Your Magazine Subscription Should Be Placed Now

THE RECORDER Subscription Agency has made arrangements to take care of your magazine subscriptions at special prices if the same is placed before November 10th. Everything points to a war tax on magazines, which will force the prices higher than ever this winter. Subscribe for the magazines you are going to take now and thus benefit by the special prices the publishers are offering for a few weeks. The RECORDER Agency is in a position to meet or beat any quotation you may have, and if you will tell us what you want we will be glad to quote you the best prices possible.

NOVEMBER 10th, 1917

is the time set by the publishers at which the special prices now quoted will be withdrawn. After that date many magazines will advance. Scribner's Magazine is now $3.00 per year. After November 10th it is to be $4.00 a year. The following will be sent to the same address two years:

TWO YEAR OFFERS

	Pub. Price	Our Price
American MagazineM.	3.00	2.50
Baseball MagazineM.	3.00	2.00
Cosmopolitan MagazineM.	3.00	2.00	÷
DelineatorM.	3.00	2.00
Everybody's MagazineM.	3.00	2.00
Good HousekeepingM.	3.00	2.00	•
Harper's MagazineM.	8.00	6.00
Hearst's MagazineM.	3.00	2.00	•
Illustrated WorldM.	3.00	2.00
McClure's MagazineM.	3.00	2.00
Modern PriscillaM.	2.50	2.00
Mother's MagazineM.	3.00	2.00
PathfinderM.	2.00	2.00
Pictorial ReviewM.	3.00	2.50
School Century IO Nos.	2.50	2.00	:
Sunset MagazineM.	3.00	2.00
Woman's Home CompanionM.	3.00	2.50	•

Send for folder giving special short chance offers. THE SABBATH RECORDER

18 Madison Avenue

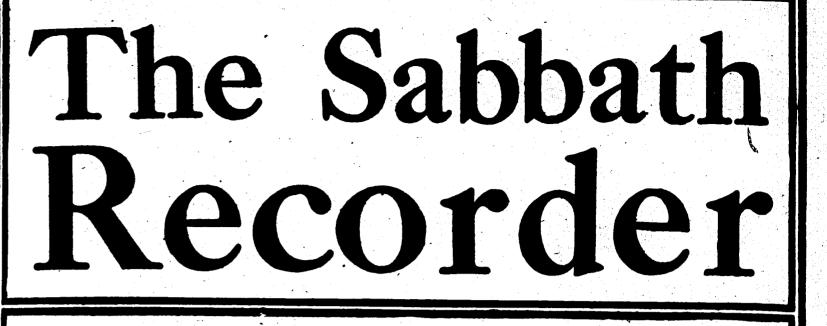

Plainfield, N. J.

Editorial. --- Nev Committee Me Room Enough Realize the I Urged to Hel Christian Theor A Deceased La An Explanation Sabbath Reform and the Illus London Air Rai Missions.—Missi ciety Notes The American S Treasurer's R Woman's Work versation.--W urer's Report Day Baptist L Market, N. J.

Vol. 83, No. 17

stamp on this notice, hand same to any U. S. postal employee. and it will be placed in the hands of our soldiers or sailors at the front. No wrapping, no address. A. S. BURLESON, Postmaster General.

October 22, 1917

TYHEN we turn to Christ, we find a teacher who taught mainly by his life, and relied upon nothing else to vindicate his truth: his life was his teaching; he himself was the truth. So entirely and absolutely was this his method that he provided no other channel, making no book, employing no scribe, seldom appealing to the memory of his hearers for the preservation of his words, but always to his works and life. He spoke the Sermon on the Mount, and then went up and down Galilee illustrating it. The miracles were but the acting out of the truths he had received from God; his method was the method of God; the Father worked perpetually, and he worked. His teaching was no second-hand process; he did not content himself with teaching teachers, but turned straight into life. There is not a positive utterance of Christ's but is expressed in action; not a duty enjoined but he did it; not a feeling urged but he felt it; not a hope imparted but he reposed on it; not a principle urged but he illustrated it.

-Theodore T. Munger.

-CONTE	NTS
v Publishing House eting.—"You Have Not n."—"Does One in Ten leed?"—Public Opinion p	College Opening Address, Alfred, N. Y. 531 On the Trail533Young People's Work.—Perseverance. —What Sort of Young People Ought We to Be in the Church?". 534 Semi-annual Meeting535Food Conservation and the Churches. 536536Children's Page.—The Case Against David537In Memory of Our President, Miss Agnes Babcock538Sabbath School.—A Sabbath Lesson Impressively Presented.—Lesson for November 3, 1917

ALFRED UNIVERSITY

Buildings and equipment, $400,000.

Endowments over $400,000.

Meets standardization requirements for College Graduate's Professional Certificate, transferable to other States.

Courses in Liberal Arts. Science, Philosophy, Engineer-ing, Agriculture, Home Economics, Music, Art.

Freshman Classes, 1915, the largest ever enrolled. Fifteen New York State Scholarship students now in attendance. Expenses moderate.

Fifty free scholarships for worthy applicants.

Tuition free in Engineering. Agriculture. Home Economics, and Art courses.

Catalogues and illustrated information sent on application.

BOOTHE COLWELL DAVIS, President

ALFRED, N. Y.

Milton College

A college of liberal training for young men and women. All graduates receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Well-balanced required courses in Freshman and Sophomore years. Many elective courses. Special advantages for the study of the English language and literature, Germanic and Romance languages. Thorough courses in all sciences.

The School of Music has courses in pianoforte, violin, viola, violoncello, vocal music, voice culture, harmony, musical kindergarten, etc.

Classes in Elocution and Physical Culture for men and women.

Board in clubs or private families at reasonable rates. For further information address the

Rev. W. C. Daland, D. D., President

Milton, Rock County, Wis.

Che Fouke School

FRED I. BABCOCK, PRINCIPAL

Other competent teachers will assist.

Former excellent standard of work will be maintained. Address for further information, Fred I. Babcock, Fouke, Ark.

THE SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST

GENERAL CONFERENCE Next session to be 'held at Nortonville, Kansas, August 22-27, 1918.

President-Frank J. Hubbard, Plainfield, N. J.

Recording Secretary-Rev. Earl P. Saunders, Alfred, N. Y.

Corresponding Secretary-Rev. Alva Davis, North Loup, Neb.

Treasurer-Rev. William C. Whitford, Alfred, N. Y. Treasurer-Rev. William C. Whitford, Alfred, N. Y. Executive Committee-Frank J. Hubbard, Chairman, Plainfield, N. J.; Rev. Earl P. Saunders, Rec. Sec., Alfred, N. Y.; Rev. Alva Davis, Cor. Sec., North Loup, Neb.; Dr. George E. Crosley, Milton, Wis., (for three years); Mr. Asa F. Randolph, Plainfield, N. J., (for three years); Rev. William L. Burdick, Alfred, N. Y., (for two years); Mr. Ira B. Crandall, Westerly, R. I., (for two years); Mr. Ira B. Crandall, Westerly, R. I., (for one year); Mr. Wardner Davis, Salem, W. Va., (for one year). Also expresidents and presidents of the Seventh Day Baptist Missionary Society, the Ameri-can Sabbath Tract Society, and the Seventh Day Baptist Education Society. Education Society.

COME TO SALEM!

Nestled away in the quiet hills of West Virginia far from the hum and hustle of the big city, Salem quietly says to all young people who wish a thorough Christian college education, "Come!" Salem's FACULTY is composed of earnest, hard working efficient teachers who have goth working, efficient teachers, who have gathered their learning and culture from the leading universities of the United States, among them being Yale, Harvard, Michigan, Columbia, Cornell, Alfred and Milton

Salem's COLLEGE buildings are thoroughly mod-ern in style and equipment—are up-to-date in every respect. Salem has thriving Young Peo-ple's Christian Associations, Lyceums, Glee Clubs, a well stocked library, lecture and reading rooms. Exrenses are moderate. Salem OFFERS three courses of study—College, Normal and Academic; besides well selected courses in Art, Music, Ex ression and Commercial work. The Normal Course is designed to meet our State Board requirements. Many of our graduates are considered among the most proficient in the teaching profession. Academic graduates have little difficulty in passing college entrance requirements anywhere.

Salem BELIEVES in athletics conducted on a basis of education and moderation. We encourage and foster the spirit of true sportsmanship. A new gymnasium was built in 1915.

We invite correspondence. Write today for details and catalogue: PRESIDENT, CHARLES B. CLARK, M. A, Pd. D., Box "K," Salem, West Virginia.

AMERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY BOARD OF DIRECTORS

President-Corliss F. Randolph, Newark, N. J.

Recording Secretary—A. L. Titsworth, Plainfield, N. J. Assistant Recording Secretary—Asa F. Randolph, Plainfield, N. J. Corresponding Secretary-Rev. Edwin Shaw, Plainfield, N. J.

Treasurer-F. J. Hubbard, Plainfield, N. J. Regular meeting of the Board, at Plainfield, N. J., the second First-day of each month, at 2 p. m.

THE SABBATH VISITOR.

Published weekly, under the auspices of the Sabbath School Board, by the American Sabbath Tract Society, at Plainfield, N. J.

TERMS Single copies, per year.....60 cents Communications should be addressed to The Sabbath Visitor, Plainfield N. J.

HELPING HAND IN BIBLE SCHOOL WORK A quarterly, containing carefully prepared helps on the International Lessons. Conducted by the Sabbath School Board. Price 25 cents a copy per year; 7 cents a guarter.

Address communications to The American Sabbath Tract Society, Plainfield, N. J.

JUNIOR QUARTERLY FOR SEVENTH DAY A BAPTIST SABBATH SCHOOLS

A quarterly, containing carefully prepared helps on the International Lessons for Juniors. Conducted by the Sabbath School Board of the Seventh Day Baptist General Conference.

Price, 15 cents per year; 5 cents per quarter. Send subscriptions to The American Sabbath Tract Society, Plainfield, N. J.

THE SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST MEMORIAL FUND President—H. M. Maxson, Plainfield, N. J. Vice President—Wm. M. Stillman, Plainfield, N. J. Secretary—W. C. Hubbard, Plainfield, N. J. Treasurer—Joseph A. Hubbard, Plainfield, N. J. Gifts for all Denominational Interests solicited. Prompt payment of all obligations requested.

THE SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST

MISSIONARY SOCIETY President-Wm. L. Clarke, Ashaway, R. I.

Recording Secretary-A. S. Babcock, Rockville, R. I. Corresponding Secretary-Rev. Edwin Shaw, Plainfield, N. J.

Treasurer-S. H. Davis, Westerly, R. I.

The regular meetings of the Board of Managers are held the third Wednesdays in January, April, July and October.

1

The Sabbath Recorder

VOL. 83, NO. 17

Committee Meeting

New Publishing House At the meeting of of the far-reaching influence of such a the Tract Board on denominational headquarters as is proposed, there will be no doubt about our September 16. after a full discussion of matters pertaining to having one in the near future. the new publishing house, the old committee of which Frank J. Hubbard is chairman "You Have Not These were the words of Room Enough" was continued "for the purpose of securing a man who attended Conference from West the opinion of the denomination as to where Virginia and took pains to visit the pubthe denominational home should be lolishing house and see for himself what was cated, and devising means for securing the needed. In the interesting discussion at the annual home-coming meeting of the On Wednesday evening, October 10, this committee had its first meeting with six Salem Church, this brother told of his great interest in the cuts published in the SABBATH RECORDER of September 3, showwere spent in careful consultation, and it ing the Tract Board's ideal of the headquarters and publishing house needed for the use of the denomination. He then brethren from the various churches in difspoke of his visit to the RECORDER office, ferent associations would be invited for deand, turning to the editor, said, "Brother Gardiner, you have not room enough there for the good work the publishing house is doing." He thought the proposed plans were excellent, and expressed the hope that this work might be the next great business of the denomination. Wherever people have given the matter serious consideration the feeling seems to be growing that it is greatly to our discredit that after nearly 250 years of denominational life in America we have no publishing house or denominational headquarters of our own. We seem to be almost alone in this respect, for other denominations have long ago seen the great need of such headquarters and some of them have hardly had one third as many vears of denominational existence as we have had. It is a great thing for any people to be able to show to their children an up-We shall look with great interest to the to-date publishing house and home for all for the truth and gave them their heritage. Who can estimate the far-reaching, unifyproposed by the Tract Board and approved necessary funds to carry out the project." members present. Two hours and a half was decided to call a special meeting of the Tract Board for November 11, to which liberation and counsel. The committee feels sure that if the people of the denomination really come to understand the need of such a denominational headquarters there will be no lack of interest in the movement, and the way will open for the publishing house to be built. The board was greatly encouraged by the unanimity of feeling in favor of the building, as manifested at Conference, and the committee was much church at Salem, W. Va., in its annual pleased with the interest manifested by the home-coming church meeting. Two or three persons who had visited the publishing house while at Conference spoke in the Salem meeting of their impressions regarding the great need of more room and proper offices in which to do our work, and assurance was there given of their sympathy and help when the board can see its way clear to go forward. meeting for counsel to be called in Novem- their church interests, of which they need ber. The committee is anxious that the not be ashamed, and one which tells to the people shall regard the matter with a broad world the story of denominational loyalty, denominational vision, rather than in the and of love for the fathers who sacrificed interest of any one board or any particular section of the denomination. We want whatever will promote the highest welfare ing influence of such a headquarters as that of the great cause for which we stand. If our people can only realize something by Conference?

A Seventh Day Baptist Weekly Published by The American Sabbath Tract Society, Plainfield, N. J.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., OCTOBER 22, 1917

WHOLE NO. 3,790

"Does One in Ten Realize the Need?"

At the committee meeting this question was asked: "Do you suppose one in ten of our people realize that we have no publishing house of our own and that we are working to so great a disadvantage for want of room?" We have thought much of this question since it was asked, and now let us make it more specific in order that the real situation may be better understood.

Do our people generally know that their publishing interests are greatly handicapped all the time by not having half enough room in which to do the necessary work? Those who visited the Recorder office during Conference were impressed with this fact, and yet a visit to that place does not reveal half our real need. The two rooms in which our seven valuable machines are crowded with all the other necessary apparatus and appliances, and the little cluttered up office in which three to five persons have to work, do not by any means tell the whole story.

Do you know that for twenty years or more a van-load of our valuable books and files has been stored in a safety vault of the Potter Press Works, eight or ten blocks away, the rent having been freely given because the owners were interested in our cause? As a matter of economy, in order to save your money, the Tract Board accepted this gift of room and rent all these years. But now things are changed. The Potter shop has been sold and the room so long occupied by the Tract Board as a safe place for storage has had to be vacated. For this material we now hire storage at $3 a month in a common storage house not fireproof.

For years the accumulating files and material stored in the basement under our press rooms have caused anxiety on account of the danger of fire. These, too, must now be removed to a safe place for storage several blocks away. This is to be done within the present week.

Then for years the old office occupied by Dr. Lewis on the fourth floor of the Babcock Building Annex, has been given, rent-free, for storing bound files of all our literature and for use of the corresponding secretary of the Tract Society. The room occupied by the treasurer of the Memorial Board is in the main part of the Babcock Building. This, too, has been given for our use without charge for many years. In view of changes that have come we can not hope for continued gratuitous room rent. Without doubt something will need to be done before very long.

Again, for the precious books belonging to the Historical Society, including the Sachse collection, we are in great need of a place of our own where they can be safely kept and where our people can see and use them as necessity may require. Recently this valuable material has been placed in the fireproof rooms of the New Jersey Historical Society in Newark, eighteen miles away.

There is no room in the publishing house for an editor's office, and all RECORDER work is taken into the editor's own home without expense to the board. The board itself holds all its meetings in the parlors of the church, and all committees have to meet either there or at the home of some member.

Now you can see how much was covered by the question at the head of this editorial. How can any loyal Seventh Day Baptist know all this without wishing from the bottom of his heart that we had just such a building as is suggested by the cuts published in the SABBATH RECORDER? Who would not be proud of a Seventh Day Baptist headquarters containing all necessary room for our printing and publishing work, safety vaults for our valuable books and papers, a denominational library room for the Historical Society, offices for the Memorial Board, recording secretary, and editor, and a meeting room for the boards?

Have we not been depending long enough on charity for rooms in which to work? One thing is quite evident, we have been doing so about as long as we can, and something will have to be done before many years go by.

The next meeting of the board will be on November 11, and as suggested in the first editorial it is hoped that a good number of representatives from our churches will accept the Tract Board's invitation to be present and assist by their counsels.

