

Sabbath Recorder.

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TBACT SOCIETY.

OUR BLESSINGS.

"THE SEVENTH-DAY IS THE SABBATH OF THE LORD THY GOD."

TERMS-$$ A YBAR, IN ADVANCE.

VOL. XLII.-NO. 39.

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1886.

WHOLE NO. 2172.

THE UNEXPRESSED LIFE.

voluntary activity. The life of thought and time ever comes when she shall cast them to science; that both nature and religion pro- to being perfect is, after all, halt and lame ceeded from the same God, and are conse- as a true rendering of that which is within quently in perfect accord. It is not science him. There is no outward expression of conscience that equals the magnitude of that wild speculation and foolish assertion, which | feeling in a man's soul. There is no form that can be given to taste that equals the faith of some. A universe without God is sense of the beautiful that flashes and glitno more satisfactory to an intelligent student | ters within us. And no man ever loved who did not know that that part which lacked exwhich had some symbol to represent it. It is the plenitude of the man which lacks and waits for some mode of disclosure. The feature cannot give it, the eye cannot, posspoken nor deed performed can at all fill up | fail to give it.-Star and Crown. the measure of the reality of that inward life which every one has in him. So that there is a vast disparity between what a man does and what a man is. And he is not to be measured merely by what he performs. There is more of him than that. When one is competent to do a great and good work there is more of him than that mere good work would indicate. The measure of the man is greater than his outward perform- not know how to shoot and hence they miss ance. It is only the coarser parts of our feelings that can be most easily expressed. Bodily wants, physical traits, that which is of the earth, earthy, can be expressed without difficulty; but as we rise toward the finer sentiments, the nobler imaginations, the diviner aspirations, expression becomes more were good. We want in our churches a large difficult; and it seems impossible to give number of sharp-shooters that can take good these things any form of incarnation. The subtler influences of power, those that spring from disposition and taste and enthusiasm and sympathy, cannot be marshaled and drilled and marched. And yet they have an existence. There is a great deal more of a man | cise. How often our arrows miss the mark ! than that part of him which he shows in Oh ! that there were lay colleges established making a plan, in forming a volition and in | in all the towns and cities of our land, where pushing them into execution. There is a men might learn the art of doing goodeat deal that lies behind what is seen throbbing for expression, but getting it not.

LOYALTY TO THE CHURCH.

shall be loyal to them. If such were not of Friends to-day is loyalty to the church, We believe her iundamental principles are right, and sound to the core, and that if Nothing is more obvious than the fact that she ever breaks away from them it will be a men live in a far larger sphere of influence than that which is compassed by direct and fearful mistake. We believe that if the feeling is utterly untranslatable into the lan- | the winds, her power will be gone. They guage of action. That person must be meager have been an element of untold strength to and slender indeed who is not conscious that { her in the past, and if she is to maintain her there is more of him than he hasever expressed; present proud position among church organand that the expression which comes nearest izations, she must continue to adhere to them. To-day she commands the respect of the entire religious world. Thousands upon thousands who do not believe in her peculiar fundamental points of doctrine, admire her for her past loyalty to them, and would count it a public misfortune should she cut loose from them, and thus destroy the characteristics which distinguish her as a church. Let us be friendly and neighborpression transcended immeasurably that part | ly and kind-hearted and fraternal with the members of other churches, but let us at the same time be loyal to the fundamental principles and distinguishing doctrines of our own society. They are worthy of such loyture cannot, gesture cannot. Neither word alty, and we are not true to the church if we

TAKING AIM.

I was lately in the woods, and saw five or six hunters. They looked dragged almost to death. They had fine-looking guns but no game. That is the case with multitudes of laymen. They have fine faculties and all gospel weapons in their hands, but they do the mark. Our churches should be schools to teach them how to load, take aim and fire. "Old Burns," at Gettysburg, went out with his gun and blazed away without any particular aim, and in my opinion did not amount to much, although his intentions aim, and at forty rods strike the blossom on a man's nose.

The archers of olden times studied their art. How clumsy we are about religious work! How little skill and care we exer-

got his paper on the list. He had a wild theory of "criminal correction," cut and his tirade ended, was frankly told by the committee that his paper was a fraud and had been commended through deceptive representations. Aside from this the papers were chaste, respectful to religion and worthy of the Association and the occasion. Biology and geology were represented by the ablest men and attracted the largest attention. Some suggestions on the origin of language were peculiar. One speaker claimed that there are dozens of original, stock languages, very many more than has generally been supposed, and he went into a labored speculation to show how they originated. His data was curious. Somewhere twins were born marvelously alike and with surprising affinities. As they grew up they refused to speak the language of their parents and invented one of their own. It was not claimed that every language originated with twins, but that what the twins did had been done elsewhere by children from some cause isolated from adults. This was the one solitary case of puerile speculation. Others spoke with judgment on the question of language and in harmony with settled belief that it proceeded from an Asiatic center and cannot have originated more than six or seven thousand years ago. Some defended the theory that races of men lived on the earth before the current race existed, who did not possess the power of speech. This they supported by supposed discoveries of human remains in ante-alluvial deposits which lack a certain bone in the jaw and a certain cavity in the skull where language brain cells are found. The basis of these conclusions seems exceedingly narrow if not

Each paper is first examined and com-C. A. hall, and sang and prayed and spoke mended by a committee of the section to with all the tenderness, warmth and gladwhich it properly belongs, before it can be ness of consecrated disciples. "I need thee read. The precaution is necessary, for scievery hour," and "I am thine, O Lord," ence, like religion, is afflicted by a swarm of with other hymns, were sung with peculiar cranks who ride hobbies and talk nonsense. spirit indicating that love of God was even One fellow belonging to this class, somehow, more precious to the hearts of these disciples of science than all they found in nature. They illustrated what Christian teachslashed about in anarchistic style, and when | ers have all along been asserting, that there is really no conflict between Christianity and that intelligent Christians have feared, but conceited men indulge in and shake the

-Morning Star.

of nature than a devout reader of the Bible.

Among the trials of an editor's life is that of dealing with contributed articles. Editors wont to do right and to show they possess " the wisdom that is from above," that is "without partiality and without hypocrisy;" but to please all is out of the question; so to benefit the most must be their aim. The Watchman, in an article on this subject, after observing that papers are not large enough to contain all that is sent, says :

"One of the first things that correspondents should learn is that the rejection of an article by no means implies a want of merit in it—even great merit. A contribution may be brilliant and interesting, but too long, and yet of such character, that will not bear cutting down. To behead it, or to disembowel it, will be equally fatal to its life. Again, a paper may be, in a sense, even too good,-in other words, profound, learned. and elaborate, and, therefore, better for a magazine or a review than for a newspaper. A newspaper article should be brief and actually mystical, but it indicates poverty of crisp, giving results only, not processes, evidence that man, as we know him, has suggesting argument, not exhausting it; and been very long a denizen of the earth. Exhence, a man may write an admirable book. actly to what kind of being those defective and fail to cope with the hydrostatic pressjaw-bones and skulls belonged may not be ure, the selection of salient points, and the apparent, but it is quite certain they did not | rapid, glancing treatment, demanded by the daily or weekly journal. Sometimes a contributed article is excellent in substance.has original and striking thought, --but is crude, chaotic, or carelessly critten, and the a man has more influence than that which springs from the direct efficiency of his nateditor has not time to fight into shape. ure. His unconscious influence is that The Damascus blade owes its keenness as which comes from the richness and power of much to its perfect shape, its high polish, his nature that is not represented by any defiand its admirable temper, as to the mate nite and voluntary course of action. His rials of which it is forged. Sometimes the conscious influence is great, but there is more subject of an article is hackneyed,-straw than that. We call some people shallow; we as Carlyle would say, ' that had been threshed pronounce them superficial; we say that all a hundred times without wheat,'-and about there is of them is on the surface. But we which it is impossible ' to get up new thun often find that the shallowest persons have der.' Again, if the subject is new, several some deep pools-some spots where they are articles upon it may already have been pubmore than we thought. We are conscious of more rapid wear; that there was also more lished, and another might surfeit the reader. a certain subtile, invisible influence which ice and gravel, which increased the rapidity | Finally, if editors sometimes underrate the they exert, from which springs our respect merit of papers submitted to them, as no for them. Some persons in times of prosperdoubt they do, it is equally true, on the othity seem shallow and without character, water deeper, heavier and more destructive | er hand, that writers, like mothers, are apt to the rock than now; that the limestone to have a special fondness for their deformed and a courage that amaze us; so that we say, offspring,-to love their rickety children best." The editor of the Standard asks his coeditors how it would do for a paper to publish a "waste-basket edition," giving the re-jected articles of the sanctum. To which and which we cannot measure. And so we are constantly running upon evidence that a the Golden Censer replies: "If the editor man's unconscious influence is vast, over and wants his whole edition to go into the wasteabove the direct influence of his speech and baskets of his intelligent readers, this is a actions.-Morning Star. good way to secure that end. We opine that if this question of close editing were submitted to the thinking readers, they would rather vote to make the ordinary editorial waste-baskets larger than they are." We It is a very commendable thing for Christhink so too. We have the satisfaction of knowing (however much we have erred in judgment) that we have always tried to do the best we could for our correspondents consistently with the best interests of the cause we represent-the truth as it is in Jesus. Articles have often lain by us for months bethodox churches to cherish feelings of frafore we could get time to examine them ternal friendship towards one another. Time with sufficient care to be able to determine is too precious to be wasted in foolish bickerwhether or not we could make anything of ings over ways and means for prosecuting the work in hand. The needs of the hour are them that would be profitable to readers generally. Some of them have then been too great to admit of unprofitable wrangling published, others returned, and more deover points of doctrine. Such bickerings stroyed. We have some such on hand now. and such wrangling do no good, and often To those who have not had experience in result in much harm. editoral work this may seem strange, but it But there is such a thing as being too Buffalo would have had no river and the will not be to those who have. We are alliberal in one's religious views. Every world no Niagara. How narrow the es- | ways glad to receive communications adapted to our pages, and only wonder why brethren and sisters, whom we could readily name, do not write; and thus thin to help us in making the Herald rich and readable with

NEWSPAPEB CORBESPONDENTS

L BARBOUR & CO. DEUGGISTS AND PHARMACISTS. No. 1, Bridge Block. DENISON & CO., JEWELERS, RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRICES Repairing Solicited. Please try us. STILLMAN & SON. MANUPACTURERS OF STILLMAN'S AXLE OIL. only azle oil made which is ENTIRELY FREE mming substances. SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MISSION ARY SOCIETY GREENMAN, President, Mystic Bridge, Ot. WHITFORD, Recording Secretary, Westerly, MAIN, Corresponding Secretary, Ashaway, R.I. ET L. CHESTER, Treasurer, Westerly, R. Chicago, Ill. DWAY & CO. MBROHÁNT TAILOBS 205 West Madison St. ED. D. ROGERS, M. D. PHYSICIAN AND PHARMACIST. 2834 Prairie av. Store, 2406 Cottage Grove av B. COTTRELL & SONS, CYLINDER PRINTING PRESSES, for Hand and Steam Power. ry at Westerly, R. I. 112 Monroe St. Milton, Wis. W. CLARKE, DEALER IN BOOKS Stationery, Jewelry, Musical Instrument NCT AND HOLIDAY GOODS. Milton, Wis. P. CLARKE. REGISTERED PHARMAOIST. REGISTI Milton. Wis M. STILLMAN, Principal of the Musical Department of Milton College. Tuition for Pis). Harmony taught by mail at $1 per lesson. Milton Junction, Wis. T. ROGERS Notary Public, Conceyancer, and Town Clark. te Sabbath Recorder, PUBLISHIND WEEKLY BT THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY, ALFRED CENTRE, ALLEGANY CO. R. T. TRUES OF SUBSCRIPTION. former countries will be a ed until arrearages are ef the publishe ANVERTING DEPARTMENT Dents will be inserted for si a ant insection - subsequent interaction anticiper inch. Special construction anticiper extensively, or for long terms ers may have their a to a furnished with a rapply of or will be addee as the business to a standard a standard

Whatever he orders is right. Oh, sacred to God is the union Of souls to re-echo his praise, The church, which holds blessed communion. Pledged ever to walk in his ways. Sweet tie, which wrong only should sever. Of hearts linked in brotherly love, A door through which wanderers ever May seek for a passport above.

Fond mother, how true is thy mission. How sacred the word of God's light ! Home's altar-fires ever are burning, The Sabbath no action can blight. The church, born of all that is holy, Itself must a blessing comprise, To make our lives stronger, and wholly To ripen our souls for the skies.

We have had a week of science in our city, much to our profit and delight. The American Association for the Advancement of Science has closed an interesting session. The attendance has been unusually large, and the papers read gave proof of patient research, careful analysis, judicious classification and profound deductions. Prof. E. S. Morse, of Salem, Mass., presided and enriched the occasion with remarks sprightly people generally. He said that cities which more slowly and will not reach Buffalo yet had more clergymen than lawyers were for ages. the most prosperous and best places in which to live; that the province of scientists was to search for truth, collect and classify facts, and leave theologians and statesmen to ap-economy and religion. attacks on magazines of nature are sufficiental and minute, are subjected to sharp examination and accurate estimate. By this means only is science perfected and forces successfully utilized. Here is I. Burkitt Webb carefully working on "second differentials and equicrescent variables;" Thomas Hill disclosing a new curve; David P. Todd doing hard work on "some mechanical attachments for facilitating the astronomer's work with the equatorial." Wm. A. Rogers, J. A. Brashear, Benj. F. Thomas and others attack hard problems in physics; chemistry engages the attention of an army of brighteyed men and some women; Harkness, Webb, Thurston and others do good work in the realm of engineering, and geology is handled by stalwart men who have heads, hands and of a long list of subjects.

belong to the present race of men.

The discussion which excited the deepest interest of all was on the gorge of the Niagara. Friday was largely devoted to it. Saturday, all hands went down to study it on the spot, and on Mouday the discussion was concluded. The chronology of the recession was the engrossing question. It was quite generally agreed that the fall really began in the vicinity of the whirlpool, about three miles below the present fall; that the gorge below was made during or before the glacial period; that the rock has receded not less than four feet a year; that there was formerly much more water than now, and hence of recession; that the river was only about half as wide as at present, and hence the was not so thick and the shale thicker, and hence more rapidly worn than at present, and that the limestone lower down the river was seamed and cracked so that water disintegrated it rapidly, so that the rate of recession must have formerly been much more rapid than it now is, and that from five to seven thousand years are ample for the work done. From surveys in 1842, 1875, and 1886 it is ascertained that Horse Shoe Fall is receding over four feet a year, and the height and learned. He spoke kindly of every of the fall increasing. In a few years it class of educated mind, and hopefully of will be sixty feet higher than now. But as inture achievements in science and its effects the limestone grows thicker and harder upon civil and religious institutions and the above the present crest, it will soon recede

A curious fact was stated during the discussion as to the relations of Buffalo and Chicago. The divide, a few miles from Chicago, is only twenty-five feet above the ply them and deduce theories in political falls of Niagara. Now if some of those Chicago men, who have figured in many great en-The papers read reached the hundreds, and terprises, had chanced to have been on presented a most varied feast of instruction. | hand before the water broke through the suggestion, and curious inquiry. Surely the | mountain above Lewiston, they certainly would have pushed a channel through this y varied, ingenious, persistent and vigorous | narrow divide of only twenty-five feet in to force a disclosure of its secrets and a ren- | height, and turned the mighty tide to the dering up of its treasures. Scientists work south and secured a great navigable river not in vain. Points great and small, gener- from the lakes past their own door, and > cape! A great change has come over scientists in the last ten years respecting religion. Since Tyndall failed to fulfill his promise to find in nature every force necessary to produce all forms of existence and life, they have been more modest and now are generally even reverent. The temper of the vast body of men and women who have been in Buffalo for a | We are expected to exercise our judgment hundred present not a dozen could be found while thus praying think whether it is not of the founders of the church are lost sight hammers of their own; and so on to the end churches, and in the afternoon a large body mighty acts, and the glorieus majesty of his organization. of a long list of subjects.

more original articles. Nothing in the foregoing is intended to the case, what becomes of the power or audeter any from writing is, but to explain some things which are not well understood.

studying spiritual archery, and known as "mighty hunters before the Lord I" This from this radical fact that we say that

There is nothing proposed by men that can do effective work like this gospel. The religion of Ralph Waldo Emerson is the philosophy of icicles; the religion of Theodore Parker was a sirocco of the desert; the religion of Renan was the romance of believing nothing; the religion of Thomas Carlyle was only a condensed London fog; the religion of the Huxleys and the Spencers is merely a pedestal on which human philosophy sits shivering in the night of the soul, looking up to the stars, offering no help to the nations that crouch and groan at the base.

Ye Christian men and women! I want you to feel that you bear in your hand a weapon, compared with which the lightning has no speed, and avalanches, have no heft, and the thunderbolts of heaven have no who in times of trouble exhibit a patience power; it is the arrow of the omnipotent gospel. Take careful aim ! Pull the arrow "I never suspected them of possessing such | clear back until the head strikes the bow ! qualities." There is a hidden part of their | Then let it fly. And may the slain of the life, and there springs from it an influence | Lord be many !-T. De Witt Talmage, D. which we did not suspect belonged to them, | D., in " Shots at Sunday Targets."

CHRONIC GRUMBLERS.

There are many who actually seem to consider it a virtue to find a flaw in everything rather than accept " the goods the gods provide." They "can't help it," they claim. For such the weather is never right. They see no beauty in the sunset, because, fortians to have charity one for another, and to sooth, " Dear knows how long such weather entertain kindly feelings towards the mem- | will last. It is very nice now, but likely as bers of other religious denominations. It is not it will rain to-morrow."

not only commendable, but it is a part of Present good is invariably swallowed up inour Christian duty. As fellow-soldiers in a evil. The word sympathy is advisedly common cause, fighting the hosts of sin and avoided and the word pity used instead. iniquity, it behooves the members of all or- Such people are truly to be pitied, but not in any degree to be sympathized with. The persons with whom to sympathize are those daily compelled by force of circumstances to listen to their vain repinings and their puerile complaints.

If one does them a kindness they are sure to see some sinsister motive behind it.

If ordinary accidents happen they look wise and insinuate that it was all design.

The power to notice and enjoy that which is really to be enjoyed in our lot, is as possichurch has certain fundamental points of ble of cultivation as the power to learn to doctrine upon which its stability as an or- read, and it is quite as necessary if one would ganization depends. To these points of regard life in any other way than as a long, doctrine its members subscribe, and the painful grind. This latter we have, for the church has a right to demand that they sake of humanity, no right to do.

It is also possible to be very miserable without making of ourselves absolute nuithority of the church? Or what is the sances to all around us.

necessity of trying to perpetuate the church One of our duties to our children should as a distinctive organization? If these fun | be to inculcate in them a sense of gratitude, week has been as respectful to religion as in relation to what is sent us. Pray for us damental doctrines are laid aside and de- not gratitude to us, but the gratitude which one could wish. Among the nearly five then, that we may act wisely and well. And clared to be of none effect, then the ideas is really thankful that things are no worse. This is our duty no more to them than to of the aggressive school of unbelief, while a your duty to use your pen as well as your of, and there is a revolution. The church mankind. It is to be done- not only that great number were devout Christians. On tongue to "speak the praise of the Lord," cuts loose from its former moorings, and be- they personally may be benefited, but lest so-Sunday they attended divine worship in the "to make known to the sons of men his comes, to all intents and purposes, a new ciety and the home circle be cursed in them with the most disagreeable of all bores-ha-

We believe the great need of the Society bitual grumblers. - Christian at Work.

Hissions.

"Go ve into all the world; and preach the gospe to every creature."

2

THE Christian Union says that New England, which has been a source of missionary are old enough and ought to be gathered instrength, is becoming a missionary field. Those who, long ago, lived on the farms and supported the churches, have passed away; and many of their descendants have found their homes in the West.- Many an old homestead is either deserted or owned by foreigners. Factory help that was once largely American and Protestant, is now principally ought, therefore, "to strengthen the things that remain, and devote to the evangelizaplanting churches for a really older population in newer states."

THE population of this country in 1850, in round numbers, was 25,000,000, the members of evangelical churches, 3,000,000; in 1880 the population was 50,000,000, the church members 9,000,000. There is to-day a higher standard of Christian morality. The cause of temperance and of human liberty are illustrations of this progress. Seventy-five years ago, it is said, nearly $1,. 000,000 were raised for Union College as the result of a lottery; but who would think of trying the same method now? True, there is much of selfishness and corruption coming to light in our day; but this is one sign of the presence and power of righteousness, that is vigorously throwing off the disease.

UNLESS special pains is taken to investigate the matter, people are in danger of being misled by what they now and then read concerning "self-supplying missions;" and we are glad to publish for our readers the following brief, but candid and fair statement of the case, from the Baptist Missionary Magazine :

West-African missions, thirty-nine missionaries-twenty-seven men and twelve women -ten of whom are to accompany him up the Congo and Kasai rivers, to establish new stations there. His plan is, that the passages of the missionaries should be paid by Kings 8:63. In this discourse it was argued contributions in this country, and the laborers supported for two or three years, until they are established on farms or in some employment; after that they are to support themselves. It is only fair to state, however. that, if the laborers support themselves, it is found by experience that they can do absolute necessity. In order that a family, comparatively little missionary work, as their time and strength is largely devoted to the labors necessary to provide for their wants. After many years' trial in South India, of and home alike, and render obedience t 'self-supporting' missions on Bishop Tay- them; otherwise the house would become lor's plan, it has been found so little labor could be given to evangelistic labors among the heathen, that last year the missionary committee of the Methodist church was called upon to make an appropriation for this purpose, which it did. It is a question whether Bishop Taylor's party are entitled to be called missionaries. It would seem that they are more properly Christian colonists. There are, however, many cases of self-sustaining missionaries, who, having sufficient income for a support, consecrate themselves to the service of God among the heathen. Many of these have gone from England to heathen lands, and it is to be hoped that their example will be largely imitated in America."

driving through hope to reduce the expenses. There are two families of Sabbath-keepers Israel. remaining there, each having six members. In one family the parents and two children are professors of religion, and the other two to the fold. In the other family only the parents have made profession, and the chilshall do what I can to induce them to move to other societies of our people, which they their farms.

In regard to raising money for the Mis-Irish and French and Roman Catholic. We sionary Society, I have done all that I feel at liberty to do under the circumstances. We have contributed about thirty dollars to tion of a new New England a part of the the Tract Society, thirty-four to the Misresources which we have been devoting to sionary Society, and about six to the Sabbath School Board. To raise this amount has required no little effort. But it is with a degree of satisfaction that I forward the amount to the several Societies, feeling the assurance that if all our churches will raise an equal amount according to ability, the Societies will not only be able to pay indebtedness, but to commence another year's work with treasuries replenished. With an earnest prayer for the divine blessing to attend the coming Anniversaries, and the work of the Societies another year, I remain your fellow laborer.

CHUBCH DEDICATION.

We have just dedicated a Seventh-day Baptist church at Salemville, Pennsylvania, that would do honor to any village or country in all the land. As Eld. Kagarise was disappointed in obtaining other help, the services were conducted by himself and the writer of this article, after the manner of the dedication of the temple built by Solomon, varying to suit the present dispensation. The services began Sabbath morning, August 28th by carrying to its place in the temple the book containing the law which was on the tables of stone that the ark contained. There was "Bishop William Taylor has now in his preaching in the forenoon and afternoon. On 29th, at 10 A. M., a large congregation as sembled and listened to a discourse from the text, "Thus the king and all the Children o Israel dedicated the house of the Lord."

