EVENING PRAYER. I come to Thee to-night, In my low cloze, where no eyes can see, And dare to crave an interflow with Thee, Father of love and light.

With them my soul would bend In humble reverence at thy holy throne, Trusting the merits of the Son alone They aspire to extend.

With this day have striven With thy blessed Spirit, or have bowed the knee To aught of earth, in weak idolatry, I pray to be forgotten.

Not for myself alone Would I these blessings of thy love impart, But for each penitent the wide world o'er, Far from the paths of sin.

HOW CAN THE SABBATH BE KEPT HOLY? BY REV. J. SUMMERBELL. Brother Summerbell, Believing that the essay that you read before the Ministerial Conference at Birburgh would be beneficial to the community at large, we would, therefore, respectfully ask you to furnish us a copy for publication in the SABBATH RECORDER.

and for that of befallen me I will be thankful. Keep me safe from all sin, and I shall fear neither death nor hell.

THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD. The Church and the World walked far apart. On the changing shore of time; The World was singing a giddy song, And the Church's hymn sublime.

FAITHFULNESS OF MOTHERS REWARDED. I once knew a lady in middle life who for several years had been deeply concerned for the conversion of E., her eldest son, had often solicited in his behalf the prayers of the Manse, and had even requested her pastor, over the continued impotence of her darling boy.

AT LENGTH DISASTERS. I was making no apparent progress, wrote to E. telling him that the object I had had in my repeated calls at the store, inviting him to meet me at the parsonage that I might converse with him.

THE STAFF-BEES. The simple presence of such persons in the church is of itself to every minister a powerful help and encouragement.

THE BELIEVER'S PEACE. The believer's peace is like a river for continuance. Look at it, rising as a little brook among the mosses of the lone green hill; by-and-by it flows as a rugged and noisy torrent.

THE TWO TESTAMENTS. The New Testament is, in great measure, an expansion of the Old. The titles of Christ were given him by prophecy. His work was typified, and his vicarious death foreshadowed in sacrifices.

many ways, that the question how we keep the Sabbath day holy finds significance. In view of all the difficulties, real and imaginary, this question I will now proceed to answer.

Let. Settle it as a principle of life applicable to everything we do, as well in other things as in the Sabbath, that we will obey God. If this principle rules, it will prove for us are his people, that his law is written not on dead tablets of stone but upon the warm, living tables of the heart.

3d. As there can be no genuine love where there is no faith, out of which it grows, therefore, to keep the Sabbath day holy, it must be kept in faith. It must be kept because we believe in it and the sacred character which God gives it. This is too often overlooked. It is sought to be kept because our parents, or our employers or patrons keep it.

ALL OUR ANXIETIES ARE TO BE RESTED ON GOD. My son, suffer me to do with thee as I wish. I know what is expedient for thee.

THE SABBATH DAY. The Sabbath day, with similar results, shade off from the farm and the home circle into the shop, store, and manufacturing company. It is easy for an employee to decide, without love or faith in the Sabbath, that for better work and pay, for the time being at least, the Sabbath and its claims may be ignored and abandoned.

FROM BRO. CAMPBELL. ADAMS CENTER, Nov. 27th, 1879. My dear Brethren and Sisters in Christ—I am more than willing that you should know that I am very anxious that all of you, old and young, male and female, should not only be somewhat interested in the great and good work of saving sinners, but that you should be filled with the Holy Spirit.

TO MISS A. E. NELSON. [The writer of the following lines asks her publication, saying, "My only thought in regard to them is that they might possibly give voice to one more of the many who Miss Nelson helped and comforted while in the employ of the Ladies' Tract Society."] My dear white-winged dove, and bear to her low, and the message that my lips would fain have spoken; Go forth, as from the ark Upon the waters dark, West Noah's dove, and bring me back a token.
