DRUGGISTS AND PHARMACISTS. No. 1, Bridge Block.

B. CLARKE, · · DEALER IN FURNITURE OF ALL KINDS. Orders by mail promptly filled.

F. STILLMAN & SON. MANUFACTURERS OF FINE CARRIAGES.
Orders for Shipment Solicited.

N. DENISON & CO., JEWELERS. RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRICES Finest Repairing Solicited.

HE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MISSION. orge Greenman, President, Mystic Bridge, Ca A PLATTS. Recording Secretary, Westerly, R. I. E. MAIN, Corresponding Secretary, Ashaway.

ill contributions for missions, and communicans relating to financial affairs, should be sent to Treasurer. Reports of labor, and other commuations intended for the Board of Managers, or for blication in the Missionary Department of the CORDER, should be sent to the Corresponding

B. UTTER, Treasurer, Westerly.

Ashaway, R. I.

HOS. A. BARBER DRUGGIST AND PHARMACIST, AND DEALER IN Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes.

LANGWORTHY & CO., GENERAL STORE Books, Hardware, and Glassware, a Specialty. Send for Catalogue of Garden Seeds. I. WELLS,

Maker of Fine Carriages and Wagons

New Milton, W. Va.

UTHER F. RANDOLPH, Dealer in General Country Store Merchandise and Produce. Successor to L F. RANDOLPH & BRO.

Chicago, 111.

RDWAY & CO. MERCHANT TAILORS. 205 West Madison St.

STILLMAN BAILEY, M. D.

3034 Michigan Avenue. REDERICK D. ROGERS, M. D., DRUGGIST. 2406 Cottage Grove Avenue

Mice and Residence, - Hyde Park. B. COTTRELL & CO. CYLINDER PRINTING Presses, for Hand and Steam Power. ctory at Westerly, R. I. 112 Monroe St.

Walworth, Wis.

A. WALTERS. PATENT HAY ELEVATORS AND CARRIERS.

Drugs, Groceries, Dry Goods. &c.

Milton, Wis.

ROF. N. WARDNER WILLIAMS, MUSICAL DEPARTMENT, MILTON COLLEGE. Piano, Voice gan, Harmony, &c. Send for circular. H. CORY,

Dry Goods. Groceries, Boots & Shoes, Crockery, etc.

W. CLARKE, DEALER-IN BOOKS. Stationery, Jewelry, Musical Instruments, EANCY AND HOLIDAY GOODS. Milton, Wis. AVIS BROS., MANUFACTURERS OF

HAND and POWER PRESS and SHEARS. RE SHRINKERS and AXEL-SETTERS. Circulars. P. CLAREE

REGISTERED PHARMACIST, st-Office Building,

Minnesota.

LLIS AYRES, PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST. COPYING IN INDIAN INK, OIL, CRAYON, &C. Dodge Centre, Minn.

Kansas. RIFFIN & SON.

DEALERS IN DRUGS AND GROCERIES, Nortonville, Kansas.

he Sabbath Recorden. PUBLISHED WEEKLY.

MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY,

FRED CENTRE, ALLEGANY CO., N. Y. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

spers to foreign countries will be charged 50 cents itional, on account of postage. If payment is delayed beyond six months, 50 is additional will be charged.

paper discontinued until arrearages are paid, pt at the option of the publisher. ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT.

asient advertisements will be inserted for 50 s an inch for the first insertion, and 25 cents an for each subsequent insertion. Special conmade with parties advertising extensively, or advertisements inserted at legal rates. arly advertisers may have their advertisement d quarterly without extra charge. advertisements of objectionable character will is office is furnished with a supply of jobbing d so that all work in that line can be executed ness and dispatch.

HRECORDER, Alfred Centre, Allegant

Sabbath Recorder.

PHBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY.

"THE SEVENTH DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD."

TERMS—$2 A YEAR, IN ADVANCE

VOL. XXXVIII.-NO. 34.

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, AUGUST 24, 1882.

WHOLE NO. 1959.

The Sabbath Recorder.

Entered as second-class mail matter at the post office at Alfred Centre, N. Y.

THE POWER THAT CONQUERS.

The sermon preached by Rev. T. L. Gardiner, of Shiloh, N. J., at the North-Western Association, held in West Hallock, Ill., June, 1882.

Matt. 5: 44. "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you. Grander than the march of armies, might ier than sway of empire, infinitely more noble than the avenging chivalry of the world, is that disposition of soul that enables a man to comply with these counsels. To have them in active exercise, bespeaks for the possessor greater victories than warriors know, and sphere of manhood that approaches the d vine. By virtue of such characteristics, and the kindred elements with which they harmonize, the man Christ Jesus became the center of power in the moral universe. this wonderful "Sermon on the Mount," the "Prince of Peace" sets forth the fundamental principles by which men are to become heirs of the heavenly kingdom. And here it is, that the blessed spirit, in which the divine love-message was sent to lost men, is revealed in such a manner as to transcend everything of which mankind had any knowledge. And here again, the spirit and manner that must characterize the fellowship, and dealings of man with man, before he can be truly blessed, or hope for an abundant entrance into the heavenly kingdom, is most clearly set forth. The false mantles which Jewish Phariseeism had thrown around God's truth, are quickly removed, when the Son of man fixes his searching gaze upon them; and the winnowing "fan" of the "Mightier than John," makes thorough work in purging away the false rendering they had given the law. And then in applying the truth to their hearts. how wonderfully does that "Refiner and purifier," whom the prophet saw, "purify the sons of Levi, and purge away their dross, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness." Taking the sum of the "law and the prophets," which he came not to destroy, he strips them of all that traditionists have added, until the naked truth stands out in all its primitive purity. Therefore, we are not to suppose that Jesus is here unfolding an entirely new doctrine, but is simply acting the part of an incomparable interpreter of the law, which was in force "in the beginning."

The command to "love thy neighbor." was well understood, but they had failed to apprehend the true meaning of "neighbor," and gave it the most selfish and narrow construction possible to be given. And false teachers, in accordance with the law of opposites, had added, "and hate thine enemy;"

"suffereth long, and is kind," "is not easily tles were willing to be counted "fools for gate. After the lapse of so many centuries, he smiled. Then, from this time onward, provoked," and "beareth all things, endur- Christ's sake," until we read in their letters in which all things have conspired to teach let us remember, that the chilling sleet of a eth all things." This, then, is the love that of "stripes," "imprisonments," "mock- this lesson, and after the example of the March north-easter will bring out more is primary in the divine nature, and when ings," and crucifixions, meekly borne. world-Redeemer has been held up to teach roses than fretfulness and scolding criticism in active exercise with God's children, is indeed, "the fulfilling of the law."

Now, do we need any further commentary upon the meaning of this text, than these comparisons of apostolic writings, before we may apply the truth understandingly, and know of a surety what the Lord means to teach thereby? Then let us turn to the example of the Son of man himself, and hold up this passage in the clearer light that beams from that matchless life, and thus, add to apostolic testimony, the indisputable argument which the every-day life of the perfect Pattern gives, to this precept that fell so graciously from his lips. Every turn in the earth-life of Christ was but an exemplification of the teaching in this text. Having taught the precept of true love, and Christ-like tenderness, that shall reach the enemy as well as the friend; when the hour of trial comes, you find him ever true to his theory; and the spirit which he taught his people to possess, in order to be heirs to his kingdom, is everywhere manifested by himself; and that, too, in such a manner as to leave no doubt regarding what he requires in his followers. When surrounded by the fierce mob, thirsting for his blood, instead of wreaking vengeance upon them, you find him compassionately caring for the hurt of a wounded foe. And even when pressed to the last, he is overpowered, and nailed to the disgraceful cross, what mighty emphasis does he give to the teaching of this text, by the prayer of his last expiring breath, for the Father's forgivenness and blessing to follow his murderers. Yea, my friends, there can be no mistaking the meaning of this text, when viewed in the light that comes from the example of him who took upon himself our nature, and came into our condition, revealing God's own ideal of true manhood, and teaching us how to live. The world's highest ideals of character have never approached in beauty and loveliness this God-given pattern of man in the divine image. And it is only by the cultivation of these same characteristics, and by the possession of this same spirit of love and tenderness, that men can become true subjects in his kingdom, or enter the pearly gates of the New Jerusalem. For, "if any man

Therefore, in accordance with those preings, interpreted by the best, yea, the unijust as though a command to love a friend, the Great Teacher, that places him preword here rendered "love," denotes "moral" makes him the Son of God; and it is this Peace. But while this is true, there is still the Christ-spirit, that enabled him to see an injury from him, so long as you possess love as distinguished from the other word | and only this element that makes the Chrissometimes found, which expresses personal tian religion a divine religion, and places it Let the fearful thrusts of revengeful hatred filled with love for their souls, was willing have found thereby a higher plain yourself, affection. It is a higher grade of love than | high above all others, in power and in beauthe mere natural ties of regard growing out ty. Hence, it is upon this ground, that I Spirit," and revolution is already begun. goodness, and lovingly lead higher. If men sunshine of a clear conscience. I know, that, position of God toward men, in the gift of precept of this text. And, furthermore, his only begotton Son; and wherever divine ehe actual possession of such a spirit de regard for his children is revealed, concern- | termines the thoroughness of the work of ing any phase of the great plan of redemp- grace within, and the degree of its possession, tion, and pressed as a reason why men should gives the true measure of your perfection in love each other, there you find the agapa the Christ character. The disciples who of the Greek writers, which is here rendered knew Jesus, and saw how he lived, realized love; and is also rendered "charity," in the the force of these thoughts. They underapostle Paul's inimitable expose of the es stood the need of exemplifying this Christsential element in religion, as found in the principle, in order to become his children; thirteenth of 1st Corinthians. It bespeaks and, in searching the records they have left, the truly divine characteristic of soul, that you can not fail to see how thoroughly they loves without recompense: that self-conquer- | were imbued with "the same mind that was ing disposition that loves even where there is also in Christ Jesus." They seemed almost no prospect of love in return; or, to say the like second editions of the man of Nazareth, not the sin of his murder to their charge? in the most enlightened of the nations. crowning glory of such a triumph than all | divided against itself. Men are fallen among the gaudy pearls of victory that deck the thieves, and the priest and the Levite, in crowns of conquering heroes, who wade unloving sanctimoniousness, pass by on the through the deadly carnage of carnal warfare. Possibly Stephen and his fellows might | Christian society to-day, that is filled with have fought their way out, and lost their own | the Christ-spirit of the text? Men say they souls; and also the mighty conquering pow- | are in the Church, when their nature is just that is to conquer the world, and overcome | ples of the kingdom of God! er's kingdom in the hearts of men, only by a "faith which worketh by love," then is there no hope of our hastening the millennium except we possess these same qualities. In short, this is the only attitude for Christians to assume, and I am persuaded that it is the only power that can effectually unite men or nations; and that by this, and this only, can difficulties be effectually settled with men of the world, or discipline properly administered in the Church of Christ.

to apply these principles to the work we acter portrayed in the text, is a fundamental | Christian is expected to be firm and unflinch- | right, and with a formal, legalistic stiffness, | improve every opportunity to do him a some of the fortified strongholds of Satan classes are won, it is always through the love, a nature that never would have yielded left to God's soldiers a choice in weapons. some good, even in the worst of men; and, that spirit. And more than all that, you the development of love in the soul.

Now, let us, for a few moments, proceed least, one that regards compassionately, ten- reproducing his life and character at almost thuse men with noble desires for the best be like unto the arm of God, to steady him true reform has set its progressive march. derly, beneficently, where nothing has been every turn. Indeed, so essential did they good, must first learn the use of this most in his crooked wanderings, and, perchance, the spirit of Christian kindness has planned received, save injuries, insults, and mockery. deem the possession of this spirit, that they wonderful power. Men may build cathe- to lead him along the way of life to the ce- the work and led the men. Under the The same word is frequently met where the discarded every other pretention to a Chris- drals till they gild the very heavens with lestial city. Men are dying around our withering blight of hatred and revenge, apostles describe their willingness to "spend tian life, as of no more account than "sound- gold; erect altars, and spring the arches Churches for the want of a better manifesta- men's lives are blasted, and the peace of and be spent," yea, to die, if need be, for ing brass and tinkling cymbal," where this till they outstrip the rainbow in gracefulness tion of this spirit of love. Oh, that we communities is broken. Then there follows their persecutors, rather than do them an was wanting. Yea, more; this estimate and beauty; may try by the drapery and might have more of it in our families, in our a long dreary winter of rigid isolation, until Injury. This love is noted by the same writ- seemed too great, even for such a one, and glitter of consecrated priest, and oratory of Churches, and in our social and business the church reaches the chilling temperature ers as the first "fruit of the Spirit," and the whole matter was ended by declaring word-renowned divines, to grow in grace, circles. You can never drive men into the of an ecclesiastical ice-house, and society a that, too, as a fruit which begets in the themselves to be "nothing," if this essential and help the world up to God, and yet may kingdom. Christ himself did not attempt perfect bedlam of discord; and so for genera-

"Being reviled," says the Apostle, "we men what love means, and what it will do can of Christian graces. bless;" "being persecuted, we suffer it;" | for men, how little do they know of it! | "being defamed, we entreat;" yet bearing | They have a faint conception of that shallow | power of this principle in the settlement of about a daily burden of soul for the welfare | thing called love, that is born of the animal, | all difficulties between men or nations. men the wonderful manifestations of God's is willing to be nothing in the world, suffer- your feelings, and disturb your peace. The glory, which they enjoyed pre-eminently bettering of men, and the glory of God? moral backbone where it is most needed, and above their fellows? Did not the opening | The world is made desolate in these years, | the consequent victories of wicked men, are portals of heaven reveal the glory of God, by the wars of Christian. nations, by the sure to irritate, and vex. If you are zealous and the "Son of man standing on the right | quarrels of Churches, and feuds of commu- | in reforms, your motives are impugned, and hand," to the stone-pelted martyr, because nities. Scandals, born of hatfed, and bred not infrequently is your character assailed, he possessed that spirit which enabled him and cherished in the hearts of those repre- your religious or political principles bomthem, to the end that the Lord would lay almost overturned the car of salvation, even Oh, my friends, I would rather have the Jealousies predominate. Many a house is other side. Where can you point me to the er of that hour's work for God would have as selfish as ever it was, just as greedy for been lost to all the ages. Nay, we must this world's goods, just as stubborn and selfmeet the issue. If the apostles were "noth- | willed as when they made no pretensions. ing" without the "first fruit of the Spirit," | Men talk about love, and charity, and yet this crown of the graces, then we are also | are just as proud and sensitive over any in-"nothing," under the same law. If there | fringements upon their rights, as anybody; could be in them no real Christian growth just as ready to crush an opponent, and without that spirit of patient endurance | just as uncharitable in spirit, as though and Christly benevolence, which was urged | they were not professed followers of the upon them, neither can we expect a true | Prince of Peace. "Fight your enemy" is Christian development without the same the watchword of Christendom to-day! Oh, virtues. If this love-principle is the power how slow men are to learn the first princi-

further from you. While argument and formal criticism are needed to confirm a view Christian that heavenly disposition of soul element of love was wanting. So, in per-never enter themselves, nor help others on, this. He moved among men as a lover of tions. Now, let the warmth and light of a true that "worketh no ill," "thinketh no evil," feet harmony with these teachings, the apos- until they possess this one key to the golden humanity, and beauty sprang up wherever [Continued on the last page:]

Once again, I want to proclaim the mighty of their opposers. Was it not the posses- and gives only where it is to receive again. You can scarcely be an active man in this sion of this very spirit that ensured to these | But when will they learn of that love that | world, without meeting with much to ruffle favor, and the bright glimpses of future | ing all things, enduring all things for the | inconsistencies of your fellows, the want of to quietly kneel amid the mob, and pray for senting the gospel of peace, have betimes barded and ridiculed. In short, you are set upon, and assaulted by angry or jealous opponents, until you feel indignant because of the insults offered. Scarcely a man living but sees such times, but has such foes. Now, the great question is; how are we to act on such occasions, and by what power shall we overcome them? The world at large answers, By brute force. The natural impulse is to strike back, give and take, parry and thrust; out wit him, by catching him in the same trap he has set for you! taunt for taunt, scarcasm for scarcasm, an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth! But Christ teaches men a better way to act under such trying circumstances. "Bless them that curse you. do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you." Oh. there is a moral dignity and Christlike beauty in being calm in the midst of angry tumults, and patient under provocation, that is sure to make a man master of the situation. however embarrassing. Conquering heroes may unfurl flags of victory over many a capthe evil; if they could advance the Redeem. But to return to the thought in regard to quering power than he who bears within his winning men. There will be no success for soul the spirit of love and tenderness amid that one who fails to carry this spirit in his such insulting foes. You have a dispute search for the lost and wandering. Sharp with your neighbor. Each trying to injure argument, and cutting sarcastic retort, never | the other! He talks mean about you, and yet won a single soul from skepticism to the so you let no opportunity pass to tell your Christian faith. If you approach one in friends how mean he is. Each gives the that spirit, it only puts him on his defense. other a regular setting out at almost every You cut, and he will parry, only to be driven turn. So the contest rages year after year! He injures your stock; you deface his property. Both strive to beat. Both act in already apprehended, they have never yet an unchristian mauner. You will never been known to win an opposing soul. No conquer him, and he can never conquer you. good to call a man a skeptic, or an infidel, But, now stop a moment and think. Suphave not the spirit of Christ, he is none of have before us in life, and see if they do not even though that be true of him; and then pose you become possessed with the spirit commend themselves to our judgment, and go at him, as though you felt yourself to be described in the text. Going to his home, gain our approval. We are not to suppose a God-appointed piece of perfection, to show you make a clean breast of your own wrongs cepts that were most prominent in his teach- for a moment, that by their adoption, we him up, and scourge him in. No good, to him, and, without even impugning his shall become feeble, and yielding before pre- either, to start for those who wander from motives, or condemning his acts, you ask form fruitage of his life, we can not avoid vailing evils. This did not follow in the the fold, with a rod of vengeance, assuming his pardon for your bad doings, and, offering the conclusion, that the disposition of char- case of Jesus, and need not with us. The that they are all wrong, and you entirely him the hand of Christian friendship, you element of the Christian religion. It is just ing before every form of sin; and there is set about to scourge them into their places. kindness instead of an injury, and you have this element in the spirit and doctrines of prospect of a long and fierce contest, before You will find that wherever either of these gained the day! You have conquered by presupposed the opposite, to hate a foe! The eminently above all other teachers, and shall yield to the gentle rule of the Prince of charm of some genial soul, who possesses to force; and you need never again to fear be yielded for the loving "sword of the to take a place beside them, and admit that upon which you may stand in the perpetual of kinship, or even the mutual and respon- press home to human hearts to day, the ab- Oh, how strange that it should be necessary, think they can win a sinner by ridiculing at first thought, we are apt to feel that slander sive affection of lovers. This same word is solute necessity of that spirit of love, por- in this noonday sun of the Christian era, his ways, or by cutting denunciations, and and reproaches against our characters should used almost invariably in expressing the dis- trayed in the Christ-life, and enjoined in the with its rays beaming fully upon the most unfriendly thrusts, they deceive them- be shown up, and put down. But men are favored part of Christendom, for men to selves; might just as well hope to soothe an sometimes prone to forget that he who stors stop and apply these principles in order to angry man by striking him. Sneers, scorn, at every corner to takes care of his character, make them clear! Passing strange indeed, hard denunciations, and scolding have driv- is most sure to lose it. To say the least it that men should stand in doubt concerning | en many a poor soul beyond all hope of re- is futile to attempt by vehement language this truth, almost regarding it as something clamation, but you scarce ever saw a soul and hard talk, to enlist men in a good cause, impossible to obey, and claim for it some so sunken in sin that he could not be reached or dissuade them from a bad one; and utterly general, softening, or metaphorical render- by Christian kindness. Let a man see that impossible, by such a course, and in such a ing, in order to make it available! The first | you pity him, in his embarrassing condition, | spirit, to defend or strengthen an assaulted great commandment is thus neglected, and that you sympathize with him in his slavery reputation. Slander, sarcasm, bitter thrusts, misunderstood, when it has been recorded to habit, and bondage to passion; yea, let can be lived down, or easily quieted by a in our rule of life, for ages, that the power | him feel that you love him as a fellow-man, | loving spirit, but can be fought down, never, of God in this world is to be revealed through even in his degradation, and that your very never. If you search human history, you soul yearns to do him good by the uplifting will find that wherever differences have been Now, I wish to declare first, in this appli- power of the Christ-spirit, and you have cast most successfully and permanently settled. cation, that he who would arouse and en- a ray of hope into that man's soul that will it has come by this spirit, and that wherever

FIFTY-Two children were in attendance at the Chicago Mission school last Sabbath, (Aug. 5th).

"Quite a severe hail-storm has been through | shooting at the mark, Sabbath, while on the this vicinity, doing considerable damage to | way to church, and you can form some opin crops. . . . We feel more and more the need | ion of this place. But I see improvements of some one to help us occasionally, and hope in several directions. It seems that less than and trust that in the near future our num- half as much more would revolutionize the day-school for a choir a good one. ber may be increased, and we become self- whole valley. But you know how hard the supporting." Our brethren there hope to last fourth of conversion comes. Hebron have a visit from Bro. John T. Davis, of Church is doing as well as ever. Hebron Long Branch, in September, when they can | Centre is doing the best I ever knew it to use the school-house which is now being re-

WE acknowledge with thanks, the receipt from Bro. D. H. Davis, of calendars, sheet tracts, illustrated leaflets, and a Sabbath tract in Chinese, and of the Report of the Fourth Annual Meeting of the Chinese Religious Tract Society, held in Shanghai, May, 1882. We will send a copy of one of the Chinese publications to any pastor, superintendent, or missionary, one for each Church or school, upon application, in the order of the requests, and as long as the publications hold out.

It is said that Mohammedans are exhibiting, in an unusual degree, the spirit of earnest and comprehensive propagandism; and that they have abandoned the sword or former years, and purpose to spread their faith by means of schools and missionaries. And Bishop Ramendi, of Hong Kong, China, says that the Catholic mission there took four hundred thousand Chinese children last year, and is bringing them up in the Roman Catholic faith. What powerful motives these facts suggest for pushing for- their effect by being-too long! ward with redoubled zeal the work of Protestant missions.

Chautauqua Assembly Herald for August 1, 1882, which contains several addresses, presented to the Chantauqua Foreign Mission Institute, on Sabbath-day, July 29th, upon the following subjects: Why do I go back to India? Missionary work of Canadian churches; Baptist missions; Methodist Episcopal missions; Missionary work of the United Brethren in Christ; The field, force and work of the American Board; Presbyterian Foreign missions of the Southern Baptist Convention; Self-supporting missions; Womans' Foreign Missionary Society; and foreign missions of the Reformed (Dutch) month, and they do not appear to be very thoroughly talked over. The result was the Church in America.

Or the success of the mission work of the Reformed Church in America, in India, we have the following instance:

"Rev. Jared W. Scudder, M. D., of Vellore, in the Arcot Mission, last year received 'a request that one of the best and largest native schools for boys, in Vellore, be taken under the care of the Mission.' This was a wonderful step in advance. Soon after this request was followed by another from a number of native gentlemen of Vellore, of the highest castes, asking that the Mission would establish a school for their daughters. It was a great result to receive the popular secluded, even from the majority of their own race, was wholly unexpected, and a tribute to the worth of our missionaries, of the highest value. Only a few years ago our brethren in India were despised and hated by these native gentlemen.