But I hope to do so during the fall, and by and if it was done in the proper spirit, God they did not come out as well as on the Sabwould reward us as he did the Children of bath.

At the close of the discourse the people generally contributed; and, although the amount was by no means equal to the cost of the building, the committee who had constructed the building released the house from the debt; and the house was dedicated dren are too young. If I visit them again, I by solemn prayer, the leader kneeling upon his knees while the congregation stood. When the leader arose he blessed, or craved will doubtless do as soon as they can sell the blessing of God upon, the people; and after the benediction the congregation dispersed to meet again in the evening, and ally.

again the next day and evening. Thus our gospel feast is progressing with good interest. It may not last fourteen days; but is likely by the missionaries. I think that Austin to continue over Sabbath. May the Lord grant us a glorious feast. S. D. DAVIS. SALEMVILLE, Pa., Sept. 1, 1886.

FROM GEO. J. CRANDALL.

NORTH LOUP, Neb., Sept. 2, 1886.

Dear Brother,-I have little new to report to you in regard to this field, except a new opening at Cameron, Hall county, in this state. I saw the correspondence in the RECORDER from that place, and being located nearer to them than any others of our faith, I wrote Bro. Goodrich a letter. Before receiving mine, he wrote to me asking me to visit them, saying there was a Methodist minister there who was to present " what the Bible has to say about the Sabbath," on the 15th of August, and he desired me to hear it, and make reply. I went at the time appointed. The minister took for his text, "Remember the Sabbath-day to keep it holy," and he came so near telling them "what God had to say about the Sabbath," that his own people said, "He preached more for Saturday than for Sunday," so I had not much to reply to. But there were quite a number of First-day people in the neighborhood who had expressed a desire to hear from a Seventh-day Baptist on that subject, so I preached a series of sermons upon it, commencing with its institution, going through its history among the Jews under the prophets, Christ and the apostles, also making some statements in regard to its history for the

While on my way to the North-Western

Association I called on two families of Sab bath-keepers in Austin, the county seat of Mower county; and on my return I called on still another family; also on two families who were brought up to keep the Sabbath. I made several calls on families in Albert Lea, the county seat of Freeborn county. The Sabbath cause is losing ground in both these places; still there are a few in each place who will always remain true, and should be encouraged and visited occasion-

It is a great help and encouragement to the lone Sabbath-keepers to be remembered would be a good point to work from for awhile this fall or winter; but with three needy churches to work for, one missionary does not have much time to work up other interests. The great need on this field is at least one more worker, with a heart in the work and a willingness to endure some hardships as a good soldier of the cross. If the worker can be found I think the people will do what they are able to towards supporting and maintaining him.

I have been home now about two weeks. There is a good interest in all the appointments of the church, with an average at tendance of about twenty at the Sixth-day night prayer-meeting, and about fifty at the Sabbath morning service. Nearly all stay to the Sabbath-school.

NEW AUBURN, Minn., Aug. 31, 1886.

FROM S. D. DAVIS.

SALEMVILLE, Pa., Sept. 1, 1886.

Dear Brethren,-Again with pleasure I take up the task of reporting to you. On the 9th day of June I started for Flint Run, visiting by the way. This is a point north of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and one I had not visited in the past year. On this trip I was away from home six days, preaching four sermons and making thirteen calls and visits.

On account of pastoral duties and the sickness of a friend who fell sick at our house, I was prevented from going to Braxton and Webster counties as I had hoped to your neck till you see our great Queen and do; and performed no mission work chargeable to the Board until July 18th, when I preached two sermons at Broad Run. On the 21st I visited an isolated Sabbath-keeper he has since died. On the 22d I started for Cove Creek. On this trip I found that an aged lady, over one hundred years of age, had recently begun anew to keep God's holy Sabbath. Her statement to her daughter, who related the same to me, was substantially as follows: "I have believed for many years that the seventh day is the Sabbath. Your father and I began keeping it many years ago, and kept it for some time. We sought a home among Sabbath-keepers, but were disappointed in getting one. Your father thought we could not keep the Sabbath among First-day people, and we gave it up. I have always wanted to keep it, and thought I would." Her daughter replied, "Mother, you can keep it here with me as well as not." And now, though over one hundred years old, she argues the Sabbath question with delight, in a way that ought Dear Brethren,-The first two weeks of to convince any one of his obligation to the quarter were spent with the church here observe it. At the earnest request of both mother and daughter, I left an appointment The meeting on Cove Creek was the first communion service that the Bear Fork church has enjoyed since it dismissed Eld. Martin from the care of the church. started for Black Lick Run, where we had days' meeting, and returned home on the 9th. On the 13th, I went to Zinnie, where I held a meeting of two days, and came home on the 15th. On the 20th, went to ing daughters.-The Helping Hand.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION For Supplying Female Medical Aid to the Wom. en of India.

None will more heartily rejoice in the ex. stence of such an association as the above than our missionaries in India, who under. stand the need better than those far away. It aims to do, on a larger scale and with bet. ter facilities, a part of what 18 done by our medical missionaries. But from the nature of the case, and the various sources from which the funds are derived, this association must be unsectarian, and to a certain extent. secular in its character. Notwithstanding this necessity, its very existence speaks favorably for Chistianity as compared with Buddh. ism, which, while providing hospitals for va. rious kinds of animals, forbids the services of the male physician to wife and mother. The first annual report of this association. recently issued, expressed a desire to affiliate with the medical work of the various mission.

reciprocated. The formation of this society may perhaps he traced back to the message sent to the Queen of England by the Maharanee of Pun. na in 1881. The story is not new but may be recalled.

ary societies, a desire which will be cordially

In the beginning of the year 1881, Miss Beilby, of Lucknow, was summoned by the Maharajah, of Punna, to attend his wife, who had long been suffering from an pain. ful, internal disease, and who could receive no aid from native physicians, because the customs of the country positively forbade a Zenana lady from being seen by any man except her husband, father, or brother. The lady physician, prompt to see the significance of such a call, made the journey of one hun. dred miles, stayed for weeks in this city, in which was no other European, and devoted herself with so much skill and fidelity to the care of the lady_that a complete recovery was the result. When the time came for her return, the Maharanee entreated her to tell the Queen what the Zenana ladies of India. had to suffer in the time of sickness, and to give the account in person, that it might have more weight. Miss Beilby tried to make her understand that it might not be easy to obtain an audience of the Queen, and that if she could, the Queen would not be able to make lady doctors or order them to go out, not even the great Queen of England could do that. This explanation, however, was not accepted by the persistent lady, who brought pen, ink and paper, and said she must write a message, and "Write it small, Doctor Miss Sahiba, for I want to put it in a locket, and you are to wear the locket round give it to her yourself."

On reaching England. Miss Beilby secured the interview with the Queen, who listened with deepest sympathy to the story the physician had to tell. A kind message was sent near Elderado. I found him very sick, and to the Maharanee, and another given to Miss Beilby for every one with whom she spoke upon the subject. "We wish it generally known that we sympathize with every effort to relieve the suffering state of the women of India." From this time, the sufferings of the women of India in sickness have attracted much attention in England, which has culminated in this national association for their relief. Lady Dufferin, wife of the Vicerov of India, is the efficient President, and the Queen has graciously accepted the position of Royal Patron. Its affairs are managed by a central committee, and branches have been formed in many parts of the country. Its aim is to train native women as nurses, doctors, and midwives, and to open dispensaries and hospitals for women under the supervision of women, as seems to be necessary in a country where the system of female seclusion prevails. Large sums have been contributed to the fund for Lady Dufferin's work. One aged and wealthy lady gave $60,000. A gift of $50,000 came from a wealthy Parsee to build a hospital, and several foundations for dispensaries have been laid by native gentlemen. The income of the society the first year was to preach at their home, on my return, on £23,000. The subject of medical work in general seems to have had a new impulse throughout the country, and the medical work of missions receives the benefit of it. A remarkable instance is the gift made by the Nawab of Rampore, to the mission at Bareilly. Miss Swain, the lady physician, reached home on the 27th, and on the 29th felt the need of a site for a hospital. The most convenient property belonged to the Nawab-an estate of fifty acres with a large an excellent meeting of two days. I came brick house, two wells, a garden and outhome on the 2d of August. On the 5th, I buildings. When asked to sell it for Miss went to Roanoke, where we held a three Swain's work, his answer was, "O, take it, take it, I am glad to give it to you for such purpose.

"Remember the Sabbath-day, Bix days shalt thou labor, and do a the seventh day is the Sabbath of th PRESENT SUNDAY L of the States and Territories of t BY REV. A. H. LEWIS, NEW MEXICO. "Any person or persons who on the first day of the week, co Sunday, engaged in any game in horse-racing, cock-fighting any other manner disturbing assembly, or private family, o selling any goods, wares or chaitels or liquors, or any othe erty, or in holding or attend meeting or public exhibition, ligious worship or instruction any labor, except works of nee or mercy; or who shall keep of shop, or office, or other place place for the display of good chandise, shall be punished b ceeding fifty dollars, nor less t for the first offense, and for any subsequent offense, by a than twenty-five dollars, nor hundred dollars, or by impris less than five, nor more than the discretion of the court o conviction before any distric tice of the peace; one-half to one-half to the school fund." "Provided." that "travel ferry boats, livery stables, how

Sabbath Be

rants, and barbers, may pur tion: and that butchers and meat and bread and like an liquors or general merchandia may sell and deliver drugs, surgical instruments on that

"It shall always be law fields. or to remove grain and in cases of necessity. Civil be served, except in cases wh bility to loss or serious Time of Sunday-"Sunrise the same day." * NORTH CABOLI Prohibits all ordinary work land or water, necessity an cepted : all hunting, tishing, sports or plays, by persons years of age, under penalty No intoxicating liquors, mal other, may be sold, except up tion of a physician. for medi under fine or imprisonment, the court. In 1879, it was enacted t company should run any loc within the state, except thos mail, or passengers and mai ered the time from sunrise in transitu permitted to run in order to reach usual termi of the company. In 1885 granted to trains made u perishable freight and live and unloading freight can Railroad officials, offending particulars, may be indicted through which the trains p less than five hundred dol fense. Fishing with nets fastened to stakes, is fort the counties of Carteret an "established seines" may penalty of two hundred to lars, or imprisonment for t OHIO Prohibits all persons ove age from sporting, rioting, ing, fishing or shooting of penalty of not more than imprisonment not more or both; complaint to be days. Common labor is for alty of not more than five provision are exempted t tiously observe the seventh igrating, watermen landi attending toll-bridges. barters any spirituous li of five dollars or less. Or not be made on Sunday. OREGOI

FROM D. K. DAVIS.

HUMBOLDT, Neb., Aug. 31, 1886.

preaching and other forms of gospel labor | burden of that prayer in which Solomon | are abundant and promise rich reward if asked the divine blessing on the spiritual faithfully and persistently performed in the home of the Israelites. All our prayers church; yet a goodly number of the brethren and sisters are faithful to their covenant lief from the famine or the pestilence. If obligations, and hopeful in regard to the success of the cause of Christ, if they continue to have the labors of a faithful pastor. As a church we are making progress. We must be with the desire to be more efficient are coming to realize more and more our responsibilities, and the zeal and efficiency of ple. A part of the service when Solomon's our young people is very encouraging. Not- temple was dedicated, was the offering of both of these churches with a good interest, withstanding the hard times and some financial embarrassments, we have contributed several times as much for our denominational work as in any previous year.

ant Hill, where there is a fair congregation and the best attenion. Since my last report I have changed my appointment from Round Grove to Kennedy school-house, where I have good congregations and good atten-When cold weather sets in I extion. Grove for the winter. I have not visited Har.

that man is a local being, and must have a home. A home contemplates a family with a governor and laws to govern the family. The family must have a place at which they can come together. Hence a house is an and members of the same, may have a home, they must understand the laws of the family place of torment rather than a home. The members of the family should look to the interests of the home in all things. This is true spiritually, as well as temporally. Every man must have a spiritual home. That home must have God as its head, or governor. This contemplates a family to govern; and they must have a place to meet. Hence the templé and the injunction to forsake not the assembling of yourselves together. The family, or members of the home, must understand the law of the governor, or head, alike, or their place of meeting would become a place of torment, rather than a home. Hence the necessity of this building in Salemville. That God should care for his presence there, and supply the various wants Dear Brother,-I have nothing new to of his people when they prayed toward ask for release from our enemies, or for rewe expect our prayers to be answered, our prayers must look to the interests of our spiritual home; and if we ask for rain it and enlarged. Hence pray toward the temsacrifice; and if we would dedicate this house, we should, from the king, or those that were highest in authority, down to the least of the Children of Israel, make sacrifice. I still continue my appointment at Pleas- Israel was explained to mean one that had power with God; and man had wrestled and scendants.

ancestors, and would take a part in this good, thorough reformation, there are quite service. We need not sacrifice cattle now as a number who would soon join it, I think. pect to resume my appointments at Round they were sacrificed in the dedication service They need a faithful, devoted pastor to be of Solomon's temple; but we could make with them all the time. I held two eveningward this season, because I did not see how the sacrifice in subscribing, or giving of our Board could afford the expense of the trip. | means, for the construction of this temple; | there; but the people are so scattered that | the trust committed to me.

ad good congregations and a good interest to the close. What the outcome may be we cannot tell.

first three centuries of the Christian era. I

Bro. Goodrich and his wife were baptized and united with the North Loup Church. The next Sabbath after I came home a Mrs. S. S. Brown, from Central City, Neb., and formerly a member of the M. E. church, presented herself as a candidate for baptism and church membership: She was sprinkled when she was five years old and united with that church, but her attention being called to the question of the Sabbath, and also of baptism, and finding that the Scriptures teach that the seventh day is the Sabbath, and that immersion is baptism, she em braced the truth and became a member with us. Thus the Lord is bringing the harvest to us from the surrounding country.

FBOM A. G. CBOFOOT.

Beport for the Quarter Ending Aug. 31, 1886.

people in their temple home, manifest his in New Auburn. The second week was the time of the Semi-Annual Meeting with this church, and we were encouraged by the help the evening of the 26th. write you from this field. Opportunity for his house, their place of meeting was the of brethren and sisters from Trenton and Dodge Centre, also by those living near St. Peter, about thirty miles south. I visited those near St. Peter about two weeks ago, name of the Master. I wrote you of some must look toward the temple if we expect and find they are trying to uphold the light discouraging features in connection with this God to hear and answer them, whether we of God's Sabbath, and maintain their Christian integrity.

> I have worked eight weeks of the quarter with the Trenton and Alden churches. Three Sabbaths I preached at both places. They are about fourteen miles apart. The congregations averaged about thirty-five on the Sabbath, at Trenton, and about fifteen at Alden. The Sabbath-school is kept up in except in the severest part of the winter. Most of the families are trying to do what they can to maintain the cause of Christ. One joined the Trenton Church on verbal testimony, and there are others who ought to. There is not as much spiritual life in is more interest on the part of some than The speaker hoped we had all had religious ever before. If the church could have a

meetings a week most of the time while

Salem, conducted a quarterly meeting, and returned on the 22d. On the 25th I started for this place, to assist in the dedication of the new church in this village, which is one of the nicest village or country churches I ever beheld. It stands on a beautiful elevation of land above the street, and is easy of access. It is 42 feet long, 26 feet in width, and 13¹/₂ feet between the floor and ceiling; had prevailed. The children are Israel's de- the church as we could wish for, still there is plastered inside with alabastine finish, pale blue walls and white overhead: has a is near. We are now holding services in it leave, but going gladly at the call of God, every evening, with increasing interest. I may penetrate the gloom of heathenism, have enjoyed my work this year wonderfully,

By these and many kindred means, God speed the day of deliverance to India's suffer-

BRFORE that great ending (which is really great beginning, nothing less than the Second Advent of Christ, and the establishment of his kingdom in power-unknown before) the gospel shall be preached in the whole world for a testimony unto all the nations. In some way this must be done. The witness is to be given-this is a matter of prophecy; the witnesses then shall be forthcoming-this is a matter of necessity. May beautiful wainscoting, with full pit and pews God grant that, taught by the wondrous hisas nice as they get; and its belfry contains a tory of our country, and its heaven-designed bell with clear tone, sufficiently loud to no- destiny, multitudes of English men and tify every church member that church time women, not waiting till they are forced to each being the center of a vast sphere of and wish to return thanks to the Board for light from the Light of the world.-London Chronicle.

Prohibits the opening inces for trade or traffic, ment, or any tippling sho five to fifty dollars. The scoppie drug stores, doo taker shops, livery stables

Compiled laws of New 1

Revised Statutes of N. C. Lows of 1878-77, pp. 88, 94, pp. 148, 659; Lows of 1898

Missions.

"Go ye into all the world; and preach the gospel to every creature."

THE Christian Union says that New England, which has been a source of missionary strength, is becoming a missionary field. their homes in the West.- Many an old home- to other societies of our people, which they stead is either deserted or owned by foreigners. Factory help that was once largely American and Protestant, is now principally Irish and French and Roman Catholic. We ought, therefore, "to strengthen the things that remain, and devote to the evangelization of a new New England a part of the resources which we have been devoting to planting churches for a really older population in newer states."

THE population of this country in 1850, in round numbers, was 25,000,000, the members of evangelical churches, 3,000,000; in 1880 the population was 50,000,000, the church members 9,000,000. There is to-day a higher standard of Christian morality. The cause of temperance and of human liberty are illustrations of this progress. Seventy-five years ago, it is said, nearly $1,-000,000 were raised for Union College as the result of a lottery; but who would think of trying the same method now? True, there is much of selfishness and corruption coming to light in our day; but this is one sign of the presence and power of righteousness, that is vigorously throwing off the disease.

UNLESS special pains is taken to investigate the matter, people are in danger of being misled by what they now and then read concerning "self-supplying missions;" and we are glad to publish for our readers the following brief, but candid and fair statement of the case, from the Baptist Missionary Magazine:

West-African missions, thirty-nine missionaries-twenty-seven men and twelve women -ten of whom are to accompany him up the Congo and Kasai rivers, to establish new stations there. His plan is, that the pascontributions in this country, and the laborers supported for two or three years, until they are established on farms or in some employment; after that they are to support themselves. It is only fair to state, however, that, if the laborers support themselves, it is found by experience that they can do comparatively little missionary work, as their time and strength is largely devoted to the labors necessary to provide for their wants. After many years' trial in South India, of lor's plan, it has been found so little labor could be given to evangelistic labors among the heathen, that last year the missionary committee of the Methodist church was called upon to make an appropriation for this purpose, which it did. It is a question whether Bishop Taylor's party are entitled to be called missionaries. It would seem that they are more properly Christian colonists. There are, however, many cases of self-sustaining missionaries, who, having sufficient income for a support, consecrate themselves to the service of God among the heathen. Many of these have gone from England to heathen lands, and it is to be hoped that their example will be largely imitated in America."

driving through hope to reduce the expenses. There are two families of Sabbath-keepers remaining there, each having six members. In one family the parents and two children are professors of religion, and the other two to the fold. In the other family only the Those who, long ago, lived on the farms and | parents have made profession, and the chilsupported the churches, have passed away; dren are too young. If I visit them again, I and many of their descendants have found | shall do what I can to induce them to move

will doubtless do as soon as they can sell their farms. In regard to raising money for the Missionary Society, I have done all that I feel at liberty to do under the circumstances. We have contributed about thirty dollars to It may not last fourteen days; but is likely the Tract Society, thirty-four to the Mis- to continue over Sabbath. May the Lord sionary Society, and about six to the Sabbath School Board. To raise this amount has required no little effort. But it is with a degree of satisfaction that I forward the amount to the several Societies, feeling the assurance that if all our churches will raise an equal amount according to ability, the Societies will not only be able to pay indebtedness, but to commence another year's work with treasuries replenished. With an earnest prayer for the divine blessing to attend the coming Anniversaries, and the work of the Societies another year, I remain your fellow laborer.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

We have just dedicated a Seventh-day Baptist church at Salemville, Pennsylva nia, that would do honor to any village or country in all the land. As Eld. Kagarise was disappointed in obtaining other help, the services were conducted by himself and the writer of this article, after the manner of the dedication of the temple built by Solomon, varying to suit the present dispensation. The services began Sabbath morning, August 28th by carrying to its place in the temple the book containing the law which was on the tables of stone that the ark contained. There was "Bishop William Taylor has now in his preaching in the forenoon and afternoon. On 29th, at 10 A. M., a large congregation as sembled and listened to a discourse from the text, "Thus the king and all the Children of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord." sages of the missionaries should be paid by Kings 8:63. In this discourse it was argued that man is a local being, and must have home. A home contemplates a family with a governor and laws to govern the family. The family must have a place at which they can come together. Hence a house is an absolute necessity. In order that a family and members of the same, may have a home they must understand the laws of the famil and home alike, and render obedience to 'self-supporting' missions on Bishop Tay- them; otherwise the house would become place of torment rather than a home. The members of the family should look to the interests of the home in all things. This is true spiritually, as well as temporally. Every man must have a spiritual home. That home must have God as its head, or governor, This contemplates a family to govern; and they must have a place to meet. Hence the templé and the injunction to forsake not the to us from the surrounding country. assembling of yourselves together. The family, or members of the home, must understand the law of the governor, or head, alike, or their place of meeting would become a place of torment, rather than a home. Hence the necessity of this building in Salemville. That God should care for his people in their temple home, manifest his presence there, and supply the various wants Dear Brother,-I have nothing new to of his people when they prayed toward church, and we were encouraged by the help the evening of the 26th. write you from this field. Opportunity for his house, their place of meeting was the preaching and other forms of gospel labor | burden of that prayer in which Solomon | are abundant and promise rich reward if asked the divine blessing on the spiritual faithfully and persistently performed in the home of the Israelites. All our prayers those near St. Peter about two weeks ago, name of the Master. I wrote you of some | must look toward the temple if we expect | and find they are trying to uphold the light discouraging features in connection with this | God to hear and answer them, whether we | of God's Sabbath, and maintain their Chrisask for release from our enemies, or for reren and sisters are faithful to their covenant lief from the famine or the pestilence. If obligations, and hopeful in regard to the we expect our prayers to be answered, our success of the cause of Christ, if they con- prayers must look to the interests of our tinue to have the labors of a faithful pastor. spiritual home; and if we ask for rain it As a church we are making progress. We must be with the desire to be more efficient and enlarged. Hence pray toward the temple. A part of the service when Solomon's temple was dedicated, was the offering of both of these churches with a good interest, sacrifice; and if we would dedicate this house, we should, from the king, or those that were highest in authority, down to the they can to maintain the cause of Christ. least of the Children of Israel, make sacrifice. Israel was explained to mean one that had ant Hill, where there is a fair congregation power with God; and man had wrestled and and the best attenion. Since my last report | had prevailed. The children are Israel's de-

But I hope to do so during the fall, and by and if it was done in the proper spirit, God they did not come out as well as on the Sabwould reward us as he did the Children of bath. Israel.

At the close of the discourse the people generally contributed; and, although the amount was by no means equal to the cost of are old enough and ought to be gathered in- the building, the committee who had constructed the building released the house from the debt; and the house was dedicated by solemn prayer, the leader kneeling upon his knees while the congregation stood. When the leader arose he blessed, or craved the blessing of God upon, the people; and after the benediction the congregation dis- | should be encouraged and visited occasionpersed to meet again in the evening, and ally. again the next day and evening. Thus our gospel feast is progressing with good interest.

