ATH-bCHOOL BOARD OF GERERAL CONFERENCE. Doon, President, Alfred Centre, N. Y. WILLIAMS, Cor. Sec., Alfred Centre, N. Y. BLISS, Treasurer, Alfred Centre, N. Y.	PUBLISUED
ALFRED SUN, Published at Alfred Cen- Allegany County, N. Y. Devoted to Uni. and local news. Terms: $1 per year.	VOL. XL
Alfred, N. Y. J. BURDICK, WATCHNAKER and BNGRAVUR AUROBA WATCHES A SPECIALTY.	Che &
Andever. N. Y. B. WOODARD, DENTIST, IN MARINE Rubber Plates by a new process. His own	Entered as office at Alfr
Rerlin, N. Y. R. GREEN & SON. DEALERS IN GENERAL MERCHANDINE Drugs and Paints.	The Valley Quee American Sabba Worry Our National Fl A Bit of Good G The Ethics of V MISSION
New York City. E BABCOCK & WILCOX CO. Patent Water-tube Steam Boilers.	Journey From S Notes from the J SABBATE Buck's Theolog Russian Sabbat EDUCAT
D. H. BABCOUE, Pres. 80 Cortland: St. M. TITS NORTH, MANUFACTURER OF FINE CLUTHING. Ouston Works Specially, L. TITSWORTH. 800 Canal St.	Edward Thring English Schools The University Clippings TEMPER The Liquor-dea
FUTTER, JR. & CO. PRINTING PRESSES. 12-& 14 Spruce St. TTER, Jg. H. W. FISH. JOS. M. TITEWORTA	Willie's Lesson A Temperance Items EDITORI
Leonardsville, N. Y.	Paragraphs A Golden Wedd Our Books Yom Kippur
INSTRONG HEATEB, LIME EXTRACTOR, and CONDENSES for Steam Engines. ISTRONG HEATER Co., Leonardsville, N. Y.	Commun Deacon Daniel The Readiness Opening Fields Richard Anthor
Plainfield, N. J. MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY. EXECUTIVE BOARD. OTTER, Pres., J. F. HUBBARD, Tras. G. H. BABOOUX, Cor. Sec. Plainfield, N. J.	A Congregation Lessons from a Washington Le Home N Independence, Adell, Kan MISCEL
egular meeting of the Board, at Plainfield, N. he second First-day of each month, at 3 P. M. HE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MEMORIAL	Blind.—Poetry Memories Setting Hopes Wonderful Tro Divine Motherl A Single Eye
BOARD. A. POTTER, President, Plainfield, N. J., R. POTE, Treasurer, Plainfield, N. J., F HUBBARD, Secretary, Plainfield, N. J. if for all Denominational Interests solicited. mpt payment of all obligations requested.	Signing his Na Multitudes and Popula Catalo The Sa Conden
OTTER PRESS WORKS. Builders of Printing Presses. POTTER, JR., & Co., Proprietors	MARRIA Specia: Busine
M. STILLMAN, ATTORNEY AT LAW. Supreme Court Commissioner, etc.

	he Sal
PUBLISHED BY THE AREBICAN RABBATE TRAC	T SOCIRTY.
VOL. XLIVNO. 39.	ALFRE
Subbath Seconder.   Entered as second-class mail matter at the post- office at Alfred Centre, N. Y.   CONTENTS.   The Valley QueenPoetry.   A Bit of Good Gospel   A Bit of Good Gospel   Journey From Shanghal to Tai-Chow.   Notes from the Loudon Missi mary Conference   Sabaara Report.   Budk's Theological Dictionary of the Sabbath.   Brussian Sabbatarians.   Burder's Theological Dictionary of the Sabbath.   Bressian Sabbatarians.   Brenyerance   Clippings.   The Liquor dealer's Creed.   Wille's Lesson   A Temperance Martyr.   Breadiness of the Harvest.   Opening Fields.   Yom Kippur.   Communitorions.   Deacon Daniel S. Benigton   The Readiness of the Harvest.   Opening Fields.   Yom Kippur.   Kathare.	use him whenever he will consent. The p per, thus starting out and meeting with the most flattering notice, now has a circulation of only about 1,500 copies, monthly. The number will probably be greatly increased due time, if the editor is encouraged in he noble work. The largest donor to this encouraged in he noble work. The largest donor to this encouraged in he noble work. The largest donor to this encouraged in he started, and then was called to his heaven home to await the results. The cost of main taining nine numbers of this paper has be $354 02, Mr. Lucky receiving no salary for his services. Receipts from subscription $16 49, leaving $337 53 to be paid for private contributions.
Condensed News Marriages and Deaths Special Notices Business Directory	DE BOODSCHAPPER.
THE VALLEY QUEEN. BY FANNIE E. STILLMAN.	Velthuysen. To the Secretary of the American Sabbath Tract Socie

There dwells in a valley along by a stream, A light-hearted, frolicsome young queen is she, And this is one sign of her true royalty,-Two noble attendants: a deep inborn grace, That covers with blushes her beautiful face, And grace of good temper, that warms all the while Each heart that comes under the light of her smile. Good-will is her kingdom, her subjects are these.-The shy country youngster, all out at the knees, The quarry man's children, Mike. Patrick and Will. And all of the farmer's girls over the hill, The boys from the city, the girls from the town, Sweet Bessie and Nellie in dainty rich gown, Due honor all pay to the dearest of queens, The queen of the valley, not yet in her teens. When free from the thraldom of winter's long school

Sabbath Recorder.

ETY.

"THE SEVENTH-DAY IS THE SABBATE OF THE LORD THY GOD."

TERES-49 A TRAR, IX ADVANCE

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y., FIFTH-DAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888.

WHOLE NO. 2276

Aren Davis

Judging from the amount received in of a tract, to a defender of the Sabbath. whose doings seemed to oblige me to take up | titudes of deaths every year attributed to | needs. riptions it does not appear to be in very the struggle in that way. demand. Its cost of publication for

Tracts we spread continually. Missionary dyspepsia, consumption and heart disease, feasts in the open air (you would call them | which have for their cause worry. Worry perhaps, camp-meetings), give opportunities induces such a condition of body that to bring at once thousands of tracts among readily receives and develops the germs of people from all sides. If we can do so, we disease. give not only tracts which teach our Seventhday Baptist principles, but also such which friend who avoided worry as much as possiin the Hebrew language, especially in munications in the papers seem to ask. Ger- and fell dead as he rose from the table. terests of the lost sheep of Israel. The man tracts we have sent to Germany, and if Another went to sleep well, and never awoke: the Society would send us again a deal of another rode out and was killed." Thus can place them even in our country, at Am- read much, or met many persons. Christians would be glad to secure the sterdam, where we have at present a Scanly be called born fretters; they fret at everyes of Mr. Lucky, and stand ready to dinavian Church. Bro. Bakker, at Vrie> tracts. The copies of Dr. Lewis' "Critical His- week to do all the worrying they are capable of doing; as for any one living with them, tory" are sent to the given addresses in Gerber will probably be greatly increased in about the receipt, and in an interesting manto endure themselves. ner, telling his intention to give publicity to the book by means of the press.

of worry; they are seamed, and wrinkled, I give my thanks to the Society for the reg. [ and full of lines. They should be a warnnot last as long as it did before these wishes not thyself."-Ex may be fulfilled.

The church here has resolved to give $2 for four copies of our Hebrew paper, edited by Bro. Lucky. We would have done so immediately after the first number appeared, but circumstances did not permit before now. I hope to give the money to Bro. Potter or to Bro. Babcock, when they will be here, and if so, the Treasurer will get it, and you will send us the paper; if possible, all the num-bers already issued. We do something for our heathen mission; we wish to do some thing for Israel, bringing our Hebrew paper to the houses of our Jewish fellow-citizens.

If you will send me a copy of our Swedish ner. I will take care to bring it to the hands of the Lutheran Swedish minister at pages, when writing of golden rods and Amsterdam. Because Adventism has held his entrance in Holland, the last number of de Boodschapper were somewhat controversial, in that direction, or rather somewhat the golden rods and asters; they form a dispolemical. Circumstances asked for that polemic. I translated Eld, Morton's "The Sanctuary Question," and upon request of Bro. Bakker, translated Mr. Carver's "Mrs. White's Claims, and I am seeking for a way to issue Dr. Lewis', "Critical History," in the Dutch language, "Sunday Law!" We stand in need of the true application of the Sunday law," that is the cry, heard from all sides in this country, and therefore, if it pleases God to open a way and to show me a bookseller who will print the book for his and delight. own account, I will willingly try to give him the copy. But money for the expenses of printing we have not. If it were possible we should like to try the issue of a little weekly; we would try it during three months; if it proved to have vital force because people would have it and therefore become subscribers, our opinion is that we could do much good in that way. Although holding to the some principle, this little paper ought to have another tenor and somawhat other contents than our monthly has. Eighty dollars must that proof cost. A brother at Luik (Belgium) was form erly a colporteur. Now he does what he is able to do in that direction; but he lost his salary and he himself is a poor man. W send him now and then a few guilders, for Roman Catholic population he would have might appropriately be taken as our national we have no more to give. But amongst that a noble sphere for gospel labor if he could go out with Bibles, tracts, etc.; enjoying some peculiar help for his livelyhood. I refused the translation of Mrs. White's books. I did translate a pamphlet of Eld. Wag-goner, a sound writ. I was invited to the Conference at Basle of the Adventists, but did not find it the right thing to go there. And now, dear Bro. Secretary, I have told you, as far as I know, all the particulars that may interest the Society. I hope my report will answer the demand. May God bless the Society in all its doings! May God. bless you all at the Uonference! May he make your deliberations and resolutions the means of new blessings for the church and for the world.

they were at the beginning. There are mul- hope, of life, of all that human nature mos

If our God can only be reached by the man of great scientific attainment or deep philosophical research, then must the majority of human hearts know no God, and live and die like beasts of burden. But be who is the revelation of the Father, who is the very face and heart of God, the express image of his person, the manifestation of his we call "Gospel tracts," and that contain ble, once said: "What would you do if you nature, comes to the lowliest among us and doctrines beloved by all believers. Several stopped every time to consider the possibil- bids us be of good cheer, assuring us that all else, the man, was brough to us un- towns and villages were visited, and as well ities of every act? I knew a woman who they are blessed who are pure in heart, for in the houses as along the ways the truth was | walked across a smooth carpet floor; she fell, they shall see God. It may never be given sowed. The post is used, too, for bringing broke her hip joint, and died in a few days. them to pry into the marvels of the telescope tracts in every direction, as tidings or com- I knew of a neighbor who ate his dinner, or the mysteries of the microscope. They may never be able to say the alphabet of science. Even its primer may be Babel to them and yet they can see God. Yes, this is true. them, we can use them, and so it is with instance after instance might be mentioned, Human experience bears it out. When the Swedish and other Scandinavian tracts; we for every daily act, if we had traveled, or heart is divested of evil, when the sanctifying influences which work for our purification are allowed their sway, then come holy. happy visions of the Almighty. These are scheloo, is laboring in the same way with thing, and seven days and seven nights no vain, delusive dreams of the night. So scarcely give them time enough during the wonderfully do they elevate and cheer, so richly do they compensate for all that is hard and harsh in life; so blessedly do they ly about 1,500 copies, monthly. This many. Only Dr. Dalman, Leipsig, wrote it is their worst punishment that they have nerve for service and for sacrifice that we know them to be real. And if God be hidden from the eyes of any of us it is because those eyes have looked upon other objects, and contented themselves with the lower ular present of the SABBATH RECORDER. [ing to us. If the time and strength spent and the lesser things. The cry of a heart Since long, my hearty wishes were to send a in worry could be used for self-improvement that hungers after him will bring him to us. ed, and then was called to his heavenly thank-offering for that ever-faithful sending and benefiting those near us, there would be The happy sense of a personal and present of the paper to my address, and I hope it will | many changes in every community. "Fret | God, is a blessing within reach of us all. He is so round about them that fear him that his people can joyously exclaim: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations." Such knowledge, such consciousness the learned may have if they will, but it is equally for the lowly. Whether we know aught else or nought else, we may know him in the knowledge of whom is life eternal.-New York Observer.

THE ETHICS OF VISITING THE SICK.

Recently there appeared in the Advance an unusually good article on this subject,

OUR NATIONAL FLOWERS Some one has named the trailing arbutus as our national flower, and, to this the American Florist objects, on the ground that it is not common to all parts of the country, and at the same time nominates the pansy for the position. The objection made to the arbutus, and which is valid, has still greater force against the pansy, which is common to no part of the country, but it is a garden variety of a European plant.

Our own preference on this point was written by Mrs. C. L. Goodell. Gladly made known several years since, in these would we reproduce all the excellent advice

Westerly, R. I. N. DENISON & CO., Jaw RELIABLE GOODS AT FAIR PRICES Finest Repairing Solicited. Please my w F STILLMAN & SON. MANUPACTURERS OF STILLMAN'S AXLE OIL. The only acle oil made which is ENTIRELY FREE m gumming substances. THE SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST MISSION ARY SOCIETY IORGE GREENMAN, President, Mystic Bridge, OL U. WHITFORD, Recording Secretary, Westerly E. MAIN, Corresponding Secretary, Ashaway, R.I. MERT L. CHESTER, Treasurer, Westerly, R. L. Chicago, Ill. 14、14、19、19 RDWAY & CO. NTTAILOBS 205 West Madison St. B. COTTRELL & SONS, CHLINDER PRINTING PRESSES, for Hand and Steam Power. 119 Monroe St. ctory at Westerly, R. I. Milton, Wis. M. GREEN, DEALER IN Lumber, Sash. Doors, Blinds, Salt, Cement, al and Building Material. ILTON COLLEGE, Milton, Wis. The Fall Term opens August 29, 1888. REV. W. C. WHITFORD, D. D., President. P. CLARKE REGISTERED PHARMAOIST Sales Win ost-Office Building, VOMAN'S EXECUTIVE BOARD OF THE GENERAL CONFERENCE. resident, Mrs. S. J. Clarke, Milton, Wis. crotary, Miss Mary F. Bailey, rocenter, Mrs. W. H. Ingham, servicery, Eastern Association, Mrs. O. U. Whitford, Westerly, R. I. South-Eastern Association, Mrs. J. L. Huffman, Lost Creek, W. Va Central Association, Mrs. P. R. Burdick, Lincklaen, N. Y. Western Association, Mrs. E. T. Platts, Alfreti Centre, N. T. North Western Association, Mrs. Eliza Babcock, Albion, Wis. Milton Junetion, Win. T. BOGERS Meters Public, Ornegeners, and Toors Clerk Office at rundence, Milton Junction, Witthe Sabbath Becorder ANNELCAN SABBATH TRACT SCIENTS. BT TEL - 22 --ALFRED CENTURE ALLEGANT CO. .....

will be the beve their a

Through meadows and marshland, o'er ditches and

She leads them, she speeds them, where loud echoes

To gather the beautiful flowers of spring. And while they deck gaily the brow of their queen, With trailing arbutus and mosses so green, The wild winds, from brambles, in workmanship

Are weaving a net for her loose, flowing hair.

When summer's hot sun makes all golden the Then sits the young queen on the reaper's high seat. And shouts to the horses, come Fannie, come Nell, In cutting and binding we'll do our work well. The men are behind us to set up the grain, To cure it, and store it before the long rain. The children are waiting to make their ice cream, And you shall have drink from the clear, cooling stream.

She is queen of all queens in her wild horsemanship And goes without saddle, or bridle, or whip, Through galloping hollow and over the hill, Past by the new school-house, and back by the

With speed like the steed of Arabia's child, Or savages o t on the great Western wild, She rides home triumphant 'mid cheer after cheer, Her gallant young escort left far, in the rear.

When perished, her crown of loves sweetest wild flowers. Replaced may it be in Elysium bowers; More lasting, more precious than all the bright

And costliest diamonds of earth's diadems. May she be found worthy, and all her loved train With heaven's great ring and his people to reign, The rarest, the fairest, the dearest of queens, The queen of the valley, not yet in her teens.

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY.

Annual Report of the Executive Board.

Under this head we shall give, in successive issues, portions of the report of the Board, until the whole report is completed.

THE HELPING HAND.

The circulation of this quarterly Sabbathschool magazine is now 2,200. It is the exceed the cost of publication. It is in good demand, and is evidently doing a good work. We hope it may become an indispensable aid to Bible study, and be used in every Sabbathschool.

THE EVANGELII HABOLD.

The circulation of this Swedish paper is adjunct to our Sabbath literature this may offensive. Two times in the course of the same subject, though they are no clearer at something that calls for God. To know becomes a Bethel, and joy and gladness and be we are not at present so well qualified to year I issued an "Open Letter," in the form | the end of their thinking and worrying than him is the source of peace, of strength, of hope return."-Golden Rule.

the labors during the last Conference year. De Boodschapper was printed monthly, cop. ies 2,000; the sending out went forth regularly. Subscribers who pay number 80; besides there are those who get the paper regularly, but who are not able to pay for it, or at least say that they are not able for paying. Bro. Bakker, at Frieschelo (Vriescheloo), gets every month 100 copies, he himself directing them as he judges the best, and I restituting to him the postage. In the same manner, the brothers at Rotterdam asked for 200 copies, to send to their particular friends and acquaintances. A brother who is living at Hague gets 50 a month, and one at Amsterdam, 25. In the kingdom of Belgium, in the town of Luik. a brother, formerly a colporteur of the Bible Company, but dismissed because of his baptism, uses 6 copies, and at Coopersville, Attowa Co., Minn., in your own country, Bro. de Vuist receives 12 copies every month, trying to bring them in the houses of Dutch people.

Dear Brother,-Please accept my report of

The rest is spread in all directions through our kingdom, to such people as seem to me not being indifferent about religion, and whose names I find in religious papers and magazines; not only, properly, in this kingdom, but also in foreign lands, where Dutch speaking people are living.

Fruits of our sowing in that manner, I can't make mention of much decisive conversion this year. I don't know but the follow ing: At Nymegen, a town in our province, Gelderland, a young man of 22, a printer's man, found the Lord's Sabbath by examining our defense of it in De Boodschapper. He told us so, and is now indeed a faithful Sabbath keeper, having had a hard struggle with his old friends, Plymouth brethren. It was some years, ago that he had found baptism by reading our paper, and consequently was paptized by a Plymouth brother. At Luik (Belgium), four persons found the Sabbath of the Lord by our paper. Two were baptized already, two were baptized in our chape some four weeks ago.

Furthermore, I feel free to say, that almost general consent is given to the truth of the Sabbath; at all events more general than people give to baptism, although the number who agrees theoretically in the last point is a pretty large one. A minister of the Dutch Reformed Church, at Amsterdam, called on me some weeks ago, asking me for some weeks the use of the fifth volume of De Boodschapper, he having accepted the deliverance of a referate on the Sabbath question. Two weeks ago I called on him at Amonly one of, our publications whose receipts sterdam, and was told that the whole ministry of said church-the number of ministers is 28-had given their consent that Sundaykeeping or Sunday-consecration was not in the Bible. In our eyes this consentment is a any other one thing, not excepting alcohol. fact of somewhat signification.

respondence to influential persons in church | ments, quarrels, and business difficulties.

With respect and brotherly love, Yours in four Saviour. But will must side her union G. VELTHUYSEN.

WORRY:

Worry is the cause of more trouble than Continually I write letters in private cor- zlement, insanity, drink, family estrange- secrets of the stars bare with the astronomer, asters, in the following words:

regular specific diseases, as typhoid fever,

To one who was accustomed to worry, a

Occasionally we meet people who can tru-

We daily meet faces that show the result

"After midsummer, in this country, our rural landscape is everywhere brightened by ell says, "visiting the sick is a very sacred tinct and beautiful feature of the scenery. The eyes of our countrymen are everywhere gladdened by their smiles; north and south, east and west, on the hills and mountainsides, in the valleys and on the broad prairies, by the roadsides and the streams, and in the fields and copses they stand as tokens of the genial heat that brings from the soil the golden grains and the beautiful, luscious fruits. No other country in the world is thus characterized; these plants belong to America, and as such should be our pride

"While on this continent there are from sixty to seventy species, and perhaps more, of the solidagos, or golden rods, and nearly all of them of vigorous habit, growing from a foot to eight feet in height, all the world besides affords less than a dozen, and these, for the most part, of small size, and confined to few localities of limited, area, and always in such small numbers as to make them rare plants shall y work Lave . Ballio as

"The species of asters, in this country, sre still more numerous than those of the golden rod. Both are the children of the sun, basking in his favors and reflecting his smiles. Although many indigenous species of flowers are peculiar to this country, yet none so abound and apparantly claim possession as these. And grouped together they flowers, emblems of endurance, vigor, light and freedom."-- Vick's Magazine.