Public Opinion Urged to Help

A communication from the government Food Administration brings the information that, in response to its call, the canning industries of the country have put up 240,000,000 cans of peas alone, this being 84,000,000 cans more than were put CHRISTIAN THEOPHILUS LUCKY up last year. "Most of these peas" writes [The following are extracts from letters Howard D. Gross, the government official, received by the present writer in his search "were sold by canners before war was defor material concerning the life and labors clared at prices that leave no excuse for of Mr. Lucky.-Corliss F. RANDOLPH.] the extortionate prices being asked in some markets." From Rev. Arthur E. Main

He was consecrated; self-denying to such The Food Administration calls upon puban extent as, in my judgment, to injure his lic opinion to aid in its efforts to secure health, and decrease his efficiency; learned reasonable prices for the consumer. In in most departments of knowledge,-as in view of the fact that $50,000,000 worth of eggs were wasted in 1914 and the same history, philosophy, theology, language, literature,-perhaps science, I do not know; amount of waste was incurred last year, it his knowledge of individuals, in many parts, looks as though some aid from the public and his recollection of their names, was would be necessary if the Food Adminislittle less than wonderful; most friendly tration is to realize its hopes as a food and fond of friends; loyal to conscience, saver. truth, and duty, though understood by only a comparatively few.

Effort is being made to put the wholesale dealers in food grains and fuel under government control, and there are indica-From Rev. William L. Burdick He was sincere to the very core, a wontions that federal licenses for such dealers derful scholar who had gathered a wondermay be required, and that decisive steps ful amount of knowledge on many submay be necessary to prevent hoarding and jects, a clear and accurate thinker, and, speculating. If the government is to keep food products at a reasonable price for crowning all, a consecration to his Master that put me to shame. To be sure the depth consumers, it will need the co-operation, not only of the large dealers but of the and positiveness of his convictions made him a little angular, and the lengths to general public as well. When public sentiwhich he was willing to go, and had gone, ment is strong and clearly expressed in favor of government measures, it will be in the matter of sacrificing for the Cause. made him impatient at the worldliness of comparatively easy to carry out plans for the Christian Church, Seventh Day Bapthe common good. Americans must not tists with the rest, but, in it all was a Christurn deaf ears to the plea for food conservation, and dealers must not take advantage tian spirit. I found him an interesting speaker. but his forte was in personal conof these times to become rich by war prices, versation: in this last position, he could if the war is to be won and the world made easily lead, because of the clearness of his safe for democracy. Every one must do ideas and depth and breadth of his learning, his bit in a cause that depends so much in any company in which I ever saw him. upon a spirit of patriotism and sacrifice He could read men in a remarkable way; on the part of the whole people. his opinion of them, gained at a glance, was what often took others years to dis-A station-agent at Bloomington, N. J., cern saw a man walking on the tracks of the Lehigh Valley Railroad. On his back he From Rev. Ira Lee Cottrell carried a huge package. The agent ordered Rev. Christian Theophilus Lucky came him off the track. The man, who was a to New York City in the autumn of 1883 Hungarian, demurred, and produced a railfrom London, England, where I think he road ticket, good from Jersey City to Scranhad been engaged in city mission work. ton, Pa. The Hungarian thought the ticket He entered Union Theological Seminary, gave him only the privilege of walking where I had commenced study a little late over the road. How many of us Christians in the fall, but somewhat earlier than he. make the same mistake! Our Lord wants On the voyage from London, he met to bear all our burdens and hold us in consome one who had lost his coat, and he tinual freedom from care and from the gave him eight dollars to buy a new one. power of sin.-The Christian Herald. which left Brother Lucky bankrupt in a strange land. This incident illustrates his characteristic generosity.

514

3

The three years course he began in 1883 in Union Theological Seminary, he completed in 1885. A catalogue of the Seminary gives the following data concerning him:

"Christian Theophilus Lucky, born, Tysmienica, Galizien, Austria, Sep. 11, 1854; U. B., 78-80; Union Theological Seminary, '82-85; ordained (Independent Evangelical Lutheran) N. Y. City, Aug. 16, '85; missionary to Jews, Strychauce, Austria, '85-86; do., New York City, 1886-1889; do, to travel in Europe and Asia, 1889-1890; do., Stanislau, Galizien, Austria, 1890-."

Soon after entering Union, I became acquainted with Johannes Ehrenstein, a member of the class, from Germany, who came to know that I was a Seventh Day Baptist. When Lucky came to the Seminary from Austria, he soon came to know Ehrenstein, as they both spoke German, and their people at home were nationally neighbors. Ehrenstein told Brother Lucky that there was a student in the class who was a Christian Sabbath-keeper, when Lucky said, "That is right, that is right, I want to meet him." An introduction soon followed, and we remained fast friends till Brother Lucky's death.

He visited us frequently in Rhode Island, when I was at Ashaway; and later in Shiloh; his last visit was at Alfred Station, after the Milton Conference in 1909.

I thought a great deal of him because he was a true loyal son of Abraham, a devoted follower of Jesus Christ, a genuine scholar. In early life he had committed to memory the Old Testament in Hebrew. When he told me this, I took my Hebrew Bible, opened it to one of the prophets, and said I had such a book and chapter, and asked him to repeat the chapter. He said, "Start it for me"; after I read a few words, he continued and repeated the chapter to the end. He had evidently learned the "Law and the Prophets." He was true and loyal; and lived, as it seemed to me, to do God's People; and remember very well at one will and wait for his coming.

He had planned, and really expected, to come to the Conference at Milton in 1915, as I understood from his letters. He seemed to want to do something about his citizenship in this country; I thought he might want to obtain some official papers that would help him in the war zone of the Old World.

Of his early history, as I now recall, he told me about as follows; viz., that he was early left an orphan, in the care of an aunt or cousin; he claimed that an inheritance of some $700,000 was rightfully his, but it was controlled by his aunt who was a Roman Catholic and who refused to permit him to have it unless he would embrace her faith and become a Roman Catholic priest. This he refused to do; so that finally the money was diverted to other uses, and he was left destitute; but I believe he was in one or more of the fine German schools for a time.

The following is an extract from his last letter to me, written from Amsterdam, Holland, under date of July 7, 1916:

"Your dear letter of, as I suppose, the 16th of June, 1916, is at hand. Thank you very much. know I have in you a true friend and brother. "Well! Who amongst our people can still be averse to me? I don't think any can; but our connection is stronger. Through Ehrenstein in Union Theological Seminary, we made the first acquaintance, and since that time we have been tied together always stronger. I appreciate your way of showing brotherly love by bringing the brother before the Throne of Grace and I am thankful from the bottom of my heart for it. I need the prayers of all the people, especially in these troublous times and the trying ill health that I suffer from. But the Lord is mighty, and the prayers of his people prevail much with him. He is gracious and will help."

From Rev. S. S. Powell

I knew Brother Lucky when he was residing for a short space in Alfred, N. Y., in the early days of his Eduth, which was issued at that time from Alfred. This was in 1893, and subsequently. I only saw him a few times but liked him and would have been glad of the opportunity to have known him better personally. Later, when he went to Europe, and when I was engaged with editorial duties on the Peculiar People, I had some slight correspondence with him, and kept it up through a number of years with the Eduth. I made use of some material from the latter for the Peculiar time that I published a little characterization of him, wholly laudatory, from some other publication, in which his ripe scholarship was praised. Soon after, I received a letter from him in his home in Galicia, prompted by his modesty and his conception of Christian humility, administering a sharp rebuke to me. This was quite characteristic of him. He seemed to be wholly willing to fields of Paradise and where the light never efface himself that the work of his Divine Master might be done. ceases to fall from the face of Christ.

Our dear brother would often, in the Of the Eduth I can not speak in too high praise. Brother Lucky's own writing in the pages of his inimitable Hebrew paper, when paper was in the purest Biblical and posthis brethren of the House of Israel fell on Biblical Hebrew. His own thoughts were sleep, as Landow, Reines, and many anexpressed with elegance, copiousness, and other, write most loving tributes to their perspicuity. Some of his articles also, as memory. I read them, seemed to be suffused with a I feel that this which I have written is soul-enkindling spirituality. A very light very inadequate, but such as it is, with from Heaven would seem to fall upon them tears which come all unbidden, I would lay it as a tribute on his grave at Plau in sometimes. I remember that this was particularly true in my own reading of them Mecklenburg. in the case of a delightful article of his on [By J. W. Thirtle, LL. D., in The Christian, "The Feast of the Tabernacles". In everyof London, for January 11, 1917.] thing that he wrote, Christ was all.

Many a friend of Israel and a host of This Master in Israel, and yet ardent fol-Hebrew scholars in all parts of the world lower of the Christ, had an unbounded adwill mourn the loss of Rev. Christian Theomiration of Delitzsch's Hebrew translation philus Lucky, who died on November 25 at of the New Testament. He preferred that Berlin, sixty-two years of age, after long to all others; in fact, considered it a masweakness, followed by months of painful terpiece. He had personally known Proillness. A Jew by race, and a native of fessor Delitzsch, and this fact perhaps gave Galicia, he has been declared "one of the him all the more a warm and loving appremost remarkable converts to Christianity ciation of that wonderful piece of interprein the nineteenth century." In the words tation. If I remember aright, it was in the of Bernstein in his book, Jewish Witnesses very first number of the Eduth which for Christ: Brother Lucky issued that he wrote a short "He was known, not only as a great Hebrew review of that version. He paid tribute scholar, writing Hebrew in classical style as a to its living quality. Not at all pedantic living language, and as thoroughly conversant or merely the product of a ripe scholarship, with the whole range of Jewish literature, but also as possessing a wide knowledge of Christian it made the incarnate Son of God and the literature." men and women of his day live in such a Mr. Lucky lived for some years in manner as to make us feel that we are in America, where he edited papers in the intheir very presence. Many years have terest of Jewish evangelization. In more passed away since that little review was written. The writer of these lines already recent years, he resided at Stanislau, whence he had to flee on the outbreak of war, thus was familiar with that wonderful version; he has not ceased to use it, and bears testibeing cut off from work in which he was mony now to the truth of Brother Lucky's engaged among his own people. As a warwords. I may add that he wrote in his berefugee he lived for some time in Holland, but his health breaking down, he was inloved Eduth, at the time when Professor Delitzsch died, a very full and circumvited to Germany for medical treatment, stantial appreciation of that princely lover and passed his last days among friends of Israel. there. As an American subject, he enjoyed What more can I say? I did not know a large liberty, and was able, about a year the subject of this sketch at any nearer ago, to visit England for a time. A man of simple life, and utterly unselrange than I have represented; but I feel that I do know that his heart was in his life- fish, he was a devoted follower of Christ. long work of testifying, whether with He held decided views on matters that are tongue or pen, to small and great in Israel, keenly controverted among Hebrew Christhat this Jesus, whom we love, and who is tians, but all the same he was a man of gracious spirit, and greatly beloved. our all and very life and the foundation Scholars consulted him as an expert in of every grace, is King and Savior. He is resting now, we must surely believe, be-Hebraica, and commanded his enthusiastic yond the reach of pain or any perplexity, attention. To many who knew him, his name will long be fragrant of benediction. and far from war's alarms, in the fair

516

A DECEASED LABORER AMONG ISRAEL*

.[The April number of De Hope Israëls ("The Hope of Israel") contained under the above heading an article relating to the life of the late Brother Lucky. Trusting that many will be pleased to know that our brother was appreciated even outside of our own people, we print the entire article. It is sad to think that our brother died just at the time when it seems that important things may befall his nation which he loved so dearly.—G. v.1

On November 11, 1854, a Jewish boy, named Chajim Jedidjah Pollak, was born in a village near Stanislau, Galicia. His father wanted him to become a rabbi. While pursuing his studies, he happened to read the New Testament. The power of the gospel was manifested to his soul, so that he accepted the Savior, and straightway he dedicated his life to the service of the Master, laboring among his own people.

He went to the United States of America to finish his studies. At New York, he was dedicated to the gospel ministry by a Lutheran pastor, named Pohlman, and immediately the sole aim of his life became the saving of his own people. His purpose was the building up of Jewish-Christian churches, and he has done what he could to realize that ideal. As such, he is known as Christian Theophilus Lucky.

On the 1st of October, 1886, he started his labors in New York, under the auspices of the Baptist Missionary Society ["This should be 'Seventh Day Baptist Missionary Society'".-G. V.]. Several Jews were converted, eight of whom were baptized and joined a Seventh Day Baptist church. Soon after, Brother Lucky started a Jewish paper, called Eduth le-Israel ("Witness for Israel"). In this work he was assisted by Zebi Hermann Friedländer, who was born in 1830, baptized in 1858, and who had labored under the auspices of the London Society from 1866 to 1886, and afterward come to America. The latter started a paper in the English language called the Peculiar People, in which undertaking he was assisted by Mr. Lucky.

Joseph Landow, a converted Jew, went from New York to Galicia to labor among his own people; but alas! in 1889, only one year later, he died. Subsequently, Mr. Friedländer went; but he, too, died soon after his arrival. Then Mr. Lucky, himself, went; and since has labored in the vineyard of the Master in Galicia, Russia, Roumania, Servia, Germany, England, Holland, and other countries.

*This article, with its introduction by Rev. Gerhard Velthuysen, Jr., all translated by Mr. Jacob Bakker, of Plainfield, N. J., is taken entire from "De Boodschapper," of Amsterdam, Hol-land, for May, 1917.—Corliss F. Randolph.

Last summer, we had the privilege of , having him visit us. Ah, how aged did he look at only sixty-one! How much had he suffered! We rejoiced to be able to speak with him concerning the work among the Jews, and concerning the future of Israel, and the faithfulness of God, who never forsakes his own!

His life journey was soon ended. In the December number of De Boodschapper, we read that he had left Holland to go to Germany; but that he only got as far as Leipzig, whence, through the assistance of friends, he was taken to a hospital at Chemnitz. About the first of October, he was transferred from here to the hospital Ebenezer at [Steglitz in the environs of] Berlin, where he fell asleep, the 25th of November [1916].

"They that sow in tears shall reap in joy." Psalms 126: 5.

AN EXPLANATION

I have been asked why, as alternate delegate from the Northwestern Association to the Southwestern Association, I did not go. To answer all inquiries, I will say that I did not know that I had been appointed until too late to make preparation for the trip. I should have been pleased to attend had circumstances been different. W. D. TICKNER.

A young artist was asked to paint a picture of purity and innocence. He searched throughout the city of Paris for his subject. He found it in a beautiful child with golden hair, rosy cheeks and deep blue eyes, not a mark of care or anxiety upon its fair young brow. Twenty-five years later he was asked to paint a picture of impurity and wretchedness. He again sought and found his subject in the same city, a poor creature sitting on the doorsteps craunching a crust that had been handed her, the marks of debauchery and shame upon her. To his surprise it was the same person whom he had painted years before. Sin mars, sin destroys. There is only one escape, and that is "keep close to Jesus all the way."-Rev. J. H. Freedline.

THE INDEFINITE WEEK AND THE ILLU-SIVE SABBATH

A few months ago, Rev. S. H. Davis, [Occasionally I meet people who have pastor at Westerly, R. I., made a careful either read or heard about a book by Rev. review of Mr. Gamble's vague notions, and S. W. Gamble called "Sunday, the true the false claims put forth by him. After Sabbath of God," and questions are asked grouping the facts which show that the about his theory. It may be well for our-Sabbath law is universal and unrepealable, selves and for others to have at hand data and that Christ and the early church obin reference to this matter. The followserved the Sabbath which Mr. Gamble stiging is a reprint of an article that was pubmatizes, Mr. Davis said: lished in The Sabbath of Christ, February, "And yet all of the foregoing proposi-1903. It is suggested that this not only be tions, each of which should stand unquescarefully read, but that it be preserved for tioned by every intelligent reader of the use when the subject is presented for dis-Bible, and of history, are denied with uncussion.—E. S.]

Within the last twenty-five years, and in the writings of Rev. S. W. Gamble, of notably under the influence of the Outlook the South Kansas Conference of the Methand Sabbath Quarterly, which was issued odist Episcopal Church. Mr. Gamble's from this office for twelve years succeeding theories were published in the Chicago 1882, various new inventions have been Tribune and the Christian Endeavorer, brought to the front to evade the force of of Chicago, about 1897, and have the plain teachings of the Bible and the since appeared in his book entitled, 'Sunfacts of history concerning the Sabbath and day, the true Sabbath of God.' the Sunday. None of these have in them "In the course of his argument Mr. Gamany of those elements of candor and conble asserts a number of strange proposiscience which characterize the Puritan thetions, two of which are simply astounding. ory. That theory started with the idea that The first: 'That God, through Moses, gave the Sabbath law of the fourth commandto the children of Israel a system of fixedment was everlasting and binding upon all date Sabbaths, which changed once every men but that it might be transferred from year. between the exodus and the crucithe seventh to the first day of the week. fixion, to a different day of the week, and Under that theory, the only really religious hence that Saturday never was a Jewish observance of Sunday was developed which Sabbath for over one year at a time until has ever been known. Men have been after the destruction of Jerusalem under forced to abandon that theory, because it Titus.' This I quote from page 23 of his was not Scriptural, and to face the fact book. that the real issue on the religious side of "His other leading proposition is to the Sabbath Reform lies between returning to effect that the first day of the week, now the Seventh Day, according to the Bible called Sunday, was never called the first and the example of Christ, on the one hand, day of the week by any of the New Testaor to the Roman Catholic doctrine of ment writers, but was spoken of in Mat-Church-authority and to the ecclesiasticalthew 28: 1, and other parallel passages, civil idea embodied in Sunday legislation. as the first of Sabbaths. Not willing to adopt that position, a few "I wish to review briefly his theory of men of limited scholarship and still more fixed calendar date, but changeable, weekly limited conceptions of logic and fact, have Sabbaths, for which he has manufactured a broached new theories concerning Sunday calendar with an adjustable slide which he and the Sabbath. Among these the theory shifts to fit his theory. It would seem of one Mr. Gamble is loudest in claiming useless to seriously consider such child's that it presents the only possible defense play, and an idle task to review an arguagainst the claims of those who follow ment so cheap and visionary, but for the

THE SABBATH RECORDER

Christ in keeping the Sabbath. Mr. Gamble rises to such heights in literary style and in Christian courtesy that he usually speaks of them as "Saturdarians," an expressive and elegant(?) name for Christ, his apostles, and the churches of the New Testament times.

measured assurance and unbounded egotism local authority, that the author claims for it the approval of eminent scholars, and that it is said to have been adopted as a standard work on the Sabbath question by the denomination of which Mr. Gamble is a member.