And of the opportunities medical dispen-

to all these attendants, and tracts, leaflets read. Don't you think it would be a good and cards, with precious texts, are distributed | plan to ask some of the gentlemen to read generously among them. The institutions certain items? And O!" she exclaimed, have a great effect in removing the spirit of talking very fast as ideas crowded upon her, suspicion, opposition and hostility, with which the mission was regarded a few years new, you know—not to make all your reago, and in securing for the mission the marks at one time, but scatter them along good will of all classes of the people. The just after the readings, just where they fit patients come often from remote villages, in? And another thing "-more slowly now, which it is impossible for the missionaries and rubbing her hand up and down his coat-to visit, and carry home with them a knowlshiping God as well as they can with their limited knowledge."

CORRESPONDENCE.

MILLPORT, Potter Co., Pa., June 7, 1882.

Dear Bro. Main,—I am hanging on here to go a minute over the time. yet. I preach at one of the Hebrons Sabbaths, and much of the rest of the time I am here. Quite a number have professed WE are glad to be able to announce that religion. The congregations are large and We are glad to be able to announce that Pres. W. C. Whitford, of Milton, Wis., has accepted an invitation to preach the Annual Sermon before our Society, at its next Anniversary.

The congregations are large and generally attentive. The hurrying season of the hurrying season of the hurrying season of the year, infidelity, spiritualism, no church, no nucleus around which to gather, and would read something. Would it be very un-Presbyterian? If you like, I'll speak to the organist and generally attentive. most of all, whisky everywhere, and every way, makes civilization an up hill business. A LETTER from Harvard, Neb., says: Think of the people in Ashaway or Alfred do. The church and Sabbath-school seemed to lack just what Bro. Hemphill is doing. Yours of the 19th ult. is received; will go on with the work a while yet. Pray for us.

H. P. BURDICK.

THE THIRD CHURCH MONTHLY CONCERTS.

BY EMMA L. BURNETT.

It was too bad. The majority of the They would not know when to read un-Third Church people had the same prejudice less I would call on them by name, or had a against missionary meetings that so many others have. But then there were reasons gas burners on one side of the room. Then the matter to them. the young, fresh voices having deserted the ranks, the singing would drag. When the near any of the meetings." pastor, following the usual plan, asked "That's the very reason some brother to lead in prayer," those who generally took part in this service would, on missionary evening, sit and look at each other, until finally old Mr. Mason, who could not be heard at all, or Mr. Lindell, who "prayed all round" and shot wide of the mark, would rise and volunteer. The only ranged the matter so that each one knew exother, until finally old Mr. Mason, who redeeming feature of the meeting was the actly when to read. pastor's remarks, and these sometimes lost | When it drew near the time of the meet-pastor, who had taken a couple of hours out | settled by asking certain persons to read them. of his busy day to arrange and think over the materials he had collected during the out before the meeting begins," he suggested. Some one has kindly sent us a copy of the month for this meeting, and then gone and half of them apathetic.

Fortunately Rev. Mr. Colvin had a "foreign missionary" for a wife.

"Don't you think," she said, taking off her bonnet and smoothing out the ties, "that something could be done? Perhaps of so much finesse." if some new measures were adopted—" and then she hesitated.

"What new measures?" asked her hus- stone when you might just as well kill two, band, a trifle sharply. "What more can I or half a dozen?" missions; Evangelical Lutheran missions; do to create an interest in missions? You The pulpit notice of the monthly concert nodding her head at the fire.

ment she insinuated "new measures" that she had been thinking the matter all over, and had a plan about it. She was a woman

"Why, in the first place, I'd come down off that platform, and from behind that clumsy desk, and I'd put the little table and a chair in the middle aisle and sit there. boys' school, but the request to teach the Then I'd make Robert light all the gas. high caste girls, so carefully and jealously Then I'd give out little bits of hymns—I "A congregation in the morning of three | the Presbyterian, and Professor Christlieb's half impatient, half amused. "Well, then, don't you think you could put it all in an hour?" "You mean I talk too long."

"Well, you know some people never like a meeting, a missionary meeting particularly,

"If I venture on this 'new departure' which you suggest," said the minister, after some meditative stroking of his whiskers, you must help me."

the organist, and get him to have a choir of young people there to lead the singing."

So she went into the matter, heart, soul and brain, as she always did, and being one of those "popular" minister's wives, her suggestions were never viewed as interference, but were gladly received. The organist thought the plan of going into the Sun-

"How many shall I get?" he asked. "A double quartette?" "O, half a dozen quartettes, if you can get them. The more who are willing to come and sing, the more there will be at the

"O!" he said, in a tone of enlightenment. She carried the same plan into action in another direction.

"Don't you think it would be a good idea," she asked her husband, "to have the Script ure reading in detachments? That is, you read a short passage, and then have a verse or two read by one gentleman, a verse or two by another, and so on."

Mr. Colvin had a way of reading selections not just a solid chapter.

previous arrangement."

"Have a previous arrangement. You why this meeting was not very attractive. pick out the passages you want read, and The sexton, finding that so few attended, get Harry Gleason to hand them to some of had adopted the plan of lighting only the the gentlemen as they come in, and explain

"Harry Gleason! why he never comes

"That's the very reason I would ask him

"He will not do it."

"You'll see."

ing, Mr. Colvin made a judicious selection "It is up-hill work!" sighed the weary of missionary items and short articles, and

"I think it is a better plan to let people poured out his earnest convictions and fer-vent thoughts to just thirty-five people—the the house a few days,' his wife said! "then the family and visitors see and perhaps read them. I never lose a good chance of getting a missionary document of any kind into a person's house."

"I really did not know you were possessed

"What's the use," she replied, argument-atively, "of only killing one bird with your know I take infinite pains with my lectures." was not particularly emphasized, though per-"Oh, I know that," she replied gravely, haps it was given out more forcibly and buoyantly than usual, but there were so many acceptible to the people, anyhow. So, what large lecture-room was very well filled—a can be done?"

"Oscar," said his wife, after a short pause, turning her bright, earnest, hazel eyes from the fire to his face, and speaking very emphatically, "if I were you I would try an out and-out new plan. I would make the monthly concert all over again."

"What would you do?" he asked smiling at her intensity. He knew from the moment she insignated "new measures" that had never been known upon any similar occasion. The young ladies' Band had loaned their map of China; also some beautiful mottoes to hang upon the walls. It was while the "wise hearted women" of the church were making these arrangements that Mrs. Hadley exclaimed, "I've the greatest mind in the world to bring my scarlet geranium and put it on the table. It is in full bloom and will look splondidly." thing that had never been known upon any full bloom and will look splendidly!" The very thing! When women have any thing to do with these matters they always bring in mottoes and flowers. So, behold the room on Wednesday evening, thus decorated, brilliantly lighted, and people coming in "almost in droves," as Fanny Hadley idea of my belonging to a missionary meetsaid. The choir were so interested in their ing. You remember the talk we had the medium of the written language, we must rehearsals that they concluded to practice last time I was at your house about missionone or two pieces to sing while the people aries and mission work, and how we both time one of the most remarkable and one of mean a verse or two at a time. The best way to sing at missionary meetings is to sing little and often. And I'd mix up metres more; that is, I wouldn't give out all of Jesus find us Watching?" I wouldn't give out all of Jesus find us Watching? 'Jesus shall reign' to be sung to Park street, tion. The meeting was a grand success. church sending off a box to a home missionand a few minutes after all of 'Great God! The Scripture reading "in detachments" ary's family last Winter. After that was sent off, Miss Eliot asked the girls to meet possible, and in the near future, are destined saries afford for spreading the gospel, the field. Then I wouldn't do all the reading young ladies Band rose in a body and read, and organize into a regular society or band, to play an important part on the world's myself. This evening, for instance, you read extracts from the Foreign Missionary, the Presbyterian, and Professor Christlieb's Neither did the feelings of any one appear how hook Of course you are the host read.

Note that I wouldn't do an the reading young laules dand rose in a body and read, and organize into a regular society or dand, as we call ourselves. I laughed at the idea of us girls belonging to a mission band, just them under the power of the gospel." hundred souls in the dispensary-room and on its verandas, is an opportunity often enjoyed and improved. The gospel is preached joyed and improved. The gospel is preached one interest, somehow, if different ones one from Woman's Work. The pastor guidance in the following of the first sound in the dispensary-room and new book. Of course, you are the best read-to be hurt when Mrs. Jones read a little extract from the Presbyterian and Miss Hodge thought just out of curiosity I would go, and after all we had a real nice time; but then I tract from the Presbyterian and Miss Hodge | thought just out of curiosity I would go, and ed the meeting, making comments on what thought that wasn't doing any work. But > esting," were some of the numerous exclamations to be heard on all sides.

> "It was just like an anniversary or semi-

"Well, well, what?" said her husband, who never took any interest in the matter And besides all the other things we have map always on the wall, so that it would be Christmas box we sent-almost everything would be a good idea to have the topic of know we spend the time at our meetings the forthcoming meeting placed conspicu- sewing on the clothes we have to make for ously in the vestibule up stairs; then Christians who attended Church but not prayer- to us; and some days we all prepare a little gradually diminishing.—Presbyterian.

THE CHINESE LANGUAGE.

The Chinese language is so different from our own that it may be difficult to give the children any idea of it. With us, you know, we have twenty-six letters, each representing a sound, and, having learned these letters, we can combine them to make any word. But, in the Chinese, each word is uttered by a single movement of the organs of speech, and expresses a complete idea by itself. Of these simple words there are about four hundred and fifty; but, by varying the accent of many of them, an entirely different meaning is given, so that really their number should be reckoned as twelve hundred or

The words have no change of form to express their relations to each other, but their meaning is affected by their place in the sen tence. For instance, ta in one place means "great;" in another, "greatness;" in another, "to be great;" and in another,

Some ideas are expressed by putting several words together. Thus, for "people," the Chinese would use words meaning "multi-tude man;" for son, "man-child;" for the best man, "a hundred man good."

The spoken language varies very much in different parts of China. People who live only one or two hundred miles apart can not talk with each other without an interpreter. But the dialect called the Mandarin is the language of the court and of literature, and is spoken by the educated throughout the empire, though utterly unknown to the common people:

The Chinese written character is everywhere the same. It gives a kind of picture of the thing expressed, and therefore there must be as many of these pictures as there are things. The number of these written words is said to be fifty thousand; but in simple pictures to represent a new idea. For instance, the picture for the sun and that for the moon put together mean light; mouth and bird mean song; folding doors time they have become so changed that they can not now be recognized. Hence, to learn to write is a great tax upon the memory; and not one man in twenty in all the empire can read this written language. The earliest missionaries translated the Bible into this language, but you see it can not be of much use to the common people So the missionaries of our day try to give in to the people whom they teach in their own dialect. In Ningpo and vicinity, the missionaries have used our own alphabet for this purpose. In Swatow, they have a kind of accommodation of the book language, but made so simple that those who are educated in the mission schools can learn to read with comparative ease. - Helping Hand.

A GIRL'S IDEA ABOUT MISSION WORK.

about our missionary meeting. Now, I supwas read, enlarging somewhat upon certain points, calling for two or three brief prayers, the idea of Jennie Curtis being secretary and giving out a verse or two of familiar hymns, writing reports, as Miss Eliot said she must and closed the exercises promptly at 9 o'clock.
"What a good meeting!" "I didn't know a missionary meeting could be made so interto take one of the little girls in her school, that is, to clothe her for a year or as much longer as we liked; and we all thought that "It was just like an anniversary or semi-annual meeting," said ecstatic Mrs. Duncan, of the little girl (Leila) as our little girl. I can't begin to tell you all we do and have three tracts aimed at the growing power of sleeve—"of course, I don't know whether it is not uncommon to hear that these patients have renounced idelatry and induced others to imitate their example, and with a little company of their neighbors, are wor—little company of their neighbors, are wor—little company of their neighbors, are wor—little girl (Leita) as our little girl (Leita) as before. One suggested having a missionary sent before, you ought to have seen the before the eyes of every one a whole month. you can think of that a little girl would This was adopted. Another thought it want. We each gave something, You meeting, might know what was going on, paper or tell what we know about some misand perhaps be induced to come. Then it sion field. I can't tell you any more now got to be an understood thing that the choir about our band, but I do want to tell you would assemble early and sing familiar mis- that I don't think any more as I used to sionary hymns, and that all were invited to about mission work. I like it, and would join in the singing as soon as they took their do all I could to help it along, and I should seats. This swelling chorus always has rath- like to go as a missionary when I get older; and I owe it all to the starting of our mis-It is needless to state that all this was a sion band. Now, Sue, why don't you start good thing for the Third Church. Every one, or get some of the young ladies of your one knows that if a Church wakes up on Sabbath-school to start it, and get the girls missions it wakes up in every other way, and interested? You won't find it hard work; though there are yet in the congregation and I think you and a good many others some of those anomalous Christians who will change your minds about mission work. "don't believe in missions," their number is You start one, and I will help you all I can. Your loving friend,

SYRIA AND PALESTINE.

The population of Syria and Palestine is said to be 2,076,311, of whom 1,000,000 are Muslins. And the following summary of statistics is interesting and encouraging:

Foreign laborers, male..... Foreign laborers, female. 110
Native laborers, ordained. 7
Native teachers and catechists. 375 Preaching stations. 140
Organized churches. 26 Church edifices.....
 Communicants
 1 693

 Received in 1881
 209

 Number of schools
 302

"During the year 1881, there were issued from the American press in Beirut 15,715 copies of the Scriptures, every one of which was sold. Twenty-three thousand other books and tracts were also sold during the year. The number of pages printed was 18,041,-600, and the whole number of pages printed from the beginning at the Beirut press is 224,754,417. There were also printed and distributed during the year, 154,000 copies of periodicals, religious and scientific. The number of persons received into the churches during 1881 was 131, a larger number than ever before in one year. The congregations show an increase of 900 during the

THE Chinese Religious Tract Society printed last year 2,019,000 pages; the Shanghai Auxiliary 212,000; and the Shansi Auxreality there are many more, as some of their | iliary 951,000, making a total of 3,182,000 words are formed by combining two or more | pages of Christian literature. The following are some of the titles of tracts: True Happiness; Trusting Heaven; Brotherly Love; The Prodigal Son; Rum and Opium; The with an ear between them mean to listen. Sower; and The Sinare. From the Report In the oldest writings, the pictures look like of the Treasurer, D. H. Davis, we make the the things represented, but in the course of following abstract: Balance from last year, $1,063 10; total receipts, $441 72; expenditures, $1,328 36. The following interesting extract is from the Secretary's

"Though as ignorant of their own country as of others and of all science, politics and history, and of almost all that is transpiring in the world, yet the Chinese are a most interesting people, possessing great vitality, energy and enterprise. They are a hardy race, unlike the frail people of the Pacific Islands whom they are so rapidly supplanting. They are leaving their own overcrowded cities and emigrating in great numbers to America, the East and West Indian Isles, and South America.' Whether we consider the immensity of its population, its extent of territory, the variety and great value of its products, its mineral wealth, the Dear Sue,—I must write and tell you industry, shrewdness, and natural intelli-bout our missionary meeting. Now, I sup- gence of its people, its wonderful literature acknowledge the Chinese are at the same

> THE future interests of the church and of society require careful attention to female education in Northern Mexico. There the contact of two types of civilization will occur as the two republics are brought more nearly together, and the foundations of pure and enlightened domestic life now being laid can not be overestimated. It is the influence of Protestant Christian homes which, more than almost anything else, has made our own country to differ from its neighbor.

Education

Conducted by REV.

The purpose with

THE SCI

BY JANE

any vocation will la cess. The scholars is the perfection of moral nature, for th ment of these funct of the capabilities o are few of us who c ure. When one of how long he inter replied, "As long grow wiser and be haps the most ha scholar and Christ known, attributes h edge to the fact tha inquire for inform as a rule to converse tions on those top particular profession said but few can nence, all should b it, that in the effort The road the stu of pleasure, is fuil o assiduous seeker a

delve into many a f

tive traveler throug to toil over the con to climb, by ner mountains, to report the grand solitude Thus a man will with the blunderb own, than with the invention. You re cules was preparing exploits, each one some weapon of del cury furnished hi bow, but a club Nemean Grove die all the rest. Tho dictator of the world scholar should aim will do much for h more. Man-thinki by his instruments directly, his time is in reading the tra thoughts. But th means of culture, by all men. Indee less teacher, and a university. In slo have been won by corner of his brain in these days of k mands the intenses thinking faculties.

this be so, as you hooves us as schol the weakest part is aim of the scholar ment. Discipline the secondary cons ting forth of me knowledge obtain mind. The prima then, is to learn himself, to origina ent thought. Th magazine, but a p tual power. A training is necess true scholar should of the times incres not, he resembles his customers ha ratio to his supply in order to supply milk hydropathic to accomplish all plicity of cares and he must be diligen His motto shou linea." From the sacred exhale blessings

It is a principle

is stronger than th is no stronger tha

cupation of life. dews of heaven. was born, Philip much that a son happened to be bo tle. We should that we live, as th dependence and a ours, whose activi tense, where pul lat you can be sides all the other things we have efore, you ought to have seen the mas box we sent—almost everything n think of that a little girl would We each gave something. You we spend the time at our meetings on the clothes we have to make for and Miss Eliot or one of the girls reads and some days we all prepare a little or tell what we know about some miseld. I can't tell you any more now our band, but I do want to tell you don't think any more as I used to mission work. I like it, and would I could to help it along, and I should go as a missionary when I get older: owe it all to the starting of our misand. Now, Sue, why don't you start r get some of the young ladies of your th-school to start it, and get the girls sted? You won't find it hard work: think you and a good many others hange your minds about mission work. tart one, and I will help you all I can

SYRIA AND PALESTINE.

Your loving friend, population of Syria and Palestine is be 2,076,311, of whom 1,000,000 are is. And the following summary of tics is interesting and encouraging:

HETTIE.

		- 8
	••••	4.1
	• • • • •	OP:
• • • • • • •	• • • • •	37
• • • • • • • • •		16
• • • • • • • •	• • • • •	- 3
	• • • • •	14
		2
		3
		6.88
		R RO
• • • • • • •		1.00
	••••	T 00
• • • • • • •	• • • • •	20
• • • • • • •	• • • •	30
• • • • • • •	• • • • • '	7,47
		7,14
	1	4.62

uring the year 1881, there were issued he American press in Beirut 15,715 of the Scriptures, every one of which d. Twenty-three thousand other books acts were also sold during the year. umber of pages printed was 18,041,nd the whole number of pages printed the beginning at the Beirut press is 4.417. There were also printed and uted during the year, 154,000 copies iodicals, religious and scientific. The er of persons received into the churching 1881 was 131, a larger number ver before in one year. The congres show an increase of 900 during the id the enrolled Protestants an increa

Chinese Religious Tract Society d last year 2,019,000 pages; the Shanguxiliary 212,000; and the Shansi Aux-951;000, making a total of 3,182,000 of Christian literature. The following me of the titles of tracts: True Hap-Trusting Heaven: Brotherly Love: rodigal Son; Rum and Opium; The and The Sinare. From the Report Treasurer, D. H. Davis, we make the ing abstract: Balance from last $1,063 10; total receipts, $441 72; ditures, $1,328 36. The following ting extract is from the Secretary's lough as ignorant of their own counof others and of all science, politics story, and of almost all that is transin the world, yet the Chinese are a interesting people, possessing great , energy and enterprise. They are race, unlike the frail people of the Islands whom they are so rapidly nting. They are leaving their own owded cities and emigrating in great rs to America, the East and West Inles, and South America.' Whether sider the immensity of its population, nt of territory, the variety and great fits products, its mineral wealth, the y. shrewdness, and natural intellil its people, its wonderful literature ease with which we may communie truths of Christianity, through the m of the written language, we must ledge the Chinese are at the same ic of the most remarkable and one of st interesting heathen people in the They are, as it were, groping in the feeling for the best method to secure ependence of their country and develconderful resources. They are pushward their development as rapidly as , and in the near future, are destined an important part on the world's Hence the importance of bringing nder the power of the gospel."

future interests of the church and of require careful attention to female on in Northern Mexico. There the of two types of civilization will occur we republics are brought more nearly s, and the foundations of pure and ned domestic life now being laid can werestimated. It is the influence of int Christian homes which, more than anything else, has made our own to differ from its neighbor.

span, there have recently appeared racts aimed at the growing power of mity—one of which opens by saying. mistianity is spreading like fire on s min, so that in capital and country To place where it is not prescued-

Education Department.

Conducted by REV. J. ALLEN, D. D., Ph. D., in behalf of the Seventh-day Baptist Education Society.

"LET THERE BE LIGHT."

THE SCHOLAR'S AIM.

BY JAMES R. JEFFREY. The purpose with which one enters upon any vocation will largely determine his success. The scholar's aim among other things, is the perfection of physical, intellectual, and moral nature, for the most complete developof the capabilities of his being. But there are few of us who can boast of literary leisure. When one of Plato's friends asked him grow wiser and better." Mr. Locke, perscholar and Christian the world has ever inquire for information. He laid it down as a rule to converse with men of all occupations on those topics that constituted their said but few can gain the goal of eminence, all should be stimulated to strive for est perfection. it, that in the effort they may make progress. The road the student travels, though full of pleasure, is fuil of toil. It becomes him, assiduous seeker after costliest gems, to delve into many a field, patient and inquisitive traveler through the empire of thought, to toil over the common and dusty highway, to climb, by new paths, the delectable mountains, to repose in quiet meditation in the grand solitudes of the Valumbrosas. Thus a man will often accomplish more with the blunderbus of thought, if it be his own, than with the Minnie rifle of another's invention. You remember that when Hercules was preparing to achieve his wonderful exploits, each one of the gods gave him some weapon of defense; for example, Mercury furnished him a sword, and Apollo a bow, but a club which he cut from the Nemean Grove did him more service than all the rest. Thought, be assured, is the dictator of the world, and this is what the scholar should aim to develop. Knowledge will do much for him, but thinking will do more. Man-thinking must not be subdued by his instruments. When he can read God directly, his time is too precious to be wasted in reading the transcript of another man's by all men. Indeed, a good book is a voice-university. In slower times, success might mands the intensest application of the entire | his work there: thinking faculties. It is a principle in mechanics that nothing is stronger than the weakest part. A chain is no stronger than the weakest link, and if this be so, as you will doubtless admit, it behooves us as scholars to see well to it that the weakest part is a strong one. The highest aim of the scholar is discipline and developmind. The primary business of the scholar, himself, to originate sterling and independmagazine, but a perfect battery of intellectual power. A serious, solid, intellectual training is necessary to form a man. The of the times increase upon him. If he does not, he resembles the milkman, who, when his customers have increased in an inverse ratio to his supply on hand, finds it necessary, milk hydropathically. In order, however, to accomplish all things, amid the multiplicity of cares and duties of a scholar's life, he must be diligent, "redeeming the time." His motto should be, "Nulla dies sine

From the sacred fountains of wisdom shall exhale blessings to descend upon every occupation of life, fructifying like the genial dews of heaven. When Alexander the Great was born, Philip thanked the gods not so much that a son was born to him, as that he happened to be born in an age with Aristothat we live, as that we live in a land of independence and scholars. In a country like ours, whose activities are so various and inthat you can scarcely find a man afraid or days when it was a sin for a mother to kiss ted "a moral wrong in violating the law of such a method, and none could be found ex- Albion, Wis., July, 1882.

the more important to see to it that learning lose none of its honor; and in order that it should not, the scholar should cultivate the best spirit, and never forget that his mission is sacredly connected with every other. If he has no higher aim of life than to sit down and await fortune and honor to come to him, he has failed to play his part on the stage of action. The true scholar should be recognized without a label. What aim can the scholar entertain more noble, than that his influence shall be on the side of right, since it is not circumscribed by lines of latitude and longitude, nor limited by the lapse ment of these functions, and the fullest use of time. It is diffusive as the light and the Sunday Laws, by the Rev. A. H. Lewis, penetrating as the lightning. He should aim to radiate light in every direction—a light that is not only reflected from the how long he intended to be a scholar, he countenance of childhood with more than replied, "As long as I am not ashamed to auroral beauty, but that gilds the face of nature herself with almost primeval lovehaps the most happy combination of the liness. What can be more beautiful than to study with patience, bringing the fruits and known, attributes his great store of knowl- laying them at the foot of our Alma Mater, edge to the fact that he was not ashamed to ever remembering that the scholar's aim is to repair the ruins of our first parents, by regaining to know God aright, and be like him, as we may the nearest, by possessing our souls particular profession. Although it may be of true virtue, which, being united with the heavenly grace of faith, makes up the high-

Sabbath Reform.