A BIT OF GOOD GOSPEL.

nunssini ant. of mait syns ......... researches are but as the shallows, and whose attainments in knowledge are but as the very little hills, may well take note of the paper before the Institue of Christian Philosophy on the "Limits and Uses of Scientific Research." The paper is the product of a scholarly man. We can see the scientific mind in every line of it. The remark is to this effect: "There is no aristocracy of science which may arrogate to itself a better or a higher knowledge of the Creator, or a higher spiritual culture than can be attained by any pure-minded, honest man or woman. That is a bit of gospel. It is good news.

We believe that many of the most scholarly, studious, philosophical minds that the world knows to-day would say "Amen" heartily to this doctrine. But few persons can worm out secrets with the chemist, tarn up the For it leads men to murder, suicide, embez- earth's strata with the geologist, lay the or investigate the merits or demerits of any and state, about the Sabbath question. Sel- Worried people cannot make good bargains; system of philosophy. To the majority of dom I acquire answer. If so, in most cases their judgments become so warped or human beings life means daily toil for daily now about 1,000. Just how important an friendly; sometimes very unchristian and even twisted through dwelling too long on the bread; but in every human breast there is a honomos a Bothal and top and slade and top and top and slade and top and sla given, if our columns were sufficiently long. As it is, we must be content in giving a few of the most telling points. As Mrs. Goodmission, and it is well worth our study to know how wisely to do it." These are a few of the most important suggestions:

"Carry something, a flower, how it brightens, a little fruit or some appetizing delicacy from your own kitchen, or whatever may conduce to the comfort, especially of those who seldom have these things. A thing beautiful to look upon, or even the loan of a soft, perfumed pillow, may prove the entering wedge for the spiritual gift of Christ. Bnt, above all, do not fail to carry a smile, a cheerful word, and think to leave with them promise from God's Book; these are better than grapes or jelly.

"If the patient is weak, do not expect him to entertain you. Be quick to discern whether he desires to talk himself, or to listen to you. If the first, be patient and let him unburden his troubles, and give him your sympathy in spirit, if not in words. Sometimes it is a better way just to keep still and give your ear to hear. On the other hand, do not encourage him to talk at length about his pains and aches. Do not try to draw him out on all these points; this is the mission of the physician.

"If the patient shows a desire to listen te you, have something ready to say to him: Give him worthy thoughts to think over after you are gone. Suggest some of the benefits of sickness, when rightly received.

"Do not be afraid to speak a word for Christ in the sick-room. If there is ever a time when people should be helped to be honest with themselves, it is when they are sick. It is true they need cheer and encouragement, but a funny story or an exciting inci-The lowly ones among us whose deepest | dent is not the only thing that will revive them, or leave the most wholesome flavor in the mind. Tenderners and tact and prudence and wisdom are all necessary, but there remark of a physician who recently read a is a way to get at the heart-wants, and minister to them in the name of Christ.

> "There are many of the Lord's dear ones. to day, prostrated on beds of pain, and shut away from the house of worship and place of prayer. They sadly miss those hours of com. munion so helpful to them. Here is an opportunity to serve the Master in the way he has indicated. To them, the coming of a warm, sympathetic heart, in Christ's name, to minister comfort and consolation, is like an angel's visit. Sit down by them quietly. and, with subdued voice, read aloud portions of the Word-precious promises, which will remind them of the Father's loving care and tender sympathy for his suffering children. Read or repeat a hymn or some sweet thoughts from a leaflet or choice book Sometimee the singing of a gospel song will be pleasing. Speak to them in a plain, simple way, of the Lord's nearer presence in their need, and how he stands pledged to love and keep them to

THE SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888

Missions.

2

"Go ye into all the world; and preach the gospel to every creature.

UNTIL further notice, the address of the Corresponding Secretary will be as formerly, Asha way, R. I.

JOUBNEY FROM SHANGHAI TO TAI-GHOW.

TAI-CHOW, China, April 30, 1888. (Concluded.)

As we were descending we met a Chinaman with a half-grown pig on his back, tugging away up this steep road. We thought it must be delightful for the pig, but not so for the man. The old Chinaman seemed to take it as though he was accustomed to the business. It is surprising to see the heavy burdens that are horne over these mountain passes. The view we got all along the path of our descent was exceedingly beautiful. Lofty mountains towered above us on either side, covered with a great variety of shrubs and trees which have clothed themselves with their most beautiful spring verdure. The picture is one of perfect sublimity, surpassing all power of de scription. In the afternoon the weather became quite warm, and we were glad to get into our chairs again for a little rest. We came now to a section where the tea plant farms were a striking feature. This was the first we had seen on our journey. The leaves seemed to be fresh and green and nearly where I noticed they had cut down the tea plant and taken the cuttings to the house where they were picking off the tender practiced when the plants get old. Then out new shoots, reproducing the tender appropriate for putting up in the temple, asked if I had any pictures of Buddha! It is our prayer that the truth which she has My friend, Mr. Dalziel, was exceedingly amused at the general appearance of the tributed our baggage and clothing in it. It was too novel for me to attempt to describe. forty cash each and were ready at seven o'clock to set out on our journey. The morning was very fine and beautiful, scenery. through which we passed I think surpassed anything which we had previously beheld. It was an ever changing panoramic view of nature's grandure. To day we crossed two of the highest mountains on the journey. At one place in a valley through which we passed, the tallow tree formed a striking feature. This tree is very late in putting out its foliage. It is called the tallow tree resting places we are overtaken with a thunand their little daughter Rose. We appre-

which are built two pagodas. This forms a li away. The western portion of the city wall | the missionary. is built upon the ridge of a natural elevation

several hundred feet above the level of the city. We visited this, as well as the pagoda hill, from which places we enjoyed splendid views of the city and surrounding country. In almost every direction we looked, lofty mountain heights towered above us, piercing of Shanghai. the cloudy sky. I have been much interested in the history of mission work in this city. The grown. We passed through one small villa first missionary visit made to this place was in 1867. The people were very hostile to foreign invasion, and would not rent a solitary room in which they might abide. They leaves. I learned, however, that this is only finally secured a place in a Taurist temple, in a retired place in the western part of the city it is cut down to the roots that it my send on the hill, where they put up for the night. But the first night, thieves entered a window leaves. We passed by a temple, where we and stole all their personal effects and clothhalted for a few moments. An old lady who ing, except the night clothes in which they seemed to be in charge came out and bought were sleeping. They at once made an apa tract. We thought the tract with the peal to the governor of the city, demanding heading "The Idols Have no Spirits" very his protection. The clothing and other things were found and returned to them. but to our surprise, after she had pasted the The city officials then stationed a deputy at tract up in the temple she came back and this temple, to see what these foreign invaders were really up to; and, strange it is, that this very man, sent to keep watch over these unconsciously bought and put up in the missionaries was himself, six years later, contemple of idols my in some way open her verted to the Christian faith, having received blind eyes to a knowledge of the true God. | his first impression of the truth from them. Night overtook us at a small town by the The wife and son of this man have since bename of Tsv-au, about ninety li dis. come Christians; the son acting at present as tant from Ning-hai, the place from which teacher and helper in mission work. True, we started in the morning. We stop at a as Mr. Rudland remarked, "The devil made Chinese inn. It is reported to be the best a great mistake when he sent those thieves on in town. It is not a palace hotel, with elec. that night to steal the effects of these missiontric light, stained glass windows, marble aries;" for it opened up the city at once to floors, and the like! We engage the best the work, gave them an official recognition room, which is really the only room the immediately, and proved to work for the salestablishment affords. I should judge the vation of one family at least. Mission work room to be ten by twelve feet. In this there has been continued from that date (1867) to were three frames for beds, on which was a the present. Rev. Mr. Rudland came to ocpallet of braided straw. There were no cupy this field Sept. 1, 1870, then there were chairs or table. A little basin of oil, in only two converts. By the blessing of God, which a small wick had been placed and the work has steadily increased, not however lighted, was sending forth a feeble ray of without much opposition and many obstacles. light. The dismal appearance presented to Since the beginning of the work there have us weary travelers is not easily described, but | been 245 baptisms, and the present memberthere was no alternative and we decided to ship in the whole district is 176. By the aid make the best of it. We soon got the keeper of his native helper, he is carrying on work of the inn to bring in a table and we pro- at eight different stations, four of which are ceeded to get our supper, furnishing our own | neighboring cities, and four villages. The lamp, cooking stove utensils, dishes and pro- most promising is the city of his residence, visions. All that the inn furnished us was | Tai-Chow. Preparations are being made for hot water and the room we occupied. Supper | the erection of a new chapel, which the growth finished, we spread our bedding on a pad of of the work very much demands. We restraw and retired to rest, glad even for this | joice with him in the prospect of his having humble place in which to pass the night. a more cheery and commodious place in which to continue his work. He tells me of three temples that have been converted into room after we had located ourselves and dis- | places for preaching the gospel. These were not public temples, but the property of individuals who, on becoming converted from We arose early the next morning, cooked our heathenism, gave them to the mission for own rice, paid the landlord two hundred and | chapels. This certainly shows the power of the gospel to turn men from darkness to light, from the service of the false to the service of the true God. Such instances strengthen our faith, and nerve us to the work. They were very steep and difficult to ascend. | arrival, they were engaged in printing a | people have taken to the rearing of the silkbecause its fruit yields a large quantity of Chow dialect. Helps to Bible study and to pay expense of raising it. There is in this hard, white tallow, employed by the Chinese hymn books have also been printed in the region a peculiar species of hemp. After it in manufacturing candles. As we advanced on same. All of these have been of great help is sown, it may be cultivated for several years our journey the crops of the fields were more | in teaching and training those who have | without resowing. It yields three crops a varied-now a crop of wheat or barely, then accepted the truth. Mr. Rudland related to year, the first of which is of superior quality, a rice field, then a field of poppy, and it was us an interesting incident about their pur- and is used in the manufacture of cloth. quite noticeable as we came nearer to the city chasing land in this city. After they had The last crop is of a coarser quality, and used

der shower, giving us some little anxiety, from getting a location in the city. But has the henor of invention I do not know. lest we should be obliged to stop here for the the reply of the missionaries was, "The land I expect if he was known to those who have night. But after a half hour, to our joy, the we have legally bought suits our purpose, enjoyed the benefits of his wisdom, they clouds passed over, and we were permitted to and if the government wants it for its use, all proceed, and able to reach Tai-Chow just at there is to be done is for the government to evening, having traveled, during the day, furnish us with another piece, and we will some ninety five li. We were most heartily exchange. Several days passed. Inquiries welcomed by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Rudland were made of the missionaries if they had secured another piece of ground. They anciate their hospitality, and enjoy the rest swered no; that they had a piece of ground which their comfortable home affords. It that suited their purpose, and if the governwas like an oasis in a desert land. Tai-Chow | ment wanted it, another piece must be furis a foo city of the Che-Kiang province. I nished them. After a little more delay, the should judge its walls to be about nine miles | mandarins sent word that they had a piece, in circumference, with a population of one and asked them to come and see it. They hundred and twenty thousand. On the did so, and accepted the exchange at once, south, the city walls enclose a hill of about as it was more desirable than the first they three hundred feet elevation, on the top of had-bought, being somewhat retired and yet within easy access of the busy part of the city. striking feature of the city. Just outside of The officials evidently thought if they could the wall, on the south and between high ele- | not entirely dispose of them, they would put va ions, flows a wide but shallow river, which | them off in a corner. This movement has leads on to the sea, one hundred and twenty also worked to the pleasure and comfort of

> Mr. Rudland's mission house, where I am now writing, is built upon this plot of ground. It is located in one of the most desirable parts of the whole city. The people should find no time to write. So you will now seem to be quiet and orderly, and much | accept it for what it is worth. If you pubmore civil than they are in our model city

Near the close of our stay, a fire broke out, burning up a large medicine shop, the loss of which is roughly estimated to be ten thou sand dollars. The fire was very bright, lighting up the whole city. As we had never been to a Chinese fire, we concluded to go and see how they managed. It seemed to us the most that was done was to look on. We did see one or two men on the walls with hooks, pulling down some of the timbers. The people of the adjacent houses were al moving out without any thought or hope of having their homes saved. After we had been on the street some time, the fire company came along. The head men were bear ing lanterns and clearing the way; behind them were three or four men carrying a tub, in which was a small pump, something like a garden syringe, capable of throwing a stream of water about as large. Behind these dess, and she was a blood-thirsty godders, came men carrying buckets of water, which but fifty millions of people worshiped her. was to be poured into the tub, and pumped out on to the fire. It would take more than ten times as long to nump it out as it did to pour it in. We were glad to learn that the city officials and merchants of the place are | door" to the heathen. He had been taught agitating the question of procuring a small fire engine. They have already had some talk with Mr. Rudland on the subject, and have asked him to aid them in the matter, which he is most willing to do. It was gratifying to note the confidence manifested by the citizens of the place in our friend Mr. Rudland. May he be permitted to labor on until many more are turned from heathenism to the worship of the true God. Tai-Chow is noted for its beautiful mountain scenery. For the most part the weather, during our sojourn, was unfavorable to our visiting the places of note outside the city. The last Friday we were there, May 11th, was a pleasant day, and we all went to view the glories of nature on the Cloud Mountain, as it is called. The view we enjoyed of the city of Tai-Chow, with its wall, pagoda, and wide, winding river, with mountains towering up in every direction, and stretching away in the dim distance, with valleys here and there waving with ripening wheat and barley, all made a picture beyond our powers of description. The summit of this mountain is some three thousand feet above the city. We ascended to only about half its height to a point where a temple is located. There were over fifty priests, and the temple was being extensively repaired and enlarged. The mountains everywhere about here have indications of iron, and we were told of one place, not far away, where iron is found in a very pure state. It is washed down in the valley in little globules, where the Chinese gather it for making nails and rice pans, and farming utensils. The chief exports of this Mr. Rudland also has a printing press, to section of county are tea, oranges, Tang-Ma aid him in his work. Two young men have | (a Chinese fruit), apricots, vegetables, tallow been trained for this department. On our from the tallow tree, and, later years, the primer of the Wung-Chow dialect. The most | worm for the manufacture of silk. Opium important work done in this line seems to used to be one of the chief crops; but God have been the translation and printing of the | has set his curse on the plant, so that now it whole of the New Testament in the Tai- | is impossible to get much more than enough.

where, thinking in this way to prevent them seems to be noted. Which of the wise sages would be most happy to do him honor. venture to say, in this instance, John China man, in a rude way, has done what American genius has never yet done. I will not attempt to describe it to you. I am very sure you would not be likely to guess its real construction.

> We expected to take our departure from this place May 10th, but owing to my having a chill the day before, and the arrival of Mr. Williamson, and the earnest entreaties of our host and hostess, we decided to remain over another Sabbath and Sunday, leaving on Monday, May 14th. Although the weather, excepting the last few days, has been very unpleasant, we have enjoyed our stay very much. We expect to return in company with Mr. Williamson to his home, Wong-Who. There Mr. Dalziel and I will separate, he re-| turning to Shanghai, and I going on to Dau-Lau-Sau, from which place I may write you > again. I have written this just as I could find a little time between engagements, knowing, if I deferred it until I arrived home, I lish it, you may condense or reject as you think best. I was told not to come back home in two months, so I shall have still a little over one month to be away. Ever praying for your health and the prosperity of our beloved Zion, I am fraternally yours,

DAVID H. DAVIS.

NOTES FROM THE LONDON MISSIONARY CON-FEBENCE.

MR. T. A. DENNY remarked that it would take eighty-four years to place a copy of the Scriptures in the hands of every person in the world at the rate at which the Bible is being circulated to day.

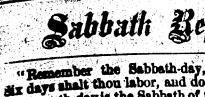

PASTOR AGAR said he was grieved to find a number of young people in England charmed with Buddhism, but it was no religion at all for it said there was no God. It abhorred women. The great god of India was a god-

DR. MURRAY MITCHELL, speaking on Par. seeism, or Zoroastrianism, said it was one of the great religions of the ancient world spreading all over Persia and India. The Jews and the Persians had close relations, The sacred book of Parseeism was about the size of the Bible, and it was looked upon as the best of the heathen religious systems. It ascribed no moral power to the object of worship, and it sanctioned no image wor. ship. The Parsee must contend for the truth. Polygamy was forbidden, and the family was honored. How did the Parsees attain to these principles? Its founder. he believed, fell back on the remains of the patriarchal system. Compared with the Bible, the Zendavesta was very prosaic; it contained no poetry or history. It contained vestiges of conflicting thoughts. Its mono. theism was very defective, and there was no conception of the fatherhood, or love of God, or of the brotherhood of man. Its dualism was very strong, and it represented the two deities as being antagonistic. The whole of the creation might be worshiped by the creature. There was a magical form. ulary, and by its potency the good principle was supposed to crush the evil principle. But there was no idea of expiation, or atone. ment, or of the manifestation of the deity. There was no idea of holiness, or conception of the deadness of the soul. It was a well meaning, commonplace book. It had noth. ing elevating. Its founder was unknown.

Zoroastrianism was only as a rush-light to the light of Christ.

REV. H. WEBB PEPLOE, M. A., said it was not sufficient to stir men with enthusi. asm, but each must apprehend clearly what the Lord would have him to do. At the first, the church, as a whole, was scattered abroad, and went everywhere preaching the gospel, and they were men and women. Ohrist gave to them all one great commission. It was the same now; they met that night under one great responsibility, and responsibility meant capacity for the fulfillment of obligation. The Holy Ghost was given to each individual, to enable him to fulfill what God would have him do. He thought they had yet to learn whatGod could do with one wholly consecrated man. He took from across the water, as an illustration, their brother Moody, and though there might not be many Moodys, each man had his peculiar gift, and the ear might not say to the eye, "I have no need of thee." Even the great Head, Christ Jesus, might not say to the foot, "I have no need of you." They were waiting, not for mere combinations or attempts to bind the church together with a sense of apparent unity, but for a personal realization of the unbounded honor conferred upon them in being called to go out and do each his own part. How could they wonder that the heathen were skeptical when here was this gospel given for the whole of the nations, and yet it had made so little way? And when they looked out and saw what God had done by individval men, they had proof that it was the power of God to salvation when it was preached by men who were quickened and inspired. He believed there were some new methods which might well be adopted. They might send out men and women not trained at the universitiesmechanics, carpenters, seamstresses and other Christian workers. He dld not lean so much upon mere methods, but he looked forward to men and women going forth personally consecrated to God, filled with the Holy Ghost, and realizing their vital union with Christ Jesus. These alone would win

the seventh day is the Sabbath of BUCK'S THEOLOGICAL DICTIONA

BATH.

Sabbath, in the Hebrew la rest, and is the seventh day day appointed for religiou total cessation from work, tion of God's resting on the likewise in memorial of the the Israelites from bondage)

Concerning the time w was first instituted there ha opinions. Some have mai sanctification of the sevent in Gen. 2, is only there spo tion; and is to be understoo afterward enjoined in the that the bistorian, writing tuted, there gives the reas tion, and this is supposed to is never mentioned during age. But against this sent 1st, that it cannot be easily inspired penman would have sanctification of the Seven primeval transactions, if s had not taken place until wards. 2d. That, consid restored to favor through religious service instituted required to observe in test his dependence on the Or his faith and hope in the reasonable that an institu solemn, and so necessary should be then existent. proof against its existence mentioned in the partia than it is against its existe the end of David's reight 440 years. 4th. That the as a well known solemnity gation of the law, Ex manner in which the Je awful consequences of neg the reader to the Old Ter 34, 35, Neh. 13 : 16, 18, Je 16, 17, Numb. 15 : 23-36.-

BUSSIAN SABBA

There has just appe work on the "Russian Agrarian Condition, Soci

Rev. C. H. RAPPARD, of Basle, said that at the Conference was represented the church of Philadelphia, or "brotherly love," to which was given the promise of the "open at school that England was "the country of the Bible." And he believed it, having seen that it was so.

