T. CLAWSON, TAILOR. CLOTHS, CLOAKINGS, AND TRIMMINGS Samples sent by mail.

L. BARBOUR & CO. DRUGGISTS AND PHARMACISTS.

No. 1, Bridge Block.

DEALER IN FURNITURE OF ALL KINDS Orders by mail promptly filled. STILLMAN & SON, MANUFACTURERS OF FINE CARRIAGES. Orders for Shipment Solicited. N. DENISON & CO., JEWELERS.

RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRICES. nest Repairing Solicited. Please try us. HE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MISSION.

ARY SOCIETY. BGE GREENMAN, President, Mystic Bridge, Ct. PLATTS. Recording Secretary, Westerly, R. I. E. MAIN, Corresponding Secretary, Ashaway. D. B. Utter, Treasurer, Westerly.

il contributions for missions, and communicaserelating to financial affairs, should be sent to. Treasurer. Reports of labor, and other commuations intended for the Board of Managers, or for dication in the Missionary Department of the conder, should be sent to the Corresponding

Ashaway, R. I.

HOS. A. BARBER, DRUGGIST AND PHARMACIST, AND DEALER IN Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes.

LANGWORTHY & CO., GENERAL STORE Books, Hardware, and Glassware, a Specialty.

Send for Catalogue of Garden Seeds.

I. WELLS. Maker of Fine Carriages and Wagons.

Chicago, Ill.

EDWAY & CO. MERCHÁNT TAILORS. 205 West Madison St.

STILLMAN BAILEY, M. D. 3034 Michigan Avenue.

REDERICK D. ROGERS, DRUGGIST. 2406 Cottage Grove Avenue. e and Residence. - - - Hyde Park.

Job Printer: Publisher SABBATH CHRONICLE. 1489 State St. B. COTTRELL & CO. CYLINDER PRINTING

Presses, for Hand and Steam Power. tory at Westerly, R. I. 112 Monroe St. Walworth, Wis.

A. WALTERS PATENT HAY ELEVATORS AND CARRIERS. D. READ.

OF. N. WARDNER WILLIAMS, MUSICAL

DEPARTMENT, MILTON COLLEGE. Piano, Voice,

Goods, Groceries, Boots & Shoes, Crockery, etc.

FARCY AND HOLIDAY GOODS. Milton, Wis.

AVIS BROS., MANUFACTURERS OF

HAND and POWER PRESS and SHEARS.

SHRINKERS and AXEL-SETTERS. Circulars.

REGISTERED PHARMACIST,

Minnesota.

Dodge Centre, Minn.

Kansas.

DEALERS IN DRUGS AND GROCERIES,

he Sabbath Recorder.

Nortonville, Kansas.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY,

MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY,

FRED CENTRE, ALLEGANY CO., N. Y.

apers to foreign countries will be charged 50 cents

If payment is delayed beyond aix months, 50 additional will be charged.

o paper discontinued until arrearages are paid, pe at the option of the publisher.

for each subsequent insertion. Special con-made with parties advertising extensively, or early advertisers may have their advertisements aged quarterly without extra charge.

To advertisements of objectionable character with admitted.

se once is furnished with a supply of jobbing risk and more will be added as the business may nd, so that all work in that line can be execute

Communications, whether on business of for S-stick should be addressed to "THE SAB-

HECORDER Alfred Centre Allegary sour ong terms gal advertisements inserted at legal rates.

JOB PRINTING.

tness and dispatch.

nt advertisements will be inserted for 50 an inch for the first insertion, and 25 cents an

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

ial, on account of postage.

LIS AYRES, PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST.

COPYING IN INDIAN INK, OIL, CRAYON, &C.

W. CLARKE DEALER IN BOOKS

Stationery, Jewelry, Musical Instruments

a, Harmony, &c. Send for circular.

P. CLARKE.

RIFFIN & SON,

Drugs, Groceries, Dry Goods, &c. Milton, Wis.

O father, keep not back thy son!

A crown by crosses shall be won, Like which no brow can wear another.

Not farther distant heaven appears By Ganges or Zambesi's waters; 'Twere sweet to die 'mid India's tears, Or Afric's weeping sons and daughters!

Send me"—e'en with the call is blending: Rejoice, O earth, the morn is near, Thy long dark night of sorrow ending.

BY THE CRAM CLUB.

Cork to Killarney.

JUNE 22, 1882. Arriving at our hotel in Cork in the evening, we requested to be called at half past five in the morning, that we might take a look at the city, before train time at eight. at sharp six, we piled on to it and started on the Capital of the South of Ireland, is situ-

Sabbath

Recorder.

FUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY.

"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD."

TERMS-$2 A YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

VCL. XXXVIII.-NO. 30. ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, JULY 27, 1882.

WHOLE NO. 1955.

The Sabbath Recorden.

Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office at Alfred Centre, N. Y.

WHERE ARE THE MEN?

BY REV. RAY PALMER, D. D.

The paper on The Urgent Need of Men for the Missionary Work, presented at the late annual meet ing of the American Board by Rev. Dr. Alden, one of the Secretaries, quite evidently made a deep impression, and was a powerful appeal to the educated young men and women of the country to devote their talents and their lives, as Christ may need them for this high service.

() heard ye not the thrilling cry? For men—for holy men—it pleadeth; For men of faith, and purpose high, Men! men! the Lord, the Savior needeth.

Men who on sin's dark frowning towers. Dare plant unfurled the Christian banner. Intent to hold it floating there Till all earth's millions shout hosanna.

Men of seraphic, quenchless zeal, Yet with Christ's own sweet pity tender: ()f brave stout hearts, that true as steel. Know not the shameful word-surrender!

Men who in classic shades have won The laurels to the foremost granted: Than whom, a noble race to run, No Isthmian's breast more fondly panted.

Men who for duty and for God, From earth's best gifts and honors turning, Could choose the path by martyr's trod, The martyr's deathless glory earning, · Whom shall ye send? Where are the men Who through the world, like angels, flying, God's truth shall bear?"-resounds again, As Christ's own voice aloud were crying

Land of the rising sun! From thee, From Niphon's hills and Yesso's calling, From the rude cliffs that bound thy sea, That voice on listening ears is falling.

It comes from Choong Kwa's far spread climes. Where men, by countless legions numbered, Through cycles of revolving times 'Mid dreamy shades have groped or slumbered.

To Himalaya's towering steeps, Andes the echoes back are flinging; Through the dim realm where Congo sweeps His mighty flood, that cry is ringing.

'Tis heard o'er farthest ocean isles, Just waking from the sleep of ages; And where the wintry tempest rages.

Ye gifted men, the young, the strong, Self-pledged to Christ before his altar. Hear ye not, sounding loud and long, His pealing cry?—and can ye falter?

Leave not the souls that hopeless wait. To linger in despairing sadness. The hour is come! With joy elate, Go! bid them wake to hope and gladnes!

Methinks I see a dauntless band. The summons of the Master heeding: Right glad to earth's remotest strand bear God's truth—the Master leading!

Withhold thy daughter not. O mother!

Send me"—the loud response I hear— -The Cangregationalist.

RESTING ABROAD.

how many of the female sex in our own country, dressed like ladies, we had seen in | minds to our young Irish traveling companthe streets and other places, carrying useless ion, whose cognomen was Hussey, and whom poodles in their arms, we thought after all, good sense, and good taste were rather with tion about Ireland and the Irish, and from the Irish woman and her pig. Killarney is whom we learned that though nothing on 63 miles by rail from Cork. Five miles out the surface appeared by which a stranger from Cork, we pass in sight of the famous would know of any political disturbance, Blarney Castle, built in 1446, by McCarthy, there was all through the south and then one of the petty kings of Ireland, of west of the Island, a thorough organization which it had five. In it is the famous Blarney of the Land League, and there was no tellwall, that those who kissed it had to climb could be convicted in any jury court. Coundown to it head first, or be let down by the ty Kerry is among the poorer parts of Ireland, heels by an assistant. For the women to accomplish it, they were put into sacks which, not of the poorest. Most of the laborers' tied around the neck, left only the head out, | houses were of stone, walls whitewashed outbut the sacks were few and expensive, and side, and apparently inside also, with the arch enemy did not invent paper sacks thatched roofs. They were poor indeed,

Farther on, while two of our Club were taking observations with their glasses (the writer didn't have any), they uttered a tongues glibly?

scream of delight, for they had discovered an old ruin. A little farther on, and another hove into view. Both seemed to be the lower portion of what may in some remote age have been towers, say twenty-five feet square, and of unknown height, but for the present, perhaps fifteen feet high. In our compartment of the car, was an intelligent looking young Irishman, perhaps twenty-five years of age. One of the excited members of this Club, addressed our Irish friend, "I beg your pardon, sir, but can you tell us what ruins those are?" He took a squint at them and remarked, "Those are not ruins, gentlemen, they are only lime kilns." This brought the excitement of all the Club except Prex to fever heat, but changed the character of it to an alarming extent. Prex apparently was asleep in the corner of the compartment, with his cap on hind side | been raining, more or less, all the morning. before. He did look so innocent, it was agreed it would be a pity to disturb him, but | Ireland. The Club and two other Americans when we soon after came to quite an exten- were in a wagonette. It had a driver, two sive peat bog, knowing we had only to mention anything about geology in an ordinary | Ireland have one horse and two wheels-and tone, and it would wake him out of the we had a guide. So there were eight of us soundest sleep, and being anxious to know | besides the horses. For ordinary uses the what he thought of it, we said, "Geological | vehicles are propelled by a large Irishman, formations." You ought to have seen how or drawn by a very small-and-much-abused quick he was looking out at that window, donkey. There was a ride of eleven miles bewith fire in his eye, his cap on the floor, and | fore us, over a road finely paved with broken every particular hair of enthusiasm standing stone, bordered by high stone fences, or those peat bogs belonged. He at once and Having ordered a jaunting car to be ready front, and for the next few miles he seemed ated at the head of navigation on both sides ous of seeing Ireland. Earnestly looking thus we ride to the of the river Lee, about fifteen miles from the out for ruins, two of the Club having learned ocean. It has about 80,000 inhabitants, is to know a lime kiln from a castle, we dis- This is a wild, winding, picturesque pass though unroofed. One gable of the church a clean well-governed city, with not much covered some animals. At the distance at through the mountains, four miles long. A is complete, and with its massive stone winthat indicates great wealth, or extreme pov- which we saw them, it was quite doubtful small stream with several lakelets occupy the dow-sash forms an interesting picture. It erty. Passing one of the city court houses, whether they were Kerry cows, or mules. pass; into one of these the guide assured us is supposed that a smaller church existed on our driver remarked, "Thim is the places Knowing that Prex was well up in "Darwin's St. Patrick banished the last snake that ex- this spot as early as the eleventh century, where they try all the good people here." descent of man," we ventured to suggest isted in Ireland. "Purple Mountain" on the | before the founding of the Abbey. A yew We inquired what they did with the bad. | that it would be well to get his decision on | left, and "McGillcuddy's Reeks" on the | tree fills the open court of the Abbey, which He said, "Indade, a very small place houlds | the subject, especially, as among the many | right, smile and frown, overhanging threat- | was doubtless planted at the time of the all the bad here." It was a good time of the obstreperous animals he had had to deal with eningly, and retreating invitingly, giving un- founding. It is thirteen feet in circumfermorning to see market people coming in | in the last few years, he must have become | bounded delight and rare enjoyment to our | ence, and promises to flourish for several from the country. The animals coming in | well acquainted with the genus mule. We | party. We left the wagonette at the opening | centuries to come. We can attempt no adewere largely sheep and pigs, and they were a ventured to jog him again, and asked him of the Gap, and mounted ponies. These are quate description of this treasure of other fine lot. Passing a cart drawn by a donkey, to fix his piercing eye on those animals, and that handsome, but they are sure-footed. A days. The Club examined every nook something larger than a good sized goat on | tell us whether they were mules or Kerry | driver follows each with blows and curses, | and corner, finding some fresh interest everythe front of the cart, on a board a man sit | cows. He did so, and remarked that they | according to circumstances. "Prex" is hon- | where. The original avenue of beeches ting, while in the bottom of it sat a woman were donkeys, and as his countenance ored with the pony that the Emperor Dom stretches away toward the lake, a forest of with two children, all fairly dressed, and beamed graciously upon us, he said, "We Pedro rode a few years ago. It is said by itself, the over-arching branches seeming to with them a pig weighing perhaps 150 were not so far removed from them as we some that at one time the Parson, after much | nod to us, and whisper, "We could tell you pounds, and clean, as though going to a pic- ought to be." We could not quite see the effort, outran all the rest; but speed is not a a story if we would, richer than any poet's mate relations between the pig and the fam- chair in a corner, with his cap on hind side named "Game cock," had fallen to his lot. ily, but why not? The pig was clean and before, apparently asleep, they had, in the so named because he was one "who would useful, and of the very best of blood, quiet appropriate words of the "Songs of Solo- die rather than run." The beggars of the and well-behaved, and when we thought of man," "better not stir him up till he please."

Thenceforth we turned our inquiring we found a perfect Cyclopedia of informatone, which tradition says lent to him who ing what might happen any day; that trial kissed it, a free tongue. It is so located in the | by jury had become a farce, for no Irishman though the part we saw, it is told us, was and sell them for a half cent each, until after | but not poorer than many that can be found the Castle became a ruin, and this practice among the pioneers on our frontiers.

fallen into disuse, which accounts for the There is but little grain sown in this part fact that so few Irish women can use their of the country, but mostly grazing. and great milkers. The farmers pay a rent keep them, each farmer having from 3 to 12. usually not more. Think of that, American farmers, paying a rent like that, and keeping a family of five to ten on what is left, on a poor soil at that!

We are now at Killarney, and have to bid row-boat, with four oarsmen, and the guide adieu to our Irish friend. Mr. Hussey, we thank you for the information you imparted | detail, would demand columns instead of | by Mrs. E. L. Moore of the same place, and to us, for the cheery manner in which you answered all our questions, foolish or other- Lake, Long Range, Middle Lake, and Lower by Miss Christie Skinner. wise, but most of all in that you enabled two Lake. All these are mountain-locked, and of our Club to distinguish between a lime by many travelers are deemed finer than held, led by Mrs. J. Coats, in which a goodkiln and a ruined castle, so that we can now view the one without enthusiasm and the other without tears.

Killarney. It was 11 A. M., June 22, 1882. It had That is a confirmed habit the weather has in horses, and four wheels-most vehicles in on end. "Where is it?" he asked. We hedge rows, or both. The roads are very the Lower Lake. This ruin dates back to of Alfred Centre; 2d Vice President, Mrs. said we were wondering to what formation | narrow, the less important ones allowing | an unknown time. It was the last in Ireland teams to pass only at given points. Forest | to surrender to the forces of Cromwell, in swered without apparent hesitation, "The trees and hedges forbid all but glimpses of 1652. It is quite well preserved. We climbed same formation as the hard-pan in Alfred, the Lakes of Killarney and the ruins of the the tower, and obtained a charming view of where it reaches up to the third rail in the castle and church of Aghadoe, dating back the whole country and the lakes. Several fence, only the bog has more vegetable mat- somewhere between the sixth and twelfth old cannon are rusting on the outer walls. A ter of the two in it." His knowledge of centuries. These and other points of inter | mile with the wagonette brought us to a these things is wonderful, isn't it? Thank- est awaken much enthusiasm and many ques- P. M. dinner at Killarney. ful for the information imparted, we picked tions, in answering which the guide and up his cap and replaced it, the fore to the driver, and the wise men of the party all join. | Some of the answers are unintelligible because | companion ruin to the Castle. This is of | busy with his own thoughts, and we con- of the "brogue," and some because of the surpassing interest. It was founded in 1440. our tour of observation. Cork is practically cluded he was with the friends he left behind | wisdom they conceal; but we laugh, or look | When the Castle fell in 1652, this was him, while the rest of the Club were desir- wise, as occasion demands, and all goes well; ruined by the forces of the Protector, from

nic. "Thim is the fellers what pays the pertinence of the remark, but are solemnly of prominent characteristic of the ponies which dream." But they said not a word, and so rint," said our driver, referring to the pig. the opinion, that when the voting men of abound at the Gap, and at some time each the "Parson" drove the party back to a 10

Gap beggar all description. They are mostly | toes and beggars. women and girls of all ages and grades of loveliness. They run beside your horse, bareheaded, bare-footed, and agile as goats. They are fairly modest, but as persistent as a taxgatherer. Each carries a bottle and a tumbler, and pleads with you to drink goat's milk and "mountain dew, i. e., Irish whisky, for which they expect a treble gratuity. They beg you to drink at the beginning of the Gap, the middle of the Gap, the end of the Gap, all along the Gap, and at parting; to drink because you are good looking, generous, old, young, a gintleman, and an American; to furnish money for their children's bread, and their Sunday shoes, and to pay a passage to America; for every imaginable reason, and for as many more which none but a sharptongued Irish beggar could ever think of One was warned not to tempt the Parson, but she laughed at the warning, and on careful inspection declared that "he had too wicked a face to be a praste." We tried to outrun them, but our ponies were too slow, and a crowd came in at the last for a parting Kerry cows are small in size but fine in sixpence. "Prex," with lofty disdain, wonshape, black as a coal, and are said to have dered "how men could be disturbed by such the extraordinary qualities of small feeders | trifles, amid such grand surroundings;" but "Press" said, "Such muscle and wind ought for the cows of four to five pounds a year to be commemorated, and handed down as a each (20 to 25 dollars), with land enough to legacy to future generations." "Pundit" was terribly besieged, and no one knows to this day how much money he squandered in > Reaching the head of the "Upper Lake," we embark for a twelve-mile sail, in a neat as helmsman. A description of this sail, in anything else in Europe. The light and shade of alternate sunshine and cloud lent additional charms to the scenes, and the hours were full of restful pleasure and fresh surprises. At different places the boatmen awoke the sleeping echoes with voice and bugle, until they answered right joyously. We shoot down a miniature "rapid" under an old stone bridge, supposed to have been built by the Danes. All forms of mountain and glen, of rock and cascade appear and reappear to the eye unaided, or helped by the "glass." The beauteous and the weird are intermingled in curious combinations. The Devil's Island and "Punch Bowl," the lovely "Meeting of the Waters," and the "Queen's Cottage," form strong contrasts.

the Gap of Dunloe.

We land at the foot of "Ross Castle" on

"Muckross Abbey," three miles away, the which ruin it has not been recovered. Two stories of the Abbey are in good preservation, It looked a little odd to us to see such inti- Alfred find Prex partly slid down in his arm man thought that a certain unknown pony, o'clock breakfast, while the valuable driver told the "gintlemen" stories of field and flood, and wild witchcraft; stories which grow in the soil of Killarney, like its pota-PARSON.

WOMAN'S TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

The fifth session of the Woman's Temperance Convention of Allegany county was held in Wellsville, July 12 and 13, 1882.

The exercises were opened by Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. C. M. Lewis, of Alfred Centre. The Salutatory was given by Mrs. J. R. Freeland, of Wellsville. After the Secretary and Treasurer's report, Mrs. Dr. Niles, of Hornellsville, read a biographical essay upon the life of her deceased friend, Mrs. Shepherd, late President of the W. C. T. U., of Bath.

The feasibility of uniting the Woman's Rights question with the Temperance question was presented by two essays, Mrs. M. Demming, of Friendship, presenting the affirmative, and Mrs. Smith, of Alfred, the

An interesting feature of the afternoon session was the exercises by the Juvenile Temperance School of Wellsville, consisting of songs, concert recitation, and responsive exercises, conducted by Mrs. J. Coats, followed by a scientific talk on the use of stimulants, illustrated by charts, by Miss Emma Ross. Dr. H. P. Burdick, of Alfred, spoke in the interest of the National Temperance Publication Society He recommended Hargraves's Science of Alcohol, and advocated the introduction of temperance literature in our schools.

The exercises of the evening were opened by Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. C. G. Stevens, and a hymn written for the occasion by Rev. F. W. Beecher was sung by the choir. Mrs. Letetia Yeomans, President of the W. C. T. U. of Canada, held the close attention of the audience for an hour, while she discoursed to them of the "Building of the Walls." The other exercises of the evening were a recitation by Miss Corinne Stillman of Alfred Centre, of a poem paragraphs. The route included Upper a five minute chat about "Blots and Blanks,"

At half past eight o'clock Thursday morning, an interesting consecration meeting was ly number participated. Mary Hakes of Wellsville, recited beautifully a temperance poem. An essay written by Mrs. Dr. Sheppard of Alfred Centre, and read by Mrs. E. P. Larkin of the same place, followed. Ten town unions were reported, with an aggregate of 275 members. In connection with, or as the result of work performed by these unions, several Juvenile Temperance Schools were reported, but in the absence of the Superintendent of that department, a correct report of membership seemed impracticable. A pleasant feature of the afternoon and morning sessions was the singing conducted entirely by the young people.

After some discussion, the organization, heretofore working independent of all similar organizations, voted to become auxiliary to the State W. C. T. U. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Mrs. V. A. Willard of Belmont; 1st Vice President, Mrs. L. A. Hull J. Coats of Wellsville; Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. R. Freeland of Wellsville; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, Miss Emma Ross of Wellsville.

Mrs. A. A. Allen, as chairman of Committee on Resolutions, presented a series of Resolutions which were adopted, among which were the following:

Resolved. That the temperance women of Allegany county submit the following question to every future candidate for Senator or Assemblyman, regardless of Next morning, at 8, we are off for party: "Sir, if elected, will you vote to submit an amendment to the Constitution of our State to the people, prohibiting the manufacture and sale of in oxicating drinks as a beverage? Resolved, That we use our influence in our respective towns to induce the ladies to attend our school meetings and assist in the election of Trustees who will be interested in temperance work, and are themselves temperance men; that we may hope to introluce temperance text books into our district schools, and thus wage a more successful warfare against our two great enemies, Alcohol and Tobacco. Resolved, That the members of the different Unions of our county use means to induce town officers to qualify themselves to discharge the duties of the ofices to which they are elected. Resolved, That we will do our utmost, not only to prevent licenses being granted in our towns, but to oring to strict justice all persons who sell illegally, and punish them to the full extent of the law. Resolved, That we still continue to petition the Legislature of the State for an amendment to the constitution, that will grant the ballot to women on WHEREAS, our future prosperity as a people depends upon the training of our youth, and believing that the W. C. T. U. may do their most effective work in the juvenile department; therefore, Resolved, That we use all our energies to educate them in temperance principles, especially those of foreign parentage, and recommend that the delegates present urge upon their respective unions the necessi ty of organizing Temperance schools. WHEREAS, as we can hope for permanent success only in so far as they make a sure and broad foundation, in forming aright the character, sentiments, and physique of our future men and women; therefore.

Resolved, That as mothers, they see to it that healthy appetites are formed and sustained in their children, that as men they may not be obliged to war continually against a morbid appetite for stimulants.

MRS. E. J. POTTER, President.

MRS. V. A. WILLARD, Secretary.

Conducted by the Corresponding Secretary for the Board of Managers of the Seventh-day Baptist Missionary Society.

"WHERE ARE THE REAPERS?"

Sermon delivered at the Eastern Association at Ho kinton City, R. I., June 4, 1882.

BY REV. G. M. COTTRELL.

When we consider the mineral wealth, th agricultural possibilities, political and social advantages, and the boundless extent of the land in which we live, it is no wonder that to its shores are being attracted the throngs that are pouring in upon us at the present day. It at the same time presents a theater for the display of the power of the religion of Jesus Christ, and the Church of God, to take all the heterogeneous elements of these different forms of national and religious life, and mould them into living, vital energy unified by the divine touch of inspired truth Under the query of my text I propose to speak of the extent and needs of the home and mission field, the question of supply, and the qualifications of the gospel laborers.

