

Missions.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

THE DEACON'S ADVICE.

"Think more of the harvest and less of the labor," said good Farmer Smith to his neighbor one day.

The prospect seemed cheerless where even weeds wilted, And oft would the husbandman growl and lament,

Soft dew and warm rains on the hill-side descended, A capital crop blessed the young farmer's eyes,

"I might have spared all my fretting and worry; The deacon was right, and my duty was clear—"

"Think more of the harvest and less of the labor," "I sing both in Spring and in Autumn next year."

ELD. A. W. COON writes from Preston, N. Y., that souls have been led to inquire what they must do to be saved.

A GENEROUS contribution for missions comes from a little West Virginia church, "which is the result of having adopted the envelope system."

A. W. COON writes from Preston, N. Y.: I am cordially invited to preach in Sunday-keeping churches, which I have done with gladness.

CIRCULARS relating to the present and pressing needs of our missionary cause, are being sent out to all of our churches.

ON THE FRONTIERS.

Bro. S. R. Wheeler, writing from Motor, Rocks Co., Kan., says, "I am endeavoring to extend the circulation of the SABBATH RECORDER among people who have never been acquainted with it."

A FAREWELL MEETING.

Farewell services relating to the departure of Dr. Ella F. Swinney for Shanghai, China, as our medical missionary, were held in the church at Plainfield, N. J., Sabbath morning, Oct. 27, 1888.

Dr. Swinney left New York the evening following, expecting to sail from San Francisco on "The City of Tokio," Nov. 7th, for Yokohama, Japan, where she will take another ship for Shanghai.

Let prayer be offered for the mother and friends who are left behind; and for the missionary, that divine care, strength, and wisdom, may be daily supplied by the grace of God, through Jesus Christ, in whose name she goes to work for the salvation of the bodies and souls of heathen women and children.

A CALL TO THE PEOPLE.

The attention of our readers is earnestly invited to the work now on the hands of our Missionary Society, as set forth in the last Annual Reports, and in the Minutes of the late Anniversary, published in the SABBATH RECORDER.

1. We recommend that one tenth of our income be given to the cause of religion; that each church member give at least one dollar a year for missions; and that all contribute above this according to their prosperity.

2. We recommend systematic benevolence; and that the missionary contributions of our churches be sent to the Treasurer as often, at least, as on the first of December, March, June and September.

3. We especially invite Christian women to help sustain our mission to heathen women and children; and the Sabbath-schools to help support our mission schools.

4. Will not all of our pastors, in discourses and by other means, frequently present to the people the condition, needs, and prospects, of our home and foreign mission work?

5. Will you not help raise ten thousand dollars for mission work during the current Conference year; and with your gifts, offer fervent prayers?

ANNUAL REPORT OF O. U. WHITFORD.

Perhaps I would better preface my Annual Report with a summary of my last quarter's work: Sermons preached, 22; religious visits, 32; prayer-meetings attended, 7; mission meetings attended, 15; pages of tracts distributed, 2,000; received on the field, $23 50; traveling expenses, $1 50; correspondence—letters, 25, postals, 37.

After the Association I spent most of my time in Chicago. I made a short trip out to two of the suburban towns to visit some people who used to keep the Sabbath, and a family who do now.

The attendance at our mission school the last quarter was as follows: highest attendance, June 2d, 89; lowest, Aug 18th, 22; average attendance, 62. The attendance since our picnic has been rather light, because of the Summer weather in part, and because some are drawn away by a Jewish school held at the same time as ours, by that Jew who opposed us last Winter.

We expect to knock for admittance into Conference at its coming session. We deem it a forward step for ourselves and our cause to be organized. It will give us a church home with its appointments, give us more unity, strength and purpose, and make a place for those who come to us.

We have had but one opening to present in an extensive way, Sabbath truth. That was in last December, of which I wrote you at the time. The occasion was some restrictions and criticisms by the clergy of the city upon the publication, sale, and purchase of Sunday papers, which were replied to by the Chicago Tribune. In three Sunday issues of that paper some Sabbath truth was presented.