DR. PHILIP SCHAFF said Americans were at home in England. The dust of their an cestors was in English churchyards. Their laws, institutions, and Bibles were the same, and by these two nations working together the world would be converted. From that meeting would go forth a new inspiration for that gigantic work, till the time should come when all missionary societies should be one great phalanx to plant the banner of the cross on every heathen temple, on every the world. Mohammedan mosque, and on every Jewish synagogue.

PASTOR BOEGNER, of Paris, said what he had seen of English hospitality, of which he had often heard, had gone beyond his expectations. The position of the French Protestant missions was different from that of other countries; for they had only a small minority of the nation behind them; which minority had had to fight for three centuries for its existence. No wonder they were misunderstood, and sometimes told that their first care should be to look after their own existence. If they felt isolated as French mission they did not feel lonely as a Protestant mission.

Some interesting particulars in reference to Fiji were given by Rev. James Calvert, one of the original pioneer missionaries to Fiji. He described the degraded condition of the natives when that mission was commenced, showing how they were given up to cannibalism, infanticide, the burying of sick persons before death, polygamy, and other evils. Fifty years ago their condition was brought under the notice of the people of England, especially Wesleyan Methodists; work was begun and vigorously carried on by them and other societies, and now, although there are only nine white missionaries, there are 3,005 native preachers, many of them ordained, including 1,119 local preachers; there are 1,268 chapels and other preaching places, 28 English church members, 27,097 fully-accredited native church members, 4,264 on trial for membership, 3.480 classes, 40,718 children, in 175 schools. under 2,528 teachers, in connection with the Wesleyan mission alone. Other societies can show similar results. Fifty years ago a DE. GEQ. E. POST, one of the professors at the Medical College in Beirut, invited us to see the Christmas festival held there for the benefit of the patients. A Christmas tree, with the patients grouped around it, and surrounded by spectators of various nationalities, was described, and some of the patients were individually considered. One of these was a little Jewish boy; another was a venerable Mohammedan, a lineal descendant of the great Saladin; a third, a veiled woman with a babe, a Druse, whose hands had been burned and amputated, and whose husband had then divorced her; a fourth, a man with a long beard and a turban, a bigoted Mohammedan, who had charge of the sacred, patriarchal tomb of Macpelah at Hebron, and who had been cured of blindness; a fifth, a turbaned man in a blue robe, an Armenian priest, who believes his church was pre apostolic and founded by Christ himself; a sixth, a Bedouin from Palmyra, who had been shot and been unskillfully treated by the thrusting of rag after rag through the bullet hole, and who had been successfully operated on in the Beirut Hospital; a seventh, a woman who had been struck over the heart by her husband. so that diseased bone and cartilage had had to be removed, and the speaker, as operator, had for the first time gazed into a woman's heart; and others from various parts of Syria. 10 all of these presents from the Christmas tree were given, and the message of the gospel of Christ was preached.

The gospel was not "let down," yet the susceptibilities of the hearers were not unnecessarily offended by references to "the false prophet," etc. The doctor tells these Mohammedans of Abraham, from whom native could not be found who was not a they profess to be descended; and declares heathen; now there is not an avowed heathen | that it is for the love of Christ that the left. Idolatry has for some time past been | hospital has been built, and the doctors and wholly extinct. Though poor, the people sisters have left their homes to look after the are most liberal in their contributions for sick there. Dr. Post further described his carrying on their own work, and the islands | useful visit to a city when it was troubled numerous. In the afternoon the weather formed them that this ground was wanted for without mentioning the manufacture of the of what can be done, and will be done, by cord among the Christians. He treated the disease and he healed the discord.

ion," by Stepniak, (St Paternoster Square, 1888 nme it appears thar t "barbers," as they were thodox, arose in A. D. 1 were a Dean named Nil Karp, a barber, for "so golnik, seems to indicate brief existence, for the ci them and threw them in gorod, whither they had expelled from Pskov.

A hundred years later retical rationalistic sect fluence arose in Novgo izers." They were led " named Skhary or Zechar seemed to have gained se civil authority, at least t Stepniak says, "There many popular sects of to batarians, which in som reproduces the doctrine izers. It would, howe surd to suppose them mysterious links of l which only existed thre fore. The 'Epistles' so, many unmistakable cies of some of the four that they offer a perfe planation of the spon of Judaizing sects in Ru countries."

Of the continuity of our author says of the hoborzy sects, that the about 200,000. The divided into Sabbataria rian Molokane. They they hold their meetin "I had much difficu maroy, "in overcomin dence of these sect stranger. At last I w common friend, to a S fisherman by trade. good authority, the main learned of all the cong the Scriptures, especia almost by heart. He clesiastical history, a and dates from memo a 'orack' pupil before

"He explained that cepted the whole of th inspired . . . They their day of prayer; th prohibited by Moses; to the dignity of God. tations of divinity."

"The rites and wo rians of Russis prope ish. | On Saturdays t houses of prayer, v teachers deliver, a set rupted from time t songs of the congre rians hold these mee and aleo, as a rule o to the sect. The ori parameter conversion

UBRAY MITCHELL, speaking on Par. or Zoroastrianism, said it was one of at leligions of the ancient world ng all over Persia and India. The id the Persians had close relations. red book of Parseeism was about the he Bible, and it was looked upon as t of the heathen religious systems bed no moral power to the object of o, and it sanctioned no image-wor-The Parsee must contend for the Polygamy was forbidden, and the was honored. How did the Paraces to these principles? Its founder, eved, fell back on the remains of the chal system. Compared with the the Zendavesta was very prosaic; it ied no poetry or history. It contained of conflicting thoughts. Its monowas very defective, and there was ception of the fatherhood, or love of r of the brotherhood of man. Its h was very strong, and it represented o deities as being antagonistic. The of the creation might be worshiped creature. There was a magical formand by its potency the good principle pposed to crush the evil principle. ere was no idea of expisition, or atoneor of the manifestation of the deity. was no idea of holiness, or conception deadness of the soul. It was a well. g, commonplace book. It had noth. vating. Its founder was unknown. trianism was only as a rush-light to the f Christ.

H. WEBB PEPLOE, M. A., said it t sufficient to stir men with enthusiat each must apprehend clearly what ord would have him to do. At the he church, as a whole, was scattered , and went everywhere- preaching the and they were men and women. gave to them all one great commis-It was the same now; they met that under one great responsibility, and rebility meant capacity for the fulfillment igation. The Holy Ghost was given to ndividual, to enable him to fulfill what ould have him do. He thought they had learn whatGod could do with one wholly prated man. He took from across the as an illustration, their brother and though there might not be Moodys, each man had his peculiar ind the ear might not say to the. eye, ve no need of thee." Even the great Christ Jesus, might not say to the "I have no need of you." They were ig, not for mere combinations or ats to bind the church together with s of apparent unity, but for a personal ation of the unbounded honor conferred them in being called to go out and do his own part. How could they wonder he heathen were skeptical when here his gospel given for the whole of the hs, and yet it had made so little way? when they looked out and saw what ad done by individval men, they had that it was the power of God to salvawhen it was preached by men who were ened and inspired. He believed there some new methods which might well opted. They might send out men and n not trained at the universities inics, carpenters, seamstresses and Christian workers. He dld not lean ch upon mere methods, but he looked d to men and women going forth ally consecrated to God, filled with the Ghost, and realizing their vital union Dhrist Jesus. These alone would win orld. GEQ. E. POST, one of the professors Medical College in Beirut, invited un the Christmas festival held there for ment of the patients. A Christmas with the patients grouped around it, urrounded by spectators of various alities, was described, and some of the ts were individually considered. One e was a little Jewish boy; another was rable Mohammedan, a lineal descendthe great Saladin; a third, a veiled with a babe, a Druse, whose hands en burned and amputated. and whose d had then divorced her: a fourth, a ith a long beard and a turban, a bigothammedan, who had charge of the patriarchal tomb of Macpelah at , and who had been cured of blindfifth, a turbaned man in a blue robe, nenian priest, who believes his church e apostolic and founded by Christ a sixth, a Bedouin from Palmyra, d been shot and been unskillfully by the thrusting of rag after rag h the bullet hole, and who had been fully operated on in the Beirut Hospieventh, a woman who had been struck e heart by her husband, so that disone and cartilage had had to be reand the speaker, as operator, had for time gazed into a woman's heart; ers from various parts of Syria. To these presents from the Christmas re given, and the message of the of Christ was preached.

THE SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888.

"Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. Jix days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work; but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God."

BUCK'S THEOLOGICAL DICTIONARY ON THE SAB. BATH.

Sabbath, in the Hebrew language, signifies rest, and is the seventh day of the week, a day appointed for religious duties, and a total cessation from work, in commemoration of God's resting on the seventh day (and likewise in memorial of the redemption of the Israelites from bondage).

Concerning the time when the Sabbath was first instituted there have been different opinions. Some have maintained that the sanctification of the seventh day mentioned in Gen. 2, is only there spoken by anticipation; and is to be understood of the Sabbath afterward enjoined in the wilderness, and that the bistorian, writing after it was instituted, there gives the reason of its institution, and this is supposed to be the case, as it is never mentioned during the patriarchal age. But against this sentiment it is urged, 1st, that it cannot be easily supposed that the inspired penman would have mentioned the sanctification of the Seventh day among the primeval transactions, if such sanctification had not taken place until 2,500 years afterwards. 2d. That, considering Adam was restored to favor through a mediator, and a religious service instituted, which man was required to observe in testimony not only of his dependence on the Creator, but also of his faith and hope in the promise, it'seems reasonable that an institution so grand and solemn, and so necessary for this service, should be then existent. 3d. That it is no proof against its existence because it is not mentioned in the partiarchal age, no more than it is against its existence from Moses to the end of David's reign, which was near 440 years. 4th. That the Sabbath mentioned as a well known solemnity before the promulgation of the law, Ex. 16:23. For the manner in which the Jews kept it and the awful consequences of neglecting it, we refer the reader to the Old Testament. Lev. 26 : 34, 35, Neh. 13:16, 18, Jer. 17:21, Ezek. 20: 16, 17, Numb. 15 : 23-36. - Outpost.

BUSSIAN SABBATABIANS.

expelled from Pskov. fore. countries." about 200,000. The Molokane are subthey hold their meetings in private. inspired .... They keep the Saturday as their day of prayer; they eat nothing that is prohibited by Moses; they reject, as offensive to the dignity of God, all material representations of divinity." "The rites and worship of the Sabbatarians of Russia proper contain nothing Jewish. On Saturdays they assemble in their young people are always attracted by dehouses of prayer, where their elders or scriptions of the school life of their cousins teachers deliver, a sermon, which is interrupted from time to time by the sacred songs of the congregation. The Sabbatarians hold these meetings in great secresy, and also, as a rule conceal their affiliation this. A lady friend of mine, a Socialist, system. Some of the harsh and practical preacher of the sect was expected to speak. | forth: She was instructed not to speak to anybody and not to answer any questions. On entering the house they had to give a pass-word. "As to the service, it was very unlike that of the Russian Jews. The small congregation was seated in rows on wooden. benches on one side of the room. Opposite these was an open space, on which stood the preacher, in silent prayer, clad in a sort of black mantle, with an open Bible before him. When all were assembled and the in college instead of having to be fetched doors shut, he delivered a prayer, animated by the broad Deistic spirit of the Jews, and then began to address the audience. He spoke about God, the soul, penitence, and salvation in the same Unitarian spirit, appealing with great power to the emotions of his hearers. After a very pathetic allocution he fell to the ground, as if overwhelmed by the vehemence of his feelings. Then he rose and intoned a hymn, which was taken up by the congregation, and then resumed his preaching."-Vol. II., pp. 528-532, etc.

cassus, deported there in the time of Nicholas I. Among them is a curious sect called Herrs, who are more judaized than the these interesting creatures hanging to his ear. others; but only one-fifth of the body of the Sabbatarians are thus inclined.

Molokane means Milk eaters, because they use milk freely on fast-days. "By twisting the expression of St. Paul's about the 'milk' of Christian love, they made the name to square with their views."-Sabbath Memorial.

Education.

"Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom; and with all thy getting get understanding.

EDWARD THRING.

From an article in the September Century on Edward Thring's famous grammar-school at Uppingham, England, we quote the following:

"In the autumn of 1875 an outbreak of fever took place in the town and the school, There has just appeared a remarkable and some boys died. The school was broken work on the "Russian Peasantry, their up, and orders were given to make the sani-Agrarian Condition, Social Life, and Relig. tary arrangements of every portion of the been professor at the University since 1875, ion," by Stepniak, (Swan Sonnenschein, school premises as perfect as possible, with- previous to which he held a chair at Jena. Paternoster Square, 1888). From this vol- out regard to expense. This was done un- In addition to his writings on the philosophy nme it appears that the Strigolniks, or der the special direction of a government of religion and critical studies. he has pub-"barbers," as they were dubbed by the or- engineer, who certified to the completeness lished sketches of Eighte and Schelling, etc. thodox, arose in A. D. 1370. The founders of the work. The authorities of the town, Professor Wilhelm Valdeyer, distinguished were a Dean named Nikita, and a certain however, declined to join in this attempt at in the fields of antiomy, pathology, and Karp, a barber, for "so his surname, Stri- perfect sanitation. When the school reas- embryology, is dean of the medical faculty. golnik, seems to indicate." The sect had a sembled, after Christmas, a new outbreak of He was born in 1856. brief existence. for the crowd laid hands on fever proved that till everything was done at Breslau, and in 1872 was appointed to fill them and threw them into the river at Nov- nothing was done. It was a critical moment. a chair in the new university of Strasbourg, gorod, whither they had emigrated, being Already it had begun to 'rain' telegrams from anxious parents. It was plain that in A hundred years later, 1470-80, an he- a few days the houses might be empty, the retical rationalistic sect of much wider in- large staff of teachers left without employfluence arose in Novgorod, called "Juda- ment or meaus of support, and the grand izers." They were led "by a Jewish scholar results of twenty-five years of toil swept important contributions to his science, and named Skhary or Zechariah." In 1489 they away at once. A bold step was conceived in seemed to have gained some favors from the Mr. Thring's resolute mind. Once more the ian theories. He has been connected with civil authority, at least they were tolerated. school was broken up for a three-weeks' holi the University of Berlin since 1884.-Ex-Stepniak says, "There exists among the day. With the boys went to their parents change. many popular sects of to day a body of Sab- an intimation that after Easter the school batarians, which in some of its sub-divisions would reopen in some place then unknown. reproduces the doctrines of the early Juda- but which would at least be healthy. Meanizers. It would, however, be perfectly ab- time search was being made in many direcsurd to suppose them connected by some tions, and at length Borth, a small wateringmysterious links of heredity with a sect place on the Welsh coast, was chosen as the which only existed three hundred years be- temporary home of the school. The large The 'Epistles' and the 'Acts' show summer hotel was leased, all the spare space so many unmistakable proofs of the tenden. in the village cottages taken, a temporary cies of some of the founders of Christianity, school room erected, the stables turned into that they offer a perfectly satisfactory ex- a carpentry-the coach house into a gymnaplanation of the spontaneous development sium; special trains brought from Uppingof Judaizing sects in Russia as well as in other ham the household equipments for 30 mas ters, their families, and the 300 boys of the Of the continuity of this so-called heresy school; and on April 4th, only 20 days after our author says of the Molokane and Duk- the site was secured, the school resumed its hoborzy sects, that they numbered in 1845 work on the wild Welsh coast, more than 100 miles from its forsaken home in the divided into Sabbatarian and Non-Sabbata- Midlands. The splendid faith of the masrian Molokane. They are so persecuted that | ters in their own resources was rewarded by | are seniors, 101 middlers, 114 juniors, and a grand tribute of confidence, when out of 113 special. They are distributed thus: "I had much difficulty," says N. Kosto- | their whole number it was found that only | Pacific 12, Bangor 34, Hartford 37, Andover marov, "in overcoming the excessive diffi- three boys had failed to follow them in this 38, Oberlin 85, Yale 101, and Ohicago 113. dence of these sectarians toward every great adventure. The three weeks of fierce stranger. At last I was introduced, by a race for life were followed by more than a common friend, to a Sabbatarian teacher, a year of quiet and excellent work at Borth, fisherman by trade. He was, I was told on which thenceforth became famed far and good authority, the most obstinate and most | wide as 'Uppingham by the Sea'; and in | them than our colleges and seminaries have ? learned of all the congregation. '. : He knew | April, 1877, the school returned to its now | Do you know that there are more thoroughly the Scriptures, especially the Old Testament, | purified home in Rutland, amidst the rejoicalmost by heart. He was well read in ec ings of the people, and with numbers greatclesiastical history, and poured out names | er than when it left. Among all the splendid and dates from memory after the manner of | traditions of English schools it may be a 'orack' pupil before a board of examiners." | doubted if there is any which tells of greater "He explained that the Sabbatarians ac- faith, courage, and loyalty of affection than cepted the whole of the New Testament as does this year of adventurous exile in the records of Uppingham."

who lived among the Molokane peasantry for | methods of the schools, as they used to -be, the sake of propagandism, was once invited | are described in a recent number of Murby her hostess, a Sabbatarian, to one of their | ray's Magazine, by Mr. R. J. Mackenzie. A secret meetings, when a famous wandering few of the physical discomforts are thus set

> "At Winchester, all washing was performed in the open air at a place called Moab. It consisted merely of half a dozen taps, which stuck out of the wall of the quadrangle, and in frosty weather it was the duty of one of the juniors to thaw with a candle the ice that had gathered upon them. Just fifty years ago a deputation from the boys of Long Chamber at Eton requested the authorities that water might be laid on every morning by some of their number from outside. The request was promptly refused, with the scornful comment that they would no doubt be wanting gas and Turkey carpets next.' "Yet life at Westminster was rougher still. The windows in the dormitory, which were frequently broken by the various missiles that flew about, were never mended till the end of the half. When the frost penetrated keenly through these apertures, it was the unpleasant duty of the fags to rise and fetch water from outside, and make There is a Sabbatarian colony in the Cau- a slide down the center of the chamber. Rats abounded everywhere. On one occasion, a young nobleman woke up to find one of Nor were matters much better elsewhere. Dearer to the great scholar Porson than any memories of Greek and Latin scholarship were the visions of the happy rat-hunts h had had as a boy in Long Chamber at Eton.

> "Nothing, however, can show better the beggarliness of the general arrangements in the public schools at that time than a Westminster story of a son of the great Lord Mansfield. The boy was ill, and Lady Mansfield came down to the school to see him. She found him in the sick room seated upon a wooden chair, which was the only piece of furniture in the room, with the exception of the coal-scuttle. Upon this there was seated a boy who had come to ask after young Murry, and, when Lady Mansfield entered, this boy rose, and with the most perfect naturalness and good breeding, of fered her ladyship the coal scuttle."

THE UNIVERSITY OF BERLIN.

The present dean of the faculty of theolo gy in the University of Berlin is Professor Pfleiderer, who holds the position for the third time. He is 49 years of age, and has being charged with the organization of the anatomical institute. In 1883 he was called to Berlin. The philosophical faculty has this time a zoologist as its dean-Profesdisturbed: sor Franz Eilhard Schulze, who has made is known as an ardent advocate of Darwin-

"Look not thou upon the wine when it is red when it givet its color in the cup, when it moved itself aright. "At last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.

THE LIQUOB-DEALER'S CREED.

We clip from a recent Buffalo paper the following resolutions, adopted by the Liquor-Dealers' Association of the State of New York, which speak for themselves. We invite a careful reading of them :

The Wine, Liquor and Beer Dealers' Asso ciation of the state of New York, in convention assembled in Buffalo, September 4, 1888, endorses the policy of regulation and condemns the policy of prohibition, general or local. We endorse such regulation as is not intended to accomplish prohibition indirectly, but to eliminate as much of the evil resulting from the abuse of liquor as is possible to be done by law.

Resolved, That we are opposed to that at tempt to regulate which seeks by high li cense to discriminate between the rich and poor or against one locality.

Resolved. That we are willing to pay reasonable license that yields such revenue to the state as our industry can bear with justice to them engaged in it, but are opposed to the effort to grind such enormous sums from one branch of business as will drive responsible men from the trade and destroy our eral years engaged in fighting the saloons in prosperity.

as exhibited in the practical management of in a saloon while under the influence of the liquor business and as determined by liquor, and has kept it up incessantly until proof in court is the only just test of redis- he died to day with his armor on. It is the tribution.