The first great truth that we are to annunciate is that once stated by the Master himself: "The field is the world." It was the design and hope of the gospel to bring to the whole world a saving knowledge of the truth, and the embassadors of Christ on earth are to take no narrower view than this, except as compelled by human limitations. So far as there is the ability to obey, the commission comes to every denomination, to every church, to every preacher of the Word, to go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. This end and aim of the gospel has not as yet been realized. While the truth has been carried to nearly every quarter of the globe, and declared in nearly every tongue, there are many remote regions as well as many densely populated portions of the earth, where no John the Baptist has proclaimed repentance, and where the millions are as ignorant of Christian truth as though no Christ had ever been born. the jungles of Africa, mid the heathen temples of China, India, and Japan [over the rice fields of the interior], under the heats of the tropics, and mid northern snows Christianity has its grandest conquests yet to make. Many of the religious sects exhibit praiseworthy zeal in occupying these outposts for Christ. Yet it must be confessed that the Roman Catholic Church has outstripped all others combined in these distant fields. As a people we have one mission in China—Shanghai—whose efficiency and capacity for effective labor is yearly increasing. Of this enterprise we have no need to be ashamed; but our plans already ought to be reaching much farther, among which should be another preaching station in the interior of China. We should also have at least one mission in Japan and India, where some of the first missionary victories were gained, and whose soil seems sacred by the memories of the Judsons, should not much longer be left without representation from the Seventhday Baptist denomination. If we still long for other fields to conquer, Africa, Palestine, South America, parts of Europe, and the islands of the sea, will furnish us the fields. The question of cost will not be so important when these are made self-supporting, as they should and could be made in time. And while we strive to do our work in the foreign fields, we must not forget or lose the advantage we possess in having one of the greatest mission fields on earth laid at our very door America, as the asylum for all peoples, with every belief and every form of unbelief, is bringing to us the most promising field of

"If the heathen you would rescue, And seek them out on foreign shore, E'en a richer field for labor Is now spread before your door."

There are from 300,000 to 500,000 of the aborigines of the country or Indian tribes who yet blindly worship the Great Spirit, their degradation and superstition. Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, on a recent trip, administered the communion to 247 Chippewa Indians, the reward of fifteen years of missions among them. A still larger field was thrown open by the late war, when four or five millions of slaves were liberated and the shackles of their bondage broken. It now remains for the Christian world to break the chains of their ignorance and bring them into the liberty of Christian intelligence and gospel truth. And here, as elsewhere, we can not afford in future generations to have no fruit among this easily taught and naturally religious race. But perhaps, more of piety and men of heart-power. The sad circumstances have made it impossible to the women of our denomination should not forth more laborers into the harvest.

mindful of our privilege and duty to the | ible in many churches, may be, after all, but | have been devoted, and perhaps successfully, hundreds of thousands that are thronging our shores from other lands. If these continue to come for the next twenty years in such numbers as are now occasionally recorded in a single day at New York, the beginning of the 20th century will see a population of 100,000,000 instead of the 50,000,000 we now have, or an increase of 9,000 population a day, or  $2\frac{3}{4}$ millions each year. Suppose one-half, or forms of religious expressions and belief; but even one-fourth of these are without any religious faith or connection, then we will have 750,000 annually as objects of our labor. The larger share of the tide of this immigration is pouring into the great West, and especially the newer States and Territories, so if there be any index of duty it points in this direction. It is, to us, a matter of concern, and even fear, when we see how the Roman power is already intrenching itself in | pelled Christ, into all the world, to preach his many of these new fields, expecting to hold gospel, who are occupying till he comes by them in the future. As possession is said to be nine points of ownership, so they who are | have gone, by helping every creature to whom planting the Christian banner in the van of he would have lent a hand." This is the this moving tide, will be the ones who, in | kind of preacher we want, and from whom coming years, will hold these, because they we shall expect a living, loving, leavening of the champion Atheist of our day! Upon have impressed upon the people their own | church, throwing its network of influences religious faith and thought. If we can not and power out and down into all the differ enter in and gain conquests here for truth, ent strata of life and thought. we may well despair of making any greatimpression on the older and fixed forms of religious thought and life. Besides occupying our own fields and supplying the scattered bands, there is a demand upon us to establish missions among the Scandinavians. A large proportion of the immigrants of the Northwest are of this class, a hardy, frugal class of people, but religiously under the dominion of gross bigotry little better than the darkness of Rome. Already there are more than a million of these in our country, or more than the entire population of the great State of Minnesota, and yet until recently we have sought to do nothing among these, and now have only one man where perhaps we dent of only yesterday is chagrined by the should have six. Nor alone in these mission fields is there a call for men; among our own churches many more are now needed. From a co-operation of various causes, nearly half a score of our churches are now without settled pastors; so, on every hand, the fields are white for harvest, and the Macedonian cry for help is everywhere heard.

Who are sufficient for these things? In this stupendous work we should put no premium on unskilled labor. With too many no food for the intellect or strength for the the impression has been that he who couldn't heart. If then the age is a literary age, if it succeed at anything else might do for a is a scientific age, if it is an age of refined preacher. Expression was given to this vul- | taste and sentiment, we must see to it that gar notion by the lad who, when asked what | we do not add to the foolishness of the cross pursuit he expected to follow, replied, that | itself, the foolishness of unnecessary offense if he was smart enough he was going to be a in presenting it. tinsmith, if not, he'd make a preacher. The notion that every goodish or pious lad should be a preacher, is evidently far from the truth, and may have led some into a career for which they found themselves insufficient. There is no higher or more noble calling than that to the ministry of the gospel of truth and salvation, and the best men are none too good or wise to herald this proclamation. What Wm. Taylor says of men for the mission work we may apply to the work of preaching in general. He says: "The church will never rise to the true ideal of aggressive excellence until she is willing to give up her best men to the prosecution of the work of things that were contained in the sermon. missions. The marching orders given in the Savior's last command can never be a matter of indifference to those who are his disciples; and the field on which Paul won his imperishable laurels, can not be beneath the ambition of the greatest among the soldiers of the cross."

acters. However great their erudition, how-listener that he who would teach men himever graceful their diction, however winning their ways, however pious their preten- field of useful and practical knowledge the sions, however advanced in scientific or relig- pew is in advance of the pulpit, will be a ious thought, we want no rotten substructure to be the cause of some terrible crash respect for their leaders, they can receive litand fall of all these virtues, and bring ruin | the benefit from them. to the man and irreparable injury to the and only faintly perceive him whom they feel | cause. Let none of these rear a superstructafter, and yet who are susceptible to the ure he, until the foundation be laid secure. teachings of divine truth, and are being ed- So many evil things are said of our profesucated by some of the sects, and lifted out of sion in modern days that it might almost be considered a discredit, in some sections, to belong to the ministry, and doubltess it is by many of the world. Certain it is that the his specific, at least to his general, line of Master's cause must suffer, and the enemy have occasion of triumph at the downfall of every man engaged in this work; and furthermore, as slanderous reports have a similar effect, whether false or true, it becomes is worthy of his hire, and he should have it the preacher not only to have a true character, but also to guard himself against every act, word, or work, which will endanger his reputation, and thus stain the cause and destroy his power.

than to any of these, it behooves us to be decline of faith or lack of vital faith too vis- fulfill all of these conditions, yet whose lives "life hid with God in Christ" any more now see. Nor do we mean by this that we are to cultivate cant in religion, or a slavish dependence upon the ancient and approved we mean that hearty, deep, abiding, convincing evidence of Christ in the heart which is everywhere exhibited by Christ in the life. not only possesses the truth but the truth possesses him. We mean the man to whom Christ has indeed become Master, and the Holy Spirit teacher. We mean the man impelled by reasons and motives which im-"visiting every corner where Christ would

3d. We want an educated ministry. The day has passed in many communities when the illiterate man can draw and hold and build up the people in religious life and faith. The age has become too fast for the safety of such. We must either be left behind or ride by the swifter conveyances on which the people travel. Steam, electricity, and the printing press have worked marvelous things in our day. Every man has become, so to speak, his own philosopher, every one his own preacher. The poor man can sit in his study and counsel with the wise and great of the present and past ages, as only the rich could do a generation ago. The college-bred stusuperior advantages and attainments of his younger brother to-day. The newsboy that sells us the news on the street is peddling out every week, for three or five cents, the cream of the world's pulpit oratory and power, and himself might prove a sharper critic than we would care to have pass judgment on some of our weak effusions. The age is a reading age, and hence, a thinking age, and does not readily lend its ear to anything that promises

Every kind of knowledge can be made of some practical account in the ministry. Il lustrations, similies, facts and figures can be used from the wide field of human learning and human life to point the arrows of truth which otherwise might fail to penetrate the thick epidermis of natural depravity and cultivated obtuseness. So simple a thing as the use of bad grammar by the preacher may be the occasion for shutting out from many a soul words which for spiritual truth are like "apples of gold in pictures of silver." Inelegant, vulgar or slang expressions in the pulpit will often counteract the really good Or the raspings and roarings of an untrained voice may be too much for some sensitive ear which prefers, and whose physical weakness perhaps demands, the gospel in more homeopathic doses, or not at all. Even in our choice and use of words we are to be as wise as serpents and harmless as doves. Any dis-1st. We want men of unimpeachable char- play of ignorance, or the discovery by the self needs to be taught, that in the great hard blow to the preacher. When men lose life, and it is right that they should have

In this connection, another duty should be impressed, and that is that we should not only get a good start, but keep it. The preacher should keep abreast with the times, even ahead of rather than behind advanced thought; and for this reason, generally speaking, his whole life must be devoted to work, and so the preacher can not afford to be a farmer-preacher; nor can his people, for ing cause. the sake of lessening his salary, afford to make a farmer-preacher of him. The laborer in such liberal measure as to preclude the necessity of thus pinching his body, starving his mind, and souring his soul.

In what we have said in regard to prepar ation for the work, we do not wish to add 2d. We also want our preachers to be men any weight to the burdens of those whose

a truthful reflection of the condition of af- to the Lord's work. We can not forget the fairs in the desk. How simple learning or | many who have exerted great power in the eloquence can be made to take the place of a | Christian cause who yet could boast no general, liberal, or book education, but were than in Nicodemus's time, we are unable to gifted probably with a large stock of common sense, native genius, spiritual power, and knowledge of God and men; these elements always contain the promise of success. Among revivalists, Whitefield and Moody are small means and number so much has been conspicuous. And yet we regard these as exceptional cases, and believe that the rule holds. Though it was largely the common We mean that state of a man in which he people that Christ called in his day, yet among all of these, Paul the learned, Paul who sat at the feet of the great teacher Gamaliel, has, with his masterly eloquence and logic, as at Mars' Hill, and with his powerful pen, wielded the greatest influence for Christianity of any man. Christian Apologetics, the defense of her institutions and her faith, have devolved upon the learned in all ages. Who, except a man skilled in the use God hath not called, and deeming that if of his tools, could meet in such a masterly way as Joseph Parker has done the attacks whom are we dependent even for the very Bible we have, but the Christian scholars who have, with studious care, given to the different races the Bible in their own tongues! We want them, we need, the church must have an educated ministry, and it will never be too late for any of us to gain something by considering this fact. Thus we see some of the qualifications laid upon the workers. We see the myriads to be reached. Of these we read: "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved; but how then shall they call upon him in whom they have not believed, and how shall they believe on him of whom they have not heard, and how shall they hear without a preacher, and how shall they preach except they be sent?" There is, then, a demand for preaching, and a copartnership and mutual responsibility between him who goes and them who send him. Considering the age of our denomination, it has had a comparacively short, though worthy, list in its ministry. At times the number equaling the apparent demand, at others being largely in arrears—as at the present, when the call comes loudly for more help. The following we deem to be some of the causes that have co-operated in keeping able and worthy young men from entering the ministry:

1st. Want of encouragement. Sometimes years have been lost in the case of young men who, early in life, were anxious to commit themselves to the work, but no "good cheer" coming from pastor or friend, perhaps even discouragement, their sense of weakness was magnified and crushed out the desire in part or entirely, and their neglect gave birth to doubt and skepticism, or drove them into the wilderness for forty times forty days, to waste their time and strength in the desert before returning in divine strength to set about their Master's business. . 2d. A second hindrance to some has doubt less been the meager support that is supposed to be the probable portion of him who commits himself to this cause. Unless a man be thoroughly consecrated to the work, continual poverty and want will appear anything but inviting to be pursued as a profession. Him who would enter the ministry for gain, we would justly denounce as unworthy; but on the other hand, it is every man's duty to provide for his own, or he is worse than an infidel; so of the two calls this will often appear the greater, and be his excuse for declining the other. A man who has spent years in preparation, and can command position and pay in other places, dislikes to confront the starvation prices in the ministry; for it must be confessed that men in this work usually carry with them their naturally hearty appetite for food, a preference for good clothes and the common comforts of these. Their position and relation demand it, and their three, four, five or six hundred dollars often prove inadequate.

3d. Our lack of educational facilities in past years has had something to do with the fewness of the number that sought preparation and consecration to the work.

There have been too little activity and promise of usefulness and reward to call out slumbering energies. The supply would not come in advance of the demand. There was too little activity along the lines, and to you, I say to all parts of our Zion. young men of spirit are slow to join their fortunes to a dead or dying or even slumber-

5th. Another reason has doubtless been the Herculean task of advancing, with hope of present and final success, the mighty mission, which, under God, was given us to accomplish, not only the anti-Christian but Christian world being antagonistic to our failure of Christian parents to educate and consecrate their sons to the great work.

be enlisted in the different fields of labor for which they are eminently qualified; but as a hindrance to this has been the false view so commonly held that Paul had consigned woman to eternal silence in the Christian

Thus we have outlined our view of the subject, and it is not my design in speaking of the extent of the fields and demands now upon us to lay ourselves under censure br. cause all these things are not accomplished It is perhaps rather a marvel that with our done as has in the various fields of endeavor: but the present and the future have their in. creased and ever-increasing duties, which may God grant us wisdom and strength to do as the years go by.

Of the causes that have worked to keep men out of the ministry, thank God, some have disappeared, and others we expect will follow. We of the ministry and the people will endeavor to give as much encouragement and God-speed as the several cases demand. There is often a hesitancy in the matter of urging young men into the ministry because of the responsibility attached, no man being willing to call another to the work whom God does call, the mere failure of men's urgency should and will make no difference.

For the people, too, I can speak that they will see no worthy workman suffer if it is in their power to avoid it. Many centuries ago David declared that he had never known the seed of the righteous to be begging bread. and certain it is if a man is willing to bear his lot with the people and adapt himself to the necessities of the times, they will not forsake him; and one thing farther seems evident, that when our ministers have finished their ministrations, they generally retire with a very comfortable competence, and their last days are like the setting of an evening sun in the calm of an Autumn sky.

The lack of facilities among us has been supplied by the establishment of the school of theology in connection with our University, wherein is furnished instruction, as good perhaps as the best; at least it is our own, which, in connection with the pressing demands from the many fields, has helped to call out the half score of young men and women that are ready to commence their special preparation in the coming Autumn.

Concerning the unpromising field of labor, let me say to the young men this: It is a grand thing to struggle for truth, for a principle, and if any share of victory ever come to us, as it certainly ought, it will be a grander thing to march in as the victors of a great reform; if not, it will hardly be a less noble thing to die defending it; better so than to die disgraced by sinful concessions.

Again, we are encouraged by the appointment of a female misssionary, and the activity of our sisters in various religious works. That the future is to develop more of the women of our denomination, for the Lord's service, and that the honors and privileges of this grand ambassadorship is to be shared by that sex which was last at the cross, and first at the sepulchre. If women are good enough to be our wives and mothers, and instructors in various branches of literary and religious work, what hinders that she should fit herself to occupy any position to which she may aspire in which she can glorify God and bless her fellow-men? Who knows but that, Esther-like, many of them have been raised up for such a time and work as

But look! What is not possible? If our brethren of the Advent faith, can, with all of our hindrances, and many more, march on to victory, why not we? If Mormonism, through its hundreds of missionaries with all its folly, and sin, and curse, can achieve success, certainly the truth of God with its blessing and salvation can.

Young men, yours is a noble calling, and may the years prove you worthy and successful, and the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, shall by faith lead you to the promised land.

Men, brethren, friends of the Eastern Association, and of the Seventh-day Baptist denomination, I appeal to you to bring the needed help to the aid of our Divinity School. For permanence in the work, the demand is for large endowment, that there be no cessation in the work, but that year by year, more and more the halls be thronged, from which the numerous fields shall be supplied. Unfortunately, it may be, nevertheless truly, this work will not do itself. We have the men, will you furnish the means? We do not ask this of you as the Eastern Association because we think you behind in these things. We can never forget your rich legacies by which we have already been, and the future is still more to be blessed; but for this very reason, we know you are given to such charities, and already it has come to our ears that somehow, or somewhere, there were some exceedingly rich things in store for us: so may it be. I almost covet the power which the man of wealth posesses, for by it he may speak through more tongues than any one man has, and through more years than any one life can live. And what I say work is ours. No North, no South, no East, no West. From Rhode Island to Kansas, Minnesota to Texas, by combined effort, let us make it possible for the bloodstained banner of the cross to be unfurled by Seventh-day Baptists under every sky, and many battles fought and victories won for the Lord and his truth. The times are prohristian world being antagonistic to our pitious. The clouds are lifting. The bow of promise is spanning the sky. The Macc-donian cry falls on the air. The fields are ripening, the gleaners are entering in. Yet the fields stretch far, so far away O pray 7th. There is in our mind no reason why the Lord of the harvest, that he will yet send

Giaretia: Conducted by Ray, J

From the W COMMENCE

The Y. M. C. A nate in securing Rether annual sermo what tardy audience manifested their app close and careful Matthew 10: 24, 25 convey an idea of I by the speaker:

"The text states a naturally inquired why justice, and relentless self, and plainly states factor and reformer of ance worker constantly tion. All true reforme lation to the Christian people applaud is ple lower strata of society when derision takes the means pleasant, yet it i reward will come only sacrificing, noble ender

The inclemency evening prevented and delayed some the exercises. At Burdick, President introduced Rev. T. his lecture entitle Riders." The effo demonstrate the fe He counseled inst toleration, all-sided handling his them frank. The cold u tion of his witici pleased his auditors of genial humor an portance were brou BACCALAUREATE

One of the fine ever affords greeted day evening as he sermon before the c ally interesting m from the words Scriptures." The reach back into antique and give an account, to zation. They have been fests all that is grand a The reader has onlin the true spirit and living reality the Got impressive power. H ures? An ardent love Open the mind to it; the value of it. No of vine mind at once. an infinite mind and We must study the S light. We are to communrestricted by the coudice, with open her has stated it. A ma if he would underst studied in their own? and with a heart in Revelations of God ar tions of the people to gy, Astronomy, Zoolo were precisely what we s anding of man in tho then i ates the Scriptua study of the Bible ity, an earnest inquir know the truth and i Young men, young into a world of labor nationalities of the human life; you are for right and human will be long and seve certain; but take the 'Search the Scriptur truths; let your fait ties of God's Word have to stand alone winds of adversity and at their rage and st

"The scope of the S

THE ORO Monday evenin that June ever tive audience was cises of the ever President of the dent T. R. Willis and fervent pray Misses Tanner an cock and Dunn, dered a musical rise." The first Mr. W. D. Thom ence upon the 😘 ical Studies." T able, logical. warmly nrging t as a part of the manner of delive were good and war Following Mr. ham delivered Politics." In his structure, Mr. G. R. Bos the programme entitled The L In a well write then entered a Yan The Overlie the claims of the bly discussed the

in the different fields of labor for new are eminently qualified: but as a ee to this has been the false view so In held that Paul had consigned to eternal silence in the Christian we have outlined our view of the and it is not my design in speaking stent of the fields and demands now to lay ourselves under censure be-These things are not accomplished chaps rather a marvel that with our has in the various fields of endeavor: present and the future have their in and ever-increasing duties, which derant us wisdom and strength to do ears go by.

e causes that have worked to keep of the ministry, thank God, some we of the ministry and the people leavor to give as much encouragement d-speed as the several cases demand.

soften a hesitancy in the maiter of roung men into the ministry because esponsibility attached, no man being to call another to the work whom th not called, and deeming that if es call, the mere failure of men's urhould and will make no difference. the people, too, I can speak that they e no worthy workman suffer if it is power to avoid it. Many centuries and declared that he had never known of the righteous to be begging bread tain it is if a man is willing to bear with the people and adapt himself to conties of the times, they will not him; and one thing farther seems that when our ministers have fin-in the calm of an Autumn sky. lack of facilities among us has been d by the establishment of the school logy in connection with our Universierein is furnished instruction, as good sas the best; at least it is our own, in connection with the pressing defrom the many fields, has helped to it the half score of young men and that are ready to commence their preparation in the coming Autumn.

heir ministrations, they generally retha very comfortable competence, and et days are like the setting of an evenerning the unpromising field of labor, say to the young men this: It is a hing to struggle for truth, for a prinno if any share of victory ever come as it certainly ought, it will be a thing to march in as the victors of a eform; if not, it will hardly be a less thing to die defending it: better so o die disgraced by sinful concessions. in we are encouraged by the appointd a female misssionary, and the activour sisters in various religious works. he future is to develop more of the of our denomination, for the Lord's and that the honors and privileges grand ambassadorship is to be shared t sex which was last at the cross, and the sepulchre. If women are good to be our wives and mothers, and ctors in various branches of literary ligious work, what hinders that she hit herself to occupy any position to she may aspire in which she can glorify nd bless her fellow-men? Who knows Esther-like, many of them have aised up for such a time and work as look! What is not possible? If our en of the Advent faith, can, with all hindrances, and many more, march nctory, why not we? If Mormonism, the its hundreds of missionaries with folly, and sin, and curse, can achieve s certainly the truth of God with its og and salvation can.

ing men, yours is a noble calling, and he years prove you worthy and successof the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jahall by faith lead you to the promised brethren, friends of the Eastern Ason, and of the Seventh-day Baptist deation. I appeal to you to bring the needto the aid of our Divinity School For mence in the work, the demand is for mdowment, that there be no cessation work, but that year by year, more and the halls be thronged, from which the ons fields shall be supplied. Unforby it may be, nevertheless truly, this will not do itself. We have the men. on foreigh the means? We do not ask From as the Eastern Association bewe think you behind in these things. we have already been, and the future more to be blessed; but for this very we know you are given to such mes and already it has come to our at somehow, or somewhere, there were readingly meh things in store for us: with be. I almost covet the power the man of wealth posesses, for by it speak through more tongues than ie man has, and through more years one life can live. And what I sav Essy to all parts of our Zies. The server. No North, no South, no west From Phode Island to Minnesota to Texas by combined In the make it possible for the blood tomer of the cross to be unfuched by Law Bartists under every sky, and make there and victorias won for The clouds are lifting. The best time is spanning the sky. The fields are can fallow the air. The fields are the gleaners are entering in Yet because his; so he away 0 pear of the francest, that he will not ead HE MAKES THE THE PARTIES.

Education. Department.

Conducted by REV. J. ALLEN, D. D., Ph. D., in behalf of the Seventh-day Baptist Education Society.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT."

From the Weekly Telephone. COMMENCEMENT AT MILTON.

The Y. M. C. A. was exceedingly fortunate in securing Rev. Dr. Hodge to deliver their annual sermon. A good, but somewhat tardy audience greeted the Doctor, and manifested their appreciation of his effort by close and careful attention. The text was Matthew 10: 24, 25. The following may convey an idea of the thought as intended by the speaker:

"The text states a general truth applicable to all people of all ages. The first lesson to be drawn is that of submission to persecution. The apostles naturally inquired why they should be subjected to unjust persecution. Christ points them to the in justice, and relentless opposition endured by himself, and plainly stated The disciple is not above The same hostility confronts the benefactor and reformer of to-day. The earnest temper ance worker constantly meets this spirit of persecu lation to the Christian service. To do right when people applaud is pleasant; but to go out into the ower strata of society to uplift fallen humanity when derision takes the place of applause, is by no means pleasant, yet it is Christ-like. The crown of reward will come only as the result of earnest, selfsacrificing, noble endeavor."