- REV. D. E. MAXSON, D. D.

SABBATH MORNING.

BY REV. W. H. BLACK, Late Pastor of Mill Yard Church, London

Thrice happy morning, hail! The day that God hath blest! O may we never fail To keep its holy rest It brings us to our Father's house. And bids us pay our humble vows.

To thee, our God, to thee, We render thanks, and pray; By mercy spared to see Another Sabbath day: Before thy throne we lowly bend, And to thy word of truth attend.

May peace and hope abound In every faithful heart; And may the gospel's sound Fresh life and joy impart. Thus, Lord, our fellowship with thee, And with thy blessed Son shall be.

FORWARD, MARCH.

Under this stirring heading, the following hopeful and vigorous article appeared in the thoughts. But the value of books, as a editorial columns of the Sabbath Memorial, means of culture, is at this day recognized of London, under date of April, 1882. Rev. Wm. M. Jones, its editor, and pastor of the less teacher, and a good library is a virtual | Mill Yard Seventh-day Baptist Church in London, is doing a noble work there on the have been won by the man who gave but a old fields of Seventh-day Baptist influence, corner of his brain to the work in hand; but | the home of our denominational pilgrim fain these days of keen competition, it de- thers. May God abundantly bless him and

Switzerland, the Netherlands, Sweden, Nor-since "the liberty of the new covenant on way, and the United States. More than a the subject is, 'One man esteemeth one day thousand converts to the Sabbath were re- above another, and another esteemeth every ported in 1881. Is it too much to expect | day alike. Let every one be fully persuaded that this year will add a gain of fifteen hun- in his own mind." Let him regard the day dred or two thousand? A large amount of or not, as he chooses. Sabbath-tract literature is being spread abroad by means of the post and tract disment. Discipline is the primary acquisition, tributers. The number of periodicals issued knew it before he abolished his Sabbath, and the secondary consideration. It is the put- in behalf of the Sabbath is thirteen—name- left us without any. And if unanimity is ting forth of mental effort, and not the ly, six weekly, six monthly, and one quarter- essential-if it is "to the scandal of society" knowledge obtained that disciplines the ly. While the religious public, generally, for each individual to choose for himself the seem to continue in a sound sleep on the days on which to labor and on which to rest, then, is to learn how to think, to think for efforts, or to sound an alarm, and by various would be a good reason why he should apartifices to turn the attention of the people | point the particular day. "The Sabbath ent thought. Then will he be not a mere away from the true issue. In California, was made for man;" and when the Lord one of the Seventh-day Adventist brethren made the Sabbath, he appointed the day on has been arrested for breaking the Sunday which he rested as the day on which man ly divided as to what to do with their vic- day of rest and worship, what good reason true scholar should improve as the demands tim. Some cry one thing, and some another. was there that he should abolish it, and The agitation of religious liberty for our peo | leave the world to the confusion of a "volple in Pennsylvania is to be renewed with untary observance," to the scandal of soexemption from the penalties of the Sunday | bors?" law, Seventh-day Baptists have hitherto will never be persuaded to submit to a union | saved them from the fiery furnace. of Church and State which this Amendment exposed with an intense longing for human instruction, they got into the glowing furfuel. Will they get it? No!

there is much agitation, with more than the place of a divine one.—R. F. Cottrell, in usual amount of diversity of opinion, showing that Pilate and Herod are not much disposed to make friends over Constantine's

Dr Collyer, New York, says, "Open the ibraries." Rev. Mr. MacArthur, Baptist, says, "Don't open them; it is bad to desecrate the Sabbath."

The New York Tribune announces a new book on the "Sunday Question," of a liberal character, by Dr. Bacon. Well done, we say, for New England. We have just received a pamphlet, containing a lecture on A. M., which he delivered recently before a pepular assembly at Chantaudua, New York American Jerusalem of Sundayschools. An important item in this agitation is the publication of 52,000 copies, monthly, of the Outlook, by the Seventh day Baptists. These are being sent to every neer Sabbath sheet to 100,000 copies.

Some idea of the agitation of the Sunday question in England will be gathered from various articles published in this journal.

Wales Press, Llanelly, has opened its columns to the discussion of Sunday and Sabbath. Forty-seven articles have appeared in that paper, twenty-six of which have been on the right side of the question.

the Press for allowing the insertion of so many articles from the pen of a Seventh-day Baptist.

In conclusion, we trust that unceasing prayer and watchfulness, and activity, will be strong, and gird ourselves like men. We are battling for religious liberty and Bible truth; and the Lord being on our side, the Sunday and its laws must, ere long, give place to his Sabbath, pure and simple, and unsupported by any Gentile Uzzah, (1 Chron. 13: 9); for acceptable Sabbath-observance must ever depend upon the persuasive power of the gospel.

THE OBLIGATION TO KEEP SUNDAY.

After demolishing the Sabbath of the fourth commandment, as he supposes, Mr. Litch proceeds to speak of the obligation to brief extracts:

"Neither Christ nor his apostles ever enjoined such an ordinance to be observed by his followers. . . . Its only sanction, so far as known, is found in the all-comprehending law of love, and the importance of such a day of rest and worship. . . . It was, of course, a voluntary observance. . . . weekly rest is essential to human welfare, highly promotive of good morals in the community. The obligation . . . grows out of the oft-enjoined duty of being 'subject to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake.' . . . Even if they [Sabbatarians] feel bound in conscience to keep the seventh day, have a perfect right to use all moral and political means to change the law, but have no moral right to violate it." This is a large conclusion to come to from News reac'es us weekly of the steady in- so small premises—that Christians have no

But "a weekly rest is essential to human welfare." If that is so, I think the Lord question, many are awaking to oppose our I think the Lord knew that also; and this law. The enemies of the Sabbath are great- | should rest. Since man needed just such a increased vigor. In the matter of obtaining ciety and annoyance of their Christian neigh-

It seems a little strange that men who can in order to supply the demand, to treat his succeeded in the States where they have see no moral obligation to keep the Sabbath tried-in seventeen or eighteen, we believe which God sanctified, can create a moral and they are not the people to be satisfied obligation to observe a day which men have with the present one-sided state of things in | put in its place, and which, as they admit, God never commanded. Had the men pos-The Religious Amendment party in the sessing this rare faculty lived in the day United States are pressing their work to when Nebuchadnezzar set up the image in completion—that is, as we believe, to a suc- the plains of Dura, they could have taught cessful failure, for the people of that country | those stubborn Hebrews their moral duty, and

The king had substituted an object of veneration in the stead of the living God, of the foreign element, will not permit them- the one divinely commanded. Shadrach, selves to be inveigled into that man-made Meshach, and Abed-nego might have been theccratic trap that has for so many centu- told that even if they felt "bound in contle. We should not be so much thankful ries debauched true religion, and sent to science" to worship the true God, yet they, prison and death unknown millions. How- as law-abiding citizens, should "respect the ever, it is a little odd that, while here, in the law of the land while it is law;" that they Old World, nations are casting off religious had "a perfect right to use all moral and despotism, in the New World, the latent political means to change the law, but no tense, where public virtue is so universal embers of New England Puritanism, in the moral right to violate it;" that they commit- God, in his solicitude for man, sought for unwilling to assume any responsibility, it is her babe on Sunday(!) are being stirred and the land." But for want of such wholesome cept by the shedding of blood, except a sacnace. Better go there than to venerate a On the Sunday question, pure and simple, human institution which has usurped the Review and Herald.

WAS IT NECESSARY THAT CHRIST SHOULD DIE

This question was suggested by the Sabbath-school lesson of July 15th, and, with a view to fixing in the mind the teachings of mankind in that he himself suffered that the that lesson, I have written the following sinner might escape condemnation and be thoughts:

In the first place, we find this question has reference to the statement which Christ made to his disciples in Mark 10: 33, 34, wherein he told his disciples of scenes that would soon take place in his own life. God, in his own works of creation, in accordance with his divine nature, created all things pure and holy. Sin was not found in aught minister in the land. The Tract Society in- of his works, nor indeed could it be, since tends soon to increase the issue of this pio- | he, the Author of all, was holy and just; for it is impossible for that which is unholy and impure to proceed from that which is holy and pure. When God had made an end of During eight months past, the South creation, he saw all things that they were very good, and the record tells us that he was pleased with his works; and when man was created in the image of the Creator, God prepared for him a place of abode, where Our special thanks are due to the editor of everything was for his comfort—a place where he could dwell in peace and fellowship with God, a place of perfect rest and enjoyment; for the glory of God was manifest in all things around him; everything spoke of characterize all our proceedings. We should the wisdom of God, and man was taught of God in all things that pertained to his happiness and well-being. So man was blessed, and lived with God in the first days following creation; and who can tell, what imagination can paint, what would have been the condition of man had he been willing to remain in this condition of trustful service! But, notwithstanding all these blessings, notwithstanding the pure and holy, and it would seem soul satisfying teachings of God, we find man willingly accepting the false teachings of the evil one, thereby making himself servant of his destroyer, servant the low condition of different churches. keep the first day. The drift of his remarks of him who is the father of lies, rather than upon this may be seen from the following of him who is creator, and hence benefactor, of all.

Thus disobedience, which is sin. entered and know what were the fruits of sin. Thus, by the disobedience of the created, God's fair Eden was changed from a scene of beauty and blessedness to one of discord and strife—discord, because of the incompatabilkind. And as the mother, who finds her him from the ways of sin; as that mother her boy back to himself and into harmony with her teachings and requirements, so God, law can be satisfied and the offender go free.

rifice should be offered, except some one of the holy ones should suffer and die in the sinner's stead. None could be found in all the heavenly hosts worthy of such a deed of mercy, save Christ, the Son of God. God himself must suffer in the death of his only Son, that he might, in justice to himself, forgive the sinner his trespasses. Behold in this the expression of God's great mercy to reconciled to him. Hence, since man was lost through disobedience, it was necessary that a redeemer should be found, that man might be reinstated, and, since Christ was the only one worthy of such a work, it was necessary that he should suffer and die in the sinner's stead, not alone that he might free the sinner from the consequences of disobedience, and give him a hope of promised rest with God, but that he might show the world the mercy of God in furnishing this plan-of redemption, giving man another chance for happiness. E. A. W.

THE BIBLE.

I am very sorry about the New Version. I had not half learned the old one. When I hear a minister talking about hades. I wonder what has become of hell. The fallacies in our public school system are tending towards a race of over-strained, sickly and precocious dwarfs. But whither the National Sunday-school system is tending is beyond the ken of human vision. The President of a University said recently, "I hate to give up my theological views, I got them at the Seminary." "What makes you keep Saturday?" said a minister. "Because God instituted the Sabbath, Christ and his apostles kept it, and no liberty to change it has been given me." "Why do you keep the first day of the week?" "Because everybody else does." Yet the minister had been through the Seminary, and was powerful in theology, and I wilted.

Not long ago I heard a minister bewailing

Soon he came to one he was sure was dead, "because I have preached there five or six times." I did not wonder. Two ministers were discussing a question, and, happening the world, and in consequence of this sin of to agree, one of them remarked that he beman, God drove him out from before him, lieved they had both been to the same Semiand cursed the earth, that he should labor nary. What a good thing if there had but one Seminary, and that the old-fashioned Bible! How long must God's Word contend with "culture" for the right to exist? I have translated the Iliad of Homer into both blank verse and rhyme, have taught Virgil to boys ity of the two elements that were thus for a quarter of a century, have listened to brought into contact in this world; and of Cicero in the Forum and Senate, and to strife, because of the constant effort of each | Demosthenes on the Crown; have been they, as law-abiding citizens, should respect strife, because of the constant effort of each the law of the land while it is law. They for the supremacy: evil ever striving to over-charmed by Byron's plea for the poor weavcome the right, and thus bring the world ers, in the House of Lords; have read all I into subjection to sin without hope of re- | could reach of Wilberforce; have mourned demption. God teaches in his Word that that the sledge hammer logic of Samuel "the wages of sin is death." "The soul Adams was not for my ears; I have listened crease of Sabbath-keepers in England, moral right to work on Sunday—especially that sinneth it shall die." Thus the world, to Garrison, Sumner, Philips, Beecher, Dougthe fair creation of God, was lost in death las, Hale and Ingersoll, and yet felt that by reason of sin—death to the holy and just | something was still wanting; but I never teachings of God. And it would seem that | read a chapter of Paul's Epistles when I did the evil one was master of the situation, that | not feel that that something was supplied. he had vanquished God. But as the parent | Such charming narratives as Herodotus and of a child given to disobedience has an earn- | Thucydides framed; such majestic and enest desire for that child's welfare, a desire | chanting verse as Homer sang; such eloit knew not of while the child continued in quence (the rarest gift of the gods to man) obedience and careful attendance upon their as fulminated over Greece from the lips of teachings, so when man, by reason of his | Hermes' son; are all discounted by a single free agency, chose evil rather than good, God | stroke from the pen of the humble apostle. was filled with deep compassion for him, and | Horace betrays his weakness and thirst for sought for some means by which he might fame: "I have builded a monument more express that feeling of compassion to man-| enduring than brass." Cicero says, "There will be some room for my praise in your son under the influence of the drinking hab- hearts." But Paul, in the midst of such it, or of the billiard saloon, and other | profound philosophic utterances; such words gambling places, sink-holes of iniquity that of polished exquisite acumen for the study curse our land, has her soul filled with long- of all ages; such spiritual analysis, and radiings for the welfare of her boy, and seeks cal theology as is found in his letter to the with every power of which she is possessed | Romans, says of himself, "Of bodily presto find something that can be done which ence weak and of speech contemptible." Upwill arrest his attention, and thereby save on the wandering unrest of the soul of man, him from the end of such a course, redeem to his longing and unfilled heart, Paul, with one brush of his inspired pen, pins man's faith thus gives herself to untiring efforts to bring | to the eternal rock: "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God can raise the dead?" He brushes away the vain hope when he saw man's readiness to enter into of the Roman and the Greek in their thirst the ways of sin, was greatly concerned for | for immortality, and points out what alone him, and sought for a way to save him; for shall remain: "Though I speak with the mankind having sinned was lost, separated | tongue of men and of angels, and have not It is no prophecy to state that 2,500,000 | whose commandment forbade it; like as a from God, and, being separated from him, charity, I am but a sounding brass and a Baptists and their communities, and millions | human Sabbath has been put in the place of | was lost to all hope of happiness with him. | tinkling symbol." To catch the spirit and And since God is just and holy, man must impulse of this great teacher, we must lay ever remain in this lost condition in order aside theology and take up the Bible; we that the law may be vindicated. There can | must lay down "the National Sunday school be no way of escape, except some method lesson," and take up the Bible. To better can be obtained by which the demand of the understand and know this strange book, I'd give—but who can live life over?

A. R. C.

The Sabbath Becorder.

Alfred Centre, N. Y., Fifth-day, August 21, 1882.

All communications, whether on business or for publication, should be addressed to "THE SAB-BATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, Allegany Co., N. Y."

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

Most irreligious people, in Christian lands, believe the Scriptures to be the word of God, and acknowledge the divine character of Jesus and his religion. They understand and believe the doctrines of religion, but do | feverish, and we too will not neglect your not incorporate those doctrines in their lives and characters. Their faith is without fruits, and is dead. It is often a matter of wonder that intelligent people, who intend, in other respects, to be fair and honorable, should so freely acknowledge their duties to and God yet manifest no disposition or purpose to do them. There certainly can be little credit in being theoretically sound in the faith, while the life is altogether unsound. In fact, our Lord himself has taught us that knowledge of one's duty aggravates the sin of neglecting to do it. But a dead faith is not confined to those who have made no profession of religion.

There are those who have known the Lord in a deeper sense than an intellectual apprehension of him, who have tasted the joys of salvation, and yet who have so little of the life and power of religion as to leave them scarcely more than speculative, fruitless theorists. They are, perhaps, zealous advocates and able defenders of the "standards," so far as arguments are concerned while their lives say, notwithstanding their forcible words, that they do not regard their beliefs as of much consequence. Too many people recommend the salvation of Christ to the sinner, when their lives are such that the sinner does not believe that they really mean what they say. They give no evidence, except by their words, that they themselves value religion very highly if at all This kind of advocacy of God's truth can not be successful.

We need to remember this in the advocacy of God's Sabbath. It is an easy matter to prove that the Bible teaches, and has never taught any other than, the seventh-day for the Sabbath, but if we show little regard for it, by doing our own pleasure upon it, or by appropriating its sacred hours for business, it will not be strange if others say, or our children say, it is of little consequence, and so disregard it entirely. If the Sabbath is worth contending for, we ought to show our sense of its value by observing it faithfully A. B. P.

BREVITY.

Shakespeare says, "Brevity is the soul of wit," but then wit is not everything. When I began preaching, a good lay brother remarked to me, "Never preach over thirty minutes, and you will succeed." I have followed his advice but rarely, though I endeavor to bring my sermons within forty minutes. It is thought by some that a newspaper article, to be readable, must be brief. Half a column will suffice; an entire column or more, it is claimed, is tedious and terrifying, so that the pecuniary value of an article is rated in an inverse ratio to its

In this busy, feverish, impatient age, it is admitted the presumption is in favor of brevity; yet something should be said on the other side. It does not follow that because a sermon, or an editorial is short, therefore it is not tedious, nor vice versa. An aged minister of learning and experience once invited a young minister, fresh from the seminary, to preach in his pulpit. The young man preached just twelve minutes, and afterward remarked to the aged pastor, "I preached a short sermon because I did not | which alone it is possible to do the best work want to be tedious." The old man replied, "Yes, it is true, you preached only twelve every man at work on the job nearest to him, minutes, but then you were tedious." Let it where his heart is. It is fair to presume be understood, that the interest of a sermon, that we are Seventh-day Baptists because we or any literary, or religious effort does not depend altogether, nor chiefly, on its brevity tist faith and practice the best we know, the or its length. Some men can preach an Word of God being the standard, and behour and a half, and you are not wearied;

Whoever sat through the commencement exercises of any one of our colleges, whose seal rank is not far above that of a first-class | cause of Christ in the world, but if we have academy, and did not feel wearied with the any call at all to be Seventh-day Baptists, it be pleasing to God's people; and if it be length of almost every production? Yet is only through that church and its appoint- pleasing and profitable to the people, they they rarely exceed eight or ten minutes, but ments that we can do our best and truest ought, in some appropriate way, to manifest they are so condensed and labored, and so work in the world, because it is our own it to him. Do not let it be supposed that little easy naturalness in them, that you church. We shall do this, our own work, in the minister is so different from the common weary in your effort to follow them. A good the best possible manner when, without humanity of which he is a part, as to be ex-

there is too much impatience manifest on in this matter. The minister must pray by | victions have placed us, always in the Spirit the inch and preach by the yard; the news- of Christ, is Christian manliness. L. A. P. paper correspondent is allowed so many lines - dear reader and hearer, your time is not so valuable; be a little more patient and less injunction, to give heed to brevity.

HIS OWN.

own country, its literature, laws, &c., when in foreign countries, or in the presence of distinguished foreigners at home. The force of the argument lay in this, that while it is proper to speak in terms of appreciation of those things wherein other countries do excel our own, the pride of country, and a just sense of pleasure in that which is really good in her, will keep every true American from assuming the attitude of a fawning sycophant before the representatives of other nations, however great and good. If, on an impartial examination before competent judges, it should be found that, in some respects, America is not the greatest country in all the world, the true American will feel that it is, nevertheless, his own country; that it has a grand mission to work out among the nations; and that because, in the providence of God, he is a factor in it, it is his duty to magnify its work and make it still more worthy the admiration of men and the praise of God. Only thus can he prove himself a worthy son of a worthy country. These statements are evidently based on principles which are of universal application. A sense of ownership gives at once a basis of respon sibility and the ground of pleasure. When a man comes into possession of any property, his relations toward it have not only changed, but his whole feeling is changed as well. It it his. He takes a new interest in it. He works for its improvement or enlargement with a new zeal. He defends it against all unfriendly attacks with a sensitiveness, and a jealous care, to which he was a stranger before. All this change in the feeling and conduct of the man has come about through the magic of two little words, defining his new relation, "His own." The apostle Paul recognized the force of the obligation of ownership in the family relation, when he wrote, "If any provide not for his own, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." Not that the members of one's own family are intrinsically better than others, but that they have special claims upon him whose they are, because they are his. One's own family and family connections are more to him than any others can be. While he ought to exercise great care that nothing which he does, and nothing which he can prevent, shall be done to the injury of any other person, the protection of his own from evil will be justly his first great care. The man who "never spoils a good story for relations' sake," certainly has but a poor appreciation of his duty to them. If he does not guard them from reproach, mortifica tion, or ridicule, who will? In like manner, every person ought to feel the special obligations imposed upon him by virtue of his own church relations, and he ought to take peculiar pleasure in doing the work of his own church, such as he can find nowhere else. This is not narrow-minded sectarianism. is but the natural outworking of that law by in the world. It is the principle which sets find the declaration of the Seventh-day Bapcause we desire to conform our work and some articles may be three columns long, life to that standard. And that makes it the and yet not tedious, and so the other way. | proper place for us to work. | We may length. You are always tedious if you have | way, with an enthusiasm worthy of our own | the people, than it is their duty to appreciate nothing especial to say, and take any time convictions. To seek a reputation for charit- and please him. And this appreciation whatever to say it. But if you have any- ableness by assuming that others are so much | should be reciprocally demonstrative. A thing valuable to utter, and say it in your | better than we, is fawning sycophancy. To own way, the time occupied in saying it is of | withhold our hand from our own earnest secondary importance. I insist upon it, work for fear of being called enthusiasts, is couraged, may be of great value to them; moral cowardice. To do our work with our the part of the listening and reading public | might, in the fields where our deepest con-

THE THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

It must be a joy to all the friends of our beloved Zion that so many of our young men are looking forward to the gospel ministry. It was stated at the meetings of the Associations that ten or twelve of the young men and women were committed to the work, but In a recent number of the Examiner there I have since heard of several more. So that appeared an article, criticising, somewhat now I think it safe to say there are fifteen or severely, but quite justly, the way in which some Americans speak disparagingly of their in the Seventh-day Baptist denomination. What a large addition this would make to the ranks of our ministers, increasing their number almost one-fourth. But while we rejoice to know that so many of our youth are preparing to preach the gospel, and our hearts are made glad to think that so many of the churches now vacant can then be supplied, we must bear in mind that it will take from three to ten years before they will be ready to enter fully upon their life work. Some are prepared to enter the Theological Department this Fall, and pursue a three years course; others are but part way along in their college studies, while a few are just beginning. But as far as I can learn, there is a desire upon the part of all to make their fully for the ministry of the Word.