Resolved. That we favor a law which disqualifies from receiving license in our state of the property owners on both sides of the all persons who have been convicted of felony street for four blocks sign a petition for or have been confined in any state prison or such license. A saloon keeper, whose care penitentiary.

working days anthorizing the sale of liquor from 5 o'clock A. M. to 1 o'clock A. M. as may be fixed by the local authorities, which shall be granted to all persons not disqualified by the preceding restrictions, not exceeding the present rate.

Resolved. That all regulations of the traffic for hours other than above stated be left to each locality and that each locality recommend such regulations of night and Sunday district office that Capt. 'Blackford had business as the necessities of the place de- fallen dead upon the street. In his pocket mand and public sentiment will sustain and was an affidavit from one of the propertyindorse.

Willie said nothing; he was too ashamed to speak-to think he had called his kind, good parents, who almost overwhelmed him with kindness, mean I And to show that he was really sorry for his ingratitude, I must tell you what followed

"I'm so glad I don't have to live with mean folks, an' so sorry poor little Dennis does !" he said, and his actions proved that his pity was gennine. Picture books and toys, fruit and flowers, passed from Willie to Dennis, and proved a rift in the dark clouds through which the latter caught glimpses of sunshine.

Two years have rolled on. Dennis is still in bed, but his face is no longer weary and sad. He is in a pleasant room now, and the scent of sweet flowers comes to him through the open window. His father is out at work, sober and busy, and his mother is singing at her work.

"I'm so glad I took Willie over to me sister's that day !" Sallie said to herself in Mrs. True's kitchen. "He learned a lesson that's done him good, an' me good, an' Dennis good, an' me sister, an'-an'-everybody."-Earnest Gilmore, in the Morning Star.

A TEMPERANCE MARTYR.

Washington has added another to the catalogue of martyrs in the cause of temperance. Capt. S. S. Blackford, a one-armed Union soldier, who for many years was captain of the capitol police, has been for sevthe District of Columbia. He commenced Resolved, That the character and conduct his work when his oldest son was murdered practice in the District of Columbia to refuse a license to a saloon unless a majority was considered to day, got a majority of one; Resolved, That we favor a license for six and Capt. Blackford, who protested against granting the license, said that if the commissioners would give him a little time he would persuade some of those who had signed the petition to reconsider and keep the saloon off the street. The commissioners gave him until 11 o'clock this morning to accomplish this. At 11.10 they granted the license to the saloon-keeper. Half an hour after this act was done, the news came to the holders setting forth that he had signed the gospel was not "let down," yet the bilities of the hearers were not earily offended by references to fthe ophet," etc. The doctor tells there medans of Abraham, from whom pless to be descended; and declare s for the love of Christ that the has been built, and the doctors and ave left their homes to look after the re. Dr. Post further described his isit to a city when it the troubled ouble plague of cholern and of the ong the Christians. The troubled the and he healed the discus

Resolved. That we condemn the civil petition for the saloon under a misapprehen-

ENGLISH SCHOOLS A HALF-CENTURY AGO.

The American and English methods of education are so utterly different that our across the water. Rugby, Eton, and Win-

. CLIPPINGS.

Mrs. Bishop Warren gives $100,000 to en dow a theological school in connection with Denver University.

The trustees of Miami University at Oxford, O., have elected Ethelbert D. Warfield of Lexington, Ky., President of the University.

Baron Albert Rotchschild has expended $40,000 in the purchase and setting up of the largest mirror telescope that has been constructed at Paris for the Vienna observatory.

The total number of theological students in the Congregational seminaries for the first time exceeds 400, rising to 420, of whom 92 Dr. F. H. Kerfoot, of the Louisville Seminary, recently said at a Virginia Association : "Do you know that there are horse colleges in Kentucky with more capital behind trained horses, proportionately, go out from Kentucky than thoroughly trained young men from families of our first people of the state ?"

PRESIDENT DAVIS, of the University of California, has proposed that the various denominations of the state should each establish a home at the University for the proposition has been favorably received. and prominent Methodist clergymen have already visited Berkely to look for a desirable site for their denominational home.

IN SOME of the French common schools chester are all invested with a charm to the second year's studies comprise gardening, Yankee boys, who, after reading "Tom fruit-growing, vegetable-growing, flower-Brown's School Days," have an idea that the growing for the cultivation of flowers for luck to her !--an' the mean folks be my own eyes, "I believe you have saved me from a highest ideal of boy life is attained at one of ornament and for making perfumes. Gen- sister an' her good for nothin' husban', a drunkard's grave. I never knew before that to the sect. The criminal code, which still the great English schools. These schools, eral instruction is also given in making drinkin' up every cent they earn, an' neg- I was in any sense aslave to drink, but during punishes (conversion to 'Judaism' with however, have changed so much within the cheese and butter, elementary instruction lectin' that blessed child. It's drunk they the last month I have fought the fiercest sponsible and unscrupulous persons.

standing the assurance it has so frequently given that our business will not be seriously

Resolved, That we call upon all friendly associations in the state to act with us in bringing before the commission for the revision of the excise laws the views and wishes of our united interests.

Resolved, That we appeal to every dealer in our state to rigidly observe all laws, and to so conduct his business as to give the least offense to good order and good morals.

"I think our folks are the meanest folks in the world," said little Willie True, angrily; "they never take me anywhere." Sallie, the maid-of-all work, who was cleaning off the table, heard him and said re- the railroad $1, the manufacturer $4, the proachfully, "You're a naughty, ungrateful boy to talk so about your father and mother. | delirium tremens. I wish you knew some mean folks !"

"Don't you call folks who go off driving, an' have good times, an' leave little boys. home mean folks ?" asked Willie.

"No, I don't," Sallie replied. "Little boys ought to do as their mothers want 'em to. I'm goin' to see some mean folks after the dishes are washed. Want to go along?"

An hour later Willie stood in a little, low a man lay asleep on the floor, and on an old couch a woman was sleeping. But Willie's ages?" "S'loon keeper's driving mine attention was taken up by the third occupant of the room-a little boy no larger than himself, who sat bolstered-up in a little bed drawn up close to the window. He was thin and pale, and Willie's heart was touched with the weary look on the little face. Sallie knelt down by the bedside, put her enness for the second time, and is convicted. arm around the little lad and hid her face in he is blacklisted and his name is furnished the ragged quilt. When she lifted it, it was to all the liquor dealers who, under a penalty wet with tears. Then she found some water, of $500 fine, are forbidden to sell him liquor washed the child's face and hands, brushed under one year. his thin hair, put a bag in his hand, kissed him, | A moderate drinker became very angry their social and religious interests. The and then, taking Willie by the hand, went out, with a friend who argued that safety was looking very sad.

what's his name? where are the mean control over myself?" "I do not know." folks ?" Willie asked, without pausing to was the reply; "but let us put it to the take breath; and Sallie answered :

can't walk a step. His name is Dennis kept to his promise, and at the close of the damage act as it now stands on the statute | sion, and desired his name to be stricken off. books of this state, as in its present form it In order to reach the office of the district is the ground work for blackmail by irre- commissioners before 11 o'clock, Capt. Blackford ran nearly a mile, burst a blood vessel, Resolved, That while we hold that protec- and fell dead in the street. The commistion to our business and property against un- sioners have no power to revoke a license just legislation is higher than party allegiance | except upon complaint of the police that and appeal to our fellow-citizens, irrespect- the saloon for which it is granted is a disive of party, for fair treatment, we are dis- orderly place, but they will refer the trustful of the Republican party, notwith- matter to their attorney and see what can be done about it.—Daily News.

> Germany is the largest drink-trader with Africa, sending there more than 7.000.000 gallons annually.

ITEMS.

The sale of liquor has been prohibited on the property owned by the Northern Pacific Railroad by order of its President, Robert Harris.

Five million persons have joined the Good Templars since that organization was started. As a result of their work, 200.000 of the drunkards converted have kept the pledge.

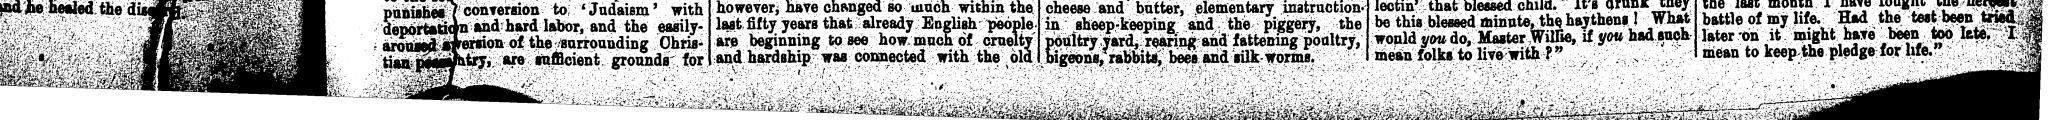

A bushel of corn makes four gallons of whisky. It sells for $16 at retail. The Government gets $3 60, the farmer 40 cents, vender $7, and the drinker all that is left-

Directors of the London and North-western Railway have shown their appreciation of the movement by establishing temperance houses at many stations along their line for the accommodation of their employees. These taverns have been successful from a financial as well as a social and moral point of view.

"See the capitalists riding along in their fine carriages," yelled a socialist speaker at a meeting in a Chicago suburb the other around," responded a red nose reformer of society, with deep dejection; and the orator changed the subject.

A curious feature of the liquor law in Atlanta is the black list. When a man appears before the city recorder on a charge of drunk-only to be found in total abstinence. "What. "What's the matter with the little boy ? | sir," said he, "do you think that I have lost proof. For the next six months do not touch "The little boy has spinal trouble; he a drop." The proposal was accepted. He

SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888 THE

The Sabbath Recorder.

Alfred Contro, N. Y., Fifth-day, Sept. 27, 1888.

REV. L. A. PLATTS, D. D., Editor. REV. E. P. SAUNDERS, Business Manager. REV. A. E. MAIN, D. D., Ashaway, R. I., Mission ary Editor.

Communications designed for the Missionary Department should be addressed to REV. A. E MAIN, D. D., Ashaway, R. I.

All other communications, whether on busi ness or for publication, should be addressed to the SABBATH RECORDER, Alfred Centre, Allegany county, N. Y.

TERMS: $2 per year in advance.

Drafts, Checks and Money Orders should be made payable to E. P. SAUNDERS, AGENT.

"WHO fathoms the eternal thought? Who talks of science and plan ? The Lord is God! He needeth not The poor device of man."

A PRIVATE LETTER from Brother Lawrence of Charlemont, Mass., informs us that he has defined it best to resign his work in that place, and take up his residence among our people at Berlin, N. Y., which he will do at once. He preached to his old congregation, on Sunday the 2d, on the principles and teachings of Seventh-day Baptists, quoting our Expose of Faith, as published in the Hand Book.

LAST week we spoke of the affliction of Brother D. H. Davis and wife, of Shanghai, in the loss of one of the twins. Later information has been received that the other child has been so ill that little hopes of his recovery were entertained. The only hope seemed to be in getting away from the op pressive heat of the city. Accordingly short sea voyage was hastily arranged, and the family embarked for Japan, where, at last accounts they had arrived with good reason to hope that the change would produce the desired results. We are sure that our people everywhere will remember these afflicted ones in earnest prayers to the Father above, who will give them comfort in every sorrow,

WE sometimes hear men speak of little sins, as though any sin could be a small thing. We know of no such distinction in Scripture or in reason. Some one has well said, "A man may be crushed by an avalanche, or poisoned by a grain of strychnine, -in either case the result is death." So the sin which keeps a man away from Christ and out of the kingdom of heaven is a fearful thing, whether it be a rebellious thought hidden away in his heart, or a terrible crime at the committal of which a whole commu nity has been thrown into a state of holy horror. Sin is rebellion against God and his government, and that can never be a small matter, either in its nature or consequences.

OUR BOOKS.

For a number of years we have been talking, at our public meetings and other places, of the need of a denominational literature, especially of something that would teach our own people more about the doctrines which we hold which distinguish us from other people. and that would be a valuable addition to the literature of the church generally upon those subjects. We have several times started movements which were intended to meet, in part at least, this demand. The Seventh day Baptist Memorial, many years ago, and more recently the Seventh-day Baptist Quarterly, were designed to become repositories for articles historical, read them and pass them on and out to biographical, or doctrinal which in time could be gathered into volumes of permanent value. But for various reasons these have failed to receive sufficient support to tronizing the work we have so long dejustify the effort to continue them for any manded. great length of time.

Whatever may be true in other departments of literature of a denominational character, it can no longer be said that we are without a permanent literature on the from Egyptian bondage, which took place in Sabbath question. The three volumes by the month Nisan, he said to Moses, "This the subject are quite a library in themselves. | months; it shall be the first month of the To these is now added the Biblical Commen. | year unto you." It corresponds very nearly tary on the Sabbath, by Rev. James Baily. Although frequent mention has been made month the lamb for the Passover was seof these books, from time to time, it may be lected, which was killed in the evening of more fully.

passed through one edition, and the second edition is now out. Its exact title is "Biblical Teachings Concerning the Sabbath and field of Biblical argument, pro and con. It the subject in Biblical, and especially in New Testament times. The work also contains two appendices on the Origin and Identity of the Week and of the Sabbath. These contain "We cannot tell which is the seventh day of the week." This volume contains 166 pages.

The second volume of this series is a much thicker volume than the first, containing 583 pages. It is a History of the Sabbath and the Sunday in the Christian Church from the days of Christ and the apostles to the present time, showing the theories and practices of the whole Christian Church respecting these days for the entire period of the Christian era down to date. While the true doctrine of the Sabbath is to be determined by the teachings of the Word of God alone, it is still of great importance in the present agitation of this subject to know what have been the theories and practices o the church concerning it. These clearly show that Sunday had not'the early and uni versal recognition as a sacred day for any reason which polemists claim for it. They presidency, that it is not always the length as clearly show that the term Sabbath, in the times, means always the Seventh, and not wide application and ought to be treasured the first, day of the week. With the facts Baptist ought to be familiar. The third volume is a history of Sunday legislation from the first Sunday edict of Constantine, in 321 A. D., to the various of the day, and will offer a reason why it oclegal phases of the movement in 1888. The Sunday laws of the various states and of the United States are given, with a history of their origin, amendments, various modifications, etc. In view of the present demands of various organizations for legislation upon the Sunday question, the appearance of this volume is timely; it should be carefully read by every one interested in this phase of the subject. al . And and years lo have As this last volume in the series by Dr. Lewis enters a new field, so the Sabbath Commentary, by Rev. James Bailey, is a new and unique treatise. It proposes to give a fair and scholarly interpretation of every passage of scripture having any bearing. directly or more remotely, on the subject of the Sabbath, from Genesis to Revelation. These passages however, are not taken. up in the exact order in which they occur in the sacred record, but are so grouped and arranged as to consider in consecutive order all the passages bearing upon any given phase of the subject; and these groups are so arranged as to give a sort of, historical presentation of the subject from the origin of the Sabbath through the scriptural record to the observance and interpretation of it by Christ and his apostles. The passages are fully treated in their connections with their several contexts, so that the treatment is in

Now that we have these books printed, bound and ready to be distributed, what shall be done with them? Evidently it will not suit the purpose of the Society which has published them to let them lie on the shelves of its depository. In the first place, this will not pay the bills of the printers and book-binders; in the second place, it will not benefit our people at large, every one of whom ought to be thoroughly well informed on these very questions; and in the third place, the literature which we have thus pre pared will not enrich the literature of the church on this important subject, if it is not by some means put forth into the world. It is clearly our duty, then, to buy these books, other hands. We have proven our ability to make books, as good as the best; it remains for us to prove our zeal as a people in pa-

YOM KIPPUR.

When the Lord was about to deliver Israel Dr. Lewis on various historical phases of month shall be unto you the beginning of with our March. In the tenth day of this well to speak of them again, and somewhat the 14th. This was, thus, the beginning of the Hebrew year. At the beginning of the The first volume of Dr. Lewis's series has seventh month, Tishri, was the Feast of Trumpets, which appears to have been a kind or joyful celebration after the completed harvest. On the tenth day of this seventh the Sunday. It makes a careful survey of the month, Tishri, was the Feast of Atouement, "a Sabbath of rest." This was followed by treats, however, of the historical features of the Feast of Tabernacles, beginning on the 15th day of the same month, and continuing seven days.

This order appears to have remained substantially unchanged until the time of the a complete, refutation of the claim that captivity, some eight hundred or nine hundred years later, when, for a time, everything was broken up.

> When the remnant returned from the captivity, in the time of Ezra, they resumed the teaches that our Father in Heaven is ever ready to forgive our sins, if we approach him with a contrite heart and repentant mind. Judaism does not admit of a middler or mediator between God and man, nor of a vicarious sacrifice. God is the Father, and every human being a child, created in the image of God. The child can ever step into the presence of the.Father, and therefore the Day of Atonement is set apart on which all are in vited to come and invoke his forgiveness and obtain it. "If your sins are as red as crimson, they shall become white as snow."

But this indulgence refers to sing between man and his Maker, sins that affect not the interests of the fellow man, that have no bearing upon man's position in the social community. For such transgressions Judaism has only one mode of atonement-reparation, indemnification and restitution. The Day of Atonement, it teaches, has no bearing upon the sins, wrongs and injuries wrought to your fellow-man. The goods wrongfully appropriated must be restored, the injured rep utation must be righted, the insult must be forgiven by the man offended. Without do ing this the Jew cannot hope to attain forgiveness in heaven. This principle has been sowing is a labor of patient, faithful toil lived up to by the Jews through all the ages of and sacrifice. their existence, and has mailed them against the seduction held out by the Christian religion in the form of vicarious sacrifice. Every Jew is a priest; every man who serves God is his servant.

The practice of abstaining, on that day, from food or other carnal enjoyment, is in perfect keeping with the idea underlying the Day of Atonement. The attainment of the highest virtue depends upon the control of study briefly what it has cost to make it the mind over the body, and that day should | ready the great planting of divine life in be given wholly to God, and no desire of the this world. quivering flesh gratified. On the other hand, a great mistake is made by those who ascribe any atoning power to the act of fasting. The prophets denounced already the fast if indulged as an end instead of a means. Those who fast on that day, and look upon it as a sort of letter of indulgence, sin against the spirit and idea of the Jewish religion. Without devoting the day to self reflection, mediin life, as the only means of living in accordance with the Divine purpose, fasting has no value, and will lead rather to a degrading of religion to superstition. The general practice, however, has always had a salutary effect upon the Jews at large, and as such, we repeat again, the day of atonement is the most important institution of Judaism. Neither the Ghetto nor the freedom of modern times, has made a perceptible inroad upon it, suggesting the employments of God's people in heaven, a favorite theme with the deacon and the last topic of conversation between him and his pastor.

"O'er the distant mountains breaking, Comes the reddening dawn of day; Rise, my soul, from sleep awaking, Rise, and sing and watch and pray; Tis thy Saviour, On his bright, returning way.

"With my lamps well trimmed and burning, Swift to hear, and slow to roam, Watching for thy glad returning. To restore me to my home. Come, my Saviour !

O! my Saviour, quickly come!' H. D. CLARKE

THE BEADINESS OF THE HABVEST.

TEXT.—Lift up your eyes and look on the fields, for they are white, already to harvest. John 4:35.