Another item which should not be overlooked, is that we have connected with our work in the mission school four who are converts to the Sabbath. There are others here in the city and at Highwood, Ill., who are deeply interested in the subject.

Our best hold in Chicago now is on the Jewish children, and yet sometimes it seems we have no hold, so fearful and jealous are they of their own religion. However, we do hold some and have for a year and a half taught more Christianity to the Jewish children, and through them to their parents and friends than we could have done in any other way.

In respect to the prospects and needs of the great field of the Northwest, I would say substantially the same which I have said in my communication to you upon the interests west of the Mississippi river.

In Cartwright, Wis., we have an important growing interest. It must be nurtured and strengthened. Our people constitute almost the whole village. Several families have moved in since I was there in May.

P. C. MOZOOMDAR, a Brahmin, who has recently been lecturing in various New York churches, says in substance: "A little Hindoo girl is as sweet and pretty as any American girl, but at the age of six years her parents become anxious about her, at seven her parents become more anxious, the anxiety increasing until at the age of ten it reaches its crisis."

At the recent meeting of the British Association an interesting paper was read by Mr. Robinson, on the duration of life among total abstainers in Great Britain as compared with other classes in the community.

an years must remain a widow forever. Some marriages and to help these miserable little widows. I do not believe in a woman riding a bicycle nor dancing on a tight-rope, nor do I believe in the 'girl of the period,' but I admire the woman of worship and the woman of affection."

A LONG STRUGGLE.

Heathenism is doomed, but it is not dead. It will die hard. Although the retrospect is encouraging, to suppose that the battle has been won were a fatal mistake.

Temperance.

"Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright."

MAIZE AND TOBACCO.

The Indian corn looked over the fence, And what do you think he spied? A field of tobacco, just ready to bloom

To his broad leaved neighbor at once he called, In accents loud and clear, "I thought you belonged to a sunnier clime; Pray what are you doing here?"

So then with haughty air replied The plant of power and pelf, "You are pleased to ask of my business, sir, What do you do yourself?"

"I feed the muscle, and blood, and bone, To make our farmers strong, And furnish blood for the little ones, That round their tables throng."

"I move in a somewhat loftier sphere," The foreign guest rejoined, "As the chosen friend and companion dear Of men of wealth and mind."

"I'm the chief delight of the gay young spark, 'O'er the wise my sway I hold; I lurk in the book-worm student's cell,— In the dowager's box of gold."

"Thousands of hands at my bidding work; Millions of coin I raise— He ceased to speak, and in angry mood Responded the tasseled Maize:

"You're in secret league with dyspeptic ills— A merciless traitor hand With clouds of smoke you pollute the air, With floods of slime the land."

"You tax the needy laborer sore; You quicken the drunkard's thirst; You exhaust the soil—and I wish you'd go To the place whence you came at first."

TOTAL ABSTINENCE AND LONGEVITY.

At the recent meeting of the British Association an interesting paper was read by Mr. Robinson, on the duration of life among total abstainers in Great Britain as compared with other classes in the community.

advocate, with considerable warmth, the cause of moderate drinking.—Montreal Herald.

PROTECTION.

It is admitted on all sides that society may protect itself against vagrancy. Rum is the mother of vagrancy!

It is admitted that society may protect itself against theft, robbery, burglary, and arson. Rum is the mother of these also. It is admitted that society may protect its members against the contaminating touch of prostitution. Rum is the mother of this.

It is admitted that society may protect itself against murder. Rum is the prolific mother of this most barbarous and horrible of crimes. I have passed forty-five years of my life upon the outermost rim of the blood-dragged frontier, and in that time have witnessed or been cognizant of the facts of one hundred murders; and every one of these murders was the fruit of strong drink; every murderer was inspired and driven to his ghastly work by rum.

