the clergymen of America. Mr. Brown has thoroughly sifted the popular notions relative to Sunday, with great candor kindness and ability. We especially com mend it to those who, like Mr. Brown have been taught to revere Sunday as the Sabbath. A DEFENSE OF THE SABBATH, in reply to 4 No. 6

VOL, 31, NO. 53.

We greet the patrons of the RE CORDER for 1875 with an extra number, in order to commence Vol. 32 in the month of January, and thus avoid the confusion and misunderstanding frequently arising from having a volume close before the close of the calendar year in which it is rublished, whereby subscribers sometimes think they have not received all the numbers for which they have paid.

That none may have cause for complaining that they have been unfairly dealt by, this number will be sent to all the patrons of 1875. ether their term of subscription expired with No. 52 or not; and we hope that those who, on account of pecuniary inability to pay the regular price have been furnished at reduced rates, or gratuitously by friends, whose names will be omitted in the mail book for 1876, unless previously renewed, and those who, paying regular rates, have ordered the paper discontinued at the expiration of the time for which payment has been made, will make immediste arrangements to have their papers continued without interruption. Local Agents will be expected to look after this matter, and it is hoped that our ministers may take sufficient interest in the families of their respective charges to see that none are without the denominational paper. If any are really too much straitened in circumstances to be able to pay the regular price, $2 50, they will be supplied, on a statement of that fact by any Local Agent, or by their pastor, for $1 75