There is a time for sowing and a time for gathering the harvest. The one is preparatory for the other. The harvest could never come without the timely sowing, and this

But when the harvest is ready there can be no more waiting; it must be gathered at once, or it is lost forever, and all the work of preparation goes unrewarded. This was the beautiful lesson of our Lord's words to his few disciples. We shall have a clearer view of it and a deeper interest in it if we

Then we may turn with grateful hearts to the waiting harvest and behold our work spread out before us. The grand object of the divine plan of redemption is to bring fallen man to God, in spirit and truth. For the achievement of this divine purpose God has employed human agency, a chosen tation and a determination to do one's duty people, instructed and trained through protracted and severe discipline. He has made a revelation in history itself. A long line of connected events have made up the history of God's chosen people, preparing them and leading them through successive stages to higher and purer conceptions of himself and of his plan of redeeming the world. God has always revealed himself to humanity in and its observance will continue as long as events in which man participated. Thus his presence, his wisdom and power to help just when and where most needed, was very clearly revealed. To properly understand the record of God's revelation, one must keep constantly in mind its object, viz: to enlighten and save blinded and lost men. There must be a revelation of sin in its enormity before the full power of salvation can be entirely realized. In the light of this principle we can better understand why it was necessary to separate a family and people and bring them into contrast with all the nations of the earth. Not only could such a people be directly trained and educated in loyalty and devotion to the true God, but they could become the agency of conveying the knowledge of God to the surrounding nations of the earth. With these preliminary considerations we turn to the initiatory act of establishing a peculiar nation for this great divine plan. The Lord said unto Abram, "Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee, and I will make thee a great nation, and I will bless thee and make thy name great, and thou shalt be a blessing, and I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee, and in thee shall the families of the earth be blessed." Here was the conception and birth of the most remarkable nation that ever had a name in this world. Take the chariot of history and speed your way down the course of time for two thousand years and observe the handdealings of God with that class of people. First a single family led into a strange land and from this driven out by famine into Egypt, and back again into Cansan with large flocks, to be tried and tanght lessons He was a quiet man in many respects, of brotherhood and trusting obedience to God. Follow his posterity into that long often felt that his life was not one of the Egyptian bondage, where they were taught great, active lives of the world, nor in the to expect a grand deliverance; then follow church, and yet, his interest in public and them to the wilderness life, where they religious matters was no small interest. He | received the oricles of the kingdom of God worked in his own harness, felt his own un- and that wonderful system of sacrificial worthiness as a child of God, yet trusted and worship, so typical of the plan of redemption believed in his Saviour. He expressed to in Christ. They have come to be a great his pastor great desire to depart and be with | host and now are led into the long promised Christ, who was his hope, his all in all. His | land of cities and hostile nations where they cheerfullness and willingness to speedily try | must learn to maintain existence amid the the realities of the future world were remark- hard fortunes of war. Very likely it was a able, and no one could fail to realize the dark providence to them, but in the light value of such faith in the promises of God of later ages it is very clear that there is a when witnessing the triumphant dying of crystalizing, unifying force in war which was imperatively necessary to prepare this great that of Canaan was quite as gre that of Egypt and that of the v was a new life with new and a ditions of nationality. As the of God's revelation to the world ish nation must be brought into contact with the warlike n mingle and intermingle, and to preserve a clear and radical Israel's God must be manifest i character and power in the sha with all the false gods of other faith and piety of the true Isr only be tested and strengthene severe discipline, but it must b clear comparison with the faith the idolatrous world. For th pose the theocratic governmen nitely organized and rigidly exe ship, first of judges, then of k councils, invested with authori unlimited power, taught obedi loyalty, a characteristic with nation could outlive the storm as the Jews have done. Even and apostasies were overruled as to impress the great les revelation, captivity for sin a through redemption. It is the providential hand of the was repeatedly stretched out ance of his people from famin wilderness and captivity, and one condition of faith in his trust in his appointed leaders. world lessons were thus star very life of the Jewish nat revealed to the world. God kings and his is a righteous government is founded in jus So deep is this truth engraven life of Israel that it became theme of the inspired poet and Go and study, never so thou forms of purification and sac listen to the prayer for delive will begin to understand ho God, through all those long c means of all those hard vicissit life, was preparing Israel to receive the world's redeeme The nation is itself a wond nations of the earthe Other n and live out their life in a years, but the Jewish nation l ing over the earth for thousan to-day is established in eve emporium of the globe. Eve reminder of God's ancient revelations.

THE remark of Benjamin Harrison, in his letter accepting the nomination for the of a step which gives it significance, so much literature of the church until quite recen as the direction of it, is capable of a very up as a safe maxim to follow either in poli- | revealed in this volume every Seventh-day tics, morals, or · religion. If a young man never starts wrong, he will never go wrong. Not only the possibility, but the strong probability of the drunkard lies in the taking of the first glass. The occasional smoker is on the high road to the habitual smoker. He who begins life with his heart set on the things of this. world will have time to get a long way from God and the home above before he becomes an old man. In all such cases, there must be a complete turning about before the terrible calamity toward which the steps are pointing can be averted. On the other hand, the man whose face is steadfastly set toward the kingdom of God is sure to reach it at last, however slow his progress or halting his steps. The important question, then, for every person, young or old, is not, How far have I gone? but, Which way am going?

A GOLDEN WEDDING late a serie to the series of the series of

We clip the following from a recent issue of the Harrisburg Chronicle:

According to previous announcement, the golden wedding of Eld. M. B. and Nancy Kelly was celebrated on the 9th of August, at the family residence near Stonefort. A merry company of 62 relatives and about as many friends and neighbors assembled early in the forenoon, and enjoyed themselves in speech-making, reading letters from absent friends, and in reminiscences of old times until 1 o'clock, when all repaired to the church and feasted on the fat of the land. The day was lovely and the occasion was in every way enjoyable, particularly the sur-worship of God, on the first day of the seventh month, Tishri. From this circumstance the Hebrews appear to have reckoned the new year from Tishri instead of Nisan. as formerly. See Ez. 3: 1, 6.

Among modern Jews the feasts observed are: The Passover, on the 15th of Nisan, the Feast of Trumpets, on the first of Tishri; now new year's day, and Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement), on the tenth of Tishri. As the Jewish months begin with the new moon, the first of any month will fall upon different days of our months in different years. As we had new moon in September, on the sixth of that month this year. the Jewish new year began at that date. which was Thursday of our week. Accord ingly, Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement. being the 10th of the month, fell upon Sabbath-day, Sept. 15th, which was generally observed by all Jews throughout the country. Indeed, there is no other feast which is so generally and so scrupulously observed by all modern Jews as this. We clip from the Hebrew Standard, an editorial on this subject which will show the significance cupies so large a place in the religious thought of the Jews. In a single paragraph of this clipping, which we give entire, our contemporary exhibits either his ignorance of the Christian doctrine of vicarious stonement. or a disposition to misrepresent it. This precious doctrine holds out no inducement to the believer to sin because there is provided for him a vicarious atonement, but it brings to him a pardon, purchased by the blood of Jesus, for past sins, from which he could by no possibility relieve himself.

The Standard says:

The Dayof Atonement, as the emblem of a religious principle, embodies the grandest principle religion can express. The foundation of all religions is a determination of the relations between God and man, from which are deducted the relations between man and man. Sentient of our insignificance, our dependence, our feebleness in the presence of the awe-inspiring majesty of the Creator and originator of all life, we bow in submission and seek to obtain by a better conception of the essence of the All to lift ourselves higher and higher above the material bonds that tie us to our temporal abode. The regulation of our life and conduct is to be in accord with that conception. The supremacy of the spirit over the body, the mind over the flesh, the immortal over the mortal, depends upon the degree we have attained in the comprehension and conception of the God-ides, and the incarnation of the same within us. But Judaism exists.

Communications.

DEACON DANIEL S. BEMINGTON.

DANIEL S. REMINTON was born in Rhode Island, October 7, 1801. When a boy he came into Yates county, New York, where he lived until about eighteen years of age. He then moved to Independence, Allegany county, where he remained until last spring, when he moved, with his son Delos, to Andover village. With this son he has lived during the declining years of his life. He was married to Miss Eliza Eaton in early life, the exact date we cannot give, but they were the first couple married in the present town of Independence. They had seven children, three of whom are now living, namely: Jerome Remington, Campbell, N. Y.; Oscar Remington, of Alfred Centre, N. Y., and Delos Remington, of Andover, N. Y. The wife of Deacon Remington died in April, six years ago. Under the labors of either Elder Stillman Coon, or Walter B. Gillette, or both, he was converted and very soon after, he with Slocum Livermore, was ordained a deacon in the Independence Seventh-day Baptist Church. This was in or about the year 1835 or 1836. In joyful trust and in full faith of the promises of God, he entered into rest September 11, 1888, aged 86 years, 11

Descon Remington was a strong man physically, never being sick enough to call it sickness. He said he hardly knew what pain was until his last and fatal illness.

months and 4 days.

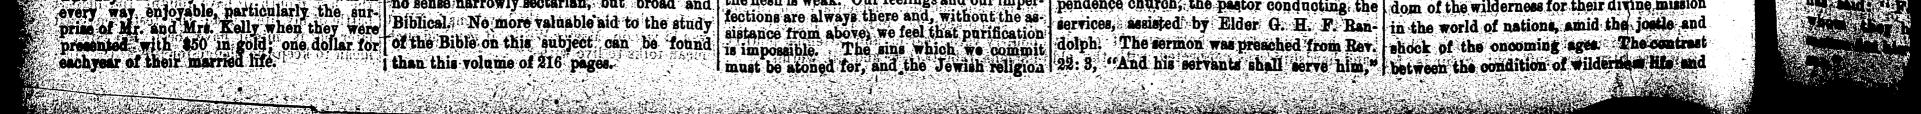

making no ado over his hope and trust. He Deacon Remington.

Funeral services were held at the Inde. host, who had spent their lives in the freeno sense narrowly sectarian, but broad and the flesh is weak. Our feelings and our imper- pendence church, the pastor conducting the dom of the wilderness for their divine mission

OPENING FIELD

To the Editor of the SABBATH RECORDS I send you with this con article from Bro. Carman, w be carefully read, with a man ing the countries mention timely also to call special interesting field. Bro. Land ary to the Jews in Galicia. commenced his work, and t what discouraging circums out of papal jealousy and o from the kingdom and princi to Galicia, the encouraging us of the existence of socie Sabbath-keepers who persi and observe the unbroken la this news reached us two ye have made very little im minde. It would not he within our reach, or scarce further inquiry. But now, Jewish converts to the Chri Galicia and Hungary who a consistent members of our A keeping churches. These tionality and language are aid in the work of extendin of the Bedeemer's kingdom Through them we can lear the facts respecting the soc arities of doctrines of those article translated from th and perhaps will find them us and our work. Bro. L sonally the editor of the He the accompanying article will make inquiry at once Christians thus brought meantime let us all ask Go meaning of these newly ope as they are plated to us.

While our missionary in bath reform rks are ma mands at hom abroad tile mations, IV not for labor for the rn of ( ernis gipcopie ding t i abal

THE SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888.

ing the employments of God's people en, a favorite theme with the deacon last topic of conversation between d his pastor. and the sector we er the distant mountains breaking. mes the reddening dawn of day; my soul, from sleep awaking, se, and sing and watch and pray; 1111 'Tis thy Saviour, his bright, returning way.

ith my lamps well trimmed and burning. vift to hear, and slow to roam, ching for thy glad returning; 1. 725 restore me to my home. Come, my Saviour ( 1 my Saviour, quickly come!

H. D. CLANE

IE READINESS OF THE HARVEST.

Lift up your eyes and look on the fields. are white, already to harvest. John 4: 85.

b is a time for sowing and a time for ng the harvest. The one is preparathe other. The harvest could never ithout the timely sowing, and this is a labor of patient, faithful toil rifice.

when the harvest is ready there can hore waiting; it must be gathered at r it is lost forever, and all the work aration goes unrewarded. This was utiful lesson of our Lord's words to disciples. We shall have a clearer it and a deeper interest in it if we riefly what it has cost to make it the great planting of divine life in rid. Altar Mars we may turn with grateful hearts to ting harvest and behold our work out before us. The grand object of ine plan of redemption is to bring nan to God, in spirit and truth. For ievement of this divine purpose God aployed human agency, a chosen instructed and trained through proand severe discipline. He has made tion in history itself. A long line of ted events have made up the history s chosen people, preparing them and them through successive stages to and purer conceptions of himself and blan of redeeming the world. God ays revealed himself to humanity in in which man participated. Thus his e, his wisdom and power to help just and where most needed, was very revealed. To properly understand ord of God's revelation, one must nstantly in mind its object. viz: to en and save blinded and lost men. must be a revelation of sin in its ty before the full power of salvation entirely realized. In the light of this le we can better understand why it pessary to separate a family and people ng them into contrast with all the of the earth. Not only could such e be directly trained and educated in and devotion to the true God, but uld become the agency of conveying wledge of God to the surrounding of the earth. RUSTRAND these preliminary considerations we the initiatory act of establishing a r nation for this great divine plan. prd said unto Abram, "Get thee out country, and from thy kindred, and hy father's house, unto a land that I ow thee, and I will make thee s'great and I will bless thee and make thy reat, and thou shalt be a blessing, and less them that bless thet. and curse at curseth thee, and in thee shall the s of the earth be blessed." Here was ception and birth of the most remarktion that ever had a name in this Take the chariot of history and our way down the course of time for ousand years and observe the hauda of God with that class of people. single family led into a strange land om this driven out by famine into and back again into Cansan with locks, to be tried and tanght lessons therhood and trusting obedience to Follow his posterity into that long an bondage, where they were saught ect a grand deliverance: then follow to the wilderness life. where they d the oricles of the kingdom of God wonderful system of sacrificial p, so typical of the plan of redemption ist. They have come to be a great nd now are led into the long promised cities and hostile nations where they carn to maintain existence amid the ortunes of war. Very likely it was rovidence to them, but in the light ages it is very clear that the is a thing, unifying force in water and was When percentry to prepare the great the had spent their lives - the free the wilderness for their a ditions of nationality. As the conservator of God's revelation to the world, the Israelit. ish nation must be brought into the sharpest contact with the warlike nations, must mingle and intermingle, and yet be taught to preserve a clear and radical distinction. Israel's God must be manifest in his personal character and power in the sharpest contrast with all the false gods of other nations. The faith and piety of the true Israel must not only be tested and strengthened by the most severe discipline, but it must be brought into clear comparison with the faith and piety of the idolatrous world. For this divine purpose the theocratic government is very definitely organized and rigidly executed. Rulership, first of judges, then of kings and high councils, invested with authority and almost lovalty, a characteristic without which no nation could outlive the storms of the ages as the Jews have done. Even the rebellions as to impress the great lesson of divine revelation, captivity for sin and deliverance through redemption. It is wonderful how the providential hand of the mighty God was repeatedly stretched out in the deliverance of his people from famine, slavery, the wilderness and captivity, and always on the one condition of faith in his promises and trust in his appointed leaders. These great world lessons were thus stamped into the revealed to the world. God is the King of kings and his is a righteous kingdom. His government is founded in justice and mercy. So deep is this truth engraven in the thoughtlife of Israel that it became the constant theme of the inspired poet and holy prophets. Go and study, never so thoughfully, all the forms of purification and sacrificial worship, listen to the prayer for deliverance, and you God, through all those long centuries and by head of all his classes. means of all those hard vicissitudes of national that of Canaan was quite as great as between that of Egypt and that of the wilderness. It was a new life with new and advanced con-life, was preparing Israel to expect and to receive the world's redeemer. the Christ.

BICHARD ANTHONY PROCTOR. the supplier of the second second

BY J. A. PLATTS.

On the morning of Thursday, Sep. 13th, New York City was startled by the report of a genuine case of vellow fever, resulting in the death of the famous English astronomer, Richard A. Proctor. Prof. Proctor arrived in the city on Monday, from his Oaklawn farm, in Florida, bearing a clean bill of health, given him when he left Florida. Passage had been engaged in the steamer Umbria, he intending to start for England on the 15th. Not feeling very well, he went immediately to his hotel, regarding it as nothing more serious than the results of his long journey, or a slight attack of malaria. The physicians summoned, however, knowing from whence he had just come, and fearing the dread unlimited power, taught obedience and strict disease, took all precautions possible and easily removed him to the Willard Park er Hospital, during the "remission." He bore the removal well, and seemed to be and apostasies were overruled in such a way doing well, but Wednesday morning the dreaded relapse came, and during the day he showed unmistakable symptoms of the yellow fever. He died at 7.15 P. M. before it was widely known that he was ill, or even that he was in the city.

Professor Proctor was born in Chelsea. England, March 3, 1837. In his childhood he was very delicate and hence he was educated at home until the age of eleven. He early developed a remarkable fondness very life of the Jewish nation, and thus for reading, eagerly perusing every book with which he could possess himself. He attended school at Milton-on-the-Thames, until, after the death of his father, the family came into embarrassed circumstances, when he obtained a clerkship in the London Joint Stock Bank. While here he spent all his leisure time in the study of mathematics. When his mother succeeded to the estates of her husband's half brother, Richa will begin to understand how it was that entered King's College, and soon stood at the

> John's College, Cambridge, where he took his degree in 1860. In the meantime his

of Moses and Israel. These people are peculiar in their manners. Twenty-one years ago they were yet Hungarian-Christian farmers in all particulars; and then they strode into the covenant of the Jewish faith with their wives and their children. This event occurred in 1867, when our Emperor was crowned king over Hungary, in Pesth, and Baron Etvas was Cultus Minister [a member of the cabinet which has charge over religious affairs]. The district judge. in his great perplexity, telegraphed to the Cultus Minister for a command as to what he should do with these "insane people." The answer came immediately, "Do all you can to prevent their design and to keep them back from their foolishness." But he lost all his trouble and they remained Hungarian-Jewish farmers; and because there is nothing known about them among the Jews, I think it will not be void of interest to state something about them. In their faith they are strictly orthodox. The locks of the corners of their heads and their beards they let grow and do not shave them. All the ceremonies and rites they observe as holy, and keep them thoroughly. Their wives wear wigs on their heads because they cut their hair on the day of their marriage. But in all other modes of living they appear as perfect peasant wives, and there is not a bit of difference between them and their neighbor ing Christian-farmer wives. Their children attend the public schools. They get religifowls according to the 'Talmudic laws]. On all the Sabbath and holy days, and sometimes when there is no labor in the fields even on the week days, the whole congregation (forty families in numbers) assemble in their small synagogue, which bears the stamp of a real synagogue in all particulars. He that has charge of prayers wears perfect Jewish clothes, and the rest of the congregation farmer holy-day clothes. They wrap themselves in the "Tulith," prayer robe and at the prayer on week days they put on phylacteries. Second days and fifth days, as on Sabbath and holy days the law is read and the people listen with devout and intense attention. Besides this congregation there are to be seen in different parts of Hungary also Christians who keep the Sabbath, differing from other Christians only in this, that they call the Sabbath a delight instead of the First-day. These Sabbath-keepers live with After a year's study here, he entered St. the Jews in perfect harmony and love." JUDAH LABINER.

Washington when the mercury was ambiti- to God, fulfilling the design of their being ously careering among the nineties, and the separated as a peculiar people. molten asphalt threatened to flow down Capitol hill, they are still happier to get for the ministry, Brother Randolph preached back, for it is their home, their own home to one season for this church, assisted as a carwhich they come, and home cannot be found penter in building the new church, taught or made in any hotel in the world. The pre- this school and showed himself a willingtentious houses in the West End, and hundreds of other houses in less fashionable quarters of the city, that have seemed asleep for the past three months, give indications of awakened life. The transfer wagons are dumping trunks on the sidewalks, an increased number of equipages enliven the thoroughfares, and familiar faces that have been missed are reappearing on the streets and in the markets and stores-the same faces, but fitted out with fresh coats of tan. more freckles, and a general bright wholesomeness of expression born of mountain air, sea breezes, mineral waters, recreation, rest, love, or some other potent influence. And the wanderers find Congress still here, with no immediate prospect of vanishing. The popular understanding now is that there is to be no adjournment of Congress until after the election. Hopes of an them. ous instructions of their Shohat the man early adjournment were dashed on Tuesday who has the office of slaughtering cattle and night when the Democratic caucus voted down the proposition to fix a day for adjournment, and took no further action in the matter. The majority of members present held that it would be bad politics, in view of the fact that the Senate had announced its intention to bring forth and pass a tariff bill this session. to attempt to force adjournment on the Senate. Still there is very good authority for the prediction that another Democratic caucus will be called in about two weeks, and that at that time there will practically no opposition to a resolution for a prompt adjournment.

On Wednesday, Sept. 19th, the Senate passed a bill appropriating $100,000 for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers, the sum to be at the disposal of the President, and to be expended by him. The first positive stand taken in Congress against the enactment of a law to confer upon the President the power asked for in his recent message elers may have been to get away from tians have the true spirit of those that belong

A few years ago, while persuing his studies hearted worker in anything his head and hands could do. This, we believe, is one qualification of a good missionary.

On the evening after the Sabbath, September 15th, a "cousin party" was held at the house of Wm. Green, father of Sister Randolph, and was a sort of farewell meeting in honor of Brother and Sister Randolph. Seventy five "first, second and seventh cousins" were present. Supper was served, speeches were made by Deacon S. G. Crandall, Prof. H. C. Coon and the pastor, hymns were sung and prayer was offered, "goodbyes" were said, and we returned to our homes to think about China's four hundred millions and the few Christian workers for so many, and to pray for those who now go out from among us, that health, grace, courage and God's blessing may be given

We have been called upon to bury our senior deacon, Daniel S. Remington, who departed this life September 11th. An obituary will appear in the SABBATH RE-CORDER. The question so serious and important 18, Who shall fill up the ranks thus broken by the rapid passing away of our aged soldiers of the cross? Let this be a subject of earnest prayer. H. D. C.