LECTURE.

The inclemency of the weather Sabbath evening prevented many from coming out and delayed some time the commencing of the exercises. At about 8:30, Miss Lena Burdick, President of the Iduna Lyceum, introduced Rev. T. J. Mc Murray, who gave his lecture entitled "Hobbies and their Riders." The effort of the speaker was to demonstrate the folly of being of one idea. He counseled instead, breadth of thought, toleration, all-sidedness. His manner of handling his theme was easy, open, and frank. The cold unfeeling sarcasm of a portion of his witicisms chilled rather than pleased his auditors. Some brilliant flashes of genial humor and a general truth of importance were brought out in the lecture. BACCALAUREATE SERMON BY PRES. T. R.

WILLIAMS, D. D. One of the finest audiences that Milton ever affords greeted the Doctor on last Sunday evening as he gave the Baccalaureate sermon before the class of '82. In his usually interesting manner the Doctor spoke from the words of Christ, "Search the Scriptures." The following outline will give an idea of the thought conveyed:

"The scope of the Scriptures is very broad. They reach back into antiquity far beyond any other book, and give an account, true to nature, of a great civilization. They have been the foundation on which rests all that is grand and good in our modern life. The reader has only to search the Scriptures in the true spirit and they will bring before him in living reality the God of heaven in his divine and impressive power. How shall we search the Scriptures? An ardent love of them is the first necessity. Open the mind to it; open the heart to understand the value of it. No one can comprehend all the divine mind at once. The Bible is the revelation of an infinite mind and brings to light infinite truths. We must study the Scriptures with eyes open to the light. We are to come to the study of the Scriptures unrestricted by the conservatism of bigotry and preudice, with open hearts to accept the truth as God has stated it. A man must abide in the Scriptures if he would understand them. They should be studied in their own light, from their own standpoint and with a heart imbued with their own spirit. Revelations of God are always adapted to the conditions of the people to whom addressed. The Cosmolo gy, Astronomy, Zoology, and Anthropology of Moses were precisely what were alone possible for the unders anding of man in those early ages. Nothing better authen it ates the Scriptures than this. Let men come to a study of fhe Bible with a spirit of good will humility, an earnest inquiry for light and truth, they shall know the truth and the truth shall make them free. 'Young men, young women, you are soon to go out into a world of labor and trial, to mingle with all the nationalities of the earth, with all the conditions of human life; you are to engage in the great struggle for right and humanity. Sometimes the contests will be long and severe and the results will seem uncertain; but take this my final word of counsel, 'Search the Scriptures.' Plant your hopes on their truths; let your faith take hold of the eternal veri ties of God's Word, and though you may at times have to stand alone in the midst of the howling winds of adversity and opposition, yet you can smile at their rage and stand unshaken on the Rock of

THE OROPHILIAN LYCEUM.

Monday evening was one of the pleasantest that June ever affords. A good and attentive audience was out to listen to the exercises of the evening. Mr. D. F. Brown, President of the evening, introduced President T. R. Williams who offered an earnest and fervent prayer. Succeeding this the Misses Tanner and Wheeler and Messrs. Babcock and Dunn, in a pleasing manner, rendered a musical selection entitled, "Sunrise." The first speaker of the evening was Mr. W. D. Thomas who addressed his audience upon the "Educational Value of Classical Studies." This gentleman presented an able, logical, and scholarly production, warmly urging the claim of classical study as a part of the college curriculum. The manner of delivery and character of gestures were good and well adapted to the thought.

Following Mr. Thomas, Mr. J. Cunningham delivered an oration on "American Politics." In his article he clearly and forcibly discussed the development of our national

Mr. G. R. Boss was the next to appear on understood. the programme. He presented a recitation aim is to free their country from despotic rule. The entitled "The Last Hymn."

proclaimed the Oro's as advocates of the old fashion of having a paper containing some "local hits." The paper was a good one. Several solid articles appeared as well as some locals.

The closing effort of the evening was the address by Prof. L. Heritage, of Madison. His theme was, "The End to be Sought in Education." His address showed the strength of a broad culture, a careful observation and a generous heart. The Professor held the undivided attention of his audience to the

The music of the evening was very pleasing throughout. The singers each acquitted himself well. Miss Ella Burdick presided at the piano with grace and skill. The session, as a whole, was a complete success, and reflected credit upon the management.

GRAND CHORAL CONCERT.

One of the most pleasant events of Commencement Week was the fine concert by the Choral Union under the direction of Prof. N. Wardner Williams, on Tuesday afternoon, in the Seventh-day Baptist church. At the appointed hour, although the elements were quite threatening, the church was filled with lovers of music. The opening ance worker constantly meets this spirit of persecution. All true reformers must expect it. A second lesson to be learned from the text is that of our relesson to be learned from the text is that of our relesson. Which is a fine bearing, which secured for him from Weber, was played by Miss Nena Cook, from the start the attention of the audience. Miss Hattie Denison, and Mr. Williams, in a | The thought of the oration was brought out very artistic manner; after which Racine's | in clear, lucid language, accompanied by ap-"Athalie," music by Mendelssohn, was rendered by the Choral Society. Miss Clara Dunn read the verses, accompanied by Prof. only to one of her ability and training. The solos were sung by Misses Mary Haven and cal sense. Ione Grove soprano, and Mrs. S. B. Lewis and Mrs. W. P. Clarke, alto. These ladies are all worthy of mention, Mrs. Lewis in her contralto solos receiving general applause. Miss Matie Goodrich as piano accompanist was ably assisted by an orchestra composed of Messis. C. F. Bingham, C. M. Post, D. F. Brown, O. G. Bennett, and A. W. Allen. The rendition of the "Athalie" by the Choral Society was one of she grandest musical attempts ever made by Milton talent, and was very effectively performed.

The Choral Union, in all the choruses, evinced the fact that they had been under the most careful and critical training. All express themselves as delighted with he concert. It is to be hoped that this concert may become one of the permanent attractions of Commencement Week.

THE IDUNAS AND PHILOMATHIANS. One of the finest audiences that ever assembled in the College Chapel greeted the Philomathians and Idunas Tuesday evening. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. W. C. Whitford, after which a quartette consisting of Miss Haven, Mrs. W. P. Clarke, Prof. N. W. Williams, and Mr. W. B. Anderson, rendered Mendelssohn's "To God on High." The first oration of the evening was delivered by Mr. C. B. Hull, of Lima. The subject treated was "Religion." It was other necessary work prevented Mr. Hull-

Mr. C. W. Hathaway, of Waukesha, skillfully sang a solo.

siderably marred by hesitancy.

from securing thorough practice in delivery. The good effect of the effort was con-

Following this, Miss M. J. Henry gave a recitation entitled "The Relief of Luck-

"Things are not What they Seem," was the theme ably treated by Mr. C. M. Post.

The oration of Miss N. L. Green evinced thorough study and a deep insight into the subject treated. Her manner was effective and natural. The effort was one of the finest of the evening. "Rescript" was the title of her oration.

Then Mr. W. B. Miller addressed the audience upon the subject of "Patriotism." For a young speaker Mr. Miller, does exceed-

COMMENCEMENT DAY.

The morning dawned inauspiciously. Notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the heavens, about 9 o'oclock the people began to pour into town by teams and cars. The band pealed forth its music from College Hill. The people assembled on the campus. The exercises of the day were opened with gan the delivery of the salutatory oration, and did himself great credit by his manifestation of cool self-possession in the midst | manifesting their good-will. of confusion. Dame Nature was in a weep ing mood, and "refused to be comforted. President Williams announced that the exercises would be concluded at the Seventhday Baptist church; whereupon there was a grand rush to get to the church and secure seats. Of course, the church was soon filled with people, many being unable to find seats. Chaos finally changed to order, and the au dience assumed an attitude to listen.

The band rendered another musical selection, after which Mr. Brown delivered his oration on "Nihilism." In this effort, Mr. Brown displayed many of the elements of true oratory. His tone of voice, expression of countenance, gesture of hand, all seemed was good as will be seen from the following:

"The attention of the world has been concentrated the endeavor to understand Nihilism. It is difficult for us to understand the meaning of such a movement. What is Nihilism? It is usually mis-The Nihilists are revolutionists. Their Czar is responsible for the wrongs of the Nihilists. The Russian people are entirely defenseless against In a well written article, Mr. C. J. Rollis the cruelty and rapacity of the officers of the govern-then entered an earnest plea for the Red ment. The Russian always feels that he is under Ine Orophilian Standard then presented the claims of the Crophilians to journalism. Mr. Sears McHenry edited the paper, and Mr. Sears McHenry edited the paper edited t kind has for its basis some philosophical creed. A profound student of Russian character says that, psychologically Nihilism is the outcome of two opposite tendencies in the modern Russian mind; the tendency towards absolute idealism on the one hand and that of cynical realism on the other. The natural surroundings of Russia have had much to do in forming the national character. Nihilism may be said to take its rise in the earliest formation of Russian society. It threatens soon to overflow all Russia. The Nihilist party is composed of some of the most thoughtful, the wealthiest and best educated people of Russia. It has two factions. The extreme party propagate communistic ideas among the peo-The demands of the main party are only equal ity of political rights, actual liberty of person and the expression of opinions, political autonomy and representative government. Russia is fast imbibing the theories of human rights. She has already con ceived the western idea of political organization The old system of power will soon decay and a new form of government will take its place. The caste systems must be broken down, then the nation will recover from its impaired growth. If not, the pent up forces in the subterranean volcano will culminate in a powerful eruption.'

"Use your Talent" was the title of the oration delivered by Miss Amy West, of Utica. This lady spoke with full self-possession. Her enunciation was clear and dis tinct, her gestures good and appropriate.

Mr. Wm. Fowlie, of Sheridan, discoursed upon the "Force of an Idea." Mr. Fowlie propriate gestures.

Miss Lena Burdick, of Milton, then called was fraught with good thought and practi-

The audience then listened to Mr. Thomas J. Fowlie, who spoke upon the "Choice of masterly way. His earnest, positive style eral theological views and Scripture interevinced a strong conviction of the truthfulness of his statements, a thing highly important to successful speaking.

"Obligations of Youth" was the theme of an oration ably delivered by Louisa S. Thompson, of Fulton.

Miss Edith A. Merrifield, of Fulton, delivered a thoughtful and scholarly oration on the writings and character of Wm. Cullen Bryant. Her manner of delivery was earnest and effective.

Mr. Henderson, of Patch Grove, then took the floor and presented the valedictory oration entitled "The Domain of Knowledge." This was a scholarly, critical, and finely-cut valedictory remarks were somewhat novel in design. Their novelty, together with the interspersing of veins of sparkling humor, greatly pleased the audience as was shown a brief extract from his oration:

"Knowledge leads to obedience, virtue and power. It also commands the inviting eminence of observation and delight. It has a farther mission in enlarg handled in a skillful manner. A press of ing and enriching the soul. It is subjective. It is thought-forms consciously adjusted to distinguish the nature and relations of the soul. The world center of minimum thought is nature's vanishing point. As the soul mounts into new life, all things are created anew. Our sages have given us new heavens and a new earth. The value of knowledge depends not so much on its bulk as on its organic grade. No bankrupt mind can obtain at the senseexchange a diamond fact. There are oak, apple, and rose regions of thought; but in the shades of ignorance mushrooms abound.

"In the pursuit of knowledge no one works alone. Every fact discovered has its bearing on the whole body of doctrine."

At the conclusion of this oration, the band again sent forth its joyous music; thereupou Pres. Williams presented diplomas of graduation to the following who had completed the Teachers' Course: Misses Amy 8. West, Louisa S. Thompson, Edith A. Merrifield, Abbie P. Burdick, and Messrs. William Fowlie, and Thomas J. Fowlie. The Degree of Bachelor of Science was conferred upon Messrs. D. F. Brown and Geo. M. Henderson. Prof. J. N. Humphrey, of the Whitewater Normal School, received the degree of Master of Arts in course. In glancing down upon the stage at the conclusion of the programme, huge winrows of floral tributes were seen surroudning the different speakers. Nature had seemed to outprayer by Rev. W. C. Whitford. After do herself in blossoming forth in her gaymusic by the band, Mr. D. F. Brown be- est colors just at commencement time, and the many friends and admirers of the class availed themselves of the opportunity of

> After the conferring of the degrees, Pres. Williams pronounced the benediction, after which the audience dispersed to find some-

THE ALUMNI.

The ladies of the village provided a sumptuous feast of good things for the alumni. A large number of the alumni and old students accepted the generous invitation of the ladies, and manifested their appreciation by partaking very earnestly of the supply of good things. Dinner being over, the the first day out, just as the sabbatic law business of the association was in order. Miss A. S. Whitford, '81, presided with dig- in the universe of God besides himself, that pliant and ready to give force and strength to the delivery. The thought of the oration gramme for next year: President, Prof. L 8. Heritage; Vice-President, Geo. Henderson, '82; Secretary and Treasurer, D. F. Brown, '82.

At half past two-o'clock, the people reassembled on the campus to listen to the alumni and class exercises. The exercises THE CLASS OF '82.

At 4 P. M., Mr. Wm. Fowlie, President of the class of '82, took charge of the Class exercises. The following programme was well carried out: Poem, E. A. Merrifield; History, T. J. Fowlie; Prophecy, L. S. Thompson; Toast, Class Tree, Amy West; Toast, Alma Mater, A. P. Burdick; Essay, G. M. Henderson; President's Address, W. Fowlie.

SENIOR CONCERT.

The Concert on the evening of Commencement Day was a decided success. As usual, the band did well. The solo by Prof. Bingham received an enthusiastic encore. The readings of Miss Clara Dunn were given in a highly artistic and pleasing manner. All express themselves as much pleased with the Concert as the closing entertainment of Commencement Week.

Sabbath Reform.

EDITED BY - - REV. D. E. MAXSON, D. 1

SKINNER vs. VINET.

the Evangelical Ministry," was written with great ability, but from a Frenchman's stand- of rational procedure. An army of undrilled, point of thinking, and in the French lan- unofficered, and uninspired soldiers have guage. To make it available to American never achieved many victories over skilled, the attention of the audience to "The In- theological scholars, Dr. Skinner, late of the drilled, organized, and veteran soldiers. un-Williams on the piano, in a manner possible | fluence of Want." Her well-written oration | Union Theological Seminary, New York, | der command of accomplished and experigave it an English dress, accompanying it enced leaders. The veterans of France would with able and valuable notes. The able only have achieved wreck and ruin but for translator has unbounded admiration for his Napoleon and his marshals to lead them. Profession." He handled his theme in a author, and most heartily endorses his genpretations. When he comes to the question | heat but for Luther and his coadjutors to of the Sabbath, however, he has to part com- bring it to focal points against the enemies pany with his author, who affirms that the and obstacles of the movement. Camps for "Sabbath was abolished by Christianity." drilling soldiers will soon degenerate to riot Against this teaching, the translator utters without competent drill-masters. vigorous protest and cogent reason. He says, "If the Sabbath were an institution of | ways been, and always will be, the important the theocracy, like the appointment of the factor of all progress, all valuable achievecities of refuge, etc., then when the new dis- ment under organic agencies. An earnest, pensation entered, it did indeed pass away educated and able ministry is the all-imwith the other theocratic institution of Ju- portant, if not indispensable, demand of our daism; but the Sabbath, in its ideal, was no | Sabbath reform movement at the present literary production. The style of the speak- more Judaic or theocratic than marriage. the day on which he who built all things, the founding of our University and other the fiirst day."

a maxim of jurisprudence, accepted throughout Christendom, that if an act of legislation be repealed or changed, it must be done by thing to satisfy the cravings of the inner the authority that enacted it, and the repeal or change be announced to its subjects in terms as clear and universal as those which announced the original statute. If, then, Christianity (God) as Dr. Skinner affirms, did not legislate the seventh day out nor the first day in then it follows by irresistible conclusion that the seventh day is in and enacted them to be, since there is no power can change an edict of his, by so much as one jot or tittle." Nothing but "an explicit and magisterial act" of Christianity, can substitute the first day for the seventh day in the sabbatic law of the author of Christianity. This is so nearly axiomatic, as to have become a universal legal maxim. of the alumni consisted of impromptu According to our learned author, the first speeches by Prof. A. A. Miller, Rev. O. U. day of the week did not take the place of Whitford, Prof. N. Wardner Williams, Prof. the seventh "by means of any legislative inevitable, that the sabbatic law, enacting the observance of the seventh day, as the Sabbath day of the Lord God, remains in full force. Now, while this is so plain that the commonest minds need not be mistaken, we are thankful that such masters of thought lend us their aid, and we shall be still more thankful when they shall so far break the fetters of prejudice and indifference, as to put the inevitable conclusion from their own premises into their own lives, by accepting and observing God's unchanged and unchangable sabbatic law.

FUNDAMENTALS.

The nearer reformers keep to first truths and fundamental facts, the firmer will be their tread and the more rapid their progress. It will matter but little for Sabbath reform, however lustily its advocates may shout for it, and however busily they may work for it. if they throw themselves out upon the winds and currents of haphazard, and float, or ·Vinet's "Pastoral Theology; or Theory of row, or sail, or steam, this way and that, regardless of the laws of true organic life, and The Protestant reformation would only have been a fitful glare of disturbed light and

Educated, able, earnest leadership has altime. Fully realizing this from the very er was didactic rather than oratorical. His Its date was ante-judaic. The Sabbath was beginning of our educational enterprise in ceased and rested from his work—the seventh | schools, we have had theological training upday which God blessed and sanctified, be- permost in our minds. Our two colleges are by the prolonged applause that followed the cause that in it, he had rested from all his doing a noble work in the field of scientific work which God created and made. The and literary culture. Though not yet fully ideal of the Sabbath transfers us beyond eudowed, they are in healthy, vigorous workthe date of Judaism, and beyond all local ing order, fully maintaining their hold upon and variable interests and communities, the public confidence and their place in the placing us at the standpoint of humani- world of letters. But our professional schools ity, discovers to us as the just sphere of the are yet all in the future, except that of theof our mind is our real and only world. The sabbatic law, the whole race of man, regard- ology, and that is as yet only incipient. We ed as possessing a religious nature, in cir- have made a beginning, and the few we have cumstances such as must needs be while a graduated are an honor to us, nobly filling habitant of the earth. Assuming that man | their posts of duty and danger in the front was to lead a religious life on the earth, we of our advancing lines. But they are all too can not avoid seeing that the Sabbath is of | few. It is not too much to aim at the thorthe highest advantage, and the Divine wis- ough literary and theological training of the dom and goodness in sanctifying it for man | whole ministry of the future. Our college can not but be acknowledged. Indeed, it opportunities are now good, and growing seems impossible to think that Christianity, better. Shall our Theological Department without a constant miracle, could attain its | now take its place, and offer equal opportunipurpose if the Sabbath, such as it was from | ties with our college departments, and, with the beginning—the Sabbath in its original them, be kept growing, to meet the growing ideal and influence—should be denied it. | demand of our cause for men of might in the Was, then, the Sabbath abolished by Chris- | Lord? The Trustees of the University, true tianity? Gal. 4:10, and Col. 2:18 do not to their trust, are maturing plans to reopen refer to this subject. 'It (Christianity) the Theological Department at the beginning did not legislate out the seventh day; it did of the Fall Term in September. A good not explicitly and magisterially legislate in class of students are through their college courses, and waiting to enter upon their theo-Did the learned Professor of Union Theo- logical studies, and a goodly number of others logical Seminary realize the full force of are within one and two years of readiness to this frank admission? To start with, he enter. Professors, deemed competent for assumes the seventh day to be the day which | the work, have been appointed to chairs God blessed and sanctified, and enacted its enough to carry on a liberal course of theoobservance into "the sabbatic law for the logical instruction. It only remains that whole race of man." Now it has passed into the endowment of the Department be made sufficient to enable the Professors to devote their whole time and energy to their work; and it is only in that way that we can achieve the scholarship demanded by our position as Sabbath reformers.

To make our position commanding, our talent must be made commanding; but that can never be made commanding so long as we drive our ministers and professors by the whip and spur of work beyond their powers, and then leave them in the embarrassment of straitened private affairs to work and wear under embarrassments that cut off life just when, under better provisions, it would begin to be ripest and richest. A moderate salary will keep the Professors in our Theological Department at work the year round, at work entirely for the denominational cause right at its center of life. There is no source of revenue for this purpose, but funds contrib-uted by the people for whom they work. Will the people contribute these funds, and open and keep open the Theological Department of the University? The Trustees now make this appeal, and, in the name of the interest committed to them, they ask for the means to go on with this most important. part of our work. Still hoping to gather these funds without the expense of a

The Sabbath Becorder.

Alfred Centre, N. Y., Fifth-day, July 27, 1882.

All communications, whether on business or for publication, should be addressed to "THE SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, Allegany Co., N. Y."

NOT THE MAN, BUT HIS PRINCIPLES.

It was wisely said by Daniel Webster, " war with principles, not with men," and this should be the rule of action in all debate, and especially on religious subjects. It is therefore not of Mr. Robert Ingersoll that I write, but of the principles he advocates. It is because he ridicules what he does not understand, denies what he can not disprove, and, in the place of the blessed Bible, with its offers of salvation, he would have us accept what he himself confesses is helpless and hopeless to the soul in the hour of its great est emergency, death. As an instance of his ridicule of what he has not studied, I have marked the place in his lecture on "Mistakes of Moses," where he grows exceeding merry over the thought that there was but one window to the ark, and that on the top, and but twenty-two inches square. If Mr. Ingersoll had consulted any critical commentary on the passage, and especially if he had read the original, as he ought to before he passed judgment upon it, he would have learned that in the Hebrew which Moses wrote the word window is not used at all but what we might expect, the exact word for skylight, and that these skylights were not only to be on the top of the ark, but to extend downwards through the different stories. As an instance of his perversion of the truth, he says in the same lecture, "There is not one word about woman in the Old Testament, except the word of shame and humiliation." But where can be found a more charming story of woman's love and devotion than that given in the book of Ruth? Where is there a nobler record of woman's worth and woman's heroism than in the book of Esther? Where in human writings is woman as a wife and mother more truly praised than in the last chapter of Proverbs? It is the Bible that always has and always does exalt and honor woman. But it is the Scripture doctrine of the atonement that Mr. Ingersoll most abhors. In speaking of this he says, "I have said that I | ly repulsive and hurtful. In order to have would never make a lecture at all without attacking this doctrine. I did not care what I started out on; I was always going to attack this doctrine." But his standard of right and wrong is not very decided. In giving his second and final reason why a thing is right, he says, "It is right because I like it." Then if the drunkard likes rum, it makes it right to drink it. If the libertine likes to indulge his lust, it is right for him to do so. Do away with the idea of God and the certainty of man's meeting him in judgment, throw aside the Bible with all its moral safe-guards, and the inevitable logic will be, Do what you like, and enjoy yourself the best you can, for there is no God and no hereafter. But the hopelessness of Mr. Ingersoll's belief is heard in that wail of sorrow he uttered at his brother's grave in Washington, when he cried: "Whether in midsea or among the breakers on the farther shore, a wreck must mark at last the end of each and all." How different from the dying | my household. When I sit down and look words of Payson: "The celestial city is now in full view!"

CHARITY.

It is not always easy for us to see ourselves as others see us, and it is still more difficult to see ourselves as we really are. People are, without doubt, very often quite ignorant of table feelings toward our erring fellow-men. and the motives of others are misjudged, the public. Let any one reflect that it is boat seemed to be moving forward, and someseek our highest good, we take in all of the and that we will furnish the use of the Northnew location, as will be seen by the heading and he will be more charitable in his judgments of the motives of others, where there are many elements of the situation he can not know to a certainty.

Perhaps the most inexcusable lack of charity is in those cases where people are uncharitable in pleading for charity. It is no unusual thing for one to throw out unkind insinuations, and say harsh and unjust things against others because they have not been more charitable in their judgments; aspersing the motives of others because they have presumed to have and express any opinions concerning his acts; doing most conspicuously what he condemns in others, and while he condemns them. The charity which "suffereth long and is kind" will enable one to "judge nothing before the time till the Lord comes, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the heart."