Now, as we see this noble band of young myself, and I want to ask all who love our in this blessed service?

dear young men and women have risen up can love us, such as to evoke his love. What in answer to our prayers, and now, when the is lovely is very easily loved. A minister of Lord of the harvest has answered our petitions | fine sensibility can, other things being equal, and raised up the laborers, it seems to me it will | preach a better sermon to one poorly clad be a delight and a privilege to ask him to bless | hearer, but with face aglow with sympatheti them with every needed grace. It is true that | interest, than to a house full of silk-clad they may be strangers to many of us, but | icebergs. God is well acquainted with them all, and every Seventh-day Baptist may ask him to thoroughly furnish them for the work of

2d. We may sympathize with them. Some have come from other denominations, leav ing home and friends and almost everything | lustration for Mrs. Evans's humorous story, but principle. Let us give them a glad welcome. Some come from distant churches, and have struggled up amid great difficulties. Let us give them a right hearty, God bless you. They are all human, and need our love and sympathy.

3d. We may encourage them. I remember the first time I tried to preach. It was at the Beebe Run school-house in New Jersey, now remember what I said, nor so much as my text, but I do remember that when I finished, Deacon Bond Davis spoke so kindly and thanked me so heartily that I took courage from that very hour. And now beloved brethren and sisters, when these dear young ministers come to your church or school-house, give them a kind word and a warm shake of the hand, and the best of attention, and God will bless both hearer and speaker. And if our churches begin to see, as I think they will, that we can't afford to wait ten years for pastors, while they have to work or teach to pay their way, and warm hearted brethren put their hands in their pockets and pull out the money to help educate them as soon as possible, then they may combine their prayers and sympathies and encouragement all together.

PASTOR AND PEOPLE.

While it is of the first importance for the minister of Christ that he so minister as to please his Master, as to honor Christ, it is of no small consequence that he have the approval of those to whom he ministers. If he recognize that there is good in other people can not please his people, he can not, to any and in other organizations for promoting the large extent, profit them. If his ministry your part, and then you make no note of its ples, we go about our own work in our own of the minister to appreciate and to please matters.

word of approval from the minister to the people, trying to be faithful, but oft disand only the minister, trying to be faithful, but oft discouraged, can know the value of the kind word of approval that some appreciating soul may speak. There is some truth in the old adage, "Like priests, like people;" there is a law of influence at the bottom of it. If the course be taken, and it bo said, "Like people, like priests," there will be a law of reciprocal influence at the bottom of it. It is not to be expected that any one man can long live with a hundred others, on such terms of intimacy as belongs to the relation of pastor and people, and not to a large extent be moulded to their modes of life and habits of thought. It does make sixteen expecting to prepare for the ministry a vast difference to a minister what his people think of him, and more how they act towards him. The making up of the minister belongs, to a large extent, to the people show eight-tenths of all the visitors, at presto whom he ministers. It is largely in their ent, to be from America. hands to build him up or to tear him down. Prompt payment of salary is important; but the moral and spiritual support of an appreciative and affectionate people, is still more important. Both are needed for best success. The well educated minister is just as sure to form an opinion of his hearers, at the outset of his ministry, as they are to form an opinion of him. And who shall say it is not as important to the people that the minister form a good opinion of them, as it is to the minister that the people approve him. It is not in human nature, however preparation thorough, and equip themselves | sanctified, for a minister to labor successfully for a people who do not so demean themselves toward him that he can both respect of the kind ever accomplished." The inmen and women coming forward and offering | and love them. O yes, brethren, it is of conthemselves to the work of the Lord, I ask sequence what our minister thinks of us, and it is not possible for even goodness perbeloved Zion, what can we do to help them | sonified to think well of what is not good and amiable in itself. If we want our minister 1st. We can pray for them. Beloved to love us, and so do his best for us, brethren and sisters, I fully believe that these it behooves us to be such that he

In the September Wide Awake, George F Barnes shows a very beautiful drawing as frontispiece for Mrs. Champney's charming Norse story, "The Castle of the Winds," and Mr. Champney has a fine, full-page i "How Elbridge Gray Played Little Boy Blue." James Otis gives a phase of his late travels in Florida, under the title, " A Young Alligator Catcher." There is also another Southern sketch, "A Little Texas Nurse Girl," with a good drawing by the Georgia artist, J. H. Moser. Long installments are given of the serials, "The Trojan War," and "Lost Among Savages," and for the a place for the Shiloh church just like the latter Bolton Jones has made some good Red School-house is for Alfred. I do not | drawings. The Chautauqua Reading Course for the month concludes the series for the Chautauqua year, and on the cover is announced the Reading Course for the year beginning in October. Among the specialties announced we notice a series of Health and Strength Papers, by Prof. Sargent of Harvard College. $2 50 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., publishers, Boston.

D. E. M.

THE North American Review for September has for its leading article a very forcible presentment, by Dorman B. Eaton, of the evils produced by the practice of levying "Political Assessments." "Oaths in Legal Proceedings," by Judge Edward A. Thomas, alike would not be promoted by the abrogagiven under the sanction of an oath. Thompson B. Maury, late of the Signal Office, contributes an article on "Tornadoes and their Causes." "Architecture in America," by Clarence Cook, is marked by a freedom of utterance that is refreshing. Augustus G. Cobb writes of "Earth-Burial and Cremation," and J. F. Manning, in an article entitled "The Geneva Award and the Ship Owners," sets forth the justice of the claims of consignors of cargoes and owners of vessels to indemnification out of the Geneva Award fund, for losses from the acts of Confederate cruisers. The Review is sold by booksellers and newsdealers generally.

A MUSICAL CONVENTION, under the di rection of J. M. Stillman, Mus. Doc., is in writer or speaker is one who compels or en- apology for our existence, and without de- empt from the common laws which affect edly prove a success, as Doctor Stillman is tices your attention without any effort on manding any such apology from other peo- human intercourse. It is no more the duty not accustomed to make failures in musical Communications.

BY THE CRAM CLUB.

The Home of Shakespeare.

Stratford-upon-Avon, the home of Shakespeare, is situated upon the Avon, a beautiful river quietly flowing through a broad and fertile valley, in the southwest border of Warwickshire, that shire which, in olden time, was well called the heart of England. Stratford is a quiant old town, the reddest town I ever set eyes on. Being built of a very light red brick, and free from the smoke and smut of manufacturing towns, the houses have a wonderfully bright and cheery aspect. It would be a very dull town, the inhabitants say, if it were not for Shakespeare. His constantly widening fame and influence draws an ever-increasing stream of travel here, the great majority of whom are Americans and Germans. The hotel registers

The people of Warwickshire, including Stratford, are, physically, the finest we have seen in England, and speak English freest from brogue. It has a vibrant roll and resonance that is very pleasing to the ear.

The house in which Shakespeare was born, after having passed through many changes and uses, was, in 1847, bought in by a national subscription, for some $16,000, and placed in the hands of trustees in behalf of the nation. Under the direction of the Birthplace Committee, it has been restored, as near as possible, to its original condition. The restoration of the exterior is regarded as, "the most careful and successful work ternal portion where the family lived remains essentially the same as when the Shakespeare family resided here. The whole building is in the Eliziabethan style of family

On entering the house from Henley Street, the visitor first passes into the old family kitchen. The floor is of stone, well worn with the footsteps of three hundred years. There is a roomy fire place, the sides built of brick, having the chimney-piece above, cut, with a low pointed arch, out of a massive beam of oak. At either end of the fireplace are stone seats built into the jambs on which the children used to sit to keep warm, when the embers were low. Stooping low, under the mantle piece, I crowded myself into the small seat where little William was wont to sit with cold toes and benumbed fingers, and wipe off his tears with his sleeve, or, in happier moods, crack his boyish jokes and let off poetic squibs.

Above the kitchen is the room in which the poet was born. It is a low-roofed apartment. Huge oaken beams project from the plastered walls, the stairway and floor of thick oaken boards, worm-eaten and worn. Myriad penciled and inked autographs cover the walls, ceilings and windows, so continuous and closely written, as to give the walls the appearance of being covered with spider

Behind the birth-room, entered by a doorway some five feet high, is another curious old apartment, whose heavy beams and thick oaken floor give an idea of strength and enduringness. Portraits of the poet adorn the walls; the chief of these is a life-sized bust in oil, known as the Stratford portrait. It was found in an old house here and is considered a genuine painting from life. It is kept in an iron safe, which is thrown open during the day, and closed at night.

Other rooms contain the Shakespearean Library and Museum, in which are to be found copies of the earliest editions of his works, and everything obtainable connected with him. One of the most interesting obis a discussion of the question whether the jects is the old bench and writing desk ocinterests of morality and of public justice | cupied by Shakespeare while a boy at school. The way in which he both used and misused tion of all laws requiring testimony to be this desk with pen and ink and knife, would delight the eye of a Yankee boy who considers the chief use of a knife to whittle desks. I was permitted to sit in the chair which the poet used to occupy when he presided at the meeting of the Stratford Club. Washington Irving, in his Sketch Book, asserts that from its constant use, this chair had to be re-bottomed every three years. The guides say that Irving drew entirely on his imagination for this statement, as the original oak has withstood the wear and tear of three hundred years.

"NEW PLACE,"

the home of Shakespeare's mature years, and where he died, has been entirely destroyed; but the garden and grounds connected therewith have been converted into a beautiful little park, stretching down to the Avon. To this park the public are admitted.

THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY, where Shakespeare is buried, stands pleasantly and picturesquely Avon. It is supposed to built in the time of W It is a cruciform build nave and side aisles, a tr The tower and spire ri the cross to a hight of way to doorway the vir alley of thick over-arch The grave stones of ly lie in a row in front a niche, at one side, is of Shakespeare, placed years after his death, b bust is painted and sn taken from life. It re round face, parted li full nose, high forch auburn. The dress slashed on the breast, black gown without sle a cushion, the upper pa green. The poet is re on this cushion. The held a pen. Beneath th in Latin: "In judgme a Socrates, in art a Vi ers him, the people me has him."

The slab placed over peare, has a small bras ons inscription:

"Good friend, for J To dig the dust e Blesse be ye man. And cusst be he y WOMAN IM THEOL Randolph, in a letter class, says: "I decided your class next Fall, h myself unreservedly to istry. I do not know t in favor of woman's wo ter, asking for your pri We have answered the above is taken, and the sisters may feel free to would say that we are with the idea of woman tian ministry, and wou our class all sisters wis selves by the study of In behalf of E. A.

Dome

In this vicinity, We was as pleasant as thou for we were treated to People smiled as they day was over vegetation more cheerful look tha

The question one me community is, Will changes be completed ence? I see the carper side is completed exce painters are busy on the to the surface which hi and masons are busy in day (Aug. 18th) anoth plete it; but should the the finish on ceiling a completed.

Two weeks from L our schools gathering work.

Sabbath-day, Aug. 1 will preach at Rockvil

I have delayed writi the country for water. vances, our springs hi have to haul water There has been a wel with little success.

The county so far i It has a good rich timber together, so th section: has sufficient There is plenty of gov to entry. Fruits, exc do well. Wheat yield forty to ninety, bar two-hundred to five acre. Corn is raised for table use.

The climate is m snow from six to two three months. Sheep successfully and cattle in large herds.

Our markets are away, and Lewiston from us. There is a ning on Clear Wate

Marrows, per bushel, 62 lbs......$3 35 @$3 40

Evaporated apples, ring cut, choice......14 @15

State and Western, quarter apples..... 5 @ 6

Apples, North Carolina, sliced...... 5 @ 7½

Unreeled peaches, halves and quarters..... 4 @ 5

Blackberries...... 6 @ 7

BUTTER, CHEESE, EGGS, BRANS, ETC.

Exclusively and Entirely on Commission.

Cash advances will be made on receipt of property here needed, and account of sales and remittances for the same sent promptly as soon as goods are sold.

We have no Agents, make no purchases whatever for our own account, and solicit consignments of prime

DAVID W. LEWIS & Co., NEW YORK.

This address is sufficient both for goods and letters.

DRIED FRUITS.—We quote:

Mediums'

quality property.

Lommunications.

RESTING ABROAD.

BY THE CRAM CLUB.

The Home of Shakespeare.

ord-upon-Avon, the home of Shakess situated upon the Avon, a beautiful netly flowing through a broad and valley, in the southwest border of kshire, that shire which, in olden as well called the heart of England. d is a quiant old town, the reddest town t eyes on. Being built of a very light k, and free from the smoke and smut dacturing towns, the houses have a ully bright and cheery aspect. It e a very dull town, the inhabitants t were not for Shakespeare. His ly widening fame and influence m ever-increasing stream of travel e great majority of whom are Amerid Germans. The hotel registers nt-tenths of all the visitors, at prese from America.

beople of Warwickshire, including l, are, physically, the finest we have England, and speak English freestgue. It has a vibrant roll and resthat is very pleasing to the ear. ouse in which Shakespeare was born, ing passed through many changes was, in 1847, bought in by a naibscription, for some $16,000, and the hands of trustees in behalf of on. Under the direction of the ce Committee, it has been restored, s possible, to its original condition. oration of the exterior is regarded most careful and successful work ind ever accomplished." The inortion where the family lived resentially the same as when the are family resided here. The whole is in the Eliziabethan style of family ering the house from Henley Street, first passes into the old family The floor is of stone, well worn footsteps of three hundred years. a roomy fire place, the sides built having the chimney-piece above, a low pointed arch, out of a massive bak. At either end of the fireplace seats built into the jambs on which ren used to sit to keep warm, when rs were low. Stooping low, under de piece, I crowded myself into the twhere little William was wont to old toes and benumbed fingers, and his tears with his sleeve, or, in hapthe kitchen is the room in which was born. It is a low-roofed apartluge oaken beams project from the walls, the stairway and floor of en boards, worm-eaten and worn. enciled and inked autographs cover ceilings and windows, so continulosely written, as to give the walls rance of being covered with spider ds, crack his boyish jokes and let the birth-room, entered by a doorfive feet high, is another curious nent, whose heavy beams and thick give an idea of strength and en-Portraits of the poet adorn the chief of these is a life-sized bust wn as the Stratford portrait. It in an old house here and is conrenuine painting from life. It is iron safe, which is thrown open day, and closed at night.

contain the Shakespearean nd Museum, in which are to be es of the earliest editions of his everything obtainable connected One of the most interesting obold bench and writing desk ochakespeare while a boy at school. which he both used and misused ith pen and ink and knife, would eye of a Yankee boy who considers of a knife to whittle desks. I ed to sit in the chair which the occupy when he presided at the he Stratford Club. Washington s Sketch Book, asserts that from use, this chair had to be re-botthree years. The guides say frew entirely on his imagination ment, as the original oak has wear and tear of three hun-

"NEW PLACE." Shakespeare's mature years, and d, has been entirely destroyed; and grounds connected therea converted into a beautiful little ing down to the Avon. To this ic are admitted. COPTHE HOLY TRINITY, It is a cruciform building, consisting of a roads direct to our nearest points. nave and side aisles, a transept, and a chancel. allev of thick over-arching lime trees.

ly lie in a row in front of the altar rails. In a niche, at one side, is a half length figure of Shakespeare, placed there within seven years after his death, by his daughter. The round face, parted lips, large hazel eyes, full nose, high forehead, hair and beard auburn. The dress is a scarlet doublet, slashed on the breast, over which is a loose black gown without sleeves. Before him is a cushion, the upper part crimson, the lower green. The poet is represented as writing on this cushion. The right hand formerly held a pen. Beneath this cushion is inscribed in Latin: "In judgment a Nestor, in genius a Socrates, in art a Virgil. The earth covers him, the people mourn for him, Olympus has him."

The slab placed over the grave of Shakes peare, has a small brass plate with this curious inscription:

> "Good friend, for Jesus sake forbeare," To dig the dust enclosed heare: Blesse be ye man yt spares the stones, And cusst be he yt moves my bones."

WOMAN IM THEOLOGY.-Miss Perie F. Randolph, in a letter to the Theological class, says: "I decided last February to enter your class next Fall, having resolved to give myself unreservedly to the work of the ministry. I do not know that as a class you are in favor of woman's work, but send this letter, asking for your prayers and sympathies." We have answered the letter from which the above is taken, and that all others of our sisters may feel free to come and join us, we would say that we are heartily in sympathy with the idea of woman's work in the Christian ministry, and would gladly welcome to our class all sisters wishing to prepare themselves by the study of theology.

> In behalf of the class, E. A. WITTER, Secretary.

Home Alews.

Rhode Island.

ASHAWAY.

In this vicinity, Wednesday, Aug. 16th, was as pleasant as though the sun had shone, for we were treated to a much-needed rain. People smiled as they met, and before the day was over vegetation revived and gave a more cheerful look than for many days past.

The question one meets most often in this community is. Will the meeting-house changes be completed in time for Conference? I see the carpenter work of the outside is completed except on the spire. The painters are busy on the outside, giving color to the surface which has hitherto been white, and masons are busy inside. As it looks today (Aug. 18th) another month should complete it; but should the mortar harden slowly. the finish on ceiling and walls may not be completed.

Two weeks from Monday next will find our schools gathering in for their Autumn Sabbath day, Aug. 19th, Rev. A. E. Main will preach at Rockville.

Idaho.

BEAR CREEK.

I have delayed writing until we could test the country for water. As the Summer advances, our springs have failed, so that we have to haul water a mile and a half. There has been a well sunk fifty-three feet | been announced. with little success.

The county so far is all that we expected. It has a good rich soil with prairie and timber together, so that almost every quarter. section has sufficient timber for farm use. There is plenty of government land subject do well. Wheat yields about thirty, oats, forty to ninety, barley fifty, and potatoes two hundred to five hundred bushels per acre. Corn is raised only in small patches for table use.

snow from six to twenty inches deep about is increasing. three months. Sheep raising is carried on successfully and cattle and horses are, raised in large herds.

Our markets are Moscow, twenty miles away, and Lewistown twenty-seven miles the endowment of a room at the Mary Fletch- will be represented by as many as can attend. from us. There is a line of steamboats run- er hospital, for young female patients, in memning on Clear Water, twelve miles from ory of his deceased daughter.

antly and picturesquely on the banks of the here, which is our market when roads are so Avon. It is supposed to have been originally we can get there. The streams are all in built in the time of William the Conqueror. deep canons, so that it is difficult to have

The tower and spire rise from the center of here. We should be pleased to have the $4 25 an acre. the cross to a hight of 163 feet. From gate- number increased. There is some inquiry way to doorway the visitor passes along an about Sabbath truth. We expect soon to organize a church, and would ask our breth-The grave stones of the Shakespeare fami- ren to pray for us that the Lord will send a leader to help strengthen us in our Christian

To reach our place come to Walla Walla, from there to Dayton by railroad, thence, bust is painted and supposed to have been by stage, fifty miles to Moscow, there intaken from life. It represents him with full | quire at the post-office for Bear Creek settlement, or John Furrow on Bear Creek.

> There is a gold mine seven miles north of our place which promises to be very rich. Our address is Moscow, Nez Perces Co., Idaho, Bear Creek Mail.

JULY 24, 1882.

Missouri,

FROM A LONE SABBATH-KEEPER.

John Furrow.

I am a Seventh-day Baptist, and belong to the Church at Stone Fort, Ill., but am out here for a season. We have mostly Methodists in this community, though there are some First-day Baptists. I am distributing Sabbath tracts and talking a little, and trying to accomplish something in the Master's cause. There is a large field of labor here, and it needs an efficient man for the work. I am about six miles from Prospect Station on the St. Louis and Texas Narrow Gauge Railroad. We have a good crop of wheat, and a fair prospect for corn, and are, in fact, apparently in a prosperous condition. We have a new railroad, in a new country, well adapted to farming, and I think it a good place, and the present a good time for Sabbath colony. H. P. GRACE.

NEW MADRID, New Madrid Co., } Southeast Mo., Aug. 6, 1882.

Condensed Hewg.

EGYPT.—Dispatches from Alexandria to 7 P. M., Aug. 20th, report heavy firing at Ramleh, while it was understood that Arabi's entrenchments were to be attacked on Monday morning. In all the engagements thus far, the British forces have been the more successful, and from present appearances the contest is not likely to be lengthy, though it may prove sharp.

The steamer Hope, in command of Sir Allen Young, which left London in June in search of the crew of the steamer Eira, has been entirely successful, having picked up the whole crew in Matotchkin straits, Nova Zembla, Aug. 3d. The Eira was crushed in the ice Aug. 21, 1881, a mile east of Cape Flora. The crew escaped in their boats and wintered on the Cape, in a hut built of turf and stones, covered with

The engineer of a passenger train on the Manitoba road, on arriving at Anoka, Minn. on the night of Aug. 19th, reported having struck something heavy at a crossing about a half a mile from the town. Investigation showed the object to have been a carriage having four occupants three of whom were dead and the fourth expired soon after. They were so mutilated that identification was diffen t.

held their annual meeting at Elmira last week. The meeting was a very interesting one and was terminated by an agreeable visit to Watkins Glen, and an excursion on the beautiful Seneca Lake.

There is intense excitement in the Indian territory among the Choctaws, because the President signed the bill granting the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad the right of way through the nation. The majority fiercely opposed the bill.

The Rev. George Barnes, the celebrated mountain evangelist, is holding revival meetings in Kentucky. The greatest enthusiasm prevails, and a large number of conversions are reported. One hundred have already

Bangor, Me., was visited by an unprecedentedly destructive tornado on the evening of Aug. 15th, attended with a deluging rain and incessant thunder and lightning. The damage was estimated at from $50,000 to

The military authorities at Quebec are to entry. Fruits, except peaches, generally busily engaged in mounting and placing in position new cannon on the citadel and ramparts, and in warlike movements generally. There is much speculation as to the cause.

prived of work and the means of subsistence,

Two persons were recently killed, and several others fatally injured by the premature explosion of a blast of six kegs of powder at Clark's furnace, near Erin, Tenn.

Senator Edmunds has given $5,000 for

The Danish Vice Consul has purchased families being now on their way to settle on | Preaching Sabbath morning by J. Kenyon; evening There are five families of Sabbath-keepers | the lands. The price is understood to be after Sabbath by George Kenyon; Sunday morning

> The miners' strike at Pittsburg is acknowledged by the leaders to be a failure, a large number having already returned to work at the old wages.