It has been quite sickly here of late, especially among children. We are hoping. nowever, that with the coming of cooler weather there will come a favorable change in this respect.

We have received and distributed several copies of the Light of Home, which find many interested readers. Three have recently commenced keeping the Sabbath, and more are interested in it. S. S. C.

The nation is itself a wonder among the nations of the earth. Other nations are born and live out their life in a few .hundred years, but the Jewish nation has been spreading over the earth for thousands of years, and to-day is established in every-market and emporium of the globe. Everywhere it is a reminder of God's ancient promises and revelations. and the state

OPENING FIELDS.

To the Editor of the SABBATH RECORDER: I send you with this communication an article from Bro. Carman, which I hope will be carefully read, with a map to aid in locating the countries mentioned. It seems timely also to call special attention to this interesting field. Bro. Landow, our missionary to the Jews in Galicia, has but recently commenced his work, and that under somewhat discouraging circumstances, growing out of papal jealousy and opposition, when from the kingdom and principalities adjacent to Galicia, the encouraging news comes to us of the existence of societies of Christian Sabbath-keepers who persistently advocate and observe the unbroken law of God. Had this news reached us two years ago it might have made very little impression on our minds. It would not have been thought within our reach, or scarcely a subject for further inquiry. But now, we have several Jewish converts to the Christian faith, from Galicia and Hungary who are intelligent and consistent members of our American Sabbathkeeping churches. These brethren by nationality and language are well; qualified to every-day life."

aid in the work of extending the knowledge of the Redeemer's kingdom in that country. Through them we can learn more definitely the facts respecting the societies and peculiarities of doctrines of those mentioned in the article translated from the Hebrew paper, and perhaps will find them in harmony with us and our work. Bro. Lucky knows personally the editor of the Haibri. from which the accompanying article is translated; and will make inquiry at once concerning the Christians thus brought to light. In the meantime let us all sek God to show us the meaning of these newly opening fields so far as they are related to us.

While our missionary interests and Sabbath-reform works are making greater demands at home and abroad among the Gentile nations, let us not forget to pray and mother had died, which so depressed him. that he for a time abandoned all thoughts of scholastic distinction. For three years he gave himself to the study of history and in the SABBATH RECORDER, and the ques literature, but on the death of his first-born, seeking distraction in more engrossing agement, etc., the following is suggestive, studies, he once more took up mathematics, and ought to be read with consideration by and began to study astronomy. During this all Seventh-day Baptists.

year he published an article on "Double Stars," and soon after commenced his investigations of Saturn, which resulted in the production of several works. In 1866, his fortune was lost in a time of financial panic, and thereafter he was dependent upon his pen for the support of his large family. He was elected a member of the Roval Astronomical Society, obtained a seat in its council, and was finally chosen one of its honorary secretaries.

He was an indefatigable worker and was producing his works in rapid succession. He came to America 'in 1873, delivering lectures in several of our leading cities. He stirred up a general interest in this thought. fascinating study, and in 1875 came again for another extensive lecture tour. His first wife having died, in 1881 he married Miss Sallie D. Crowley, of St. Joseph, Mo., and made that city his home for some time. A contemporary truthfully says of him "He was bright and versatile, rather than profound and original. He did more to popularize the science of astronomy than to enrich it by discoveries. He knew how to make science, in all its branches, attractive may be spared the pain of being misunderand interesting, because he connected with the ordinary affairs and transactions of

> A CONGREGATION OF CHRISTIANS WHICH BECAM JEWS.

To the Editor of the SABBATH RECORDER

Under the above heading an article appeared in the Galician Hebrew newspaper Haibri, of August 10th, which greatly interested me, and I am sure it will be of much interest to those who read the SABBATH RE-COBDER. I have, therefore, translated the article and hope you may find a place for it in your columns. Truly yours,

> JAMES CARMAN. DUNELLEN, N. J., Sept. 12, 1888.

It is notorious that in Hungary, and specially in Transvlvania [an Austrian grand principality. in the south east of Hungary], there is a sect which rests on the and the world of work and the world of hear a "smart minister" and listen to a labor for the return of God's chosen but Sabbath (Sabbatarians). The members of erring people, respecting whom the prophet that sect are entire Christians, only, instead habits. Every train from the North, every concerts, pay well their pastor, but who are

LESSONS FROM AN BDITOB'S VALEDICTORY.

In view of the proposed improvements tions that arise in regard to its price, man-

J. B. C. There are in Tennessee from 125,000 to 130,000 Baptists. J. M. Robertson, D.D. was encouraged to start a paper, the Baptis Reflector, and to put the price at $1 50. His brethren all said: "Oh, if you put the price down everybody will take the paper the papers are all too high." So he entered on the work, with the result stated in his valedictory as below:

"I started without either experience or money. In the providence of God, I have been enabled to make my living chiefly outside my business, and to invest over four thousand dollars cash in what is known as the Baptist Reflector Toward that large army of brethren who thought I was coining money with the paper, I cherish no malice. They simply did not know whereof they

"I wrought solely for the good of my Mas ter's cause in Tennessee, and am satisfied with the expenditure of both time and sacrifices being made in their interests. To have told them at the time, would have been to jeopardize the work unto which I had committed myself. Hence I toiled and sacrificed in silence. I speak now, only in the hope that brethren who come after me stood and misjudged.

I am sorry that, in my experience, I fixed the price of the paper too low. I do not care so much for the money I lost by that folly, as for the resulting inability to make the paper what it ought to be.

I leave the paper because I have come to feel that most of the brethren regard the paper as my interest, to be cared for and fostered by me. Working day and night, week day and Sunday, in broiling sun and through driving elect and snow. I have so impaired my health that I can no longer do the kind and degree of work that seemed to be necessary to make the paper a success in this state.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular correspondent.). WASHINGTON, Eep. 21, 1888. Everybody is coming home to "take up Jew inwardly, of having more than an outthe burden of life again." The summer is ward form of godliness. We have many over, autumn 'is here, schools have opened,

fashion have no more time for hot weather trained choir, who will attend missionary on the subject of our retaliations, was by Senator Sherman in a speech made on Tuesday last. It was conservative in tone, counseling moderation in adjusting controversies with Canada, and was listened to with marked attention by both Democrats and Republicans.

The first triennial congress of American physicians and surgeons, which has been in session here this week, is considered an emiconvention of physicians merely. It is a most advanced standards, the most scientific progress-in fact, the last word, the best that is known and thought in their various branches of the profession. The congress means more than a casual inspection of specialist as against the general practitioner. tempt to carry the whole field of medical and surgical parctice in a single head.

ever it may decide. The Riggs House of this city is headquarters for the Red Cross, and the Society Olara Barton; the president, and her staff, tirelessly, ceaselessly. The Red Cross can always be found where there is war and flood and pestilence. Those giving money or other contributions for the yellow fever sufferers turn them over to the Red Oross, feeling that the perfect organization and which it is desired to extend.

Home Mews.

New York.

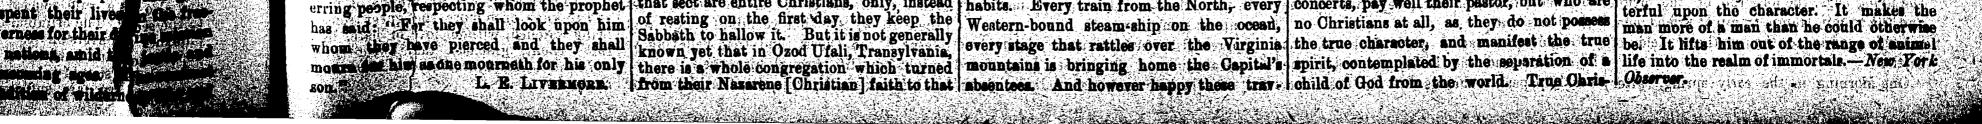

INDEPENDENCE.

Among the elemental truths for the building of the strongest character is Fealty to the Invisible World. Though they are out of sight, the race has recognized them and moved in the presence of them. They have had power in all human history. They have been the most potent forces in the realm of tragedy. Men have felt that beyond this brief life, often so brief as to seem to be in nently successful experiment. It is not a itself a melancholy failure, there certainly is another life of compensations and adjustcongress of specialist societies. The distin- ments into which all would be introduced guished members embody in themselves the on their departure from the seen and temporal. They have recognized an invisible heaven, the future home of those who walk with God. and they have pictured it in their imaginations as a world of inexpressible beauty and bliss. They have recognized an that which the surface reveals. It is the invisible hell, the future dwelling place of those who are, and will be far from God. It is the advance of extreme development and its gloom and dreadful misery have along many narrow limits, against the at warned away from it those who could poorly bear its terrors.

The apprehended reality of these unseen There is a rift between the organized action worlds has wrought on human character to of the masses of the profession and the ad- give it strength and breadth and fullness. vanced members who, by the development This world is not enough. It cannot make of specialized skill alone, have attained fame any strong appeal. It cannot work on such and reputation, and the tendency of the a nature as ours sufficiently to develop its meeting of this congress of specialists can- highest capabilities. It can move the passions could have wished, nor what they would not but be to greatly widen the rift. This and the ambitions, but it cannot take hold have been had the brethren known of the congress is to meet in Washington every of all that there is in a man to make him third year, and the intervening years wher- great and wise and aspiring. We need the power of the world to come. We need to be wrought on by those invisible agencies which hold in themselves mysteries and unsolved has had its sleeves rolled up to the shoulders solutions of that which is of greatest mofor weeks working for Jacksonville. Miss ment to us. If I am only here, and am to have no hereafter, what do I care ? What work from early morn almost to morn again matters. it whether I stand well or not, if I am to-morrow to fall out of mind and out of consciousness ? If this frame and organism is to sink into unorganized ashes? If my name is to be but an echo in some deserted room of the past ? If all that I acquire and all that I achieve are to be but the down of equipment of this Society will insure, better the flowers which the wind will drive before than any other possible channel, the relief it? There is no sufficient motive. But if. on the contrary, there is a shore to which we are sailing, if all the mighty currents bear us in that, direction, and the tradewinds blow without ceasing thitherward, I feel the impulse to be ready to land, to be ready to greet the inhabitants, to be ready to enter on the new life which is before me. am spurred to preparation, to make the most of the powers which I have. The On Sabbath, September 1st, Brother G. voyage is a slight thing compared with the H. F. Bandolph occupied our pulpit, preachland and the life to which it is carrying me. ing his last sermon here before starting for I disdain to be unconcerned as though I were to be drowned in the port when I shall have China. He set forth the necessity of being a reached it. The piers on which lights are gleaming ahead are for landing, and they are but the entrance to an undiscovered "intellectual Christians," such as will go to country whose mystery only enhances its attractions.

The influence of invisible worlds. believed in, and lived for, and hastened unto, is masterful upon the character. It makes the

THE SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888.

Miscellany.

BLIND.

BY FANNY PERRY GAY.

Beside me liveth one who walks As in a dream She sees the budding of the tree. The rippling stream, And hears sweet nature's soothing song In wood and glade, The forest's grand, low requiem By breezes made.

Her's is an artist's soul refined Of finest grain And all her being longs for truth And highest gain, But still she walks apart, methinks, For she is blind, She cannot see the hand that guides, In ways so kind,

This universe of stars and suns, This wonderland Whereon is written, "God is love." On ev'ry hand Benighted soul! could I but break Thy prison bars, And let the sunshine of that love Which rules the stars, Sends flashing suns upon their course, And guides men's ways, Into thy long and dreary night, 'Twould by its rays Dispel each mist enveloped cloud With genial light, And thou would'st see thy God o'er all By faith made sight. -Golden Rule.

Written for the SABBATH RECORDER. MEMOBIES.

BY L. MARGABET ASKREN.

One of the earliest is of going to Grands father's. First, the big farm wagon would stop in front of our pretty village home, and grandfather, tying the great lumbering old horses, would salute us with, "Hey, children, want to go to grandfather's? Well, that's right, when the horses have a bite to eat we'll go." Then we (mother, my little brother and myself) would go to grandfather's. Sometimes father would go with us, but generally his business, as keeper of the village store, caused him to remain at home.

As we drove over the ten miles of river road, past the farm-houses surrounded by their orchards and waving fields, the most frequent question would be. "Grandfather. who lives in that house? Now grandfather, lives there, grandfather?" Grandfather's face would lose its look of quiet serenity as he replied in tones so stern they frightened us, "Hiram Brown, the old villain." After that we would ask no more questions and he would drive along the half-mile of road between there and "grandfather's lane" in frowning silence, nor would he thing more. You must try to cheer your smile again until grandmother would come out of the white farm house to welcome us. So from my earliest childhood "old will come home again, won't I, little one?" Brown" became a sort of ogre to me; a being he added wistfully. to be feared, and shunned, and hated. Once when I was bringing the cows home strange sinking at my heart, "you'll come from the pasture next to his farm he spoke home again, but it will be a long time mayto me, "Hullow sis," but I started from be. I think," I said, looking up at the him in terror, and then he scowled at me apple blossoms, "I think it will be when fiercely. Sometimes when I would accom- the apples are ripe." pany grandfather on his short journeys in very much the same way one would be be here two more days, you know." supposed to pass some deadly reptile. the two farms, side by side; of how each one sister, the gray haired father and the days. The corner stone between the farms. playing of the band, the deep-toned cheers Both asserted that it had been moved and of the men, the puff, puff, puff of the both claimed possession of a strip of land engine, the cars start and then-Uncle Phil lying between them. Then followed a long is gone and Aunt Lib is lying in grandand bitter lawsuit in which by fraud, as he father's arms, so still and white I think she So they had lived for years side by side as some one in a light, one-horse wagon passes foes, and as if nature would reprove their us, driving very rapidly. It is old Brown, unnatural strife, the strip of land, "The and as grandfather, with unwonted gentledevil's acre," as grandfather called it, plowed | ness drives out to allow him to pass, I note in hate and sown in scorn, persisted in with childish wonder that he looks carebringing forth thorns and thistles; and but | worn and his hair is strangely white. very little else. The memory of another journey to grand- as a picture in which grandfather sits a of the time when I saw my father laid in the | tree, by the window where grandmother's | Phil is dead ! grave, and grandfather took his widowed spinning-wheel stands, and her Bible always daughter and her two little ones home with lies open on the window-sill beside it. him to live. And about this time there comes in to my life the memory of martial music; mother sits there in her little rocking-chair and the tramp, tramp, tramp of armed men, wheel is silent. marching away to the southern field of father died, my handsome young Uncle and writes, while I and my little brother Phil came from his new cottage at the end build miniature forts and fortifications in of the lane, and walking up to where grandfather and I were in the orchard pasture dusty lane. salting the cattle, he leaned against the

from Uncle Phil, we meet old Brown, but | wildly toward the house. the two men do not scowl at each other as quiet, respectful glances, but neither of them ever speak.

In early fall there comes the news of a disastrous battle in which Uncle Phil's regiment meets with heavy losses. There are two days of suspense, in the old farm-house, and then in the evening twilight a neighbor rides up to the bars, where grandfather and groan; "she is the worst part. How I can leave her I don't know. You tell her and mother for me, won't you father, and do the best you can to reconcile them."

"Don't father!" cried Uncle Phil with a I are standing, and calls:

When we had given them the last hand-

"Well, Phil, what is it?" asked grand-

"Yes, father, I cannot remain at home when so many brave men are going. Company E starts for the front day after tomorrow and I am going with them."

ful, he spoke. "Father, come here!"

fence watching us in silence.

"I enlisted last night."

father quietly.

"Oh Phil!"

"And Lib?"

"Yes, Phil, I will," replied grandfather sadly, " and though I don't deny but what it comes hard, I shouldn't want you to act different; you wouldn't be my boy if you did, and though I ain't the kind to say God bless you, and maybe he wouldn't do it if I did, yet I think your mother will say it for wife that keep house for him; it seemed as me."

is going too. Could I do less than old Brown's son?"

go talk to your mother about it. God for- give us all! George Brown dead! How give us all!" he muttered, walking rapidly much he looked like Hi, at his age." away.

"Uncle Phil," I said confronting him, "I believe I know where you are going."

"Well," he asked smiling, "where am going?"

"You are going to the war."

"Yes, I am going to the war."

"Oh Uncle Phil, don't; the army will shoot your head off, and put you in prison," I said, beginning to cry.

girlie," he said, "what an awful prediction. | at grandfather to see if I can see what he | pretty well." Come let's sit down here- under the apple | thinks about it, but grandfather has dust, tree and have a little talk."

"Yes, Maggie," he said, catching at the very busily and looks the other way. apple blossoms that drifted down on us like who lives there?" until at last we would a shower of pink and white snow. "I am come to a large, unpainted, square-built going to be a soldier, and now I want to tell ing home to see the baby Phil "when the I hope, and we'll begin first by letting this house standing close by the road-side. "Who you something. All soldiers have a comrade, and I want you to be my brave little comrade here at home, and not cry any more. All the rest are going to cry and it will be nice to have one that doesn't." "Well, Uncle Phil, I won't cry one bit the grass beside him or play at soldier in the Coming through the bars between the lane and the highway was old Brown. I stood Sometimes when grandfather and I go to transfixed with astonishment, until he Brown, upon your profession of faith in Jethe post office for the papers, or a letter | turned to put up the bars, and then I fled of yore; instead, they pass each other with to him breathless, "old Brown is coming here the's right out there by the gate now. Whatever do you suppose he wants?"

"Old Brown !" Grandfather rose to his feet in seeming bewilderment, "Aye, aye, there he is; poor Hi !" and the first tears were running down his cheeks as he went to meet the pitiful looking old man waiting outside the gate.

"Grandmother," I said, running in the house, "old Brown is out there by the gate. "Hullow, Lane! I got a letter this He has got grandfather by the hands, and I evening from my Joe, and I guess there's one in the office for you, from Phil; they are what he wants." both all right, but George Brown's dead. Joe

"Old Brown! No, no, child, you are says Phil was standing right by him when he was shot, and did all he could for him, but mistaken." And adjusting her spectacles, 'twas no use; he died in a few minutes. It's grandmother glanced out of the window. goin' to be powerful hard on the old man livin' there in that old house, without a soul dear Lord above be thanked ! Forgive us our near him, but that old Irishman and his trespasses as we forgive others." I heard her pray as I stole out into the orchard to meditate on the astounding event at my leisure.

if he was in hard enough luck. two years "I think she will, father," said Phil, and ago when his wife died and his daughter From my seat under the apple-tree, I could then added slowly, "they say George Brown | run away out West, with that feller, an' now see grandfather lead old Brown up to the George is dead." door and mother and grandmother come out

As grandfather and I walk to the house, "Aye, aye Phil, I see how it is. Well, I'll in the dusk, I hear him mutter, "God for-

The next morning as grandfather and I drive past the square built house on our way to the post office, we see a bowed, lonely ing:

looking old man walking toward the gray, weather-beaten barn, with the vacant air and uncertain step of one who knows not, and cares not, whither he is going, and for crying softly to myself when I saw a sight departed summer, there is a gathering on the that drove the tears from my eyes instantly. banks of the quiet country stream, and the young minister, scarcely more than a boy in years, is saying, "Eber Lane . . . Hiram sus Christ, I baptize you;" and the two men buried by baptism unto death, rise and walk "Oh grandfather," I cried, running up in newness of life,

Through the winter they are much together, and the quiet, white-haired man seems almost as one of our own family, but when the first flowers of spring are coming, we gather to hear the funeral service read at the side of his open grave; a grave to which grandfather has walked as chief mourner. Yet he does not look like a mourner as the minister reads, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live," but rather with his rapt, exultant expression as one on whom the sunshine of eternal worlds has already fallen. And as we leave the quiet, country church-yard, my own childish heart catches believe they are both crying. Do go and see something of the over-shadowing peace which passeth understanding, in which he walks as in an atmosphere.

Through the spring, as of yore, he sits un. der the apple tree and reads, but the book he reads now is grandmother's Bible, and every Then raising her hands, she exclaimed, "The | day he seems to grow more joyous and more at peace, until one evening, when the fields are growing white for the harvest, he reads to us, "For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come."