"This latter statement, however, being but hearsay, I do not credit, as I can not believe that any scholarly man of the great Methodist denomination would risk his reputation by approving of such error, and I have positive knowledge that some of the leading educators among Methodists have said that his translation and interpretation of Scripture are such as scholars can not accept.

"The fact that Mr. Gamble's 'startling discoveries,' by which he would annihilate the Sabbath and place Sunday on a firm foundation, were published in the newspapers some five years ago, and since in book form, and have never been mentioned, much less reviewed, by most of the prominent church papers, religious journals and theological magazines of Sunday-keeping denominations, is enough to condemn such discoveries in the eyes of all intelligent people.

"If some ambitious scientist should claim to discover a great principle or invent a great theory in science that promised to affect the views and interests of millions of people; if he had his notions published in the newspapers, and later in book form, and after five years not a reputable scientific paper or magazine had mentioned the discovery or reviewed the theory, people would be apt to conclude that the theory was but thin air, and the discovery a fake.

"As to the scholars who aided in bringing Mr. Gamble's production before the public, though he thanks them profusely in his introduction, he fails to record their names in his book.

"On page 18 of his Preface he says: 'I am under some obligation to the management of the Christian Endeavorer for bringing me face to face with the great to spend with such nonsense." scholars of Chicago to be interviewed about my Sabbath convictions, and to the men appointed by the great educational institutions of that city, who reviewed my theories -editor-in-chief of the new Jewish Encycloso thoroughly and so patiently, and who loaned their influence to bring my investigations before the public. I acknowledge among these men particularly the esteemed fact that it has been indorsed by certain Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch, of Chicago, for the encouragement received from him in his own home.'

> "Now, since he expresses his gratitude for their assistance to scholars in general, and to Dr. Hirsch, one of the foremost of Jewish rabbis in particular, the reader would naturally conclude that the Biblical scholars among the Jews were his warmest supporters.

"I therefore took the first opportunity to consult some of the most learned Jewish rabbis in New York and Boston, that I might learn their reasons for giving such support, if they did so, and if not, their opinion of Mr. Gamble's fixed-date Sabbath theory with its annual readjustment as to the days of the week.

"Spending some weeks in Boston, I left Mr. Gamble's book with the leading Jewish rabbis of that city for them to read, and called later by appointment for interviews concerning its contents.

"The first one I saw was Rabbi Hushburg, of 33 Coolidge Street, Brookline, Mass., who lectures to a large congregation of the Reformed Jewish Church at Park Place Synagogue in Boston. His first remark to me after reading Mr. Gamble's book was: 'I never waded through such rubbish before in my life.' He said further, 'Mr. Gamble's claim that the Sabbath date of reckoning was lost after the destruction of Jerusalem under Titus is absolutely false.'

"Rev. S. Shoher, of 1026 Tremont Street, rabbi of an Orthodox Jewish church, and a very scholarly man, with whom I had a number of interviews, said, after carefully reading Mr. Gamble's book, 'It is foolishness, and the author is an ignoramus, ignorant of the laws and customs of both ancient and modern Israelites."

"Dr. 'Charles Fleischer, of 189 Grampion Way, and rabbi of one of the largest Reformed Jewish churches of Boston, said: 'This man's theories strike men as absolutely ridiculous. My time is too valuable "In New York City I saw Professor Singer, an eminent Jewish scholar, educated in the University of Germany, and now pædia, which is being published by Funk & Wagnall. In an interview with him after Mr. Gamble's book had been left with him for a time, he said: 'This author's theories are pure bluff, invented to break down the versity of Pennsylvania, I wrote letters as Sabbath and set up Sunday in its place. follows: There is no truth in them.'

"Rev. Bernard Drachman, of 36 East Seventy-fifth Street, New York, a learned and influential rabbi of the Hebrew Church, also denounced the theory as utterly false. He was exceedingly busy when I called on him, but treated me kindly, and afterwards wrote me a letter, reviewing Mr. Gamble's theories, from which I will quote at length further on.

"Finding all the Jewish rabbis and your opinion as to the probable truth of scholars whom I had consulted unanimous such a theory. Thanking you in advance in their denunciation of Mr. Gamble's for your kindness, I am yours sincerely, claims regarding the ancient Jewish Sab-S. H. DAVIS. bath, I could not but wonder why so eminent an authority as Rabbi Hirsch, of Chi-"From each of these three men I received cago, should have given his aid and influa prompt response. President Harper is ence in bringing such a work before the one of the most eminent of Hebrew scholpublic. Following the suggestion of Rabbi ars. His letter reads as follows: Hushburg, therefore, I wrote directly to My DEAR SIR: I have not seen the book Dr. Hirsch, asking to what extent he had to which you refer. There may be eviindorsed Mr. Gamble's book, or in what dence which will lead me to accept the way he had given his influence and encourview which you say he advocates, but with agement to bring it before the public. the evidence before me at this time, I should "I received a very prompt response, in hardly be able to accept it. Yours very which Dr. Hirsch said: 'You are not the WILLIAM R. HARPER. truly, first, and I am afraid not the last, to be "Evidently President Harper was not one troubled about the book of the gentleman of the 'great scholars of Chicago' who 'inmentioned in your letter received by me five minutes ago. He and his publication terviewed' Mr. Gamble concerning his Sabbath theories. have been a source of trouble to me. He "Professor Sanders, who writes each used my name without right.' Dr. Hirsch week for the Sunday School Times, who for goes on to say, in a letter too long to quote years has been one of the most prominent entire, that when this author called on him a few years ago he did admit that the professors of Yale University in the de-Assyrian calendar indicated that originally partment of Biblical literature, and who is now Dean of Yale Divinity School, says the weeks were not fixed, but says that he was careful to add that, as far back as the in response to my letter: Jewish records go, there has been a fixed My DEAR MR. DAVIS: Yours of April 3 week.

"Having received this refusal of Dr. Hirsch to bear a part of the responsibility of bringing such a work before the public, I should have gladly written to the other scholars referred to in Mr. Gamble's Preface, had he been so kind as to have told us who they were. In the absence of this information, however, I turned to a number of the leading educators of our great universities, than whom there are no higher authorities in this country. "To President Harper, of the Universitv of Chicago, to Professor Sanders. of Yale, and Professor Jastrow, of the Uni-

DEAR SIR: A book lately published by Rev. S. W. Gamble, of Ottawa, Kan., undertakes to establish the theory that prior to the time of Christ, or from the exodus to the crucifixion, the Jewish weekly Sabbaths fell on fixed dates, and changed once every year to a different day of the week, and hence that Saturday was never a Jewish Sabbath for more than a year at a time until after the destruction of Jerusalem under Titus. Will you kindly give me is at hand. I have not seen Mr. Gamble's book on the subject of the Sabbath, so that I can not render any fair opinion concerning the thesis he tries to establish.

On general principles and on the basis of my own knowledge, I may say that I doubt very much whether his conclusion is a true one. Very truly yours,

FRANK K. SANDERS.

"Strange that such students and scholars as President Harper and Dean Sanders should have remained so long in the dark concerning so important a discovery as Mr. Gamble claims his to be, and that in all i the second second second lines of Jewish history, language and literature, they find no evidence to corroborate his theory.

"But there are other scholars to be heard from.

"Professor Morris Jastrow, of the University of Pennsylvania, who has made a thorough study of the early history of the Sabbath, and prepared and read a learned paper on that subject before the Society of the Biblical Archæology in Paris, writes in response to my inquiry as follows:

There is absolutely no foundation for this theory, which is purely fanciful and supremely ridiculous.

MORRIS JASTROW.

"The testimony of Professor Gottheill, of Columbia, and Professor Toy, of Harvard, is similar to that of Professor Jastrow.

"Professor Richard Gottheill is the son of a Jewish rabbi, trained from childhood in Jewish customs, history and law, and now holds a professorship in Columbia University. He said to me in an interview at his home on Fifth Avenue, that there was no ground for any such conclusions as Mr. Gamble reaches. And Professor Toy of the Semitic Department of Harvard Unisity, a scholar of world-wide reputation, said that the fixed-date Sabbath theory of Mr. Gamble was utterly without foundation, and that there were no historic facts to support it.

Thus out of five eminent educators consulted, representing five of our greatest universities, two know of no reason for accepting Mr. Gamble's theory of the Jewish Sabbath, and three denounce it as fanciful, groundless and ridiculous.

"With such an array of scholarship in evidence, it would seem unnecessary to consider the specific blunders that have led this discoverer of Sabbath-destroying theories to such enormous conclusions. Yet, if you will bear with me, I would like to mention a few of the errors upon which he has builded his argument.

"In the first place, Mr. Gamble has discovered what no other has ever seemed to discover, and what no authority, Jewish or Christian, so far as I can learn, will accept, that the year of the Hebrews in Bible times was a solar and not a lunar year; and that, in face of the fact that the year of the Hebrew calendar, which governs their fes- fall on a weekly Sabbath each year; when their wide research of a lifetime along the tivals, is still a lunar and not a solar year. And on this assumption Mr. Gamble's socalled 'True Bible Calendar' is built. Strange it would seem that the Jewish nation should have had a complete solar calendar, so like our present Gregorian calendar, as early as the time of Moses, and that it should have been preserved intact, as to the month, week and day till the time of Christ, and then have dropped so completely out of existence that scholars never heard of it for 1900 years, until a man in southern Kansas developed it out of a fruitful imagination.

> "Is it any wonder that learned men pronounce a theory based on such presumption fanciful and ridiculous? Yet, if you remove the support of Mr. Gamble's solar year from his calendar, his fixed-date Sabbath theory falls of its own weight.

"Professor Whitford, of Milton College, touches a vital point when he raises the question of the possibility of the Hebrew nation changing from the solar to the lunar calendar in historic times without any record being kept of such a change. According to Mr. Gamble, the change would have taken place later than the crucifixion of Christ; and that such a change, affecting social, business and religious life in every nation where the Jews had gone, could have taken place at so late a date without a line of history or a trace of tradition left concerning it, is incredible.

"One wonders, too, how it happens that the 'Day of Saturn' was recognized in Roman history and literature as the Jewish Sabbath before the time of Christ, if their Sabbath only fell on Saturday once in seven years till after the crucifixion and the fall of Jerusalem under Titus.

"Professor Whitford says that 'until Mr. Gamble can bring forward some proof from history that the Jewish calendar has been reformed, either in regard to the week or the months or the year, or in regard to all of them, as he claims, he will find his theory discredited by intelligent readers."

"Another claim which Mr. Gamble makes is that the flight of the children of Israel from Egypt occurred on the Sabbath; while Jewish tradition places the date on Friday. However, Mr. Gamble might be able to correct this error in his calendar by the use of his adjustable slide.

Again, Mr. Gamble makes the Passover

in both ancient and modern times it varied the work days with the weekly Sabbath, the as to the day of the week, and could come Ancient Rabbinical Tribunal had the on any days, except Mondays, Wednesdays power to add intercalary days to the end of and Fridays. His error here may be due any month. Mr. Gamble adds intercalary to the fact that in Leviticus 23: 11, the days arbitrarily to the sixth and twelfth second day of the Passover is called the month only, just where they will best ac-"morrow after the sabbath." But in that commodate his calendar to his theory. passage the term Sabbath simply has its "The ancient Rabbinical Tribunal added original and general sense of "rest-day," and intercalary days to whatever month it bethe reference is to the Passover rest, and came necessary in order to avoid conflict not to the specific seventh day of the week with God's immovable Sabbath, and to enjoined as a memorial of creation. bring the festivals that came on fixed dates

"The term Sabbath is used in this way of the month so they would fall on the day of the week desired under the Jewish law. And so, by their flexible calendar, the Passover never was allowed to come on Mon-'day, Wednesday nor Friday, which it must do about once in seven years under the "In modern Jewish parlance, a man is Gregorian calendar; and the Jewish New Year, the first day of the seventh month, never came on Sunday, Wednesday nor Friday, either by the ancient or modern Jewish calendar. And yet, in ignorance of these facts, or ignoring them, Mr. Gamble builds an arbitrary calendar, in which the very first, and each succeeding, Jewish New Year, the first day of the seventh month, comes on Sunday, a thing unheard of in "Another fatal blunder which Mr. Gam-Jewish history or tradition.

on other occasions also. Thus the day of Atonement is called the 'sabbath of sabbaths,' because of the strict cessation of work thereon, although it may occur on almost any day of the week. said to 'make Sabbath' when he has a joyous time, because of the happiness attached to the Sabbath. These are simply instances of the use of the term by analogy, and to attempt to draw therefrom the inference of the variability of the Sabbath is puerile, if not intentional deception, and shows the straits to which the enemies of the Sabbath are reduced.

"These are some of the errors on which ble uses as a chief corner-stone on which to build his calendar and his argument is Mr. Gamble constructs what he claims to the claim on pages 59 and 60 of his book, be his unanswerable argument. Remove that three days in the month Abib of the this erroneous foundation, and all that re-Jewish calendar, the 10th, 14th and 16th, mains of his impregnable fort is a mass of were work days in each year, and being confused theories and conflicting statements such, could never be Sabbath days, as they -a castle in hopeless ruin. And yet, this would be once in seven years under his conglomerate of preposterous assumption without proof, arbitrary assertions without calendar if the Sabbaths came in regular weekly succession. It was at the reading evidence to sustain them, misrepresentation of history, misinterpretation of Scripture, of this passage that Rabbi Shoher, of Bosignorance and egotism, is what a local auton, exclaimed concerning the author's thority at Westerly, R. I., has declared to ignorance. "Now, if these were truly work days, as be the clearest and ablest discussion of the Sabbath question he has ever seen! Surely, Mr. Gamble asserts—and I grant that at a drowning man will not stop at grasping a least one of them probably was, namely, the straw; he will grasp at the wind. 16th, the day in which the first ripe sheaf "I don't know as I could better conclude was to be gathered-then, according to our this part of my address than by quoting Gregorian calendar, the Sabbath would fall on each of them, once in every few years; some earnest words from the letter of Rabbi but, according to the flexible lunar calendar Drachman, previously referred to. From 36 East Seventy-fifth Street, New York, of the Jews, with its intercalary days, it he writes: was not necessary that the Sabbath should ever fall on them, and, according to Jewish 'The Sabbath is recognized in the Mosaic tradition, it never did fall on Abib 16. Law as an absolutely fixed and immovable

"There was one immovable thing in the day, over which no Rabbinical Tribunal had Jewish calendar, and that was the weekly any authority whatever. It lasts from sun-Sabbath. And, to prevent the conflict of set on Friday evening to sunset on Saturday evening, and that period of time can never be altered by any human authority. Its origin dates from creation, and it is therefore, called the 'Sabbath of the beginning'! Whoever desecrates the Sabbath shows thereby that he refuses to acknowledge God as the Creator of the world. Our modern calendar is absolutely the same as the ancient one, as in this we have undeviatingly maintained the traditions of our ancestors. Some difference exists in the method of fixing and determining the seasons and festivals, owing to the advance in astronomical science, but none in regard to the festivals themselves. The Sabbath has been absolutely untouched in any way.'

"Mr. Gamble's statement that Abib 1 and 15 always 'came on Saturday' is absolutely false and ridiculous. They came on any day of the week, except Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. His error is undoubtedly due to the fact that in Leviticus 23: 11 the second day of the Passover is called 'the morrow after the sabbath.' This reference is to the Passover rest.

"The Sadduces of old, it is true, took the term Sabbath in this verse literally, because they were a schismatic body, opposed to Tewish tradition and rabbinical authority: but the effect of their dispute was simply to affect the date of the Feast of Weeks, seven weeks later, which thus became a variable festival. It did not, however, touch in any way the question of the Sabbath. The idea of changeable Sabbaths altering from year to year did not occur to them, but was left for sorely tried Sunday advocates like Mr. Gamble and others of the same stamp.

