

careful and reliable. The price per single copy is, in cloth, with deeply stained and polished red edges, $1.50; ditto, in flexible covers (will fold for choice, $1.50; extra edition, American grain silk (Cheney Bros.), gilt edges, $2.50.

her polite and pleasant way stepped forward and gave one of her best, in French, as I should judge, for cheer after cheer went up for a repeat; but she, lady like, declined. Several beautiful songs by the ladies were given, accompanied by music on the organ by Mr. A. M. Titworth, after which, the company dispersed at their leisure on the sparkling snow outside, leaving the shining silver and a happy couple within, feeling that they had attended a silver wedding that scarcely could be outdone.

HOME NEWS.

Ordination at Hartsville. The council called by the Hartsville Seventh-day Baptist Church, for the examination and ordination of Mrs. Lee Cottrell to the gospel ministry, met at the house of Elder H. F. Burdick, in Hartsville, on the morning of January 12th, 1879.

Delegates present were the following, from the churches named: Andrew, Rev. Dr. R. Williams; Alfred, Rev. A. H. Lewis, Dea. F. W. Hamilton, John C. Burdick, and Horace G. Witter; Hornselle, Rev. Dr. R. Williams; 1st Alfred, Rev. Dr. N. V. Hull and T. K. Williams, and Deacons B. F. Langworthy and A. C. Burdick. The council was organized by the appointment of Dr. N. V. Hull, Chairman, and A. C. Burdick, Secretary.

On motion, the Chair appointed Dr. T. R. Williams to lead in the examination of the candidate; and the further preliminary arrangements for the services were left to be announced at the proper time and place, by the Chairman.

The council then adjourned to the church, where, as previously arranged by the Hartsville Church, the examination was to be conducted publicly.

Arriving at the church, the council was called to order by the Chairman, and prayer was offered by Dea. B. F. Langworthy.

Dr. Williams then proceeded with the examination, which continued about one hour. Freedom to ask questions, either by members of the council, or by any in the audience, was also given, of which several availed themselves.

The council then retired for consultation, and soon after returned and reported, through its Chairman, in favor of ordaining the candidate.

After singing "Only an Armor Bearer," from Gospel Hymns, by the choir, a short, terse, pointed, and impressive sermon, appropriate to the occasion, was preached by Rev. A. H. Lewis, from "Ezek. 33:7."

The consecrating prayer was offered by Dr. N. V. Hull, who also gave the right hand of fellowship. Charge to the candidate by Rev. A. H. Lewis, and to the church by Dr. T. R. Williams.

After singing the 92nd hymn, by the choir, the benediction was pronounced by the candidate, and the meeting adjourned.

A Silver Wedding at Plainfield, N. J. One of the pleasantest scenes of life occurred on the evening of Jan. 16th, it being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the married life of Mr. J. Elias Mosher and Fanny, his wife.

At an early hour of the evening their friends began to assemble, and continued until the house was well filled with young and old, as pleasant as could be found in any city or country town.

A side table was arranged by the ladies in attendance to place the gifts of kind remembrance upon. In the center was placed a fine silver tea set, by five particular friends united. On each end and in front were placed sixteen other fine table pieces, nicely arranged, besides numerous smaller articles, such as napkins, tea-spoons, butter knives, napkin-rings, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, making up a set valued probably at about one hundred dollars; besides, there were envelopes laying around from which, on taking up, silver dollars tumbled out; and then another class contained greenbacks, which were just as good, since Uncle Sam has resumed, making one dollar just as good as another. All these presents were encouraging to the bride and groom, as they resumed and start anew on another twenty five years of wedded life full, in hope, of a continued happy life until they reach their golden year.

The company spent a time in social chat, when all things were arranged, the bride and groom were ushered into the room, having Mr. E. R. Poppe and D. W. Rogers and their ladies for their attendants. They stepped forward Rev. Dr. D. E. Maxson and addressed the couple in the form of a beautiful poem, prepared for the occasion. Next in order came a collation or repast, consisting of cake of many kinds, sandwiches, coffee, jellies, pickles, candies, raisins, fresh grapes, oranges, apples, and lemonade to wash them down, and all of quality and taste most sublime, so much so, that all played their part, as Jerseymen know how to do in case of such a repast.

Justice being done in this direction, a little rest being had in chat, a reading by Miss Mary Laying was listened to with great delight. Next in order was a presentation speech by the Hon. W. B. Maxson in his genial, good-natured way that created no little merriment and good feeling for the occasion, which seemed to be enjoyed by all.

The general solicitude was enjoyed (as while, when Miss Laying was called for a reading again. She in YEMBERS.