UPS AND DOWNS.

The nearer the disciple of Christ approaches his Master, the more will the double life he is living be manifest, both in his own consciousness, and in his outward life to others. When Christ said to his disciples, all so careful of his physical necessities, "I have bread double life he was living, of the world above on every side, but not distressed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not fortradiction was still more startling in the is a matter of personal choice. closing beattitude of Christ on the Mount: "Blessed are ye when men shall revile you and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake."

Now there is certainly one phase of our human nature to which all this is exceedingsuch revilings and slanders for "blessings," there certainly must be a pole of our natures to which they are attractive; some phase of our being which goes for supply and support out beyond the things of time and sense. It is the Christian's faith in Christ, his confidence in the eternity of truth, that upsprings against the down-pressings of adversity, and makes it even "good to be afflicted," blessed to be reviled.

Beecher, in one of his recent "Lecture

Room Talks," said in his own terse style: "There is to everybody a certain amount of bitterness; nor should any one wish to throw it out of the cup. The things to be suffered are perpetual reminders to men; and of course every one should be grateful for so much of disappointment, of thwarting or of difficulty as is necessary for him. I do not know that I am grateful for all my mistakes: but I am grateful for every mistake that I have made which bas kicked back and made me feel badly. And I am grateful for the mercy of God which has come to me through it all over, it seems very much like a fabric woven of silver and gold, with just enough dark in the background to show the figure D. E. M.

FEAR CAST OUT.

An apostle describes a class of persons as being all their life-time subject to bondage through the fear of death. Many persons, the character of the motives which prompt | no doubt, can bear testimony to the fact that them to a given action. They do not know it is a cruel bondage. In the passage just This, we are taught, we must seek after. their own hearts. They are not aware how | referred to, the writer plainly declares that much prejudice, inclination, passion, or it was the purpose of Christ's sacrificial selfishness of some kind enters into their death to deliver men from that bondage. motives. Indeed, we shall find it true, that | And yet many Christian people remain subthere are sinful elements in our best endeav- | ject to it. From the fear of death, the field ors. Hence, when we have done our best we of human distresses enlarges through fear. are to account ourselves unprofitable serv- | In a word, fear is the Christian's great eneants. We shall still need the forbearance and my. The gospel of Christ is a gospel of mercy of God. Knowing and confessing love, and "perfect love casteth out fear." that our lives are full of mistakes and fail- The prophet also saw the clear remedy for the Word of God, and also by all that we obures, which would be to us surely fatal, were this source of distress when, looking up to serve in life. It also suggests the correct it not for the compassion of our God, we God as a personal Savior, he cried, "I will law to guide us in all indulgences and often find ourselves possessed with unchari- trust, and not be afraid." Here, then, is amusements which are not sinful in themthe Scriptural antidote for fear. "Perfect selves. Some things are sinful in themselves, The whistle was blown at regular intervals, that extent that does not interfere with our of the Missionary Board to send Bro. Wheeland the conclusions are promptly given to and the bells were rung. Sometimes the securing our highest good. And when we er to labor in a tent in Kansas and Nebraska, columns of the Recorder, been moved to a

the tide. Then, strange bells and whistles were heard, and the rushing sound of other boats and the voices of men, coming out of danger, perhaps more imminent than any one knew. Although in the midst of the night, held within half a mile of where I am now some of the passengers left their rooms and writing. Numbers doubtless asked themrushed from one side of the vessel to the other, and peered out into the darkness, as if in some mysterious way this performance by so doing, it would not interfere with your would add something to their own or other's safety; thus, in great fear and unrest, they passed the wretched night. There were others who seemed to feel that the officers and crew were skillful, tried, and trusty men, and that there could be no greater safety than in trusting the management of things to them. In this assurance they remained quiet, slept until morning, and reached New York just as soon as the fearing and troubled ones, and, in every sense of the word, in better condition. In this simple incident, is a lesson for the Christian. God is our Father. Jesus Christ is our Savior and Elder Brother. To doubt or fear, whatever the darkness or seeming danger, is to dishonor God, and bring nothing but trouble and leanness to our own souls. Perfect trust does not imply ignorance of possible dangers, or indifference to them, but it does preclude to eat that ye know not of," he hinted of the | that helpless anxiety which is born of fear and begets weakness and sorrow. It does the world, and of the exhaustless grain-fields | not preclude the necessity for earnest and out of which his upper nature was drawing careful endeavor to overcome difficulties, and its supplies. Paul, too, had a keen percep- to ward off dangers, but it recognizes in God tion and vivid experience of this two-fold a loving Father who cares for his own, and nature; and of how strangely it manifests | who is greater than all difficulties and danitself in the Christian's experience. To the gers, and who is better to us than our fears. ears that hear not it is strange contradiction | It makes its own the confidence of the proph-Paul utters when he says, "We are troubled et, "Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust and not be afraid, for the Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song, he also is saken; cast down, but not destroyed; always | become my salvation." In this confidence bearing about in the body the dying of the there is perfect peace. Out of it there is Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might | fear and unrest. What God's will is respectbe made manifest in our body." Life and | ing his children in this matter, there can be death strangely blended! The apparent con | no doubt. What their actual condition is

HIGHER VS. LOWER.

All ends which men have may be divided in two classes, subordinate and ultimate. An end which is subordinate in one man's esteem, may be an ultimate end with another. For example, the acquisition of wealth is subordinate in the esteem of most; happiness, or the good that one may do with money acquired, being the ultimate end. Yet in the esteem of the miser, or the avaricious, wealth may be an ultimate end. Health is a subordinate end; so is knowledge. That ultimate end which is chief in one's desire, or is the object of his choice, becomes his supreme end. Every man has some end which is supreme. He may not have examined his state of feeling, or choice to ascertain what it is, but every person has a supreme end. It may be comfort, or happiness, or power, or wealth. It should be the glory of God; or in other words, it should be his supreme end to please God. This is righteousness; and in being righteous, we secure our own highest good. Some individuals suppose that the glory of God, or that which is equivalent, the obedience of the creature to God, is set over against our own best good that to do the will of God lies on the one side, and the best good of the creature on the other. This is a mistake. What God requires of us, and our own greatest good, both lie in the same line; they are not only parallel, but they are identical. | the keenest thrust yet given the English of | track with his team, was struck by the on-The sooner one can realize this, and act ac- the Revisers. Publishers, Funk & Wagnalls, cordingly, he will secure for himself the 10 and 12 Dey Street, New York. greatest good that is possible to him. But our highest good can only be secured through the subordination of some good that is lower. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all necessary things shall be added unto you." This is in accord with a statement made by Dr. Hopkins, that whoever "in any department aims at and of the Tract Society wish to maintain a tent erings for the memory of the dead, and the attains the highest good, will also, and in so doing, attain, not merely an adequate ka, that we will cheerfully authorize our The large and tasteful floral emblems conamount, but the highest amount of subordinate good." This truth is confirmed by labor in it." Many a one has fortified himself with the love "-perfect "trust." It may be applied | e. g., unnatural lust, stealing, lying, | the tent for use in this Association, and from idea that he was fearlessly and faithfully in experiences not strictly religious, as well etc. These are not a subordinate good, but him learned his willingness to have the tent contending for principle, when he was selfish- as to religious experience. A few nights are incompatible with any true good. But used-in Kansas and Nebraska by Bro. S. R. ly seeking to have his own way, and was in- since, the steamer running through Long there is the pleasure of the senses: wealth, Wheeler; therefore, at a meeting of the spired entirely by bitter vindictive feelings. Island Sound, between Stonington and fame, health; these are a subordinate good, Board, held at West Hallock, Ill., June 25, by Messrs. Rogers and Clarke, under the Influenced by personal prejudices, the acts New York, was overtaken in a dense fog. and we are at liberty to seek them to just 1882, "it was voted that we accept the offer the thick darkness, indicated the presence of | will always be led aright. Yesterday there was a large show, circus, menagerie, etc., selves the question, "Can I attend this show living for the highest ends which it is possible for you to live for. But if it would thus interfere, then stay away. E. M. D.

> HARPER'S MAGAZINE for August is a brilliant number. It opens with a fine frontispiecè, a full-page illustration by Abbey, engraved by Closson. We note especially two bright Summer articles—both splendidly illustrated-"Some Western Resorts," by John A. Butler, and "The Cruise of the 'Nameless,'" by Barnet Phillips. Col. T. W. Higginson contributes "The First Americans," and entertaining and instructive historical paper. Mr. Lathrop's fourth paper of "Spanish Vistas," introduces the reader people, both East and West, come up as a to Andalusian delights and the splendors of memorial before God, that much good may the Alhambra. Norwich" are treated by Miss Alice R. Hobbins in an interesting article, illustrated by views and pertraits. George M. Dawson contributes an entertaining sketch of the Queen Charlotte Islands and their native inhabitants, the Haida Indians, with illustra-T. E. Prendergast contributes an article on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the wonderful region - the "New Northwest," which it is about to open to civilization. The article is illustrated with an excellent map. The number contains three strong short stories: "A Rebel," by Julian Hawthorne; "Laquelle?" by Mrs. Z. B. Gustafson; and "A St. Augustine Episode," by Miss A. R. Macfarlane. Poems are contributed by Edgar Fawcett and William Winter. The Editoral Departments maintain their old vigor.

In the North American Review for August, the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher writes of 'Progress in Religious Thought." T. V. Powderly, the official head of the Knights of Labor, contributes a temperate article on "The Organization of Labor." The wellknown British military correspondent, Archibald Forbes, writes of "The United States Army." "Woman's Work and Woman's Wages," by Charles W. Elliott, is a forcible statament of one of the most urgent problems of our time. In a highly interesting essay on "The Ethics of Gambling," O. B. Frothingham analyzes the passion for play with rare ingenuity. "The Remuneration of Public Servants," by Frank D. Y. Carpenter, gives matter for serious consideration, both to the civil service reformers and their opponents. Finally, there is a paper on "Artesian Wells upon the Great Plains," by Dr. C. A. White, of the Smithsonian Institution. The Review is sold by booksellers generally.

WE have just received a copy of the "Ver- therefore, expected. dict March," composed by Eugene L. Blake. It is written in an easy style, so that it can be played on either piano or organ. The title page contains portraits of Hon. Geo. B. Corkhill, Hon. J. K. Porter, and Judge W. S. Cox; also a picture of the twelve jurymen who convicted the assassain of our late beloved President. Price, 40 cents per copy, or 3 copies for $1. Postage stamps taken as There is no danger that our people will becurrency. F. W. Helmick, Publisher, 180 Elm Street, Cincinnati, O.

THE REVISERS' ENGLISH, by G. Washington Moon, the famous author of "The Dean's English." This little book has created much interest in England, and is, unquestionably,

Communications.

UNITED EFFORT.

19, 1882, "it was voted, that, if the Board riage festivities to the funeral, the sad gaththe ensuing Summer in Kansas and Nebrasmissionary on that field, S. R. Wheeler, to tributed for the occasion, far more express-run the tent the coming Summer, communicated with Bro. C. D. Potter, who furnished

patible with, our greatest good. Let the er therein." "It was also voted to secure Christian ask himself, "Can I indulge in the services of Bro. L. D. Seager, of Jackson this, and not forfeit a higher good?" and he | Centre, Ohio (with whom correspondence had been held), as assistant to Bro. Wheeler

The Board, in view of the fact that money would be required to pay Bro. Seager's salary and expenses, and the incidental expenses and be blameless?" "Yes" you could, if of running the tent, recommended to the Association that the sum of $175 be apportioned among the churches to meet this demand upon us; and the Association took action accordingly. They also ordered the tent shipped at once to whatever place Bro. Wheeler should designate.

It is earnestly hoped that this union of effort will meet the hearty approval of the churches, and that the necessary funds will be cheerfully and promptly furnished; and we trust, with the blessing of God, that this tent work will be well done, meeting the approval of our blessed Master and our brethren and sisters in Christ. These brethren are now on the field at Marion, Marion Co., Kansas. May the prayers and alms of our "Some Worthies of Old | be accomplished by these feeble instrumen-L. T. ROGERS.

Corresponding Secretary of the Auxiliary Tract Board of the North-Western Association.

A REQUEST.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Managers of our Missionary Society, the Recording Secretary was instructed to revise the list of life members, and to record the same in a book to be procured for that purpose. In this book it is desired to make an entry of the date at which persons were constituted life members, and the date of the death of those members who have died. Documents are at hand by which it is made a comparatively easy task to find the former dates, but to ascertain, by personal inquiry of living friends, the various dates of the death of the one hundred and twenty, or twenty-five members who have died, is much more difficult. If persons who read this notice will take the list of life members of the Missionary Society, as published in the Minutes of 1881, and will look up the names of their personal friends in that list who have died, and the date of whose death they remember or can easily find, and will note the same on a postal card, and forward to the undersigned at Westerly, R. I., they will help to make easy an otherwise difficult task, and confer a great favor upon the Board. If, in some cases, information should be given by several persons concerning the death of the same member, no harm will be done. A few minutes time and a postal card is all that is asked of any one person in this matter, and the help they will then render will be of great value. A prompt and general response is, L. A. PLATTS.

Home Mews.

Dr. Maxson is giving a series of Sabbath sermons to his people on Sabbath mornings. come any too well acquainted with the doctrines which distinguish us and justify our separate denominational organization.

AN UNEXPECTED DEATH.

Walter Cummings, son of Geo. Cummings, of Little Genesee, while crossing the railroad coming train, and killed, almost instantly, Thursday, July 12th, aged 24 years. It is the old story over again: "There is but a step betwixt me and death." Sixteen days less than one year ago, full of life, youth and hope, was the wedding, when Alace A. Green, the young widow of to-day, was the happy bride. How quick the unforeseen At a Missionary Board Meeting held April | transition from the congratulations of marservice for the consolation of the living. ive than words can be, told the bereaved that Encouraged by this action, the Auxiliary other hearts were sharing their sorrow and Tract Board of the North-Western Associa- sympathizing with their grief, and the large tion, after failing both in men and means to assembly that followed the stricken friends to the grave of their beloved, expressed the wide-spread feeling for them in this hour of affliction.

TENT WORK-AUBURN.

To the Friends of Sabbath Reform,-The auspices of the American Sabbath Tract very easy for him to mistake his own motives, times to be standing still or drifting with lower that does not interfere, or is not incom- Western tent with a man to assist Bro. Wheel- of this article. We did not leave the former proved to be. The from the first, been other places, but the hearers and fewer wor But no two places a alike, in the make-up the manner of taking varied accordingly, in the people. Our con the divine direction, a with God. We are mi each place as short as over the more ground do thorough work, and inquirers after truth. cuse and Utica also have completed a "circ zoid, in tent work in viz., on one side are N another, are Bingh Hornellsville; on and the remaining side named, with a variati going to Cincinnatus gression in the time, t ing communications w from time to time. from the earnest, lor vineyard, assure us the lowing us, many hear true to this work, and in its behalf. This he up, amid the toils a Each new field visite brotherhood of those God's holy Sabbath ar the morals and manne see a growth, a pro this last great reform we are to welcome Bro Bro. L. D. Seager, to te end of our denominal auspices of the Missio sion is a unique one, and prosecuted by u our Boards and exec the standard method location, Ithaca, becau

in our meetings, for

be at its height whe

this place. Indeed, in visited with the tent;

up so quickly, grand much-loved Ithaca.

more are meeting regu

some desiring baptism,

ed for steady, honest,

in new, but deep and

Sabbath, and a pure visit them, before les tent field. You will

here; we can not tell j

Sabbath-breaking de gain us or entitle us cess. Think of this,

Your brother in

There is a great an in this village, by ten ing, where Gospel Te About a week ago, Mr a stranger, came here seven or eight tempe up a tent and comme He is a reformed and a workman in the ten or five of his compan self, are good musici they draw a big crow 500 to 1,200 who can his enthusiasm in the perance reform. Or signed the pledge thi of temperance rises to it may go on until th country is thorough vestage of intemperat have to engage in ho suits, or starve. It work in reforms of that our denomination beginning in tent wo

A very wet, cool good and mostly stac very little hav made dant. Stock fat. Fruit scarce. The Railroad has "plays stock has been remi shops in Clarksburg and trestles are fast t Our Sabbath-school this Summer. Meet number of brethrens made a very interi county lest morth friends who reside t ein." "It was also voted to secure wices of Bro. L. D. Seager, of Jackson Ohio (with whom correspondence en held), as assistant to Bro. Wheeler Board, in view of the fact that money be required to pay Bro. Seager's salaexpenses, and the incidental expenses ning the tent, recommended to the Ason that the sum of $175 be apportioned the churches to meet this demand upand the Association took action acgly. They also ordered the tent

d at once to whatever place Bro. er should designate.

earnestly hoped that this union of will meet the hearty approval of the nessand that the necessary funds will cerfully and promptly furnished; and ist, with the blessing of God, that this ork will be well done, meeting the arof our blessed Master and our brethd sisters in Christ. These brethren won the field at Marion, Marion Co., May the prayers and alms of our both East and West, come up as a rial before God, that much good may implished by these feeble instrumen-L. T. ROGERS, onding Secretary of the Auxiliary Tract d of the North-Western Association.

A REQUEST. recent meeting of the Board of Manfour Missionary Society, the Recordcretary was instructed to revise the list members, and to record the same in a be procured for that purpose. In ook it is desired to make an entry of te at which persons were constituted embers, and the date of the death of members who have died. Documents hand by-which it is made a comparaeasy task to find the former dates, but ertain, by personal inquiry of living the various dates of the death of the undred and twenty, or twenty-five ers who have died, is much more diffi-If persons who read this notice will he list of life members of the Missionciety, as published in the Minutes of and will look up the names of their ial friends in that list who have died, e date of whose death they remember easily find, and will note the same on Card, and forward to the undersigned sterly, R. I., they will help to make n otherwise difficult task, and confer a favor upon the Board. If, in some information should be given by several s concerning the death of the same er, no harm will be done. A few minme-and a postal card is all that is asked one person in this matter, and the ey will then render will be of great A prompt and general response is, re, expected. L. A. PLATTS.

Home Mews.

New York.

ALFRED. Maxson is giving a series of Sabbath is to his people on Sabbath mornings. is no danger that our people will bemy too well acquainted with the docwhich distinguish us and justify our e denominational organization.

AN UNEXPECTED DEATH.

er Cummings, son of Geo. Cummings, e Genesee, while crossing the railroad ith his team, was struck by the ontrain, and killed, almost instantly, ay, July 12th, aged 24 years. It is story over again: "There is but a step me and death." Sixteen days less ne year ago, full of life, youth and was the wedding, when Alace A. the young widow of to-day, was the bride. How quick the unforeseen on from the congratulations of marstivities to the funeral, the sad gathor the memory of the dead, and the for the consolation of the living. ge and tasteful floral emblems condifor the occasion, far more expresswords can be, told the bereaved that cearts were sharing their sorrow and uzing with their grief, and the large that followed the stricken friends rave of their beloved, expressed the end feeling for them in this hour of

TENT WORK-AUBURN. Friends of Sabbath Reform,—The eday Baptist Gospel Tent, managed Rogers and Clarke, under the of the American Sabbath Tract has, since last report through the of the RECORDER, been moved to a ation, as will be seen by the heading

e . We did not leave the former

Mr. Arnold C. Snider had one leg broken, in our meetings, for the interest seemed to the other badly crushed, and his horse killed, be at its height when we struck tent for by a falling tree, as he was within one hunthis place. Indeed, in none of the ten places | dred yards of his home, on his return from visited with the tent, has the interest worked | church a few days ago. His wife, at the up so quickly, grandly, and surely as at house, was a witness to the scene. In the much-loved Ithaca. A band of twelve and midst of a useful life we are sometimes almore are meeting regularly on the Sabbath, most in the gripe of death. AGENT. some desiring baptism, and all to be organiz-JULY 18, 1882.

location, Ithaca, because of lack of interest ed for steady, honest, Christian work, and in new, but deep and growing love for God's Sabbath, and a pure Christianity. I am to visit them, before leaving this for another tent field. You will ask after the interest here; we can not tell just what it may be, or proved to be. The attendance is, and has from the first, been as good so far, as at other places, but there seems to be more hearers and fewer workers, proportionately.

But no two places are just or very nearly alike, in the make-up of the audiences; and the manner of taking up the work has to be varied accordingly, in order to get hold of the people. Our constant care is to secure the divine direction, and be workers together with God. We are making our tarryings in each place as short as we dare to, so as to get over the more ground, and at the same time

do thorough work, and be faithful to honest inquirers after truth. If we can make Syracuse and Utica also this season, we shall have completed a "circuit," or rather a trape-zoid, in tent work in Central New York;

viz., on one side are Norwich and Oxford; on another, are Binghamtom, Elmira, and Hornellsville; on another Ithaca, and on the remaining side will be the places first named, with a variation of lines made in going to Cincinnatus, and a still longer digression in the time, to Florida. The cheering communications which we have received from time to time, and are still receiving, from the earnest, loving ones in the Lord's vineyard, assure us that many eyes are following us, many hearts are ever warm and true to this work, and many prayers offered in its behalf. This helps to keep our courage we are to welcome Brother S. R. Wheeler and gain us or entitle us to much credit or success. Think of this, beloveds in the Lord.

L. C. Rogers.

Rhode Island.

WESTERLY

in this village, by tent meetings every evening, where Gospel Temperance is the theme.

About a week ago, Mr. Thomas N. Doutney, a stranger, came here with a company of seven or eight temperance workers, and set

He is a reformed and converted man, and is a workman in the temperance cause. Four or five of his company, together with himself, are good musicians, and all together, they draw a big crowd of people, say from 500 to 1,200 who can but catch a share of his enthusiasm in the great and good temperance reform. One hundred and seven signed the pledge this evening, and the tide of temperance rises fast. My prayer is that it may go on until the town and surrounding country is thoroughly cleaned of the last vestage of intemperance, and the rumsellers have to engage in honest and honorable pursuits, or starve. I think very highly of tent work in reforms of any kind. I am glad that our denomination has made so good a beginning in tent work. C. C. STILLMAN.

West Virginia.

NEW MILTON.

good and mostly stacked. Meadows heavy,

very little hay made yet. Pastures abundant. Stock fat, and in good demand.

Fruit scarce. The Middle Island (wooden)

Railroad has "played out." The rolling-stock has been removed to the company's shops in Clarksburg, and the road, bridges, this Summer. Meetings about as usual. A number of brethren and sisters of this place made a very interesting tour to Webster

Our Sabbath-school interest has improved and trestles are fast disappearing.

friends who reside there.

A very wet, cool Summer. Wheat crop

JULY 19, 1882.

Your brother in Christ,

JACKSON CENTRE.

Notwithstanding the continued wet weather, the wheat is nearly all in shock, and ir good condition. The crop is a good one.

While in the hurry of harvest, there seems to be time for surprises and dinner parties. But a few days ago, Aunt Mary Simpson was summoned home to find her house occupied by about eighty of her friends and neighbors, and a dinner all prepared, good enough to set before a king. To-day, Mr. John Davis, returning from the field, found himself dispossessed of all authority, and himself and home entirely under the control of others; but as he saw the tables so loaded with the fruitage of skilled hands, and himself in the presence of children and so many familiar faces, he very gracefully submitted. These birthday festivals are occasions of pleasure and profit. They bring together friends and neighbors; they break up the even flow of life, and remind us that time is passing, and we are hastening to the future.

In the absence of Bro. L. D. Seager, Bro. Augustus Davis conducts the Sabbath school, to the satisfaction of all. The Sabbathschool is coming to be attractive and interesting in the Jackson Church. The infant class, numbering about twenty, had, as they say, a "splendid time," at a picnic drive furnished by the teacher, Mrs. Albert Davis, a few days since.