"Mr. Gamble's claim that Saturday was not the Jewish Sabbath except for one year at a time is without a shadow of foundation. Throughout the Bible and the Talmud we always read of it as the same fixed day. No hint is anywhere given of its being observed on different days, and the whole idea is too ridiculous for serious consideration.

"Considering the enormity of the offense of Sabbath desecration, of which the penalty was death by stoning, it might well be expected that if it were a variable day, changing in each year, that the law would have given explicit instructions on the subject so as to make intelligent maintenance by the faithful possible.

"Mr. Gamble neglects to give Jewish tradition the weight to which it is entitled. If a nation, since time immemorial, has given a certain interpretation to one of the laws intrusted to its keeping by divine behest, and that law the most important of all; if, furthermore, it has always agreed in that interpretation in all times and places, it is the most convincing proof that that interpretation is correct. It is the height of presumption to say that the Jewish nation does not know the correct day of its own Sabbath, which it has so zealously safeguarded and preserved. It would be even more reasonable to say that Sunday Christians do not know what day of the week is designated by that name."

LONDON AIR RAIDS

[A personal letter just received from Doctor J. W. Thirtle, of London, contains some notes upon London air raids that may be of interest to readers of the SABBATH RECORDER.-CORLISS F. RANDOLPH].

What would you have thought of my experiences during one of the enemy air raids in June? A bomb was dropped just outside my city office, smashing the place in a frightful way-in fact, scattering destruction all around. If I had been in my usual chair, I must have been killed, but I took refuge (on hearing bombs) on the ground floor. Hence I escaped the full force of the concussion, which was upward and outward; but nevertheless I was violently thrown down, and sustained several wounds from flying glass. It was a weird experience. The bomb dropped five yards from where I was standing, and people nearby were killed, and badly wounded. I escaped with minor injuries. Need I say that, thereafter, my correspondence fell to pieces? I lost no sleep, I am thankful to say; but I became somewhat "nervy," as you may well suppose.

Now, again, the week before last, during another air raid, bombs were dropped in the immediate neighborhod of my home. One of these fell a stone's throw from here, the concussion breaking the fanlight of my house! This will assure you of the nearness of the explosion. When we heard on the presence of the raiders, we gathered together as a family in the safest quarter of the house, but nevertheless the experience was very distracting. I am still "listening out" for enemy bombs, and more "nervy" than before. Are you surprised? So you see we are in the war-zone!

MISSIONARY AND TRACT SOCIETY NOTES

The following paragraphs are taken from At the time of the General Conference a letter just received. The letter also conin August the Missionary Society had all tained a suggestion that by becoming a subbills paid and a few dollars in the treasury, scriber to a certain weekly magazine the and there was great rejoicing. Today there minister would be greatly helped along the are notes amounting to $2,000.00 in the lines mentioned. But that is neither here bank, made necessary to pay the September nor there; the paragraphs are in themselves and October bills. helpful and suggestive.

Last year when efforts were being made "Now when newspapers and magazines to pay the debts of the societies it was said are full of military events and the hearts by some people, "Let us pay up this debt, of the people are full of the thought of and then let the societies keep out of debt." sons and brothers and husbands going to But, as was said at Conference, the debt war, the minister finds increasing difficulty of these societies is not like a debt on a in holding the attention of his congregation piano or a farm, when it is paid that is the to his sermons and to the activities of the end of the matter. The debt of the sociechurch. He must make his sermons more ties is like the grocer's bill, it comes right vivid, with more direct relationship to the along, month after month, and is no sooner lives of his listeners. He must make his paid than another comes to take its place. church activities practical, so that they contribute to the welfare of his people and of Our contributions and our offerings for the community in which they live."

the work of our denomination are to support efforts that have become permanent and regular. Our help must also be permanent and regular. It is absolutely impossible for the societies to keep out of debt so long as the people wait and delay all through the autumn and winter about making their offerings to the work. The laborers on the field must be supported, they cannot wait, and the societies are forced to. borrowing means to pay the bills, because the people are not regular and systematic about making their contributions. The point and meaning of these words must be evident to those who read.

The November meeting of the Tract upon rendering community service. Wom-Board is to be made a special occasion for en's organizations, such as Home Mission the consideration of the matter of the prosocieties, want to know the latest aspects posed denominational building. It is priof human need and how to solve them, not marily a denominational question. The deonly in distant parts of the country, but nomination as a whole is urged to take an in the community about their front doors." active interest in this coming meeting. The churches are being asked to send special "Many of our accepted standards of inrepresentatives to attend the meeting. Industrial welfare, child welfare, education, dividuals are being invited to be present recreation, and even of morality, are likely to be modified by wartime conditions. The with counsel and suggestions. The prayers, united and fervent, of all the people are church must keep ever before its people the entreated, that at the meeting the spirit of wisdom which is from God may lead and guide; that visions made in heaven may direct all plans; that the far-look may come to every eye; and that the spirit of Christian courage and sacrificial service may dominate and inspire every heart.

THE SABBATH RECORDER

SECRETARY EDWIN SHAW

"While numbers of the people are thus war-distracted, many are coming into a deeper religious conviction than ever. The church must show them that religion does work out in their daily lives and can give them an outlet for their new desire for service. The minister who talks in terms of present-day problems and shows his people how they can be of service is taking the best means of meeting this opportunity."

"Sunday-school officers are finding that their more mature students want to learn the modern social implications of Christianity both by precept and by actual service. Men's classes and clubs are intent need for holding high these standards. Many social workers have been called into wartime service. The church must supply volunteers to take their places and inspire them with the ideals of consecrated service. Wartime social activities, such as Red Cross Home Service work, require large numbers of workers. The church must help supply them."

"All these wartime social demands require leadership. The minister must be so informed on modern social problems and methods that he may help to guide, not only his church, but his community, as well."

"The minister who is thus to satisfy the needs of his congregation and his community must be thoroughly up-to-date in his knowledge of social problems and solutions. He must know not only how churches are meeting their wartime problems, but also how all sorts of social organizations are getting at the needs of their communities. He must keep in touch with social legislation, with social methods, with social thought. Information a month old, a year old, or five years old, will not suffice. Social history is made daily. The minister must keep up with it."

The American Sabbath Tract Socie Treasurer's Report	ty
For the Quarter ending September 30,	1917
F. J. Hubbard, Treasurer, In account with The American Sabbath Tract		ets
Dr.		-
Fo balance on hand July 1, 1917$1 Fo funds received since as follows: Contribution General Fund:	,500	22
July      $ 417 10         August          September		×
Contributions on Debt: July$ 226 65	836	22
August         425         41           Septembér         9         00	0.01	•
Contributions for Italian Mission,	661
August Contributions for Marie Jansz, August Contributions for Life Membership,		68 00
Income from Invested Funds	20	00
July$1,390 33 September 174 00
Transferred from Sinking Dund A.	,564	33
w. D. Burdick, refund salary City National Bank, interest on bal-	500 43
	E
"Recorder"	Ð	65
"Visitor"
"Junior Quarterly" 10 27 "Pulpit" 3 05

. Francis

The ata	•		•
Tracts "Lorna Selover"		95 00
			840 $5,973	-
Cr.	5			1.0
By cash paid out as follows: Sabbath Reform Work:		-	•	•
Rev. G. Velthuysen$ Rev. S. W. Richardson Rev. George Seeley:		50 50			•
Salary			• .
Rev. T. L. M. Spencer Rev. T. L. M. Spencer,	105 30	00 00	· .	•
amount contributed Pacific Coast Ass'n. Rev.	10	00		. ,
Geo. W. Hills Rev. W. D. Burdick:	60	00	•
Salary$250 00 Expenses 25 00	275	00	111
E. S. Maxson, M. D., work among the Hebrews		00		•
Publishing House Expenses: "Sabbath Recorder"$	1 405		$ 674	00
"Sabbath Recorder "Sabbath Visitor" "Helping Hand" "Junior Quarterly"	1,465 220 251	13
	189 141	61			• •
Tract Society Statement to Conference	69
- Missionary Work: Rev. Jos. J. Kovats, Hun-			2,337	15
garian Mission$ Italian Mission, New Era,	60	00
N. J	87	50	147	50
Marie Jansz, am't contributed last quarter Rev. Edwin Shaw:		•	22	10
Salary			•
Howard W. Boise, filing cab-	242	61		•
Todd Protectograph Co., pro-	23	93	• •
tectograph for Trea- surer Publishing House paper for	22	50
Elizabeth Schroeder, type-	1	60		•	1.
writing Treasurer's re- port	5	00
Mildred Greene, typewriting Annual Statement Corliss Randolph, President's		50
expenses American Sabbath Tract So-	40	00	•
ciety, "Recorder" Index Calista A. Sears, balance in-	4	46
come from Est. Electra A. Potter to July 1	97	93	443	63
First National Bank, interest on loan, Permanent Fund Acct.			110
The Plainfield Trust Com-	30			·
pany, interest on loan The Plainfield Trust Com- pany, account loan 1	31
		· .	1,062	44
By balance on hand September 30	), 19 1	7:	54,686 1,287	82 05
		*	$5,973	87
E. & O. E. F. J.				÷.
Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 3, 1917.			surer.
Examined, compared with book and found correct.		•	•	rs
ASA. F. R THEO. G.	DAV	IS,	PH, litors.
Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 14, 1917.		au(	ALCOIS.	, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,
			•

Mrs. Diligent. Dear me! That's a beauti-A NEIGHBORLY CONVERSATION ful theory, but it certainly doesn't sound RUTH B. MAC CORKLE reasonable. Say what you please, children Persons Represented are a great responsibility. My husband says that I worry too much about them; Mrs. Cornelia Wise, a modern mother. but Mary is always outgrowing her dresses, Mrs. Martha B. Diligent, a careful houseand Tommy is either cutting his finger or keeper. stumping his toe. Why, one day last fall, Mrs. Phoebe Persevere, a church member he brought a toad—a toad—and put it on my dresser, right among my toilet articles, Time-The twentieth century. Place: and said, "Mother, look here at this beautiful toad"-(Ugh! imagine a toad being beautiful) ; "let me tell you what the teacher said about the habits of toads." "Well," I Mrs. Wise. I do hope it is Mrs. Diligent. said, "young man, you take that toad off my dresser immediately. Your teacher had better teach you how to spell!" He slammed Mrs. Diligent. Thank you, Mrs. Wise. the door and went down stairs muttering something about toads being useful animals, and that mother never lets a fellow Mrs. Wise. Oh, yes, but I am glad of it, do a simple thing. My dear, when I think of the responsibility I have in rearing that child to be a gentleman, I'm perfectly will-Mrs. Diligent. (laughing). You funny ing to let you and other people look after the other children in the world.

of experience. Mrs. Wise's parlor. Mrs. Wise is discovered sitting by a table, reading. A knock is heard. (Opens door.) Why, how do you do, Mrs. Diligent! Come right in. Have this chair. My, isn't this remarkable weather for this time of year? for it gives the children a better chance to play in the happy out-of-doors. woman, you! I believe your main thought in life is about children.

Mrs. Wise. That reminds me of what Mrs. Wise. You have guessed right. Judge Lindsey said at the Chautauqua. He Children do occupy the center of my heart; said that one day in Denver an evangelist not only my children, but all children, asked a little street Arab to show him the simply because they are children. (Emway to the post office. After the boy had phasize "my" and "all", but not "are".) escorted him there, the evangelist took this Mrs. Diligent. That sounds just like way to thank him. He said, "Son, I'm goyou, to say that. Why, by the time I have ing to preach on the way to heaven tofinished dressing my own children and hearnight, and I want you to come and hear ing their lessons, I'm a nervous wreck, not me." The boy looked at him a minute, to mention thinking about other people's and then he said, "Huh! You'd have a children. That's out of the question! peach of a time showing anybody the way Mrs. Wise. That's too bad, Mrs. Dilito heaven if you lose your own way to the gent, I thought you loved your children.

post office." (They both laugh.) Mrs. Diligent. You thought I loved my Mrs. Diligent. That's a fine joke. But children! I like that. Do you mean to what has that got to do with Tommy and imply that I don't love my children? That's his unspeakable toad? too much even from you, Cornelia Wise. Mrs. Wise. Only this, my dear Mrs.

Mrs. Wise. (Moving her chair a little Diligent: if you don't take an interest in closer.) Just listen, dear, and I'll explain your child's fancies now, when he is a man what I mean. he is not likely to come to you with his Mrs. Diligent. An explanation is certainproblems.

ly due. (Tosses her head.)

THE SABBATH RECORDER

Mrs. Wise. This is what I mean. No woman deeply and truly loves her own children who does not unselfishly love all children. If she has an insight into child nature and the great possibilities of that life, she will recognize the possibilities and charm in all children and love them, too. And if she loves them, she's going to find a way to help them.

Mrs. Diligent. Dear me, I hadn't thought of that; but you can talk. Does your Jimmy bring toads into your clean house?

I pride myself on being a careful housekeeper.

Mrs. Wise. Oh, yes; but please don't get on that sanitary expression. I know you see dirt under the piano stool. (Knock.) Excuse me a minute; there's Mrs. Phoebe Persevere. We'll get her opinion on child rearing. (Enter Mrs. Persevere.)

Mrs. Persevere. How do you do, Mrs. Wise! It does me good just to look at you. You seem so calm and contented.

Mrs. Wise. (Laughing.) Why shouldn't -I-be?

Mrs. Persevere. Well, if you had as much to do as I have, and if you belonged to the Ladies' Aid, and the Missionary Society, and the Hospital Society, and the D. A. R.'s, and the United Helpers, you'd be busy, too. I've all my sewing to do besides. And then the superintendent of the Sabbath school had the audacity to ask me to come to Sabbath school.

Mrs. Wise. Poor dear! Sit down and draw a free breath. I must say you certainly do seem to be an afflicted human being.

Mrs. Diligent. Yes, sit down, Mrs. Persere, and listen to Mrs. Wise. She will tell you how to rear your children.

Mrs. Wise. (Deprecatingly.) Why, Mrs. Diligent, I wouldn't think of telling you how to rear your children. I'm so interested in child psychology that my enthusi- I tell you right now, I won't be convinced. asm sometimes carries me away.

Mrs. Diligent. My dear, I only meant that you know more about rearing children than anybody else.

Mrs. Persevere. Yes, indeed, she does. I know that the educators always insist that parents should make a study of each child's disposition. But, dear me, as I have said, if anybody belongs to all the societies that I belong to, where does the study of the individual child come in? Why, our Ladies' Aid Society is going to have a lawn party on the fifteenth, and I have charge of the cake table, of course; and that means that I shall have to make most of the cake.

Mrs. Wise. When will the day come when church societies will cease donating eatables and then buying them back? Why not give the money at first?

Mrs. Persevere. That's all right, my dear; but human nature is frail at the best, and as long as conditions are as they are, we poor women will have to bake cakes and then buy them back.

Mrs. Wise. Well, conditions are all wrong then; they should be changed. A church has no more right to be satisfied with old-fashioned methods than a business house has.

Mrs. Persevere. My dear, my dear, aren't you going a little too far? I don't think you are quite orthodox.

Mrs. Diligent. Now we are off the subject. I want to hear Mrs. Wise on the proper way to rear children. Why, just before you came in she actually told me that I should allow my incorrigible Tommy to put toads on my dressing table; and she pictured a tragic future for my boy because I made him take the horrid thing away. After that, I believe she can make me believe the moon is made of green cheese. She is such a logical person.

Mrs. Persevere. Well, I'll admit that Mrs. Wise is a wonderful person; but there is one thing she can't do. She can't convince me that it is my duty to go to Sabbath school. The superintendent seems to think that after I have gotten three children ready for Sabbath school, I should follow them. If he only knew what I had to do!

Mrs. Diligent. I tell you what let's do, Mrs. Persevere. Let's give Mrs. Wise the floor and see if she can convince us that it is our duty to go to Sabbath school.

Mrs. Persevere. Well, she can try; but

Mrs. Diligent. Well, that's like a woman, to jump at conclusions before the evidence is all in. Go on, Mrs. Wise. You have the floor. Convince us if you can.

Mrs. Wise. All right. If I only had the eloquence of your friend, the superintendent, or of our pastor, maybe I could. But I'll do my best. First and foremost, ladies, you are cultured Christian women; and as such you can not afford to be ignorant of the great work the modern Bible school is doing.

Mrs. Persevere. Well, I for one don't approve of all the frills they have in Sabbath school today.

Mrs. Wise. Dear, have you been to Sabbath school lately to see whether you approve or not?

Mrs. Persevere. No; you know I haven't time to go to Sabbath school. I haven't been to Sabbath school for twenty years.

Mrs. Wise. Then, if you are ignorant of modern Sabbath-school methods, have you a right to judge them?

Mrs. Persevere.