United States Senator Benjamin H. Hill of Georgia, died at Atlanta, on the morning of August 16th, in the 59th year of his age.

The Apaches are committing depredations and atrocities in the Sohuahupa district of Gen. Butler has been nominated for Governor by the Massachusetts Greenback connot yet completed.

Clerk's Office, of Allegany County, Aug. 18, 1882, to serve at a County Court and Court of Sessions, to be held at the Court House at Angelica, commencing on Monday, Sept. 4, 1882:

GRAND JURORS. Angelica-Ransom J. Brockett, Chester P. Engle. Allen-Andrew M. Marvin, Michael Linchan. Burns—James Campbell, Albertus Carter. Belfast-W. W. Byrns, M. L. Brainard, H. Sum-

Caneadea—Henry Tucker, O. H. Thompson. Centerville—Thos. J. Pratt, Daniel W. Veazey, Ervin Stickle, John M. Weaver.

Granger—John Crotty. Grove-Wm. Wood. Hume-Frank Gillette, Henry C. Brown. New Hudson-Squire V. Vaughn, John Alexander. Rushford—Hosea B. Persons, Columbus Balcom, Lemuel Farewell.

TRIAL JURORS. Angelica—Charles D. Thomas.

Allen—Andrew Morris Almond-George McKerg, Isaac Helmer, Chaun cey C. Colburn, Alvin Pinchen, Alfred H. Arm trong, Clinton Moss, Abram Wyant, Consider C. Wilcox, Charles Ferry. Birdsall—Amos Southard, Albert Edminster.

Burns—Henry Colgrove, William Payne. Belfast—Benjamin Dunning, James Murdough, C Caneadea—Chris Smith.

Centerville-John H. Morgan, Martin V. Allen. Granger—John W. Parker, Gardner Smith, L. A. Doolittle, William Youngs. Grove—George F. Rogers, George W. Heath.

Hume-Charles Lapp, J. S. Minard. New Hudson—John McElheney, Albert Dolph, Charles Bell, Ralph Lyon, Edgar Eastwood, Wycoff West Almond-Milo H. Crandall.

THE Veterans of the 136th Regiment, New York Volunteers, with their families and friends, will hold their fourth annual reunion in the grove at Silver

$1,500 per year can be easily made at home working for E. G. Rideout & Co., 10 Barclay street, New York. Send for their catalogue and full particulars.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE Ministerial Conference of the Seventh day Baptist Churches of Southern Wisconsin, will convene in the Seventh-day Baptist church at Wal worth, on First-day, Aug. 27th. The following pro gramme has been arranged:

What is the true mode of reviving a church?

Is there any proper way to dismiss church members except by letter or exclusion, and should a church ever exclude without specific charges and gospel S. H. Babcock Comparative advantages of sermons delivered extem poraneously with those delivered from manuscript Chas. B. Hul In what does religion consist?

Do the Scriptures teach open or close communion? What is the nature and significance of a gospel N. Wardner O. U. Whitford

All are invited to attend. E. M. Dunn, Sec.

SABBATH SCHOOL MEETING. - A Sabbath School Meeting will be held in connection with the Quarterly Meeting of Wisconsin Churches, at Wal-The American Society of Microscopists worth, Sunday morning, Aug. 27th, at 9.30 A. M. PROGRAMME.

1. Woman's work in the Sabbath-school,

Mrs. E. A. Whitford 2. Beauties of the Book of Psalms Mrs. O. B. Wardner 3. The end to be sought in our Sabbath School Rev. S. H. Babcock 4. The Relation of the Pastor to the Sabbath School

Rev. E. M. Dung Rev. O. U. Whitford 5. Answer to Questions, A paper is also expected from F. O. Burdick or some member of the Utica school, selected by him.

A MEETING OF THE SABBATH SCHOOL EXECU-TIVE BOARD of the North-Western Association, for organization and preparation for work during the coming year, is desired at Walworth on Sunday morning, Aug. 27th, at 9 A. M. As full representation as possible is very desirable. Members of the Board: F. C. Dunn, O. U. Whitford, S. G. Burdick, A. B. Spaulding, S. H. Babcock, F. O. Burdick, G. M. Cottrell, Moses Crossley, T. P. Andrews, H. B. Lewis, R. J. Maxson, and L. D. Seagar.

W. F. Place, Chairman of Board.

YEARLY MEETING OF SOUTHERN ILLINOIS. Our Yearly Meeting which was to have been held last year with Pleasant Hill Church, having been a failure, it was suggested to me during a recent visit to Stone Fort and Crab Orchard, that as the Moderator of the last meeting actually held, it might be my duty to call a meeting for the present year. By a The mayor of Brownsville, Tex., has issued vote of our society on last Sabbath, it was agreed to an appeal for help for the people who are de- invite the meeting to be held here; and this seemed to be the mind of the brethren and sisters elsewhere The climate is mild, though we have | by the quarantining of that city. The fever | therefore, the Seventh-day Baptist Yearly Meeting of Southern Illinois will hold its meeting for the present year with Villa Ridge Church, commencing on Friday, the 20th day of October, at 11 o'clock A. M., Eld. Leman Andrus to preach the Introductory Sermon, and Eld. W. F. Vancleve or Eld. C. W. Threl keld, alternate. It is to be hoped all the churches

M. B. KELLY. | VILLA RIDGE, Ill., Aug. 18, 1882.

THE next Quarterly Meeting of the Scio. from the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Friendship, Richburg, West Genesee, and Portville Railway, 50,000 acres of land in Minnesota, Churches, will be held with the Friendship Church, for the occupancy of a Danish colony, fifty at Nile, beginning Sixth-day evening, Sept. 1st. by J. Summerbell: Sunday evening by E. A. Witter. C. A. Burdick.

THE Yearly Meeting of the Seventh day Bap tist Churches in Iowa will be held, Providence permitting, with the Church at Welton, commencing Sixth-day, Sept. 1, 1882, at 2 o'clock P. M. Hope as many will attend as can, in the State or out. Arrangements have been made with the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad to return persons attending the meeting for one third fare, from De Witt, a station on that road seven miles away. Persons arriving at De Witt from the east at 3.07 P. M., or from the west at 12.05 P. M., will find a train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad at 4 52 P. The argument in the Star Route cases is M. to Welton. Persons desiring to reach De Witton other trains will notify me, so that they can be met with teams. A freight, carrying passengers, THE following is a list of Jurors drawn at the leaves DeWitt for Welton at 11 A. M. Return tickets good until Sept. 12th. H. B. Lewis.

> CHICAGO MISSION.—Mission Bible-school at the Pacific Garden Mission Rooms, corner of Van Buren St. and 4th Avenue, every Sabbath afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Preaching at 3 o'clock. All Sabbath keepers in the city, over the Sabbath, are cordially invited to attend.

LETTERS.

Alling & Cory, L. D. Seager, J. F. Hubbard, J. E. Mosher, E. R. Green, John O. Kelly, J. B. Somers, C. A. Burdick, C. Potter, Jr. & Co., L. E. Livermore 2, O.D. Williams, Geo. N. Langworthy, N. Richardson, Rose I. Quilter, W. W. Knipple, J. W. Bur ton. John Furrow, Eda L. Crandall, W. C. Whitford, F. O. Burdick 2, Geo. H. Eldredge. L. A. Platts, G. B. Utter, L. R. Swinney, A. E. Main, Geo. Havens, E. M. Dunn, N. Wardner Williams, Paul M. Green, F. L. Tuttle, L. S. Colton, Mrs. H. L. Braneman, A. H. Burdick, F. E. Williams, Tillie Grose close, W. J. Womack, Mrs. J. H. Houston, N. W. Crosley, E. Holton, H. Shoemaker, J. L. Turner, A. L. Maxson, W. Fl. Place (all right), E. R. Crandall, J. F. Morgan (sent to Akron), L. Coon, Wm. L. Copeland, Michael Egan, S. R. Wheeler, Josic M.

RECEIPTS.

All payments for the SABBATH RECORDER are acknowledged from week to week in the paper. Persons sending money, the receipt of which is not duly acknowledged, should give us early notice of the Paj	B to	Vol.	No.

D. B. Kenyon, Alfred Center,	$1	00	38	52
W. M. Saunders, "		00	38	52
J. B. Langworthy, Alfred,	2	00	38	52
Mrs. Geo. Greenman, Berlin,		00	38	52
J. L Green, "	2	00	38	52
D. E. Titsworth, New York,		50	38	41
O. D. Williams, Akron,		20	39
Mrs. Jane Trask, Independence,	2	00	38	52
Mrs. G. Cummings, Little Genesee,	2	00	38	52
H. C. Crandall, "	2	00	38	52
D. M. Burdick, "	2.	00	38
E. B. Titsworth, Plainfield, N. J.,	3	50	38	52
J. B. Somers, Linwood,	2	00	40·	31
Mrs. Wm. Potter, Potter Hill, R. I.,	2	00	38	- 52
M. C. Green, Hope Valley,	1	00	39	1
Truman Saunders, Milton, Wis.,	். 2	00	38	52
E. M. Dunn "	4	00	39	52
W. C. Whitford, "		00	39	52
S. H. Kennedy "	1	20	38	30
James Bailey, "		50	38	52
Albertus Clarke, "		00	38	52
E. T. Hamilton, "		00	39	26
W. W. Brown, "	.2	00	38	52
Mrs. J. H. Houston, Brownston, Mini	i.,2	00	39	32
J. Wheeler, Nortonville, Kan.,		00	38	52
J. B. Henry, "	1	00	38	52
J. S. Maxson, Parsons.	- 8	50	38	52
C. B. Tomlinson, Pardee,	1	00	38	52
J. T. Davis, Humboldt, Neb.,	2	00	38	5%
LESSON LEAVES.

WHOLESALE PRODUCE MARKET.

Leona M. Potter, Alfred Centre,

Josie M. Barber, State Bridge,

Review of the New York market for butter, cheese, etc., for the week ending August 19th, reported for the RECORDER, by David W. Lewis & Co., Pro duce Commission Merchants, No. 85 and 87 Broad Street, New York. Marking plates furnished

BUTTER.—Receipts for the week were 30.180 pack ages; exports, 200 packages. The arrivals of Western butter have been liberal, and ordinary to common stock that grades down towards Oleomargarine is dull and slow, and the very low grades are perhaps lower than a week ago. The writer being on board the steamboat St. John the other night, looked over the butter on board and found on the boat 250 odd packages of Oleomargarine, and less than 100 packages of dairy butter. This seemed to be a straw indicating a general holding back of N. Y. State dairies, while "Oleo" was going into consumption to take its place. Good butter freely offered will squelch Oleomargarine every time, but scarcity of butter and high prices, such as was had last year, set the production of "Oleo" into full motion, and this fact will no doubt receive respectful consideration in the marketing of butter this Fall; and the dairy interest will see to it that they have their share of the active Fall demand while it is going. Fine fresh last week's make butter is quick sale and plenty of buyers willing to pay what it is worth to get it. We We quote:

Faulty. Fancy. Creamery, sour cream... 28@30 18@22 sweet . " Imitation creamery..... 22@23 Factory butter...... 16@17 -@16 14@15 Dairy, fresh make..... 27@29 CHEESE.—Receipts for the week were 100,421 boxes; exports, 63,964 boxes. The market is very dull here, and some cheese stored unsold. Prices to realize upon are fractionally lower, and the market closes weak. We quote: Fine. Faulty.

Factory......11 @111 10@101 Eggs.—Receipts for the week were 7,703 bbls. and 3.222 boxes. Eggs have ruled dull this week, closing

BEESWAX sold on arrival at 27@28 cents in good demand at the price. We quote:

EQUAL PRIVILEGES FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomnness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall st., N. Y.

ALFRED, N. Y.

A LFRRD UNIVERSITY.

Academic, Collegiate, and Theological Depart-nents. Classical, Scientific, Normal, Mechanical, Musical, and Painting and Drawing courses of study. Better advantages than ever can be promised for the coming year. A new feature will be the Normal or Teacher's Class running through the entire year.

Fall Term commences Sept. 6, 1882. Winter Term, Dec. 20, 1882. Spring Term, April 4, 1883. Commencement, July 4, 1883 Expenses, $100 to $200 per year. For further particulars, address

J. ALLEN, President.

NOTICE TO INVESTORS! N First Mortgage Real Estate Loans made and Guaranteed by the Nebraska Loan and Trust Company, HASTINGS, NEBRASKA.

School Bonds and Municipal Securities for sale. Best of references furnished. Write for full particulars. JAS. B. HEARTWELL, Pres. E. C. WEBSTER, PICTORIAL FAMILY BIBLE, HOLMAN'S Containing both versions of the New Testament. We make no extra charge for this addition. Other publishers charge $1. FINE PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS.

Elegant Designs, Handsomely Bound. Our Bibles contain 2,000 pages, 2,500 Illustrations. Extra Inducements offered to Energetic Agents. Illustrated Catalogue sent on application. A. J. HOLMAN & CO., 1222 Arch St., Philadelpnia.

BANNERS. All kinds at the lowest prices. Send description of justwhat you want and we will give estimate. Fine silk banner, fringe and pole (plated tips), for $6. Lettering in gold. DAVID C. COOK, 46 Adams St., Chicago.

TEACHER'S LIBRARY.

Nine books, including Bible Dictionary, Commentary on Mark, Compendium of Teaching, etc.; books worth 75c. to $1 50 each. Price 10c. each; whole nine, 80c. DAVID C. COOK, 46 Adams St., Chi-

T ESSON LEAVES,

CONTAINING THE

INTERNATIONAL LESSONS. Prepared by the SABBATH SCHOOL BOARD of the General Conference, and published at the SABBATH RECORDER OFFICE

75 CENTS A HUNDRED

PER MONTH, FREE OF POSTAGE.

Address, D. R. STILLMAN, Alfred Centre, Allegany Co., N. Y.

NO PATENT NO PAY. DATENTS OBTAINED FOR MECHANICAL devices, medical or other compounds, ornamental designs, trade-marks and labels. Caveats, Assign ments, Interferences, Infringements, and all matters relating to Patents, premptly attended to. We make preliminary examinations and furnish opinions as to patentability, free of charge, and all who are interested in new inventions and Patents are invited to send for a copy of our "Guide for Obtaining Pat ents," which is sent free to any address, and contains complete instructions how to obtain Patents, and other valuable matter. During the past five years, we have obtained nearly three thousand Patents for American and Foreign inventors, and can give extended factory references in almost every county in the

LOUIS BAGGER & CO. Solicitors of Patents and Attorneys at Law, Le Drott

speare is buried, stands pleas-

Selected Miscellany.

ELLIE'S FROCK.

BY RUTH MARINER.

"Pray, what are you making, mamma, That you are so long about?' "A frock for the veriest darling

That ever wore them out. Is it not, with its puffs and plaitings And knots of baby blue, For Mabel's birthday party

The very thing for you?"
"But, mamma, little Patty Is sick and like to die; passed their door this morning And saw her mamma cry. If you could leave your sewing For just a little while, Could you not help poor Patty,

And make her mamma smile?" But I barred the doors of conscience Against the pleading knock "I can not, I'm determined To finish Ella's frock. With tiny points and scallops

And dainty satin loop, I'll make my little darling The fairy of the group."
In my heart I stifled pity
And sewed with all my might— I plaited, puffed, and scalloped All day and half the night. I sewed and sung together And stitched in all the seams A mother's loving fancies, A mother's happy dreams.

But early on the morrow A passing neighbor said: "There's mourning in the cottage. For little Patty's dead." And now at my selfish folly Small time to be grieved or vexed, For of the fever's victims My Ellie was the next! I barred my doors but vainly Against death's warning knock,

And—lying in her coffin, She wore the finished frock. -The Congregationalist.

HOW THE GRAYLES IMPROVED THEIR PARLORS.

BY BLANCHE L. MACDONELL.

"Lou's room puts the whole house to the shabby, unattractive parlors which had so long contented the whole Grayle family.

"Then the best thing you girls can do is to arrange the parlors as well as Lou's room, dado to match the bordering of the doors.

any one see."

"You have the remedy in your own hands," persisted the boy. "With a good rooms, divided by folding doors, lighted by coarse Scotch yarnin harmonizing shades. home precisely at twelve o'clock;" and he could easily have esthetic, tasteful parlors, with a marble mantel in the front room. The if every one would only assist. Let us try, floor was stained, and provided with a rug low, the leaves being worked in very subdued nodding approvingly at his energetic young | hind deep crimson, dull blue and yellow ara-

proposal. Why could the children not let | in two shades of dark, bronze green; the dawell alone? The parlors had suited her all do, which only rose about a foot above the these years; could they not rest satisfied? | skirting-board, was deep chocolate red. The She dreaded an upsetting which, after all, girls had longed for an artistically papered She dreaded an upsetting which, after all, girls had longed for an artistically papered would have divined that they were made out less, there is none of that warm sunshine of ceiling; but when it was decided in family of common packing-cases. Tom made eight kindness and love that should ever stream the coaxing and pleading of the girls pre- ed, it was finally tinted a pale cream color, vailed, though their arguments carried very instead of the bold, cold white which is the little weight. After listening quietly to all the general hue of ceilings. The doors, which discussion, and realizing that his children were ornamented by Alice, attracted general had attained an age when they required scope admiration. She fastened plain gold paper upholsterer's tacks, nailing down all the wishes, though she felt keenly every instance for their individual tastes and an outlet for on thin card-board the exact size of the pan-edges very smoothly. One side of the pack- of his unkindness. their healthy energies, Mr. Grayle agreed to els, and then painted upon it a few water- ing-case served for the shelf of the table, and It was not often that he failed to issue his

"In moderation, of course; for you are all aware that I can not afford heavy expense," he said, looking around on the circle of animated young faces.

"Of course, papa, your interests are ours," declared Lou, warmly.

"The hall is dreadfully shabby; quite disreputable," mourned Alice.

"Our improvements must include the en trance hall and staircase," decided Lou.

"I always intended doing something towards rendering the house more attractive purpose, in double width, with a nap on both when you girls grew up," continued Mr. sides. Lou bought a few yards of handsome Grayle. "We absolutely require a new oilcloth for the entrance hall, as well as curtains, parlor and stair carpets. Papering, painting and tinting has also become a necessity. I will give you the money for them, | was very effective. and you may dispose of it to the best advantage and to suit your own taste."

"It is beyond our power to be splendid, gorgeous, or imposing, but tasteful simplicity is within our reach. Taste and ingenuity wider than the mantel upon which it was to then pointed a bold design in the center of flat shall be æsthetic; decidedly high art," insisted Lou. "To begin, we shall stain the the under side. The valence was then put of delicate shells and aquatic plants; and floor of the entrance hall, thereby saving the on with brass tacks, a heading having been the screen was quite as beautiful as though supplying other necessary articles."

as well as the floors of entrance hall and par- wards ornamented each space between the "The chairs must certainly be covered; Ior. They managed the staining rather dif- shelves by handsome oil paintings of fruit they are in a disgraceful state of shabbiness. ferently from the manner in which Lou had and flowers. When these were filled with Then the sofa is dreadful," rejoined Alice. colored her own chamber. The cracks be- vases, tiles, and various bits of china and tween the boards, which were very wide and bric-a-brac, they gave a decided air of ele- grand success in the upholstering line," addunseemly, first required to be puttied. They gance and refinement to the room. The ed Lou, brightly. bought some permanganate of potash in a grate was filled by a Japanese umbrella, upon crude state. One ounce well mixed with which peacock's feathers had been sewed, well as in name," urged Tom. "One does water made two quarts of liquid. They were one overlapping the other, until nothing of the mixture stains very deeply. They put it the mantel at each side were placed velvet- in stiff, uncomfortable seats."

which peacocks leatners nad been sewed, were as in name, urged form. Which peacocks leatners nad been sewed, one overlapping the other, until nothing of not care about endangering the stability of one's spinal column by sitting bolt upright the mantel at each side were placed velvet- in stiff, uncomfortable seats."