> grant us a glorious feast. S. D. DAVIS. SALEMVILLE, Pa., Sept. 1, 1886.

FROM GEO. J. CRANDALL.

NORTH LOUP, Neb., Sept. 2, 1886.

Dear Brother,-I have little new to report to you in regard to this field, except a new opening at Cameron, Hall county, in this state. I saw the correspondence in the RECORDER from that place, and being located nearer to them than any others of our faith, I wrote Bro. Goodrich a letter. Before receiving mine, he wrote to me asking me to visit them, saying there was a Methodist minister there who was to present " what the Bible has to say about the Sabbath," on the 15th of August, and he desired me to hear it, and make reply. I went at the time appointed. The minister took for his text, "Remember the Sabbath-day to keep it holy," and he came so near telling them "what God had to say about the Sabbath," that his own people said, "He preached more for Saturday than for Sunday," so I had not much to reply to. But there were quite a number of First-day people in the neighborhood who had expressed a desire to hear from a Seventh-day Baptist on that subject, so] preached a series of sermons upon it, commencing with its institution, going through its history among the Jews under the prophets, Christ and the apostles, also making some statements in regard to its history for the first three centuries of the Christian era. I had good congregations and a good interest

While on my way to the North-Western Association I called on two families of Sabbath-keepers in Austin, the county seat of Mower county; and on my return I called on still another family; also on two families who were brought up to keep the Sabbath. I made several calls on families in Albert Lea. the county seat of Freeborn county. The Sabbath cause is losing ground in both these places; still there are a few in each place who will always remain true, and

It is a great help and encouragement to the lone Sabbath-keepers to be remembered by the missionaries. I think that Austin would be a good point to work from for awhile this fall or winter; but with three needy churches to work for, one missionary does not have much time to work up other interests. The great need on this field is at least one more worker, with a heart in the work and a willingness to endure some hardships as a good soldier of the cross. If the worker can be found I think the people will do what they are able to towards supporting and maintaining him.

I have been home now about two weeks. There is a good interest in all the appointments of the church, with an average attendance of about twenty at the Sixth-day night prayer-meeting, and about fifty at the Sabbath morning service. Nearly all stay to the Sabbath-school.

NEW AUBURN, Minn., Aug. 31, 1886.

FROM S. D. DAVIS.

SALEMVILLE, Pa., Sept. 1, 1886.

Dear Brethren,-Again with pleasure I take up the task of reporting to you. On the 9th day of June I started for Flint Run, visiting by the way. This is a point north of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and one I had not visited in the past year. On this trip I was away from home six days, preaching four sermons and making thirteen calls and visits.

On account of pastoral duties and the sickness of a friend who fell sick at our house, I was prevented from going to Braxton and Webster, counties as I had hoped to do: and performed no mission work chargeable to the Board until July 18th, when preached two sermons at Broad Run. On the 21st I visited an isolated Sabbath-keeper near Elderado. I found him very sick. and he has since died. On the 22d I started for Cove Creek. On this trip I found that an aged lady, over one hundred years of age, had recently begun anew to keep God's holy Sabbath. Her statement to her daughter, who related the same to me, was substantially as follows: "I have believed for many vears that the seventh day is the Sabbath. years ago, and kept it for some time. We sought a home among Sabbath-keepers, but were disappointed in getting one. Your father thought we could not keep the Sabbath among First-day people, and we gave it up. I have always wanted to keep it, and thought I would." Her daughter replied, "Mother, you can keep it here with me as well as not." And now, though over one hundred years old, she argues the Sabbath | fund for Lady Dufferin's work. One aged question with delight, in a way that ought to convince any one of his obligation to observe it. At the earnest request of both mother and daughter, I left an appointment | The income of the society the first year was to preach at their home, on my return, on | £23,000. The subject of medical work in communion service that the Bear Fork church has enjoyed since it dismissed Eld. Martin from the care of the church. reached home on the 27th, and on the 29th started for Black Lick Run, where we had an excellent meeting of two days. I came home on the 2d of August. On the 5th, I went to Roanoke, where we held a three Swain's work, his answer was, "O, take it, days' meeting, and returned home on the 9th. On the 13th, I went to Zinnie, where congregations averaged about thirty-five on I held a meeting of two days, and came the Sabbath, at Trenton, and about fifteen at home on the 15th. On the 20th, went to ing daughters .- The Helping Hand.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION For Supplying Female Medical Aid to the Women of India.

None will more heartily rejoice in the ex. istence of such an association as the above than our missionaries in India, who understand the need better than those far away. It aims to do, on a larger scale and with bet. ter facilities, a part of what 1s done by our medical missionaries. But from the nature of the case, and the various sources from which the funds are derived, this association must be unsectarian, and to a certain extent secular in its character. Notwithstanding this necessity, its very existence speaks favorably for Chistianity as compared with Buddh. ism, which, while providing hospitals for yarious kinds of animals, forbids the services of the male physician to wife and mother. The first annual report of this association. recently issued, expressed a desire to affiliate with the medical work of the various mission.

reciprocated. The formation of this society may perhaps be traced back to the message sent to the Queen of England by the Maharanee of Pun. na in 1881. The story is not new but may be recalled.

ary societies, a desire which will be cordially

In the beginning of the year 1881, Miss Beilby, of Lucknow, was summoned by the Maharajah, of Punna, to attend his wife, who had long been suffering from an pain. ful, internal disease, and who could receive no aid from native physicians, because the customs of the country positively forbade a Zenana lady from being seen by any man except her husband, father, or brother. The lady physician, prompt to see the significance of such a call, made the journey of one hundred miles, stayed for weeks in this city, in which was no other European, and devoted herself with so much skill and fidelity to the care of the lady that a complete recovery was the result. When the time came for her return, the Maharanee entreated her to tell the Queen what the Zenana ladies of India. had to suffer in the time of sickness, and to give the account in person, that it might have more weight. Miss Beilby tried to make her understand that it might not be easy to obtain an audience of the Queen, and that if she could, the Queen would not be able to make lady doctors or order them to go out, not even the great Queen of England could do that. This explanation, however, was not accepted by the persistent lady, who brought pen, ink and paper, and said she must write a message, and "Write it small, Doctor Miss Sahiba, for I want to put it in a locket, and you are to wear the locket round your neck till you see our great Queen and give it to her yourself."

On reaching England, Miss Beilby secured the interview with the Queen, who listened with deepest sympathy to the story the physician had to tell. A kind message was sent to the Maharanee, and another given to Miss Beilby for every one with whom she spoke upon the subject. "We wish it generally known that we sympathize with every effort to relieve the suffering state of the women of India."

"Remember the Sabbath-day, Six days shalt thou labor, and do the seventh day is the Sabbath of th PRESENT SUNDAY L of the States and Territories of 1 BY REV. A. H. LEWIS NEW MEXICO. "Any person or persons whe on the first day of the week, co Sunday, engaged in any game in horse-racing, cock-fighting any other manner disturbing assembly, or private family, o selling any goods, wares or chattels or liquors, or any other erty, or in holding or attend meeting or public exhibition ligious worship or instruction any labor, except works of ne or mercy; or who shall keep shop, or office, or other place place for the display of good chandise, shall be punished b ceeding fifty dollars, nor less t for the first offense, and for any subsequent offense, by a than twenty-five dollars, nor hundred dollars, or by impris less than five, nor more than the discretion of the court of conviction before any distric

Sabhath Be

tice of the peace; one-half to one-half to the school fund." "Provided," that "travel ferry boats, livery stables, ho

rants, and barbers, may pur tion; and that butchers and meat and bread and like a liquors or general merchandi may sell and deliver drugs, surgical instruments on that "It shall always be law fields, or to remove grain and in cases of necessity. Civil be served, except in cases wh bility to loss or serious Time of Sunday-"Sunrise the same day." *

FBOM D. R. DAVIS. HUMBOLDT, Neb., Aug. 31, 1886. church; yet a goodly number of the brethare coming to realize more and more our responsibilities, and the zeal and efficiency of our young people is very encouraging. Notwithstanding the hard times and some financial embarrassments, we have contributed several times as much for our denominational work as in any previous year.

I still continue my appointment at Pleas-I have changed my appointment from Round | scendants. Grove to Kennedy school-house, where I have good congregations and good atten-When cold weather sets in I extion. pect to resume my appointments at Round Grove for the winter. I have not visited Harvard this season, because I did not see how the

ancestors, and would take a part in this good, thorough reformation, there are quite service. We need not sacrifice cattle now as a number who would soon join it, I think. they were sacrificed in the dedication service | They need a faithful, devoted pastor to be of Solomon's temple; but we could make with them all the time. I held two eveningsacrifice in subscribing, or giving of our meetings a week most of the time while to the close. What the outcome may be we cannot tell.

Bro. Goodrich and his wife were baptized and united with the North Loup Church. The next Sabbath after I came home a Mrs. S. S. Brown, from Central City, Neb., and formerly a member of the M. E. church, presented herself as a candidate for baptism and church membership. She was sprinkled when she was five years old and united with that church, but her attention being called to the question of the Sabbath, and also of baptism, and finding that the Scriptures teach that the seventh day is the Sabbath, and that immersion is baptism, she embraced the truth and became a member with us. Thus the Lord is bringing the harvest

FROM A. G. CROFOOT.

Beport for the Quarter Ending Aug. 31, 1886.

Dear Brethren,-The first two weeks of the quarter were spent with the church here in New Auburn. The second week was the time of the Semi-Annual Meeting with this of brethren and sisters from Trenton and Dodge Centre, also by those living near St.

Peter, about thirty miles south. I visited tian integrity.

> I have worked eight weeks of the quarter with the Trenton and Alden churches. Three Sabbaths I preached at both places. They are about fourteen miles apart. The Alden. The Sabbath-school is kept up in Salem, conducted a quarterly meeting, and except in the severest part of the winter. Most of the families are trying to do what One joined the Trenton Church on verbal testimony, and there are others who ought to. There is not as much spiritual life in the church as we could wish for, still there is more interest on the part of some than

The speaker hoped we had all had religious ever before. If the church could have a Board could afford the expense of the trip. means, for the construction of this temple; there, but the people are so scattered that the trust committed to me.

returned on the 22d. On the 25th I started for this place, to assist in the dedication of the new church in this village, which is one of the nicest village or country churches I ever beheld. It stands on a beautiful elevation of land above the street, and is easy of access. It is 12 feet long, 26 feet in width, and 134 feet between the floor and ceiling; is plastered inside with alabastine finish, pale blue walls and white overhead; has a

From this time, the sufferings of the women of India in sickness have attracted much attention in England, which has culminated in this national association for their relief. Lady Dufferin, wife of the Viceroy of India, Your father and I began keeping it many is the efficient President, and the Queen has graciously accepted the position of Royal Patron. Its affairs are managed by a central committee, and branches have been formed in many parts of the country. Its aim is to train native women as nurses, doctors, and midwives, and to open dispensaries and hospitals for women under the supervision of women, as seems to be necessary in a country where the system of female seclusion prevails.

Large sums have been contributed to the and wealthy lady gave $60,000. A gift of $50,000 came from a wealthy Parsee to build a hospital, and several foundations for dispensaries have been laid by native gentlemen. general seems to have had a new impulse The meeting on Cove Creek was the first throughout the country, and the medical work of missions receives the benefit of it. A remarkable instance is the gift made by the Nawab of Rampore, to the mission at Bareilly. Miss Swain, the lady physician, felt the need of a site for a hospital. The most convenient property belonged to the Nawab-an estate of fifty acres with a large brick house, two wells, a garden and outbuildings. When asked to sell it for Miss take it, I am glad to give it to you for such a purpose."

> By these and many kindred means, God speed the day of deliverance to India's suffer-

BEFORE that great ending (which is really a great beginning, nothing less than the Second Advent of Christ, and the establishment of his kingdom in power-unknown before) the gospel shall be preached in the whole world for a testimony anto all the nations. In some way this must be done. The witness is to be given-this is a matter of prophecy; the witnesses then shall be forthcoming-this is a matter of necessity. May beautiful wainscoting, with full pit and pews | God grant that, taught by the wondrous hisas nice as they get; and its belfry contains a | tory of our country, and its heaven-designed bell with clear tone, sufficiently loud to no- destiny, multitudes of English men and tify every church member that church time women, not waiting till they are forced to is near. We are now holding services in it every evening, with increasing interest. I have enjoyed my work this year wonderfully, each being the center of a vast sphere of and wish to return thanks to the Board for light from the Light of the world.—London the trust committed to me.

NORTH CAROLI Prohibits all ordinary work land or water, necessity an cepted; all hunting, tishing, sports or plays, by persons years of age, under penalty No intoxicating liquors, mal other, may be sold, except up tion of a physician. for med under fine or imprisonment, the court.

In 1879, it was enacted company should run any lo within the state, except those mail, or passengers and mai ered the time from sunrise in transitu permitted to ru in order to reach usual termi of the company. In 1885 granted to trains made u perishable freight and live and unloading freight ca Railroad officials, offending particulars, may be indicte through which the trains p less than five hundred do fense. Fishing with nets fastened to stakes, is for the counties of Carteret an "established seines" may penalty of two hundred to lars, or imprisonment for

OHIO Prohibits all persons ove age from sporting, rioting ing, fishing or shooting o penalty of not more than imprisonment not more or both; complaint to be days. Common labor is for alty of not more than five provision are exempted t tiously observe the sevent igrating, watermen landi attending toll-bridges. barters any spirituous li of five dollars or less. Or not be made on Sunday. OBEGO

Prohibits the opening inem for trade or traffic, ment, or any tippling she five to fifty dollars. The szospis drug stores, doo taker shops, livery stable

Complied laws of New H

Revised Statutes of N. C. Laws of 1378-77, pp. 83, 84: pp. 335, 869; Laws of 1899

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION plying Female Medical Aid to the Womon of India.

a will more heartily rejoice in the erof such an association as the above ar missionaries in India, who underthe need better than those far away. to do, on a larger scale and with betilities, a part of what is done by our d missionaries. But from the nature case, and the various sources from the funds are derived, this association be unsectarian, and to a certain extent rin its character. Notwithstanding this ity. its very existence speaks favorably. distignity as compared with Buddh. hich, while providing hospitals for vakinds of animals, forbids the services male physician to wife and mother. rst annual report of this association. ly issued, expressed a desire to affiliate he medical work of the various missioncieties, a desire which will be cordially ocated.

formation of this society may perhaps ced back to the message sent to the of England by the Maharanee of Pun-The story is not new but may 1881. called.

the beginning of the year 1881, Miss v, of Lucknow, was summoned by the rajah, of Punna, to attend his wife. had long been suffering from an painaternal disease, and who could receive 1 from native physicians, because the ms of the country positively forbade a ha lady from being seen by any man t her husband, father, or brother. The physician, prompt to see the significance ch a call, made the journey of one hunmiles, stayed for weeks in this city, in n was no other European, and devoted If with so much skill and fidelity to the of the lady that a complete recovery he result. When the time came for her n, the Maharanee entreated her to tell ueen what the Zenana ladies of India. o suffer in the time of sickness, and to the account in person, that it might more weight. Miss Beilby tried to her understand that it might not be to obtain an audience of the Queen, and she could, the Queen would not be to make lady doctors or order them to it, not even the great Queen of England Ldo that. This explanation, however, not accepted by the persistent lady, who ght pen, ink and paper, and said she write a message, and "Write it small. or Miss Sahiba, for I want to put it in a et, and you are to wear the locket round neck till you see our great Queen and it to her yourself."

n reaching England, Miss Beilby secured

THE SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 30, 1886.

Sabbath Reform.

"Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God."

PRESENT SUNDAY LAWS of the States and Territories of the United States.

BY REV. A. H. LEWIS, D. D. NEW MEXICO.

selling any goods, wares or merchandisc, or mercy; or who shall keep open any store, | within seventy-two hours. shop, or office, or other place of business, or place for the display of goods, wares or merchandise, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, nor less than ten dollars, for the first offense, and for the second or any subsequent offense, by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than five, nor more than twenty days, in the discretion of the court or justice, upon at will. conviction before any district court, or justice of the peace; one-half to the court, and one-half to the school fund." "Provided," that "travelers, keepers of ferry boats, livery stables, hotels and restaurants, and barbers, may pursue their vocation; and that butchers and bakers may sell meat and bread and like articles, but not may sell and deliver drugs, medicines and surgical instruments on that day."

fields, or to remove grain and other products, in cases of necessity. Civil process may not be served, except in cases where there is liability to loss or serious inconvenience." Time of Sunday-"Sunrise to midnight of the same day." *

ers. Also, all circumstances of necessity and be opened 'to instruct a deliberating jury, criminal cases. A civil process is void, and an attempt to serve such process is punishable by a fine of from five to fifty dollars. * PENNSYLVANIA.

Under the general law, no civil process can be served, except in case of treason, felony, or breach of the peace. Canals and rail-"Any person or persons who shall be found roads cannot be compelled to attend their on the first day of the week, commonly called works, in order to expedite travel. All Sunday, engaged in any games or sports, or worldly labor or employment, or business in horse-racing, cock-fighting, dancing, or in | whatsoever-necessity and charity excepted any other manner disturbing any worshiping | -- is forbidden; also unlawful games, shootassembly, or private family, or in buying or ing, hunting, or any diversions whatsoever, under penalty of four dollars. The general chaitels or liquors, or any other kind of prop- provision allows preparing for necessary food. erty, or in holding or attending any public | landing passengers by watermen, removing meeting or public exhibition, except for re- families in transitu, delivering milk and ligious worship or instruction; or engage in other necessaries of life, before 9 A. M., and any labor, except works of necessity, charity, after 5 P. M. All prosecutions to be made

> Persons found drinking or tippling in public houses or places shall pay one shilling and six pence to any constable, on demand, for each offense; and all constables are bound to search suspected places for offenders, and disperse them when found. If they refuse, he may bring them before the nearest justice of the peace, who may place them in the stocks, or bind them to their good behavior

If the keeper of any public place shall countenance or tolerate any breaking of the law on his premises, he may be arrested on the view of any one magistrate, on his own confession, or the testimony of one witness and fined ten shillings for each offense. Food and drink for travelers and lodgers, in moderation, and for refreshment only, are ex liquors or general merchandise; apothecaries cepted. Magistrate to judge what "moderation" is, if complaint be made. It is also unlawful to sell, trade, or barter any spirit-

"It shall always be lawful to irrigate uous, malt or fermented liquors, or for any keeper of any public place to allow any to be drunk on or within his premises under penalty of fifty dollars.

Hunting, shooting, fishing, and trapping are forbidden under penalty of five to twentyfive dollars. Court decisions allow justices to make forcible entry for a better view of men that requires the keeping holy of the Hotels sent omnibuses to meet the trains fulness in respect to book companionship in mercy may be offered in defense, courts may first day of the week. Had this First-day and collect fees from the passengers. Livery Baptist church accepted "the clear, true teams were hired, and all this on Sunday receive a verdict, discharge a jury, or in light," it would have rejoiced in that light, Christ.

> this item refers to a church in Washington, sisters planted the seed of "Sabbatarianism." have increased to decades of thousands. The item seems prophetical. Sunday as Sabbath is growing weaker, and God's down-trodden | Convention of Temperance Workers, in Har-Sabbath is growing in favor. Intelligent risburg, passed as a tenth resolution the fol-

day-keeping is "the clear, true light." L. C. ROGERS.

SUNDAY LEGISLATION.

the departure from truth, and that Seventh-

The manner in which the two-horned beas came up to the view of the Revelator may or may not show that it is a symbol of the United States, as some suppose; but the lamb-like appearance of the advocates of Sunday legislation and the result to us Sab bath-keepers of their zealous efforts show that some beast is coming up to make war against the saints and "forbid any buying oa selling," or lawfully laboring, except by such as have the mark of that beast. I do not even now say that Sunday-keeping is the mark of the beast, but it certainly is a mark of dislovalty to God in these days of light and truth.

There is certainly strong indication that "And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name."

In the matter of Sunday labor it is seen that observers of that day are permitted to violate their laws with impunity. Railroad and steam-boat corporations, drug stores, meat markets, cigar stands, Sunday newswithout arrest or censure; but a consciendinner, or painting the back of a church, to the readers of the RECORDER to know that demand of a court, is arrested, tried, convicted, fined, imprisoned, and this in a New Hampshire. Here, more than forty country that boasts of religious liberty. And things. They throw light upon our work, years ago, two pious Seventh-day Baptist | yet the leaders in the movement innocently | experience, thought. They give a certain smile and say, "We have no intention of dis-Here the Seventh-day Adventists planted turbing you Seventh-day people; we are not their first church, and since their numbers | legislating in the interests of any sect, only providing for a 'civil rest-day.'"

On the 26th ult. the Pennsylvania State Baptists must know that Sunday-keeping is lowing: "We believe in the Christian Sabbath as an indispensable safeguard of our cherished institutions, justified as well by nature and reason as by religious precept We demand the strict enforcement of all laws against its violation, and hold in abhorrence as inimical to the best interests of the people the so-called 'Continental Sunday.

That all corporations, public and private enterprises, and chief among them the drink traffic, engaged in secularizing the day, are violators of wholesome laws and robbers of both health and rest from their dependent employees."

Baptists. Your violation of Sunday laws makes you a robber of health, a violator of a wholesome law, and you are held in abhorrence as inimical to the best interests of the people. "Sunday is an indispensable safeguard," and beware how you labor on that and womanhood that appalls the earnest day. No matter if God has said to you, "The seventh day is the Sabbath of the Rev. 13: 11-17 may refer to this question of Lord thy God," and "six days thou shalt Sunday legislation. Notice the 17th verse: labor," the Pope's Sunday demands your reverence. You shall not buy or sell unless you bow down to this image which an apostate church has set up.

"But of the times and seasons, brethren, ve have no need that I write unto you, for yourselves know perfectly well that" Thes. 5:1) "all that will live godly Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." papers all go "scot-free." Yes, a deacon Tim. 3:12. "But, and if ye suffer for a stern necessity.

3

It is an easy thing to make our daily toil and duty attractive and interesting. The soil which we till has its marvelous secrets. and been a Sabbath-keeping church of tious Sabbath-keeper, getting potatoes for The machinery which we run illustrates some principle. The trade which we pursue As a historical fact it will be interesting or repairing his wagon in order to meet the reaches out through various avenues into the whole world. The trial that touches us "to the quick " has tried other souls. And there are books that tell us facts concerning these dignity to our peculiar lot. They lead us into more sympathizing companionship. They enlarge and exalt our vision.

There are subjects that have a special fascination for us. They appeal directly to our interest, desire, purpose. When we read upon these subjects, an impulse and determination result that shall in some degree discipline and strengthen character. The "strong grasp of the mind," is a phrase that describes this experience. When one reads in this way, there is little risk that the mind will become diseased. It is when we read aimlessly, hastily, restlessly; it is when we yield to the seduction of trivial, pestilent. tawdry books, that mental balance is disturbed and character is defiled.

When people remark that their reading is small, narrow, profitless, because their time and means are limited, the remark must be received with great allowance. It is not so much limited time and limited means as it 18 limited aims. The bracing atmosphere of a few good, sterling books would act like a tonic. The fact is, these people have lived Listen to that, conscientious Seventh-day so long upon newspaper gruel that they haven't the strength to digest the solid meat of substantial books. As a consequence. one observes that they are fickle, shallow, uncultivated, careless, unbelieving, immoral, It is almost impossible to excite their interest in anything that is healthful and meritorious. There is a forfeiture of manhood soul.—Rev. Frank S. Child, in the Christain Weekly.