The arrears of pensions bill has passed both houses of Congress, and goes to the President, for his signature or veto. In the Senate, it received forty four out of forty-eight votes cast. The following is the text of the bill:

It enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That all persons who have been granted, under the general laws regulating pensions, or may hereafter be granted, in consequence of death from a cause which renders them ineligible to State service during the term of the late war of the rebellion, or in consequence of wounds, injuries, or disease, received or contracted in said service, during said term, shall continue to receive the same from the date of the death or discharge from said service, of the person on whose account the claim has been, or shall hereafter be granted, until the termination of the right of the party to receive the same; provided, that the rate of pension for the intervening time of which arrears of pension are hereby granted shall be the same as originally granted, and shall be paid to such pensioners; or, if the pensioners shall have died, to the person or persons entitled to the same, all such arrears of pension as the pensioner may be, or would have been entitled to, under this act.

Sec. 2. That the Commissioner of Pensions is hereby authorized and directed to adopt such rules and regulations for the payment of arrears of pension hereby granted, as will be necessary to cause to be paid to such pensioners; or, if the pensioners shall have died, to the person or persons entitled to the same, all such arrears of pension as the pensioner may be, or would have been entitled to, under this act.

Sec. 3. That section 4,717 of the Revised Statutes, which provides that "no claim for pension not presented to a successful issue, within five years from the date of filing the same, shall be admitted, without recorded evidence from the War or Navy Department, of the injury or disease which resulted in the disability or death of the person on whose account the claim is made; provided, that the limitation prescribed by this section bars the further prosecution of the claim, the claimant may present, through the Pension Office, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, or the Surgeon-General of the Navy, evidence that the disease or injury which resulted in the disability or death of the person on whose account the claim is made, originated at the time, and in the line of duty; and, if the evidence is satisfactory by the officer to whom it may be submitted, he shall cause a record of the fact so proved to be made, and a copy of the same to be transmitted to the Commissioner of Pensions, and the bar to the prosecution of the claim shall thereby be removed," be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. No claim agent, or other person shall be entitled to receive any compensation for services in making application for arrears of pension.

Sec. 5. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 6. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 8. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 10. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 11. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. That all acts, or parts of acts, so far as they may conflict with the same, shall be null and void, and the same are hereby repealed.

On the 3d inst, and had her main sail and jib carried away. The bark Princess Beatrice had been wrecked on the coast of Boston, and seven men, taken from the schooner by Joseph W. Allen, of the schooner 5th inst, and the bark Oliver Emery had Capt. Thomas and five men, two of whom were frost-bitten, Vanderpool, abandoned when she was waterlogged and sank on the 10th inst. The Emery, on within 100 miles of the coast three times, and was blown off by heavy westerly gales.

ON FIRE IN NEW YORK.

The Sun reports the burning of the Gotham Oil Works on the night of Jan. 16th. The works, owned by Claus Haaren, at Bank and West Streets, has been burned three times, and three times rebuilt. It was of brick, and three stories high, but of course, constructed as though the establishment was expected to be burned at any time, owing to the nature of the commodity. Five tanks, holding hundreds of gallons of oil, were sunk in the ground. The tops of the tanks were open to the sky, and a spark from a passing car dropped into the tank last evening. A tremendous explosion followed. Four workmen were on the premises, and two were near the river, and resting on a cot with their topsy, suddenly came to the ground by the explosion. They jumped up and ran before the burning oil flowed out and overtook them. In quick succession the other four tanks took fire without explosion, and the building became a fiery furnace. The explosion was so fierce that the iron could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

The efforts to save the freemen saved them. Barricades were erected on the sidewalk, and the flames played on at short range. An hour after the fire broke out, the walls fell in. Fireman O'Rourke of Engine 3 had seen the fire, and had run to the spot Hook and Ladder 6 and 12 and Engines 24, 3, and 19, and a second alarm sent Engines 14, 33, 18, and 36, Hook and Ladder 3 and 8, and the firemen of the latter. The flames were so fierce that the freemen could not stand across the street from it, and for half an hour it looked as if the five-story storehouse on the opposite side of West Street must go.

Mr. TALMAGE VINDICATED.—Having seen insinuations in some of the secular papers, corresponding in character with the statement of reports in the following from the New York Witness, we copy the article, that our readers may have the benefit of the information:

"It had been charged that Mr. Talmage, together with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister, and that he had been sixty days afterwards married to her. In the case before us, we are told that Mr. Talmage, accompanied by his wife and child, and his own sister and her child, went out rowing on the river, and that the boat upset. The facts are as follows: Mr. Talmage, with his wife and her sister, went out rowing on the Schuylkill river, and that suddenly the boat upset. It had also been said, that Mr. Talmage, instead of rescuing his wife, resented her sister