DRUNKENNESS AMONG BOYS.

The Chief of Police of Jersey City, in his annual report, states that crime is increasing, and gives the following important disclosure:

"I would call the attention of your honorable body to the alarming increase of drunkenness among boys of this city. The difficulty has its origin in the too-free license of irresponsible parties who are allowed to keep saloons where the game of 'pool for drinks' is permitted. The State has no law governing this game of sufficient force to hold the parties accused, and I recommend that some action be taken to provide a law. It is an every-day occurrence to see boys going through the public streets intoxicated from these saloons. A knowledge of the surety of punishment on conviction is the best preventive against the commission of a crime, and some adequate law is needed to put a check on this startling and alarming vice."

"SAVE THE BOYS."

The saloon party do not like that cry. On the 27th of June, 1882, three ladies were mobbed in Dubuque, while trying to hang up a banner bearing those words "Vote to Save the Boys."

CAUSE AND REMEDY.

It seems that the saloon-keepers who have been holding a convention in Milwaukee, have inquired into the cause of drunkenness; and they have come to the conclusion that the saloons are not in fault, but that it is due to the lack of education in youth.

BREVITIES.

It would be a good idea for every young man, as one of the first acts of his business life, to draw up a balance sheet showing the respective advantages and disadvantages of drinking and being a total abstainer.

The Cincinnati saloon-keepers are terrible sticklers for "personal liberty," but they want it all on their side. It has been the custom of certain poor women to keep coffee stands at the public markets. The saloon-keepers have organized to break up this business, since it interferes with the sale of beer, and they have induced the Board of Health, which has control of the markets, to prohibit the sale of coffee at the public markets.

A New Jersey law prohibits sales of tobacco to boys under 16 under penalty of $20 for each offense, to be used for and recovered by the parent or guardian of the boy. It went into effect on the fourth of July. Dealers say it reduces their sales quite perceptibly, but they do not object to it, as it clears their shops of troops of boys to invest a cent in a cigarette, which they would take turns in smoking.

Says a Kansas gentleman, writing from Wellington, in that State: "We caught a man last week selling whisky on the sly, and fined him $600 and costs, which was nearly $100 more, and sent the gent to jail for six months besides." Probably he sits up nights in his cell to sum up prohibition as a failure.

The California wine product this year will not exceed 10,000,000 gallons, being a reduction of 40 per cent. The disease in grapes, known as "canleme" in France, made its first appearance in California this year.

The mill-owners of Calcutta and vicinity, who employ 50,000 workmen, have petitioned for the suppression of the "out still" system of Bengal, on account of the drunkenness occasioned by it among their workmen.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY.—P. Nell, in a recent letter to the Electrician, says: "I think the fact that toothache can be instantly stopped by the application of electricity in the following simple manner is not so generally known as it deserves to be."

MAGNETIZATION of soft iron in a permanent form has heretofore been considered impracticable, and all permanent magnets have been made of steel.

LEATHER may have its color restored by an application of good blacking, a subsequent brushing, a very slight oiling, and an after dressing of gum-tragacanth.

TO REMOVE mildew or stains from white cloth, take one tablespoonful of chloride of lime in half a pail of water, let it stand half an hour, then dip the cloth in, wet thoroughly and spread in the sun.

TO REMOVE paint from old doors, etc., and to soften putty in window-frames so that the glass may be taken out without breaking or cutting, take one pound of pearl ash and three pounds of quicklime; slack the lime in water then add the pearl-ash, and make the whole about the consistency of paint.

GLASS FOR FLOORING.—In many of the business houses in Paris, and especially in those of which the cellars are used as offices, glass is now being extensively employed instead of boards for flooring.

THE CAUSE OF RUST IN OATS.—The cause of rust in oats and wheat is a minute plant, which is a species of fungus. If the plants are examined by a magnifying glass the red dust will appear as small round or oval bodies, which are the spore cases or seed vessels of the rust fungus.