INTELLECTUAL SUPERIORITY IS POWER.

The Christian denomination which negects to provide for an educated ministry, dooms itself to weakness and insignificance. Intellectual superiority is power, and gives influence everywhere. United with piety, it gives the ministry and church a controlling power in the formation of public sentiment in matters of morality and religion. If you would have an efficient ministry, select young men whom God has designed for the or Sunday-school superintendent observing righteousness' sake, happy are ye; and be not work; furnish their minds with discipline and knowledge; then educate them for their calling. Let them be thoroughly grounded in Christian doctrine. In order to do this. give them a critical knowledge of the Scriptures; let them learn God's teachings in the external and internal history of the church for eighteen centures; let them receive instruction and counsel from one mature in the knowledge and experience of ministerial and pastoral duties; and then let them go forth in God's name, and put on the armor which the fathers are putting off. To say that a young man can learn these things better by living with a pastor than at a seminary, is like saying that one can become a better civil or military engineer by practicing the art with another, than by studying mathematics. All professional education is two-sided, theoretical and practical, and the latter element is founded on the former. Both are necessary. What sort of Hebraists and Biblical interpreters should we have if our pastors, wearied and exhausted with their parochial labors, were to do all the teaching? How would our young ministers be prepared to grapple with the fundamental questions which a secret or an avowed infidelity is industriously forcing upon the public attention every day? They are set for the defense as well as the proclamation of the gospel. Surely this is not a time in which the church can dispense with heavy artillery, when that of the enemy is pointed against her from every hill-top. Who are the men that now stand on the walls of Zion with sword girded on, and spear and shield in hand? Who are the chosen champions of the church, and the defenders of your faith? Who translates your Scripture, write your commentaries, prepare your books, and contribute the strong articles to your reviews? Who discuss the fundamental religious questions of the day, both in great assemblies and in the weekly religious press? There is but one answer-the ripest scholars and the ablest men that can be found. The labors of this class of men, their power of working in centers of influence with superior energy, and of diffusing sound views of truth with masterly skill, cannot be dispensed with.—Dr. Barnas Sears.

nterview with the Queen, who listened deepest sympathy to the story the phyn had to tell. A kind message was sent ne Maharanee, and another given to Miss by for every one with whom she spoke the subject. "We wish it generally wn that we sympathize with every effort lieve the suffering state of the women of rom this time, the sufferings of the womf India in sickness have attracted much ntion in England, which has culminated is national association for their relief. Dufferin, wife of the Viceroy of India, e efficient President, and the Queen has iously accepted the position of Royal on. Its affairs are managed by a central mittee, and branches have been formed any parts of the country. Its aim is to native women as nurses, doctors, and wives, and to open dispensaries and hosfor women under the supervision of en, as seems to be necessary in a counwhere the system of female seclusion irge sums have been contributed to the for Lady Dufferin's work. One aged wealthy lady gave $60,000. A gift of 000 came from a wealthy Parsee to build spital, and several foundations for disaries have been laid by native gentlemen. income of the society the first year was 000. The subject of medical work in ral seems to have had a new impulse ughout the country, and the medical t of missions receives the benefit of it. markable instance is the gift made by Nawab of Rampore, to the mission at ally. Miss Swain, the lady physician, the need of a site for a hospital. The convenient property belonged to the ab an estate of fifty acres with a large thouse, two wells, a garden and outlings. When asked to sell it for Miss n's work, his answer was, "O, take it, it, I am glad to give it to you for such rpose.

these and many kindred means, Ged the day of deliverance to India's sufferlaughters.-The Helping Hand.

FORE that great ending (which is really est beginning, nothing less than the ad Advent of Christ, and the establishof his kingdom in power-unknown a) the gospel shall be preached in the world for a testimony unto all the na-In some way this must be done. The is to be given-this is a matter of mey; the witnesses then shall be forththis is a matter of necessity. May rant that, taught by the wondrous his of our country, and its heaven-designed iny, multitudes of English men and but going gladly at the call of God, penetrate the gloom of heather isso, being the center of a vast sphere of from the Light of the world .-- Lender

NORTH CAROLINA land or water. necessity and charity excepted; all hunting, tishing, fowling, games, sports or plays, by persons above fourteen years of age, under penalty of one dollar. No intoxicating liquors, malt or distilled, or other, may be sold, except upon the prescription of a physician. for medicinal purposes under fine or imprisonment, at the option of the court.

In 1879, it was enacted that no railroad company should run any locomotive or cars within the state, except those carrying U.S. mail, or passengers and mails; this law covered the time from sunrise to sunset; trains in transitu permitted to run until 9 A. M., in order to reach usual terminus, or the shops of the company. In 1885, permission was granted to trains made up exclusively of perishable freight and live stock. Loading and unloading freight cars is forbidden. Railroad officials, offending in any of these particulars, may be indicted in each county and carry forward their work."

through which the trains pass, and fined not less than five hundred dollars for each offense. Fishing with nets of any kind, not "Sabbatarianism," or the keeping of the sev- supreme court of the state. In the same fastened to stakes, is forbidden, except in the counties of Carteret and Onslow, where that is, a departure from the teachings of the er of the Bible Sabbath, one Sunday morning, "established seines" may be used, under penalty of two hundred to five hundred dol- dently used. For the answer let us go to the dicted by the grand jury and fined. Willlars, or imprisonment for twelve months. †

0H10 provision are exempted those who conscien- | (Heb. 3: 4.) tiously observe the seventh day, families emigrating, watermen landing passengers, or | and the seventh day are linked together in | attending toll-bridges. Whoever sells or the indissoluble bands of spiritual wedlock. barters any spirituous liquors incurs a fine | The seventh day is a definite day; it is the | to pay the fine. of five dollars or less. Ordinary arrests can- | day God rested on. If God rested at all, he not be made on Sunday. 1

OREGON ment, or any tippling shop, under penalty of excepts drug stores, doctors' shops, undertaker shops, livery stables, butchers and bak-

* Compiled laws of New Mexico of 1884, pp. 490,

¹ Revised Statutes of N. C., 1873, p. 835; Session Laws of 1876-77, pp. 83, 84; Session Laws of 1879, pp. 182, 359; Laws of 1883, p. 508, and Laws of pp. 182, 359; Laws of 1883, p. 508, and Laws of 1885, pp. 141 and 261.

Prohibits all ordinary work or business, on offender; make a conviction valid, though it does not state the time when nor place where the work was done; and refuse exemption to those who observe the seventh day.

* General Laws of Oregon, 1874, pp. 288, 436, 437. † Digest of the Laws of Pennsylvania, Brightley's Purdon, 1883, pp. 835, 1571-73, and Criminal Code, Shields, 1883, pp. 242, 243.

"THE CLEAR PURE LIGHT."

To the Editor of the SABBATH RECORDER:

In a late number of the Examiner (Baptist), I find in its interesting column of "News and Notes," the following: "This foretell the future. The particulars have little band is earnestly struggling to keep not yet appeared in the RECORDER, and, with the clear, pure light burning among them. For years they have contended with a serious | briefly relate them. disaffection. Sabbatarianism and Free Baptist sentiments have snatched numerous weaker ones from their congregation, and ago Elder J. W. Scoles was painting the the faithful ones find that only a handful rear of his church, unseen by the public, on are left to renew their covenant together Sunday. For this he was indicted by the

Let us submit this item to examination in | the circuit court. He appealed the case, the light of facts and Bible truths. Is enth day as the Sabbath, a "disaffection?" Bible? for in this sense the expression is evi- | pulled weeds in his garden. He was inlaw and the testimony. "And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because that indicted. J. M. Davis was also indicted by

Prohibits all persons over fourteen years of | in it he had rested from all his work. which | the jury "for harrowing oats." The charge age from sporting, rioting, quarreling, hunt- | God created and made." Gen. 2: 3. "Reing, fishing or shooting on Sunday, under | member the Sabbath day to keep it holy. penalty of not more than twenty dollars or Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy on Sunday, and, without any indictment ment. But how sad is the neglect of these imprisonment not more than twenty days, | work, but the seventh day is the Sabbath of | for this offense, the court fined him with or both; complaint to be made within ten the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do costs. F. M. Elmore labored three minutes days. Common labor is forbidden under pen- any work." Ex. 20: 8-11. "And God alty of not more than five dollars; from this | did rest the seventh day from all his work." From Genesis to Revelation, the Sabbath | ging potatoes for a Sunday meal. Four rested on some particular day; he tells us either in the Old or New Testament. Has five to fifty dollars. The general provision | God ever discharged men from their obliga-

the day may do secular work without fear of afraid of their terror, neither be troubled." molestation. But here is a small, despised 1 Peter 3 : 14. people who do not bow down to the beast, and his fury is aroused. Straightway they are arrested for violation of the Sunday law. To be sure the law has been a dead letter, and exceptions have, in some states, been made in favor of the Sabbath-keeper; but have we any assurance that this will long continue? Nervous, zealous, determined leaders are clamoring for more law and its rigid enforcement, and the masses are beginning to say the demand must be met.

Let the recent persecutions in Arkansas

Two years ago a Sabbath-keeping church was organized in Springdale, Ark. A year grand jury, tried, convicted and fined by and it is now pending the action of the county, James Poole, a conscientious observ-

iam Martin sowed oats on Sunday and was was not sustained, but a man was found who one Sunday, doing a slight task, and was fined for the same. J. A. Armstrong was arrested twice, the second offense being dig-

Allen Meek was indicted for planting potatoes. While his case was pending he was that it was the seventh day, and that is the cited to appear twenty-five miles distant. Prohibits the opening of any place of bus- day that men must keep holy. No other His wagon was broken, and the roads muddy. morning to comply, he had his wagon repaired on Sunday. A man came to see him tion to keep this day holy? The first day of on some business that Sunday, and finding Scripture, ever forbidden to work on the first keeper who went on business to see him that day of the week, or threatened with punish- day, went home without molestation. SunH. D. CLARKE.

Education.

"Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understand-

THE BELATION BETWEEN READING AND CHAR-ACTER

"There is no action so slight nor so mean but it may be done to a great purpose," says Ruskin. And life is such a complex experience, and there is such an amount of mystery connected with it, that it is impossible the kind permission of the editor, I will to make any classification of actions into small and great that shall prove satisfactory. General reading would be considered a thing of slight importance by the average person, and so considered, one puts little of definite purpose or intelligent plan into the thing. This very remissness forms a habit of mind which sometimes ends in sheer slovenliness of character. Books may be used in such a way as to weaken the mind. Much of the mental fiber of the age seems disgracefully feeble and worthless. People skim the newspaper, then they skim books, then they skim experience, and finally they try to skim life. They have formed pernicious habits in their reading, and the influence of such habits has demoralized their manhood. The shafts of ridicule and satire are frequently aimed at the frivolous character of our girls. Take the reading of these same impressible natures in hand, train them into wise methods, impart more healthful stimulus to them in this sphere of literature, and testified that the said Davis was hauling wood | there would be less occasion for severe comyoung people ! They too often leave school with no love of genuine literature, and with little plan of systematic, helpful reading. It dees not seem to occur to such persons that reading has the power to strengthen the mind. They complain of this nerveless, flabby character; they talk about intellectual improvement in a soulless fashion; but hours after his arrest he was taken to jail, they forget to demand from reading its lewhere he remained five days, having refused gitimate service-that of energizing and invigorating the mind.

There is deplorable deficiency in the home training. So long as the children read, and 'keep themselves out of mischief," the parents are satisfied. One boy, whose father is a man of wealth, told the writer that for iness for trade or traffic, any place of amuse- day of weekly rest is called the Sabbath, As he was obliged to start early Monday months he averaged one book per day (drawn from the city library); and these hundreds of books were vapid, foolish, sensational novels. For months the boy lived in such an air of unreality that his mind became the week is several times named, but never Mr. Meek having his wagon repaired, caused seriously affected. Meanwhile his parents called the Sabbath. No one is, in sacred his arrest. He was fined. The Sunday- congratulated themselves upon his quiet, studious habits. This vitiated taste is not a thing of slow growth. It seems to develop are enrolled in the public schools. As the with astonishing rapidity when the condi- actual attendance is always far below the enmandments requires the keeping holy of the went visiting, did business. Engines went price of other things than liberty. Charac- half of the school population of that state is

CLIPPINGS.

The University of Athens has 1,400 students, 60 professors and a library of 150,000 volumes. In Greece education is gratuitous in all grades of schools, the university included.

In 1871 there were only 42,914 white and 6,664 colored children enrolled in the public schools of Georgis. In 1883 their numbers had increased to 175.668 white. and 111,743 colored.

Michigan is perhaps as well off as any other Western state in educational affairs, and yet only 70 per cent of her population

The Sabbath Recorder.

Alfred Centre, N. Y., Fifth-day, September 30, 1886.

REV. L. A. PLATTS, D. D., Editor. REV. E. P. SAUNDERS, Business Manager. REV. A. E. MAIN, D. D., Ashaway, R. I., Mission ary Editor.

TERMS: $2 per year in advance. Communications designed for the Missionary Department should be addressed to REV. A. E. MAIN, D. D., Ashaway, R. I.

All other communications, whether on busi-ness or for publication, should be addressed to the SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, Allegany county, N. Y. Drafts, Checks and Money Orders should be We need more confirmed principle on this subject.

4th. We need more willingness to follow, and less desire to lead, for in this way only can we secure that unity of effort which is essential to growth. It is necessary that some should lead, but this requires that the rest shall follow. Having chosen our leaders, we should co-operate with them in every way, or choose others whom we can follow.

An army in which all are officers is without strength or efficiency. A ship in which each member of the crew feels at liberty to do as the captain directs or not, as he may prefer,

distracting criticism, and all other scisms

cration, the consecration of our hearts, our heads and our holdings to the work of the Lord. It is useless for us to give one without the others. Indeed, we cannot give our hearts to the Lord and withhold our free-will offerings, even as the Lord hath pros-

came every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing and brought the Lord's offering." The heart which is concecrated to God will stir up its holder to bring its offering without stint. It is the unconsecrated heart which gives a penny to the Lord, while it spends a is sure to go upon the rocks.

well as united in effort.

made payable to E. P. SAUNDERS, AGENT.

'Just a little green weed In an else bare nook, Brightening a hidden place Where some day God will look.

Just a homely duty Waiting to be done. Not the high tasks I fain would do ; But God has set this one.

My weed would be a briar rose If it only could ! Better the simplest duty done, Than barren dreams of good."

THE delegates to the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference, at Milton, Wis., Sept. 22-27, began to arrive at an unusually early hour, and received from the hospitable people of Milton a most cordial greeting. The Milton Telephone, in extending the hospitalities of the place to the arriving guests, said, Milton gives them hearty welcome. If any of them failed to find themselves at home after such a welcome, certainly, the fault must have been their own.

NOTWITHSTANDING the cloud of debt which has hung over the Missionary Society for the year past, and sometimes it has seemed a dark cloud, the year's work has been the most satisfactory, in some respects, the Society has ever known. More weeks of pered us. It is said that of old, "They labor have been performed, more sermons have been preached, and a greater number of additions to the mission churches, both by letter and baptism, have been reported than during any previous year. The debt,which one year ago was $1,300 or $1,400, has been reduced to about one-half of that amount. The reports of the Tract Society | dollar for its own pleasure. will show results equally satisfactory. When we consider that these results were achieved during a year of great stringency in money matters, they are, instead of being depressing, most gratifying.

BATH RECORDER, therefore no effort will be truths, or impress upon others the importance of the truths we hold. We need to made to summarize them here. impress upon ourselves and our children The report of the Secretary of the Board that God's law is first, and our preferences shows an increase of interest in the work, a and apparent welfare second. We have larger number of ladies' societies co-operatquite too long made it subservient to our ing, a larger amount of money contributed plans for personal advancement. No plan by the women of the denomination to in life is safe or desirable when its pursuit various objects, and a widening and deepennecessitates the disregard of the law of God. ing interest in benevolent work. The total So many of our young men leave the Sabbath amount of funds reported as raised by the women for the year, including a few small. for worldly gain, and so many of our girls give up their cherished beliefs, at the time of balances at the beginning of the year, is marriage, that the natural increase of the $3.062 33. This sum has been distributed denomination is almost entirely neutralized. as follows:

> Tract Local Balance in treasuries. 328 18

Brother A. H. Lewis spoke on the question of the adoption of the report. Whatever doubts may have existed as to the wisdom of the constituting of this Board in the beginning, whatever questionings we may have had about the ability and willingness of our women to help on in a very substantial way our work, all such doubts and questionings must have been dispelled by this session. Thus pleasantly closed the first day of the General Conference. We hope to give next week full reports of the sessions of the So-5th. We need the cementing power of love, | cieties and the closing day of the Confer-

to join our hearts in one, so that unkind and | ence. During the evening the following sug-

> Two cents a week and earnest prayer, A tiny gift may be, But it helps to do a wonderful work

> > Jesus calls you and me, He calls us to help in this wonderful work

Two cents's week and earnest prayer, From out abundant store, It was never missed for its place was filled, By a Father's gift of more.

Two cents a week and earnest prayer, Perhaps 'twas a sacrifice, But treasure came from the storehouse above,

Two cents a week and earnest work, 'Twas the prayer, perhaps after all, 'That the work has done, and a blessing brought The gift was so very small.

Two cents a week and earnest prayer, Freely and heartily given, tide of inquiry concerning the Sabbath, are ion, permanent and increasing in power. petitions of his people. With such evidence done.

This is treasure laid up in heaven.

of God's blessing on our labors hitherto, we have the highest assurance that our future | the answer, "We have little experience, and efforts will be still more abundantly fruitful. less influence, and cannot hope to accom. A double importance attaches to the work of the Tract Society, since, through its publications, it becomes the pioneer of the Missionary Society, opening new fields and cre- giveth liberally and upbraideth not" waits missionaries.

the Woman's Board in such a way that its officers, scattered through the different Associations, have a special field in charge, and under constant supervision.

The purpose of your Board, we understand to be to cherish all existing organizations for religious and benevolent work among the tory. women of our denomination, and to organ-1ze new societies in every locality where none are in active operation. These societies are left free to follow their own impulses and judgment as to methods of work; this is as it should be. Still, information and advice can often be given by an earnest, unprejudiced, Associational Vice-President in a way to aid the work in every locality.

We venture to suggest the following as a few of the many ways in which your Board can aid the Tract Society:

1. There are many people who do not seem to realize the duty and necessity of being loyal to our own publications. Such persons are equally unconscious of the personal loss they sustain for want of such loyalty, and of the lack they suffer in not reading our periodicals and books. No one can have denominational enthusiasm or interest who does not keep familiar with denominational work. This cannot be done in any way except through our denominational publications.

If the Woman's Board, co-operating with the Tract Board, could find and appoint agents in each locality, who could push the work of procuring subscribers and selling books, they would greatly aid in a department which has never been developed as it ought to be. The agent could be remunerated in some way, so that the burden of the special work would not rest upon one person. In many instances it might grow into a somewhat permanent and fairly remunerative work.

often thrilled with surprise and awe, that the must be created, or the work God is demand. God of prayer 1s so manifestly answering the | ing of Seventh-day Baptists can never be

But some will meet these suggestions with plish anything worth the undertaking." Such an objection is unworthy of those who have so great a work in hand. God "who ating groups of Sabbath-keepers which grow | to help the weak and guide the inexperienced. into churches under the fostering care of the | The times are all propitious. Opposition to the truth is ploughing the fields for the seed The Conference acted wisely in organizing | our hands may scatter. It is not ours to judge of results. God giveth and increase as it pleaseth his wisdom. Effort will bring strength, and experience will develop wis. dom. It becomes us to give ourselves to the work now nearest at hand, and wait God's leading into broader fields and larger vic.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

Every thoughtful reader of the religious pa. pers must have noticed the indications of a great movement in the religious world; perhaps not so great yet as to be called a revolution, and yet so great as to mark a transitional stage in the history of the Christian church. The movement presents two sides: the one as it affects fellowship, the other as it affects doctrine. On the doctrinal side it marks a tendency to greater independence of individual opinion, greater freedom of inquiry, and even a tendency to overhaul and modify the accepted standards of Christian doctrine. On the other side it is a tendency to a broader Christian charity, a closer union of feeling between Christians of different denominations-in fact a growing tendency towards an organic union of kindred sects.

The period in the history of the Christian church, which has apparently reached the point of transition to a new period, has been marked as a period of the multiplication of sects by splits in old denominations, and by the springing up of new ones. Besides the new sects which have grown up, the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist denominations, in particular, have come to be divided and subdivided until each has many branches. This multiplication of sects is an outgrowth in part, at least, of the disposition to build. rebuild and amend systems of theology, to lay great stress upon technical statements of doctrine, and to enforce assent to confessions of faith. But now there is a counter tendency in the direction of a less regard for logical systems of doctrine and a greater regard for Christian living and Christian fellowship. And hence there is a fuller cooperation of Christians of different denominations in evangelistic work and in the great philanthropic enterprises of the present time, as seen in the union of various churches in the support of the work of evangelists, in the Young Men's Christian Association, in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, etc. Hence also the increasing agitation of questions of a union of some denominations that are akin to each other. The Old School and the New School Presbyterians effected a reunion a few years ago. There has been considerable discussion on the subject of a union of the various branches of the Reformed Presbyterian church; but the movement has not been successful as yet. A union of the United Brethren in Christ with

These kindred movements for hope that with less se may come greater spiritualit the overhauling of old doc old errors may be eliminated doctrines of the Bible may c light and more general acce good time to urge the claims hath. On the other hand ther to fear that with growing Ch ty there may come a spirit o ism, that with growing indit essentials there may also co thought and practice in mat sential

Let us study more carefu for our faith and practice promised guidance of the Ho shall we stand on a solid ro the shifting currents of thou

WASHINGTON LET

(From our Regular Corr WASHINGTO

The winter population of beginning to return, and th as the business and fashion the city, are resuming their ance. It will be a long tim of Congress and the corrido are again crowded with legi and sight-seers, but, mean national interest are daily and the importance of the great and permanert new United States, is recognize papers who now keep cor the year around. The Ca with the growth of the nation ment of the United States, and - manners as mirrored have become a subject of i not only to the philosophe and the moralist, but to m gent citizens throughout th

Every year, more and m is being selected as the natu all conventions and assembl national in their character. were proposed the other d modation of the soldiers t May, at the grand comp which $20,000 in prizes a which every military comp try will be invited. During ter several national convent yous here. Washington is the most the country, especially in th some public buildings, p hardly equaled by any A number and beauty; broad hundred miles of asphaltu most every street embower the presence of the most of of the whole nation in as unique features, and they have drawn thousands of come from all parts of the residences, transforming th winter Saratoga. If the desire to hold their concla most entertaining season, welcome them as an assur for their honorable and us will take measures to ext hospitality. Washington destiny. It is expected that Sp wick, who has completed vestigation of the Cutting will reach the city to-day, will make the Secretary o verbal report. Col. Sedgu when appointed special effect that his report show writing, but delivered in retary. This being the course, be no record mad partment of his mission as chances are that it will ne as it will be delivered to under the circumstances that he will allow it to be of the public. The cont of Cutting's imprisonme settled itself, and it will ference what may be the tigation carried on by th The War Department, midst of a discussion a posal of the Apache Ind the cost the government treasure. There is a cla the hant for these muri been warfare, and that t tied to belligerant right byp of Indians who have aristion, for and come mid throughout a wide shall cease, brotherly kindness and forbeargestive hymn was sung: ance take their place, and we shall become in effect one in heart and one in purpose, as For our sisters across the sea. 6th. Lastly and mostly, we need that CHORUS: which includes all the rest-complete conse-

Jesus calls you and me, For our sisters across the sea.

