

Up from the streets below me, through the twilight's loom, is borne the laugh of my children to me in my haunted room. And I listen to them, thinking of a little voice I knew, And see in a swirl, still vision, a grave in the evening dew. Where the pastures are all blossom, where the west wind whistles low, That it may not wake the sleeper I missed so long ago.

I have missed my blue-eyed baby so many years from my breast. Summers have come and vanished with their days of youth and light. But sitting here in twilight, my heart cries out each day. For the little one I loved so, by the daisies hidden away.

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY. "THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD."

VOLUME XXXVI.—NO. 43. ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, OCTOBER 21, 1886. TERMS AS A YEAR IN ADVANCE. WHOLE NO. 1864.

CENTRAL ASSOCIATION. Before removing to Mystic Bridge, Conn., Oliver D. Sherman labored three months with the Lincklaen and Otsego Churches, N. Y.

THE SABBATH CAUSE WAS NEVER SO STRONG HERE AS NOW. In January, the Board voted to make an appropriation for one year, of $50, to aid the Villa Ridge Church in the support of M. B. Kelly as pastor, and another of $150 for missionary work by Bro. Kelly, beyond the bounds of that church.

FIFTY DOLLARS HAVE ALSO BEEN APPROPRIATED FOR TWO MONTHS' MISSIONARY WORK OF THIS FIELD, BY O. D. WILLIAMS, OF UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, DURING HIS SUMMER VACATION.

IT IS DIFFICULT TO GET THE PEOPLE HERE TO SUSTAIN WEEKLY SABBATH SERVICES, AS THEY HAVE BEEN ACCUSTOMED TO MONTHLY MEETINGS ONLY; STILL THE CAUSE ADVANCES, AND WE CONSIDER OUR MISSIONARY WORK MIGHT BE DONE BY THE PASTORS OF OUR STRONGER CHURCHES, WHICH WOULD PROFIT BY THE GROWING TENDENCY OF THE FIELDS WHICH WE SERVE.

THE SONG OF THE AGES. A song come from the far away ages. A song full of melody, gladness, and cheer. It cheered long ago the sad hearts of the angels.

THE BUSINESS OF THE PREACHER. The preacher's commission clearly defines what is to be the subject-matter of his preaching: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."