Mrs. Diligent. Well, I'm convinced. Mrs. Wise. Well, in the second place, the ideal Sabbath school is the whole church Mrs. Persevere, I'll go if you will. studying the Bible at the same time. Mrs. Persevere. It will rush me, but

Mrs. Persevere. Why, Sabbath school is a place for children to go to and learn their catechism, and for the teacher to question them on the lesson.

Mrs. Wise. My dear, you are fifty years behind the times. Grown people need to study the Bible systematically even more than the children do. Mrs. Persevere. Oh, I know it's a good thing; but it's so hard to get ready. Mrs. Wise. My dear woman, anything worth while in life takes a certain amount of effort, and I'm a firm believer that if we want to do a thing firmly enough, we will find a way to do it.

Mrs. Diligent. You haven't given our superintendent's favorite reason-that our children will take more interest if their parents go.

Mrs. Wise. Oh, I was coming to that, my dear. There is no doubt about it. Parents can't assist their children properly in Sabbath-school lesson work because they are not familiar with the modern methods the Sabbath school uses.

Mrs. Persevere. That's all very well; but I haven't been for so many years that I shouldn't know what to do or how to act or what to say. Dear me, I should be lost.

Mrs. Wise. If that's so, I would go next Sabbath. You aren't helping your ignorance any by staying at home.

Mrs. Diligent. I declare, I'm like Mrs. Persevere. I'd hate to show my ignorance of the Bible. Why, my Johnny, in the primary room, knows more Bible stories than I do.

Mrs. Wise. Well, the only way to cure ignorance is by knowledge, as our pastor said the other day. So go to Sabbath school, you'll never regret it.

Mrs. Persevere. Sabbath morning is the only time I get to sleep late. Mrs. Wise. Well, I'm ashamed of you.

Sleep in the afternoon, if sleep you must. Go to bed on time the night before. You prepare beforehand for all the important social events in your life.

dinner on Sabbath Day.

Mrs. Diligent. She's got us both there,

Mrs. Diligent. But John likes a good

Mrs. Wise. John would rather have you get help and inspiration from Sabbath school than prepare an elaborate dinner.

I'm willing to try it. (Rises.)

Mrs. Wise. (Rising.) Good! At last you have the spirit of modern motherhood. My dear woman, societies are all right in their place, but the foremost place in every woman's heart should be her desire to rear her children properly; and one of her greatest helps is the Sabbath school.

Mrs. Diligent. We are convinced. Well, I must run over and ask Tommy to bring me another toad to examine. Ugh! Come on, Mrs. Persevere.

Mrs. Persevere. We intend to follow in your footsteps, O noble Cornelia, greatest of Roman mothers! (They leave together.)

Mrs. Wise. (Advances.)

Cornelia's children were her jewels. My children are the joy of my life. Whoso loves a child, loves not himself but God. Whoso delights a child, labors with God in his workshop of the world of hearts. Curtain.

-Adapted from the Sunday School Journal.

Woman's Board-Treasurer's Report For three months ending September 30, 1917

Mrs. A. E. Whitford, Treasurer,

In account with The Woman's Executive	Boa	rđ
Dr.
To cash on hand June 30, 1917$ Aibion, Wis., Missionary and Benevolent Society:	592	37
Fouke School Alfred, N. Y., Union Industrial Union: Tract Society	5	00
	24	26
Berlin, Wis., Mrs. Elma A. Cockerill: Conference expenses$ 1 00 Board expenses
Brookfield, N. Y., Woman's Missionary Aid Society: Miss Burdick's salary$20 00 Board expenses	.	00
	25
Collection, Conference at Plainfield Collection, Battle Creek, N. W. Asso-	73	00
ciation	7
Collection, S. E. Association Friendship, N. Y., Church, Mrs. S. T. Burdick:	10
Ministerial Relief Fund Guilford, N. Y., Mrs. Maryett Benjamin and daughter:	100	00
Unappropriated Jackson Center, Ohio, Ladies' Benevolent Society:	27	00
Unappropriated Long Beach, Cal., Mrs. Lucy E. Sweet:	30
Tent work Milton, Wis., Circle No. 2:	2	00
Fouke School	10	00
Milton, Wis., Young People's Board: Bed, Lieu-oo Hospital	42	^
Beu, Lieu-oo Hospital	15	vv

Milton, Wis., Woman's Benevolent Sc	)-
ciety: Tract Society$15 0 Missionary Society 15 0 Board expenses 3 0	0
	- 38	00
Milton Junction Church: Unappropriated New Auburn, Wis., Woman's Missionar	10	00
Society:
Tract Society debt$ 5 0 Missionary Society debt5 0	0	•
Unappropriated 10 0	- 20	00
New Market, N. J., Ladies' Aid Societ 20th Century Endowment Fund.$ 3 0 Debt, Missionary Society 10 0	у: 10	•••
· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	- 13	00
Nile, N. Y., Ladies' Aid Society: Miss Burdick's salary$10 0
Marie Jansz 3 0	0
Board expenses	0
Fouke School 5 0		00
Nortonville, Kan., Woman's Missionar Society:	у _
Unappropriated's Society:		00
Unappropriated Shiloh, N. J., Ladies' Benevolent Society	. 21	25
Shiloh N J Female Mite Society	. 97	55 45
Stonefort, Ill., women of Church:
Unappropriated Wausaw, Wis., in memory of Emma Witter:	. 15 a	00
S SVIIIAT'
Unappropriated		00
Unappropriated	. 10
Unappropriated
Unappropriated Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary	. 10 $1,232 .$ 132	64
Unappropriated Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society	. 10 $1,232 .$ 132 0 0 3 0	64 13
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 0 Miss West's salary	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \end{array} $	64 13
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 0 Miss West's salary	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \end{array} $	64 13
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 0 Miss West's salary$150 0 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     6 \\     - 198 \\   \end{array} $	64 13 13
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary\$150 0 Miss West's salary\$150 0 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     \hline     1,232 \\     \hline     1,232 \\     \hline     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0   \end{array} $	64 13 13 76
Unappropriated Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary\$150 00 Miss West's salary\$150 00 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 17 \\     9   \end{array} $	64 13 13 76 50
Unappropriated Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 00 Miss West's salary$150 00 Debt	$\begin{array}{c} & 10 \\ \hline $1,232 \\ \hline \\ 1,232 \\ \hline \\ 0 \\ 0 \\ 0 \\ - \\ 132 \\ \hline \\ 0 \\ - \\ 132 \\ 0 \\ - \\ 198 \\ 0 \\ 0 \\ - \\ 17 \\ 2 \\ f \\ 4 \end{array}$	64 13 13 76 50
Unappropriated Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 00 Miss West's salary$150 00 Debt	$\begin{array}{c} & 10 \\ \hline $1,232 \\ \hline \\ 1,232 \\ \hline \\ 0 \\ 0 \\ 0 \\ - \\ 132 \\ \hline \\ 0 \\ - \\ 132 \\ 0 \\ - \\ 198 \\ 0 \\ 0 \\ - \\ 17 \\ 2 \\ f \\ 4 \end{array}$	64 13 13 76 50 00 40
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 0 Miss West's salary$150 0 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 17 \\     2 \\     f \\     40 \\     - 40 \\   \end{array} $	64 13 13 76 50 00 40
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary\$150 00 Miss West's salary\$150 00 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     \hline     1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 17 \\     2 \\     f \\     4 \\     - 40 \\     f \\   \end{array} $	64 13 13 76 50 00 40 00
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary\$150 0 Miss West's salary\$150 0 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     \hline     1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 17 \\     2 \\     f \\     4 \\     - 40 \\     f \\   \end{array} $	64 13 13 76 50 00 40 00
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary\$150 00 Miss West's salary\$150 00 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 128 \\     8 \\     864 \\     - 8 \\     $	64         13         13         76         50         00         00         00         00         00         92
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary\$150 00 Miss West's salary\$150 00 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     - 128 \\     8 \\     864 \\     - 8 \\     $	64         13         13         76         50         00         00         00         00         92         72
Cr. F. J. Hubbard, Treas. Tract Society S. H. Davis, Treas. Missionary Society Miss Burdick's salary$150 00 Miss West's salary$150 00 Debt	$ \begin{array}{c}     10 \\     $1,232 \\     \hline     132 \\     0 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 442 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 198 \\     0 \\     0 \\     - 17 \\     2 \\     f \\     40 \\     f \\     28 \\     $ 864 \\     367 \\   \end{array} $	64         13         13         76         50         00         00         00         00         92         72

REPORT OF SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST LADIES' AID SOCIETY, NEW MARKET, N. J.

In the past year our society has held twelve regular and four special business meetings and three and one-half days' meetings for work, at which time we made thirty-seven aprons and ten oaps, nearly all of which have been sold.

We have been using mite boxes this year; these were opened at our November meeting and $4.00 of the amount taken from them was used to pay SABBATH RECORDER subscriptions for two of our church members.

We have given to the following objects: Children's Home in North Plainfield, $5.00; Miss Susie Burdick, $10.00; Miss Marie Jansz, $5.00; Woman's Board expenses, $3.00; Fouke School, $5.00; Lieu-oo Hospital, $5.00; Tract Society, $5.00; and the Twentieth Century Endowment Fund, $3.00; besides sending flowers to the sick, giving Christmas gifts to members, papering and repairing parsonage, purchasing sewing machine, and paying for RECORDER subscriptions. We now have $67.75 on hand, $50.00 of this amount being left from the Kitchen Fund to be used for church improvement. Last year we purchased a vacuum cleaner for the church, since which time we have nearly paid for it by renting it out to individuals. In behalf of the New Market Seventh Day Baptist Ladies' Aid Society a farewell reception was tendered to Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Polan on Wednesday evening, September 26, at the Seventh Day Baptist church, New Market. The evening passed very pleasantly with singing by both the male and ladies' quartet of the church, recitation by Mrs. Frank Kellogg, and an original poem, appropriate to the occasion, by Miss Ethel Rogers. Rev. Mr. Skaggs, formerly of the church to which Mr. Polan is going, gave a few remarks, also Rev. T. E. Vassar, Ir., of the First Baptist church of New Market, ? and Rev. D. W. C. Ramsey, of the Dunellen M. E. church. Ice cream and wafers were served.

The poem by Miss Rogers follows:

Once on a time-as stories go-

We held Association.

- To that event there was one sent To speak on Education.
- He was a man both staunch and true, And worthy of his station;
- And when a pastor we did need He had our acclamation.

With him there came a helpmate true, With energy untiring.

Whose skill in doing countless tasks We couldn't help admiring.

Soon four short years had come and gone. Few clouds, much sunny weather

Had marked the time that we had spent In laboring together.

Then rose a difficulty great, That threatened us disaster;

Invaders came from western lands To carry off our pastor.

And though we selfishly rebelled At Nortonville's strong notion, We would-had we been in that place-Have seconded the motion.

'Twould pleasant be to finger o'er The leaves of memory's book; The best of life, howe'er, we feel Is in the forward look.

So we-the old New Market Church-Aloft will hold our colors. And strive to carry on the work, Not leave it all for others.

We'll give our pastor and his wife, And baby Muriel, too, Our high esteem, our fervent prayers, And wishes kind and true.

May faith and love their ways 'attend, And hope be with them ever; And may we all united be In the life that endeth never.

COLLEGE OPENING ADDRESS, ALFRED, N. Y.

September 26, 1917

We have entered upon the eighty-second year of Alfred's educational history, and upon the sixty-first year since the university charter was granted. Five years after the chartering of the college came the Civil War of '61.

The records are very meager in the information preserved of the struggles of the college through that dark period. It is evident, however, that for four years from 1861, the number of students was greatly reduced, particularly of the men, and it is said that of the men, the entire senior class volunteered for the service of their country. At least one of that class is still living, Col. William Wallace Brown, of Bradford, Pa., now the senior member of the board of trustees.

Another characteristic of German thought in education and in government. The traditions of patriotism which called has been its Imperialistic philosophy. This out that class, and many others of Alfred's philosophy has begun; first, with the arbiyounger students, as well as many of the trary and arrogant assumption that German alumni, are among the proudest traditions efficiency and culture are superior to all of the college. other forms of efficiency and culture. This Fifty-six years have passed since the bebelief has been taught and instilled into the minds of the people from superior authority until it is doubtless a sincere belief on the part of many of the people.

ginning of that struggle. Our country has vastly increased in numbers, in wealth, and in organized efficiency. But 1917 finds the country engaged in another gigantic military struggle. This time happily not

THE SABBATH RECORDER

MRS. HERBERT L. DUNHAM, Committee.

PRESIDENT BOOTHE C. DAVIS

divided, but solidly united against an external foe.

This struggle has many elements of difference from that of the early days of our college's life. Our patriotism is having to be expressed in a somewhat different way, but I am confident that it is just as genuine, sincere and lofty as any which has preceded it.

Our attendance this autumn shows the effects of the country's call in our depleted numbers, particularly among the men.

So far as I am able to learn, something over ninety Alfred men have offered themselves or been drafted into the service. Some of them have been rejected or exempted for various reasons. Seventy or more are now already accepted for service. This number of course represents some younger alumni as well as students.

But it shows a fine patriotic service which this college is already beginning to render in this war, and which it will continue to render until the war is over.

I wish to take this occasion, however, to point out some very important principles which are involved in this international conflict, and which are closely related to educational theory and practice.

Germany has for many years enjoyed the reputation of being one of the most highly educated nations of the world; particularly in science and technology. The common people have had exceptional vocational and industrial training. She has prided herself in having superimposed upon her people an economic efficiency not equaled anywhere else in the world. This efficiency has been directed, like her military efficiency, by Paternalism and external authority. It has not been left to grow spontaneously through natural stimuli, but has been manufactured to order, according to rules and specifications. It has been standardized.

Second, Germany believes that autocratic Paternalism is better for the people than democracy, because it produces a culture and an efficiency that is superior, and therefore it should become universal and dominate the whole of mankind.

Third, Germany believes that to do this political dominance is necessary, and that therefore Germany must dominate the world, politically and economically; and do it by military prowess if necessary; but it must dominate.

Fourth, Germany believes, and has taught its people as a part of its policy and educational system, that any method that will accomplish its desired end is justifiable ethically. Germany holds to the unethical and destructive theory that "the end justifies the means."

This whole philosophy of education, of society and of government is false, ruinous and destructive of character, honesty, integrity and virtue. That philosophy explains the interpretation which calls a solemn and sacred treaty a "scrap of paper." It explains the policy that if Belgium is in the way of the capture of Paris-crush and destroy Belgium! It explains the German war methods of bombing schoolhouses filled with little children and defenseless teachers; and hospitals filled with wounded and suffering soldiers and with nurses and doctors.

It explains the sinking of Red Cross ships, and of the Lusitania. It explains the outraging of women and children and the multilation of their bodies. Germany has demonstrated once and for all that an education, organized and conducted on such a philosophy, no matter how technically or scientifically efficient, is destructive of ethics, of humanitarian sympathy, of honor, of decency. Germany is the highest type to be found in the world of an autocratic educational theory, and in this contest it has sunk to the lowest type of bestiality. The pity is, that, blinded by a false philosophy of education, and of social and civil progress, Germany does not seem to know to what depth it has sunk.

For a long time education has been defined as the acquisition of knowledge. I think that is the sole principle upon which German education is based, aside from the philosophy that it is to be used as a tool for dominance.

The great English scholar, Matthew Arnold, defined education as "knowing the best things." That has an ethical note in

President Butler, one of our foremost American educators, has defined education to be; "The adjustment of the individual to the possessions of the race, these posessions being ;--material, social, ethical, æsthetic and religious."

Dr. Mickeljohn in his inaugural address as president of Amherst College a short time ago said: "Education is the process of acquiring an intellectual grasp on human experience.<sup>2</sup>

These definitions of American educators represent the democratic view of education. It takes into account the rights, the experiences and the achievements of others; and seeks to give the rising generation a rational, ethical and religious adjustment to all these factors of life, rather than merely to make conquest of them.

Alfred has long sought by encouraging democracy in its student life, the honor system, student government, and individual initiative, to stimulate these higher and more spiritual values of education; and to prepare young men and women, while in college, for the greatest human service in the world, rather than for mere dominance.

This year while we study and participate in college activities, we shall do it, I am sure, with a greater reverence for the democratic rights of each other, and the moral and spiritual values which college life can inculcate, because so many of our boys are in training camps and upon foreign shores upholding the sacred institutions of democracy which we love and cherish.

We will extend to them our love and sympathy and our prayers. We will help them, through the Red Cross, the Christian Associations; and in every other possible way.

We will uphold the government of the United States. and lend our sympathy to oppressed peoples everywhere.

Above all, we will strive to be and to do this year in college just that which will contribute most to our fullest preparation for the great tasks in human betterment to which we shall soon be called; to make ourselves more fit to live the ideals of democracy in a war-torn world, because we have lived them truly, kindly, affectionately and faithfully in this happy little college world.