July 17, 1882.

- Minnesota.

DODGE CENTRE.

The season has been cold and rainy, ye up, amid the toils and trials of this work. | most crops are looking well, though corn has Each new field visited adds a few to the suffered for want of tending. With the quest for such return. brotherhood of those who love and work for balance of the season favorable, farmers God's holy Sabbath and a general reform in | might yet be happy.

We have an Excel Band numbering about the morals and manners of the times. I can see a growth, a progress, year by year, in fifty, which gave an excellent entertainment this last great reform of the ages, and glad one evening of the Semi-annual Meeting.

A Young Peoples' Society of Christian Bro. L. D. Seager, to tent work at the western | Endeavor was recently organized among the auspices of the Missionary Society. Our mis- to develop working talent with that class of sion is a unique one, and must be organized | church members. The constitution requires and prosecuted by unique methods, in all | members to attend each weekly meeting, unour Boards and executive forces. Aping less impossible, and take some part each the standard methods of old and dominant | time. There are three committees: Prayer-Sabbath-breaking denominations, will not meeting, Outlook, and Social.

Prof. A. Whitford recently spent several weeks here, looking after his farm interests, and expects to be with us again soon. Bro. Marshall Cole and wife, of Milton, are also with us, expecting to remain a year, thus making four young prospective theologues in this society. Eld. Sindall connected There is a great and good work in progress | himself with the Church during the Semiannual Meeting, and expects to move his family here early in the Fall.

If any good Seventh-day Baptist business man would like to go into the tow manufacturing business, and pay $3 per ton for the up a tent and commenced holding meetings. | flax straw from 2,000 acres this Fall, there is a chance for him unless some one else takes

> The pastor is happy in expectation of wife and little son from the East to-night, and disappointed in their not getting here to-day noon, to sit down at the bountiful table spread by the good ladies for them.

G. M. C.

Condensed Mews.

THE WAR IN EGYPT promises to be of considerable size and duration. Arabi Pasha has intrenched himself outside of Alexandria, and is not likely to be brought to an immediate engagement if the British were ready to bring it on, which they are not, until more forces arrive. In the mean time, Arabi is receiving reinforcements, curtailing the supply of fresh water; in short, using every means in his power to render delay dangerous to the Europeans, with the probability that when they are ready to attack him he will retreat before them, and trust much to the effect of the climate to aid him, and continue to worry the Europeans by a system of guerilla warfare. There seems little doubt, however, but that in the end the united forces of the English and French will be victorious.

The Khedive has signed a decree dismissng Arabi Pasha and declaring him a rebel He has issued a general order forbidding the county last month, visiting Sabbatarian Egyptian army to obey Arabi's orders and forbidding the people to pay him taxes.

The strike at the Cleveland rolling mills is about over, and is likely to prove an unprofitable business to some of the participants. The mills have been running several days, as satisfactorily as before the strike, though the hands employed are required to man, Mr. John C. Shy and Miss Noma Jane Wad sign an agreement not to be governed by the | KINS, all of Salem. union. Some old men who received eight dollars a day will have to go back, if they go, at one dollar and a half. Official returns of the recent election in Iowa, show a majority of 29,751 for the prohibition amendment. The total vote was 281,381. Pretty soon the opponents of prohibition will be mourning over the failure of prohibition to prohibit, and seeking for a return to the good old times when the general use of alcoholic drinks secured the people from the evils of drunkenness!

The evil results to trade by the freight handlers' strike is being gradually-overcome as the new men become accustomed to their business; and a movement is on foot, it is said, to indict the ring-leaders of the strike of Westerly, R. I., the sermon being founded on the for conspiracy against the public peace, which, if carried out, will probably never amount to anything particularly beneficial to

An Indian outbreak is reported at Globe, Arizona. Two conflicts have occurred between the Indians and whites, in which ten Indians were killed, and several whites. Buildings have been burned, stock killed, and driven off, and crops laid waste, causing great loss to the settlers. The people are taking measures to protect themselves.

The Halifax line steamer, Alhambra, ran into the Providence and Stonington steamer, Rhode Island, off Stratford, Conn., on the morning of July 19th. The Rhode Island had to be taken in tow. The damage amounted to $10,000. Nobody was seriously hurt, and the Alhambra continued on her

New wheat begins to come forward, and the crop is so large that speculators will hardly be able to control it. Already it begins to affect the price of breadstuffs to the advantage of consumers, while the resistance of the speculators to the decline helps the producers to secure remunerating prices.

The Post-Office Department has adopted the following sensible rule: "Unclaimed letters inclosed in envelopes such as proprietors of hotels usually furnish gratuitously to their guests should not be returned to the staying as in a strange country, by faith looking for mailer, even when they bear the printed re-beef. One physician had twenty patients. hind. Several persons, not believing the beef injurious, partook a second time and are in a dangerous condition.

factory struck July 17th by order of the end of our denominational lines, under the | young people of the Church, which bids fair | union; having been refused a slight advance | in wages. The firm closed their shops, thus hrowing 1,000 persons out of work.

The lasters at the Keene Brothers shoe

In consequence of a difference of opinion between the French Cabinet and the Deputies, the members of the former have tendered | West, W. F. Place, G. H. Babcock, J. Allen 2, O. their resignations. Some progress is being made in the Star Route trials, and late decisions in relation to H. P. Burdick, W. P. B., Paul M. Green, J. H. admissible testimony is said to be damaging Late Japan advices state that the spread J. C. King.

of cholera increases slowly about Tokio and Yokohama. Several high officials have been A Philadelphia dispatch says the bark Fanny Loring, from Matanzas, has lost four out of ten men by yellow fever. Two others are

The City of Mexico was visited by an earthquake of considerable force, on the 19th of July, but no great damage was reported. A fire at Smyrna, Asia, July 19th, destroved fourteen hundred houses and rendered six thousand persons homeless.

Secretary Folger has called for the resignation of Superintendant Davis, of the New Orleans mint, for inefficiency.

The potato bug, the army worm, and the office-seeker are abroad in the land.

$1,500 per year can be easily made at home working for E. G. Rideout & Co., 10 Barclay street, New York. Send for their catalogue and full particulars.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BLANKS for the Statistics and Annual Letters of the Churches have been sent to all the Church Clerks where Clerks are reported in Conference Minutes, and to some other one in case none is re ported. If such have not already received the blanks, please notify immediately.

W. C. Titsworth, Cor. Sec. ASHAWAY, R. I.

CHICAGO MISSION.—Mission Bible-school at the Pacific Garden Mission Rooms, corner of Van Buren St. and 4th Avenue, every Sabbath afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Preaching at 3 o'clock. All Sabbathkeepers in the city, over the Sabbath, are cordially

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. Malarkey, in Richburg, N. Y., July 16, 1882, by Rev. James Summerbell, Mr. John A. Malarkey and Miss MARTHA AMANDA MALARKEY, of New Castle, Pa. At Richburg, N. Y., May 14, 1882, by Rev. James Summerbell, GEORGE A. EDWARDS and Miss BLANCHE DOLAN, both of Richburg.

In Centerville, R. I., July 9, 1882, by Rev. J. Brayton, Mr. WILLIAM H. PIERSON and Miss L. Annabel Vars, both of Coventry Centre.

In Westerly, R. I. July 19, 1882, by Rev. G. B. Utter, Mr. BENJAMIN F. CHESTER, of Hopkinton, and Mrs. Mary Ann Carey, of New London, Conn. In Westerly, R. I., June 6, 1882, by Eld. C. C. Stillman, at his residence on High St., Mr. Albert D. Sisson and Mrs. Josie L. Penkins, both of Ston-

At Smithton, W. Va., July 12, 1882, by Rev. J. A. Hess, Mr. Joel G. Bee, of Ritchie county, and Miss Sarah V. Davisson, of West Union, Dodd

At the residence of the bride's parents in Selen township, Ohio, July 16, 1882, by Eld. J. L. Huff

In the town of Clarksville, Allegany Co., N. Y. July 17, 1882, after a lingering illness, Mrs. Rebecca AYERS, widow of the late Josiah D. Ayers, aged 65 years. She was a member of the Seventh-day Baptist Church of Friendship, but of late years has been so situated as to be unable to attend its meetings.

In New Market, N. J., on Sabbath morning, July 15, 1882, of a complication of diseases, Deacon Arza Coon, in the 68th year of his age. The wide acquaintance of brother Coon, and the official relation | c which he has held, at different times, with various churches in the denomination, seem to require a more extended notice which may be expected soon. It can only be said here that his life had been earnest and that his death was peacefully triumphant. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. L. A. Platts, words of Jesus, "I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do."

Of pneumonia, July 13, 1882, Mrs. NANCY HALL, relict of the late Gardner Hall, aged 83 years, 5 months, and 7 days. She was the last of eight daughters of Dea. George, and Sally Stillman, born Jan. 8, 1799, at Berlin, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., whence she removed, with her parents, to Alfred, while quite young, and united with the First Sev enth-day Baptist Church of that place. She was married to Gardner Hall, Sept. 25, 1817, and with him moved to Rock county Wis. in the Fall of 1839, and became one of the constituent members of the Milton Seventh-day Baptist Church. She was also one of the constituent members of the Milton June tion Seventh-day Baptist Church, with which she continued in full fellowship till her membership was transferred to the church triumphant. She was indeed a mother in Israel, with a heart full of love and sympathy for all.

Of heart disease, Mr. OLIVER B. PALMITER, of Shopiere, Wis., June 10, 1882, aged 66 years. He was five miles from home, fishing, and had just caught a large fish, when he dropped dead instantly. He was a man highly esteemed, and leaves a widow and children to mourn his loss.

At her little home in Dodge Centre, Minn., July 16, 1882, of scrofulous consumption, after four months of painful and patient suffering from running and forming abscesses, Jessie Kimball, in the 20th year of her age. The deceased, becoming dissatisfied two years ago last Winter with her mode of baptism and day of Sabbath-keeping, was immersed, commenced keeping the seventh-day Sabbath, and joined the Seventh-day Baptist Church of this place, of which she remained a consistent member until her death. She leaves a fond mother and grandmother who have faithfully cared for her through the weary months of watching, while for days she has been that city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God, believing that when her earthly house At Moncton, N. B., a large number of hand, eternal in the heavens, whither she has gone persons were poisoned by using canned corned to meet those gone before, and await those left be

LETTERS.

Miss Della Chapman, B. Booth, Lizzie N. Fryer, C. L. Boyd, H.T. Johnson 2, John Ryno, H. M. Norris, S. M. Humble, A. S. Willeford, Geo. Sidney, Henry Johnston, H. M. Babcock, John S. Rockwell. E. R. Crandall, Mrs. M. L. Allen, E. Lua Clarke, J B. Clarke, James H. Crandall, Mrs. L. J. Main, John M. Kutz, C. V. Hibbard, Alex. J. Sessions, Mrs. C. E. Burch, F. O. Burdick, A. B. Prentice, J. C. Thompson, Lottie Baldwin, Hattie B. Crandall, L. T. Rogers, Alex. H. Main, A. M. G. Stillman, G. M. Cottrell 2, Mrs. Maxson Saunders, E. E. Knowles, E. A. J. Estes, A. H. Orr, Geo. E Taylor, F. T. Rogers, P. F. Randolph, Kate Davis, Walrath, R. L. Davis, E. S. Johnson, B. E. Habersham, J. Clarke, Mrs. L. W. Wykoff, Mrs. H. L Davis, F. A. Taylor, W. F. A. Sill, F. F. Randolph,

RECEIPTS.

All payments for the SABBATH RECORDER are acknowledged from week to week in the paper. Persons sending money, the receipt of which is not duly acknowledged, should give us early notice of the Page to Vol. No.

|   | r.,  |           | Y,GL. | HO.             |
|---|------|-----------|-------|-----------------|
| Mrs. P. Ballard, Richburg,  |      | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| H M Norris, Oxford,   |      | 00        | -38   | 52              |
| H. M. Norris, Oxford,B. F. Burdick, Little Genesee,             |      | 00        |       | 52              |
| E. P. Burdick, "  |      | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| W. L. Bowler, "   |      | 00        | 38    |                 |
| S. Dexter, Elmira,  | 7    |           | 38    | 5 2      |
| Paul B. Burch, Brookfield.  | 2    |           | 38    | .52             |
| Staunton Burdick, "   |      | 00        |       | <sup>3</sup> 52 |
| H. A. Babcock,  | 2    | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| James Vidler,   |      | 00        |       | 52              |
| S. H. Burdick,  | 2    | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| Mrs. Mina Camenga, "  |      | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| Orrin Chesebro, "   |      | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| Clark Burdick, "  | 1    | 92        | 38    | 52              |
| Mrs. A. L. Saunders, "  | 2    | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| Mrs. D. A. Crandall, South Brookfield                               |      | 00        | 38    | - 52            |
| Mrs. A. M. Crandall, "  | - 2  | 00        | 39    | 6               |
| LeRoy Maxson,   |      | 00        | 38    |                 |
| W. W. Clarke,   | 2    | 00 | - 38  | 52              |
| H. W. Gates, West Edmeston,   | 4    | 00        | 38    |                 |
| C. R. Coon, Worthville,   | 4    | 00        | 39    | 52              |
| Mrs. S. Davis, Leonardsville,                                       |      | 12        | 38    | . 29            |
| Mrs. Phebe Brown, "   | 1    | 00        | - 38  | 52              |
| P. R. Brownell,   | 2    | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| O. G. Stillman, Hornellsville,                                      |      | 00        | 38    | 52              |
| Mrs. M. Saunders, Berlin,   |      | 00        | 39    |                 |
| Mrs. E. C. Burch, Milwaukee, Wis.,                                  | 2    | 00        | -39   |                 |
| James Barnhart, Milton,   | 2    | 00        | 39    |                 |
| A. Whitford,  | 2    | .00       | 38    |                 |
| E. P. Clarke,   | ∵ 2  | -00       |       | 52              |
| O. Allen,   | 2    |           | 38    |                 |
| E. Crandall, "  | 2    | 00        | 38    |                 |
| Mrs. H. L. Davis, "   |      | 00        | 38    |                 |
| A H Main Madison.   | 2    | 00        | 38    |                 |
| Miss Kate Davis Chicago, Ill.,                                      | 1    | 00        | 39    |                 |
| Miss Kate Davis, Chicago, Ill.,J. B. Davis, Blandville, W. Va., | . 1  | 00        | 39    |                 |
| Jesse F. Randolph, New Salem,                                       | 2    | 00        |       |                 |
| R. Ford, Long Run,  | 2    | 00        |       |                 |
| L. Bond,  | 2    | 00        | 39    | 18              |
| R. Davis, Cherry Camp.  | 2    | 00        |       | 26              |
| E. A. J. Estes, Calliope, Iowa,                                     | 2    |           | 38    | 52              |
| 1. 11. 0. 115tos, Carrope, 25                                       |      |           |       |                 |
| THE PROPERTY OF THE   | n iż | TA M      |       |                 |

WHOLESALE PRODUCE MARKET.

Review of the New York market for butter, cheese, etc., for the week ending July 22d, reported for the RECORDER, by David W. Lewis & Co., Pro duce Commission Merchants, No. 85 and 87 Broad Street, New York. Marking plates furnished BUTTER.—Receipts for the week were 44,287 packages; exports, 1,100 packages. The market was weaker and stock accumulated, and prices in the open market were lower. Most busness was in finest qualities of fresh make State creameries and dairy butter; these may command somewhat near late bull prices, but for the bulk of stock offered there is no sale without bidding down say 1 @ 2c. on present estimates of value. This is not now being done except under pressure. Sweet creams were extremely dull, and offered at 281 @ 24c. without finding buy. ers; and fair to good fresh make Western creameries were no better. Low grades Western had fair enquiry from packers at 16 @ 17c. We quote:

Fancy. Fine.

|                           |            |             | and the second of the second of |
|---------------------------|------------|-------------|---------------------------------|
| Creamery, sour cream.     | . 26@27    | 24@25       |                                 |
| " sweet "                 | .231@24    |             | 18@20                           |
| Cream creamery            |            | 23@24       | 20@21                           |
| Imitation "               |            | 20@23       | ·                    |
| Factory                   | . 18@19    |             | 15@16                           |
| Dairy make                | . 25@—     | 24@—        | 16@20                           |
| CHEESE.—Receipts for      | rthe weel  | k were 131. | 064 box-                        |
| es; exports, 101,367 box  |            |             |                                 |
|                           |            |             |                                 |
| cheese sold at 111 @      |            |             |                                 |
| trading in all grades; la | 1.         | ~ .         |                                 |
| buyers harder to suit or  | ı quality, | prices lov  | ver, and                        |
| considerable stock carr   | ied over u | nsold. W    | e quote:                        |
| *                         | Fancy.     | Fine.       | Faulty                          |
| Factory                   |            | 10@11       |                                 |
| Skimmed                   | 9@10       | 4@ 7        | 2@4                             |
| Eggs.—Receipts for t      |            | 1.5         |                                 |
| 3,479 boxes. Fresh lai    |            |             |                                 |
|                           |            |             |                                 |
| at full prices; other kin | ds dull an | a irregular | in price.                       |
| We quote:                 |            |             |                                 |
| Near-by extras            | . . |             | 23 @24                          |
| Western and Canadas.      |            |             |                                 |
| 7                         |            |             |                                 |

BEESWAX.—Supply light and demand good at 26 BEANS. We quote: Marrows, per bushel, 62 lbs......$3 75 @$4 00 Mediums " 3 25 @ 3 50

DRIED FRUITS.—All in good demand at quotations. We quote: Evaporated apples, ring cut, choice..... @14 State and Western, quarter apples..... 5126 61 Apples, North Carolina, sliced...... 6 28 Peeled peaches, evaporated................30 @33 Blackberries..... 7 @

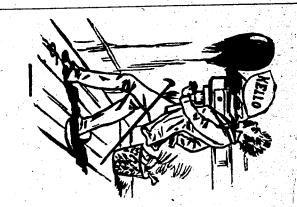

BUTTER, CHEESE, EGGS, BEANS, ETC. Exclusively and Entirely on Commission.

Cash advances will be made on receipt of property where needed, and account of sales and remittances for the same sent promptly as soon as goods are sold. We have no Agents, make no purchases whatever for our own account, and solicit consignments of prime quality property.

DAVID W. LEWIS & Co., NEW YORK. This address is sufficient both for goods and letters.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomnness. More-economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall st., N. Y.

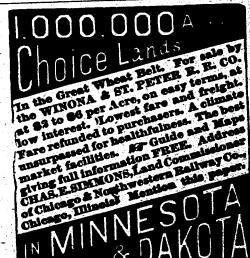

In the above cut is shown

THE EAGLE MECHANICAL TALEPHONE. The latest and best Acoustic Telephone made. Works on two mile lines without the use of a battery. Has a loud call. Works good when the wind blows. An ornament to any parlor. Transmits conversation in a clear and natural tone. Always reliable. Easy to put in working order, and each instrument guaranteed to work splendid. I make three styles. Price by express, C. O. D., $3,$5, and $10 per set (2). Circular and an anticology of the styles. H. T. JOHNSON, Inventor and Manufacturer, Scio, N. Y.

NOTICE TO INVESTORS! N First Mortgage Real Estate Loans made and Nebraska Loan and Trust Company.

School Bonds and Municipal Securities for sale.
Best of references furnished. Write for full particulars. JAS. B. HEARTWELL, Pres. E. C. WEB.

NEVER MIND WHAT "THEY" SAY.

Don't worry nor fret About what people think Of your ways or your means, Of your food or your drink If you know you're doing Your best every day,

With the right on your side, Never mind what "they" say. Lay out in the morning Your plans for each hour,

And never forget
That Old Time is a power. This also remember 'Mong truths old and new, The world is too busy To think much of you.

Then garner the minutes That make up the hours, And pluck in your pligrimage Honor's bright flowers. Should grumblers assure you Your course will not pay, With conscience at rest, Never mind what "they" say.

Then let us, forgetting The insensate throng That jostles us daily While marching along, Press onward and upward And make no delay— And though people talk, Never mind what "they" say. -Palmer Journal.

A TRUE HERO.

"Oh, to be a hero—a real hero!" sighed little Frank Fanning, as he closed the book he had been straining his eyes in the twilight to read, which told how a little drummer | sealing his lips with her kisses. boy had kept up his rub-a-dub all through a fiercely fought battle - his little red coat seen here, there and everywhere, as he moved among the soldiery, cheering them with the gay sound, until the close of the day, when they had gained the victory, they noticed that the sound grew fainter and fainter, and fainter, until some one going up to the spot where he had sunk on the ground discovered that the brave little fellow's lifeblood was ebbing through a mortal wound caused by one of the bullets of the enemy; but still his last, expiring effort was to keep up the rah-tah-too, and his last glance was for the flag in which they wrapped him as they laid him away to his final rest, while on the rude board that marked his grave they cut the words:

"HERE LIES A LITTLE HERO."

"That was worth dying for," thought Frankie, when from the adjoining room some one called his name.

It was his mother, and time she had called him.

"Yes, mother, I am coming," he answered, springing up.

"I wanted a glass of water, my son, I am thirsty."

Frank felt a little pang of reproach, for his mother was an invalid, and unable to move from the lounge on which she was carried every morning, and she depended on her little boy to wait upon her.

"I ought to have come before, mother," he said, "but I was reading such a splendid story. It was about a boy hero, mother. Oh, I wish that I could be a hero.

"And so you may be, my son! Do you know what heroism means? It means self sacrifice. Always remember that. There is no man who entirely forgets self but is a hero. He may not know it himself, the world may never recognize it, but there is one who knows it, and who will one day reward it."

Somehow Frankie could not forget his mother's words as he lay that night with wide open eyes, in his little bed. Whenever he closed them he seemed to see that soldier boy's grave, and the sentence written above it. But one might be a hero, and yet not die. He could not understand it, and so, wondering, he fell asleep.

How good Frankie had grown! thought

Mrs. Fanning, in days that followed. She had no longer to call but once, when, no matter what he was doing, he hastened to her side. How often she blessed him in her thought! but spite of his loving care she felt herself growing paler and weaker every day. It was mental trouble, the doctor said, as much as physical. Her mind must be kept free from care. But this was the one thing that Frankie could not do, though he well knew what was troubling her.

Every week their little hoard at the bank was decreasing, and Mrs. Fanning, who was a dressmaker, could do no work. Another month—if she continued ill—there would be hardly enough left to pay the rent.

On his way home one afternoon from school, bitterly revolving all this in his mind, Frankie, glancing up, found himself opposite a large factory outside of which was a placard on which was written in great letters:

"HANDS WANTED."

boys make money—why may not I?" Five minutes later he stood before the su- company—and ways, too; he's no friends in perintendent. In ten minutes the agreement | the city, you see. Denholm is in the same had been made. He had to go to school one- situation. In fact, there's half a dozen at half day, the other half he had to work in least, just in our store, Nell, and I presume the factory, and for this he was to receive each one of them knows another half dozen three dollars a week-enough to pay the like himself that is drifting down hill be-True, it would take away the only hours hand, and lends them a bit of a happy home he had for play—no more skating, no more fireside to keep them pure and true."

"I won't tell mother," he whispered; "it would only trouble her. She will find it out soon enough."

One day, when she needed and missed of his play than his mother; but though he secondly, I know you would make it pleasant grew a little pale, he said nothing.

The month was drawing to a close. The time was approaching when she must learn the truth, else how could he account for the

Never mind. He would tell her how much happier he was, knowing he helped her, and how little he missed out-door sports. Next Winter, when she was strong and well again, he would enjoy them all the more. It was the last day of the month, and Frankie was on his way to the countingroom to receive his pay, which he had left in the superintendent's hands, until the whole amount had been reached.

When passing some machinery, it was suddenly put in motion. Directly in his pathway stood a little girl, and as the great wheel slowly revolved Frankie saw that it had caught a corner of her dress. The next moment he only knew that the dress was freed, that the child's life had been saved, and that his own strong right arm hung broken and helpless by his side. It had all taken such a little time he could scarcely realize it himself. He wondered what it all meant when they crowded around him.