Out-weighing by far the price.

The treasures of earth will melt away,

Now that the summer is drawing to a close, and thousands of poor children are returning to their city homes with the gift of restored health, bestowed upon them by those goods, we cannot help reflecting upon the fact | ever." that in a little over a century has been accomplished almost all the systematic benevolent work that has ever been done at all. rapid growth of lawlessness and crime which, in the light of all the earnest Christian meason to be encouraged in regard to our own times, and to look forward hopefully to the time when the good will overcome the evil entirely. D.

OUR ANNIVERSARIES.

The General Conference—The First Day.

The first day of the Seventy-second Annual Session of the Seventh-day Baptist General Conference, after the opening address of the President, was devoted largely to routine business of which there is not much to report here. The President's address was on Denominational Growth, of which the following is a summary:

1st. We need to realize that it is of more importance to grow in Christ-like character, grow in numbers. Sometimes size is a weakness. It was so in Gideon's army, it is so in the athlete who reduces his size and weight that he may gain in strength and endurance.

2d. We need to realize that we have not refuse to take a class, and the work is often charge. yet attained to all truth, and so we should put on a teachable spirit, appeal directly to sons. the only source of truth, and when truth is unmistakably revealed to us, embrace it regardless of circumstances, "For stubborn-Dess is as iniquity and idolatry."

3d. We need to learn that "to obey is bet-

"Bring ye the whole tithes into the storehouse, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough."

"Oh, that my people would hearken unto me, that Israel would walk in my ways! I should soon subdue their enemies, and turn my hand against their adversaries. The haters of the Lord should subdue themselves more favored in the possession of this world's unto him; but their time should endure for-

The report of the Sabbath-school Executive Board brought out the fact that the number of scholars in the Sabbath-schools, And it is especially noticeable that this good as reported to the Board, was nearly one work is increasing every year in spite of the thousand less than last year. A comparison of the figures shows that there has been, on the pessimists assuse us, indicates that the the whole, a gradual decline in this matter "last days" are at hand. The human mind for the past five years. A general discussion seems to have an inveterate tendency to- of this subject lead to the general conclusion wards looking back at the "good old times." | that the deficit is not so much in the actual But "all times, when old, are good;" and, decline of attendance, but in the matter of making the reports to the Board. Dr. work which is going on around us, we have | Williams, the Secretary, instanced some examples, illustrating this point.

> During the further discussion of the report, emphasis was laid upon the importance of using the Bible-the book-in the school. Bro. E. Ronayne said there were three things necessary for the success of the Sabbath-school work: 1. That each teacher should, by all means, be a Christian. 2. Passages of Scripture should be committed to memory. The Holy Ghost often uses these passages for effective Christian work. week, and keep at it.

On the question of helps, it was suggested that we need to study the Word as a whole.

Lesson helps are good, but they are neces. sarily fragmentary. A knowledge of the Bible as a whole can be obtained in no other in strength, knowledge and grace, than to way so well as by the study of the Word of a few years ago. itself.

committed to young and inexperienced per-

EVENING SESSION.

WHAT CAN THE WOMAN'S EXECUTIVE BOABD DO FOR THE WORK OF THE AMERICAN SAB-BATH TRACT SOCIETY ?

BY MRS. A. H. LEWIS. To the Woman's Executive Board :

Dear Sisters,-Your request for a paper upon "How can the Woman's Board help in the work of the American Sabbath Tract Society" calls for thoughts and suggestions to you as a body which one outside your organization might hesitate to give, were it not that we all are, or ought to be, deeply interested in the work of the Master, and, therefore, in the work of the Sabbath Tract Society.

The times call loudly upon the women of our land to move forward, and be active in all reformatory work. 🛫 And while we strive to be active in the more popular reforms of the day, such as temperance and social reforms, let us not forget that it is our especial mission to exalt the work of Sabbath reform. This we must do by most earnest endeavor, or fall far below our privilege.

Alfred Centre, the work of the American Sabbath Tract Society came before the people with renewed interest, and the Board decided to make a new departure. They put do not deem aggressive Sabbath reform an an agent into the field to preach and distrib- important demand. Such a conception is ute publications, and enlarged the work in destructive of all progress. The swift drift 3. The Teachers' Meeting for the study of other ways. This increased the interest of our time is to Sabbathlessness. The the Word. Begin the study early in the among our own people, and since that time popular theories concerning Sunday have no the work of the Society has been steadily power to check this tide. The popular churchgrowing.

> ing slowly at times, swifter at others. It has gressive Sabbath reformers at such a time, steadily gained in power and influence, until we have none at all, and might better melt now it has surpassed the most sanguine hopes | away with the tide, be lost and forgotten.

The burden is heavy, and it should be the Brother W. C. Titsworth emphasized the pride and joy of every woman to step forward fact that better teachers should be provided with words of cheer and ready hands to help ing the truth abroad. Such a public opinion for our schools. Men and women of Bibli- lift it, that it may not rest too heavily upon as is needed is of slow growth. It is made cal knowledge and Christian experience often | the hearts of those who have the work in

The need of this help from our women is keenly felt by the Tract Board, and we know that the warm hearts of these women would must pervade the hearts of the people. This Theological Seminary and the Andover Re-This session was devoted to the reading of quickly respond, if they only knew the in- paper cannot dictate the detailed steps by view. This is a reaction from some of the the report of the Woman's Executive Board, terest which has been awakened abroad, and which your Board, working through the statements of doctrine which have been acand of essays upon some of the ways in the need of their help to meet that call that women in all our homes, can help in creat- cepted by Calvinistic bodies, and a demand which this Board can aid the work of the comes up from every quarter. Those who ing such an aggressive sentiment. ter than sacrifice." That through obedience Tract and Missionary Societies. These can feel the pulse of the religious world, and

2. The circulation of our publications among those who know nothing of the truth is an important duty. To do this wisely, great care is needed in procuring names of persons to whom publcations may be sent. This is a reading age, and the printed page is one of the most prominent, if not the most powerful, agents in reform. But to avoid waste, as far as possible, publications should be placed in the hands of thoughtful and responsible people.

The power of the printed page is unlimited. It reaches out in its influence far beyond where the living teacher may go. You remember how anxious Judson of Burmah was to preserve the manuscript of his translations. He felt that the printed page could be carried where he might not be privileged to go, and preserved for the coming years when his voice should be hushed. 3. But the most important work to be done, is the creating of an aggressive public sentiment on the question of Sabbath reform.

Almost any method is good when executed Twenty years ago, at the annual session at | by a resistless public opinion, and all methods fail without it.

Too many of our people, men and women, deem Sabbath-keeping a personal duty and es are carried by it. The law of God offers the The cause has varied in its progress, mov- only barrier. If we have no mission as ag-Even personal obedience in the matter of Sabbath-keeping, in our own homes or business, cannot atone for want of zeal in spreadup of the aggregate of individual opinions in our homes.

Plans may be varied in different localities; with the advanced Christian thought of the agitated in both bodies. The Independent has been very zealous of late in urging the propriety of a union of the Congregationalist and Free Baptist churches, until it has called out responsesnot unfavorable to the suggestion-from papers of both denominations. This agitation shows in part the direction of the great movement which has set in. In the line of this general movement, there was also the interdenominational convention held in Pittsburg, last August, called "for the consideration and discussion of some of the leading topics of the day as they bear upon our common Christianity," to which all evangelical Christians were invited. That convention appointed a committee composed of Presbyterians, United Presbyterians, Methodist Episcopals, Methodist Protestants, Baptists and Reformed Presbyterians to arrange for a similar convention next year.

the Evangelical Association has been much

On the doctrinal side of this movement is the current of thought which is styled the The enthusiastic expression of a few in our New Theology, the leading exponents of public meetings is not enough. The fervor which are some of the professors of Andover for a restatement of doctrines more in accord only can we hope to attain to the deeper papers will be published in full in the SAB- are placed where they can know of the rising but, by all possible agencies, such an opin- present time.

rmanent and increasing in power. created, or the work God is demand. Seventh-day Baptists can never be ome will meet these suggestions with wer, "We have little experience. and uence, and cannot hope to accommything worth the undertaking a objection is unworthy of those who great a work in hand. God "who liberally and upbraideth not" waits the weak and guide the inexperienced. mes are all propitious. Opposition to th is ploughing the fields for the seed nds may scatter. It is not ours to f results. God giveth and increase as seth his wisdom. Effort will bring h, and experience will develop wis It becomes us to give ourselves to the ow nearest at hand, and wait God's into broader fields and larger vic-

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

y thoughtful reader of the religious penust have noticed the indications of a acvement in the religious world; perot so great yet as to be called a revolund yet so great as to mark a transitional n the history of the Christian church. ovement presents two sides: the one as ets fellowship, the other as it affects ie. On the doctrinal side it marks dency to greater independence of ual opinion, greater freedom of inand even a tendency to overhaul and the accepted standards of Christian e. On the other side it is a tendency broader Christian charity, a closer of feeling between Christians of differnominations—in fact a growing tentowards an organic union of kindred period in the history of the Christian , which has apparently reached the of transition to a new period, has been d as a period of the multiplication of y splits in old denominations, and by ringing up of new ones. Besides the cts which have grown up, the Presby-Methodist and Baptist denominations. ticular, have come to be divided and vided until each has many branches. nultiplication of sects is an outgrowth t, at least, of the disposition to build. d and amend systems of theology, to est stress upon technical statements of ne. and to enforce assent to confesof faith. But now there is a counter ncy in the direction of a less regard for systems of doctrine and a greater reor Christian living and Christian felip. And hence there is a fuller cotion of Christians of different denomiin evangelistic work and in the great thropic enterprises of the present as seen in the union of various churches support of the work of evangelists, in oung Men's Christian Association, in oman's Christian Temperance Union, Hence also the increasing agitation of ons of a union of some denominations re akin to each other. The Old School ne New School Presbyterians effected a on a few years ago. There has been erable discussion on the subject of a of the various branches of the Red Presbyterian church; but the movehas not been successful as yet. A of the United Brethren in Christ with vangelical Association has been much ed in both bodies. Independent has been very zealous of urging the propriety of a union of ongregationalist and Free Baptist her, until it has called out responses infavorable to the suggestion-from of both denominations. This agitanows in part the direction of the great ment which has set in. In the line of eneral movement, there was also the enominational convention held in Pittelast August, called "for the considerand discussion of some of the leading of the day as they bear upon our on Ohristianity," to which all evan-Ohristians were invited. That cona suppointed a committee composed of terians, United Presbyterians, Metho-deceptals, Methodist Protestants, Bepa Beformed Presbyterians to arrange initiar convention next year.

These kindred movements afford ground for hope that with less sectarianism there may come greater spirituality of life, that in the overhauling of old dcctrinal standards old errors may be eliminated, and the pure doctrines of the Bible may come into clearer light and more general acceptance. It is a good time to urge the claims of God's Sabhath. On the other hand there is some ground to fear that with growing Christian liberality there may come a spirit of latitudinarianism, that with growing indifference to nonessentials there may also come a laxity in thought and practice in matters that are essential.

Let us study more carefully God's Word | ters of an outraged justice. for our faith and practice, and seek the promised guidance of the Holy Spirit. Then shall we stand on a solid rock, unmoved by the shifting currents of thought. C. A. B.

WASHINGTON LETTEB.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Sept. 17, 1886.

The winter population of Washington is heginning to return, and the hotels, as well as the business and fashionable quarters of the city, are resuming their wonted appearance. It will be a long time until the halls of Congress and the corridors of the Capitol are again crowded with legislators, lobbyists, and sight-seers, but, meanwhile, matters of national interest are daily transpiring here, and the importance of the Capital, as the great and permanent news center of the United States, is recognized by the many papers who now keep correspondents here the year around. The Capital has grown with the growth of the nation. The govern- long as the church of Chicago keeps this ment of the United States, the national life and manners as mirrored in Washington, have become a subject of interesting study. not only to the philosopher, the historian Among the exercises to which we had the and the moralist, but to millions of intelli- pleasure of listening were two solos by a gent citizens throughout the country.

Every year, more and more, Washington national in their character. Arrangements were proposed the other day for the accom-May, at the grand competitive drill, for to be much interested. which every military company in the country will be invited. During the coming winter several national conventions will rendezyous here. Washington is the most attractive city in the country, especially in the winter. Handsome public buildings, private residences number and beauty; broad streets, and two hundred miles of asphaltum pavement; almost every street embowered in foliage, and come from all parts of the Union and build residences, transforming the Capital into our winter Saratoga. If the Knights Templar desire to hold their conclave here during our most entertaining season, we will not only welcome them as an assurance of our regard for their honorable and useful order, but we will take measures to extend to them royal hospitality. Washington is equal to her destiny. It is expected that Special Envoy Sedgwick, who has completed the mission of investigation of the Cutting matter in Mexico, will reach the city to day, at which time he will make the Secretary of State his official, verbal report. ' Col. Sedgwick's instructions, when appointed special envoy, were to the effect that his report should not be made in writing, but delivered in person to the Secretary. This being the case, there will, of course, be no record made in the State Department of his mission and its results. The chances are that it will never be made public, as it will be delivered to Mr. Bayard, and under the circumstances it is not at all likely that he will allow it to become the property of the public. The controversy growing out of Cutting's imprisonment has practically settled itself, and it will make but little difference what may be the result of the investigation carried on by the envoy. .The War Department, just now, is in the midst of a discussion as to the proper disposal of the Apache Indians, whose capture has cost the government so much blood and treasure. There is a class who imagine that the hunt for these murderers and thieves has been warfare, and that the Indians are entitled to belligerent rights. When a score or two of Indians who have been living on a reservation, fed and cared for by the Govern-women and children in their homes, obscenely and fiendishly torturing and mutilating men and ravishing women-is that "war" any more than piracy? And when these miscreants, incarnations of cruelty and brutish lust, are pursued and, after long pursuit, either caught, or compelled to give themselves up, because they are out of ammunition, out of food, and so surrounded that escape and further deviltry is impossible-is that "capitulation" of a hostile force engaged in legitimate warfare? Are they "prisoners of war?" They are simply felons, murderers, outlaws, caught red-handed by a pursuing force, a military posse, minis-

WAYSIDE NOTES.

Last Sabbath we saw something of the work of our brethren in Chicago, in their Pacific Garden Mission School. The boys and girls were orderly and attentive, and their singing was full of life and melody. Under the training of Miss Covey they have become ready and sweet singers of many Gospel Hymns, which alone seems worthy of all the labor bestowed upon them. Besides they get many impressions from the Scripture lessons studied, some of which will remain with them always. We could but fee that this effort to gather Hebrew children under Christian influence was, perhaps, the most promising work we could undertake for the salvation of the Jews. It is indeed a work that is twice blessed-blessing those who give and those who receive. And as work going, they will keep themselves alive, and grow in the likeness of him who came into the world to seek and save the lost. bright, little, Hebrew arl, whose voice is wonderful for its volume and sweetness, and is being selected as the natural rendezvous of gives promise of remarkable attainments in all conventions and assemblies that are at all song if she lives to womanhood. Addresses were given by A. C. Spicer, of Battle Creek, and Silas C. Burdick, of Alfred Centre, and modation of the soldiers to be present next other visitors, in which the children seemed which $20,000 in prizes are offered, and to At the meeting which followed the mission school, there were present, besides the visiting brethren named above, one from Farina, a sister from Dodge Centre, one also from Manchester, Vt., and a Baptist minister, Bro. Whitelaw, recently converted to the Sabbath, chiefly through the Outlook, in Minnesota. The services were conducted hardly equaled by any American city for by the writer in the place of Bro. Morton, who is absent from the city. The sermon was followed by a deeply interesting season of conference. The meeting of so many the presence of the most distinguished men from distant points made it an occasion of of the whole nation in assembly-these are unusual interest, and all seemed cheered, unique features, and they "draw." They and renewed in strength by waiting on the have drawn thousands of wealthy men to Lord. As a people, we ought to be glad and thankful that we have such opportunities in this great city, and we should foster the interest gained, if possible, with greater energy and enthusiasm. And we should pray for the workers here, and for the triumph of do. truth in this and every place in our country. On First-day evening we attended the meeting of Col. Geo. R. Clarke, who, with his wife, conducts the Pacific Garden Mission. He told us that his great-grandfather | acquaintances there formed will long remain was Eld Henry Clarke, who was pastor so long in the early times of the church of for me to meet with Bro. Burdick in such a Brookfield, N. Y., and that he still loves the people with whom so many of his relatives have been, and still are, identified. His sermon from Matt. 12: 20, "A bruised reed he will not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench until he send forth judgment unto victory," was simple, earnest, tender and persuasive, like the gospel itself, and took Shingle House, thus leaving them alone. hold of many hearts. A dozen or more men and women declared their purpose to seek Christ, and many stirring testimonies were given by persons recently reclaimed from paths of sin and drunkenness. Many look upon this mission as the agency that led them to Christ, and changed their once blasted lives so that they are now full of well-doing and joy. Long may it live to lead the erring from darkness into the marvelous light of the gospel of Christ the Lord. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20, 1886.

BY REV. J. B. CLARKE.

good intesest, and last Sabbath we were favored with a sermon by Elder Herbert Babcock, who came here to visit us and to bring his brother-in-law, Mr. Orson Card, as an addition to our colony. The land about here is all taken, but relinquishments and proved-up claims are still reasonable. Our township has been organized into a school district, and we expect to build a school-house this fall for the first term of school. While in the East they were being burned up by forest fires, dried up by drouths, or shaken up great earthquakes, we, since the first of June, have been favored with quite frequent, gentle and refreshing rains.

F. L. DARLING.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

OBI, Sept. 24, 1886. To the Editor of the SABBATH RECORDER.

Dear Sir,-Having enjoyed very much the Quarterly-meeting session of the Shingle House and Hebron Churches, I have thought since no report of that meeting has appeared to send you a brief account of the same, even at this late hour.

Agreeable to appointment, a number o visiting brethren and friends gathered with the friends at East Hebron, Friday, Sept 10th. A severe rain storm that evening preprayer-meeting, but a few earnest, warm- the Progressionists will carry the election. hearted friends came together and enjoyed a profitable occasion. Sabbath morning dawned bright and beautiful, and the friends gathered in from Hebron and the surrounding neighborhoods, till the house was filled. Brother Stephen Burdick, a former laborer gar. with this people, being present, kindly consented to preach the morning sermon, after which the Lord's Supper was celebrated. The sermon of the afternoon, by the writer, from Ex. 14:15, was followed by a conference meeting in which many took part, expressing a desire to go forward in the work of the Master that they might be "built up in his most holy faith." In the evening after lowed by a conference meeting in which many took part, and some three or four declared their determination to enter anew the Christian life. It was indeed a pleasant and

The Western Nail Association has raised the price of nails to the $2 20 card.

At Wabash. Ind., a ball of fire passed through an open window of the house of A. L. Rohback during a heavy storm Thursday and played around a bronze cornice in the parlor. It exploded with a deafening report, filling the house with flame and smoke.

The strike of the Western window glass makers was settled Sept. 23d, and work wil be resumed in every factory west of the Aleghenies as soon as the furnaces can be heated. The basis of the settlement was last year's wages, the workmen withdrawing their demands for an advance and signing the old scale. The factories have been closed since the beginning of the regular summer vacation last June. The result will furnish employment to 3,000 men.

Foreign.

It is officially stated that Premier DeFreycinet has pronounced the establishment of the divine of the human form and nature; the any bank in Madagascar impossible without outworking through human life and activity France's sanction.

Professor Huxley has returned to London from a tour in Switzerland in better health than for many years past. He is actively and the individual-all of these have added engaged in studying botany. - J - K Walter H. Smith, president of the Astronomical Association at Montreal, repudiates Wiggins's statement that earthquake shocks worse than any experienced will occur on the 29th instant.

A fierce struggle is about to begin between the Liberals and Conservatives to fill the vacancy in the Reichstag caused by the death vented many from attending the evening of Herr Loewe. It is generally believed that Judge Edward Browne, secretary of the Irish Parliamentary Fund Association, has just returned from a short stay in Ireland. He was warmly received both in London and Dublin by the leading members of the Irish party, including Messrs. Parnell and Big-

Cholera is gaining ground in Austria. It is worse at Lic, a village near Agram. Of the 900 inhabitants of the village, 90 have been stricken and 28 of them died almost immediately. The people distrust the doc- the hundreds more whose names are retained tors and conceal the sick as long as possible. Doctors are frequently stoned in the streets. | find the earnest, positive purpose-the pur-It is stated that a commercial treaty has been drawn up between the English and United States Governments relative to Canada, and that it is now being submitted to the Sabbath, Bro. Geo. P. Kenyon preached the Canadian Government for suggestions from John 12:32. The sermon was fol- as to details. The treaty provides for an must be a life in which others have a part amicable settlement of the fishery dispute, and an interest. No man lives to himself or and also reciprocal trade relations with the dies to himself. Such a life must be one two countries.

A FALSE FAITH.

vet, there are those who allow their unwise zeal to push their faith beyond the true province of its warrantable exercise, and as a consequence they meet with trouble and disanpointment. A sad reaction, takes place, resulting in doubt and darkness of soul. There is such a thing as making a hobby even of faith and riding it to destructive tendencies. A true faith is a wise faith .---Christian Secretary.

5

THE LIFE WORTH LIVING.

To the Christian thinker and worker. there is an abiding interest in the question "Is Life Worth Living ?" Nor is there any doubt as to the answer to the question when viewed from the Christian stand-point. The new meaning given to the life of humanity by the gospel; the increased dignity given to man by the incarnation-the taking on by by the incoming divine power of the more beautiful and abiding results now seen in Christian character as developed in society so much to our conception of what life means and is, that we unhesitatingly answer the. question in the affirmative.

There is a life not worth living-a life that it were infinitely better that one had not lived it. There are glorious possibilities in every human being; but in the realization of these possibilities there is a chance for an infinite lors as well as an infinite again. Light and knowledge bring increased responsibility. The peril to the unheeding and disobedient appears the more terrible in the light of the revelation of Jesus Christ. But there is a life worth living. Let us look at some of its elements.

One of the first is an earnest purpose. It is doubtless true that there can be no real success without this. It is an ever-present factor in secular history. Study the history and character of such men as Hannibal, the great Carthaginian general; Alexander the Great; Cæsar; or the nobler Americans, Washington and Lincoln; in all of these, and upon the lengthening scroll of history, you pose to do some definite thing-and to do it as well as possible.

This thought leads naturally to another which we must emphasize : The life which is worth living cannot be a selfish life. It which brings good to others. If the possession of wealth is esteemed as a trust, if position and fame in the world are accepted as instruments by which to benefit mankind, doctrinal side of this movement is at of thought which is styled the Enclogy, the leading exponents of are some of the professors of Andever andal Seminary and the Andover Re-This is a reaction from some of the ants of doctrine which have been acby Celviniates bodies, and a damand monomical of destribut movers accord

SCOTT COUNTY COLONY.

TERBYTON, Finney Co., Kan., Sept. 20, 1886. the Editor of the SABBATH RECORDER:

have raised quite good crops, in spite of the sued order of Secretary Whitney turning ranted. drouth, and the fact that only the first of over the entire yard to the ordnance bureau. ment, stealthily leave there and engage in a last April this was a vast, wild, unbroken profitable meeting.