With such high resolves this college year, though solemn and sad because of the war and the absence in service of so many whom we love, may yet be a richer and better experience to us than any that could otherwise possibly come to us.

The trustees are striving to add to your comfort by the erection of the new central heating plant, and to the comfort of the faculty by adding to the endowments in order to increase compensations.

And so each one will try to do his bit, not only for worthier and better college life; but for a more humane, a more Christian, a more godly world.

REV. GEORGE W. HILLS

But the jitney was out of time, the train One of the greatest pleasures experiwas impossible, when our necessities were enced in making "the trip up the Coast" considered. "A friend in need is a friend has always been that of finding so many indeed," we are told; and I am sure that "children of the King," whom we have old saying is still true. In our need our personally known in earlier days, a large "friend indeed" was Starr Williams, who percentage of whom have been of my own took us in his new Buick and dashed us congregations, somewhere, at some time. over through the miles of peach, pear, and Call it "sentiment," if you will; but that fig groves, and raisin-grape vinevards, into the alfalfa-dairy section, to Caruthers, where we found two sisters, whose faces were seen in our congregation at Milton Junction back in the nineties.

thrill of joy that flashes through the whole being, that is produced by the handclasp, the electric flash of the eye, and the rush of memory back to former pleasant days, that come when kindred spirits meet after These were Mrs. George Maxson and a lapse of long busy years and that arouse her daughter, Nellie, now Mrs. Simmons. the deepest and best emotions of the soul, Their faith in Jesus is apparently as firm is of untold value. It reminds us, not only and fixed as in the days of yore. Mr. Simof the past, but also of the divine Word mons has charge of a large cheese factory, in which are many finger-boards pointing ono ef several owned and operated by a us to a more glorious reunion, away beyond business corporation. the charms of the Pacific Coast, "on the A call in the evening at Mr. William Le better shore," that is awaiting all whose Rue's home in the city completed our task names are "written in the Lamb's book of for this trip. Mr. Le Rue is a highly eslife." I am personally thankful for such a teemed friend that I have found since comsentiment. ing to the West Coast.

There is a serious liability of allowing A night run brought us home early next the hard work, busy years, swift flying day. Here we found "Billy Sunday" "holddays, loads of care and responsibility, to ing the fort." In this early stage of his camcover up and smother out the tenderest and paign, the saloon men are almost ready for best within us, to our irreparable loss, and a stampede, and hundreds are finding their, the loss of the cause we hold so dear. When Savior as a special need in life. this is done, our work in the King's service becomes cold and mechanical, and is no longer a work of life and love. How Who makes a good and rightful use of thankful we should be that our Creator money may be called its lord and ownerplanted an element of sentiment with the who watches jealously over it, its keeperhuman soul! It enriches life and lightens who takes delight in it, its lover-who looks its burdens. upon it with fear, its slave-and who worships it, an idolater.—Petrarch.

That appeal of sentiment prompted some of us out on the West Coast to most earnestly pray for the Conference during its recent session, for our many friends who were present at that meeting, who are so dear to us, and for the little denomination of which it was the expression, that seems to us so much like a precious jewel held in the divine Father-hand. For any of his blessings and joys that were there bestowed, we are truly glad. That is as near Conference as we could get this year.

ON THE TRAIL No. 4

ON RETURNING TO FRESNO

from the delights of the few days spent with some of our choice people up in the Sierra Nevada Mountains on the Kings River, after much inquiry we located some of our people who were living at the southwest of the city.

REV. ROYAL R. THORNGATE, HOMER, N. Y. Contributing Editor

PERSEVERANCE

PAUL S. BURDICK

Christian Endeavor Topic for November 3, 1917

DAILY READINGS

Sunday—Persevere in abiding (John 15: 1-11) Monday—Climbing into life (Rom 2: 1-11) Tuesday—Persevering in prayer (Luke 11: 1-10) Wednesday—Watchful faith (Rev. 3: 1-6) Thursday-Pressing onward (Phil. 3: 7-16) Friday-Clinging to God (Heb. 10: 32-39) Sabbath Day—Topic, Perseverance (Eph. 6: 10-20). (Consecration meeting.)

By struggle and by labor

You shall gain what you have prayed for. -Song of Hiawatha.

This might well be the motto of every one of us. The praying comes first, and is followed up by hard work. Neither is sufficient in itself, but when added together they bring about the result sought for. And it is the glue of perseverance that binds them both together.

The Bible is full of passages admonishing us to persevere. There will often be a passage extolling some virtue or virtues; and then toward the end will come the admonition to be faithful,---to persevere,--for, unless we persevere in them, these good attempts will produce small results.

Notice that great passage in the sixth chapter of Ephesians. How many ever noticed that exhortation to persevere, tucked away at the end of that list of great Christian virtues? See the Christian soldier sallying forth. His girdle is truth; his breastplate, righteousness; he has the preparation of the gospel of peace for winged shoes; faith is his shield and salvation his helmet against the shrapnel of the enemy; and the weapon in his hand is the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. Yet, when he meets the enemy, will he strike a blow and then turn and run? Not if he obeys the further injunction of the epistle writer, to "watch thereunto in all perseverance," and keep praying. A good armor and good weapons are fine things, but besides possessing them, we must pray hard and keep fighting.

You remember the story of King Joash coming to the bedside of the dying prophet, Elisha. The prophet said unto him, "Smite upon the ground with your arrows." The king smote thrice and then "got tired." He was like too many of us. He thought he would stop and see if the prophet would like to have him continue, instead of keeping it up till the prophet said "stop." Such a weakness of purpose could not possibly beat the armies of the Syrians more than thrice.

On the other hand, let us see what rewards are promised to those who do persevere. Take the lesson in John 15, for example. Jesus asks us to abide in him as the branch abides in the vine. Perhaps he pointed, as he spoke, to a grapevine, most of whose branches were united with the parent stalk, receiving nourishment from it, and bearing fruit. But one branch has become broken off by the wind, and lies withering on the ground. What a forceful lesson it is on the necessity of abiding in him. And the reward of abiding is fruitbearing. Remember that, you who are beginning to wonder what all this diligent striving is going to bring at last. Just abide in Christ. This is only the time of leaves and buds, but the flowers and fruit will appear in time. Only abide.

Luke 11 teaches us what it means to be persevering in prayer. The story of the persistent and troublesome borrower, and the reluctant householder is delightful and so true to life. Were you ever rudely wakened from a nice afternoon siesta by a neighbor who wanted to borrow a cup of sugar? You thought only of the trouble it caused you. But Jesus bids you look at the other side of the story. Put yourself in the other man's shoes. He has "company" come at a late hour of the night, but nothing in the house to feed them. Shall he send them to bed hungry, after their long, hard journey? No, he must have bread, and so he goes after it till he gets it. Now this is the side of the story that is like our praying to God. He is not the reluctant householder, nor are our prayers troublesome to him. But Jesus wants us to learn that we can not receive that for which we ask unless we go after it with determination.

THOUGHTS FROM THE "ENDEAVORER'S DAILY COMPANION"

There is no armor for the back. The moment a Christian turns his back, or, as Jesus says, looks back, he is in danger. Christian had his fight with Apollyon just after he had passed Forgetful Green. And he tells us that this is a very dangerous place.

The thought, "I can't," is responsible for (3) We can perhaps assist in the choir, many failures. We begin well, weaken, and be ushers, work on committees, or take give up. Remember that if we can't, God part in social activities. can. Our weakness should but drive us (4) We can help the pastor in many litto his strength.

On Scott's South Polar expedition, Captain Oates, whose feet were frostbitten, spoke of giving up. Dr. Watson urged, "Slog on, slog on." It was an old Greek fisherman who prayed in a storm, "Whether I live or die, help me to keep my rudder true." Steadfastness in the good is beautiful.

Little Genesee, N. Y.

WHAT SORT OF YOUNG PEOPLE OUGHT WE TO BE IN THE CHURCH?

Read at Young People's Hour, Northwestern Association, Battle Creek, Mich.

As I am a member of a Christian Endeavor society and interested in Christian to co-operate with them. Endeavor work, I am going to deal with (5) The last and greatest reason is, our love for our Master should prompt us to this topic from the standpoint of a Christian Endeavorer. serve him in every way we can.

The Christian Endeavor society has been called the training school of the church. SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING A training school is where one learns how The semi-annual meeting of the Minto do a certain thing. A training school nesota and northern Wisconsin Seventh for teachers is a place in which the meth-Day Baptist churches will convene with the ods of teaching are applied. Nurses' train-Grand Marsh (Wis.) Seventh Day Baptist ing schools are the places where the nurse Church, November 9-11. learns how to do the things required in MRS. WALTER BOND, that profession. The same term applied Corresponding Secretary. to religious work might mean that in the Christian Endeavor society young people learn how to become efficient church mem-SPECIAL NOTICE bers. It is a place to "practice up" doing The Sabbath Recorder has made special Christian work. Not all ardent Christian arrangements with the publishers of McCall's Magazine, the standard fashion magazine, Endeavorers are seen working in the whereby it is able to give its readers a special church. They think it not necessary to be inducement if it is ordered with the Recorder. active in both lines of work. "Christian Special combination-Sabbath Recorder and Endeavor is a fellowship of toil for Christ McCall's Magazine one year for $2.45. Adand the Church." Is not our motto, "For dress Sabbath Recorder, Plainfield, N. J.-Adv. Christ and the Church"?

What can we as young people do in the church? There are many things a young You and I must not complain when our person can do that an older person can not. plans break down-if we have done our part. That probably means that the plans I will mention four things that every young person can and ought to do. of One who knows more than we do have (1) Attend all meetings of the church succeeded.—Edward Everett Hale.

THE SABBATH RECORDER

MISS CORINNE CRANDALL

as far as possible. This is no more than is expected of us as church members. Our church covenant tells us this.

(2) Help the church financially. This is also our agreement with the church.

tle ways. For instance, we can take charge of services in his absence and do other things which each one can find in his own particular church.

These are some of the things we can do. The next question is, "Why should we do them?"

(1) If for no other reason, we should do them because we are members of a Christian Endeavor society whose motto is "For Christ and the Church."

(2) We are church members and our covenant definitely states that these things are required of us.

(3) If we love our pastor as we should we will want to help him.

(4) If we love our fellow church and Christian Endeavor members we will want

FOOD CONSERVATION AND THE CHURCHES

By request of President Wilson, who fears that it would be disastrous to the Liberty Bond campaign, to have the Food Conservation campaign come in conjuction with it, thus distracting public attention by having two great matters pressed upon it at the same time, the date of the Food Conservation pledge has been postponed one week, or from October 28 to November 4. The Weekly Report Card campaign is, therefore, changed to begin November 4, continuing until December 30.

The responses which the Food Administrator has thus far received from the American people have been most encouraging. The secular press, the trade press and the religious press, have all been enlisted in the spread of information. The nation-wide campaign for signers to the Pledge Card has been planned on a broad scale, and under the direction of the state food administrators the householders will be thoroughly canvassed during the week October 28 to November 4. Store windows have appealing Conservation cards. All sorts of local organizations are helping to press home upon the people the truth that food conservation is not a fitful fad but a fateful fact, with vital issues dependent upon its practice.

But the one thing now to be emphasized is the program that the Food Administration has asked the churches to carry out. This begins when the Pledge Card campaign leaves off on Sunday, November 4. It is the follow-up that will make the pledge-signing mean something definite and practical. What is this program? The placing of a sample Weekly Report Card in every family in church and congregation; securing the filling out and return of such a card to the local committee or pastor of the church on each Sunday or by Monday afternoon; the summarizing of the family cards on a return card to be mailed to U.S. Food Administration at Washington Tuesday, the continuance of this work for eight weeks, or up to December 30.

This is simple and practical, and can easily be done if all our pastors and people realize that it is essential, a plain patriotic duty. It entails some work but no sacrifice. If not done, it will leave the Christian churches almost alone among the organizations of the country as unwilling to respond to a call to service of great importance to the country in a day of crisis. The church has been chosen for this service by the Food Administration as the one permanent and far-reaching organization that can put such a home program through. We surely will not fail to meet the trust imposed upon us.

How to work out the simple details each church will decide. The Weekly Report Card only asks for three answers: How many wheatless meals, how many meatless, how many wasteless? That is all. The standard suggested in seven wheatless, fourteen meatless, twenty-one wasteless. A very little work for each household, but a total that will tell the Food Administrator what the people are actually doing, and guide him in plans for the future.

We commend this matter to all our readers. It is not a movement dissociated from religion. It effects our life as a people. It has in it the improvement of moral and social conditions. It looks forward to reconstruction days after the war when grave economic problems will force themselves upon us. There is every reason why as Christian citizens we should take food conservation to heart and do our part in making it a national reality. Let the pulpit speak to the people on October 28, telling of the plans; then on November 4, let all our families begin to report for themselves. As Mr. Hoover says, "This is one thing in which all the people can enlist." This is truly a test of democracy to prove whether it can defend itself by voluntary and sacrificial service. And this is a fair challenge to the Christian Church to aid in a great. cause which involves the welfare of our country, our Allies and the world.

Please note the change in date to October 28-November 4, instead of October 21-28 as previously announced. This was made necessary by the President's direct request to Mr. Hoover.

> HOWARD B. GROSE, Religious Press Representative.

Every sublime life, deep in its experiences of joy and of sorrow, of struggle and of triumph, symbolizes the joys and sorrows, the struggles and the triumphs, of our common humanity. The best have been cast down as we are cast down; we may be lifted up as the best are lifted up.-Frederick A. Hinckley.

THE CASE AGAINST DAVID

"Father!" cried Edward, "I know who did it!

"I shall be very glad to find out," his David hesitated a moment. "Do youfather answered. "I shall give him a sedo you believe me?" he faltered. vere talking to, for whoever opened the Mr. Cobb laid his hand on the boy's bars and let the cattle out did a lot of shoulder. "Yes, David, I believe you," he damage. Who was it?" answered. "It was David," Edward answered.

on the ranch. "Yes. David."

"Are you sure?" Edward's father in-"Edward," his father replied, ignoring sisted. "Why David is perfectly trusthis anger, "how would you and Alfred like worthy. You surely must be mistaken. to take a long ride with me in the machine Whoever opened the gate must have done so this afternoon?" out of meanness, and that isn't like David." Instantly Edward forgot his indignation "Oh, but I know he did!" Edward anand resentment, and Alfred clapped his swered, eagerly. "You know, you wouldn't hands in delight. let him go home yesterday when he wanted

"I am going about fifty miles across the to."

"I know, but I couldn't spare him, and he didn't seem resentful about it. Anyway, that is not evidence enought to convict him."

"But that isn't all, father," Edward continued. "Last night when Alfred and I were coming up from the pasture, we saw him crouched down near the gate as if he were hidding. We wondered what he was doing there, but we didn't know about the gate being opened until this morning." Mr. Cobb looked worried. "You are sure it was he?" he asked. "Yes, father, sure. Ask Alfred."

But although the big machine leaped Alfred was called, and he also declared ahead, they did not seem to get much nearer that David had been crouching by the gate through which the cows had gone into a the lake. Finally, Edward turned disappointedly to his father. "It's a mirage," neighboring field and destroyed many dolhe said. "I've heard about them, but I lars worth of produce. never saw one before."

"I will call David and ask him about it," said Mr. Cobb. "Perhaps you boys were mistaken."

"No. father. we couldn't have been," insisted Edward. "Why, we saw him with our own eves."

"Well, I'll call him, anyway." David listened to the accusation silently. "The boys are mistaken," he said, finally. "I wasn't near the gate at any time yesterdav."

THE SABBATH RECORDER

"David!" David was the boy who worked

"You are sure, David, very sure?" Mr. Cobb asked gently.

David's clear blue eyes looked fearlessly into his. "Quite sure," he said. "I wouldn't lie about it!"

"Well, you are lying!" cried Edward, angrily, "for we both saw you."

"That will do, Edward," his father said, quietly. "You may go now, David."

A red spot appeared in each of Edward's cheeks. "Then you call me a liar," he said, bluntly, looking at his father with angry eyes.

sand. It will be hot, but the roads are good, and we will get a little breeze as the auto goes along. Run and get ready."

The boys enjoyed the ride in spite of the heat. "Look!" said their father presently. Edward looked around. "O father," he cried, "what a beautiful lake! Now, we can soon have a cool drink."

"And look at the trees!" added Alfred, "we can eat our luncheon there, can't we father?"

"Yes," Mr. Cobb answered, "when we reach the lake we can eat our lunch."

"Speed her up, father," urged Edward, "and let's get there in a hurry!"

"Are vou sure, son?" asked his father. "Why, see how plainly you can see the water and the trees! Are you sure there is nothing there?"

"Of course, there isn't. Haven't you ever seen a mirage before, father?"

Mr. Cobb looked again. "Seeing is believing," he said, "I know I see a lake and trees, and they can't be very far off, either. We will soon be there."

As they advanced, however, the lake seemed to retreat, and suddenly it vanished completely. Then Mr. Cobb turned the car, and they started homeward.