"He is a little hero!" said a voice, and then it all grew dark, and the little fellow knew no more. When he recovered consciousness, his mother's pale face was bending over him. "You're not angry, mother?" he whispered. "I could not help it."

"My precious little hero!" she answered.

Then he remembered all, and what that other voice had said. But what could this mean? He is a hero? He who had never done anything heroic in his life? He had time to think it all over in the long weeks that passed before the broken arm mended and he grew strong again. But one day the factory superintendent, who had insisted upon paying all the expenses of his illness, so that he might get well in his own time, came in and handed him, with a smile, a little box. On opening it a bright, gold medal lay before his astonished gaze, and on it was writ-

"IN MEMORY OF A BRAVE AND NOBLE AC-TION." "Mother!" he cried. "See here! What does it mean?" "It means," she answered, solemnly, "that my boy has forgotten self in others, and that he is his mother's hero."

Tears fell thick and fast down the boy and they had made of it so much.

Nor was this all, for the next year the superintendent found a place for him in his own private office, where he might grow up appear first in small detachments of half a Pain and weariness from a confined position a good and useful man.

To his mother health and strength had returned, and all was happiness in the little in a few days they form one continuous procottage; but Frankie had learned a lesson he cession, filling the sea as far as the eye can Disease or wounds in those parts, if at all never forgot—that it is the quiet home cir- reach. Floating with the Arctic current, neglected, soon become dangerous. Every cle, in the every day unselfishness and thoughtfulness for others, rather than the battle field, where the first seeds are sown which make the hero.—Golden Days.

MRS. ARCHER'S MISSION.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Mrs. Archer dolefully, over her dainty crocheting.
"What now?" asked brother Jack, look-so insignificant, so utterly useless; and I sands of baby seals—only one in each family, don't want to be useless, Jack. I used to to be sure, but with plenty of play-fellows think I would like to go as a missionary. It close by-all in soft woolly dress, white, or would make life worth living if one could be white with a beautiful golden lustre. The the means of saving even one poor soul. But Newfoundlanders call them "white-coats." there was Philip and the children. And In a few weeks, however, they lose this soft now they're gone, there's you left. I do not see how I can go."

Brother Jack furtively brushed away two big tear-drops that would come in spite of him, muttered something about having the adult are gained, with the black crescencaught a sudden cold, and then, a moment or two after, dropped his paper, exclaiming briskly: "Why not kill two birds with one stone-do your missionary work, and take

"But Jack, you would not want to go?" "Oh, no; bless your heart, no; I'm satisfied where I am. But it's my opinion that if you are in earnest you can find enough globe as well as on the other." Mrs. Archer dropped her work, and drew her low chair close beside her brother's. "Please tell me what you mean Jack," she said wistfully. "I am in earnest, I think."

"Well, I was thinking of one thing, at the store yesterday. There's young Graham, The boy looked down at his own hands. one of the under clerks, just in from the They were small, and unused to work. "But country. If I'm not very much mistaken, they were made to use," he whispered to he's going down hill. Cheap boarding-houses himself, with sudden inspiration: "Other are not very pleasant places to spend long evenings in, and so he is drifting into bad cause no one stretches out a kind, helpful places? O Jack, do you think I could?"

terest on his sister's wan, sad face. "Yes; youngsters have learned to swim. him, she reproached him for thinking more first, I think all they need is an invitation; and homelike; and thirdly, I've no doubt it would save them, for they are not bad yet; only drifting that way, because it's the easiest way to drift, and they do not see the dan-

> There was a little stir the next day when Mrs. Archer in her deep mourning robes, came into the store. Somehow, no one quite knew how, but very easily and naturally she obtained an introduction to Graham. Just as easily and naturally she found, in the five minutes' conversation at his desk that he was a stranger in the city.

"Lonely?" "Yes, he was," he frankly admitted. "Boarding-houses weren't homes, threatens. But he had to learn h gin with, like any other mammal. by any means."

"Would he not come up and see her some evening-say this very night-and tell her about his home? She used to live in just such a pleasant little village. And would not Mr. Denholm like to see Jack's new Western views? He had some fine ones."

It was not much—perhaps hardly any one would think of calling it missionary work. Just a fine pleasant evening by a home fireside, and yet the two invited guests, who received at the close of the evening a cordial invitation to come freely and bring any friends they pleased, as to their own homes, these two went forth with a strong sense of purification, and better fitted to meet life's temptations. There had been nothing said, but the purity of the home fireside had given them an unconquerable aversion to the haunts they had frequented of late. And Helen Archer had found her mission, without going to China or Japan.

"I'm lending a hand up," she thought.
"It's just as noble and grand here as it would be there," thought Jack, looking on. -Kate S. Yates, in Intelligencer.

MIGRATION OF SEALS.

Of the different sorts of North-Atlantic seals, all but two are migratory—that is to thing is to walk him about till he is cool, if say, the whole body of them move from he is brought in hot, as this prevents his north to south each Autumn, and back from south to north each Spring. Upon this important fact the great fleets of fishermen, and then with a brush. This removes dust, of which I shall give an account presently, dirt and sweat, and allows time for the stomdepend for their success. The annual south- ach to recover itself, and the appetite to reward journey of the restless harp-seal fur- turn. Also, let his legs be well rubbed by nishes a vivid picture of these great migra- the hand, as nothing so soon removes a strain. tions which are so prominent a feature of It also detects thorns or splinters, soothes "about" just now than is usual at this time polar history. Keeping just ahead of the the animal, and enables him to feed com-"making" of the ice, or final freezing up of face. He had done so little, he thought, and bays at the approach of Winter Let the horse have some exercise every and they had made of it so much. age southward along the coast of Labrador, or bad feet. Let your horse stand loose, if freely entering all the gulfs and bays. They possible without being tied up to the manger. dozen to a score or more of individuals; these induce bad habits, and cause swollen feet and are soon followed by larger companies, until other disorders. their progress is extremely rapid, and in but | night look and see if there is a stone between one short week the whole multitude has the hoof and the shoe. Standing on it all passed. Arriving at the Straits of Belleisle, night, the horse will be lame the next mornsome enter the gulf, but the great body move ing. If the horse remains in the stable, his onward along the eastern coast of Newfound-feet must be "stopped." Heat and dryness land, and thence outward to the Grand cause cracked hoofs and lameness. The feet Banks, where they arrive about Christmas. | should not be "stopped" oftener than twice Here they rest for a month, and then they a week. It will make the hoof soft and turn northward, slowly struggling against bring on corns. the strong current that aided them so much Do not urge in their southward journey, until they reach ing up from his evening paper.

"Why, nothing—only Miss Damon has been here. She is going away out West on a sort of mission, you know, and she is so full of work and plans that it makes me feel great floating fields of ice, are born thousing incident as attack, look, l the great ice-fields stretching from the unwholesome. Never allow drugs to be ad-covering, and a gray, coarse fur takes its place. In this uniform they bear the name of "ragged-jackets;" and it is not until two give them the name of "harps." frequently to look after the little ones; and although there are thousands of the small, are moving about more or less, the mother never makes a mistake nor feeds any bleatthe ice-floes in pieces and jamming the fragments against one another, or upon rocky the full-grown seals that perish in such gales, than is absolutely necessary. Depend upon thousands of the weak babies are crushed to death or drowned, notwithstanding the dauntless courage of their mothers, in trying to get their young out of danger and upon the firm ice. And it is touching to watch a mother-seal struggling to get her baby to a possible, and pasture no mother than is absolutely necessary. Depend upon clover, plaster, lime and stable manure for increasing the fertility of your soil, and if you are unable to get a sufficient quantity of these, purchase the best commercial fertility of the town of Alfred, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the undersigned, at his office in the village of Alfred Centre, N. Y., on or before the 1st day of December, 1882. sledding. But never mind that, Frankie thought, gulping down a sigh of regret, and manfully trudging homeward.

"Would they come here, do you suppose? the firm ice. And it is touching to watch a mother-seal struggling to get her baby to a safe place, "either by trying to swim with it between her fore flippers, or by driving it has been found in the mountain

"Well, well, little woman!" laughed Jack, before her and tossing it forward with her berg, Austria, which gives indications of half at the deluge of questions, and more nose." The destruction caused by such than half in delight at the look of eager in- gales is far less when they happen after the 2,000 years ago. It contains a large and con-> constantly in the water, have to learn to ments. The timbers were notched and swim? Well, it might stagger the seals to sharpened, but were subject to an inundabe told that men have to be taught to walk. tion, and left in confused heaps. The im-The fact is a baby seal is afraid of the water; and if some accident, or his mother's shoul- handles, etc. Among the relics, also, was a der, pushes him into the surf when he is ten basket made of untanned raw-hide, a piece or a dozen days old, he screams with fright of cloth woven of coarse wool, the fibre of and scrambles out as fast as he can. The which is very even, and still in good preservanext day he tries it again, but finds himself tion, and a torch, bound together with flax. very awkward and soon tired; the third day fibre. The probabilities are that the ancient he does better, and before long he can dive and leap, turn somersaults (if he is a beard- of the mine, as mummified bodies have been ed seal), and vanish under the ice, literally discovered, also. The find seems to have be-"like a blue streak," the instant danger threatens. But he had to learn how to be-

TAKE CARE OF YOUR HORSES.

Never allow any one to tease or tickle your horse in the stable. The animal only feels the torment, and does not understand the joke. Vicious habits are thus easily brought on.

Never beat the horse when in the stable. Nothing so soon makes him permanently

Let the horse's litter be dry and clean underneath, as well as on top. Standing on hot, fermenting manure makes the hoofs soft, and brings on lameness. Change the litter partially in some parts, and entirely in others, every morning; and brush out and clean the stall thoroughly. To procure a good coat on your horse naturally, use plenty of rubbing and brushing. Plenty of "el bow grease" opens the pores, softens the skin, and promotes the animal's general health. Never clean a horse in his stable. The dust fouls the crib and makes him loathe his food. Use the curry-comb lightly. When not used rightly it is a source of great pain. Let the heels be well brushed out every night. Dirt, if allowed to cake in, causes grease and sore heels. Whenever a horse is washed, never leave him till he is rubbed quite dry. He will probably get a chill if neglected. When a horse comes off a journey, the first

Look often at the animal's feet and legs.

Do not urge the animal to drink water which he refuses; it is probably hard and ministered to your horse without your knowledge; they are not needed to keep the animal in good health, and may do the greatest and most sudden mischief. - Valentine & Co.'s "Stable Hints."

IMPROVING POOR FARMS.

The best thing for a man to do when he finds himself with a poor farm on his hands. is, oftentimes, to leave it and locate on a better one. It can often be done at no more or three years later that the full colors of cost than the improving the other would come to. But if it is decided to improve tic or harp-like marks on the back which the poor one, about the first thing to look to is the drainage. Where a farmer is unable The squealing and barking at one of these to make covered drains, either on account immense nurseries can be heard for a very of its cost or for want of the required fall, long distance. When the babies are very he should have open ditches in order to get young, the mothers leave them on the ice rid of all surface water. The next point of and go off in search of food, coming back importance is to have your plowing well done and the land brought to a fine tilth, keeping it perfectly clear of a vegetable growth exgenuine missionary work on this side of the white, squealing creatures, which to you and cept that which is sown or planted, putting me would seem to be precisely alike, and all in no more crop than you are able to cultivate well; get your land in clover as soon as possible, and when you have succeeded in ing baby until she has found her own. If this, apply from thirty to fifty bushels of ice happened to pack around them, so that quicklime to the acre. Should your land be they can not open holes, nor get into the too poor to produce clover, try peas, buckwater, the whole army will laboriously trav- wheat or oats, which, as soon as in blossom, el by floundering leaps to the edge of the should be plowed under for the purpose of field; and they show an astonishing sagacity supplying the soil with vegetable matter. in discerning the proper direction. It is sup- | Endeavor to convert all coarse material, posed that they can smell the water at a long such as straw, fodder, rough hay (and any thing else that will absorb the liquids from Sometimes great storms come, breaking the stable), into manure, and apply directly from the stable in order to make the most of it. When once in grass keep a sod upon it headlands, with tremendous force. Besides as long as possible, and pasture no more having been occupied and abandoned at least fused mass of timbers, which were used for Does it surprise you that seals, which are support, and a number of miners' impleplements were mainly wooden shovels, axesalt-miners were overtaken by the flooding longed to the pre-Roman times, as the axehandles were evidently used for bronze axes. specimens of which have been found upon the surface of the mountain. The relies are of a high order, the basket being superior even to some that were used in the early historic times.—American Antiquarian.

EPIDEMICS AND PRECAUTIONS.—In the city of Newport, Rhode Island, a placard is put upon every house where there is a case of scarlet fever, diphtheria or small-pox. As none of these diseases are spread by fright, there is good reason in this. Such epidemics are spread by ignorance, by allowing children and grown people to come and go in the midst of contagion without giving them the opportunity to take precautions. The public funeral of one such patient, attended by crowds of mourners or curious visitors, thronging into the house where carpets, curtains and all woollen clothes, furniture, etc., may convey the disease, are positive centers of contagion, and should be for both scarlet fever and diphtheria as distinctly forbidden as small-pox funerals now are. The isolation of patients in any house where contagion has made its appearance is only possible when an entire floor can be vacated and in the upper part of the house. A wet sheet hanging in the doorway, prevents the floating particles of the disease from spreading through the house, and every article of clothing taken from such patients should be immediately put into a tub of water to be carried away. Each tub can be covered with some disinfecting fluid, as it is impossible in a city to burn or bury all clothing from such patients. But there should be no woollens worn in the room. The attendants should dress in calico, and there should be as little communication between the sick room and the rest of the house as is possible, of year.—Philadelphia Ledger.

1844. FREEHOLD INSTITUTE. 1882.

Next term opens September 12th. Prepares for College or for Business. Course of Study thorough. Three Departments: English, Scientific and Classical. Backward boys privately taught: Location perfectly healthful. Discipline, that of a well regulated family. For Catalogues giving full information and list of prominent men's sons now in attendance, address the Principal, Rev. A. G. Chambers, A. M., Freehold, N. J.

MILTON COLLEGE.

Two Departments: Preparatory and Collegiate. Three Courses of Study: Classical, Scientific, and Expenses from $120 to $200 per year. Fall Term begins Aug. 30th; Winter Term, Dec. 6th; Spring Term, March 28, 1883; Commencement, June 27, 1883.

VASSAR COLLEGE.

OUSTOM WORK.—THE SUBSCRIBER HAV-J ING thoroughly repaired and increased his Water-Power, is prepared to do custom

WOOL CARDING and CLOTH DRESSING Promptly, at his old stand, 11 miles north of Alfred depot, in the Best Manner, and at Reasonable Prices. N. G. HADSELL.

NEW Practical Life. The Key to Fortune 800K Practical Life. In all Ayennes of Life 600 pp. Olear type, finest binding and Illustrations AGENTS WANTED. 875 to $150 per Month. For Terms, address J. C. McCURDY & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

OR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.—THE CON STITUTIONAL AMENDMENT; OR, THE SUNDAY, THE SABBATH, THE CHANGE AND RESTITU-TION. A Discussion between W. H. Littlejohn, Seventh-day Adventist, and the Editor of the Christian Statesman. 384 pages. Price, cloth $1; paper 40 cents. Mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price. Address SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

AGENTS Wanted for handsome illustrated stand-works of character; great variety Books & Bibles low in price; selling fast; needed everywhere; Liberal terms. Bradley, Garretson & Co., 66 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia, Pa.

GENTS WANTED TO SUPPLY THE WIDE A demand for the authentic account of the "Great Tragedy" (murder of Garfield), Extraordinary Trial and Final EXECUTION OF GUITEAU Low Price, Quick Sales, Big Terms. No time to lose. Address HUBBARD BROS., 723 Chestnut St.,

TOB AND BOOK WORK

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY DONE

Orders by mail will receive special care.

RECORDER OFFICE.

A SALT MINE 2,000 YARS OLD.—A mine

Dated, May 17, 1882. W. C. BURDICK, Administrator. Hogalar

A NEW METHOD OF I A new method of temp tried in France, with the but instead of being p oil, it is subjected to gree Steel tempered in this a remarkably fine grain

MECHANICAL EQUIP The first determination equivalent of heat by pounds. Dr. Ioule rep in 1876, obtaining the Rowland, of Johns Ho also made an original d equivalent, obtaining a with the later value of

M. FISCHER gives ( Mittheilung") an essa of the date tree. - It can perature as low as 23.99 tact of snow for a day o fruits it requires a mea ture of at least 79°F., sky. Its northern limit en by the isotherm of ? mental tree by that of

MR. HERBERT SPEN the maxim that the p should be "higher the of party," has at last fo as a political agitator. ence says upon the abou ers in thus acting are motives which lead the nominations' to turn s pharmaceutist to vend cigars. Nevertheless t mitting suicide. Ag ments' are to discover the Phylloxera is to the

THE INFLUENCE OF

PRESSURES UPON AND Cyon (Comptes Rendus influence of high atmos animal life. He finds the bly the normal relation gasses contained in the is exerted upon the cir tory systems. Pure ox poison for the organism it because the carbonic a of the vasomotor and being sensibly diminis and respiration are arre of the heart are quicker the oxygen (the norm nerves and the accele ments their activity, carbonic acid diminish tion of the pneumogas

VIVISECTION.—Last

Carl Vogt, met at the English physiologist, I informed him that bec law against vivisection leave that country w make experiments on believe," said he, "the my practice there, an sionally in France, so some experiments on h completion of a work applied to the English informed me that they their eyes to the fact t vivisection, but if it pl or old woman to prose prevent me from being 1mprisoned.. I have th louse, where I have ki the authorities with a Vogt accompanied th following remarks: 😘 being the doctor has practices the most dan administers the most his own responsibility. dangerous for animals struments has been d and removed to the evidently belonged to tablishment, and is as the modern surgeon is One of the most intere long rod with a metali end at an angle of T thought to be a caute tions, but its remarks mcdern laryngest mir bility that its was emp ner in ancient times.

A REMARKABLE col

Austria, which gives indications of g been occupied and abandoned at least O years ago. It contains a large and conmass of timbers, which were used for ort, and a number of miners' imple-The timbers were notched and pened, but were subject to an inundaand left in confused heaps. The imients were mainly wooden shovels, axeiles, etc. Among the relics, also, was a et made of untanned raw-hide, a piece oth woven of coarse wool, the fibre of his very even, and still in good preservaand a torch, bound together with flax-The probabilities are that the ancient miners were overtaken by the flooding he mine, as mummified bodies have been overed, also. The find seems to have beed to the pre-Roman times, as the axedles were evidently used for bronze axes. imens of which have been found upon surface of the mountain. The relics are high order, the basket being superior to some that were used in the early his-times.—American Antiquarian.

PIDEMICS AND PRECAUTIONS.—In the of Newport, Rhode Island, a placard is upon every house where there is a case arlet fever, diphtheria or small-pox. As of these diseases are spread by fright. e is good reason in this. Such epidemwe spread by ignorance, by allowing ren and grown people to come and go e midst of contagion without giving the opportunity to take precautions. public funeral of one such patient, ated by crowds of mourners or curious visthronging into the house where carcurtains and all woollen clothes, furnietc., may convey the disease, are posicenters of contagion, and should be for scarlet fever and diphtheria as distinctrbidden as small-pox funerals now are. isolation of patients in any house where agion has made its appearance is only ble when an entire floor can be vacated in the upper part of the house. A wet hanging in the doorway, prevents the ing particles of the disease from spreadthrough the house, and every article of ning taken from such patients should be ediately put into a tub of water to be ied away. Each tub can be covered some disinfecting fluid, as it is imposin a city to burn or bury all clothing i such patients. But there should be no Hens worn in the room. The attendants ild dress in calico, and there should be ittle communication between the sick n and the rest of the house as is possible, convenience sake. Scarlet fever is more out" just now than is usual at this time ear.—Philadelphia Ledger.

1844 FREEHOLD INSTITUTE, 1882.

Next term opens September 12th. Prepares for College or for Business. Course of Study thorough. Three Departments: English, Scientific and Classical. Backward boys privately taught. Location perfectly healthful. Discipline, that of a well regulated family. For Catalogues giving tull information and list of prominent men's sons now in attendance, address the Principal, Rev. A. G. Charbers, A. M., Freehold, N. J.

ILTON COLLEGE.

wo Departments: Preparatory and Collegiate.

Mee Courses of Study: Classical, Scientific, and spenses from $120 to $200 per year.

Il Term begins Aug. 30th; Winter Term; Dec.

Spring Term, March 28, 1883; Commencement, e 27, 1883.

VASSAR COLLEGE. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. A complete college course of women, with Schools of Painting and Music, and a preparatory department. Catalogues sent.

8. L. Caldwell, D.D., President.

STOM WORK.—THE SUBSCRIBER HAV: ING thoroughly repaired and increased his ter-Power, is prepared to do custom

VOOL CARDING and CLOTH DRESSING mptly, at his old stand, 11 miles north of Alfred of, in the Best Manner, and at Reasonable Prices. N. G. HADSELL.

Practical Life. The Key to Fostume Cook Practical Life. The Key to Fostume of Life Cook Charter Wanten 975 to 1150 per Month of Fermis, address J. C. McCURDY & Co., Philadelphia. Per 150 per

OR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.—THE CON-STITUTIONAL AMENDMENT; OR, THE DAY, THE SABBATH, THE CHANGE AND RESTITU-A Discussion between W. H. Littlejohn, Sev-day Adventist, and the Editor of the Christian coman. 384 pages. Price, cloth $1; paper 40 Mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price. Ad-SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

AGENTS Wanted for handsome libertrated standards of character; great variety; Books & Bibles low in price; selling fast; needed everywhere; Libertal terms.

Brother, therroton & Co., 66 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia, Ph.

JENTS WANTED TO SUPPLY THE WIDE demand for the authentic account of the "Great gedy" (murder of Garfield), Extraordinary Trial Final EXECUTION OF GUITEAU Price, Quick Sales, Big Terms. No time to lose. Iress HUBBARD BROS., 723 Chestnut St.,

B AND BOOK WORK

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY DONE

Orders by mail will receive special care.

RECORDER OFFICE.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY. Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY, WARRANTED. Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, Cincinneti, O:

Notice to Present Claims. RSUANT to an order of James S. Green; Surrogate of the County of Allegany, made on the day of May, 1882. Notice is hereby given to cross having claims against Amos Burdick, late to the county of Alfred, in said county, deceased, to the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the signed, at his office in the village of Alfred 12. N. Y., on or before the 1st day of December,

W.C. BURDICK, Administrator.

Popular Science.

A NEW METHOD OF TEMPERING STEEL. A new method of tempering steel has been tried in France, with the most promising results. The steel is heated in the usual way, but instead of being plunged into water or oil, it is subjected to great pressure while hot. Steel tempered in this way is said to possess a remarkably fine grain.

MECHANICAL EQUIVALENT OF HEAT .-The first determination of the mechanical equivalent of heat by Ioule gave 772 foot pounds. Dr. Ioule repeated his researches in 1876, obtaining the value 7,741. Prof. Rowland, of Johns Hopkins University has also made an original determination of this equivalent, obtaining a result nearly identical with the later value of Ioule.

M. FISCHER gives ("Petermann's Geog. Mittheilung") an essay on the distribution of the date tree. It can bear a Winter temperature as low as 23.9°, and even the contact of snow for a day or two. To ripen its fruits it requires a mean Summer temperature of at least 79°F., a dry air, and a clear sky. Its northern limit as a fruit tree is given by the isotherm of 70°F., and as an ornamental tree by that of 61°F.

MR. HERBERT SPENCER, long forgetful of the maxim that the philosopher's position should be "higher than on the battlements of party," has at last formally come forward as a political agitator. The Journal of Science says upon the above: "Perhaps thinkers in thus acting are swayed by the same motives which lead the 'minister of all denominations' to turn sensationalist, and the pharmaceutist to vend quack medicines and cigars. Nevertheless they are thereby committing suicide. Agitations and 'movements' are to discovery and research what the Phylloxera is to the vine."