By the light of the next morning grand. father has found it-a heavenly city, whose builder and maker is God. We bury him by the side of his old friend in the churchyard. while over on "God's acre" the golden harand shake hands with him, and all of them vest waves and gleams in the sunshine, and seemed to need their handkerchiefs a great the good seeds he has sown in many hearts will, in after years, spring up and blossom deal. After that, he and grandfather sat into everlasting life. down on the old bench in the yard. I arose

SETTING HOPES,

The brief day is ending: And the sun, in descending, Fires the heavens with a ruddy glow; Ah not of the morn Was such beauty born As the setting sun this eve doth show,

What room for regretting Though the sun be setting When the day 'mid such spiendor dies? The great orb of gold Is gone to unfold Its light in other and distant skies.

The hope that now leaves me Whose departing so grieves me Hath wonderful store of surprise; DITINE TOTALELY CON

BY REV. 6. D. PHELPS

Isaiah 66: 15.

Lord, how the royal tendern Stoops to our human need Borne on thy love its dear ci Our fondest thought excee

Words wonderful it uttereth Thy voice in kindness tru "As one his mother comfor So will I comfort you."

O promise, doubly sweet an fil's quick and blest relief. As it recalls the mother dear Who soothed our childish

Close to her heart, in fear's a She drew us sobbing sore. And held in love's enfolding Our sorrows soon were o'e

So, Lord, thy child, to thee When cares or woes about And. seem as in my early ho With mother's comfort cro

Peace fills my spirit, calm, c

And pillowed on thy break With "everlasting arms" en I find a heavenly rest.

A SINGLE BYE.

BY ALA CHASE.

"Did you ever see a man with said Uncle Oharles. "Oh. uncle, did you see a m

Africa?" asked Howard. "I know of such a one, but h in Africa." "I wonder if he looks like the other day," said little Bea his eyes was good and looked meant it should, but the oth right around and looked way a hills."

"That we would call a laughed Will.

"I know of some people wh eye," said little George. "In tale of 'The Gorgon's Hear 'three gray women,' who had the middle of their foreheads. fully they must have looked!" "It is a very good thing, ho a single eye," said Uncle Char "Why, one could not see Howard.

"Yes, one can see better. can see too much, unless, he he I know of a boy who once tax to the ground. How many es fall to the ground befor came of it, for they say the things besides; but this boy fall to the ground, and this w It was enough, for, because he eye, he made a great discover out why the apple fell to the g of falling the other way." "Why, uncle, nothing ever "No, but can you tell m know the earth is a great ball, space, and why should not th stones fall off into space inste upon the earth? Well, this boy eye, and because of it he discover law of attraction and gravital planets revolve around the sun

"To-morrow morning I am going to the squire's to get the papers made out, and then the land is yours again Lane. A heavy and bitter burden it has been to me all these a moment I forget that it is old Brown, and years. It's seemed to be under a curse.

a great pity swells up in my heart for him; There has never been enough raised off it to his life will be such a lonely one. Then I pay the taxes. I gave a mortgage on it to Uncle Phil laughed. "There, there little | remember that it is old Brown, and I look | the devil, to get it, and he's held on to it or something in his eyes, for he wipes them | That's what it's been to you and me both.

"Aye, aye, Brown. The 'Devil's acre."

We dont neither of us know much about the then and went quietly toward them; as I came within hearing distance, old Brown was say-more," I said stoutly.

"That's a brave little girl, and now one Aunt Lib after I go away; tell her you know I am going to get home again all right. I

"Yes, Unche Phil," I replied with a

"Very well then; when the apples are about the neighborhood, we would meet ripe let it be. But see, they are looking for him, and the two men would pass each other us; we must go to the house. I shall only

Ah the sad memory of the next two days. In after years I heard the story of how The drive to the little railway station on the two men, Eber Lane and Hiram Brown, the third day to see the soldier boys. The came from the East, as chums and sworn sorrowful leave-taking; the last kiss, the friends in the pioneer days and settled en last good by, to the mother, the widowed married and when family ties were spring- girl wife. Of the kiss and "good-by little ing up around them and their friendship comrade," and my own heroic efforts to seemed strongest, it split on a rock that keep my promise and not cry, and through wrecked many a friendship in those early it all in a strange, sad under-tone, the

On the long summer afternoons grand-

Grandfather reads a great deal too, but

In the letter we get from Uncle Phil, he Lord, and no wonder, living the way we apples are ripe."

delayed a week on the road.

It is from a comrade of his. Phil is Lib's father is to start after him that on his way by this time, a shock-headed boy silence looking off at the hills. comes through the dooryard on a trot and sings out, "Old man Stuart 'aint going to start for Mississippi to-day arter all."

"Why," asked grandfather.

"Dunno, only they got a tellegram jist | ing biscuit for supper. as he was startin', an he told. Sam an' me unhitch the hose an' put him in the stable, an' then I done my errend an' started for home, an' I thought I would stop on my way an' tell you."

as white as snow.

"What does it mean ?" she says; "Father and brother Will are coming through the orchard now. I cannot stand this suspense; let's go to meet them."

"Come on then, mother," grandfather said, "very likely they are bringing us good news after all."

But grandmother does not come and I look back and see her kneeling at the window looking after us, and I know she is praying.

Down through the shadows of the orchard we go, Aunt Lib carrying in her arms the baby on whose face the father's eyes have never rested, and grandfather walking by listen. It must be about a soldier, for they her side with heavy dragging steps as if a weight of dread was holding him back, while | for our transgressions, and Mr. Brown says: Then there are fiddle-wood trees in multialways claimed, grandfather was defeated. is dead. As we drive slowly homeward the warm, hazy autumn sunshine shimmers over all, and the ripened mellow apples drop lazily from the trees in whose branches Phil had played when a boy. How slow they are walking. Mr. Stuart gives a slip of paper to my mother without a word. She looks of us all," and his voice trembles so he has to halving in the same way along its sharp at it and then turns to Aunt Lib and grand-

The summer after Uncle Phil left, I see | father, and makes a voiceless effort to speak, but no words are needed to tell that the girl father's stands out clear and distinct. It is great deal on the old bench under the apple wife is a widow, and the baby is fatherless.

The next Sabbath afternoon' grandfather went to his old seat under the apple tree, and sat down in the bitter, tearless silence, the flying flags, the long roll of the drum and reads, when the soft, sleepy hum of the with which he had from the first met every attempt at sympathy.

writes hopefully of a furlough and of com- have been; but we are going to live different thing stand just as it is. I don't want But we hear no more from him for two | the land back, but we'll try and make it weeks, and then comes a letter that has been God's acre by giving what we raise on it to the widows and orphans around us."

After this, the old man came down the wounded and wants to come home. Aunt lane almost every day, and he and grandfather would read the war news, or talk of evening and just as we are saying that he is their boyhood days together, and then sit in

> One evening I was sitting by the doorstep making chains of the dandeloin stems, when calling to grandmother as she stood mold-

> "Mother," he called, "you know what I told you B:own and I had been talking over. and you said you would show us where to read first."

"My hands are in the flour but I can tell Aunt Lib stands in the door with a face you where to begin. Read the fifty-third chapter of Issiah, father."

> I sat still watching them; surely grand father wasn't going to read in grandmother' Bible, I had never seen him do that before. He and Mr. Brown were turning the leaves. but they evidently could not find the place, for when grandmother came out grandfather said with a sigh:

"You'll have to find it for us, mother; I dont know one thing about this book of your's."

Grandmother found the place and then went back to her biscuit while the two men commenced reading almost together. What are they reading about? I drew near to are reading of some one who was wounded "For yours and mine, Lane."

"Aye, aye, Brown," and grandfather goes on, "All we, like sheep, have gone astray; stop; after a few moment's silence they go on, first one and then the other reading of some One who was "taken from prison and from judgment . . . poured out his soul unto death. . . . and made intercession for the transgressors."

Then grandmother comes and reads the nineteenth and twentieth chapters of John, the awfully solemn story of the cross, reads until she comes to the words, "but Oppressed by the atmosphere of grief and Jesus is the Christ, and that believing ye those silent, gracious, tall, sweet things!

I miss it with sorrow, But in a bright morrow I know I shall see it arise.

So my heart I am stilling With the thought 'Tis his willing Who ordereth all for the best. I had joy in its shining, Then why this repining Because it now sinks in the west ? -R. M. Offord, in New York Observer

WONDERFUL TROPICAL FRUITS.

All through the land round about are other wonders. There are avenues of table-.trees, whose foliage seems exaggerated horizontally; alleys of mahogany-trees; lanes of Orinokes, whose fronds coruscate with my attention was aroused by grandfather crimson blossoming. There are amazing shrubs-orange-colored things; there are plants with glossy leaves speckled in four different colors; there are various plants that look like wigs of green hair, or masses of filiform green sea-weed, set on short sticks; plants with enormous broad leaves, so diaphanous asto seem made of green glass; plants that do not look like real plants, but like idealizations of plants, like the fantasticalities of wood carvers and stone-cutters animated by witchcraft. There are grasses that look like dwarf palms-tiny arborescent grasses with curving stems and plumed heads. There are flowers of extravagant forms and colors -flowers that possess familiar shapes, but have absurd tints and unfamiliar perfumes, yellow and indigo and green, orange and black and crimson plants. And in all the ponds, covering all the canals, float the green navies of the monster lily, the Victoria Regia. Close to shore the leaves are not extraordinarily large; but they increase in breadth as they float further out, as if gaining bulk proportionately to the depth of water. A few yards off, they are large as soup plates; further out, they are broad as dinner trays; in the center of the pond or canal they have surface large as tea-tables. And all have an upturned edge, a perpendicular rim, like a bulwark. Here and there you see the flower-a nonsensical flower, large as a hat. tude, calabash-trees, mangoes, bread-fruits, sago-palms, fig trees, and a hundred unia. miliar shapes of which I cannot learn the names. And there is the snake nut trees, we have turned every one to his own way; bearing a most ghastly fruit. For this swart and the Lord hath laid on them the iniquity nut-shaped almost like a clam shell, and edges-encloses something incredible. There is a pale envelope about the kernel; remove it, and you find between your fingers a little viper, triangular headed, coiled thrice upon itself, perfect in every detail of form from skull to tail. Was this marvellous mockery evolved for a protective end? / It is no eccentricity: in a hundred nuts the serpent-kernel lies coiled the same.

Yet in spite of these astonishments, of these novel impressions, what a weird delight it is to turn again into an avenue of palms, these are written that ye might believe that and to know once more the queer sense of being watched, without love or hate, by all "That was Sir Isaac Newto "Had he only one eye?" sai "O; uncle is talking in riddl Uncle smiled and went on.

saw a tea-kettle boiling, and pressed the lid open, show strength, he began to wond could not be used to propel at railroad trains. So you see was to us. Howard, you coul joved that boat ride you had ye boy had been double eyed, for have seen too many other. th gotten the lesson he learned kettle." "Let me see," said Will, "t was-Isaac Watts."

"O no! that was our great It was James Watt."

"Spre enough," said Will. edge is a dangerous thing." I don't see just what you uncle," said Howard.

"I do," replied Will, "son Bible it speaks of the eye thine eye be single thy whol full of light."

"That's it, dear boy. And how it works? If, as we go t have only this one thought in glory of God, we will see h where, and it will be our gree our lifework to live so that of good works may glorify our lin heaven. The trouble wit is that they see too many thi there is only one thing if there, Howard, do you man can have two eyes and ** one, single to God's glory

"You see," continued you cannot even be a good you have an eye single to y you see balls and bats, kites the same trine, your eye is do not see clearly. There is and will match this one about th begins, 'a double-minded m finish it, Will."

"In all his ways."" "I understand," said Hoy Bo do I," mid George. Me, top," said Bessie. -Chris ed summer, there is a gathering on the of the quiet country stream, and the minister, scarcely more than a boy in is saying, "Eber Lane . . . Hiram , upon your profession of faith in Jerist, I baptize you;" and the two men by baptism unto death, rise and walk ness of life.

ough the winter they are much togeththe quiet, white-haired man seems as one of our own family, but when est flowers of spring are coming, we to hear the funeral service read at the f his open grave; a grave to which father has walked as chief mourner. e does not look like a mourner as the er reads. "I am the resurrection and e; he that believeth in me, though he lead, yet shall he live," but rather with pt, exultant expression as one on whom nshine of eternal worlds has already . And as we leave the quiet, country h-yard, my own childish heart catches hing of the over-shadowing peace which th understanding, in which he walks as stmosphere.

rough the spring, as of yore, he sits anhe apple tree and reads, but the book he now is grandmother's Bible, and every e seems to grow more joyous and more ce, until one evening, when the fields rowing white for the harvest, he reads "For here have we no continuing city. e seek one to come." the light of the next morning grand-r has found it—a heavenly city, whose er and maker is God. We bury him by ide of his old friend in the churchyard, over on "God's acre" the golden harwaves and gleams in the sunshine, and ood seeds he has sown in many hearts in after years, spring up and blossom everlasting life.

The brief day is ending; And the sun, in descending, Fires the heavens with a ruddy glow; Ah not of the morn Was such beauty born As the setting sun this eve doth show.

What room for regretting Though the sun be setting When the day 'mid such spiendor dies! The great orb of gold Is gone to unfold Its light in other and distant skies.

The hope that now leaves me hose denarting so grieves

DIVINE MOTHERLY COMFORT.

BY REV. S. D. PHELPS, D. D.

Isaiah 66: 15.

Lord, how the royal tenderness Stoops to our human need! Borne on thy love its dear caress Our fondest thought exceeds.

Words wonderful it uttereth-Thy voice in kindness true: "As one his mother comforteth, So will I comfort you."

O promise, doubly sweet and clear, Ill's quick and blest relief. As it recalls the mother dear Who soothed our childish grief.

Close to her heart, in fear's alarms, She drew us sobbing sore, And held in love's enfolding arms. Our sorrows soon were o'er.'

So, Lord, thy child, to thee I come, When cares or woes abound, And, seem as in my early home With mother's comfort crowned.

Peace fills my spirit, calm, composed, And pillowed on thy breast, With "everlasting arms" enclosed, I find a heavenly rest.

-Standard.

A SINGLE EYE

BY ALA CHASE.

"Did you ever see a man with a single eye?" said Uncle Charles. "Oh, uncle, did you see a man like that in Africa?" asked Howard. in Africa."

"I wonder if he looks like the one I saw the other day," said little Bessie. "One of face to face." his eyes was good and looked just where he right around and looked way off towards the

"That we would call a singular eye, laughed Will.

"I know of some people who had a single eve," said little George. "In Hawthorne's tale of 'The Gorgon's Head' there were fully they must have looked!"

single eye," said Uncle Charles. "Why, one could not see so well," said endures.

Howard. "Yes, one can see better. Sometimes one was in deep gloom that evening, and told

SIGNING HIS NAME.

Recently a minister of Christ was asked to Louis. conduct the funeral services of a man whose name had never been mentioned in his presence. Arriving at the house which death had entered, he was ushered into a large room where the body lay in a coffin, surrounded by a number of acquaintances and friends. He glanced at the dead man, but go to such a distant part of the city.

at the burial, because the servant of the Lord

words helped him out of his darkness and distress into the light and liberty of the gospel, but the Word of God did in a marvelous way." Then asking her sister to bring the family Bible, she took from it a little slip of paper on which was printed a single verse. "A lady," she continued, "whom I had never seen before, and whom I have never seen since, approached us one evening as we were leaving the building in which the meeting was held, and gently asked my "I know of such a one, but he does not live husband to accept that little piece of paper, and then she immediately disappeared, and I would not know her if we were to meet again

At this the minister took the paper, and will be seen while an eternity of glory

"My husband," said the weeping widow,

"Yes, one can see better. Sometimes one can see too much, unless he has a single eye. I know of a boy who once saw an apple fall to the ground. How many boys had seen to the ground. How many boys had seen which liveth and ablach for ever." 1 Pet. directions. For example, the intermarriage 1:23.—Tract published by " The Truth," St. of persons with an insane heredity, is rapidly congregation. The intentty of the preacher is that so few people recognize the diversity this is a matter which ought to receive the had no recollection of ever having seen him, of the congregation and make allowance for attention of philanthropists, social reform and wondered why he had been requested to a ministry that would follow the scale of ers, and legislators. Why should there not

MULTITUDES AND INDIVIDUALS.

In a little while he was conducted to an- need. The selfishness of the congregation sons possessing grave physical defects? And other apartment to see the widow, who at is seen in that every individual himself why should not some restraint be placed once explained why she had sent for him in wants all the service. He cannot have it. her sorrow. She told him with tears that it The Christ-like preacter must follow the was her husband's wish to have him present lines of Christ: how high he is now, and anon how low down, walking amidst our had talked with him two or three times very feet, and looking st, our footprints as during the progress of a great revival more if happily he might interpret them into than seven years before. "I had forgotten some attitude or direction that would beall about it," was the reply, "and have no token the state of our spirit; how profound recollection whatever of seeing your husband | in simplicity, how generous in concession, at any time. But amid the large number how condescending in taking up a little with whom conversation was held while the child and hugging the dear creature, and meetings continued, it is not strange that how tremendous in rebuiling the men who

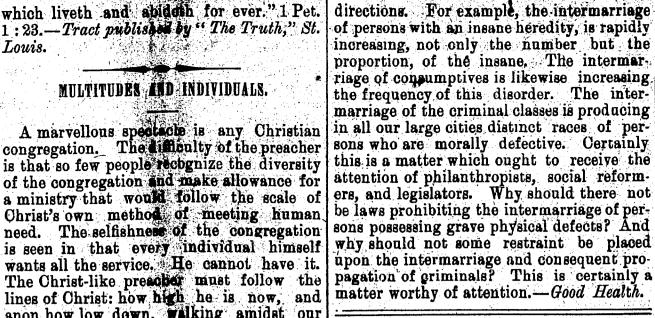

A MAGNIFICENT engineering work of the fifth century, which has seen partially destroyed, has been restored in Ceylon. It is an irrigating reservoir covering an area of 4,425 acres, or about seven square miles, from which water is taken to smaller distributing tanks more than fifty miles away.

DUBATION OF DISEASE. The duration of the infection stages of various diseases is meant it should, but the other one turned noticed the words, "I have blotted out as a thus given by Dr. T. F. Penree, an English thick cloud thy transgressions, and, as a physican: Measels, from the second day of cloud, thy sins." Isa. 44:22. But these the disease for three weeks; small-pox, from were not the only words. Just beneath on the first day for four weeks; scarlet fever, the margin was written, "John Wingate, from the fourth day for seven weeks; mumps, March 4th, 1874." The paper was cheap from the second day for three weeks; diphand faded, and many such slips with a verse theria. from the first day for three weeks. of Scripture could be purchased for almost The incubation periods, or intervals occurthree gray women,' who had a single eye in nothing. Perhaps the lady who gave the ing between exposure to infection and the the middle of their foreheads. How dread- text to the man had paid nothing at all for first symptoms, are as fallows: Whooping it, and it required very little effort to place it cough, fourteen days; mumps, eighteen days; "It is a very good thing, however, to have in his hand, but the fruit of so small a service measles, ten days; small por, twelve days; scarlet fever, three days, diphtheria, fourteen days. - American Analyst.

apples fall to the ground before and nothing slowly read, 'I have blotted out as a thick value recently in so came of it, for they saw too many other cloud thy transgressions and, as a cloud, thy old-pattern-9 inch-muzzle loading un, polylighted up with joy, and he exclaimed, 'I battery. The target, which consisted of a will sign my name to it as true, and true for raft 100 feet long by 40 feet wide, was sent "No, but can you tell me why? You me.' From that moment all was peace, and drifting with the tide, which was running he lived for more than seven years in the between five and six knots an hour. At out his transgressions and sins with the close on six miles) most accurate shooting was obtained, several hits being recorded by Of course the verse was the text of the observers placed on a tug close to the target, funeral' discourse, and as the minister held | the greater portion of the forty rounds fall. aloft the slip of paper, he asked whether | ing close round the object, which could not there were any unsaved friends present who be seen from the battery.-Scientific Amer-

MATALOGUE OF BOOKS AND TRACTS.