"I saw a lake and trees, and yet there were none there," was all he said.

Edward flushed. "I know what you mean," he said. "But, father, we saw David; indeed, we did!"

When they at length reached the ranch again, Mr. Cobb drove the machine up the hill instead of down toward the house.

"We'll take a look at the damage done," he said as they approached the gate that had been left open. Suddenly, Edward clutched his arm and pointed

"There!" he cried, excitedly, "there he is now, father!"

Sure enough, there were David's coat and hat at one side of the gate.

Mr. Cobb got out of the automobile and went toward the spot.

"David!" he said, reproachfully, and touched the coat with his hand. It fell to the ground and the hat rolled away into the grass.

Edward stared at his father a moment. "They-they were hung on this post," he stammered. "I remember now the day we left them here. David said it was toc warm to wear his old felt hat any longer, and left both his coat and hat here. They were too ragged to wear another season, anyway, he said. We were going to make a scarcrow out of them. But it did look like him crouching there, didn't it, father?"

His father nodded. "The mirage looked like the real thing, too."

Edward stood thoughtfully regarding the old coat for a moment. Then, "I'm going to find David," he said. "And after this I'm going to be sure of things before I say anything."

"It's the wisest way-and the kindest," was all Mr. Cobb answered.-Faye N. Merriman. From the Continent, by permission.

IN MEMORY OF OUR PRESIDENT, MISS AGNES BABCUCK

"We are quite sure that He will give them back We know He will but keep

Our own and His until we fall asleep. We know He does not mean

To break the strands reaching between

The Here and There.—When we shall awake, I am quite sure, we will be very glad That for a little while, we were so sad."

"Death is the most certain, and yet the most uncertain of events. In youth we behold it afar off. The aged still regard it in the distance." Always the unexpected.

So it came to us, the Woman's Benevolent Society of Leonardsville, in the passing away of our president, Miss Agnes Babcock. As we are convened today in the capacity of our monthly meeting, we would enrich our records with the united, hearty appreciation of her faithful, untiring efforts for the uplift of our society and the cause of Christ.

She possessed fine executive ability, a "tact" to get us interested not only in work at home, but in the denomination.

We were just laying out the groundwork for the coming year of 1917-18. We had held but one meeting; ere the time rolled around for the second she was smitten with fever. After two weeks of intense suffering her strong constitution yielded. On the eve of August 19, as it was announced that "Agnes is gone," it seemed a solemn awe pervaded the atmosphere. Could it be so? Still it seems after some days, she will return to us, as in the past. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon of August 21, the mortal was laid away in the dust beneath a lovely floral blanket, as only loved ones can procure, artistically arranged. The immortal was gone to God who gave it. We can not question his dealings. "His ways are not as our ways, his thoughts are not as our thoughts." Help us, O God our Father, to bow in humble submission to thee and from our hearts to say, "Thy will be done." Therefore

Resolved, That we will emulate her virtues, taking up the work as she would have us do this coming year, remembering her last appeal, "Whatsoever I ask you to do you will do unhesitatingly."

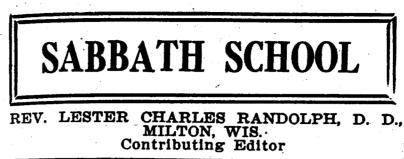

Resolved, That by His help we will stay up the hands of her successor, our president, without excuse, nothing fearing, nothing doubting, though the workers fall by the way. God liveth; the work must go on.

Resolved, That our sympathy and our prayers be with her bereaved ones, that they may feel the presence of Him who has said, "I will not leave thee nor forsake thee."

In behalf of the Woman's Benevolent Society. Leonardsville, N. Y.

Oct. 3, 1917.

"There is something decidedly wrong with those who forget their joys and only bring their sorrows to testimony meeting."

A SABBATH LESSON IMPRESSIVELY PRESENTED

We are adjured to give our flowers while the recipients are alive. Well, that Jackson Center Sabbath School is very much alive. Posies are in order. In the first place, my respects to a Sabbath school that does not run down at the heel when the church is without a pastor, but keeps going strong, because everybody works-including father.

Yes, the fathers were there, as they ought to be. Nearly all the men who were at the church service came an hour earlier to attend the Bible school. Why, the Men's Glee Club was one of the features of the morning program. The men ranged from grandfathers (lively ones they were) down to lads of fifteen. It was good to hear those masculine voices ring out.

It was Sabbath-lesson day. The superare about thirty of them when they are intendent followed an interesting plan. Inall there-stood up, several of them, one stead of having the lesson taught by after another, and repeated short verses classes, he called on each class in turn to about the Sabbath. take a part in the general exercises. Each It was an unique and an impressive hour. ing evidence that they had been preparing for the occasion beforehand. Preparation. Lesson V.-November 3, 1917 That is the keynote of success in the Sab-DEFEAT THROUGH DRUNKENNESS.--- I Kings 20: I-2I you feel that these folks regarded the Sab-Golden Text.-Let not him that girdeth on his bath school as a very important matter in armor boast himself as he that putteth it off. 1 Kings 20: 11. I took no notes. I am just writing down DAILY READINGS the things that cling to my memory while Oct. 28-1 Kings 20: 1-10. An Arrogant King Oct. 29-1 Kings 20: 11-21. Defeat Through Drunkenness the Erie depot at Lima. Train four hours Oct. 30-Isa. 2: 5-17. Helpless Through Wronglate, but I am having a good time. (An doing Erie conductor once asked me if I knew Oct. 31-Luke 15: 11-16, Curse of Dissipation Nov. I-Luke 15: 17-32. Joy of Restoration Nov. 2—Isa. 5: 11-17, 22-24. Woes upon Exquoted me that passage about the Lord cesses Nov. 3-Ps. 1. The Righteous and the Wicked have to chaff our friends a little once in a (For Lesson Notes, see Helping Hand) Home is the woman's workshop, the and courteous, and you don't read about passengers getting killed. Let us count our man's resting-place, the children's school and the nation's hope.-The Christian Herald.

class responded heartily and promptly, givbath school as well as elsewhere. It made their lives. It made you glad to be there. I do a one-finger stunt on the Corona in the Erie was mentioned in the Bible. He making all manner of creeping things. We while. and the Erie is a friend of the Seventh Day Baptists. Good old road. Kind blessings, and be thankful that many of us live along the Erie line.)

THE SABBATH RECORDER

(I have been thinking lately that it would be a good plan to boost more and knock less. Say a good word for the other fellow. He is probably doing the best he can, and a bit of appreciation will help him to do better. It works that way with you, doesn't it? Same here.)

One teacher gave a very good statement of the reason for the Sabbath. God created man. He knew what was best for him. The Sabbath was adapted to man's needs. Another said that he always felt especially drawn toward those who had formerly been Sunday-keepers and who had embraced the Sabbath from conviction. Another showed up the fallacy of the prevalent idea that it doesn't make any difference. Keep Saturday or Sunday or Wednesday. "Keep the Seventh Day if it is convenient. If not, it will be all right. God is an easy mark." There were many short talks that would do credit to any school.

The scholars participated too. Some of them expressed original sentiments. More of them read verses of Scripture bearing on the topic. One of the most touching features of the hour came when the infant class, ranging in age from two to fiveit seems to me that Aunt Phoebe said there

WHAT'S A COLLEGE FOR?

Did your plumber ever botch his job? Did you ever want a man who would go ahead with work and finish it even better than you imagined it could be done? Did you ever know of an inefficient public official? Do you think hordes of cantankerous busybodies or mountains of munitions will save Russia? Do you opine that "anything in trousers" will lead Americans to victory in France?

Everywhere hangs out the flaming sign: "Men Wanted." In a pinch-in war, in peace-nations need men more than speed or power or gold. It is men-and womendeft of finger, nimble of brain, big of heart, disciplined in spirit, that count.

The college is a factory that produces men. It takes good men and makes them better, sleepy men and wakes them up, shiftless men and makes them careful, narrow men and makes them broad, stony men and makes them mellow. The qualities that you admire in your wife, your husband, your neighbor, your pastor, your bosom friend, your hero, it is the business of the college to develop. What think you? Has such an institution no place in a world-atwar that is bestializing men?

Not only is the college a humanizing force; it makes for business and professional efficiency. Listen! Only one out of every 9,000 men with a common school education ever attains distinguished success, and only one out of every 410 with a high school training, while one out of every forty with a college education arrives at a triumphant goal. Again, sixty-six names out of every hundred published in "Who's Who in America" are college-trained men. This is the more noteworthy when you recall that only one out of every hundred goes to college. Or again, it has been estimated that the graduate of a college earns on an average $35,000 more in his life than his non-college fellow.

But the college advantages more than the man or woman who has attended. Through them it reaches every member of the community. "Practically every time you call a doctor, listen to a preacher, hire a lawyer, read a book or editorial, see a play, you are debtor to some college for the efficiency of the service you receive."

Alfred University has been serving its corner of the universe for more than eighty years. It has trained 12,000 men and women. You can scarcely go into a community hereabouts without finding an Alfred man or woman who is doing invaluable community service either as teacher. preacher, merchant, club worker or farmer Alfred's record of service is open to inspection. Get acquainted with it. Alfred is the mother of men.

Alfred's campaign for the $100,000 improvement fund is not a move to increase a capital that puts fat dividends into the pockets of a favored few. The only dividends Alfred declares are the graduates who leave its halls on commencement day. $100,000 put with Alfred's present endowment means a half million dollars in endowment at work producing human dividends. Alfred takes dollars and turns them into men.

Stop a moment and think soberly! Has such a man-factory no meaning for you and your part of the world? Is it not producing just the goods that make your life worth living? Does it not deserve your substantial assistance?

A STRIKING CONTRAST

Expended for running ex- penses$ 16,000	$110,000
Value of land, buildings and equipment$100,000	$420,000
Amount of endowment$200,000	$425,000
Number of buildings 5	15
Number of students 145	440
Number of books in library. 10,000	30,000
Number of members of faculty 17	42
Number of graduates 5	78
-Alfred College B	ulletin.

If people have a mind to work, there is no limit to what may be accomplished, no matter how small or unpromising the field. -Clara A. Gebhardt.

MARY T. GREENE

447 West Fifth Street Plainfield, N. J.

Agent for Good Housekeeping, Harper's Bazaar, Cosmopolitan, Motor Magazines, Woman's Home Companion, American Magazine, Every Week, Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, Country Gentleman, Farm and Fireside.

Renewals or new subscriptions. Club rates on other magazines.

OUR WEEKLY

REDEEMING THE TIME***

REV. O. U. WHITFORD Text: Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time. Colossians 4:5.

Paul was imprisoned in Rome, and under Time is wasted in foolish and injurious the shadow of eternity he writes this epistle pleasures and amusements which are found to the Colossians as one to whom but little in every place. The dance, the card table, time remains. In other epistles he calmly the billiard room, the opera, the theatre, and logically unfolds the wonderful docthe fashionable watering place, the club trines of the gospel; but in this and that room, the race course and other resorts of to the Ephesians, exhortation swiftly fola lower order reeking with immorality and lows exhortation, as with one whose work vice entice and entrap men and women. is near its end. Redeem, redeem the time! Who can estimate the amount of valuable In view of the rapid flight of time and time that is worse than thrown away in the ever nearer approach of eternity, it is the places of revelry and dissipation well to consider how we may redeem our How much time and energy are wasted time. To redeem time is to recover our in pursuit of the glittering bauble of ambitime from waste, to make up lost time, tion, a prize which but few gain, and to improve our time for great and important which when gained is all a bauble, not purposes. Time means more than the tickworth the time and effort. ing of a watch, or the moving of the hands Again, how many throw away precious of a dial. It means aims to pursue, opportime and even themselves in wild and visionary plans, ever pursuing the phantom perform. It means a character to make for of the probable, never grasping the possible eternity, a lifetime of thoughts, motives, and the real; living on the froth of the deeds to account for at the judgment bar fancy and losing the milk of the tangible of God. . . . He that has a soul to save and substantial things of life. . . . Indeed and fit for the skies need not have an idle time is under bondage to various sinful moment to waste. He that has a heaven habits and inclinations and to natural into win, has enough to do to occupy all his dolence. Not only the opium eater, the time. Man has enough time given him to wine bibber, the beer drinker prove this, accomplish the purposes which God debut the tobacco user must come under the signs, and God has not given him more ban of squandering time and wasting his than enough. Let us note, first, health and physical energies. Not only the HOW TIME IS WASTED card player, the gambler, the theatre goer The times in which we live are full of prove this, but the devotee of fashion, of evil. There are many allurements and pleasure, of society, and even so-called art. temptations to lead one away from the There is a fearful and, I believe, sinful proper improvement of time and draw one waste of time and human life in luxurious into sinful indulgences and vain pleasures indulgence,—in dressing, and eating, and where time is worse than wasted. Men do drinking; in show vanity, keeping up apnot value time as they should. It is money, it means success or failure, bad or good pearance; in pride, in self-gratification. It is not the sluggard who allows himself a character, heaven or hell. Men must renneedless amount of sleep who proves man's der an account for the waste of time. A natural indolence, but the pleasure-seeker woman in the agonies of despair cried out and sight-seer who under the plea of recreato those who sought to comfort her, "Call tion spend so many weeks, or months, by *This sermon was found among the papers of the late Rev. O. U. Whitford. the lake side, the sea, or in Europe, or make tunities to improve, duties to do, good to

INTRODUCTION

back time again! If you can call back time again; then there may be hope for me; but time is gone." O the many ways in which men squander and abuse time! He who lounges and loafs away his time in store and grocery, saloons and other places of public resort is wasting his time and life in a most foolish and reprehensible way and sets a miserable example for the young. It is said the mind of man will think, will work. The idle mind is the devil's workshop in which mischief and crime are planned and put into execution.

annual if not more frequent pilgrimages to noted fashionable resorts. Rest is needed, recreation is good, for the tired brain, the wasted nerves and muscles; but the danger is that we must spend so much time that way, until it becomes the gratification of either indolence or indulgence.

Even in so good a practice as reading there is much waste of time; much in how we read, but vastly more in what we read. The novel-reader who revels in unreal excitement, in sickly sentiments, in unbridled passion, and often in vicious and criminal conduct and suffers the book to suck up his time like a sponge without imparting a single quickening thought, or giving any valuable knowledge does worse than throw away his time. There is many a young man and young lady who is wasting valuable time in this way who will wake to the fact, when too late, that they have empty heads, sickly, sentimental hearts, and false notions of life.

Aside from all these ways of squandering time and others similar which we have not time to mention, let me direct your attention to some of a different character. Time is given us here to save our souls from eternal death and culture them for heaven. We are probationers,—the days, the weeks, the months and years we have are probationary time. If we do not use our time, then, for the object for which it is given us we are wasting it.

The sinner who lives on unrepentant, unsaved, is squandering his time. Time is given him, life prolonged, that he may seek salvation, work it out with fear and trembling, and insure the great reward. Again, every Christian is called to be a co-worker with Christ in the great work of salvation. But how fearfully many waste their time in excuses, in pleading inability, in indifference, in culpable inactivity, who might be joyous and efficient workers in the vineyard of the Lord. How many Christians plead lack of time, too busy to use the means of spiritual growth and the extension of Christ's kingdom, when it is a waste of are wasting it. If in indolence, by going time not to use these means of grace. No time for the prayer meeting! too busy to go to the Conference meeting, the covenant meeting! too tired to go to meeting on the Sabbath—must rest so as not to lose any time during the six days of work! It is a waste of time not to attend to these things, it is a squandering of the most precious time we have on earth! It is worse than the throwing away of precious time, it is loss of spiritual growth, loss of enjoyment of religion, loss of sanctification; and this neglect of attending to religious duties and church obligations may cause the eternal loss of our children or our neighbors' children.

O that sinners and saints, the unsaved and the saved, might have right conceptions of the object and use of time! Time is made important, momentous and inexpressibly valuable in its relations to eternity. The swiftly flying years or three score years and ten mean nothing only as they are swallowed up in eternity, only as they bring eternity down to us. In time we are to save our souls. In time we are to gain heaven. In time we are to fit ourselves for heaven. God help us, then, not to so waste it that we shall take up the sad lament, The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and my soul is not saved. "Millions of money for an inch of time!" cried Elizabeth, Queen of England, upon her dying bed. Reclining upon a royal couch, with ten thousand dresses in her wardrobe and a kingdom on which the sun never set, at her feet, she, who had wasted more than half a century, would now barter millions for an inch of time that she might redeem it. May none of us take up such a sad lament because of remorse or a precious life wasted.