Sunday morning was rainy and the attendance much less than on the previous day, but nevertheless the house was fairly filled with eager listeners. The morning sermon was preached by the writer from Gen. 19:17. In the afternoon Bro. Stephen Burdick preached a very interesting and practical sermon from Rom. 14:7. The sermon was followed by a conference meeting in which the presence of the Holy Spirit was plainly manifest by the warm-hearted testimonies and the expression from several of a desire to take up anew the armor so long laid by. The meeting was closed by a season of silent prayer for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon all waiting hearts, that those who remain and those who go may be strengthened for the work that is theirs to

Thus closed one of the best religious meetings it was ever my privilege to attend. My visit to that people was a pleasant one, and many pleasant recollections of the time and with me. It was a source of great pleasure meeting, and I felt strengthened by the privilege.

It seems too bad that this people, situated in such a pleasant and fertile region, should be so much without preaching services. Bro. Geo. P. Kenyon, who has been laboring with them for some time has now moved to My heart is interested for their welfare, and I pray that they may be so consecrated to the Master as that they may "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ." E. A. WITTER.

There is a lesson which lies in Christ's temptation in the Judean wilderness that is appropriate for us to consider at all times, and one which is quite practical in its issues and bearings. In following Matthew's account of that remarkable temptation, or rather series of temptations, we observe that Satan's first temptation led to a disclosure of the fact that Christ exercised an undoubted and unwavering faith in God's Word, and by direct implication an unhesitating trust in God's providential care.

This was transparently apparent to Satan, when Christ quoted a passage from the Old Testament which, as given by Matthew, reads thus: "Man shall not live by bread alone, after a divine pattern and permeating it but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God." Seeing how great was to-day, and has not yet reached its perfec-Christ's faith in God, the devil shrewdly put Christ's faith to a practical test. He, receiving Christ's consent, accompanied him to a pinnacle of the temple at Jerusalem, and then told Ohrist to cast himself down from it-a distance of 600 feet. As an inducement to do so, Satan quoted a passage from the Psalms, which seemed well calculated to encourage and confirm the Saviour's faith in his Father. In Matthew it reads thus: "He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, and on their hands they shall bear thee up, lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone." It is safe to presume that Satan meant to have Christ understand that all the faith which he might have in God was good for nothing unless it practically ventured upon a realization of God's promises.

A merely theoretical faith in God's Word had but very little to commend it. Satan quoted one of God's precious promises to erine De Medicis? Christ, and if such a promise were good for anything it would stand a practical test. And then, if Christ were going to call men to his leadership and rightly instruct them, he would insist that they should practically test the validity and virtue of God's promises ments of the times. This demands thoughtand his own. Let him now do so himself as ful, honest convictions and courage. But a proof of his divine Son-ship. This is what the man who is satisfied to acquiesce in things was implied in that temptation.

Satan virtually said: "If you really believe that promise, just jump off this pinnacle and you will not be permitted to receive the slightest harm. Here are thousands of people attending a feast. Let them now witness of one of his Father's commands: "Thou been the exercise of true faith. It would have been presumption and a false faith. It would eternity can be called really worth the livhave been more than this: it would have been | ing. a positive sin against God. It would have been tempting God to do a needless thing-will be removed to other yards and the build- cause we have the assurance that it is God's the individual, in society, in the nation, is point to which we may safely trust God, beraid throughout a wide extent of country, prairie, now quite well settled, and each day ing vacated will be used to accommodate way and our path of duty; but beyond that the one thing needful. Be true. Live then we may wisely seek these things for these ends. But it is also true that if we consider these things as of primary importance, life may be called successful according to the world's estimate and yet not be worth the living after all. And then, that life is not up. to the perfect standard which is not a power in and of itself, i. e., a reality, a force, an influence, exerting itself to mold its surroundings wherever it moves. Such a life is not soon forgotten; it leaves a lasting impress upon the world. The work of Moses did not cease when he was laid in that nameless grave on Nebo's lonely mountain. His influence in molding the legislation of 'the ages tion. Paul still preaches the unadulterated gospel of the Son of God to the nineteenth century, and will to the centuries yet to come. Edwards is not yet forgotten. Though the theology of this generation may use a slightly varied phraseology, still this clear thinker on the ways and word of God will ever have an important place in the history of the development of Christian thought and life, despite the pipers piping their little reeds at him. Wesley's memory and influence are still fresh in the memory of the living generation. Thus it ever is. The true life cannot die; the good influences extend through the eternities. Even this view of the matter-" the name and influence we leave behind us"-is worth thinking of. Who would not rather live for the reputation of a Washington, a Lincoln, a Howard,

than for that a Nero, Charles IX, or Cath-

The life that is worth living is one whose influence tends to elevate and ennoble, so far as it comes into contact with them, the social customs, the business rules, the literary canons, and the political principles and moveas they exist at the time, who is willing to drift with the tide, who is satisfied to be molded by them, rather than mold them, to higher, nobler forms and purposes, is certainly not living the most worthy life that is possible to him. He runs the risk of being a marvelous exhibition of your supreme trust | compelled to look back upon his earthly exthe Missouri river at Kansas City for the new in God." But Christ replied in the language istence as it terminates, with the consciousshalt not tempt the Lord thy God." To Or if he does not do this still the fact of failhave done as Satan suggested would not have ure remains. Only that life which will stand the severest tests both of time and

There are many perplexing questions before us as a people. There is no ready panty, Kan., is still here and flourishing. We Navy Yard, as a result of the recently is- something which none of his promises war-The great lesson here taught is: there is a cation of the gospel will eventually bring the answer to all. Christian character, in Condensed Hews.

Domestic.

St. Paul road has been let.

The failures in the last seven days as reported to Dunn & Co., number for the United States 165 and for Canada 22, or a total of 187 against 185 last week.

On the first of October nearly 300 mechan-Miscellany.

AUTUMN.

A perfect flood of sunshine. Wherein all objects seem A scene of golden splendor That makes the senses dim Beneath a blue pavilion A glorious feast outspread, Where choicest gifts of nature Abundantly are shed.

A lingering look cast backward Unto the days gone by, A turning to the future With sad and anxious eye; 'Mid autumn's purple sunsets A dirge-note swells the blast, And tells that soon the brightness Of the year will be past. -Morning Star.

BLUE-BEBRYING.

BY MARY E. WILKINS.

"Allie won't get any, there's no sense in her going. Why, she went berrying a dozen times last year, and she never got the bottom of her pail covered once.

"I will, too, now you keep still, Mabel," said Allie. "I'll pick as many as you, see if I don't."

"H'm, I guess you will."

"Now, children, if you are not sweetertempered toward each other, you shall not go at all," said Mrs. Blakesly, coming out on the piazza, where the children were assembled, with their pails, all ready to start. There were two little girls from the neighborhood, Allie and Mabel Blakesly and little Josie. Josie was only eight and had never been berrying before. Her little fat face, and her bright black eyes were fairly radiant with delight.

"O, mamma, I didn't mean anything," said Mabel, who was really a good-natured girl. "I was only joking."

"You wouldn't like to be joked," said Allie, in an injured way.

"Well, I couldn't help it. It was funny the way she went berrying. Some of the time she ate her berries, and some of the time she sat under a tree and rested; and, if she didn't do anything else, she spilled them."

"I think you're too bad," said Allie, half laughing herself.

"Well, I won't say another word. Come on."

Allie, in her old gingham and her old hat, marched along with the others. She did not talk as much as usual. She was thinking. By the time they reached the berry pasture, could hardly console her. They were very kind to her about her berries: they thought she had done wonderfully for the first time. But she kept thinking, "what would they say if they knew how many I really picked?" She felt hurt at Allie's depriving her of her first little hard-earned glory, and wondered innocently how she could. But she faithfully kept her promise not to tell.

They had berries and milk for tea, but Allie did not eat any. She was growing uneasy. She had passed over Miss Prim slyly to Josie, but that had not made matters any better with herself. The meanness and deceit of which she had been guilty kept standing out blacker and blacker. It was a long time before she could get to sleep that night. At last she made a resolution which pacified her a little, and fell asleep on it. She would not eat another berry that season. She was extremely fond of berries, too.,

She kept her resolution to the great wonderment of everybody. They could not imagine what had turned Allie against berries. She even refused berry pie, like a sincere but mistaken little martyr. She did more than this to satisfy her conscience. They went berrying again, and she assisted Josie to fill a larger pail, and went home with hers half empty. But that made matters no better. Honest little Josie told at once that Allie had helped her, she never even dreamed of taking credit which did not belong to her. Allie looked so black to herself beside Josie. Her self-imposed penances did not seem to whiten her at all. Still she went on with them. One day there was a beautiful berry pudding for dinner, and she would not take any. Her mother laid down the spoon and stared at her.

"What is the reason you act so about eating berries, Allie?" said she. "I-don't care for them," Allie faltered.

"Why not, have they made you sick?" "No, ma'am." She was almost crying. Her mother said nothing more.

After dinner, when her mother had gone into the sitting-room, Allie followed her. She stood looking meditatively out of the Morton went through with the regular exer- |'some vivid panorama come trooping through window for a minute, then she begun.

"Mamma," said she. "Well."

"I want you to tell me something. Ifanybody does anything wrong, is there anything that can make up for not telling of

"No, Allie, I don't think so."

"Suppose-anybody kept on being real good-for a thousand years, wouldn't they feel any-easier then?'

"I guess not, dear."

"Then I shan't try it any longer-I didn't pick all the berries. I filled the pail up with

A SHOWER.

Here a drop and there a drop-"Is something spilling over?" And a little, prinking, pink sweet pea Tried to get under cover.

Here a drop and there a drop-Ha, what a dash of water ! "How did the sea come up in the sky?" Said the pansy's little daughter.

Rivers and rills came pouring down ; The pinks. with tangled tresses, Beg the stately phlox to try And save their new silk dresses.

But dear old Grandma Hollyhock, Shaking her cap, said, "May be These young ones will be wise some time; . What can you expect of a baby ?

"Why, darlings, 'tis only a shower of rain, We never think of a cover; And the harder it rains, the surer you are Te grow when it is over."

-Congregationalist.

DON'T QUABBEL.

Mr. Morton was about crossing the playgrounds when his attention was attracted by a violent altercation between two of his pupils. Stopping a moment he heard the larger one exclaim :

"Give me that knife, I tell you, or I'll see if I can't make you," at the same time doubling up his fists and assuming a threatening attitude.

"I can prove by ever so many of the fellows that the knife's mine," replied the oth-"If you get it again, it will be only beer. cause you're stronger than I am," and closing his hand firmly upon the article in dispute he looked determined to resist to the bitter end.

As the noon hour was about up, the teacher passed quickly on to the school-house and rang the bell long and loud. The scholars came hurrying from the scene of the quarrel where they had gathered, the scowling has gone and the firelight fitfully glows contestants bringing up the rear.

Without intimating by word or look that into by-gone days; and voices long silent, anything had occurred to displease him, Mr. and forms long hidden in the grave, like cises, and at the customary times dismissed the memory. As you think of the care of a the school as usual.

Scarcely, however, had the last scholar left event in the life of a long-lost friend, the the building when the teacher locked the smile will play on the face, or the tears come door and started homeward. He very soon | trickling down the cheeks. overtook the angry boys, who were sauntering along in the same direction. They had around broke in on my musings and said, resumed the quarrel and were being urged on by their respective friends (?).

Laying his hand on the shoulder of a tall, ful smile?" Ah, I was in for it then, and, slender lad, he said : "You seem to be in as usual, nothing would satisfy but the telltrouble, my boy. Can I help you any?" ing of a tale, which the bright light of that The startled youth turned, and, looking fire had called back to my mind.

with the same clear voice of thunder he to guarrel. Do you not see how foolish and wicked it is to lose your temper and call each | burst out in songother hard names? Of course, it is manly "Sun of my soul, thou Saviour dear, It is not hight when thou art near; to stand up for your rights, but the same end

may be accomplished by the use of different

Adopt the old farmer's motto, 'The turf

before the stones; use first kind, conciliatory measures and you'll rarely find yourself involved in a quarrel.' Remember, 'One cannot quarrel alone.' 'A soft answer turneth

away wrath." 'And the servant of the Lord

AFTER THE STORM.

For the ill brings good, in the Lord's own time,

After the drought, the dew ; After the cloud, the blue ;

For the sky will smile in the sun's good time,

Bloom is the heir of blight,

And the rolling change of the busy world

Many a cup doth fill, And the patient lip, though it drinketh oft,

Finds only the bitter still.

Truth seemeth oft to sleep,

Till the hours of waiting are weary to bear,

Nevertheless, I know, Out of the dark must grow,

OLD JOHN AND THE POLICEMAN.

Who does not delight in the twilight of an autumn evening when the light of the day around? Then it is that one slips back father, the tender love of a mother, some

So was it the other night when loved ones

"Come, let us have your thoughts; what pleasant remembrance has called that play-

Sooner or later, whatever is fair,

And the courage is hard to keep.

Since the heavens have willed it so.

Blessings so slow to reap,

Under the fount of ill

Dawn is the child of night,

And the sigh becomes the psalm.

And the earth grow glad and new.

Bids the wrong yield back the right.

After the storm, a calm :

After the bruise, a balm ;

must not strive."-Early Dew.

means.

Oh, may no earth-born clouds arise, To hide thee from thy servant's eyes."

The official beat a hasty retreat from hap. py old John's morning meeting with his Lord and his God.

Soon after this strange adventure got noised abroad, until at length it reached old John's ears. "I must see that man, and tell him what a Saviour and what a friend I have found that same Jesus to be, or he will surely think me mad;" and forthwith to him and his companions he preached Jesus the once crucified but now glorified Saviour.-The Gleaner.

CACKLING.

I saw, some time ago, a remark of Spur-geon's to this effect: "Brethren, do all the good you can, but don't cackle." I thought at first that that was good advice. I read it to one who is more familiar with feathered cacklers and their habits than I am, and she said: "I don't agree with Spurgeon. I like to hear the hens cackle, especially when eggs are forty cents a dozen. Why, our barnvard these pleasant mornings is fuller of music than a hand organ. By the cackles I can count up eggs enough to pay for the family groceries, and that's a great comfort these hard times. And it kind of seems to me as if when one hen cackles the other hens think: Well, she has laid an egg and I ought to lay one, too. Our mistress fed us both this morning, and why shouldn't I pay her as well as that cackling Shanghai? So I reckon that we get more eggs than if each hen just laid her egg and didn't make any fuss over it. And as to people's telling what they do, or about what the Lord does for them, I think that is sometimes a means of grace to them as to others.

He who made the hens to cackle made us to talk, and what better can we find to talk about than the good we are trying to do, and the blessing we receive in doing it. Don't you know what Malachi says: 'They that feared the Lord spake often one to the other, and the Lord hearkened and heard it?' He didn't call it cackling. He loved to listen to Christians sociability; and for my part I wish we had a great deal more of it. I have heard old Mother Brown tell the story of her conversion, and how she prayed and prayed for the conversion of her drunken husband. until the Lord converted him, too. Yes, I've heard that story over twenty times, and yet I like to hear it. Most Christians nowadays

Hoyalar S

RENEWING FADED INKS. covery has been made where on old parchments may be render the writing perfec process consists in moisteni water, and then passing o writing a brush which has I lution of sulphide of ammo will immediately appear qu and this color, in the case will preserve. Records wh in this way in the Germa Nuremburg, ten years ago, same condition as immediat olication of the process. ever, the color gradually fa may be restored at pleasure tion of the sulphide. - Good

THE EUROPEAN HONEY withstanding the enormous sugar in Europe, which has down the prices of sweets, honey has increased of "honey fairs" throughout patronized, while honey companies have greatly imp ties offered for sale and condition. Comb honey mand and the trade in str up in the bottlers' business same agencies for disposing creameries are everywhere are seventeen or eighteen v produced in Hertfordshir business in hives and in tin porting honey is quite exte phia Ledger.

A CARPET MERCHANT i curious collection of ancient cloths, including more the Many of them have been to and are stretched on folios preserve them. Some of t only a foot square, but the up an entire Roman toga, y the only one in the world. many embroidered dresse knitting and crewel work stitch seems to have been a Egyptian seamstress, sev needles, as it is to modern are some very quaint and u the old collection of cloths, some very common things. find that the common blue our dusters and workhou general use among the Egy Commerce.

It was, said I, just such a night as she was fired with resolution. She would fill her pail full to the brim this time; they should see.

Allie was a slow-motioned, dreamy little girl. She was not deft with her fingers. If she worked steadily, it was long before she could get a task done, and it was very hard | pale, determined look. for her to work steadily.

To-day, in spite of her firm resolve, it was very difficult for her to pick five minutes without stopping and staring lazily at the blue sky through the tall bushes, or at her busy companions. As Mabel had said, she way. Poor little Allie really lacked sadly the power of concentration, but the others slow about picking berries.

had never worked with such feverish speed. | alist. When it was time to go home, and her pail was only two-third's full, she could not understand it. She peeped furtively at the others, keeping hers out of sight. They were all full, even little Josie's, though hers was much smaller than the rest. She had turned out an apt little picker. She was close beside Allie, indeed she had picked beside her all the afternoon. She felt that she little older.

her. so mean," she told herself.

"Come," called Mabel impatiently. Josie most attention. Do the leaders in these started.

thing."

"What?"

Allie blushed before her little sister. "See here, Josie, if you'll give me enough of your Prim."

pecially admired.

wistfully at her berries; she had so counted out the house of prayer with a whip of small on showing them, and being praised. Then | cords? she thought of Miss Prim, who was dressed in black silk and wore a white lace handker-She had promised faithfully not to tell.

ma," Mabel said, when they got home, "and the oyster saloon or grocery store. It is a nation; it was my Uncle Edward's last gi I do feel so mortified because I laughed at worldly policy, a picnic religion, opposed to and Ned's voice trembled with emotion. they're better than mine."

Josie's, and made her promise not to tell."

tion before Mrs. Blakesly understood. papa, and the other girls," said Allie, with a

"What do you think?"

"Isuppose I had. I'll go right and tell Mabel now, then I'll go and tell the girls, and I'll tell papa when he comes home."

That night, when passed her saucer of ive way, when she was being tucked up in | termined," added Ned, with his flashing knew nothing about that. They only laughed | bed that night, "how very silly it is for anyat her good-naturedly because she was so body to try and punish themselves, when it's a great deal harder than God's way, and

To-day, it seemed to Allie herself that she | doesn't do any good either."-Congregation-

CHURCH MONEY-MAKING.

of the methods used to raise money for the be bullied by that stripling," and he looked Lord's cause are contrary to the precepts and as if he could willingly use other weapons examples of his Word. Did Moses get up a than words. grand carnival or bazaar to get means to was more of a chum; the other girls were a build the Tabernacle? Did Paul exhort the foxes ?" inquired the teacher, now walking

When her pail was full, she held it up to | tival to help the poor saints at Jerusalem? | shoulder of each. Allie with rapture. Mabel was singing out, It is no answer to say these modern devices across the pasture, that it was time to go are successful. The idea of the church of ly life, concluded one day it would make a home. Allie looked at the little pail brim- God resorting to grab-bags, fish ponds, ring- variety for them to quarrel as they had seen | that followeth me shall not walk in dark- | him and making him hunger to do it again. ful of berries, and a great temptation seized | cakes and, raffles to replenish her treasury ! | men do. She looked at Josie's pail, then at her All the church generally ending in hard feelown. If about half of Josie's berries were ings. Some time ago we attended a church them. 'Now I'll say they're mine and you turned into her pail, it would fill it full. that was conducting a prayer-meeting and a must say they're yours, and then we'll quar-Allie hesitated. Could she? "It would be fair under the same roof, and on the same rel and scratch and fight. Now I'll beginevening, but the latter seemed to receive the These sticks are mine.

things count the cost to them even in dollars | to them,' said the other. "Wait a minute," whispered Allie. and cents? As one has said: "Buy your food, > debt is paid." We object because the flirts and the fops of rim." Miss Prim was a doll, which Josie had es- The introduction of these things in our places of worship seems to us objectionable. The poor little thing hesitated, and looked | If our Lord was here would he not again clean

The introduction of amateur dramatics becomes a feeder of the opera and theatre. If a chief around her neck, and consented. | little rude dramatic art is so pleasing what Allie's pail was filled to the brim, and she must it be in the hands of professionals? trudged soberly home with hers half full. The mission of the church is to save souls; not to run dime shows, or sell pin-cushions "Allie's got her pail full after all, mam- or chance of dolls, babies, or to compete with her. They are lovely ones, too. I do believe | the teachings of Jesus Christ. Let there be | She did not take much pleasure in their ful giving, let more time be given to cul- ion, and they were friends again.

into the benign countenance of his teacher, his pale face flushed with shame.

you," said Mr. Morton kindly.

"Mamma," she said, in her slow, reflect- | was determined to get it back; and "I'm de- | forget.

hands again."

"You do not love to quarrel, I hope," said Mr. Morton, quietly.

"No, sir, I do not, and I woulin't do it if Tom didn't make me; he seems bent on having a fight."

"I don't want to quarrel any more than he does," said Tom, feeling, called upon to We have a growing conviction that many speak in self-defense, " but I'm not going to

"Did you ever hear the story of the two early Christians to get up a grand fair or fes- | slowly between the boys, with a hand on the

"Here are some sticks,' said one of

"'Very well, dear friend, you're welcome

"'You old simpleton!' cried the first "Look here, Josie, I want to tell you some- then give it to the church, then go buy it speaker, 'can't you act your part better than back again, then eat it up, and your church that? Don't you know one can't quarrel alone any day?'

"You two boys do not want to quarrel, the world are called in to help. Let us not but neither will yield an inch. Where is to berries to fill up my pail, I'll give you Miss forget that the world, the flesh and the devil be the end of this disagreement? How do you expect to settle this difficulty?"

> "Won't you decide it for us, teacher?" asked Ned, pretty sure of being adjudged right himself.

"Never mind, Mr. Morton, I'll give up," exclaimed Tom, magnanimously. "If Ned had told me it was his knife, and explained how and where he lost it, instead of slipping it off in that underhand way, I would not have been so angry."

"If my manner of taking it offended you, Tom, I beg pardon. I was so glad to see it once more I didn't wait for any explanation; it was my Uncle Edward's last gift,"

"Keep it, old fellow, and lec's forgive less extravagance in church edifices, let there | each other," said Tom, offering his hand,

"What?" It took considerable explana-ion before Mrs. Blakesly understood. "I suppose I ought to tell Mabel and I have forgotten how to sympathize with I have forgott a voice as I never heard before, a stranger Thus encouraged, the unhappy lad poured demanded to know if he could have a few out all his grievances. His knife had been words with Mr. R. A light was immediatemissing two or three weeks. That morning, ly struck, and in walked old John. He was when on his way to a class, he saw it lying | under middle height, broad set, and had a on Tom Lloyd's desk and put it in his pock- face, at first sight, anything but inviting. et. Tom declared it was his because he had As he stepped forward a smile, however, berries, Allie took it with a happy, humble found it in the grass, where it had probably wonderfully lit up that face, and he gave me ate a good many berries, too, in an abstracted look. Never had any tasted so good before. slipped through a hole in Ned's pocket; he such a grip of the hand as I shall not easily

"You have just come to our village," eyes, "that he never shall get it into his said he, "and I hear you are a Christian, but as no one knows what you are, I have come direct to ask yourself."