THE INFLUENCE OF HIGH ATMOSPHERIC PRESSURES UPON ANIMAL LIFE.—M. E. de Ovon (Comptes Rendus) has examined the influence of high atmospheric pressures upon animal life. He finds that they modify sensibly the normal relations of the tension of the gasses contained in the blood. This action is exerted upon the circulatory and respiratory systems. Pure oxygen is not a special poison for the organisms, and animals die in it because the carbonic acid (the chief excitant of the vasomotor and respiratory centers) and respiration are arrested. The movements of the heart are quickened at first because the oxygen (the normal excitant of the nerves and the accelerating centers) augments their activity, whilst the absence of carbonic acid diminishes the moderating action of the pneumogastric nerves.

VIVISECTION.—Last Spring, the naturalist. Carl Vogt, met at the Algerian Congress an English physiologist, Dr. Martin Lister, who informed him that because of the English law against vivisection he was obliged to leave that country whenever he wished to make experiments on animals. "Can you believe," said he, "that I was forced to leave my practice there, and start again professionally in France, so as to be able to make some experiments on horses necessary for the completion of a work already commenced? I applied to the English authorities, and they informed me that they would willingly close their eyes to the fact that I was practicing vivisection, but if it pleased some clergyman or old woman to prosecute me, no one could prevent me from being heavily fined, or even imprisoned. I have therefore come to Toulouse, where I have kindly been supplied by the authorities with all necessaries." Carl Vogt accompanied this statement with the following remarks: "In the case of a human being the doctor has the whole control; he practices the most dangerous operations and | gany Co., N. Y. administers the most violent medicines on his own responsibility. Why is it then more dangerous for animals than human beings?"

A REMARKABLE collection of surgical in struments has been discovered at Pompeii, and removed to the Naples Museum. It evidently belonged to one practitioner or establishment, and is as large an equipment as the modern surgeon is usually supplied with. One of the most interesting instruments is a long rod with a metalic plate fixed at one end at an angle of 135°. It was at first thought to be a cautery for internal operations, but its remarkable resemblance to the mcdern laryngeal mirror suggests the possibility that its was employed in a similar manner in ancient times.

GUDGUIC

Its Relief and Cure as certain as day follows day by Dr. J. A. SHERMAN'S method, with safety from the dangers of strangulation and without the injury trusses inflict. Those wishing proof should send 10 cents for his book, containing likenesses of bad cases before and after cure, also endorsements of professional gentlemen, Ministers, Merchants, Farmers and others who have been cured. Trusses and Rupture sooner or later affect the nervous and mental system, bring on organic diseases, impotency, destroy energy and social desires, making the young old and the old useless. New York office 251 Broadway. Days for consultation, each week on Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays. Philadelphia, 302 Walnut Street, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, every other week, after June. Boston, 43 Milk Street, closed till September.

SPRING ANNOUNCEMENT.

M. J. & B. L. GREEN

Have just received a fine line of

DRY GOODS for the SPRING TRADE which they offer at prices which should satisfy the Closest Cash Purchasers.

They offer Special Inducements in CARPETS of ALL GRADES.

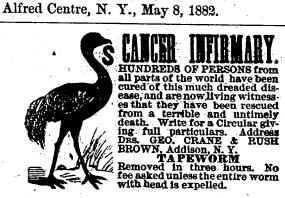

They keep a large stock of

FURNITURE!

which they are selling at lowest figures. Their arrangements with manufacturers enable them

CHAMBER AND PARLOR SUITS, AND LOUNGES,

at specially Low Rates. Give Them a Call and Be Convinced.

CARD COLLECTORS.—A handsome set of cards for three cent stamp. A. G. Bassett, Roches 360 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

PATENTS

obtained, and all business in the U. S. Patent Office, or in the Courts attended to for Moderate fees. We are opposite the U. S. Patent Office, engaged in patbeing sensibly diminished, the circulation ent business exclusively, and can obtain patents in less time than those remote from Washington. When model or drawing is sent we advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make no charge unless we obtain patent. We refer, here, to the Post Master, the Supt. of the Money Order Div., and to officials of the U.S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms, and reference to actual clients in your own State, or county, address—C. A. SNOW & Co., Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

> NO PATENT NO PAY. DATENTS OBTAINED FOR MECHANICAL devices, medical or other compounds, ornamen-tal designs, trade-marks and labels. Caveats, Assign-ments, Interferences, Infringements, and all matters relating to Patents, promptly attended to. We make preliminary examinations and furnish opinions as to petentiality, free of charge, and all who are interested in new inventions and Patents are invited to send for a copy of our "Guide for Obtaining Patents," which is sent free to any address, and contains complete instructions how to obtain Patents, and other valuable matter. During the past five years, we have obtained nearly three thousand Patents for American and Foreign inventors, and can give satisfactory references in almost eve y county in the Union. Address.

LOUIS BAGGER & CO., Solicitors of Patents and Attorneys at Law, Le Droit Building, Washington, D. C.

T ESSON LEAVES,

CONTAINING THE

INTERNATIONAL LESSONS, Prepared by the SABBATH SCHOOL BOARD of the General Conference, and published at the

SABBATH RECORDER OFFICE

75 CENTS A HUNDRED PER MONTH, FREE OF POSTAGE.

Address, D. R. STILLMAN, Alfred Centre, Alle

LFRED UNIVERSITY.

ALFRED, N. Y. EQUAL PRIVILEGES FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

Academic, Collegiate, and Theological Departments. Classical, Scientific, Normal, Mechanical, Musical, and Painting and Drawing courses of Better advantages than ever can be promised for the coming year. A new feature will be the Normal or Teacher's Class running through the entire year.

CALENDAR.

Fall Term commences Sept. 6, 1882. Winter Term, Dec. 20, 1882. Spring Term, April 4, 1883. Commencement, July 4, 4883. Expenses $100 to $200 per year

For further particulars, address J. ALLEN, President.

BIG PAY to sell our Ribber Printing Stamps. Samples free. TAYLOR BROS. & CO., Cleveland, O.

THE SABBATH RECORDER.

LIST OF LOCAL AGENTS.

NEW. YORK.

Adams—A. B. Prentice. Brookfield—C. V. Hibbard. Berlin-Edgar R Green. Ceres-R. A. Barber. DeRuyter-Barton G. Stillman. Genesee-E. R. Crandall. Independence-Sherman G. Crandall. Leonardsville—Asa M. West. Lincklaen—Benjamin H. Stillman. New London—H. W. Palmiter. Nile-Ezekiel R. Clarke. Portville-A. K. Crandall Richburgh-Edwin S. Bliss. State Bridge—Joseph West, Scott—Byron L. Barber. Watson-Benj. F. Stillman. West Edmeston-J. B. Clarke.

Mystic Bridge—George Greenman. Waterford—Oliver Maxson.

RHODE ISLAND. 1st Hopkinton-Alfred B. Burdick, 2d 2d Hopkinton—S. S. Griswold. Rockville—U. M. Babcock. Westerly-Sanford P. Stillman. Woodville-Horace Stillman.

NEW JERSEY. Marlboro-J. C. Bowen. New Market-L. E. Livermore. Plainfield—J. Elias Mosher. Shiloh—W. S. Bonham.

PENNSYLVANIA. Hebron-Geo. W. Stillman. Mosiertown—J. Greene. New Enterprise—D. C. Long. Roulette—LeRoy Lyman. Union Dale—A. W. Coon.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Berea—D. N. Meredith. Lost Creek-L. B. Davis. New Milton-Franklin F. Randolph. New Salem—Preston F. Randolph. Quiet Dell-D. H. Davis.

Jackon Centre-Jacob H. Babcock.

Albion-E. L. Burdick. Berlin-Datus E. Lewis. Cartwright's Mill-D. W. Cartwright. Edgerton—Henry W. Stillman. Milton—Paul M. Green. Milton Junction—L. T. Rogers. Utica-L. Coon. Walworth-Howell W. Randolph.

Farina-Isaac Clawson. Villa Ridge—M. B. Kelly. West Hallock—E. B. Saunders.

Welton-L. A. Loofboro. Toledo-Maxson Babcock.

Dodge Centre-Geo. W. Hills, New Richland-R. D. Burdick. Transit-John M. Richev.

Nortonville-Osman W. Babcock Pardee-Samuel R. Wheeler.

Harvard-Elmore C. Hibbard. Long Branch—Joshua G. Babcock. North Loup—Oscar Babcock. Orleans—H. E. Babcock.

Carrsville-C. W. Threlkeld.

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. Address Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

BLANK CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP, with return notice of the certificates' having been used, suitable for any church, for sale at this office. Price by mail, postage paid, per dozen, 20 cents; per quire, 35 cents; per hundred, $1 25. Church Clerks will find them both convenient and

Over 5000 Druggists Physicians

Have Signed or Endorsed the Following Remarkable Document:

Messys. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York: Gentlemen: -For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Parmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electrical Magnetic toys. A SURE REMEDY AT LAST. Price 25cts. A MEAD'S Medicated CORN and BUNION PLASTER.

CATALOGUE OF BOOKS AND TRACTS

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY,

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y.

NATURE'S GOD AND HIS MEMORIAL. A Series of Four Sermons on the subject of the Sabbath. By Nathan Wardner, late missionary at Shanghai China, subsequently engaged in Sabbath Reform labors in Scotland. 112 pp. Paper, 15 cents.

THE SABBATH AND THE SUNDAY. By Rev. A. H. Lewis, A. M. Part First, Arguments. Part Second, History. 16mo. 268 pp. Fine Cloth, $1 25.

This volume is an earnest and able presentation of the Sabbath question, argumentatively and historically, and should be in the hands of every one desiring light on the subject.

THOUGHTS SUGGESTED BY THE PERUSAL OF GILFIL-LAN AND OTHER AUTHORS ON THE SABBATH. By Rev. Thos. B. Brown, Pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist Church at Little Genesee, N. Y. Second Edition, 125 pp. Fine Cloth, 50 cents. Paper, 10

This is in many respects the most able argument yet published. The author was educated in the observance of Sunday, and was for several years a highly esteemed minister in the Baptist denomination. The book is a careful review of the arguments in favor of Sunday, and especially of the work of James Gilfillan, of Scotland, which has been widely circulated among the clergymen of America. Mr. Brown has thoroughly sifted the popular notions relative to Sunday, with great candor, kindness and ability. We especially commend it to those who, like Mr. Brown, have been taught to revere Sunday as the

A DEFENSE OF THE SABBATH, in reply to Ward on the Fourth Commandment. By Geo. Carlow. Third Edition—Revised. 168 pp. 25 cents.

This work was first published in London in 1724. It is valuable as showing the state of the Sabbath argument at that time.

VINDICATION OF THE TRUE SABBATH, in 2 parts. Part First, Narrative of Recent Events. Part Sec one, Divine Appointment of the Seventh Day, by Rev. J. W. Morton, late Missionary of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. 66 pp. Paper, 10

This work is one of decided value, not only as regards the argument adduced, but as showing the extreme want of liberality and fairness which characterized the trial and excommunication of Mr. Morton from the Presbyterian Church.

Paper, 10 cents. LIFE AND DEATH. By the late Rev. Alexander

Campbell, of Bethany, Va. Reprinted from the "Millennial Harbinger Extra." 50 pp. Price, COMMUNION, OR LORD'S SUPPER. A Sermon delivered at Milton Junction, Wis., June 15th, 1878. By Rev. N. Wardner, D. D. 20 pp.

which will be sold at cost, in large or small quantities, to any who may desire them. Specimen packages sent free to any who may wish to examine the Sabbath question. Twenty per cent. discount made to clergymen on any of the above-named books, and a liberal discount to the trade. Other works soon to be published.

TRACTS. No. 2-Moral Nature and Scriptural Observance of the Sabbath. 52 pp.
No. 10—The True Sabbath Embraced and Observed.

16 pp.
No. 11—Religious Liberty Endangered by Legislative Enactments. 16 pp.

No. 15—An Appeal for the Restoration of the Bible

Sabbath. 40 pp.

No. 16—The Sabbath and its Lord. 28 pp.

No. 23—The Bible Doctrine of the Weekly Sabbath. TOPICAL SERIES—by Rev. James Bailey—No. 1, "My Holy Day," 28 pp.; No. 2, "The Moral Law," 28 pp.; No. 3, "The Sabbath under Christ," 16 pp.: 28 pp.; No. 8, "The Sabbath under Christ," 10 pp.: No. 4. "The Sabbath under the Apostles," 12 pp. "Time of Commencing the Sabbath," 4 pp.
"The Sanctification of the Sabbath," 20 pp.

"The Day of the Sabbath," 25 pp. "THE SABBATH: A Seventh Day, or The Seventh Day: Which?" By Rev. N. Wardner, 4 pp.

"THE LORD'S DAY, OR CHRISTIAN SABBATH." By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp "DID Christ or his Apostles Change the Sabbath from the Seventh Day to the First Day of the Week?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp.

"CONSTANTINE AND THE SUNDAY." By Rev. N. "THE NEW TESTAMENT SABBATH." By Rev. N.

Wardner. 4 pp. "Dr Christ Abolish the Sabbath of the Decalogue?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp.

"Are the Ten Commandments Binding alike upon Jew and Gentile?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp. "Which Day of the Week did Christians Keep as the Sabbath during 300 years after Christ?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp.

**Rev. N. Wardner's eight tracts are also pub lished in German.

Orders for the Society's Publications accompanied with remittances, for the use of its Agents, or for gratituitous distribution, should be addressed to D. R. STILLMAN, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

H ISTORY OF CONFERENCE.—REV. JAMES BAILEY has left a few copies of the History of the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference at the RECORDER office for sale, at $1 50. Sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Address, SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

HIRES' IMPROVED ROOT BEER 25c. package makes 5 gallons of a delicious, wholesome, sparkling Temperance beverage. Ask your druggist, or sent by mail for 25c. C. E. HIRES, 48 N. Dela. Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

New York Medical College and Hospital for Women 213 WEST 54th ST., NEW YORK CITY.

The regular Winter Session, (20th year) will begin October 2d, 1882, and continue twenty-four weeks. Daily Clinics will be held in the College, and the Hospital and Dispensary adjoining give special advantages for practical studies unsurpassed by any other school. In addition, the large daily Clinics at the Opthalmic Hospital and the Ward's Island Homœpathic Hospital (weekly) are open for all students. For further particulars and circulars, address

MRS. J. G. BRINKMAN, M. D., 219 West Twenty Third St., New York City.

BEATTY'S ORGANS, 27STOPS, $90. PIANOS. $297 50. Factory running day and night. Catalogue free. Address DANIEL F. BEATTY, Wash-

THRESHERS The Best is the Changest. Illustrated price lie.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES AND PUBLISHED WRITINGS OF ELD, ELI & BAI-LEY, for sale at this office. Price One Dollar. Sent to any address, postpaid, on receipt of price.

We continue to act as Solicitors for Patents, Caveats, Trade Marks, Copyrights, etc., for the United States, Canada, Cuba, England, Erance, Germany, etc. We have had thirty-five years' experience.

Patents obtained through us are noticed in the Scientific American. This large and splendid illustrated weekly paper, $3,20 a year, shows the Progress of Science, is very interesting, and has an enormous circulation. Address MUNN & CO., Patent Solicitors, Pub's. of Scientific American, 37 Park Row, New York. Hand book about Patents free.

972 A WEEK. $12 a day at home easily made. Costs
Outfit free. Address TRUE & Co., Augusta, Mains.

N. Y., LAKE ERIE & WESTERN R. R.

Pullman's Best Drawing Room and Sleeping Coaches, combining all Modern Improvements, are run between New York, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Sds-pension Bridge, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis, De-troit, and Chicago, without change.

Abstract of Time Table, adopted Dec. 19th, 1881.

| EASTWA  |  |   |          |   |  |  |
|---|--|---|----------|---|--|--|
| STATIONS.   |  | No. 12*   | No. 4*   | No. 6   |  |  |
| Leave Dunkirk Little Valley   |  | 1.05 рм2.52 "                               |          | 7.15 AM8.54 "   |  |  |
| SalamancaCarrolltonOleanCubaWellsvilleAndoverAlfred | 8.25 AM8.85 "9.00 "9.25 "10.22 " | 3.50 PM4.06 "4.33 "4.58 "5.50 " |          | 9.11 AM9.25 "10.00 "10.31 "11.25 "11.43 PM12.00 " |  |  |
| Leave Hornellsville Arrive at Elmira Binghamton Port Jervis                 | 1.25 рм  |   |          | 1.50 PM4.30 "7.30 "   |  |  |
| New York  | 10.00 рм   | 7.25 AM   | 11.25 ам |   |  |  |

ADDITIONAL LOCAL TRAINS EASTWARD.

5.00 A. M., except Sundays, from Dunkirk, stopping at Sheridan 5.23, Forestville 5.40, Smith's Mills 5.57, Perrysburg 6.30, Dayton 6.55, Cattaraugus 7.53, Little Valley 8.43, Salamanca 9.25, Great Valley 9.56, Carrollton 10.20, Vandalia, 10.46, Allegany 11.20, Olean 11.55 A. M., Hinsdale 12.30, Cuba 1.25, Friendship 3 03, Belvidere 3 30, Belmont 3.52, Scio Friendship 3.03, Belvidere 3.30, Belmont 3.52, Scio 4.17. Wellsville 5.55, Andover 6.52, Alfred 7.42, Almond 8.10, and arriving at Hornellsville at 8.35 P. M. THE ROYAL LAW CONTENDED FOR. By Edward Stennet. First printed in London, in 1658. 64 pp. Paper, 10 cents.

5.42 A. M., daily, from Friendship, stopping at Belvidere 6.00, Belmont 6.25, Scio 6.43, and arriving at Wellsville 7.10 A. M.

9.06 A. M., daily, from Dunkirk, stopping at Sheridan 9.15, Forestville 9.22, Smith's Mills 9.31, Perrysburg 9.46, Dayton 9.55, Cattaraugus 10.15, Little Valley 10.31, Salamanca 10.48, Great Valley 11.26, Carrollton 11.45 A.M., Vandalia 12.01, Allegany 12.20, Olean 12.40, Hinsdale 1.15, Cuba 1.42, Friendship 2.25, Belvidere 2.50, Belmont 3.05, Scio 3.21, Wellsville 3.39, Andover 4.14, Alfred 4.47, Almond 5.04, arriving at Hornellsville at 5.25 P. M.

The Society also publishes the following tracts, | 5.45 P. M., daily, from Salamanca, stopping at all stations, arriving at Hornellsville at 12.10 Å. M.

| 1   | . 44 TRD T                    | main.   |   |                               |
|---|-------------------------------|---------|---|-------------------------------|
| STATIONS.   | No. 3*                        | No. 5   | No. 29  | Ne. 1                         |
| LeaveNew YorkPort Jervis                                  | 7.00 PM10.55 "            |         | 7.15 РМ   | 9.00 AM12.13 PM           |
| Hornellsville   | 8.10 АМ                       | 5.10 ам | 12.50 рм  | 8.55 рм                       |
| Wellsville Cuba Olean Carrollton Great Valley Arrive at Salamanca | 10.01 "10.29 "11.09 " | 7.22 '' | 2.15 PM3.30 "4.07 "5.02 "5.13 "5.17 " | 10.49 "11.15 "11.39 " |
| Leave Little Valley Arrive at Dunkirk                             | 11.52 AM1.30 PM           |         |   | 12.20 AM2.10 "            |

ADDITIONAL LOCAL TRAINS WESTWARD.

12.25 P. M., daily, except Sunday, from Hornells-ville, stopping at Almond 12.36, Alfred 12.46, An-dover 1.05, Wellsville 1.24, Cuba 2.22, Olean 2.50, Carrollton 3.30, Great Valley 8.40, and all stations, arriving at Salamanca at 6 P. M.
4.15 A. M., except Sundays, from Hornellsville, stopping at Almond 4.40, Alfred 5.00, Andover 5.54, Wellsville 7.25, arriving at Dunkirk at 7.35 P. M. 4.00 P. M., daily, from Hornellsville, stops at all stations, arriving at Salamanca 10.50 P. M. Sunday, Train 1 will run between Salamanca and Dunkirk; Train 29 will make the stops of Train 9.

* Daily. ‡ Daily, except Monday.

BRADFORD BRANCH

| Wediward.              |       |          |       |       |               |         |
|------------------------|-------|----------|-------|-------|---------------|---------|
| STATIONS.              |       |          |       |       | 21.           |         |
| Leave                  | А. М. | Р. М.    | Р. М. | P. M. | P. M.8.22 | P. M.   |
| Carrollton  Arrive at  | 1 2   |          | 200   |       | 124 124       |         |
| Bradford Leave         | 10.03 | 9.30     | 4.51  | 12.35 | 9.00          | 1.20    |
| Bradford               | 10.45 |          | 4.55  | 1.05  |               |         |
| Custer City  Arrive at | 11.10 |          | 5.07  | 1.20  | ••••          | ••••    |
| Buttsville             | 12.25 |   | 5.45  |       |               |  |

6.55 A. M., and 6.00 P. M., daily, except Sundays, from Bradford, stopping at all stations, and arriving at Buttsville 8.20 A. M., and 6.45 P. M. 11.04 A. M., daily, except Sundays, from Carrollton, stops at Limestone 11.20, Kendall 11.81, and arrives at Bradford 11 35 A. M.

EASTWARD. STATIONS. A. M. P. M. P. M. 8.40 .... 1.10 .... Leave Buttsville 7.18 .... 9.85 1.80 8.14.... Custer City Arrive at 7.85 .... 9.50 1.45 8.25 ... Bradford

Bradford Arrive at 8.39 6.55 10.45 8.20 4.55 7.20 Carrollton 8.30 P. M., daily, except Sundays, from Bradford, stops at Kendall 3.84, Limestone 3.44, and arrives at Carrollton 4.01 P. M.

7.45 6.20 10.08 2.40 4.15 6.00

Leave

7.30 P. M., except Sundays, from Buttsville, stopping at all stations, arriving at Bradford 8.30 P. M. Trains 17, 18, 20 and 21 run daily.

Passengers can leave Titusville at 8.00 A. M., and arrive at Bradford 11.35 A. M. Leave Bradford 3.30 P. M., and arrive at Titusville 7.30 P. M.

Through Tickets to all points at the very low-est rates, for sale at the Company's offices. Baggage will be checked only on Tickets purchased at the Company's office. JOHN N. ABBOTT, General Passenger Agent, New York.

S. S. Department.

Conducted by the Sabbath School Board of the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference.

President-A. B. KENYON, Secretary—E. M. Tomlinson, Treasurer-E. S. BLISS.

Alfred Centre, N. Y. GEO. H. BABCOCK, Plainfield, N. J Vice Presidents L. R. SWINNEY, Lost Creek, W. V. A.B. PRENTICE, Adams Centre, N.Y. E. M. DUNN, Milton, Wis.

Contributions for this department are solicited, and may be addressed to the President or Secretary.

INTERNATIONAL LESSONS, 1882.

THIRD QUARTER.

July 1. A Lesson on Home. Mark 10: 1-16. July 8. The Rich Young Man. Mark 10: 17-31. July 15. Suffering and Service. Mark 10: 32-45. July 22. Blind Bartimeus. Mark 10: 46-52. July 29. The Triumphal Entry. Mark 11: 1-11. Aug. 5. The Fruitless Tree. Mark 11: 12-23. Aug. 12. Prayer and Forgiveness. Mark 11: 24-33. Aug. 19. The Wicked Hysbandmen. Mark 12: 1-12.

Aug. 26. Pharisees and Adducees Silenced. Mark 12: 13-27. Sept 2. Love to God and Men. Mark 12. 28-44. Sept. 9. Calamities Foretold. Mark 13: 1-20. Sept. 16. Watchfulness Enjoined. Mark 13: 21-37.