At twelve o'clock Mr. Gray returned ac-corners over with a smaller brush, always cupants of one of the low chairs drawn up black oil paint and varnish, and then bright to the dining room. At one end of the grain of the wood. The color was at first corner shelves, divided by little balustrades, Then our own chairs all require to be reno- an inverted plate at one end and an empty bright red, but it soon turned a deep, rich whereon were displayed bright-colored Jap- vated and improved." brown. After it had been allowed to dry anese salad plates. Two exquisitely-wrought A low, softly-cushioned easy-chair, whose the family table with the smoking viands perfectly, it was carefully rubbed with bees- brass side-brackets, with sconces for holding chintz cover had become very shabby, was placed temptingly upon it. Mrs. Gray rewax and turpentine, and rewarded the labor wax candles, had been presented to the girls recovered with maroon reps, with a stripe ceived an introduction to the gentlemen, dark brown Tom insisting that the perfec- | hemently. tion of his work would have done credit to living beauty. Two good engravings were suspended low on the walls, to be within easy reach of the eye, that their beauties might be was then put on and held in place by four the string tied together firmly and tightly, so as to draw the material down in a little dent. They were exceedingly careful that every plain white lamp globe was beautified by fast-A wisk basket tastefully ornamented with as many as she required after the same mod- The edges were finished off neatly with furgrasses and ribbons, and a velvet wall-pocket | el. The wire was twisted so as to hook | niture gimp and a fluffy wool fringe hung shame. It would have been better to have for waste paper, whose foundation was furallowed it to remain as it was," murmured | nished by a palm-leaf fan, hung stalk upallowed it to remain as it was," murmured nished by a palm-leaf fan, hung stalk up- form a stem up the back, terminating in a ward, were pretty additions. Over each door hook by which it was suspended to a nail. was placed a wooden shelf covered with velvet, for ornaments, or a single bracket for a

Alice; we can always make some improve which left only about a foot of the shining tones of green. Some old fragments of fur, came to her face, and a tear stood in her eye "Lou is a host in herself," asserted Tom, a dark Persian pattern, a black ground bebesque designs. The room was papered in a Mrs. Grayle had many objections to the delicate, restful gray; the wood was painted over it; first painting the design in Chinese

> The blinds were of dark crimson sateen, gathered and edged with lace, and tied back with an enormous bow of satin ribbon the same shade as the blinds. The folding-doors were removed, as they occupied valuable space | hanging down all around, which concealed | began, a nice sparerib was placed in the oven, and afforded no particular advantage, and were replaced by portieres of deep crimson canton flannel, which can be bought for this striped cretonne, with a scroll-work border. article of furniture. Tom had insisted that puted skill in cookery. She appliqued the stripe as a border to the he was quite equal to the construction of the portieres, and a band of the same on a stiff lining formed curtain holders, and the result in failures, he relinquished his task in de-white, and then covering it with the necessary colors.

by appropriate draperies of dull red sateen, This was improved by having a band of gold replied meekly, "and it will not be convenartistically embroidered in colored crewels. two inches broad pasted all around it about ient, dear." rest. The covering for the top was stretched each panel; on one side water-fowl hovering tightly over the board and tacked securely to over a reedy marsh; on the other a collection price of the oil-cloth, while that money will embroidered on the turned-in upper edge. it had been made of expensive plush or satin. At a trifling cost, a carpenter placed above it a set of Queen Anne shelves, of plain white of that description is so expensive," said Lon and Tom themselves stained the stairs | pine, which Tom ebonized, while Alice after- | Lou

a professional painter. The doors deserve sized mirror with an ebonized frame. As it morphosed by having an inch sawed off its especial mention, as they were particularly was defaced by a long irregular crack across legs and a satin cover embroidered in stripes beautiful. Alice, who painted exquisitely, the surface she bought it for a mere trifle. had all the instincts of an artist. She had Tom jeered openly at his sister's bargain, pieces of zinc the exact size of the panels, and even Lou regarded it regretfully; but luxurious resting-place. A carpenter was but henceforth was content to leave the which could be screwed on without injury to Alice shut her new acquisition away in her employed to make in plain wood the frame management of the cooking to her, and the doors. These were first colored black, own sanctum, where she occupied herself in of a Turkish ottoman, an exceedingly comnever again ordered a boiled pot.—Golden and then upon them she painted artistic de- improving its appearance, and when the mirsigns of lilies, sun-flowers, and roses. One or two gold lines drawn on the wood-work sion it was greeted with a chorus of general with a border of old gold plush concealed beyond the panels completed the effect. A admiration. The frame was exquisitely the lower part of the wood-work; it was then narrow paper bordering around the doors was painted with Autumn leaves, crimson, russet, provided with very corpulent square cushions, a decided improvement. The borderings gold, and brown, and the crack was com- covered in reps with handsome cretonne dewith gilt designs were much the most desir- pletely concealed by a long, trailing spray of signs appliqued in the centre of each with able, but as they were rather expensive the brilliant blossoms and foliage. This mirror colored silk; they were edged with a cord Grayles bought a plain color and brightened formed a central point of attraction for the and finished off with a tassel at each corner. it with liquid gold. The door of a pantry back parlor and added materially to the Covering the sofa was rather an anxious directly back of the entrance hall was artistic character of the chamber. Alice also business. They cut out the pattern of the screened from view by a portiere of cretonne painted two lovely panels on glass, which seat and back in soft, cheap material—an of a dark handsome pattern. The shining Lou mounted in a very pretty manner. She old print skirt—allowing sufficient over the surface of the floor required no covering, but | had two pieces of board about an inch and a | exact size for the tuftings and turnings in. an extra length of stair-carpet reached the half broader than the panels all around. She They then cut out the outer covering, laid it hall door, and there was a plentiful supply of pretty rugs scattered about the hall. A half inches wide, which she gathered at the the corners of each edge to hold it, and put large bracket held several handsome foliage edges with a strong thread. One edge was in the center row of tufting. This was done plants whose glossy leaves were reflected in a nailed around the front with tiny upholster- with a packing-needle and strong thread or velvet framed mirror placed directly behind | er's tacks, care being taken that at least half | fine string; the needle was brought through them, and which so multiplied their beauties an inch of satin should rest under the panel; from underneath, the button threaded on it, that they gave their impression of a bower of a piece of white mill-board was then pasted then taken back through the same hole, and appreciated without fatiguing effort. The medium-sized ornamental brass nails, and the row of buttons should come exactly between was then put on and held in place by four They were exceedingly careful that every medium-sized ornamental brass nails, and the row of buttons should come exactly between full puffing of satin surrounding the margin those at each side or the puffs would not Church Clerks will find them both convenient and ening on it some quaint leaves and flowers, cut out of old-fashioned chintz, gummed on pend her dainty bits of china Lou bought material was drawn in the creases made by with white of egg, as the hotter the globe one of the frames sold for that purpose, and the dents they had to remove the tacks now becomes the closer the white of egg adheres. then, providing herself with silver wire, made and then, to allow for the extra fullness.

around the edges in four places in front and from the bottom. The piano was placed in the back parlor, and the question of a piano cover at first occasioned much anxious discussion until, posand in time we shall have the whole house A window which commanded a most unpleased an old palm shawl of her mother's which ant view of back-yards and stables was con- provided a rich Oriental looking drapery, "I am really not able for a great deal," verted into stained glass by covering the confessing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing a spheroid to have missing a spheroid to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing a spheroid to have missing a spheroid to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing a spheroid to have missing a spheroid to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing a spheroid to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully, "but it is wretched to have missing an amiable weakness; then very dolefully and the work of the work cleaned, and were easily fastened to the glass of common heavy blankets. All around at a the breakfast table, and prepared to depart artistically treated in their rich, natural yel- out.

furnish the girls with means to effect the de- reeds and rushes, with a tall stork standing small squares were cut out of it at the cor- orders for dinner, never consulting the wishtop were first covered with brown paper, the day meal. outer covering was then placed above, having a margin of about two and a half inches once, and when the preparations for dinner all joins and deficiencies. A pretty wool and a rich pudding assigned its proper posi-

fringe was then stitched around both shelves. | tion to cook. A single-leaf screen, with a little shelf across it at a convenient height to place a perhaps," she said to herself, with a touch screen, but after many efforts, all resulting rushed her husband, almost out of breath. spair, and a carpenter was ordered to prepare The marble mantel was hidden from sight one neatly covered in heavy brown paper.

"We must be our own upholsterers; work a large brush, then carefully doing all the holding a cup at the convenience of the oc- chairs, which we can ebonize with a little stylish appearance. They were led at once taking the brush in the same direction as the near. There were also two sets of ebonized en with a few touches of liquid gilding. appartment was placed a small table, with bestowed upon it by assuming a bright polish, by a friend; but Mr. Grayle decidedly ob- of handsome French cretonne running down and then, turning to her husband, said: jected to the removal of the central gas the center; a band of the same hung in The doors and wood-work were painted chandeliers, though Alice urged it most ve- front, terminating in a lattice-work fringe with tassels to match the cretonne. A stiff, Alice had purchased at a sale a moderate- high-backed arm-chair was completely metaof Oriental design in colored crewels, while laugh. Mr. Gray not only decided to para deep, thick cushion converted it into a take of the dinner his wife had prepared. fortable as well as fashionable seat. It was Rule.

"It has been quite worth the trouble," exclaimed Lou, looking around the charming, tasteful room.

"I should rather think so," responded Alice emphatically.—The Christian Union.

HOW SHE CURED HIM.

BY FREDERICK H. KELSEY.

short distance from the edge was traced a for the business of the day, "we will have The parlors consisted of two medium-sized border of simple arabesque designs worked in ham and eggs for dinner. I shall be at In each corner were two or three sun-flowers | closed the door almost rudely as he passed > edged with a scolloped border of red cloth, as she thought of the little tyranny to which also furnished some very presentable rugs. | she was continually subjected. Mr. Gray There was no large table, but several small was one of those men who think they are ones with pretty square or scarf covers af- really quite kind and obliging, perhaps exforded convenient receptacles for ornaments. cusing their lack of tenderness with the Two little Queen Anne tables appeared so | thought that their minds are too much ocvery dainty and convenient that they retained | cupied with business to be very polite or no trace of their humble origin, and few sympathetic, but in whose home, neverthestraight, square legs of common deal, which from the heart of the husband and father. his sister covered, using maroon velveteen Mr. Gray possessed a selfish disposition and for four, and for the others a handsome very decided tastes, and often gave comcretonne. This required to be done very mands to his wife in a rude and harsh man-

dejectedly upon one leg, or a bird hovering ners into which the legs were fitted; they es and convenience of his wife. But one were then nailed very strongly together. The morning, however, for some reason he omittop was not cut, but rested upon the legs, to ted his usual directions, and Mrs. Gray was which it was firmly nailed. As the wood left to depend upon her own judgment in was very rough and common, both shelf and | the selection of the materials for the noon-

She determined to suit her own taste for

"He will forget that he did not order it cup and saucer, was a useful and effective of pride at her own good taste and undis-But just then the door flew open, and in

"Wife," said he, "I want a boiled pot for dinner."

"I want a boiled pot for dinner," he replied, almost sternly. "I shall have friends to dine with me," and he rushed out, slamming the door behind him.

Mrs. Gray dropped into a chair and fairly burst into tears. What could she do! It would be impossible to prepare the dinner he desired in the short time that remained; besides, her own dinner would be so niceand she cried heartily as such thoughts ran through her mind. But in a few moments the little storm of grief was over, and she looked up with a new light in her eye.

"I'll take him at his word, I will," she said with more than usual determination, as she wiped the tears from her eyes.

on quickly and freely, rubbing it well in with covered brackets at a suitable height for "We shall buy two small wicker-work companied by two gentlemen of fine and pot in the center. At the other end stood

"I have boiled the pot for you, dear, but I think your friends will prefer the other

There was a twinkle in the eyes of the visitors and a very rosy look to Mr. Gray's face, then all present burst into a hearty

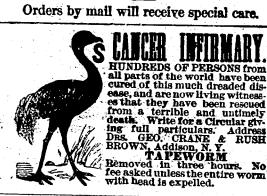

BLANK CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP, with return notice of the certificates' having been used, suitable for any church, for sale at this economical

TOB AND BOOK WORK

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY DONE AT THE RECORDER OFFICE.

IFE, SOUL, DEATH, AND THE RESUR RECTION.—A Dissertation of 107 pages, by Rev. N. Wardner, D. D., neatly bound in limp cloth, cussion with J. H. Kellogg, M. D., and Rev. Uriah Smith, of Battle Creek, Mich. Sent by mail, price 50 cents. Address, N. WARDNER, D. D., Milton postpaid. DAVID C. COOK 45 Adams St., Chica,

Thin concordance.

RAWING OF JURORS

ALLEGANY COUNTY, Cherk's Office,

Notice is hereby given that a panel of Grand and Trial Jurors will be drawn at the Clerk's Office, on Thursday, the 17th day of August, at 10 A. M., to serve at a County Court and Court of Sessions, to be held at Angelica, commencing on Monday, the 4th day of September, 1882.

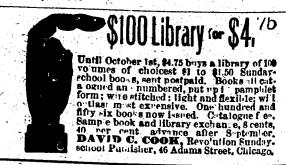

GEO. H. BLACKMAN, Olerk.

BIG PAY to sell our Rubber Printing Stamps. Sam ples free. TAYLOR BROS. & CO., Cleveland, O MILTON COLLEGE.

Two Departments: Preparatory and Collegiate. Three Courses of Study: Classical, Scientific, and Expenses from $120 to $200 per year.

Fall Term begins Aug. 30th; Winter Term, Dec. 6th; Spring Term, March 28, 1883; Commencement, June 27, 1883.

CUSTOM WORK.—THE SUBSCRIBER HAV-ING thoroughly repaired and increased his Water-Power, is prepared to do custom WOOL CARDING and CLOTH DRESSING Promptly, at his old stand, 11 miles north of Alfred depot, in the Best Manner, and at Reasonable Prices. N. G. HADSELL.

Teacher's Bibles.
"Oxford" Teacher's Bibles, c ncordance, encycloredia, dictionbinding, git edge, for $1.30; DAVID 0, COCK, 48 Adams 1.4. Chicago.

Popular

THE longest span of used for a telegraph in Kistnah. It is more and is stretched betwo

THE approximate to charging equal quant equal heads, through parties, from 90 for a s curve, to 140 for a rig FORMATION XII. of "Millstone Grit" in t West Virginia, carries beds of coal, mostly them twelve feet thi Virginias. This band workable beds in Pen geologists did not at Hotchkiss that the determined. As the kansas, Alabama, and this series, while We and Illinois show some coal-fields exist in our available coal does not erate measures, it is p clature of the carbonif vision. Many authors stone grit sub-carbonifiare too plenty and too. derneath the others. to call them the lower of the lower part of the by this name the man above the Pittsburg be mian the upper coal-mare remarkable for the present. They are we and steam purposes.

THE Russian Observes shortly be in possession scope. For a long to constructed in 1839 Nicholas, possessed to struments in the world scientific progress which England, France, and put the Poulkovo Observation University of V has now the enormous the objective of which ameter, and 33 feet le Observatory at Washi same caliber, and Mr. fornian, is about to pla scope on Mount Ham Four years ago the Ru cordingly determined t strument which, both i anism and optic power existing telescope. Sturve was commission work, the execution of to Messrs. Alvin, Clark Mass. The glasses, cor of flint and crown glass for nearly a year, and tober they will be read length of the Poulkov feet, and the diameter inches, exclusive of the escope will be placed southwest of the prin Poulkovo Observatory on a movable iron t rest on rails. The tel erful that the moon w apparent distance of to from the earth.—Long

PAPER CAR WHI

strawboard of ratier received in the ordin fering in no particu for strawboard boxes These sheets as they mill are square and cut to a circular pal done on a large tabl guided by a radial ar over the surface of the the center. A small di center of the sheet to Being thus reduced and dimensions, the p verted from a mass compact, dense body, ing the tremendous ci it will be subjected i accomplished in the fosheets are pasted to other, making a disk an inch. Enough of prepared to fill a porthey are subjected. pounds to the square the disks are hung heated loft and left si er disks are then pasting together two finished. These are fore, and the proce block is built four in the specific gravity (each pasting and pr lowed for drying, a complete it is left thoroughly seasoned that of turning the steel wires and iron with as much accura same manner as if i was iron or wood. turned to a perfect ci eter required, a bed o for the web of the edges sharply define painted and sis read wheel.—Philadelphia

le dining room. At one end of the ntment was placed a small table, with nverted plate at one end and an empty in the center. At the other end stood family table with the smoking viands ed temptingly upon it. Mrs. Gray reed an introduction to the gentlemen. then, turning to her husband, said: I have boiled the pot for you, dear, but ink your friends will prefer the other here was a twinkle in the eyes of the ors and a very rosy look to Mr. Gray's then all present burst into a hearty Mr. Gray not only decided to parof the dinner his wife had prepared. henceforth was content to leave the agement of the cooking to her, and ragain ordered a boiled pot. - Golden

ANK CERTIFICATES OF MEMBERSHIP with return notice of the certificates' having used, suitable for any church, for sale at this Price by mail, postage paid, per dozen, 20 per quire, 35 cents; per hundred, $1 26. ch Clerks will find them both convenient and

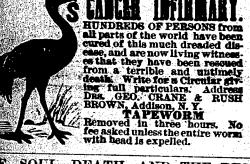

> Ten Nights in a Bar Room, book. The complete work, with eight illustrations, in cheep form just as good for the reality sold for illustrations of the complete of the complete

B AND BOOK WORK

NEATLY AND PROMPTLY DONE

RECORDER OFFICE.

Orders by mail will receive special care. COLUMN DETERMENT.

EE. SOUL, DEATH, AND THE RESUR-RECTION.—A Dissertation of 107 pages, by Wardner, D. D., neatly bound in limp cloth, ming the cream of a series of sermons, and dism with J. H. Kellogg, M. D., and Rev. Uriah of Battle Creek, Mich. Sent by mail, price atts. Address, N. WARDNER, D. D., Milton EGSTPAID. DAVID C. COOK 19 Adams St., Chicago.

AWING OF JURORSA

OF NEW YORK,) EGANY COUNTY.

ce is hereby given that a panel of Grand and Inrors will be drawn at the Clerk's Office on day, the 7th day of August, at 10 A. M., to at a County Court and Court of Sessions, to be Angelica, commencing on Monday, the 4th September, 1882.

GEO. H. BLACKMAN, Olerk.

Complete encyclopedia of Bible trut: a and nagratives, antiquities, geography, biography, and natural history; correct pronunciation of words, original meaning—2,006 columns at 2,006 columns; cover 500 columns; Basirly 100 cuts; postal, card covers, wire-stitched. To any address, 10c; postalid, Alra eight other choice books for Batbath-school teachers and Christian workers, together forming our Trachers Li rary. The whole nine for 50c. David C. Cook, Revolution Publisher, 46 Adams Street, Chicago.

Be Pay to sell our Rubber Printing Stamps. Sam-les free. TAYLOR BROS. & CO., Cleveland, O. TON COLLEGE.

Departments: Preparatory and Collegiate. Courses of Study: Classical, Scientific, and naes from $120 to $200 per year.

Term begins Aug. 30th; Winter Term, Dec.

ring Term, March 28, 1883; Commencement, 1883.

echool books, sent postpaid. Books ill cat-a omed an numbered, put up i pamphiel form; who stitched; light and fighthe; will oblian must excensive. One hundred and fifty cix books now issued. Cotalogue f. e., Sample book and library exchange, 8 couts, of ner cent advance after September, BAVID C. COOK, Revolution Sanday, school Punisher, 46 Adams Street, Chicago,

M WORK.—THE SUBSCRIBER HAVthoroughly repaired and increased his iwer, is prepared to do custom

CARDING and CLOTH DRESSING at his old stand, 11 miles north of Alfred the Best Manner, and at Reasonable Prices. N. G. HADSELL.

Teacher's Bibles, on cordinate may tables, maps, etc.—most complete tea hers B bet extant: 1,00 pages, plain to the cordinate of the cordinate

Popular Science.

THE longest span of wire in the world is used for a telegraph in India, over the river Kistnah. It is more than 6,000 feet long, and is stretched between two hills, each of which is 1,200 feet high.

THE approximate time occupied in discharging equal quantities of water under equal heads, through pipes of equal lengths, varies, from 90 for a straight line, 100 for a eurve, to 140 for a right angle.

FORMATION XII. of W. B. Rogers, or the .. Millstone Grit" in the Flat Top region of West Virginia, carries no less than twelve beds of coal, mostly workable, and one of them twelve feet thick, according to the Virginias. This band of rock does not carry workable beds in Pennsylvania, so that her geologists did not at first agree with Major Hotchkiss that the horizon has been well determined. As the principal beds of Arkansas, Alabama, and Tennessee belong to this series, while West Virginia, Indiana, and Illinois show some of them, and as entire coal-fields exist in our country, while whole available coal does not exceed these conglomerate measures, it is plain that the nomenclature of the carboniferous system needs revision. Many authors have called the Millstone grit sub-carboniferous; but these coals are too plenty and too pure to be placed underneath the others. Hotchkiss proposes to call them the lower coal-measures; those of the lower part of the series usually called by this name the middle, and everything above the Pittsburg bed and below the Permian the upper coal-measures. These coals are remarkable for the small amount of ash present. They are well adapted for cooking and steam purposes.

THE Russian Observatory at Poulkovo will shortly be in possession of a gigantic teleshortly be in possession of a gigantic telescope. For a long time this Observatory, constructed in 1839 by order of the Tsar ester, N. Y. Nicholas, possessed the most powerful instruments in the world; but of late years the $5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $5 free. scientific progress which has been made in England, France, and the United States, has but the Poulkovo Observatory in the shade. The University of Virginia, for instance, has now the enormous McCormick telescope; the objective of which is 261 inches in diameter, and 33 feet long, while the Naval Observatory at Washington has one of the same caliber, and Mr. Lick, a wealthy Californian, is about to place a still greater telescope on Mount Hamilton, near San Jose. Four years ago the Russian Government accordingly determined to construct a new instrument which, both in respect to its mechanism and optic power, would surpass any existing telescope. The astronomer Otto Sturve was commissioned to superintend the work, the execution of which was intrusted to Messrs. Alvin, Clark & Co., of Cambridge, of flint and crown glass, have beer in hand for nearly a year, and by the month of October they will be ready for use. The total length of the Poulkovo telescope will be 45 feet, and the diameter of the glass is 30 inches, exclusive of the mounting. The telescope will be placed in a meadow to the southwest of the principal building of the Poulkovo Observatory, and it will stand upon a movable iron turret which will itself rest on rails. The telescope will be so powerful that the moon will be brought to an from the earth.—London Telegraph.

PAPER CAR WHEELS.—The paper is strawboard of rather fine texture. It is received in the ordinary broad sheets, dif-fering in no particular from those used Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C. for strawboard boxes or other similar work. These sheets as they come from the paper mill are square and must first of all be cut to a circular pattern. This is rapidly done on a large table with a knife that is guided by a radial arm that swings freely over the surface of the table from a pivot at the center. A small disk is also cut from the center of the sheet to allow for the iron hub. Being thus reduced to the required share and dimensions, the paper must now be converted from a mass of loose sheets into a compact, dense body, capable of withstanding the tremendous crushing force to which it will be subjected in the wheels. This s accomplished in the following manner: Ten sheets are pasted together, one upon the other, making a disk of about one-eighth of an inch. Enough of these disks having been prepared to fill a powerful hydraulic press, they are subjected to a pressure of 1880 pounds to the square inch. When removed the disks are hung on poles in a steamheated loft and left six days to dry. Thicker disks are then made, each formed by pasting together two or three of those already finished. These are pressed and dried as before, and the process is repeated until a block is built four inches thick and of about the specific gravity of lignum vite. After each pasting and pressing six days are allowed for drying, and when the block is complete it is left in a drying-room until thoroughly seasoned. The next operation is that of turning the paper blocks to fit the steel wires and iron hubs. This is done with as much accuracy and in exactly the same manner as if the material worked on was iron or wood. The circumference is turned to a perfect circle of the precise diameter required, a bed or recess is worked out for the web of the tire to rest in and the edges sharply defined. The block is then painted and is ready for its place in the wheel.—Philadelphia News.

Enormous Saving to Schools.

ng $37.45, averaging $1.10½ each. Volumes from No. 52 to No. 101, written expressly for us, by the best Sunday-school writers. Above 104 partly new and partly reprints In printing so cheaply we do not sacrifice durability or quality. In point of fact, our cheap books will outlast the expensive ones. Being wire-stitched, the leaves can not come out unless torn out. The limp covers preserve the books better than the heavy board covers of the ordinary books. Being flexible they can be bent tack, folded over, or even rolled without injury, making them almost indestructible. Every book thoroughly sound and evangelical, but nothing sectarian or partisan. Each book numbered and containing descriptive cata

I Jessica's First Prayer.

1 the King's Servants

3 Dairyman's Daughter,

4 Whiter Than Show; Little

5 Alone in London

6 Children of Cleverly.

7 Little Ressi: French Bessie

8 The Giant-Killer

9 Urso a's Girlhood

10 Lost cit; Little Mcg's C til

10 Newlyn House.

11 Tom Gilies

12 What is her Name.

13 What is her Name.

14 Whiter of the Great King.

15 Peru Glen.

15 Sanbeam Susette

17 10 For, Robin and Little May.

15 Peru Glen.

16 Sanbeam Susette

17 10 For, Robin and Little May.

18 O'n littler of the Great King.

19 O'n little of Great King.

19 Children of the Great King.

10 Children of Light.

21 On the way:

22 A Double Story.

33 Guita Percha Willie.

24 My rother and I

25 Yadie Grant,

26 Coming to the Light.

27 Deepdale End.

28 Wilfred Bertram

29 Life's Struggles,

30 Work and Wages,

31 Time Will Tell

33 Afrenchies of Kws.

34 Heseued from Egypt.

35 Through the Needle's Eye.

36 Pere the Apprentice.

37 The Wood Carvers,

38 Mrs. Dobbs Dull Boy.

38 Beneie's White Chicken;

40 Sheer off.

18 Little Ming of he Willow of Jesus In Part II.

44 Ministe ing Children Part II.

45 Nevic's Miss on; Little

46 Margery. City Home.

46 Margery City Home.

47 The Por Cierk.

48 Pilgrim Street.

48 Pilgrim Street.

49 Silver Sands.

50 King Jack of Haylands.

51 Little Brown Girl. [Letter

52 Tom Green; The Tjnker's

53 Mr. Hodorson's Failure.

54 How the Butoned Boots

55 Sade's immure [Marched

57 ugalds's Trials and Tri 58 Joye Harley.