Caring little about what sect he belonged to, I replied, "My friend, do you love the Word of God, and prefer it above all other books, and before my talk or your own ?"

Striking the table vehemently, he ex-claimed, "The law of his mouth is better unto me than thousands of gol-l and silver." "Then," said I, "sit down; there is the Word of the Lord, let us hear something from its sacred pages." "That's it," he replied, and at once opened to the eighth chapter of John's Gospel. Never can I forget the power with which that Scripture was read. It was bet. "Two foxes who had lived a quiet, friend- | ter than many a sermon. Coming to those

is no darkness round about him."

to myself.

Old John loved to visit the sick. He was to receive.

and then mounted a high rock.

Everybody exclaimed over Allie's berries. be more self-denial, let there be more cheer- which was warmly grasped by his compan- rising sun just then peeping forth, old John and makes the repetition of itself more and suddenly clapped his hands, and with his more easy, "None is barren among them." praise, however. She felt guilty, and she tivating personal piety and saving sinners, "Well done, my boys !" exclaimed the voice of thunder exclaimed, "Glory! glory! And all sin is linked together in a slimy tan-did not dare to look at Josie. The poor and then the church will march on to vic-

have 'such a sense of propriety' as they call this, now many years ago, when I first be- it, that they can't say a word about their own

"ASSURANCE FOREVER."

"Somewhere are there miles between ? Tell me—time is flying. Shall I find my treasure? hark ! 'Tis but the winds replying !''

But hold ! those winds are whisp'ring words From which new hope if given-From him "who rideth on their wings, "Whose dwelling place is heaven

'Tis he who holds them in his fists. Who guides their every breath," From him they tell of love and peace, Or scatter vengeance, fear and death.

To all who love and fear his name, They tell of joy and sins forgiven-Of friendships pure, abundant here, And foretastes rich of heaven.

Then let me roll my way on God, My heart he'll strengthen well, He'll keep me—and "in perfect peace" And all my wishes he'll fulfili.

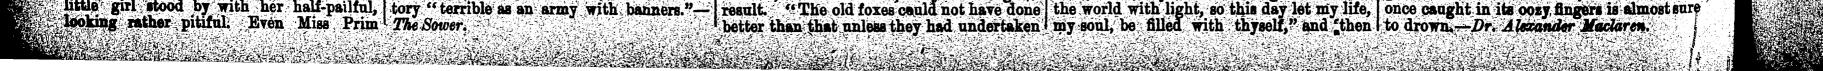

SIN'S FATAL FASCINATION.

When once a young man has done a wrong words, "I am the light of the world; he thing, it has a wful power of attracting ness," with great emphasis he exclaimed, | Every evil that I do may, indeed, for a mo-"Christians can never walk in darkness if | ment, create in me a revulsion of conscience; simply looking to Christ. Christians do but, stronger than that revulsion of consometimes walk in darkness, but it is be-| science, it exercises a fascination over me cause they follow one another; let us follow | which it is hard to resist. It is a great deal easiin his footsteps who was lowly; let us look | er to find a man that has never done a wrong away from everything else unto Jesus; there | thing than to find a man who has only done it once ! If the wall of the dyke is sound it From that moment old John and I knew | will keep the water out, but if there is the what we were-simply followers of the Lord | tiniest hole in it it will all come in. So the Jesus Christ; and ever after that I felt my- evil that you do asserts its power over you; self in the presence of a saint far superior it has a fierce, longing desire after you, and it gets you into its clutches.

Beware of the first evils, for as sure as you but a laboring man, yet poor as he was, he are living, the first step taken will make the would rarely go without some little token of second seem to become necessary. The first love. He believed it was better to give than drop will be followed by a bigger second, and the second, at a short interval, by a But I am rambling from my main point. | more copious third, until the drops become a Old John had some queer ways. In sum- shower, and the shower becomes a deluge. mer, before it was light, he might be seen The course of evil is ever wider and deeper, hastening through the village to some coun- and more tumultuous. The little sins get in try spot. Now it so happened that a new at the window and open the front door for policeman, seeing John at such an untimely | the big house breakers. One smooths the hour, bolt out of his cottage and hastily path for the other. All sin has an awful make for the woods, thought something power of perpetuating and increasing itself. surely must be wrong. With cautious steps As the prophet says in his awful vision of he tracked old John till he reached a lonely the doleful creatures that make their sport but beautifully quiet country spot. Here in the desolate city, "None of them shall John took off his hat, wiped his forehead, want her mate. The wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wild beasts of the isl-In a few moments, looking towards the ands." Every sin tells upon the character,

A REMARKABLE FISSUE port a remarkable fissure in an extinct volcano, whose la across the valley. For som sheepmen, driving their flo mountains, have noticed mountain side. When first hardly more than a mere li ceeding visit has shown the than it was the year before, foot wide and a mile in len extends almost due north judging from its nature, seen it believe it to be in sor with the terriffic activity the surroundings. The w lowered candle reveals, g without approaching one an est degree. Stones droppe tumble for some time on interior of the earth. The tically fathomless is cer depth shown by dropping air at the mouth is very m elsewhere, showing the con hot interior. Small anim mouth of this chasm ar more than is a lighted c growth in size of this mys ground during the last ye be connected with the inc activity during the time.ister.

OIL STOVES AND HI households, kerosene oil-si of kitchen ranges during cooking and laundry uses. heat, which is one of the made for the convenient not so great an advantage appear. No house which the damp, close weather of heat from stove or grate, or healthful dwelling-p surest purifier of a moist atmosphere; and in many fire, which is the only spring to fall, has been th inmates. People will ne in this variable climate, runs up and down the tu eter with a freedom and consistently Western, u regulate fires and clothin or season, but by the and their own individu another danger in the us should be seriously consi greatest care is taken in and keeping the stove cl ly smoke, and this smok penetrating and disage reason, a kerosene lamp burning dimly in a sloop If it must be used, it a burn clearly and brigh supply of outside air shi to the room.—Somilary mme clear voice of thunder ha in song-

of my soul, thou Saviour dear, not night when thou art near : may no earth-born clouds arise, ide thee from thy servant's eyes."

loial beat a hasty retreat from hapohn's morning meeting with his his God.

fter this strange adventure got road, until at length it reached old rs. "I must see that man, and what a Saviour and what a friend T id that same Jesus to be, or he will ink me mad;" and forthwith to him ompanions he preached Jesus the ified but now glorified Saviour.

CACKLING.

some time ago, a remark of Spurthis effect: "Brethren, do all the can, but don't cackle." I thought hat that was good advice. I read it ho is more familiar with feathered. and their habits than I am, and she don't agree with Spurgeon. I like he hens cackle, especially when eggs cents a dozen. Why, our barnyard easant mornings is fuller of music and organ. By the cackles I can eggs enough to pay for the family , and that's a great comfort these es. And it kind of seems to me as me hen cackles the other hens think: e has laid an egg and I ought to lay Our mistress fed us both this and why shouldn't I pay her as hat cackling Shanghai? So I reckon get more eggs than if each hen just egg and didn't make any fuss over as to people's telling what they do, what the Lord does for them, I at is sometimes a means of grace to to others.

no made the hens to cackle made us and what better can we find to talk an the good we are trying to do, and sing we receive in doing it. Don't wwhat Malachi says: 'They that he Lord spake often one to the other, Lord hearkened and heard it?' He all it cackling. He loved to listen tians sociability; and for my part I had a great deal more of it. I have d Mother Brown tell the story of her ion, and how she prayed and prayed conversion of her drunken husband, e Lord converted him, too. Yes. I've hat story over twenty times, and yet b hear it. Most Christians nowadays uch a sense of propriety' as they call they can't say a word about their own aces, and may be that is the reason ven't much religious experience, any -C. E. Babb.

RENEWING FADED INKS.-A valuable discovery has been made whereby the faded ink process consists in moistening the paper with water, and then passing over the lines of to speak about her reasons. writing a brush which has been wet in a sowill immediately appear quite dark in color. and this color, in the case of parchment. it in this way in the Germanic Museum in Nuremburg, ten years ago, are still in the same condition as immediately after the anplication of the process. On paper, however, the color gradually fades again, but it may be restored at pleasure by the application of the sulphide. -Good Health.

THE EUROPEAN HONEY, MARKET.-Notwithstanding the enormous supply of beet sugar in Europe, which has suddenly brought | curious and queer." down the prices of sweets, the demand for honey has increased of late years, and "honey fairs" throughout England are well patronized, while honey associations and companies have greatly improved the varieties offered for sale and their marketable condition. Comb honey is always in demand and the trade in strained has raised up in the bottlers' business something of the same agencies for disposing of honey that the creameries are everywhere for milk. There are seventeen or eighteen varieties of honey produced in Hertfordshire alone, and the business in hives and in tin boxes for transporting honey is quite extensive.-Philadelphia Ledger.

A CARPET MERCHANT in Vienna has a curious collection of ancient woolen and linen cloths, including more than 300 specimens. Many of them have been taken from tombs, and are stretched on folios of cardboard to preserve them. Some of the fragments are only a foot square, but the larger ones make up an entire Roman toga, which is said to be the only one in the world. There are a great many embroidered dresses and a deal of knitting and crewel work. Double chain stitch seems to have been as familiar to the Egyptian seamstress, sewing with bone needles, as it is to modern women. There are some very quaint and unusual designs in the old collection of cloths, but there are also some very common things. It is curious to find that the common blue check pattern of our dusters and workhouse aprons was in general use among the Egyptians more than a thousand years ago. Boston Journal of Commerce.

ADELLE'S BEASONS.

BY GEORGE KLINGLE.

on old parchments may be so restored as to church to day, Adeile; it was not our own looked around the room filled with sketches render the writing perfectly legible. The church, and there was so much new to see?" Adelle flushed a little; she scarcely liked him, until he came to one, a charcoal draw-

"Tell me," persisted Irene, "it was so It reminded him of something, and he choked lution of sulphide of ammonia. The writing provoking of you, when we might have had up a sighing cough. such a good time. What did you do it for?" Adelle did not look in the face of her little | artist, as he mixed his paints. will preserve. Records which were treated friend. She seemed to be looking at the ribbon she was winding over her fingers, but in | slept in a barn last night, and forgot to shut | fact she scarcely saw it at all; she was hurt and my bedroom door." troubled.

"Tell me what was the matter!" exclaimed Irene. "Why do you not answer?"

"I was only waiting a moment to think angrily: what you could mean; you know, Irene, a church is always a holy place."

"Dear me, who would ever think of that in such a funny church, where nothing is his disreputable hat, combed out his hair done like it is at home, and everything is so with his fingers, and braced up until he

"But we know it all means praise and prayer to God. It is only a different way." the artist. But the model understood. "But who ever could remember that-the Something of shame showed in his face as funny little scrap of a church, and such a he assumed the old slouch gait, the shabby queer little man to preach, and the people, hat, and the general air of vagabondage and everything ! it was too provoking to which was his natural dower. He felt see you sitting there just as you would in a through and through that he was the reprechurch at home, and not seeing a bit of the sentative of his class. fun."

"Oh, Irene, do not speak so, it troubles said, pointing to a study in still-life which me! everything did seem so odd to me at | was arranged for a student. first that I almost forgot where I was, and I It was a pretty "study" for any eyes, have not been able to be quite happy since, the great Messina orange, the red-ripe apfor although afterward I did try to follow | ple, and cluster of white grapes, flanked every prayer with my thought, and to praise by a slender-stemmed glass half filled with God truly, when they sang the hymns, the wine. first minutes I spent there were not reverent, and my mind was not at all upon the holy words.'

Irene looked up from the doll, which laid across her lap; she could scarcely believe her

"You have not been quite happy since?" she said slowly. "Why have you not been quite happy? I think I do not understand." Adelle had already spoken more freely than she was accustomed to do upon such my pupil," said the artist; "he is losing his matters, and did not know quite what to say, but Irene was too much in earnest to be silenced. "Tell me," she continued; "I want ing his maulstick with comical fierceness. to know."

"Oh, I am sure you know as well as I that as well as of liberty. I have nearly finished every church is a place where God promises a picture while your still-life is not touched." to meet everybody who comes to speak to him: | They went back together and looked into an we should remember this as we go in, and think of nothing any minute but of him, and if we say words to him without thinking of him entirely, we sin instead of worshiping, and this is why I have not been quite happy."

low, and let me get the right pose.

and paintings that did not promise much to ing of a country lad reading by the firelight.

"You have caught a cold," suggested the "Mebbe," said the man composedly; "I

The artist busied himself with a canvas, and for a moment turned his back on the model. When he looked again he exclaimed

"Hello, you sir, what do you mean?" For while he had his back turned, the tramp had arranged his old coat, taken of looked like a respectable citizen.

"You have ruined my picture," groaned

"Focus your eyes upon this," the artist

A sleepy, crafty look grew into the halfclosed eyes of the artistic tramp.

"Excellent," said the artist, as he worked; "the very look that I wanted. The fellow must be thinking of the fifty cents he is earning."

The "fellow" had not eaten since yesterday; what his thoughts were he alone knew.

"You can rest now while I go and look up morning's work."

"Come home," said the artist, brandish-"Eternal vigilance is the price of painting, empty studio.

"Where is my model?"

"Where is my study?"

Each had disappeared. The artist grasped the situation with both hands, and laughed heartily. The tramp, true to his nature,

NOT A HOME FOR ALL MANKIND.

Those who affect to believe the territory of the United States sufficient in extent and fertility to afford a home for all mankind.

cited the United States as example in which the natural increase of the human race is in a geometrical ratio, fixing twenty-five years

as the term in which the population doubles itself. Macaulay approves this estimate.

Adam Smith wrote that "in North America it had been found that the population doubles in twenty or five and twenty years."

The general estimate by those who have vigorous population will, under favorable conditions as to food, climate and space,

double itself by natural increase every twenty-five years. Our census returns do not probably prove the exact correctness of this statement, if applied to the United States, but the estimate is not far out of the way.

Taking, then, thirty years as the term in which the population of this country would

it to European peoples alone, we should

PERSONAL INFLUENCE.

Indirect influence often succeeds where direct influence has failed. Thus, when the Redeemer had selected his disciples and endeavored to teach them his truth, that was direct influence; but when he prayed for them, and those disciples heard him and then came to him with their petition,

"Lord, teach us to pray," that was indirect influence. This is true for this reason: the direct aims that we make to convert others may be contradicted by our lives, while the indirect influence is our very life. What we given the subject attention is that a healthy,

the place deserted. "When the cat's away to be learned from this, for some have been the mice will play. Sit here, my good fel- disposed to write bitter things against themselves because their influence has failed. The tramp dropped in a heap on the Let all such remember that some are too "Why were you so still and serious in the rough chair the artist brought him, and pure to act universally on others. If our influence has failed, even the Redeemer's was not universal.-Rev. F. W. Robertson.

> MATALOGUE OF BOOKS AND TRACTS DURLISHED BY THE AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY.

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y.

NATURE'S GOD AND HIS MEMORIAL. A Series of Four Ser-mons on the subject of the Sabbath. By Nathan Ward-ner, D. D., late missionary at Shanghai, China, subsequent-ly engaged in Sabbath Reform labors in Scotland. 112 pp. Paper, 15 cents.

THE SABBATH AND THE SUNDAY. BY Rev. A. H. Lewis, A. M., D. D. Part First, Argument. Part Second, History. 16mo. 268 pp. Fine Cloth, $1 25.

This volume is an earnest and able presentation of the Sabbath question, argumentatively and historically. This edition of this work is nearly exhausted; but is being revised by the author, and enlarged, and will be published in three volumes, as follows:

Vol. I.—BIBLICAL TEACHINGS CONCERNING THE SABBATH AND THE SUNDAY. Price, in fine muslin, 60 cents. Paper, 80 cents. 166 pages.

VOL. II.-A CRITICAL HISTORY OF THE SABBATH AND THE SUNDAY IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH. Price, in fine muslin, $1 25. Twenty-five per cent discount to clergymen. 588 pages. (Volume Three not yet ready.)

THOUGHTS SUGGESTED BY THE PEBUSAL OF GILFILLAN AND OTHER AUTHORS ON THE SABBATH. BY the late Rev. Thos. B. Brown, Pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist Church at Little Genesee, N. Y. Second Edition, 125 pp. Fine Cloth, 35 cents. Paper, 10 cents.

This book is a careful review of the arguments in favor of Sunday, and especially of the work of James Gilfillan, of Scotland, which has been widely circulated among the clergymen of America.

THE ROYAL LAW CONTENDED FOR. By Edward Stennet First printed in London, in 1658. 64 pp. Paper, 10 cents. LIFE AND DEATH. By the late Rev. Alexander Campbell, of Bethany, Va. Reprinted from the "Millennial Harbin-ger Extra." 50 pp. Price, 6 cents.

COMMUNICN, OR LORD'S SUPPER. A Sermon delivered at Milton Junction, Wis., June 15, 1878. By Rev. N. Ward ner, D. D. 20 pp.

THE SABBATH QUESTION CONSIDERED. A review of a series of articles in the American Bapitst Flag. By Rev. S. R. Wheeler, A. M., Missionary for Kansas, Nebraska, and Missouri. 32 pp. 7 cents.

A PASTOR'S LETTER TO AN ABSENT MRMBER, on the Abro-gation of the Moral Law. By Rev. Nathan Wardner, D. D. 8 pp. 2 cents.

SUNDAY: IS IT GOD'S SABBATH OR MAN'S? A letter address to Chicago Ministers. By Rev. E. Ronayne. 13 pp. Moral Nature and Scriptural Observance of the Sabbath

Religious Liberty Endangered by Legislative Enactments 16 pp.

An Appeal for the Restoration of the Bible Sabbath. 40 pp.

The Sabbath and its Lord. 28 pp. The True Sabbath Embraced and Observed. 16 pp. The Bible Doctrine of the Weekly Sabbath. 20 pp. The last two Tracts in this list are also published in the TOFICAL SERIES.—By Rev. James Bailey.—No. 1, My Holy Day, 28 pp.; No. 2, The Moral Law, 28 pp.; No. 8, The Sab-bath under Christ, 16 pp.; No. 4, The Sabbath under the Apostles, 12 pp.; No. 5, Time of Commencing the Sabbatk, 4 pp.; No. 6, The Sanctification of the Sabbath, 20 pp.; No. 7, The Day of the Sabbath, 24 pp.

FOUR-PAGE SERIES.—By Rev. N. Wardner, D. D.—The Sab-bath: A Seventh Day or The Seventh Day; Which? The Lord's-day, or Christian Sabbath. Did Christ or his Apostles Change the Sabbath from the

E BOODSCHAPPER. A STATEEN-PAGE RELIGIOUS MONTHLY

> -IN THE-HOLLAND LANGUAGE.

PUBLISHED BY G. VELTHUYSEN. HAABLER, HOLLAND

DE Boodschaffen (The Messenger) is an able exponent of the Bible Sabbath (the Seventh-day), Baptism, Temperance, etc., and is an excellent paper to place in the hands of Hol-landers in this country, to call their attention to these portant truths. The undersigned is authorized to receive subscriptions and contributions for its support, and would be pleased to receive names and addresses of Hollanders, that sample copies may be furnished them. C. Dz VOS.

No. 1419 Commerce Street, DALLAS, Texas.

ISTORY OF CONFERENCE.—Ray. JAMES BAILEY has left a few copies of the History of the Seventh day Baptist General Conference at the Rucospin office for sale, at $1 50. Sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Address, SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, N. Y

WANTED.—A Sabbath-keeping painter, a man of good waddress and wide awake, a first-class sign-writer, to take a half interest in a general house and sign painting business, in a city of 4,000 inhabitants. Business thorough-ly established by a painter of over twenty years experience. Three different societies of Sabbath-keepers in the vicinity. Address C. E. GREGG, Marion, Linn Co, Iowa.

THE SECOND COMING OF CHRIST AT HAND .-- W. live in those days wherein the Lord will gather His Is-ael out of both Jew and Christian Churches, that their rael raci out of both Jew and Christian Churches, that there spirit, soul and body may be preserved blameless to receive the Lord at his coming. Rom. ix. 4; Isa. xi. 11, 12; Rev. vii. 4; Rom. viii. 29; Rev. xiv. 1; 1 Thess. v. 20, 21, 33; 1 Cor. xv. 52, 53; Phi. iii. 21; Mark xiii. 20; Math. xxiv. 14; Rom. viii. 11, 22, 23; Rev. xxi. 1, 4, 5; John xiv. 16, 17, 26. Further information can be obtained in two different books at 1 Se. Martion this paper.

each. Mention this paper. Address: J. WIELE, 143 N. Sixth St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

GENTS WANTED for our new Religious book, A the greatest success of the year. Send for illus trated circular, if you want to make money. FORSHEE & McMAKIN, Cincinnati, Ohio.

BOOK BINDING. In any Style

- OF --

CLOTH OR LEATHER,

DONE AT THE

RECORDER OFFICE.

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y.,

at the following prices :

*Seventh-day Baptist Quarterly, and books of same size, half sheep, paper sides, 60 cents ; half roan, cloth sides, 50 cents ; half imitation morocco, cloth sides, $1.

Harper's, Century, † Outlook and Sabbath Quarterly, and books of same size, half sheep, paper sides, 75 cents; half roan, cloth sides, $1; half imitation morocco, cloth sides, $1 25.

Leslie's and Demorest's Magazines, Appleton's Journal, and books of same size, helf sheep, paper sides $1: half roan, cloth sides, $1'25: half imitation morocco, cloth sides, $1 50.

Harper's Weekly, Leslie's Newspaper, Graphic, and paper of same size, half sheep, paper sides, $1 50; half ruan, cloth sides, $1 75; half imitation morocco, cloth sides, $2. Newspaper Flies, half sheep, paper sides, $2; half roan, cloth sides, $2 50; half imitation morocco, cloth sides, $3, Special prices for special jobs.

Postage or expressage extra. Several books can be sent at a less rate proportionately than one book. Club togeth-er and send in your work.

People having magazines will do well, before any pun-bers are lost, to have them neatly bound.

* Quarterlies furnished for $3 additiona + Outlooks (Vols. 8 and 4) furnished for 80 cents additional

PATENTS obtained, and all business in the U.S. Patent Office, or in the Courts, attended to for Moderate fees. We are opposite the U.S. Patent Office, en-gaged in patent business exclusively, and can obtain pat-ents in less time than those remote from Washington. When model or drawing is sent we advise as to patentability free of charge: and we make no charge unless we obtain patent. We refer, here, to the Post Master, the Superin-tendent of Money Order Division, and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms, and reference to actual clients in your own State, or county, address-C. A. SNOW & Co., Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. O 'ENTS ob mewhere are there miles between? all me—time is flying. I I find my treasure? hark f is but the winds replying !"

"ASSUBANCE FOREVER."

hold ! those winds are whisp'ring words om which new hope if given— n him "who rideth on their wings, Whose dwelling place is heaven.

he who holds them in his fists. ho guides their every breath," n him they tell of love and peace. scatter vengeance, fear and death.

il who love and fear his name. nd foretastes rich of heaven.

n let me roll my way on God, wheart he'll strengthen well. keep me-and "in perfect peace" nd all my wishes he'll fulfill.