LESSON VI.—THE FRUITLESS TREE

BY REV. W. C. TITSWORTH.

For Sabbath-day, August 5.

And on the morrow

find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he forward for ever. his disciples heard it.

them that sold the doves that any man should carry a vessel through the tem-7 ple. And he taught, and said unto them, is it not written, My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but ye and the scribes heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for all the

And every evening he calling to remembrance saith unto him, Rabbi, be-hold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered

22 away. And Jesus answer-into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he

4. John 2: 13-25.

CENTRAL TRUTH.—The "form of godliness," without "the power thereof," is cursed.

GOLDEN TEXT .- " Herein is my father glo

OUTLINE.

I. The tree cursed. v. 12-14. Fig trees were frequently planted by the roadside in Palestine, to refresh, with their fruit, the travelers who were on foot more than travelers now-a-days. This was considered a good place for them. Notice that this tree was barren, and it was false, i. e., it had an appearance of being fruitful when it was not.

Emblem of hypocrisy. Jesus had no feeling of irritability or that? Is there any pretense in your life? Leaves without

II. The temple cleansed. v. 15-18. These animals were used for sacrifices and the money was paid as a tax.

See Ex. 30: 11-16. The people came so far that they needed to buy their animals for sacrifice, in Jerusalem. What kind of people used doves? But it was not right to bring these things into the temple, or into that part of it called the "Court of the Gentiles," for it crowded out the proselytes.

It was greed and avarice which made them bring their ani mals into the temple to sell. The place for these was outside.

The temple was the house of God's worship, so Jesus, in anger, drove them all out. Did you ever see a whole crowd of wicked men afraid of one good man? Read John 2: 13-

25. These people were like the fig tree, they pretended to have a great zeal for God and his house and worship, but in

III. The tree withered. v. 19-23. The next day when Jesus and his disciples were going into Jerusalem again, some one called the attention to the tree. Who was it

What did he say? What was the reply of the Master? A mountain represents a great difficulty. Power to work miracles was given to the apostles, but to us faith is given that there may be wonderful things wrought in ourselves.

making good men of bad ones, true men of false ones, kind men of selfish ones. Where did Jesus spend his nights? With COMMENTARY.

I. The tree cursed, v. 12-14. Found also in Matt. 21, with some differences. Mark's is evidently the definite account, and Matthew's the in definite. Matthew makes the cursing and finding the tree withered occur on the same day. Mark puts them in two days. The differences show their independence of each other, and do not impeach but rather confirm their truthfulness in the essential things of the narrative. The cursing happened the next day after the public entry into Jerusalem which is celebrated by some portions of the Christian Church as Palm Sunday. If it was Sunday, the cursing took place on Monday. Jesus was spending reality they thought more of money making.

I. The tree cursed. v. 12-14.

II. The temple cleansed. v. 15-18.

III. The tree withered. v. 19-23.

at his teaching.

rs. And the chief priests

16 and he would not suffer

SCRIPTURE LESSON-MARK 11: 12-23; (New Version.)

(Old Version.) 12. And on the morrow, 112 Bethany, he was hungry:
13. And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came if haply he might find any thing thereon; and when came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time 14. And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard

15. And they come to Jerualem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves; 16. And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.

17. And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it 18. And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doc-

19. And when even was come, he went out of the city.

20. And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the 21. And Peter calling to re-membrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away.

22. And Jesus answering ing saith unto them, Have faith aith unto them, Have faith in God. Verily I say unto vou. Whosoever shall

23. For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass: he shall have whatsoever he saith.

ahead Coming to it with a desire to find fruit on it-for he was hungry-he found it barren, and cursed it in these words, "No man eat fruit from thee henceforward forever." To understand this we need to remember, 1. That this was no petulant act of vengeance for not finding something to eat, on Jesus' part. There are those who call it "a childlike exhibition of impatience at disappointment." But Farrar well says, "Would he who, at the Tempter's bidding, refused to satisfy his wants by turning the stones of the wilderness into bread, fly into a rage with an unconscious tree?" Jesus was surely not capable of that. 2. That it was a barren tree. It is not wrong to destroy a useless tree by ordinary methods; why any more wrong by a miracle? 3. That fig/trees were commonly planted by the road side because it was thought an unusually fertile place for them, and that their refreshing fruit might be of service to the passers-by. The fruit was common property. Because this tree was by the roadside, then it was not a destruction of some one's property, and because it was barren it was an injury to no one to have it destroyed. 4. There is sometimes found a difficulty with the words, "for the time of figs was not yet." They need not be explained away, for they mean just what they say. Nor can we find satisfaction in the explanation that the figs appear before the leaves, and that Jesus had a right to expect fruit, seeing leaves. T. W. Chambers, a recent traveler, says in effect as follows: The fig tree bears two crops, an early one which is good for nothing, and a later one, which is good for food. All fig trees bear the first, but only good ones the second. These when they were come out from Bethany, he hun-gered. And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might latter frequently hang on the tree all Winter and into the Spring. It had no sign of these nor any sign of the early figs, showing that it was barren last year and was to be this; in other words, was, as has been found nothing but leaves: for it was not the season said, a useless tree. 5. That it was false as well as barren, giving promise in its leaves of what 14 of figs. And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceit did not produce. Hence the lesson. It stood for the false and barren Jewish nation, and it stands for And they come to Jerusalem: and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold an illustration, both in itself and the curse it received. of hypocrites in all times. It is a good object lesson, standing for pretense and appearance of religion, and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of where there is no religious character. 6. That this is the only miracle of our Master which was not plainly benevolent and beneficent. If we see the lesson of

into the city, he saw a leafy fig tree on the road

of doing good, of emphasizing a truth. II. The temple cleansed. v. 15-18. This happened when he reached Jerusalem the same day the barren tree was cursed. See Matt. 21, and Luke 19:45. See also John 2:13-17, which however refers to another cleansing of the temple in the beginning of his ministry. He found the old evils again, and again cast them out. The Passover brought great crowds to Jerusalem from nearly every known went forth out of the city.

O And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away 1 from the roots. And Peter their money was all foreign, too; so they had to buy ter their money was all foreign, too; so they had to buy their sacrifices in Jerusalem, and get their money changed there, especially enough to pay the half shekel of atonement money. Exod. 30: 11-16. The business of the traffickers in the temple was legitimate, but it ought to have been confined to its proper places, at the gates and in the streets. Gradually, the booths of the shop-keepers began to creep into the sacred enclosure, till the court of the Gentiles became a cattle-pen, and a place of bargaining and bartering in the doves which were the offerings of the poorer people, and of the exchange of money. It was irreverence and sacrilege, begotten of greed, and Jesus could not endure it. "Why did not this multitude of ignorant pilgrims resist? Why did these greedy chafferers content themselves with dark scowls and muttered maledictions, while they suffered their oxen and sheep to be chased into the streets and themselves ejected, and their money flung | the helps he may, to understand the Word, rolling on the floor by this despised Galilean? Why, in the same way we might ask, did Saul suffer Samuel to beard him in the very presence of his wrong? Why did Ahab not dare arrest Elijah at the door of Naboth's vineyard? Because sin is weakness; because there is in this world nothing so abject as a guilty conscience. Base as were these people, they felt in all the remnant of their souls which was not eaten away by infidelity and avarice, that the Son of man was right." It was robbery to disregard the rights of the Gentiles who had come to pray, by filling their place with business and traffic. See Isa. 56: 7, Jer. 7:7. When the chief priests and scribes heard it resentment. He cursed the tree to teach a lesson; what was they tried to find the way of carrying into execution their already formed plan (John 11:53) of killing him, but were held back by fear of the multitude who were listening to him with wonder and interest. In the evening, Jesus returned to Bethany with this one, we shall see that it too was for the purpose

III. The tree withered. v. 19-23. Matthew says it withered immediately; Mark does not say when it withered, but simply that the next morning they found it in that condition, when going for the day to Jerusalem. It is Peter who calls the Lord's attention to it. It is Peter also who calls Jesus' words a curse. Jesus' reply is simply, "Have faith in God." Matthew puts it, "If you have faith and doubt not, ye shall say," etc. The mountain to which he referred may have been Mt. Olivet or Mt. Moriah, both of which were in sight. A most nat ural explanation is that a mountain stands for a great difficulty; but some have suggested that Mt. Moriah was the mountain referred to, and, as the temple stood on this, Jesus meant that their faith should bring about the destruction of the Jewish Theocracy. No Jew could understand the words. 'Mountain" was a word of much use in their common speech, to mean difficulty of any sort. The first application is to the apostles who had faith to perform miracles; but it also applies in our times to all Christians. Faith will work miracles in our spiritual lives, and remove great mountains of sin and bad habit and uncleanness, and bring out the grace of Jesus in our lives. It will make us to be neither barren nor unfruiteful in spiritual life; it will uproot all pretense and appearance of religion, and goes with this.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL TEACHERS DUTIES.

Essay read at the Semi-annual Meeting held a Dodge Centre, Minn., June 30, to July 3, 1882, and requested, by vote of that body, for publication in the SABBATH RECORDER.

BY M. T. COLE.

That the relation of the teacher to the Sabbath-school, is one of primary importance, will scarcely admit of discussion. The importance of the position, together with the responsibility to be borne, makes the relations of teacher to the school of great variety, and open a wide range for opinion and discussion. Added to all this. is the great truth, that everything that teacher and school have to do with, counts for good or evil. Every scholar placed under the charge of a teacher, is an immortal soul placed in his care to be directed by him to that heavenly joy, peace, and rest, compared with which the pleasures of this world are as nothing. Happy is that teacher who can know that one or more of his class has become a true follower of Christ. The Sabbath-school is, or ought to be, the nursery of the Church; its primary helper; and so far as the Sabbath-school shall aid in the same work, so far is the work right; and so far, only. But when the work of the school has been completed, the scholar has been taken from the ranks of sin, trained and disciplined in the recruiting ground of the school, and is a regularly enlisted soldier in the rank and file of Him who never lost a battle, and never will. Then, and then only, is the work completed. The great work of the Church is to Christianize humanity. We are led to inquire, What relation should the teacher bear to the school, that he may help most in this work? He should have the salvation of souls his greatest and most constant effort. This should always be manifest in thought, word, and deed. Selfmastery never should be lost, and temperance should be the guiding rule. The teacher should be a living example of the best personal habits in all things. He should be a diligent Bible scholar and lover of God's law, and teach Christ and that law. The Bible should be much studied, and Him who only is perfect held up for a pattern rather than any man or creed. So far as he is able, he should try to have the individual. independent and self-reliant, in his belief. Place his feet fairly and squarely on the rock, Christ Jesus, and on him only. The world bears evidence of too many "propped up" Christians. The teacher should employ all but never to the exclusion of the Bible. He ought to be a punctual, active member of all the appointments of the church and school. The light of God's truth must be in us, and shine forth, or how can we expect others to see the light. The truth should be vigorously, clearly, unhesitatingly presented, even though it condemns self, father, mother, and other relatives. Remember the parable of the mote and the beam. The work of the pastor and officers of the school should be faithfully aided. Every teacher should be able to help in the singing of the gospel. Many souls lost in sin have been brought to love the Savior, by the singing of the precious truth. Above all, the teacher should often go to God in his closet, on bended knee, for his help in thought, word, or deed. To be a physician to the sick in body, mind, spirit—a comforter to the mourning and discouraged, strength to the weak and aged, give employment to the idle, and interest the careless, is the work of the teacher, school and church, and helped by the means mentioned, and faithfully carried out, we shall hear the words, "Well done," and have jewels in our crown. THE true problom in Christian living not to find a path in which there shall be no difficulties to encounter, no obstacles to overcome, no battles to fight, no trials to endure; the problem is rather to live victoriously in whatever circumstances we may be called to live. If God in his providence leads us into trials and conflicts, he is giving us opportunities to live more grandly and to win higher prizes. We may be thankful for every difficulty, every obstacle, every hardship and privation; met in the true way and overcome, they will put new strength into give us the true appearance, and the fruit which our souls, and new stars into our crowns .-Westminster Teacher.

If you want to do right, you must be A WELL-KNOWN educator says, that if you H. V. DUNHAM.

Want to influence the vound you must got H. WANUFACTURER OF CLOTHING. his nights at Bethany, about a mile and a half (fif. | right. There is no such a thing as well- | want to influence the young, you must get | teen stadia, John 11: 18) from Jerusalem, and prob- doing apart from well-being. As an Orient- near them. Just as it is in the world of ably with Lazarus and Martha and Mary. As he al proverb has it, "You cannot drive a physics, the force of attraction varies inversewas passing along the slope of the Mount of Olives, straight furrow without a straight eye." If Iy as the square of the distance. That acyou would do good to others, you must be counts for the fact, that often the inferior good before others. No one can be a safe in capacity and attainments exert a greater guide in a path he has not traveled. It is influence than their superiors. They get sheer mockery to attempt to teach a living near to the person to be moved. He who truth which is not a part of the teacher's desires to act on a child's heart must not have life. "If the light that is in thee be dark- his head among the stars. He must come ness, how great is that darkness."—S. S. down into the child world. He must put himself into the child's place in order that he may be able to speak effectively. To get into a boy's heart, as some one has well said, you must get the boy-heart into you. Then you can bring him up with you into the thoughts and feelings of a man.

Business Directory.

It is desired to make this as complete a directory as ossible, so that it may become a DENOMINATIONAL DIREC-TORY. Price of Cards (8 lines), per annum, $3.

Alfred Centre, N. Y.

QILAS C. BURDICK,

Books, Stationery, Drugs, Groceries, etc. Canned MAPLE SYRUP a Specialty.

A. SHAW, JEWELER,

WATCHES, SILVER WARE, JEWELRY, &c.

DURDICK AND GREEN, Manufacturers of DTinware, and Dealers in Stoves, Agricultural Implements, and Hardware.

TOICE CULTURE BY LETTER. Address, for particulars, J. G. BURDICK.

ANGWORTHY & DAVIS, IRON FOUNDERS, Manufacturers of, and Dealers in AGRICUL TURAL IMPLEMENTS. Job Work to Order.

Hornellsville, N. Y.

ELIAS AYARS, ARCHITECT.
PRIVATE AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Berlin, N. Y.

Citizens' National Bank Building, Hornellsville.

R. GREEN & CO.,

DEALERS IN GENERAL MERCHANDISE. Drugs and Paints.

THE "BERLIN CHAMPION SHIRTS" TO ORDER

Adams Centre, N. Y.

M. D. TITSWORTH,

DRUGGIST.

LIANDY PACKAGE DYE COMPANY. Best and Cheapest, for Domestic Use. Send for Circular.

Leonardsville, N. Y.

RMSTRONG HEATER, LIME EXTRACTOR, and CONDENSER for Steam Engines. ARMSTRONG HEATER Co., Leonardsville, N. Y.

New York City.

THE BABCOCK & WILCOX CO. Patent Water-tube Steam Boilers. GEO. H. BABCOCK, Pres. 30 Cortlandt St.

THE N. Y. SAFETY STEAM POWER CO. 👢 Vertical and Horizontal Steam Engines & Boilers. GEO. H. BABCOCK, Pres. 30 Cortlandt St.

THOMAS B. STILLMAN & CO., CHEMISTS Analyses of Ores, Minerals, Waters, &c. 40 & 42 Broadway.

R. M. TITSWORTH, MANUFACTURER OF FINE CLOTHING. Custom Work a Specialty. POTTER, JR. & CO. PRINTING PRESSES.

12 & 14 Spruce St. C. Potter, Jr. H. W. Fish. Jos. M. Titsworth. LTYDRAULIC JACK AND PRESSES.

Punches and Shears for Iron. E. LYON & Co., 470 Grand St.

Plainfield, N. J. ▲ MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY.

EXECUTIVE BOARD. I. D. TITSWORTH, Pres., | J. F. HUBBARD, Treas. L. E. LIVERMORE, Sec., G. H. BABCOCK, Cor. Sec. Plainfield, N. J. New Market, 'N. J.

THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MEMORIAL BOARD. CHAS. POTTER, JR., President, Plainfield, N. J. E. R. Pope, Treasurer, Plainfield, N. J., L. E. LIVERMORE, Secretary, New Market, N. J. Gifts for all Denominational Interests solicited. Prompt payment of all obligations requested.

H. RANDOLPH, DEALER IN GRAINS, FLOUR, MEAL, FEED, BALE HAY, STRAW, &c. Bet. Elm and William Sts. CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER OR READY

MADE, from Samples. Agent for Wana-MAKER & Brown, Philadelphia. Rubber Goods a Specialty. 10 per ct. discount to Clergymen. 41 W. Front St. ALEX. TITSWORTH.

C. POPE & CO. FIRE and LIFE INSURANCE AGENTS. 14 E. Front Street. TOTTER PRESS WORKS.

Machinists, and Builders of Printing Presses. C. POTTER, JR:, M. DUNHAM, MERCHANT TAILOR, AND Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods. Next to Laing's Hotel. -44 W. Front St.

DOPE BROTHERS, DEALERS IN Dry Goods, Notions, Hosiery, Gloves, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Mats, &c.

CPICER & HUBBARD, PLANING MILL. Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, &c. H. TOMLINSON, M. D.

PHYSICIAN & SURGEON. Residence, 2d Street. M. STILLMAN ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Supreme Court Commissioner, etc. REEN & CO., DEALERS IN FURNITURE, BED. DING, Curtains and Shades. Goods Shipped from New York if desired. URSON C. GREEN. FRANK C. GREEN.

New Market, N. J.

A store to Let. Best in the place.

Dunellen, N. J.

GORTON'S HOUSE-HEATING STEAM GENERATOR.

—Cheapest and best. Satisfaction guaranteed. Send for Circular to N. J. STEAM HEATING Co.

Daytona, Florida.

AVID D. ROGERS, CIVIL ENGINEER U. S. Deputy Surveyor for the Dist. of Fla. DAYTONA, Valusia Co., Fla.

Westerly, R. I.

MAXSON & CO., BUILDERS. DEALERS IN LUMBER. Successors to C. MAXSON & CO.

T. CLAWSON, TAILOR. CLOTHS, CLOAKINGS, AND TRIMMINGS. Samples sent by mail.

L. BARBOUR & CO., DRUGGISTS AND PHARMACISTS. No. 1, Bridge Block.

DEALER IN FURNITURE OF ALL KINDS. Orders by mail promptly filled.

F. STILLMAN & SON, MANUFACTURERS OF FINE CARRIAGES. Orders for Shipment Solicited.

E. N. DENISON & CO., JEWELERS.
RELIABLE GOODS TO THE RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRICES. Finest Repairing Solicited. Please try us.

THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MISSION. ARY SOCIETY. GEORGE GREENMAN, President, Mystic Bridge, Ct. L. A. Platts. Recording Secretary, Westerly, R. I. . E. Main, Corresponding Secretary, Ashaway. GEO. B. UTTER, Treasurer, Westerly.

All contributions for missions, and communications relating to financial affairs, should be sent to the Treasurer. Reports of labor, and other communications intended for the Board of Managers, or for publication in the Missionary Department of the RECORDER, should be sent to the Corresponding

Ashaway, R. I.

THOS. A. BARBER, DRUGGIST AND PHARMACIST, AND DEALER IN Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes.

LANGWORTHY & CO., GENERAL STORE Books, Hardware, and Glassware, a Specialty. Send for Catalogue of Garden Seeds. I. WELLS, Maker of Fine Carriages and Wagons.

New Milton, W. Va. UTHER F. RANDOLPH, Dealer in Dry

Goods, Groceries, and all other general country store merchandise and produce. Chicago, Ill.

RDWAY & CO. MERCHANT TAILORS. 205 West Madison St.

E. STILLMAN BAILEY, M. D. 3034 Michigan Avenue.

REDERICK D. ROGERS. DRUGGIST. 2406 Cottage Grove Avenue.

Office and Residence, - - -Job Printer. Publisher SABBATH CHRONICLE.

B. COTTRELL & CO. CYLINDER PRINTING Presses, for Hand and Steam Power. Factory at Westerly, R. I.

Walworth, Wis.

A. WALTERS. PATENT HAY ELEVATORS AND CARRIERS. Best in use. D. READ.

DRUGS, GROCERIES, DRY GOODS, &c.

Milton, Wis.

DROF. N. WARDNER WILLIAMS, MUSICAL DEPARTMENT, MILTON COLLEGE. Piano, Voice, Organ, Harmony, &c. Send for circular. W H. CORY, DEALER IN Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots & Shoes, Crockery, etc. W. CLARKE, DEALER IN BOOKS V • Stationery, Jewelry, Musical Instruments, FANCY AND HOLIDAY GOODS. Milton, Wis. DAVIS BROS., MANUFACTURERS OF HAND and POWER PRESS and SHEARS. TIRE-SHRINKERS and AXEL-SETTERS. Circulars. P. CLARKE, REGISTERED PHARMACIST, Post-Office Building, Milton, Wis. Minnesota.

TLLIS AYRES, PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST.

COPYING IN INDIAN INK, OIL, CRAYON, &C. Dodge Centre, Minn. RIFFIN & SON, Nortonville, Kansas. The Sabbath Recorder.

DEALERS IN DRUGS AND GROCERIES,

PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT-SOCIETY,

ALFRED CENTRE, ALLEGANY CO., N. Y.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Papers to foreign countries will be charged 50 cents additional, on account of postage.

If payment is delayed beyond six months, 50 cents additional will be charged. No paper discontinued until arrearages are paid, except at the option of the publisher.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

Transient advertisements will be inserted for 50 cents an inch for the first insertion, and 25 cents an inch for each subsequent insertion. Special contracts made with parties advertising extensively, or for long terms.

Legal advertisements inserted at legal rates. Yearly advertisers may have their advertisements changed quarterly without extra charge. No advertisements of objectionable character will be admitted.

JOB PRINTING.

The office is furnished with a supply of jobbing material, and more will be added as the business may demand, so that all work in that line can be executed with neatness and dispatch.

ADDRESS

All communications, whether on business or for publication, should be addressed to "THE SAB-BATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, Allegany counPUBLISHED BY THE

VOL. XXXVIII

The Sabba

Entered' as second-class office at Alfred Centre, N

HE-LEAD BY C. PAT

I know not what's Not one short day But yet His eye is o His hand still lead

I know not what ter

Or trials I shall m Yet He is my salva The refuge of my What though my particle And rough should I have his word to de

For counsel night Though dark the cl And all around b Yet still I know He What cause have

If friends should ac And foes should I hear His voice be 'The battle ne'er "For I will still be

To shield thee fro If thou wilt lean up And trust my min "Though through I cause thee yet to And trials of the May almost over

"Still be not thou Nor ever yield to And I will give the Thy victories to "And though through Thy pathway ye I will be thy physic To heal thee by a

"My hand shall evi Along life's rugge If thou wilt not for Nor yet forget to What though the co Remains to me u

Shall I my troubles And pile them up Have I not cause to Who has done mu This ever be my ma His hand still lead

RESTING

BY THE CI

Killarney From Killarney, the Great Southern and W land, in a first class ca that none save aristoc fools, ride in. Beings just escaped the last n is bordered on the sout and the Baggeragh station of note is Mall on the banks of the Bl try around is quite ro castle of Kilcalman, Si Queen, and read the

From Mallow to Li through a beautiful a the Ballyhoura mount the Mullagarick on one of the historic cit situated on the banks most beautiful of Iris was formerly surround and withstood many a of which were those h iam the Third. The Limerick are noble architecture. From Limerick to prairie-like, beset wit

while seated on the b

Mulla river.

a city on the way, w times for its saints. Bridget a perennial fli a thousand years, by fit of poor strangers. ally at present, for th its carboniferous lime are on their winding Arrived at Dublin of cablegrams from One was from his bet bodied in the signi proof." Consulting patches. Press found its meaning to be. In desperation, he be first steamer to Amer ominous dispatch, he !

excitement prevente first reading many