59 Fireside Ta ks on Genesis.

60 Children of the Way.

61 The Por Cierk.

62 Henderson's Failure.

63 Gimpses of Tvo Lives.

64 From Wrong to Right.

65 How the Butoned Boots

65 Sade's immure [Marched

57 Jestic Howay.

95 Parit Howay.

96 Fireside Ta ks on Genesis.

61 Two Sisters of Little Hope.

62 Jimmy Bevo ly's Journal.

63 Jimpses of the Edingtons

64 The Por Cierk.

65 How the Butoned Boots

66 The Young Housekeeper

97 AleElm.

98 Clear the Way.

99 Faith Christie's Experiments

100 Gilmspess of Tvo Lives.

66 Frod the Buckwoods Boy.

16 Tom Green; I Triumphs
81 Sadie's School Life
89 Playing at Living.
83 Kenneth and his Friends.

CATALOGUE.

194 David's Little Lad.
195 Alec Green.
126 Ruy Your Own Cherries:
127 Grandnuthe. Dear.
128 Jennie's Grandmuthe.
129 The Brewer's Family.
130 Sidn'y Gray
131 Froggie's Little Brother.
133 Jessie's Struggles.
134 Dorand er Treasures.
134 Jessi Dyson: John Worth.
135 Faith Hayne
136 Scamp and I.
137 Caleb Dea. e's Clock, and e her stories e her stories

138 tlack Bob; Scrub, the Workhouse Boy,
139 Millerton People.
140 Duties and Duties,
141 The Curse of Telfourd.
142 The Scatte Williams; or, the Children's War on Bottle
Jack.
144 Ruth and her Friends,
7 145 Old Bill's Good Angel.
146 Under he Curse of the Cup.

Cup. 149 Bunyan's Pilgrim's Prog-1 ess. 150 Louis' School Days. 151 Blossom and Blight. 15 Grayledge | 151 Blossom and Blight. 152 A Candle Lighted by the 117 Doing and Dreaming.
118 Mother Herring's Chicken.
119 Brought Home:
120 Our P lland other stories.
121 Cobwebs and Cables.
122 Cobwebs and Cables.
123 Fearndale.
124 A Casum Sugard Spirit Spirit

Prices, (until October) postpaid, 5 or more books, 6 cents each; 10 or more, 5% cents each; 20 or more, 5% cents each; 30 or more, 5% cents each; 50 or more, 5 cents each; 100 or more, 4% cents each; 200 or more, 4% cents each. After October 1st, 40 per cent. advance on account of large investment. LIBRARY EXCHANGE SYSTEM.—Simple plan of keeping track of the books, which does away with much of the usual machinery, and costs only 1½ cents additional. This is an envelope large enough to take in a volume of the library—which answers to preserve from wear and keep book clean—has on it a condensed catalogue of books, library rules, blank for name of member and a simple arrangement for keeping track of books wanted, books taken, and books teturned. Sample Book and Envelope, 8 cents. We also publish a Sunday-school Teachers' Library of nine volumes, choicest books for teachers, including Bible Dictionary, Commentary, Compendium of Teaching, etc., 10c. each; whole library, 80c., post-paid Teachers' stible, most complete published, Oxford plates, gilt-edge, only $1.30. Reward cards, THREE 25c. packages for 25c. Sunday-school papers in such shape that every home gets FIVE papers per week in place of one, with no extra cost. Also Graded Lesson Helps, with lesson songs, old and new tune combination, to sing at sight. DAVID C. COOK, 46 Adams St., Chicago, Ili.

NEW Practical Life. The Key to Fortune BOOK Practical Life. In all Avenues of Life 600 pp. Clear type, Snest binding and Illustrations. AGENTS WANTED. $75 to $150 per Month. For Terms, address J. C. McCURDY & Co., Philadelphia. Pa

FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.—THE CON-STITUTIONAL AMENDMENT; OR, THE SUNDAY, THE SABBATH, THE CHANGE AND RESTITE-TION. A Discussion between W. H. Littlejohn, Seventh-day Adventist, and the Editor of the Christian Statesman. 384 pages. Price, cloth, $1; paper, 40 cents. Mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price. Address SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, N.Y.

Notice to Present Claims,

TDURSUANT to an order of James S. Green, Surrogate of the County of Allegany, made on the 17th day of May, 1882, Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Amos Burdick, late of the town of Alfred, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the undersigned, at his office in the village of Alfred Mass. The glasses, consisting of an amalgam | Centre, N. Y., on or before the 1st day of December, Dated, May 17, 1882. W. C. BURDICK, Administrator.

VASSAR COLLEGE. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. A complete college course for women, with Schools of Painting and Music and a preparatory department. Catalogues sent 8. L. Caldwell, D.D., President obtained, and all business in the U.S. Patent Office or in the Courts attended to for Moderate fees. We are opposite the U.S. Patent Office, engaged in patent business exclusively, and can obtain patents in apparent distance of only a hundred miles less time than those remote from Washington. When model or drawing is sent we advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make no charge unless we obtain patent. We refer, here, to the Post Master, the Supt. of the Money Order Div., and to officials of the U.S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms, and reference to actual clients in your

PATENTS

Benson's Capcine Benson's Capcine Benson's Capcine Benson Capcine Benson Capcine Benson Capcine Cap The Best Known Remedy for

Backache or Lame Back. Rheumatism or Lame Joints. Cramps or Sprains. Neuralgia or Kidney Diseases. Lumbago, Severe Aches or Pains Female Weakness. Are Superior to all other Plasters.

Are Superior to Pads. Are Superior to Liniments. Are Superior to Ointments or Salves. Are superior to Electricity or galvanism They Act Immediately. They Strengthen. They Soothe. They Relieve Pain at Once.

CAUTION Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters have been imitated. Do not allow your druggist to palm off some other plaster having a similar sounding name. See that the word is spelled C-A-F-C-I-N-E. Price 25 cts.

SEABURY & JOHNSON.

Manufacturing Chemists, New York.

They Positively Cure.

A MEAD'S Medicated CORN and BUNION PLASTER.

THE SABBATH RECORDER. LIST OF LOCAL AGENTS.

NEW YORK. Adams—A. B. Prentice. Brookfield-C. V. Hibbard. Berlin—Edgar R. Green. Ceres-R. A. Barber. DeRuyter—Barton G. Stillman. Genesee-E. R. Crandall. Independence-Sherman G. Crandall. Leonardsville-Asa M. West. Lincklaen—Benjamin H. Stillman. New London—H. W. Palmiter. Nile—Ezekiel R. Clarke. Portville—A. K. Crandall Richburg—Edwin S. Bliss. State Bridge—Joseph West. Scott—Byron L. Barber.

Watson-Benj. F. Stillman. West Edmeston-J. B. Clarke CONNECTICUT.

Mystic Bridge—George Greenman. Waterford—Oliver Maxson. RHODE BUAND.

1st Hopkinton-Alfred B. Burdick, 2d. 2d Hopkinton—S. S. Griswold. Rockville-U. M. Babcock. Westerly—Sanford P. Stillman. Woodville—Horace Stillman.

Marlboro-J. C. Bowen. New Market—L. E. Livermore. Plainfield—J. Elias Mosher. Shiloh-W. S. Bonham. PENNSYLVANIA.

Hebron-Geo. W. Stillman. Mosiertown—J. Greene. New Enterprise-D. C. Long Roulette—LeRoy Lyman. Union Dale—A. W. Coon.

Quiet Dell-D. H. Davis.

WEST VIRGINIA. Berea-D. N. Meredith. Lost Creek—L. B. Davis.

New Milton—Franklin F. Randolph.

New Salem—Preston F. Randolph.

Jackson Centre-Jacob H. Babcock. WISCONSIN.

Albion-E. L. Burdick. Berlin—Datus E. Lewis. Cartwright's Mill-D. W. Cartwright Edgerton-Henry W. Stillman. Milton—Paul M. Green. Milton Junction—L. T. Rogers. Utica—L. Coon. Walworth-Howell W. Randolph. ILLINOIS.

Farina—Isaac Clawson. Villa Ridge-M. B. Kelly. West Hallock-E. B. Saunders.

Welton-L. A. Loofboro. Toledo-Maxson Babcock. MINNESOTA.

Dodge Centre-Geo. W. Hills. New Richland-R. D. Burdick. Transit-John M. Richev.

Nortonville-Osman W. Babcock. Pardee—Samuel R. Wheeler. NEBRASKA.

Harvard-Elmore C. Hibbard. Long Branch-Joshua G. Babcock. North Loup—Oscar Babcock. Orleans—H. E. Babcock.

KENTUCKY. Carrsville-C. W. Threlkeld.

WARNER BROTHERS CORALINE CORSETS.

$10 REWARD will be paid for any cor-set in which the Cora-line breaks with six months ordinary wear. Price by mail, W. B. (coutill), $2.50; Abdomi-nal, $2.00; Health or Nursing, $1.50; Coraline or Flexible Hip, $1.25; Misses', $1.00. For sale by leading merchants. Beware of worthless nitations boned with WARNER BRO'S., 372 Broadway, N. Y.

$66 a week in your own town. Terms and $5 outfit free. Address H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Maine.

C ATALOGUE BOOKS AND TRACTS

PUBLISHED BY THE

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY,

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y. NATURE'S GOD AND HIS MEMORIAL. A Series of Four Sermons on the subject of the Sabbath. By

Nathan Wardner, late missionary at Shanghai China, subsequently engaged in Sabbath Reform labors in Scotland. 112 pp. Paper, 15 cents. THE SABBATH AND THE SUNDAY. By Rev. A. H. Lewis, A. M. Part First, Arguments. Part Second, History. 16mo. 268 pp. Fine Cloth, $1 25. This volume is an earnest and able presentation of the Sabbath question, argumentatively and historically, and should be in the hands of every one desiring N. Y., LAKE ERIE & WESTERN R. R. light on the subject.

THOUGHTS SUGGESTED BY THE PERUSAL OF GILFIL-LAN AND OTHER AUTHORS ON THE SABBATH. By Rev. Thos. B. Brown. Pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist Church at Little Genesee, N. Y. Second Edition, 125 pp. Fine Cloth, 50 cents. Paper, 10

This is in many respects the most able argument yet published. The author was educated in the observance of Sunday, and was for several years a highly esteemed minister in the Baptist denomination. The book is a careful review of the arguments in favor of Sunday, and especially of the work of James Gilfillan, of Scotland, which has been widely circulated among the clergymen of America. Mr. Brown has thoroughly sifted the popular notions relative to Sunday, with great candor, kindness and ability. We especially commend it to those who, like Mr. Brown, have been taught to revere Sunday as the Sabbath.

A DEFENSE OF THE SABBATH, in reply to Ward on the Fourth Commandment. By Geo. Carlow. Third Edition—Revised. 168 pp. 25 cents.

This work was first published in London in 1724. It is valuable as showing the state of the Sabbath ar-

VINDICATION OF THE TRUE SABBATH, in 2 parts. Part First, Narrative of Recent Events. Part Sec one, Divine Appointment of the Seventh Day, by Rev. J. W. Morton, late Missionary of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. 66 pp. Paper, 10

This work is one of decided value, not only as regards the argument adduced, but as showing the extreme want of liberality and fairness which characterized the trial and excommunication of Mr. Morton from the Presbyterian Church.

THE ROYAL LAW CONTENDED FOR. By Edward Stennet. First printed in London, in 1658. 64 pp. Paper, 10 cents. LIFE AND DEATH. By the late Rev. Alexander

Campbell, of Bethany, Va. Reprinted from the "Millennial Harbinger Extra." 50 pp. Price, COMMUNION, OR LORD'S SUPPER. A Sermon delivered at Milton Junction, Wis., June 15th, 1878. By Rev. N. Wardner, D. D. 20 pp.

The Society also publishes the following tracts, which will be sold at cost, in large or small quanti ties, to any who may desire them. Specimen pack ages sent free to any who may wish to examine the Sabbath question. Twenty per cent. discount made to clergymen on any of the above-named books, and a liberal discount to the trade. Other works soon to be published.

TRACTS.

No. 2-Moral Nature and Scriptural Observance c' the Sabbath. 52 pp.
No. 10—The True Sabbath Embraced and Observed

16 pp.
No. 11—Religious Liberty Endangered by Legislative Enactments. 16 pp.

No. 15—An Appeal for the Restoration of the Bible Sabbath. 40 pp.

No. 16—The Sabbath and its Lord. 28 pp. No. 23—The Bible Doctrine of the Weekly Sabbat. Topical Series—by Rev. James Balley—No. 1, "My Holy Day," 28 pp.; No. 2, "The Moral Law," 28 pp.; No. 3, "The Sabbath under Christ," 16 pp. No. 4, "The Sabbath under the Apostles," 12 pp. No. 5, "Time of Commencing the Sabbath," 4 pp. No. 6, "The Sanctification of the Sabbath," 20 pp.

"THE SABBATH: A Seventh Day, or The Seventh Day. Which?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp. "THE LORD'S DAY, OR CHRISTIAN SABBATH." By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp

"DID Christ or his Apostles Change the Sabbath from the Seventh Day to the First Day of the Week?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp.

"Constantine and the Sunday." By Rev. N Wardner. 4 pp. "THE NEW TESTAMENT SABBATH." By Rev. N Wardner. 4 pp.

"DID Christ Abolish the Sabbath of the Decalogue?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp. "Are the Ten Commandments Binding alike upon Jew and Gentile?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp. "WHICH Day of the Week did Christians Keep as the Sabbath during 300 years after Christ?" By Rev. N. Wardner. 4 pp.

 Rev. N. Wardner's eight tracts are also published in German.

Orders for the Society's Publications accompanied with remittances, for the use of its Agents, or for gratituitous distribution, should be addressed to D. R. STILLMAN, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

HISTORY OF CONFERENCE,—REV. JAMES BAILEY has left a few copies of the History of the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference at the RECORDER office for sale, at $1 50. Sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Address, SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

HIRES' IMPROVED ROOT BEER 25c. package makes 5 gallons of a delicious, wholesome, sparkling Temperance beverage. Ask your druggist, or sent by mail for 25c. C. E. HIRES, 48 N. Dela. Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

New York Medical College and Hospital for Women. 213 WEST 54th ST., NEW YORK CITY.

The regular Winter Session (20th year) will begin October 2d. 1882, and continue twenty-four weeks. Daily Clinics will be held in the College, and the Hospital and Dispensary adjoining give special advantages for practical studies unsurpassed by any other school In addition, the large daily Clinics at the Opthalmic Hospital and the Ward's Island Homcepathic Hospital (weekly) are open for all students.

For further particulars and circulars, address
Mrs. J. G. BRINKMAN, M. D.,
216 West Twenty Third St., New York City.

BEATTY'S ORGANS, 27 STOPS, $90. PIANOS, alogue free. Address DANIEL F. BEATTY, Washington N. J.

AGENTS Wanted for handsome illustrated stand-works of character; great variety; Books & Bibles

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES AND PUB-LISHED WRITINGS OF ELD. ELI S. BAI-LEY, for sale at this office. Price One Dollar. Sent to any address, postpaid, on receipt of price.

PATENTS

Trace Marks, Copyrights, etc., for the United States Trace Marks, Copyrights, etc., for the United States, Canada, Cuba, England, Vrance, Germany, etc. We have had thirty-five years' experience.

Patents obtained through us are noticed in the Scientific American. This large and splendid illustrated weekly paper, $3.20 a year, shows the Progress of Science, is very interesting, and has an enormous circulation. Address MUNN & CO., Patent Solicitors, Pub's. of Scientific American, 37 Park Row, New York. Hand book about Patents free.

$72 A WEER. $12 a day at home easily made. Costly Outfit free. Address Taux & Co., Augusta, Mains.

Pullman's Best Drawing Room and Sleeping Coaches, combining all Modern Improvements, are run between New York, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Suspension Bridge, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Detroit, and Chicago, without change.

Abstract of Time Table, adopted Dec. 19, 1881.

EASTWARD.

STATIONS.	No. 8‡	No. 12*	No. 4*	No. 6
Leave Dunkirk Little Valley				7.15 AM 8.54 "
Salamanca Carrollton Olean Cuba Wellsville Andover Alfred	8.25 AM 8.35 " 9.00 " 9.25 " 10.22 "			9.11 AM 9.25 " 10.06 " 10.31 " 11.25 " 11.43 PM 12.00 "
Leave Hornellsville Arrive at Elmira Binghamton Port Jervis	1.25 рм	8.47 " 10.53 "	12.15 AM 1.58 " 3.44 " 8.15 "	4.30 "
New York	10.00 рм	7.25 AM	11.25 AM	N. 14.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL TRAINS EASTWARD. 5.00 A. M., except Sundays, from Dunkirk, stopping at Sheridan 5.23, Forestville 5.40, Smith's Mills 5.57, Perrysburg 6.30, Dayton 6.55, Cattaraugus 7.55, Little Valley 8.43, Salamanca 9 25, Great Valley 9.58, Carrollton 10.20, Vandalia 10.46, Allegany 11.20, Olean 11.55 A. M., Hinsdale 12.30, Cuba 1.25, Friendship 3.03, Belvidere 3.30, Belmont 3.52, Scio 4.17, Wellsville 5.55, Andover 6.52, Alfred 7.42, Almond 8.10, and arriving at Hornellsville at 8.35 P. M. 5.42 A. M., daily, from Friendship, stopping at Belvidere 6.00, Belmont 6.25, Scio 6.43, and arriving at Wellsville 7.10 A. M.

9.06 A. M., daily, from Dunkirk, stopping at Sheridan 9.15, Forestville 9.22, Smith's Mills 9.31, Perrysburg 9.46, Dayton 9.55, Cattaraugus 10.15, Little Valley, 10.31, Salamanca 10.48, Great Valley 11.26, Carrollton 11.45 A. M., Vandalia 12.01, Allegany 12.20, Olean 12.40, Hinsdale 1.15, Cuba 1.42, Friendship 2.25, Belvidere 2.50, Belmont 3.05, Scio 3.21, Wellsville 3.39, Andover 4.14, Alfred 4.47, Almond 5.04, arriving at Hornellsville at 5.25 P. M.

5.45 P. M., daily, from Salamanca, stopping at all stations, arriving at Hornellsville at 12.10 A. R

		WEST	WARD.	WARD.
	STATIONS.	No. 3*	No. 5	No. 29	No. 1
e d	Leave New York Port Jervis	7.00 РМ 10.55 "	1.	7.15 РМ	0 00 AM 12.13 PM
0	Hornellsville	8.10 AM	5.10 лм	12.50 рм	8.55 PM
L	Wellsville Cuba Olean Carrollton Great Valley Arrice at Salamanca	9.13 AM 10.01 " 10.29 " 11.09 "	7.22 " 7.50 "	4.07 " 5.02 " 5.13 "	9.57Ph 10.49 " 11.15 " 11.39 "
	Leave Little Valley Arrive at Dunkirk	11.52 AM	-	5.50 PM 7.55 "	12.20 Al

ADDITIONAL LOCAL TRAINS WESTWARD. 12.25 P. M., daily, except Sunday, from Hornellsville, stopping at Almond 12.36. Alfred 12.46, Andover 1.05, Wellsville 1.24, Cuba 2.22, Olean 2.50, Carrollton 3.30, Great Valley 3.40, and all stations, arriving at Salamanca at 6 P. M.

4.15 A. M., except Sundays, from Hornellsville, stopping at Almond 4.40, Alfred 5.00, Andover 5 54, Wellsville 7.25, arriving at Dunkirk at 7.35 P. M. 4.00 P. M., daily, from Hornellsville, stope at all stations, arriving at Salamanca 10.50 P. M.

Sunday, Train 1 will run between Salamanca and Dunkirk; Train 29 will make the stops of Train 9.

* Daily. ‡ Daily, except Monday.

BRADFORD BRANCH WESTWARD.

STATIONS.								2	1.
Leave	А. М	. P.	. М.	Р.	¥.	P.	M.	P.	X.	P.	H.
Carrollton Arrive at	A. M 9.20	1						9.55		1
Bradford Leave	10.0									- 1
Bradford	10.4	5		4	.55	1	.05		• • •
Custer City Arrive at	11.1	0	• •	5	.07	1	. 20	••	• • •	••	• • •
Buttsville	12.2	5		5	.45		• • •]

from Bradford, stopping at all stations, at Buttsville 8.20 A. M., and 6.45 P. M. 11.04 A. M., daily, except Sundays, from Carrollton, stops at Limestone 11.20, Kendall 11.31, and errives at Bradford 11 35 A. M.

EASTWARD.

STATIONS.	1	20.
Leave	A. M.		A. Y.	P. M.	P. M.
Buttsville	6.30				1.10
Custer City Arrive at	7.18	••••	18 4 PM		8.14	1.
Bradford Leave	7.35	A. M.	190 and 100 a		8.25	P. M.
Bradford Arrive at			10. 9 3		* 1	1.500
Carrollton	8.30	6.55	10.45	8.20	4.55	7.2
8.30 P. M., d	laily, ex	cept 8	unday	s, fro	m Bra	dford stops at Kendall 3.34, Limestone 3.44, and arrives a Carrollton 4.01 P. M. 7.30 P. M., except Sundays, from Buttsville, stopping at all stations, arriving at Bradford 8.30 P. M.

Trains 17, 18, 20 and 21 run daily. Passengers can leave Titusville at 8.00 A. M., and arrive at Bradford 11.35 A. M. Leave Bradford 3.39 P. M., and arrive at Titusville 7.30 P. M.

Through Tickets to all points at the very lowcet rates, for sale at the Company's offices.

Baggage will be checked only on Tickets purchased at the Company's office. JOHN N. ABBOTT, Conducted by the Sabbath School Board of the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference.

President-A. B. KENYON,

Secretary-E. M. Tomlinson, Alfred Centre, N. Y. GEO. H. BABCOCK, Plainfield, N. J. L. R. SWINNEY, Lost Creek, W. V. Vice Presidents { A.B. PRENTICE, Adams Centre, N.Y. E. M. DUNN, Milton, Wis.

Contributions for this department are solicited. and may be addressed to the President or Secretary.

INTERNATIONAL LESSONS, 1882.

THIRD QUARTER.

July 1. A Lesson on Home. Mark 10: 1-16. July 8. The Rich Young Man. Mark 10: 17-31. July 15. Suffering and Service. Mark 10: 32-45. July 22. Blind Bartimeus. Mark 10: 46-52. July 29. The Triumphal Entry. Mark 11: 1-11. Aug. 5. The Fruitless Tree. Mark 11: 12-23. Aug. 12. Prayer and Forgiveness. Mark 11: 24-33. Aug. 19. The Wicked Husbandmen. Mark 12: 1-12. Aug. 26. Pharisees and Sadducees Silenced. Mark 12: 13-27 Sept 2. Love to God and Men. Mark 12, 28-44. Sept. 9. Calamities Foretold. Mark 13: 1-20. Sept. 16. Watchfulness Enjoined. Mark 13: 21-37.

LESSON X.-LOVE TO GOD AND MEN.

BY REV. T. L. GARDINER.