SIN'S FATAL FASCINATION.

once a young man has done a wrong t has a wful power of attracting making him hunger to do it again. vil that I do may, indeed, for a moreate in me a revulsion of conscience; ronger than that revulsion of conit exercises a fascination over me tis hard to resist. It is a great deal easid a man that has never done a wrong han to find a man who has only done I If the wall of the dyke is sound it ep the water out. but if there is the hole in it it will all come in. So the st you do asserts its power over you; fierce, longing desire after you, and you into its clutches.

ister.

surest purifier of a moist and disease-laden

atmosphere; and in many a house the kitchen and keeping the stove clean, it will certainly smoke, and this smoke, besides being very

to the room.-Sanitary News.

re of the first evils, for as sure as you og, the first step taken will make the seem to become necessary. The first rill be followed by a bigger second, e second, at a short interval, by a pious third, until the drops become s and the shower becomes a deluge. arse of evil is ever wider and deeper, re tumultuous. The little sins get in window and open the front door for house-breakers. One smooths the the other. All sin has an awful perpetuating and increasing itself. prophet says in his awful vision of ful creatures that make their sport desolate city, "None of them shall r mate. The wild beasts of the des-I meet with the wild beasts of the ul-Every sin tells upon the character kes the repetition of itself more and

ey. None is barren among them." ain is linked together in a alimy tak-is field of sea-weed, so that the man

'Think of nothing any minute but of had lunched on the still-life study. One A REMARKABLE FISSURE. --- Sheepmen re- him ?" repeated Irene, slowly; "we sin in- picture had eaten the other. -- Youth's Comport a remarkable fissure in the Sierras, near stead of worshiping? Adelle, how did you panion. an extinct volcano, whose lava flow extends | come to think about it in this way?"

across the valley. For some years past the "Mamma taught me, and now I can see sheepmen, driving their flocks through the very plainly myself, for God's house is for mountains, have noticed a fissure in the worship, and irreverence toward God is a mountain side. When first noticed it was | sin."

"But about the thoughts, how could I hardly more than a mere line, but each succeeding visit has shown the rift to be wider help thinking about that abominable old bonthan it was the year before, till it is now a net just ahead of me; and, Adelle, I did pretty foot wide and a mile in length. The break | nearly laugh entirely when they began to sing extends almost due north and south, and, the hymn-how could I help that?"

judging from its nature, those who have ' 'Mamma has always told me that God is seen it believe it to be in some way connected so merciful he will forgive us all we really with the terriffic activity which shaped all cannot help, but we must be truly, really the surroundings. The walls, as far as a sure we cannot help it, and fix our thoughts lowered candle reveals, go down vertically, so upon him when we enter his house that be, by natural increase alone, as densely without approaching one another in the slight- we have no chance to think of anything populated as any European state ? Malthus est degree. Stones dropped in are heard to else."

tumble for some time on their way to the "But, Adelle, how can we help thinking of interior of the earth. That the rift is prac- all sorts of things? Now, how can we, in such tically fathomless is certain; besides the a droll little church?"

depth shown by dropping stones into it, the | "You see, Irene, if we truly remember air at the mouth is very much warmer than | that God is listening to our prayers and our elsewhere, showing the connection with the praise, just looking at us, we will be helped hot interior. Small animals held over the to put away other thoughts, and to be trying mouth of this chasm are not affected, no to praise him, and pray in our hearts, as more than is a lighted candle. The rapid | though there was nobody else there at all but growth in size of this mysterious hole in the | ourselves and him."

"Well, I never heard anything like it at ground during the last year is supposed to be connected with the increased earthquake all before," replied Irene, impulsively. activity during the time.-Inyo (Nev.) Reg- suppose I shall be thinking about it every time I go into a church, but I never shall be good enough to think only about prayers in such a queer place as that." OIL STOVES AND HEALTH.-In many "Mamma says we can be good enough to households, kerosene oil-stoves take the place do anything hard by asking God, and making up our minds," whispered Adelle in her double, without the aid of immigration, we of kitchen ranges during the summer, for ear, as the door opened for intruding feet to would have in sixty years, 180,000,000 peocooking and laundry uses. The absence of come in, and Irene whispered back in her ple. Permitting emigration, and limiting heat, which is one of the strongest claims made for the convenient little oil-stoves, is own earnest way, "I will remember; but, Adella, I do not believe I shall ever be unquestionably have that number in sixty not so great an advantage as it is made to good enough to sit behind that tormenting years-perhaps within fifty years. Supposappear. No house which remains through old bonnet and never see it."-Christian at ing the territorial area of the United States the damp, close weather of dog-days without heat from stove or grate, can be a suitable Work. or healthful dwelling-place. Heat is the fire, which is the only one lighted from He was a tramp, one of the numerous spring to fall, has been the salvation of the brotherhood, an unsightly object upon the inmates. People will never live rationally in this variable climate, where the mercury | garden landscape of civilization to all eyes except those of a certain artist of great reruns up and down the tube of the thermometer with a freedom and rapidity which is pute who saw him, and exclaimed:

AN INCIDENT OF ART.

"What a magnificent model!" The consistently Western, until they learn to regulate fires and clothing, not by the month | tramp heard him, and turned to go away.

"My man," said the artist, in a kindly or season, but by the actual temperature, tone, "I want you at the studio." and their own individual needs. There' is another danger in the use of oil-stoves, which tramp uneasily. should be seriously considered. Unless the greatest care is taken in trimming the wicks

"I will give you fifty cents an hour."

"You are," laughed the great artist, goodburn clearly and brightly, and a constant him up many stairs to the high studio of The law of personal influence is mysterious.

the Sabbath from the Seventh Day to the First Day of the Week ?

Constantine and the Sunday. The New Testament Sabbath. Did Christ Abolish the Sabbath of the Decalogue! Are the Ten Commandments binding alike upon Jew and Gentile ? • Which Day of the Week did Christians Keep as the Sab bath during 300 years after Christ ?

This four-page series is also published in the German language and stretch forth their arms in generous Tracts are sent by mail postpaid at the rate of 800 page welcome to all sorts of people, have probafor $1. Annual members of the Tract Society are entitled bly never thought much of the future of to tracts equal in value to one-half the amount of their annual contributions to the Society. Life Members are entitheir country, nor considered well the intertled to 1,000 pages annually. Sample packages will be sent, ests of posterity. Suppose all immigration on application, to all who wish to investigate the subject. should now be stopped, how long a time Address all communications to the SABBATH RECORDER, would elapse until the United States should Alfred Centre, N.Y.

Why Sunday is observed as the Sabbath. By C. D. Pot-ter, M. D., 4 pp. Apostolic Example. By C. D. Potter, M. D., 4 pp.

Aug. 14, 1885.

LFRED UNIVERSITY, ALFRED, N. Y.

EQUAL PRIVILEGES FOR YOUNG LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

Academic, Collegiate, and Theological Departments. Classical, Scientific, Normal, Mechanical, Musical, and Painting and Drawing courses or study. Better advantages than ever can be promised for the com ing year. CALENDAR.

Fall Term commences Wednesday, Sept. 1. Winter Term, Wednesday, December 15.

Spring Term commences Wednesday, March 80. Commencement, Wednesday, June 29. Expenses $100 to $300 per year. For further particulars ddress. J. ALLEN, President.

LFRED UNIVERSITY.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC. For circulars and information address,

N. WARDNER WILLIAMS.

TÍ VANGELII HAROLD, Ľ. A FOUR-PAGE RELIGIOUS MONTHLY

> - FOR THE -SWEDES OF AMERICA.

TERMS. Three copies, to one address, one year..... $1 00

Published by the AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIE-TY, Alfred Centre, N. Y. L. A. PLATTS, Editor.

Subscriptions to the paper, and contributions to the fund for its publication, are solicited. By Persons having the names and addresses of Swedes who do not take this paper will please send them to this of-fice, that sample copies may be furnished.

OUR SABBATH VISITOR

Is Published Weekly at

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y. TERMS.

Single Copies, per year..... 60 cents Ten Copies and upwards, per copy.... 50 cents

CURRESPONDENCE. All communications relating to business should be ad-dressed to OUE SABBATH VISITOR. All communications for the Editor should be addressed to MRS. L T. STANTON, Alfred Centre N. Y.

HELPING HAND BIBLE SCHOOL WORK.

condescended to sit for him, and followed the second in daily contact with its. him up many stairs to the high studio of The law of personal influence is mysterious. art. "Hello!" said the painter, when he found one thief, not on the other. There is much the second se SITUATIONS FREE.

To our subscribers only-can be obtained through the school Bureau department of the

CHICAGO CORRESPONDENCE UNIVERSITY

An institution furnishing instruction to "any person in any study." THROUGH DIRECT CORRESPONDENCE

WITH EMINENT SPECIALISTS (College Professors). To learn of present courses of study and vacancies to teach, send 10 cents for sample copy of our first-class Literary and Educational Journal. N. B.-Schools and families supplied with teachers FREE. Address

THE CORRESPONDENCE UNIVERSITY JOURNAL (AGENTS WANTED.) 162 La Salle St., Chicago

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN

The most popular Weekly new publication furnishes a most valuable conversion of information which no person should be wither The popularity of the Bonnerirran Artennal such that its circulation nearly equals that et other papers of its class combined. Fries, 62 per. Discount to Clabs. Sold by all newsleaf MUNN & OO., Publishers, No. Subpressway, 7

ATENTS. he Patent Office and have propa INN & CO., Offee St.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY. Bells of Pure Copper and Tin for Churches, Schools, Fire Alarms, Farms, etc. FULLY WARBANTED. Catalogue sent Free. VANDUZEN & TIFT, Clacinasti, O.

McShane Bell Feendry Finest-Grade of Bells, CHILLES AND PRAIS for CHURCHIN, As Bend for Price and Catalogue. Address H. McBHANE CO., Mention this paper. Baltimum, Ma BOOK AGENTS WANTED for FORM ECHOES LIVING TRUTHS FOR HEAD AND REART.

By John B. Gough. His last and crowning life work, wim full of Smilling takes set, humor and pathos. Bright, pure, and good. The "langther and tears," if cells at cipit is still the life and Death of Mr. Gough by Rov, I. To it is adde the life and Death of Mr. Gough by Rov, I. The still DOTT, 1000 Agents Wanted, -Hen and Woman. 110 by 5000 a month made. (J. Thetanes of Master and a two Rever Terms and Fay Freight. Write there there have 'A. B. WORTHINGTON & Oo, Martiner, Comm

to remain the same that it now is, long before the second centennial year the question of subsistence will have become the " burning question" of the time. - Overland Monthly.

"I ain't doin' nothin'," muttered the

"What fur?"

"To sit as a model."

"What is a muddle?"

penetrating and disagreeable, is extremely irritating to delicate throats. For the same reason, a kerosene lamp should not be kept naturedly. Then he explained his meaning burning dimly in a sleeping-room at night. to such advantage that nature's gentleman in tone, in look, in act, and this tells upon If it must be used, it should be allowed to condescended to sit for him, and followed those who come in daily contact with us.

supply of outside air should be admitted in- art.

The Sabbaths School.

"Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of INTERNATIONAL LESSONS, 1886.

FOURTH QUARTER. Oct. 2. Jesus Betrayed. John 18: 1-14. Oct. 9. Jesus before Pilate. John 18: 28-40. Oct. 16. Jesus delivered to be Crucified. John 19: 1-16. Oct. 23. Jesus Crucified. John 19: 17-30. Oct. 30. Jesus Risen. John 20: 1-18. Nov. 6. Thomas Convinced. John 20: 19-31. Nov. 13. Peter Restored. John 21: 4-19. Nov. 20. Walking in the Light. 1 John 1: 5-10; 2: 1-6. Nov. 27. John's Vision of Christ. Rev. 1: 4-18. Dec. 4. Worshiping God and the Lamb. Rev. 5: 1-14.

Dec. 11. The Saints in Heaven. Rev. 7: 9-17. Dec. 18. The Great Invitation. Rev. 22: 8-21. Dec. 25. Review.

LESSON II.-JESUS BEFORE PILATE.

For Sabbath-day, Oct. 9th.

SCRIPTURE LESSON .- John 18: 28-40.

28. Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of 28. Inen led they Jesus from Cataphas unto the fail of judgment; and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment-hall, lest they should be defiled: but that they might eat the passover. 29. Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accu-

29. Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accu-sation bring ye against this man? 30. They answered and said unto him. If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee. 31. Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him. It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: 32. That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die. 33. Then Pilate entered into the judgment-hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews? 34. Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself,

Jews? 34. Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me? 35. Pllate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the chief priests, have delivered thee unto me. What hast thou done? 36. Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. 37. Pliate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice. 38. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all. 39. But ye have a custom that I should release unto you one at the passover; will ye therefore, that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 40. Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

GOLDEN TEXT.--I find in him no fault at all. John 18: 38.

TIME.-Same day as the events of the former lesson. PLACE.—Hall of judgment, Jerusalem.

OUTLINE.

- I. Jesus delivered to Pilate. v. 28.
- II. Jesus accused to Pilate. v. 29-32.
- III. Jesus examined by Pilate. v. 33-87.
- IV. Jesus declared without fault. v. 38.

V. Barabbas released instead of Jesus. v. 40.

[In the absence of Dr. Williams, we take the following from the Pilgrim Teacher :]

than an official interest in any question of Jewish affairs. Thine own nation . . . delivered thes. The case is between you and them. What hast thou done? Pilate did not regard the claim of being a king as the real ground of accusation; but he supposes that Jesus must have done something.

Pilate's first question, showing that the Jews had misinterpreted the real nature of his kingship. Would my servants fight. Peter's use of the sword was so evidently out of harmony with the whole course of Christ and his followers that it does not require even mention. Kingdom not from hence. Emblems of empire were all about him in the gov ernor's house. Not from such as these came his kingdom.

V. 37. Art thou a king then? Probably in some doubt. "In some sense, then, you are a king?" Thou sayest that I am a king. Form of affirmation used among the Jews. Matt. 26: 25, 64. "It is as you say; I am a king." To this end, . . . and for this cause. The same idea repeated to give solemn emphasis to the intimation that he is fulfilling a divine mission. "I was born a king, and sent into the world." Bear witness unto the truth. This dis closes the true sphere of Christ's royal authority, and yet attaches it to Pilate's worldly idea of empire, so as to graft it upon his mind at the readiest point of contact. Every one that is of the truth. Literally, "out of" ($i\varkappa$), like the familiar expres- N.Y., Sept. 16, 1886, by Rev. B. E. Fisk, Mr. Massion, "the son of "-having a sympathy with truth NARD R. MIX, of Friendship, and Miss MARY DEsuch as comes by birth and inheritance, so that truth is his native sphere. Heareth my coice. As a subject of my kingdom. V. 38. What is truth? He speaks as one who does not take in Jesus' meaning, and does not care to do so. Whatever concerns only truth was un substantial to him. Said this, he went out. Being satisfied that Jesus was not such a king as the Jews alleged, he cares for nothing more. I find in him no fault at all. " I," from my judicial position.

V. 89. Instead of acquitting Jesus, as he ought, he takes a false step, and seeks to shift responsibility upon Herod. Luke 23: 6-12. The Jews see that he is willing to swerve somewhat to gratify them. Will ye . . . release unto you? A further evidence of weakness, which encouraged the Jews. The King of the Jews. He uses the title probably in irony, knowing that they would have been dis posed to favor one who should seek to do the very thing they had charged on Jesus.

V. 40. Barabbas was a robber. This describing probably his habitual life—his profession. His par ticular crime is given in Mark 15: 7, Luke 23: 19. He seems to have been engaged in some such insurrection as they falsely charged on Jesus. Luke 23:2.

Education that Pays.

A course of business study and practice that will enable a young man to enter an office and command a good salary at once, is the kind of education that pays the best. The Bryant & Stratton Buffalo and has obtained a national reputation for its thor-

THE subscriber will give fifty cents for a copy of the Conference Minutes for 1818. A. E. MAIN.

ASHAWAY, R. I.

THE Hornellsville Seventh day Baptist Church holds regular services at the Hall of the McDongal V. 36. Kingdom is not of this world. Answering Protective Association, on Broad St., every Sabbath, at 2 o'clock P. M. The Sabbath school follows the preaching service. Sabbath-keepers spending the Sabbath in Hornellsville are especially invited to attend. All strangers will be most cordially welcomed.

> CHICAGO MISSION .- Mission Bible-school at the Pacific Garden Mission Rooms, corner of Van Buren St. and 4th Avenue, every Sabbath afternoon at 2 o'clock. Preaching at 8 o'clock. All Sabbathkeepers in the city, over the Sabbath, are cordially invited to attend.

FOR SALE OR RENT.-In the village of Alfred Centre, N. Y., a planing mill, well equipped with good machinery for the manufacture of sash, doors, blinds, moldings, etc. A very desirable location for a job shop. No other shop of the kind in the village. Address,

J. G. BURDICK, Alfred Centre, N. Y.

MARRIED.

At the home of the bride's mother, in Richburg LONG

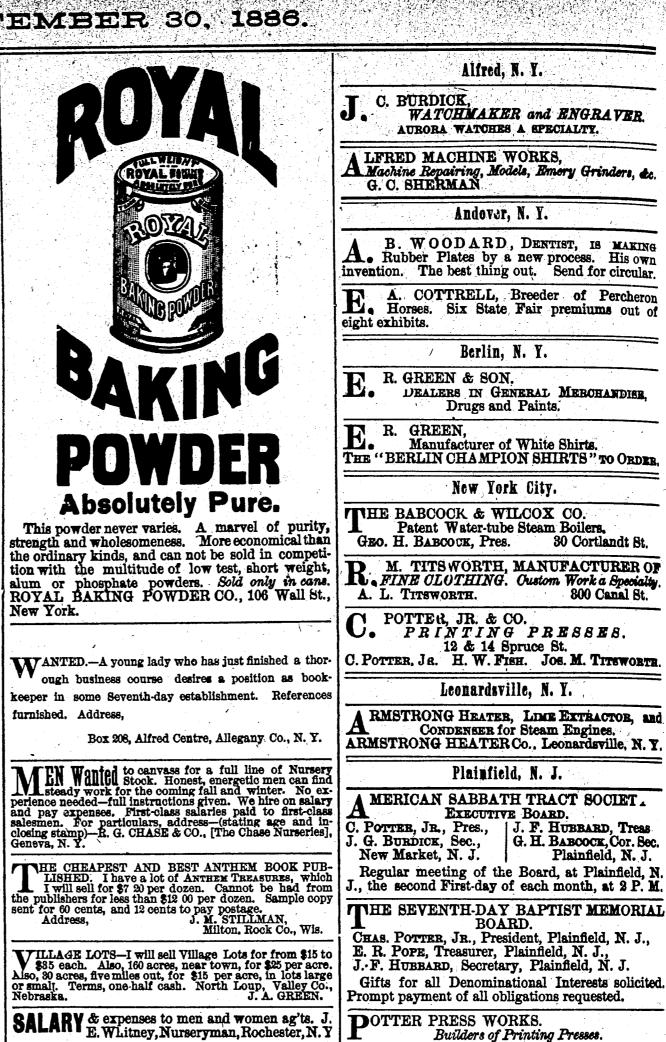

At Little Genesee, N. Y., at the residence of Pa lermo Lackey, Sept. 18, 1886, by Rev. B. E. Fisk, Mr. E. R. CRANDALL and Mrs. AMY K. LACKEY BOND, both of Little Genesee.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Obi, N Y., Sept. 19, 1886, by Rev. E. A. Witter, Miss Ro-SETTA N. FOOTE and Mr. WILLIAM DODGE, of Andover. At the same time and place, a twin sister, Miss ROSELTHA E. FOOTE and Mr. ALFRED L. DODGE, of Andover.

DIED.

Mrs. NANCY M., wife of T. J. Van Velzor, was born in Berlin, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., in 1816, and died in the home to which she came early in life, in Wirt Centre, Aug. 10, 1886, a little past 70 years of age. Her maiden name was Thurston. Her family came to this section when the farms were forests, and when the matter of living and accumulating property meant hard work. Two aged sisters remain, one at Nile and another at Almond. The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Van Velzor began nearly half a century ago, and the separation brings great sorrow to the husband. Seven children mourn the loss of a mother faithful and true. She was a Christian lady, highly esteemed by acquaintances and much beloved in her family. She rests in the family burying ground by the old homestead.

In Preston, Chenango Co., N. Y., on Sabbath morning, Sept. 18, 1886, SILAS ROGERS, in the 80th year of his age. The deceased was sick only three days. The disease seemed to be paralysis, for he soon lost control of his vocal powers, and was una-ble to help himself. He went peacefully and quietly down under the power of death. He trusted in Christ as his Redeemer and Saviour. At one time he held membership in the Seventh day Baptist Church of Preston. His daughters, with whom he Business College gives just such a course of study, | lived, believe that his religious faith and life for the last year of his life had been greatly strengthened

How PRINTINC PAYS

it pays to own a Model in a handsome little several hundred 15,000 people who a. Business men.

k,--everybody in and Outfit com o $10.00 and up

The Model Press Co., Limited,

Business men, Boys, Girls,

LFRED MACHINE WORKS. Machine Repairing, Models, Emery Grinders, &c. G. C. BHERMAN Andover, N. Y. B. WOODARD, DENTIST, IS MAKING A. Rubber Plates by a new process. His own invention. The best thing out. Send for circular. E. A. COTTRELL, Breeder of Percheron Horses. Six State Fair premiums out of Berlin, N. Y. R. GREEN & SON. DEALERS IN GENERAL MEBOHANDISE. Drugs and Paints. Manufacturer of White Shirts. THE "BERLIN CHAMPION SHIRTS" TO ORDER. New York City. THE BABCOCK & WILCOX CO. Patent Water-tube Steam Boilers. GEO. H. BABCOCK, Pres. 30 Cortlandt St. R. M. TITSWORTH, MANUFACTURER OF FINE CLOTHING. Custom Work a Specialty. 800 Canal St. C. POTTER, JR. & CO. PRINTING PRESSES. 12 & 14 Spruce St. C. Potter, Jr. H. W. Fish. Jos. M. Titsworte. Leonardsville, N. Y. RMSTRONG HEATER, LIME EXTRACTOR, and CONDENSER for Steam Engines. ARMSTRONG HEATER Co., Leonardsville, N.Y. Plainfield, N. J. MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIET. EXECUTIVE BOARD. J. F. HUBBARD, Treas G. H. BABCOCK, Cor. Sec. Plainfield, N. J. Regular meeting of the Board, at Plainfield, N. , the second First-day of each month, at 2 P. M. THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MEMORIAL

Westerly, B. I.

L. BARBOUR & CO.,

PUBLISHED BY THE AMER VOL. XLII.-NO. 40. The Sabbath Entered as second-class mai office at Alfred Centre, N. Y. OUR MISSIONARY 8 1. OUR HISTORY. In 1671 the first Sev church in America was or port, R. I. The Rhode Isl ing was established in 1696 Meeting of 1801, when the keepers in Rhode Island, York, New Jersey and Pe Henry Clark, of Brookfie posed that there should be the propagation of the trut of the United States, by th missionaries. A majority approved the measure; an [Berlin], N. Y., in 1803, 1 ginning of the organization Conference. Eight church members, and 9 ordained n a formal basis of union v as Rev. James Bailey rema of the Conference, the cent idea that led to this unior missionary work. In 1818 a Board of Dir tees of Missions was appo ference, and an able and s address sent out to the chi bering 14, with a mem Within a few years mission as far west as Indiana, and In 1821 a Missionary Ma lished; but, to our great lo C. POTTER, JR., Proprietor. ued in 1824. W. M. STILLMAN, ATTORNEY AT LAW. Supreme Court Commissioner, etc. In 1828 a new and separ ganized, known as The A day Baptist Missionary Soc then some 26 churches, wi of about 3,100. This new sought to develop the s missions among the churc meetings and other means