REDEEMING THE TIME

What is it to redeem the time and how can we do it? To redeem is to purchase back, to set free, as the buying of a captive and setting him free. To redeem time is, as we have before stated, to rescue it from waste; as we recover marshes and fens, restore worn lands, and make them rich meadows and fertile fields. It is to make up lost time by increased diligence. It is to improve our time in noble activities and for great and glorious purposes. How can we redeem the time? We can redeem our time by a square turning about wherein we to work, being industrious. If in ignorance and mental inactivity, by studying, diligently reading valuable books, gaining useful knowledge and power. If in bad and vicious habits by immediately abandoning them, and pursuing habits of purity, health, and virtue. If in vain, foolish, destructive pleasures and amusements, by forsaking varied employments and enjoyments, but them and living a life of soberness and industry. If in a life of fashionable folly by bringing the whole life under the law of consecration, by systematizing its acand vain show, by changing to a life of simplicity and true endeavor. If we have tivities as related to our immortal life. Only been squandering time in visionary schemes, by concentration of purpose shall we gain the much desired object. Our memory at chimerical plans, in dreaming, we can redeem it by being practical, earnest and the end will recall as our best hours those using common sense. They indeed redeem in which we have come nearest to Christ in their time who employ it in an honest livelitemper and spirit and have been most filled hood, in prosecuting legitimate enterprise, with his power. . . . A life permeated with the idea of usein producing something needful and good, in striving to be useful, upright and refulness to others, with the love of doing spected citizens, in striving to make the good, will give vigor to thought, buoyancy world better and happier by their living to effort, persistency of purpose, a helping in it.

hand, an elastic step and a ready speech; But there is a redeeming of time higher and time will be filled with noble endeavors than all this. Are you without hope in and holy deeds. A life thus devoted to a Christ? Are you still in your sins, unhigh aim and effort has a new flavor to its pardoned and unreconciled with God? Let possessor, and time will not hang heavy me beseech you to begin now to redeem and pass unimproved. A life thus conseyour time by seeking Jesus who only can crated will redeem the time from the waste of fear, of anxiety, of those fretful and save you and who is anxious to save you. moaning repinings which drain life of joy Waste no more time in sin and disobedience, hardening your heart, benumbing your conand fruitfulness. Begin then now to do science, wandering farther and farther from the work of redeeming time, day by day God and heaven. By believing in Jesus, in persistently, as men build out the pier and fill the sea inch by inch, or change the loving Jesus, in faithfully following Jesus swamps and fens to solid earth. This work you will make the years a success, life a of redemption will grow easier and easier, glorious triumph, and the future all radiant with realized hopes. more enjoyable and fruitful, until this pur-How can Christians redeem their time? poseful and resolute life is greatly pre-By being more prayerful, more watchful, ferred to the old life of inaction or wasted more active, more useful. By reading the energies. Then the spirit and life-purpose Word of God more; by more frequent comof Christ will have become our own; our munion with Jesus; by a more loving, kind hours linked in a service of love. and charitable spirit toward all; by being What shall we say to you who are just filled with the quickening and sanctifying starting in life with the freshness and enthusiasm of youth? It is a timely word and power of the Holy Spirit. By a deeper sense of personal responsibility and a more exhortation of the apostle to you to heed faithful discharge of every Christian duty. the message, redeem, redeem the time! Turn Our text says, "Walk in wisdom toward about from all wrong paths, enter right them that are without." We should ever ones; forsake all bad habits, abandon all so conduct ourselves before those who are doubtful principles; give up all luxurious indulgences, flee from evil companions; cease not Christians as to give no occasion for them to reproach the religion we profess. from all waste of time either in indolence Men of the world judge of religion not or misuse, and begin now to improve it in from the profession, but from the life of view of eternity to which the flying years its friends; not from the Bible, not from are bearing you. Give your heart to Jesus. preaching, but from what they see in the Let him be the life, light, inspiration, and daily walk and conversation of the mempattern of your life; then your years bers of the church. Hence exemplary whether few or many will never be wasted. life will be a glorious victory, and the crown Christian living is a most important and successful way to redeem any lost time we of eternal life shall be your reward when time shall be no more, when the swift movhave made in religion. We are not to redeem the time by picking ing years are swallowed up in eternity. Amen.

up a few minutes here and there out of our

MARRIAGES

- CLARKE-CLARKE.—At the Seventh Day Baptist parsonage, Alfred Station, N. Y., September 22, 1917, by Rev. I. S. Goff, Alua H. Clarke and Eleanore P. Clarke, both of Alfred Station, N. Y.
- VARS-BROWN.—At the home of the bride, in Alfred Station, September 28, 1917, by Rev. I. S. Goff, Charles Wellington Vars, of Alfred, N. Y., and Dora May Brown.
- BURDICK-COON.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Coon. Milton Junction, Wis., October 2, 1917, by the Rev. L. C. Randolph, D. D., of Milton, Wis., Mr. Fred C. Burdick, of Chicago, Ill., and Miss Nina M. Coon, of Milton Junction, Wis.

DEATHS

GRIDLEY .- Melvin J. Gridley, son of Giles and Sylvena Lanphere Gridley, was born in the town of Andover, September 27, 1865, and died at his home in Alfred Station in the early morning of September 26, aged 52 vears. -

He was the second of a family of two children. On September 5, 1885, he was united in marriage to Anna H. Peters, of Candor, N. Y., and to this union two children were born,-Charles L. Gridley, who lives at the old home, and Mrs. Rex Lewis, of Albany, N. Y.

Mr. Gridley's death was easy and peaceful, a quiet passing away. He was a man of cheerful and pleasant disposition, always looking on the bright side of life. He was in poor health for a number of years, and for the past two years had been totally blind. He bore his afflictions with great fortitude, never murmuring nor complaining. He was tenderly cared for during his illness by his wife and children. He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, two children, three grandchildren, one brother, Loren L. Gridlev, of Knoxville, Tenn., with many other friends and relatives

Funeral was conducted from his home in Alfred Station at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Sundav. September 30. Burial was made in the Burdick Cemeterv. I. S. G.

SPALL-Laura Learned Spall was born in Malone, Franklin County, N. Y., August 10, 1843, and passed away at Berlin. Wis., Seotember 29, 1917, having passed her seventyfourth birthday.

Sister Spall was married to Charles Spall in the year 1886. She was a member of the Berlin Seventh Day Baptist Church, and is very highly spoken of by the people of that place. "They shall walk with him in white; for they are worthy."

THE SABBATH RECORDER

Theodore L. Gardiner, D. D., Editor Lucius P. Burch, Business Manager

Entered as second-elass matter at Plainfield. N. J.

Terms of Subscription

Papers to foreign countries, including Canada, will be charged 50 cents additional, on account of postage.

All subscriptions will be discontinued one year after date to which payment is made unless expressly renewed.

Subscriptions will be discontinued at date of expiration when so requested.

All communications, whether on business or for publication, should be addressed to the Sabbath Recorder, Plainfield, N. J.

Advertising rates furnished on request.

SMITH.—Emily Burdick Smith was born at Cuyler, N. Y., October 30, 1841, and passed from this life at her home in DeRuyter, N. Y., October 5, 1917.

In early life she gave her heart to Christ and united with the church. On January 21, 1860, she was united in marriage to Willis Smith. To them one son was born, Ray B. Smith, of Syracuse.

Sister Smith lived a quiet, unselfish life. It is said, "She never turned any one from her door unhelped." She was true and faithful as a wife, kind and loving as a mother. She was faithful to the church and faithful as a friend and neighbor.

Brief services were held at the home in De-Ruyter on Sunday afternoon, October 7, conducted by Pastor Hurley.

J. H. H.

GARRIGUS.-Kenneth LeRoy Garrigus, infant son of Joseph and Moleta McWilliam Garrigus, was born in Milton, Wis., July 9, 1916, and died at Stoughton, Wis., October 11, 1917.

Funeral services were conducted by Pastor L. C. Randolph, Sabbath afternoon, October 13, at the home of the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. McWilliam, Milton. "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him" (Ps. 103: 13).

L. C. R.

TWO BEAUTIFULLY LOCATED FLORIDA HOMES

One cottage furnished, ready for housekeeping, with 33/4 acres of land.

The second cottage, unfurnished, has three lots, 50x150 feet.

Both facing the beautiful St. Andrews Bay and only two miles from Panama City.

These two adjoining places are ideal winter homes. The owner, Rev. C. W. Threlkeld, will sell at a sacrifice on account of loss of wife. Address

M. B. Kelly, 198 Washington Avenue, N. Battle Creek, Mich.

DEVENTH DAY BAPTIST EDUCATION SOCIETY. President-Rev. W. C. Whitford, Alfred, N. Y. J Corresponding Secretary-Rev. Arthur E. Main, Alfred, N. Y. Recording Secretary-Prof. Frank L. Greene, Alfred, N. Y.

Treasurer-Prof. Paul E. Titsworth, Alfred, N. Y. The regular meetings of the Board are held in February, May, August and November, at the call of the President.

DEVENTH DAY BAPTIST

J President—Corliss F. Randolph, Newark, N. J. Recording Secretary—Asa F. Randolph, Plainfield,

N. J. Treasurer-Frank J. Hubbard, Plainfield, N. J. Advisory Committee-William L. Burdick, Chairman; Arthur E. Main, William C. Whitford, Alfred, N. Y.; Willard D. Burdick, Milton, Wis.; George W. Post, Chicago, Ill.; Walton H. Ingham, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Samuel B. Bond, Salem, W. Va.; Theodore L. Gardiner, Plainfield. N. J.; George Benjamin Utter, Westerly, R. I.; Corliss F. Randolph, ex-officio, Newark, N. J.

DOARD OF FINANCE. President-Grant W. Davis, Milton, Wis. D Secretary-Allen B. West, Milton Junction, Wis. Custodian-Dr. Albert S. Maxson, Milton Junction, Wis. Directors-Frank Hill, Ashaway, R. I.: Dr. H. L. Hulett, Bolivar, N. Y.; Allen B. West, Milton Junction, Wis; Orra S. Rogers, Plainfield, N. J.; F. C. Dunn, Milton, Wis; Wm. M. Davis, Chicago, Ill.; Grant W. Davis, Milton, Wis.; Winfield S. Bonham, Shiloh. N. J.; Walton H. Ingham. Fort Wayne, Ind.; A. S. Maxson, Milton Junction, Wis.; A. B. Kenyon, Alfred. N. Y.; George W. Post, Chicago, Ill.; Dr. George E. Coon, Milton Junction, Wis; J. H. Coon, Milton, Wis.

ABBATH SCHOOL BOARD. President-Prof. Alfred E. Whitford, Milton, Wis. J Recording Secretary-Dr. A. Lovelle Burdick, Janesville, Wis.

Janesville, W15. Treasurer-W. H. Greenman, Milton Junction, Wis. Vice-Presidents-Rev. George B. Shaw, Ashaway, R. I.; Rev. W. D. Burdick, Milton, Wis.; Roy F. Ran-dolph, New Milton, W. Va.; Rev. Walter L. Greene, Andover, N. Y.; Rev. R. J. Severance, Riverside, Cal.; Bon T. J. Van Hann, Control Andre Particle, Cal.; Rev. T. J. Van Horn, Gentry, Ark.; Rev. A. L. Davis, North Loup, Neb.; Rev. A. Clyde Ehret, Adams Center, N. Y.

N. Y. Trustees—Prof. A. E. Whitford, Milton, Wis.; Dr. A. L. Burdick, Janesville, Wis.; W. H. Greenman, Milton Junction, Wis.; Grant W. Davis, Milton, Wis.; Mrs. Mabel C. Sayre, Albion, Wis.; Rev. L. C. Randolph, Milton, Wis.; E. M. Holston, Milton Junction, Wis.; Dr. G. E. Crosley, Milton, Wis.; Prof. D. N. Inglis, Milton, Wis.; Mrs. J H. Babcock, Milton, Wis.; Dr. Lester M. Babcock, Milton, Wis.; Mrs. George M. Ellis, Milton, Wis.; Prof. Allen B. West, Milton Junction, Wis.: Rev. William C. Whitford, Alfred, N. Y.; Rev. Edgar D. Van Horn, Milton Junction, Wis. Stated meetings are held on the third First Day of Stated meetings are held on the third First Day of the week in the months of September, December and March, and on the first First Day of the week in the month of June in the Whitford Memorial Hall, of Mil-ton College, Milton, Wis.

GENERAL CONFERENCE President-Mrs. A. B. West, Milton Junction, Wis. Corresponding Secretary-Mrs. J. H. Babcock, Milton, Eastern Association—Mrs. Edwin Shaw Secretary, Southwestern Association-Mrs. R. J. Mills, Secretary, Pacific Coast Association-Mrs. N. O.

W<sup>OMAN'S</sup> EXECUTIVE BOARD OF THE Treasurer-Mrs. A. E. Whitford, Milton, Wis. Editor of Woman's Work. SABBATH RECORDER-Mrs.

George E. Crosley, Milton, Wis. Friendship, N. Y. Moore, Riverside, Cal.

Vice Presidents-Mrs. S. J. Clarke, Mrs. J. B. Mor-ton, Mrs. W. C. Daland, Mrs. A. R. Crandall, Milton, Wis.; Mrs. Nettie West, Salem, W. Va. Recording Secretary-Mrs. A. S. Maxson, Milton Junction, Wis. Hammond, La. Secretary, Northwestern Association-Miss Phoebe S. Coon, Walworth, Wis.

Secretary, Eastern Association-Mrs. Luwin Snaw, Plainfield, N. J. Secretary, Southeastern Association-Mrs. M. G. Still-man, Lost Creek, W. Va. Secretary, Central Association-Miss Ethlyn Davis, Leonardsville, N. Y. Secretary, Western Association-Mrs. Lucy A. Wells, Friendship N. V.

544

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Y OUNG PEOPLE'S EXECUTIVE BOARD President—Rev. Edgar D. Van Horn, Milton Junction, Wis.

Vice-Presidents-Emma Rogers, Grand Rapids, Wis.; Clifford Burdick, Milton, Wis.; Verna Foster, Milton, Wis.: G. Wayland Coon, Milton Junction, Wis.; Harry Talbot, Milton, Wis.; Marion Ingham, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Recording Secretary-Miss Beulah Greenman, Milton Junction. Wis. Corresponding Secretary-hiss Minnie Godfrey, Walworth, Wis, Treasurer-Prof. L. H. Stringer, Milton, Wis.

Trustee of United Society-Rev. Wm. L. Burdick, Alfred, N. Y.

Editor of Koung People's Department of SABBATH RECORDER-Rev. R. R. Thorngate, Homer, N. Y. Junior Superintendent-Mrs. W. D. Burdick, Milton

Wis. Intermediate Superintendent-Carrol West. Mitchell, S. Dak.

S. Dak. Field Secretaries—Miss Edna Burdick, Dunellen, N. J.; Miss Ethlyn Davis, Leonardsville, N. Y.; Miss Mabel Jordan, Nile, N. Y.; Mrs. L. E. Babcock, Battle Creek, Mich.; Rev. A. L. Davis, North Loup, Neb.; Mrs. Orville Bond, Salem, W. Va.: C. C. Van Horn, Gentry, Ark.; Miss Mary Brown, Riverside, Cal.

BOARD OF PULPIT SUPPLY AND MINISTERIAL EMPLOYMENT President-Mr. Ira B. Crandall, Westerly, R. I. Recording Secretary-Mr. Frank Hill, Ashaway, R. I. Corresponding Secretary-Rev. Edwin Shaw, Plainfield,

Advisory Committee-All members of the Missionary Committee in each of the Associations

The work of this Board is to help pastorless churches in finding and obtaining pastors, and unemployed ministers among us to find employment.

The Board will not obtrude information, help or advice upon any church or persons, but give it when asked. The first three persons named in the Board will be its working force, being located near each other. The Associational Secretaries will keep the working force of the Board informed in regard to the pastorless All correspondence with the Board, either through its #### churches and unemployed ministers in their respective Associations, and give whatever aid and counsel they can. Corresponding Secretary or Associational Eccretaries will be strictly confidential. Plainfield, N. J. A MERICAN SABBATH TRACT SOCIETY PUBLISHING HOUSE REPORTS, BOOKLETS, ADVERTISING MATTER AND ALL KINDS OF PRINTING AND PUBLISHING The Recorder Press Babcock Building X7 ILLIAM MAXSON STILLMAN. COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW Supreme Court Commissioner, etc. Alfred, N. Y. A LFRED THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY. Catalogue sent upon request. REE CIRCULATING LIBRARY Catalogue sent upon request Address, Alfred Theological Seminary. DIBLE STUDIES ON THE SABBATH QUESTION. In paper, postpaid, 25 cents; in cloth, 50 cents. Address, Alfred Theological Seminary. THE TWENTIETH CENTURY ENDOWMENT FUND. For the joint benefit of Salem, Milton, and Alfred. The Seventh Day Baptist Education Society solicits gifts and bequests. New York City TERBERT G. WHIPPLE, COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW. П 220 Broadway, St. Paul Building. TARRY W. PRENTICE, D. D. S. "THE NORTHPORT. 76 West 103d Street. Chicago, Ill. ENJAMIN F. LANGWORTHY. B ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW 1140 First Nat'l Bank Building, Phone Central 160