For Sabbath-day, September 2.

swered them well, asked is the first of all? Jesu answered, The first is Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God, the Lord is one: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all th heart, and with all th soul, and with all th mind, and with all th systemath.

strength. The second i this, Thou shalt love th neighbor as thyself. There is none other command-ment greater than these

And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, Master, thou hast well said that he him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is much more than all whole burnt offerings and sacri-fices. And when Jesus saw that he answered dis-creetly, he said unto him,

Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask

And Jesus answered and said, as he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that the Christ is

The Lord said unto my

Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

David himself calleth him

Lord; and whence is he his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

And in his teaching he said, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and to have salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in 40 places at feasts: they which devour widows' which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers; these shall receive greater condemnation.

And he sat down over against the treasury, and beheld how the multitude fact more into the control of the cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. And there came a poor widow.

which make a farthing 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the 44 treasury: for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her want did cast in all that she had,

36 the son of David? David himself said in the Holy him any question.

is one; and there is none 33 other but he; and to love

m, What commandment

SCRIPTURE LESSON-MARK 12: 28-44. (Old Version.) (New Version.) And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered that he had an answered that he had an

28. And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of Sept. 23. Review.

29. And Jesus answered im, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one 30. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than 32. And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; and there is none 33. And to love him with al the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbor as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34. And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly he said unto him, Thou are not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question. 35. And Jesus answered and 35 d, while he taught in the temple. How say the scribes that Christ is the son of Da

36. For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, the Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine emies thy footstool.

37. David therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

gladly.

28. And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love saluta-tions in the marketplaces,
39. And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the up-permost rooms at feasts:
40. Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41. And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

42. And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43. And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you.
That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury.

treasury:
44. For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her liv-CENTRAL TRUTH.—The essentials of true

TIME.—Third-day, Passion week.

I. Primacy of love. v. 28-34.

II. Love that ruins. v. 35-40.

III. Love that saves. v. 41-44.

Place.—Temple at Jerusalem.

DAILY READINGS.

GOLDEN TEXT.—"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."—Deut. 6: 5.

PARALLEL PASSAGES.-Matt. 22: 34-46; Luke 20: 39-47; 21

OUTLINE.

HELPS.

I. Primacy of love. v. 28-34. (a) To God. It is the sum of the first table of the Law. Scribes. Mostly Pharisees, expounders of the law. Pleased at the defeat of the Sadducees. (See last lesson.) Came . . . asked. Probably friendly, and hoped he would side with them, since he did not with their enemies. Note carefully the peculiarities of the Pharisees. First . . . of all, 1. e., most important. They taught hundreds of commandments, and often disputed about "which is the greatest." One Lord. To distinguish from the many gods of the heathen. Love. Chief of the graces, sum of the law, central power in religion. Nothing without love. It is the well-spring of all true obedience

(First Daily Reading, New Version.) Heart, . . . strength.

All the faculties of mind and body. Includes the use of

(b) To man. Second in importance. Neighbor. Fellow-man. (See second Daily Reading, also James 1: 27.) As thyself. After the same manner; freely, sincerely, tenderly, constantly. Willing to sacrifice selfishness for the good of others. Offerings, &c. Forms of worship, useless unless prompted by love to God and man. Discreetly. Knowingly, understandingly. He was near the door. He knew his duty,

II. Love that ruins. v. 85-41. (a) It admires only the human in Christ. They were so deeply in love with their our powers, as well as the affections of the heart.

yet lacked the essential element in religion.

4. Matt. 23: 1-12.

as Son of David, even after David had called him Lord. words of a man whose life we already know. Love of half the truth, till the other half is hated, is ruinous, and not confined to the scribes. Importance of correct ideas about Christ (b) Loves external show. Long robes of distinction and anctimonious religiousuess. (c) Loves the applause of men. Salutations, as Rabbi, mas

(d) Loves worldly honor, i. e., "chief seats" and "upper ooms." High positions sought. (e) Loves riches, devour . . . houses, i. e., property, posses sions. Overreach and make a mask of religion in order to gain confidence of men.

III. Love that saves. v. 41-44. (a) Loyal. The widow was waiting upon God in his house, in his appointed way. (b) Self-eacrificing. Her sacrifice bespoke genuine love to God and men. It was the work of love. God values gifts by the spirit of sacrifice and love they bespeak. She was approved because love was loyal and self-sacrificing. The scribes received "greater condemnation."

COMMENTS.

Introduction. In the last lesson you saw how Jesus met and defeated the Sadducees. This pleased the Pharisees so well, that they come to the front, and in this lesson; by one of their representatives, a scribe, (whom Matthew calls "a lawyer," see Matt. 22: 34, 35,) ask upon a very important point, which was often under discussion among the Jews. The man appears to be friendly, and I think he felt quite in hopes that Jesus would side with them, now he had so clearly decided against their enemies, the Sadducees. There is no discrepancy between Matthew and Mark. The one emphasizes the "tempting him," and the other, in a somewhat richer, and more minute manner, emphasizes the questioning.

I. The primacy of love. v. 28-34. First commandment. It was not uncommon for the Jews to be asking this question. Braume tells us that they "enumerated six hundred and thirteen ordinances; three hundred and sixty-five prohibitions, according to the days in the year; two hundred and twenty-eight commandments, according to the parts of the body." Some emphasized one, and some another of these commands, and therefore they were in perpetual dispute about which of them was chief in importance. In verse 29, the Savior prefaces his reply with the beginning of the Jewish creed, which they recited twice every day, and which kept before them the truth, that God is one Lord, while they were surrounded by the heathen who worshiped many gods. Love was the all comprehensive characteristic which Jesus made primary in all true religion -the affection in which the essence of divine law consists, and the true exercise of which is the "fulfilling of the law." "God is love," and man comes into harmony with God only as he shall exercise the same spirit, and possess, in quality, the Christlike characteristics. This love is to be exercised first toward God, and second toward man. The Savior does place some commands first, and others as of secondary importance, and yet in such a way as to show that any lack of loyalty to the second, reveals a similar lack regarding the first. In verses 32 and 33, we see that | it, still lead the nations both in power and in this scribe knew the way. He repeated the Savior's words almost verbatim, and acknowledged their truthfulness; and the importance of these over all ceremonies; and yet all Jesus could say of him, was, Thou art not far from the kingdom. Did he eyer enter? To know duty is of no avail except we love it, and therefore do it. How near some do come to the kingdom, and lose it after all. -II. Love that ruins. v. 35-40. In the remain der of this lesson, we have good illustrations of the two ways in which men exercise their love. The one is fixing the affections upon things of this world, denying the divine Savior, and building upon external show, worldly honor, and riches. The other a love that fixes the heart on God, and sacrifices worldly comfort and riches for his cause. This is loyal and self-sacrificing, and, according to the plan of our Outline and helps, is

.II. Love that saves. v. 41-44. It was the poor widow's love to God and men that prompted her to worship the one, and to give for the support of the truth, that the other might be saved. The scribes who loved the world received the "greater condemnation," though they seemed very devout, in the externals of religion. The best of them were indeed "not far from the kingdom," but were not in the kingdom; while the poor widow, so loyal, and so willing to give all for God's cause, was approved, and within the kingdom. Her small gifts were pleasing to Christ, because she was prompted by love. Their great gifts were nothing to him, because they were lacking in the first principles of true religion. Let us see to it that ours is that "love that saves," rather than the "love that ruins."

THE Elm Valley Sabbath-school held a pienie on Thursday, Aug. 17th.

WHATEVER other lesson a scholar may slight, he is sure to study closely the character and spirit of his own teacher. A teacher teaches less by what he says than by what he is. As a preacher recently expressed this truth concerning the power of the life rather than of the letter: "The lives of good men, and not the libraries of theologians, are the convincing power in this world."- life is so quiet and noiseless that it draws scarcely any attention to itself, and so un- his eyes are selfish that the others members are entirely unconscious of the help they receive from it, and yet it is the center of all the home life. Such lives are never appreciated till they are gone. Then those who remain behind become sudminster Teacher.

talk that we need. We have too much of talk that we need. We have too much of gain. The largest congregation of relatives the written already. It is not the pious tone that er ever saw, gathered to pay their last tribute of rewe need, but honest living, with the simple spect to one whom they loved. So lived and so died

awn sophistries and notions, that they could only see him | tittle of talk, for the words that tell are the | eth.

Weak, impulsive, inconsistent, fickle, spasmodic religious talkers accomplish little good. They repel more than they inspire. Sometimes their softness and sickishness of profession and direction disgust. He who lives steadily three hundred and sixty-five days in the year can afford once in a while to say a reproving or comforting word to those who know his life. The Master's counsel was wise, and had in it all the philosophy of Christian influence: "Let thy light so shine before men that they may see thy good works and glorify thy Father which is

The "good works" constitute the basis of all influence that comes with profession and teaching, and the grace some people most need in religious meetings is the grace of silence. The reluctant and not the eager witnesses in the religious life are sometimes the most effective witnesses. -S. S. Journal.

[Continued from first page.]

Christian revival pour in, until men's lives begin to arise along the scale of love, and act upon its promptings, and how quickly does fellowship and good-will spring up among them. All discords die out, old quarrels are settled, and stubborn hatreds disappear. And so it is that love, like the melting sunshine of March and April, destroys the snow and ice, which all the blustering winds of Winter could not blow

Now, this same principle that works such wonders between individuals, would have the same salutary influence between churches, denominations, communities, and nations. Let this spirit of love become the working force in society, until its various relations are cast according to its direction. Let all civil, judiciary, police and military affairs be controlled by this same element working through individuals, and we shall behold the dawning of that day in which the angel-sung millennium of peace and good-will shall prevail on earth. Defended by this crowning virtue enthroned in the hearts of her people, our nation might dismount her cannon, convert her swords into pruning-hooks, and restore the soldier to the peaceful quiet of home and private life; and, with tenfold the truthfulness with which she now boasts glory. As the God of love and peace is the highest conception of a perfect being, even so the true "peace maker" fills the highest ideal of a child of God. There is no surer sign of divinity in the soul than that of a nature that can breathe upon men the at
GEO. H. BABCOCK, Pres. 30 Cortlandt St. mosphere of such hallowed influences. Like oil on a troubled sea, like the most soothing influences in a world of vexation and trouble, there is a wonderful halo of quietude hovering with the parting words of Jesus: "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you."

Friends and brethren, let us begin more earnestly to seek the perfection which God requires, viz., the perfection of disinterested love. Like the Summer sun, so love sheds forth those rays that give beauty to everything upon which they fall. Therefore, "love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you," and they will look better to you.

MARRIED.

In the town of Ward, Allegany Co., N. Y., Aug. 15, 1882, by Eld. C. M. Lewis, Mr. FREDERICK S. PLACE, of Alfred Centre, and Miss MARTHA A. BUR-

At the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, C. N. Maxson, Lost Creek, W. Va., Aug. 10, 1882, by Rev. L. R. Swinney, Mr. FLAVIUS J. EHRET, of Ritchie county, and Miss Isadora Freeman, of Crossingville, Pa.

At Lost Creek, West Va., Aug. 17, 1882, ABNER BATTEN, aged 49 years, 4 months, and 8 days. He was the son of Abraham Batten, of blessed memory. When he was just entering manhood he lost the en tire use of his sight; but what seemed to be a great affliction God overruled for a blessing. When his natural sight was closed, God opened his spiritual eyes, and he accepted Christ as his Savior, and united with the Lost Creek Church. Henceforth his life seemed devoted to the good of others, and I think I never saw one so attentive and loving in the homes of his brothers and sisters. Indeed, his quiet and exemplary Christian life through twenty-nine years of blindness, and his patience and gentleness and love to all about him, have left a precious memory be THERE is one in almost every family whose hind him. His last sickness was pneumonia, and he sank very rapidly; but we have the assurance that his eyes are now opened, and he can see the King in Near Rockville, R. I., Aug. 15, 1882, ELIZABETH CRANDALL BURDICK, of neuralgia of the heart, after a severe sickness of nearly eighteen hours, being 72 years, 5 months, and 8 days old. She made a profession of religion when she was seventeen years old, denly aware of what they have lost.—West was baptized by Eld. Matthew Stillman, and joined the old Hopkinton Church. She was married to Gardner Burdick, Dec. 25, 1831, and they both united with the Rockville Church in 1837, with which she retained her membership until death. She leaves TALK AND DEEDS.—It is not religious a husband and several children and numerous other relatives to mourn her departure, but their loss is her we need, but honest living, with the simple acknowledgment of God's grace. This steady influence is cumulative. It is more eloquent than sermons. It is sweeter than gospel songs. It has all the force of personal appeal, and gives weight to the slightest word which may at any time be spoken.

It takes a ton of living to give power to a tittle of talk, for the words that tell are the Business Directory.

It is desired to make this as complete a directory as possible, so that it may become a DENOMINATIONAL DIREC-TORY. Price of Cards (3 lines), per annum, $3.

Alfred Centre, N. Y.

SILAS C. BURDICK, Books, Stationery, Drugs, Groceries, etc. Canned MAPLE SYRUP a Specialty.

A. SHAW, JEWELER. AND DEALER IN

WATCHES, SILVER WARE, JEWELRY, &c. BURDICK AND GREEN, Manufacturers of Tinware, and Dealers in Stoves, Agricultural Implements, and Hardware.

VOICE CULTURE BY LETTER. Address, for particulars,
J. G. BURDICK.

ANGWORTHY & DAVIS, IRON FOUNDERS Manufacturers of, and Dealers in AGRICUL TURAL IMPLEMENTS. Job Work to Order.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST EDUCATION SO P. LARKIN, President, Alfred Centre, N. Y. D. E. MAXSON, Corresponding Secretary, Alfred

Amos C. Lewis, Recording Secretary, Alfred Cen-W. C. Bundick, Treasurer, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

Alfred, N. Y.

ALFRED, N. Y.

Hornellsville, N. Y.

LIAS AYARS, ARCHITECT.

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS. Citizens' National Bank Building, Hornellsville.

Berlin, N. Y.

R. GREEN & CO. DEALERS IN GENERAL MERCHANDISE, Drugs and Paints.

Manufacturer of White Shirts. THE "BERLIN CHAMPION SHIRTS" TO ORDER.

Adams Centre, N. Y.

D. TITSWORTH,

DRUGGIST.

LIANDY PACKAGE DYE COMPANY. Best and Cheapest, for Domestic Use. Send for Circular.

Leonardsville, N. Y.

▲ RMSTRONG HEATER, LIME EXTRACTOR, and CONDENSER for Steam Engines. ARMSTRONG HEATER Co., Leonardsville, N. Y.

New York City.

THE BABCOCK & WILCOX CO. Patent Water-tube Steam Boilers. GEO. H. BABCOCK, Pres.

THOMAS B. STILLMAN & CO., CHEMISTS.

Analyses of Ores, Minerals, Waters, &c.

40 & 42 Broadway.

M. TITSWORTH, MANUFACTURER OF R. M. TITSWORTH, MANUFACTURER OF FINE CLOTHING. Custom Work a Specialty. A. L. TITSWORTH.

C. POTTER, JR. & CO. PRINTING PRESSES. 12 & 14 Spruce St.

C. Potter, Jr. H. W. Fish. Jos. M. Titsworth H YDRAULIC JACK AND PRESSES. Punches and Shears for Iron.

E. LYON & Co., 470 Grand St.

Plainfield, N. J.

MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY. EXECUTIVE BOARD. I. D. TITSWORTH, Pres., | J. F. HUBBARD, Treas., L. E. LIVERMORE, Sec., G. H. Babcock, Cor. Sec., Plainfield, N J. New Market, N. J.

THE SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST MEMORIAL BOARD: CHAS. POTTER, JR., President, Plainfield, N. J., E. R. Pope, Treasurer, Plainfield, N. J. L. E. LEERMORE, Secretary, New Market, N. J. Gifts for all Denominational Interests solicited. Prompt payment of all obligations requested.

C. H. RANDOLPH, DEALER IN GRAINS, F. MEAL, FEED, BALE HAY, STRAW, &c. Bet. Elm and William Sts. 126 Front H. RANDOLPH, DEALER IN GRAINS, FLOUR,

CLOTHING MADE TO ORDER OR READY MADE, from Samples. Agent for WANA-MAKER-& BROWN, Philadelphia. Rubber Goods a Specialty, 10 per ct. discount to Clergymen.
41 W. Front St. ALEX. TITSWORTH.

J. C. POPE & CO., FIRE and LIFE INSURANCE AGENTS. 14 E. Front Street.

DOTTER PRESS WORKS Machinists, and Builders of Printing Presses. C. Potter, Jr., Proprietor.

M. DUNHAM, MERCHANT TAILOR, AND Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods.
ext to Laing's Hotel.
44 W. Front St. Next to Laing's Hotel. DOPE BROTHERS, DEALERS IN Dry Goods, Notions, Hosiery, Gloves, Carpets, Oil Cloths, Mats, &c.

PICER & HUBBARD. PLANING MILL. Sash, Blinds, Doors, Mouldings, &c. T. H. TOMLINSON, M. D., PHYSICIAN & SURGEON.

Residence, 2d Street, W. M. STILLMAN,
ATTORNEY AT LAW. Supreme Court Commissioner, etc.

GREEN & CO., DEALERS IN FURNITURE, BEDDING, Curtains and Shades. Goods Shipped from New York if desired. ORSON C. GREEN. FRANK C. GREEN.

New Market, N. J.

MANUFACTURER OF CLOTHING. A store to Let. Best in the place.

Dunellen, N. J.

ORTON'S HOUSE-HEATING STEAM GENERATOR.

Davtona, Florida,

AVID D. ROGERS, CIVIL ENGINEER U. S. Deputy Surveyor for the Dist. of Fla.

DAYTONA, Valusia Co., Fla.

Westerly, R. J.

MAXSON & CO., BUILDERS. DEALERS IN LUMBER. Successors to C. MAXSON & CO.

T. CLAWSON, TAILOR. CLOTHS, CLOAKINGS, AND TRIMMINGS. Samples sent by mail. L. BARBOUR & CO.,

DRUGGISTS AND PHARMACISTS. No. 1, Bridge Block. B. CLARKE, DEALER IN FURNITURE OF ALL KINDS Orders by mail promptly filled.

F. STILLMAN & SON, MANUFACTURERS OF FINE CARRIAGES. Orders for Shipment Solicited.

RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRO

RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRICES. Finest Repairing Solicited. THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MISSION.

ARY SOCIETY. GEORGE GREENMAN, President, Mystic Bridge, Ct. L. A. PLATTS, Recording Secretary, Westerly, R. I A. E. MAIN, Corresponding Secretary, Ashaway. GEO. B. UTTER, Treasurer, Westerly.

All contributions for missions, and communications relating to financial affairs, should be sent to the Treasurer. Reports of labor, and other communications intended for the Board of Managers, or for publication in the Missionary Department of the RECORDER, should be sent to the Corresponding Ashaway, R. I.

THOS. A. BARBER,

■ DRUGGIST AND PHARMACIST, AND DEALER IN Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes.

LANGWORTHY & CO., GENERAL STORE Books, Hardware, and Glassware, a Specialty. Send for Catalogue of Garden Seeds.

WELLS,

Maker of Fine Carriages and Wagons. New Milton, W. Va.

UTHER F. RANDOLPH, Dealer in General Country Store Merchandise and Produce. Successor to L F. RANDOLPH & BRO.

Chicago, Ill.

RDWAY & CO. MERCHANT TAILORS. 205 West Madison St.

STILLMAN BAILEY, M. D.

3034 Michigan Avenue. REDERICK D. ROGERS, M. D., DRUGGIST.

2406 Cottage Grove Avenu Office and Residence, - - Hyde Park.

B. COTTRELL & CO. CYLINDER PRINTING PRESSES, for Hand and Steam Power. Factory at Westerly, R. I.

Walworth, Wis.

A. WALTERS. PATENT HAY ELEVATORS AND CARRIERS.

DRUGS, GROCERIES, DRY GOODS, &C.

Milton, Wis. DROF. N. WARDNER WILLIAMS, MUSICAL

DEPARTMENT, MILTON COLLEGE. Piano, Voice-Organ, Harmony, &c. Send for circular.

DEALER IN Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots & Shoes, Crockery, etc. W. CLARKE, DEALER IN BOOKS, FANCY AND HOLIDAY GOODS. Milton, Wis. DAVIS BROS., MANUFACTURERS OF HAND and POWER PRESS and SHEARS. TIRE SHRINKERS and AXEL SETTERS. Circulars.

P. CLARKE.

REGISTERED PHARMACIST,

Milton

Minnesota.

COPYING IN LANGUAGE ARTIST. COPYING IN INDIAN INK, OIL, CRAYON, &c. Dodge Centre, Minn, Kansas.

GRIFFIN & SON, DEALERS IN DRUGS AND GROCERIES, Nortonville, Kansas.

The Sabbath Recorder. PUBLISHED WEEKLY,

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY,

ALFRED CENTRE, ALLEGANY CO., N. Y. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Papers to foreign countries will be charged 50 cents additional, on account of postage.

If payment is delayed beyond six months, 50 cents additional will be charged. No paper discontinued until arrearages are paid, except at the option of the publisher.

ADVERTISING DEPAREMENT.

Transient advertisements will be inserted for 50 cents an inch for the first insertion, and 25 cents an inch for each subsequent insertion. Special contracts made with parties advertising extensively, or Legal advertisements inserted at legal rates. Yearly advertisers may have their advertisements changed quarterly without extra charge. No advertisements of objectionable character will

JOB PRINTING.

The office is furnished with a supply of jobbing material, and more will be added as the business may lemand, so that all work in that line can be executed with neatness and dispatch.

ADDRESS.

All communications, whether on business or for man com
U. M. B. Send for Circular to N. J. STEAM HEATING Co.

Discrete the control of the contr PUBLISHED BY T

VOL. XXXV

The Sabi

ffice at Alfred Cent

We read of one battle

THE BA

You'll find in that ba It's fought not with Its fought by the por Let our hearts and or Take counsel of God

The result of this bat With God for our car In fighting this battle The right from the w For fierce is the fight Then follow your Ca

Our foes, they are leg They rob and they p Their aim is to tarns They seek your destri It's a long line of bat This conflict is ever g Wherever we find it

The battle of right is Of all the great battle The battle of right for It surpasses them all Then inscribe on you Unfurl then your ban

Better be in the strife The fight may increase But sweet is that pear Alfred, N. Y., Ji

BY TH

On the 24th of at 6 A. M. for Na time to visit the r with its story of barbaric splendor, degradation. As the early evening, of fire, and showed like a thread of b of the cone towar early, to be called ascent of Vesuvii was an unnecessar were on the groun Vesuvius," on the point when our di that all forms of to make all forn tongues or donker throughout the live were so real that y called, and were g starlight of the ea 3 o'clock. We dr we were out of t along the shore of were beginning t mountain. For t side is covered wi with fig and oth The richest fruits sides, where time tion has deepened we rise, the gard road zigzags by sl until we are on th piled above, aroun shapes, just as it c for some thousand sults of the erupti of life as the hear great sea of mol when all its waves and yet so full o whole mountain again, and you breath at some sh of the slow-climbi set it flowing aga

At 7 o'clock we'r and the railroad, tel. This railroad saves the fatigue o and a few hours le to be thankful for an endless chain, at the base of the is about thirty de each two traversed for two on a seat, will contain abou sides are open, a the end of the sea and the abyss.

"hitches," and se