PUBLISHED BY THE

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY

ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y.

memory failed to recali one whom I did not know." 'I am not sure," she said, "that your because he multitude.—Dr. J. Parker. MATURE's GOD AND HIS MEMORIAL. A Series of Four Second to the Subject of the Sabbath. By Nathan Ward or I am not sure," she said, "that your because he multitude.—Dr. J. Parker. MATURE's God AND HIS MEMORIAL. A Series of Four Second to the subject of the Sabbath. By Nathan Ward ner, D. D., late missionary at Shanghai, China, subsequent because he spoke to the multitude.—Dr. J. Parker.

THE SABBATH AND THE SUNDAY. BY Rev. A. H. Lewis, M., D. D. Part First, Argument. Part Second, Histor 16mo. 268 pp. Fine Cloth, $1 25.

This volume is an earnest and able presentation of t sabbath question, argumentatively and historically. dition of this work is nearly exhausted ; but it has been ised by the author, and enlarged, and is published three volumes, as follows :

Vol. 1.—BIBLICAL TEACHINGS CONCERNING THE SABBATH A THE SUNDAY. Price, in fine muslin, 60 cents. Paper, cents. 166 pages.

First edition almost exhausted. Second edition is process of publication.

VOL. 11 .-- A CRITICAL HISTORY OF THE SABBATH AND T SUNDAY IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH. Price, in muslin, $1 $5. Twenty-five per cent discount to clergymen. 583

Vol. 111.-A CRITICAL HISTORY OF SUNDAY LEGISLATION, FROM A. D. 321 TO 1888. 12mo, cloth. Price, $1 25. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York.

SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST HAND BOOK.—Containing a History of the Seventh-day Baptist; a view of their Church Polity; their Missionary, Educational and Publishing intrests, and of Sabbath Reform. 64 pp. Bound in cloth, 25 cents; bound in paper, 10 cents

THOUGHTS SUCCESSTED BY THE PERUSAL OF GILFILLAN AND OTHER AUTHORS ON THE SABBATH. By the late Rev. Thos. B. Brown. Second Edition, 125 pp. Fine Cloth, 35 cents. Paper, 10 cents.

This book is a careful review of the arguments in favor of Sunday, and especially of the work of James Gilfillan. of Scotland, which has been widely circulated among the clergymen of America.

VINDICATION OF THE TRUE SABBATH, in 2 parts. Part First, Narrative of Recent Events. Part Second, Divine Ap-pointment of the Seventh Day. By Rev. J. W. Morton formerly Missionary of the Reformed Presbyterian Church. 66 pp. Paper, 5 cents.

The first edition is practically exhausted, but the second edition will be out soon

A THIRTY TWO PAGE RELIGIOUS QUARTERLY THERES. Ingle copies, per year		UTLOOK AND SABBATH QUARTERLY.
THEMS. Ingle copies, per year	U	A THIRTY-TWO PAGE RELIGIOUS QUARTERLY
en or more, to one address	. T.)	같은 것은 바람이 있는 것이 아파 아파 가지 않는 것이 가지 않는 것이 있다. 가지 같은 것은
Published by the AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIE Y, Alfred Centre, N. Y. A. H. Liwis, D. D., Editor, Plainfield, N. J. C. D. POTTER, M. D., Associate Editor, Adams Centre, N. Y. CORRESPONDENCE. Business letters should be addressed to the publishers, a bove. Communications regarding literary matter should be ad ressed to the Editor, as above. OUR SABBATH VISITOR Is Published Weekly at ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y. THENS. Single Copies, per year
A. H. LEWES, D. D., Editor, Plainfield, N. J. C. D. POTTER, M. D., Associate Editor, Adams Centre, N. Z CORRESPONDENCE. Business letters should be addressed to the publishers, a bove. Communications regarding literary matter should be ad ressed to the Editor, as above. OUR SABBATH VISITOR Is Published Weekly at ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y. TERMS. Single Copies, per year	Pu	blished by the AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCL
Business letters should be addressed to the publishers, a bove. Communications regarding literary matter should be ad ressed to the Editor, as above. OUR SABBATH VISITOR Is Published Weekly at ALPRED CENTRE, N. Y. THENS. Single Copies, per year		H. Lawre D. D. Editor, Plainfield, N. J.
bove. Communications regarding literary matter should be addressed to the Editor, as above. OUR SABBATH VISITOR Is Published Weekly at ALFRED CENTRE, N. Y. THENS. Single Copies, per year
Communications regarding literary matter should be ad ressed to the Editor, as above. OUR SABBATH VISITOR Is Published Weekly at ALPRED CENTRE, N. Y. THENS. Single Copies, per year	bor	76년 중 전문에서 이는 것은 것은 것이 가지 않는 것이 같은 것이 같은 것이 가지 않는 것이 것 같아요. 가지 않는 것이
URSABBATH VISITOR Is Published Weekly at ALFRED CEATER, N. Y. THERMS. Single Copies, per year	Co	mmunications regarding literary matter should be ad
ALFRED CEXTRE, N. Y. TERMS. Single Copies, per year	$\overline{\Gamma}$	UR SABBATH VISITOR
TERMS. Single Copies, per year	Ý	Is Published Weekly st
Single Copies, per year		ALFRID CENTRE, N. Y.
CORRESPONDENCE. All communications relating to business should be a irressed to OUR SABRATH VISITOR. All communications for the Editor should be addressed ( MRS. L. T. STANTON, Alfred Centre N. Y. D E BOODSCHAPPER: A SIXTEEN-PAGE RELIGIOUS MONTHLY - IN THE - HOLLAND LANGUAGE.		gle Copies, per year 60 cen
All communications relating to business should be a dressed to OUE SABEATH VISITOR. All communications for the Editor should be addressed ( MRS. L. T. STANTON, Alfred Centre N. Y. D E BOODSCHAPPER; A SIXTEEN-PAGE RELIGIOUS MONTHLY - IN THE - HOLLAND LANGUAGE.	n de la	이는 이상에 다시고, 이상이 있는 것이 있는 " 이상이 가 있는 것이 하나 사람이 있는 것이 것이 없다. 이상이 있는 것이 있다. 이상이 있는 것이 없는 것이 있는 것이 없는 것이 있는 것이 없는 것이 같이 않는 것이 없는 것이 없 않는 것이 없는 것이 없는 것이 없는 것이 없는 것이 있는 것이 없는 것이 것이 없는 것이 않은 것이 않은 것이 않은 것이 않은 것이 않은 것이 않은 것이 않이
D E BOODSCHAPPER; A SIXTEEN-PAGE RELIGIOUS MONTHLY - IN THE - HOLLAND LANGUAGE.	dre A	Il communications relating to business should be a med to OUR SABRATH VISITOR. Il communications for the Editor should be addressed
- IN THE- HOLLAND LANGUAGE.	T	E BOODSCHAPPER;
HOLLAND LANGUAGE.	-
	1997 - 1997 1997 - 1997	a se presenta de la construcción de
	Sul	pursiment by Pursien and By

Real Property in Strate

WATCH STORE STATES

SIXTEEN PAGE MONT

In the Hebrew language, devoted to the Curt of the Jews

DE BOODECHAFTER (The Messenger) is an able exponent of the Bible Sabbath (the Seventh-day), Baptism, Temperance, etc., and is an excellent paper to place in the hands of Hol-landers in this country, to call their attention to these im-portant truths.

VANGELII HAROLD

A FOUR-PAGE RELIGIOUS MONTHLY

- FOR THE ---

SWEDES OF AMERICA.

Three copies, to one address, one year...... $1 0 Single copy..... X

Published by the AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIE-TY, Alfred Centre, N. Y. L. A. PLATTS, Editor

Subscriptions to the paper, and contributions to the fund for its publication, are solicited. For Persons having the names and addresses of Sweden who do not take this paper will please send them to this of fice, that sample copies may be furnished.

A NEW MAP

OF THE

CITY OF ST. ANDREWS BAY

Hath wonderful store of surprise; I miss it with sorrow. But in a bright merrow I know I shall see it arise.

So my heart I am stilling With the thought 'Tis his willing Who ordereth all for the best. I had joy in its shining, Then why this repining Because it now sinks in the west ? -R. M. Offord, in New York Observer.

WONDERFUL TROPICAL FRUITS.

through the land round about are wonders. There are avenues of tablewhose foliage seems exaggerated horially; alleys of mahogany-trees; lanes of okes, whose fronds coruscate with son blossoming. There are amazing bs-orange-colored things; there are ts with glossy leaves speckled in four prent colors; there are various plants that like wigs of green hair, or masses of orm green sea-weed, set on short sticks; ts with enormous broad leaves, so dianous asto seem made of green glass; plants t do not look like real plants, but like lizations of plants, like the fantasticalities good carvers and stone-cutters animated witchcraft. There are grasses that look dwarf palms-tiny arborescent grasses h curving stems and plumed heads. There flowers of extravagant forms and colors lowers that possess familiar shapes, but e absurd tints and unfamiliar perfumes, ow and indigo and green, orange and k and crimson plants. And in all the ds, covering all the canals, flost the green ies of the monster lily, the Victoria Regia. se to shore the leaves are not extraordiily large; but they increase in breadth as flost further out, as if gaining bulk portionately to the depth of water. A yards off, they are large as soup plates; ther out, they are broad as dinner trays; the center of the pond or canal they have face large as tea-tables. And all have an turned edge, a perpendicular rim, like a wark. Here and there you see the ver-a nonsensical flower, large as a hat en there are fiddle-wood trees in multic, oslabash-trees, mangoes, bread-fruits, o paims, fig trees, and a hundred unisliar shapes of which I cannot learn the mes. And there is the snake nut trees, aring a most ghastly fruit. For this swart t shaped almost like a clam shall, and ving in the same way along its sharp encloses something incredible. There pale envelope about the kernel; remove and you find between your fingers a little per, triangular headed, coiled thrice upon elf, perfect in every detail of form from all to tail. Was this marvellous mockery plyed for a protective end? / It is no socencoty: in a hundred nuts the serpent kernel

Tet in spite of these astonishments, of to know once more the ower and other of of falling the other way."

"Why, uncle, nothing ever falls up."

know the earth is a great ball, suspended in stones fall off into space instead of falling upon the earth? Well, this boy had a single eye, and because of it he discovered the great law of attraction and gravitation; why the planets revolve around the sun, and so on." "That was Sir Isaac Newton." said Will.

"Had he only one eye?" said Howard. "O, uncle is talking in riddles," said Will. Uncle smiled and went on. "Another boy saw a tea-kettle boiling, and as the steam pressed the lid open, showing so much boy had been double eyed, for then he would kettle."

"Let me see," said Will, "that boy's name was-Isaac Watts.'

"O no! that was our great hymn-writer. It was James Watt."

"Sure enough," said Will. "a little knowl edge is a dangerous thing."

"I don't see just what you're driving at, uncle." said Howard.

"I do," replied Will, "somewhere in the Bible it speaks of the eve as single. 'If thine eye be single thy whole body shall be full of light."

how it works? If, as we go through life, we she led one at least to Jesus ! have only this one thought in our mind, the that there is only one thing needful."

as one, single to God's glory?"

"Yes, sir." "You see," continued Uncle Charles, not see clearly. There is another verse which will match this one about the single eye. It begins, 'a double-minded man is unstablefinish it. Will.'

"'In all his ways."" "I understand," said Howard. "So do I," said George.

"Me, too," said Bessie. -Christian Inquirer.

things besides, but this boy saw the apple sins.' He was silent for a while, then grooved and mounted on a carriage admitthings besides; but this boy saw the apple sins. It's was mind to the ding of upward of 35 degrees elevation. The turning to me with a trembling voice he ting of upward of 35 degrees elevation. The of articles in the American Baptist Flag. By Rev. S. R. wheeler, A. M. Stop. 7 cents It was enough, for, because he had a single asked if it could be true. I replied that it position finder, worked by Major Watkin eye, he made a great discovery. He found must be true, because God said it in his Word, himself, was on a hill 230 feet above the sea out why the apple fell to the ground instead and after a moment more of silence, his face level, and about a mile and a half from the space, and why should not the apples and faith that God of his own grace had blotted ranges extending up to 10,200 yards ( or precious blood of Christ."

were willing to sign their names that it was ican.

true. A man cannot be in doubt and uncertainty concerning his salvation who really believes that God has blotted out as a thick cloud his transgressions, and, as a cloud. his strength, he began to wonder why steam | sins; and God declares he has done this for could not be used to propel steam-boats and every one who simply trusts in Jesus alone railroad trains. So you see how useful he for pardon and eternal life. The transgreswas to us. Howard, you could not have en- sions which once like a thick cloud, charged joyed that boat ride you had yesterday, if this | with tempest and fire, gathered above him, are all gone, and the sins that like lighter have seen too many other things and for- clouds hid the heavens have entirely disapgotten the lesson he learned from the tea- peared, leaving only the clear, sweet blue of God's infinite and unchanging love. "The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." 1 John 1:7.

But what a note of encouragement comes from that silent coffin to Christians to "be instant in season, out of season." 2 Tim. 4:2. The lady who gave that little slip of paper to the man with a sin-burdened heart, may have gone away from the meeting discouraged because she could do nothing. She will probably never know on earth the consequences of a simple and single act of loving service for the Master, but at his coming "That's it, dear boy. And don't you see what gladness will thrill her soul to find that

But it will be observed that she used the glory of God, we will see his glory every- | Word, the written Word of God. The rewhere, and it will be our greatest delight and | peated conversations, illustrations, and arour lifework to live so that others, seeing our guments, if such were employed, of a mingood works may glorify our Father which is ister of the gospel, did not accomplish the in heaven. The trouble with most persons work wrought by one verse in the hands of a is that they see too many things, and forget | faithful Christian woman. Those hands may have been feeble in themselves, but "There, Howard, do you now see how a they held "the sword of the Spirit, which man can have two eyes and yet they may be is the Word of God." (Eph. 6:17); and this was "mighty through God to the pulling to one of the dangers of civilization, an evil down of strongholds." 2 Cor. 10 :4.

If the reader of these lines knows that he "you cannot even be a good scholar unless is willing at least to believe in Christ as his you have an eye single to your lessons. If Saviour, let him hear the voice of God you see balls and bats, kites and marbles, at sounding from heaven, and recorded by the gathered together in asylums, in which they the same time, your eye is double and you do Holy Ghost in the sacred Scriptures, "I have blotted out as a thick cloud thy trans- fective persons, being cut off from intergressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins;" and let | course with others, naturally intermarry. him sign his name to it as true. Then let him take the same word, or another verse, defect is transmitted to their progeny. By and hand it to some 'troubled one, or to some one who ought to be troubled, remem-bering that of all who are saved it is written, "Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, theless equally active in numerous other the second of the secon

ANTISEPTIC AMMUNITION.—According to the Medical Press of May 9th, a useful suggestion is being carried out by the Netherland Government, by which provision will be made for supplying each soldier, during the time of war, with a cartridge containing some antiseptic dressings. Each cartridge will be made of convenient size, namely, about three inches in length by two in width, and will be secured at one end with a safety pin. The dressing contained in each will consist of a bandage about three yards long, and two pieces of gauze, all of which have been rendered antiseptic by a sublimate solution. Hence, in the event of wounds being received, a ready means would be at hand for the im mediate application of antiseptic dressings. Soldiers, in the case of slight injuries, would probably at once avail themselves of the dressngs, and the latter could not fail to be of much use to the surgeons. The idea is well worthy of the attention of the military authorities in this country, and might even with advantage be adopted, as it has been for years past in the German army. In the wers in which, during the past few years, Bagland has been engaged in tropical climater, the early application of antiseptics to the wounds received by the men, was admitted to be a matter of the utmost importance, by the army medical officers attached to the forces. -Science.

NEW RACES OF HUMAN BEINGS - Mr.

ignored. Mr. Galton has found by inquiry 100 " that in the United States there are more than thirty thousand deaf mutes, who are live as isolated communities. These de-By the well known laws of heredity, their this means, a deaf and dumb variety of the human family may be said to be already Militon Junction, Wis., June 15, 1878, By Rev. N. Ward-ner, D. D. 90 pp.

A PASTOR'S LETTER TO AN ABSENT MENSER, on the Abro-gation of the Moral Law. By Rev. Nathan Wardner, D. D. 8 pp. 2 cents.

SUNDAY: ISIT GOD'S SABBATH OF MAR'S? A letter addressed to Chicago Ministers. By Rev. E. Ronayne. 13 pp.

THE BIBLE AND THE SABBATH, containing Scripture pas-sages bearing on the Sabbath. Price, 2 cents; 50 or more copies at the rate of $1 50 per hundred. Religious Liberty Endangered by Legislative Enactments.

An Appeal for the Restoration of the Bible Sabbath. 40 pp.

The Sabbath and its Lord. 28 pp.

The True Sabbath Embraced and Observed. 16 pp.

The Bible Doctrine of the Weekly Sabbath. 20 pp.

TOPICAL SERIES.—By Rev. James Bailey.—No. 1, My Holy Day, 28 pp.; No. 2, The Moral Law, 28 pp.; No. 3, The Sab-bath under Christ, 16 pp.; No. 4, The Sabbath under the Apostles, 12 pp.; No. 5, Time of Commencing the Sabbath, 4 pp.; No. 6, The Sanctification of the Sabbath, 20 pp.; No. 7, The Day of the Sabbath, 24 pp.

Why Sunday is observed as the Sabbath. By C. D. Pot-ter, M. D., 4 pp.

Apostolio Example. By C. D. Potter, M. D., 4 pp. The First vs. the Seventh Day. By Geo. W. McCready. 4 pp. FOUR-PAGE SERIES.--By Rev. N. Wardner, D. D.-The Sab-bath: A Seventh Day or The Seventh Day; Which?

The Lord's-day, or Christian Sabbath. Did Christ or his Apostles Change the Sabbath from the Seventh Day to the First Day of the Week ?

Constantine and the Sunday.

The New Testament Sabbath.

Did Christ Abolish the Sabbath of the Decalogue Are the Ten Commandments binding alike upon Jew and Which Day of the Week did Christians Keep as the Sab bath during 800 years after Christ ?

GERMAN TRACTS,-The series by Dr. Wardner, as above, s also published in the German language

The Bible Doctrine of the Weekly Sabbath. 20 pp. SWEDISH TRACTS.-The True Sabbath Embraced and Observed. 16 pp.

A Biblical History of the Sabbath. 24 pp. The Reason why I do not keep Sunday; and, Why I keep the Seventh Day. 1 page each.

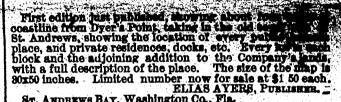

Tracts are sent by mail postpaid at the rate of 800 pages for $1. Annual members of the Tract Society are entitled to tracts equal in value to one-half the amount of their annual contributions to the Society. Life Members are entitled to 1,000 pages annually. - Sample packages will be sent, on application, to all who wish to investigate the subject. Address' AMEBICAN SABBATH TRAOT SOCIETY, Alfred Centre, N.Y.

HE LIGHT OF HOME.

AN BIGHT PAGE MONTHLY FOR THE FAMILY.

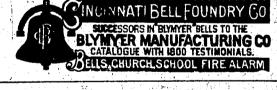

TERNS. 4 QQ 5 QQ Published by the AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIE TY, Alfred Centre, N. Y. A. H. LEWIS, D. D., Editor, Plainfield, N. J. C. D. POTTER, M. D., Associate Editor, Adams Centre, N. Y CORRESPONDENCE. Business letters should be addressed to the publishers. Communications regarding literary matter should be ad-dressed to the Editor

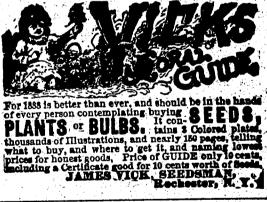

> TELPINGHAND RIBLE SCHOOL WORK.

ST. ANDREWS BAY. Washington Co., Fla-

tended to for MODERATE FEES Our office is opposite the U.S. Patent Office, and we can obopposite the U.S. Fatent Omce, and we can ob-tain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON. Send MODEL. DRAWING or PHUTO of invention. We advise as to patent-ability free of charge and we make NU CHARGE UNLESS PATENT IS SECURED For invention, advise to the rest of the second to

UNLESS PATENT IS SECURED For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State. County, City or Town, write to CASNOW&CO

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, L C.

McShane Bell Foundry Finest Grade of Bells, CHINES AND PRAIS for CHURCHES, &c Send for Price and Catalogue. Address H. MCSHANE CO., Mention this search. Baltimore, M LUBURC MFC. CO. ( 145 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE SABBATH RECORDER, SEPTEMBER 27, 1888.

